Calgary Bound! Benbenek & Shot Of Firewater win RNCFR

By Tanya Randall

Prairie Circuit Yearend Champion Gretchen Benbenek punched her ticket to the 2014 Calgary Stampede with a Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship. The RCNFR, held April 10-12 at the Lazy E in Guthrie, Okla., served as that last qualifier for the Stampede, which counts toward qualification to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo.

"I'm pretty excited," said Benbenek, a 31-year-old real estate appraiser from Aubrey, Texas. "I've been working towards this for a long time—to be able to live in Texas and rodeo in the winter and then go north and rodeo in the summer."

Benbenek's march to the RCNFR started back at the 2012 Prairie Circuit Finals, where a costly tipped barrel kept her from qualifying for the 2013 event.

"Ever since I hit that barrel, this is has been my goal—to make the Ram National Circuit Finals—and not just make it, but to win it because I need a new pickup bad," she said. "I wasn't just out there trying to pick up checks; I was trying to win first or second. I needed those bigger checks because I wanted to make sure I had the yearend title won before the Prairie Circuit Finals. I did accomplish that."

The Missoula, Montana, native used that same mindset to win the RNCFR, which featured the yearend and finals champions from each of the 12 professional circuits.

"I made it to Austin and San Antonio but I didn't get anything done," she explained. "I had to refocus myself before Guthrie to take advantage of the opportunity I've got."

Benbenek and her home-grown superstar Shot Of Firewater ("Maverick") placed fifth in the first round with a 17.55 to June Holeman and Hopes Money Boy's round-winning 16.97. In the second round, it took a 17.39 to draw a check and she and Maverick were 17.40. Their average on two got them back to the eight-head semifinals.

"I felt like my horse did really, really well," she said. "He's been a little bit sore. I had a chiropractor work on him but it usually takes a few runs to get to feeling better. He's just so consistent and luckily that paid off with the first three runs to get us to the shootout round."

Unfortunately, the way the rodeo was set up, some barrel racers had to make three runs on Saturday as the second round finished up the matinee performance that afternoon. The semifinals and finals were all held during the evening's performance.

"After the semifinals, I took him back to the trailer for a drink of water," she said. "When I put his tiedown back on him I could tell he was giving me that 'You're kidding me, right? We have to run again?' I told him just give me one more run and give me everything you've got and I promise after this we'll be done. He'd been so consistent and felt really good his other runs I really trusted him and let him open up. Everything really came together that last run."

Their 17.13 topped the sudden death shootout of four and netted Benbenek her new truck and $13,025 of the $68,559 total purse.

"My horse by far made his best run of the weekend on his third run of the day," said Benbenek, who wanted to thank her sponsor Pat Garrett, DVM, with Southern Equine Associates, Bluebonnet Feeds, Oxy-Gen distributor Rosie Bradley and farrier Matt Anderson for keeping Maverick feeling and working well. "Luckyly my horse is 11-years-old and he's really, really healthy, so it wasn't too much to ask of him. It might have been different if he was older, or a bleeder or young horse without that much experience."

Benbenek raised and trained Maverick, who is by the Fire Water Flit son Firem Jet, out of her first horse Miss Willie Ada ("Tuggs"), a granddaughter of Doc Quixote. Tuggs was bred to be a cutting horse, but was trained to be a Western pleasure horse.

"She was my first horse ever," Benbenek recalled. "I was 11 and barely knew how to ride and she was 3. I had to take lessons."

Ron and Vicky Kellum were responsible for teaching her to ride as well as coaching her through the various disciplines. They also introduced her to the horse environment in Texas after they relocated

2014 Calgary Contestants Announced

The pro rodeo trails lead to Calgary once again in 2014. A total of 120 of the world's top rodeo cowboys and cowgirls have earned their way to the richest outdoor rodeo in the world – the $2 million Calgary Stampede.

“The Calgary Stampede Rodeo is a showcase for rodeo’s elite. The competitors you see earned their way here by being the World’s best,” says Keith Marrington, director of rodeo for the Calgary Stampede. “These elite athletes know they can earn a $100,000 paycheque on our million dollar Sunday Showdown.”

Again this year, some of the greatest rodeo names in the world are back – including home-grown talent like Alberta’s own Kyle Bowers, Dusty LaValley and Jake Vold in Bareback, brothers Curtis and Cody Cassidy in Tie-Down Roping and Steer Wrestling respectively, Chad Besplug and Scotty Schiffner in Bull Riding and one of Alberta’s most competitive barrel racers, Kirsty White. Also, rodeo superstars from across North America have accepted Calgary’s invitation – names like reigning World Champions Kaycee Feild, Hunter Cure, Chad Ferley, Shane Hanchey, J.B. Mauney and Sherry Cervi. In fact, all six defending Calgary Stampede 2013 champions have accepted their invitations to return to in 2014.

The trek north to the Calgary Stampede continues to be a coveted invite that attracts the world’s top ladies barrel racers and bull riders. These Stampede events are sanctioned by the Women’s Professional Rodeo Association and the Professional Bull Riders, meaning the points won here are included in the yearly standings for those organizations. That makes the Stampede a valuable event to these cowgirls and bull riders looking to add to their world standings.

As we enter our second century, the Calgary Stampede celebrates the people, the animals, the land, the traditions and the values that make up the unique spirit of the west. The Calgary Stampede contributes to the quality of life in Calgary and southern Alberta through our world-renowned 10-day Stampede, year-round facilities, western events and several youth and agriculture programs. Exemplifying the theme “We’re Greatest Together”; we are a volunteer-supported, not-for-profit community organization that preserves and promotes western heritage and values. All revenue is reinvested into Calgary Stampede programs and facilities.

Raise A Secret Dies

Multiple Grade 1 winner, sire Raise A Secret died March 27. Courtesy of the Q-Racing Journal - April 3, 2014

Racehorse and sire Raise A Secret, 31, was euthanized on March 27 due to complications of old age, according to owner Dr. David Moss’ Northside Large Animal Clinic in West Haven, Utah.

Bred by Charles Socolofsky of Scott City, Kansas, Raise A Secret was purchased as a 3-year-old by Ed Allred. Raise A Secret started 12 races over three years. He won eight, including the Dash For Cash Futurity (G1) and Los Alamitos Futurity (G1), and earned $705,483.

He was by L’Natural (TB) and foaled out of the Alamitos Bar mare Ala Secret Sue, and is a half brother to stakes winner Duplicate Secret (by Will Win, $108,808).

As a sire, Raise A Secret sired 20 crops to race. From them, he got 432 winners from 609 starters (71 percent) and 43 stakes winners (7 percent), and the earners of more than $10.8 million. He stands at No. 40 on the all-time sires by money earned list, and No. 43 on all-time sires by winners.

Among his top runners were champion Secret Card ($367,115); Grade 1 winners Kingman Kid ($531,365), Luva Secret ($346,856), Brotherly ($304,508) and Twelvie ($276,950); and six-figure earners Make A Secret ($267,605), Dicey Secret ($203,666), Pride Of Kattella ($199,187), Bridlewood ($191,359), Templetonian ($179,823), Girl Secrets ($177,552), Sables Secret ($155,081), Easily A Secret ($140,814), My Son Jeremy ($120,621), Daggars And Darkness ($117,611) and Sneaky Fast ($112,865).

The stallion was one of the top broodmare sires in the sport, and currently sits at No. 13 on the all-time broodmare sire list by money earned. Among the runners to his credit is All American Futurity (G1) winner No Secrets Here ($1,637,095), who is out of his daughter Dicey Secret.

Raise A Secret was pensioned from stud duty in 2007.

from Montana.

"I'd go ride with them every summer," she said. "They've taught me everything I know about horses. I've ridden with them my whole life."

After showing Western pleasure for a couple years, Benbenek went to a playday and discovered barrel racing. Although she hadn't a clue how bad her slow run was, she decided that barrel racing was much more fun than showing.

"I just kept after it," she said. "Me and Tuggs, we just learned together. She has the biggest heart and has always done everything I've ever asked her to do. We got better and better. She took me to the National High School Finals in the pole bending my senior year. We missed going to the National High School Finals in the barrel racing by hitting one barrel. I rode her all through college and made the College National Finals all four years. I won the Prairie Circuit Rookie of the Year on her in 2004. Right before the circuit finals in 2004, she tore her deep flexor tendon. I got to run her a little bit the next year but I ended up having to retire her. Because she's so wonderful, she went and gave to me two really nice babies also."

In addition to Maverick, Benbenek also has an 8-year-old daughter of Massasuta, a Dash For Cash, Beduino son, that has outrun the gelding when she's been sound.

"She's just like her mom except she's bigger, faster, stronger and has the soundness issues," she said. "She's torn her tendon four different times. I got my first baby out of her this year. We pulled an embryo out of her last year. I'm still hoping one day I'll get to run her, if not, hopefully she'll give me a couple of more babies."

With RNCFR victory, Benbenek is now more likely to haul just a little bit more this year.

"I was really on the border of how much I was going to get to go, how much I needed to go," she said. "It's amazing how well I feel I've done this year and to have not really won anything. It's hard to not go when you're confident in your horse, but it's hard to leave when you haven't got anything won."

She plans on rodeoing her way up to and home from Calgary. Luckily, her job allows her to have the flexibility to travel.

"I have a wonderful boss," she said of Will Presson at Merit Advisors. "I'm an independent contractor, so I can take off when I need to, but I don't get paid. As long as I'm making money rodeoing, I can make that happen."

JL SIROCCO

2010 AQHA Champion Canada Hi-Point Three-Year-Old Colt

Sirocco is a AAA race winning stallion by Dash Ta Fame, out of a winning barrel racing Band Of Azure mare. Fee $1500 (includes first cooled semen shipment). Nominated to VGBRA and 5-State Breeders, and others as foals come of age.

PRAISE FOR JL SIROCCO

I have two coming 2 year olds by Sirocco that are beautiful! I bred to Sirocco after riding his full sister and seeing a picture of Sirocco himself. I asked around and was told he was even better in person. Jill has an amazing eye for a horse and knows her pedigrees, so I knew I couldn't go wrong. In my business, I train futurity colts and sell them after their futurity year, my goal is not only to have a winning season on a very talented colt but to also look good doing it, Sirocco is helping me be all that! I believe that JL Sirocco is going to be the whole package, looks, speed, ability and awesome conformation, what more could a barrel racer ask for!

I'm awaiting another colt to be born this year and plan to breed two more mares to him.

Clean Sweep for Walker at Valley Girls Barrel Daze

By Tanya Randall

Multiple aged event champion Vauna Walker of Pingree, Idaho, can scratch a Valley Girls Barrel Daze Championship off her bucket list. Walker swept both the open and stallion incentive sidepots in the Futurity and Maturity at the 26th Annual Barrel Daze, held April 11-13 in Walla Walla, Wash., for an incredible $17,118!

"I've gone there so many years," laughed Walker. "It's a small arena and they have a lot of races. It's tough. I've always been so happy if I can place up there. This is like the stuff that dreams are made up of. To win the Futurity and the Maturity—Holy Smokes! It's such a great feeling. It was such a sentimental win for me. I've been reserve in the futurity and derby but have never won."

She also praised the dedicated members of the VGBRA.

"It's such a great group of people," she said. "They've worked really hard at it. It always pays really well and they give these amazing handmade awards. Sometimes it's furniture. This year they gave these really neat clocks and they have a lady that does horse portraits for the winners. You come home with more prizes than almost anywhere."

Walker won the $22,500-added, 100-entry Futurity and $22,500-added Stallion Incentive Sidepot with DTF Mellowdoc ("Mellow"), a 4-year-old mare she and her husband Randy raised.

"I just love that horse," Walker said of the daughter of Dash Ta Fame out of the Merridoc, Twynas Dash mare Waynadoc. "I've just kind of let her come along at her own speed, and she's just steadily started picking up since I started going in January. She's a little quieter and calmer than some of the Dash Ta Fame mares I've ridden. She's smooth and pretty easy to ride. I've been having a great time on her. It's extra fun to have raised them from a baby and have them doing well."

Like many of her great horses, Mellow was started under saddle by Walker's good friend Cody Hyde, who also started and raised her Maturity Champion CP Konea. Mellow, however, did have to make things a little interesting in her training.

"She didn't like a lot of movement in her mouth with the bits that I used," Walker explained. "At first it seemed like she didn't want to go forward. I rode her a long time just to get her moving out and confident. I didn't start her barrels until late April last because she just didn't feel confident enough. She was worried about stuff too much."

"Her training was interesting because you couldn't mess with her position a whole lot because she was so worried about trying to do what you wanted. I kind of trained her really laid back. Not a lot of work on technical stuff, just kind of let her find her way. Now she'll let you do some technical stuff. It worried her a lot to do drills at first."

Mellow showed her confidence in Walla Walla by improving on her first run of 14.208 with a blistering 13.881 on the bottom of the ground to win the second go of the Futurity en route to the average championship. The open futurity paid $7,465, while the incentive victory awarded $5,249 for a total of $12,714.

"Her first run was a nice average run and she ended up eighth. It was really tight and I was really pleased with that run going into the second go," Walker said. "I thought if we could get another run like that we'd be really solid for the average. Going across to the second barrel, they have the stands there and with the arena pretty small, she didn't want to run into that second barrel. The second day I was trying to concentrate on really pushing her across the pen, and she just ran really smooth. When I crossed the eye, I was thinking that it was a good time and would keep me in there for the average, but it was a lot faster than I thought it was!"

In the 42-entry, $5,000-added Maturity with its $5,000-added Stallion Incentive Sidepot, CP Konea picked up $3,222 between the two purses, plus an additional $1,182 with their carryover times to the Open 4Ds.

"Coco is a lot of fun," said Walker. "She just stays right in your hands and when you turn her loose she runs really hard. She's pretty easy that way."

After having a strong start to her futurity year in 2013, Coco finished the year trying to shake a virus kept her from feeling at her best through the BFA World Championships. She started feeling like her old self about January, made the finals at the Diamonds & Dirt Derby and won the Sand Cup Derby the prior weekend.

"Shelia is really excited," said Walker of the 5-year-old Dash Ta Fame mare out of Crystal Cashanova, by Sir Cashanova, owned by her good friend and longtime owner Shelia Hill. "The plan for Coco is to pick-and-choose ground and run her at a few rodeos this summer. She's only 5 so we want to go pretty slow with her. She's entered in the Fort Smith Derby, so that's mainly what we've been doing with her—taking her to the derbies."

Walker, a surgical room nurse, has been able to focus on her horses more lately as she's dropped to a per diem position that allows her to work a day or two a week.

"It gives me a lot more flexibility," she said. "I can travel quite a bit more. I've been able to ride more colts this year and I feel like I've got a great lineup for next year."

Competitiveness Runs Strong in the Holeman Family

By Julie Mankin

Less than 24 hours after finishing runner-up to the national champion at the Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Guthrie, Okla., and after hauling all night, 70-year-old June Holeman laid down a run at the Bonus Race Finals in Lincoln, Neb., that was worth the 1D world championship and $4,744.

Her run of 16.00 seconds gave her the 1D win by three-tenths of a second over her own granddaughter, Abby Ford, who was riding a half-sibling to Holeman's horse. Ford turned in a 16.34 to earn $3,751.

"I never expected to win in Lincoln," said Holeman, who was coming down with a cold virus during the snowy barrel race. "There were like 1,200 horses in it. I have a saddle coming and a really pretty jacket and a pair of spurs. Renea did very good with her awards."

The Bonus Race Finals in Lincoln, presented by Top Hand Saddle Company among other sponsors, dubs itself the "world's largest added-money 5D barrel race." It's produced by Renea Boling's Barrel Bash Productions, which also puts on the Barrel Bash Tour throughout the Midwest, as well as the Hawki Futurity.

The Bonus Race has been growing every year – consider that added money in this year's Finals was more than $50,000, compared to $38,365 last year. The Bonus Race Finals drew nearly 2,000 entries and paid $112,840, and the weekend's Open finals (with $10,000 added) paid out $74,500.

Holeman's win on 7-year-old Hope's Money Boy ("Tall Boy") came on the heels of a spectacular performance at the RNCFR April 10-12 in Oklahoma. By finishing just eight-hundredths of a second behind Gretchen Benbenek for the national circuit title, Holeman had earned $11,997.

Add her top-10 finish at The American in March, and it's been a lucrative spring for Holeman. But it still hasn't been easy. Tall Boy is convinced he's a stud, so Holeman has to warm him up very early when no other horses are around (then she walks him for five minutes before she runs). Plus, he's strong and he knows it, and inherited his mother's nervous nature. So he hurts her back and neck – especially at the first barrel – and has gotten fractious at the gate since the standing-start at The American. Holeman says every run in nerve-racking because she's never sure she'll be aboard at the end.

Bonus Finals From Page 31

"That was really a thrill to win a round at the national circuit finals," she said. "And then it was fun to make an even better run after hauling all night. I didn't think he could beat the whole crew at Lincoln by quite that much."

She and her granddaughter enjoy a heated rivalry, and Ford will tell you that Holeman made a better run in Lincoln than she did the night before in Guthrie because she "wasn't about to let her granddaughter beat her." But Holeman has her own comeback.

"I'm sure Abby was grateful for second, but I was trying to put her in the 2D and leave me all alone in the 1D," she said. "Tall Boy has done that a couple of times. But I only finished three-tenths ahead of her."

Hope's Money Boy and his half-sister ridden by Ford, 11-year-old Bubblin With Hope ("Bubbles"), are both out of a three-quarter-thoroughbred mare named One More Hope that was Holeman's barrel horse before Sparky. The mare's sire, Joyful Hope, went back to War Relic (by Man O'War), as well as Spy Song – a runner-up Kentucky Derby champion. On the bottom, her dam went back to Three Bars and other thoroughbred racers.

"They'd said she wasn't fast enough to win, but she was plenty fast," said Holeman, who sold the mare once but then got her back and began breeding her. "She was a great mare; she could win in any tiny pen. She'd have worked wonderful at the NFR."

Two of the four babies out of One More Hope were sold, but Holeman still has Tall Boy and Bubbles, which she and her husband trained. Tall Boy is by a stallion raised by Holeman's late brother, Laddie Leach. Buck That Money ("Money"), now 17, is by On The Money Red out of a Tiger Leo daughter. Leach's daughter, Brandi Hurlburt, continues to run him – they competed in Lincoln – and breeds him to select outside mares. Meanwhile, Bubbles is by Non-stop Bubblin (Jet Deck/Johnny Dial/Leo/Native Dancer).

"Bubbles isn't nearly as tall as Tall Boy but is built the same and has that crazy huge stride," said Ford. "I only got her in January and this was only about her 16th run in competition. She'd gotten deathly sick and hurt a few times over the years."

Ford, who won the Professional Armed Forces Rodeo Association's World Finals on Tall Boy in November, somehow made her smoking run aboard Bubbles after no sleep at all. It turned out to be her drill weekend for the Nebraska Air Guard, so she worked 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. both Thursday and Friday, then ran barrels until late each night before starting her next shift at midnight Friday. She got off at noon Saturday just in time to make her lucrative run – having been awake for almost 40 hours.

Ford joked that she was too tired to get in the mare's way or make her mad (Bubbles also inherited Tall Boy's fractious nature). And as for being proud of her grandma, that's old hat.

"When I call her 'Grandma,' to me, I don't have the image everyone else has of a typical grandmother," said Ford. "I've grown up riding with her. Me and her and my mom and aunt all competed together. We're competitive!"

But to the general public, Holeman's feats at 70 years old are becoming legend. The only way she hears about her growing fan base is through Ford, who operates Holeman's Facebook page, and through good old-fashioned snail mail.

"I told my sponsors I'd try to go this year. We'll see how long we can go," said Holeman, who has five colts coming up including two half-brothers to Tall Boy. "I appreciate all the cards I get. I really do love cards."

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Over the years, I have bought and sold a lot of horses. With the exception of a very few, I would much rather buy than sell. It's the attachment factor. They all have unique personalities and quirks, strengths and weaknesses. And not every horse fits every person, or every horse a specific event. When a new horse comes to our house it's like opening a package....you just never know what's going to be in there....but it's fun to find out!

With that in mind, I heard a VERY profound statement the other day and it just went off in me how it is soooo much like what people do where God is concerned.

The Statement: When you are selling a horse, you can tell the buyer anything...but when you get home, the horse will tell you the truth.....

Sometimes people will just believe anything they hear. They believe that God wants them poor, that God killed their baby/family member/best friend. They will believe God is trying to teach them something if they are sick or injured. They believe the church roof will fall in if they go there. They think people that go to church are hypocrites and on and on.

But the TRUTH, when you read the Bible, is the exact opposite of the above thoughts. If you are content to live your Christian life by what you HEAR and not by what you READ, then you will be easy pickins for any person out there trying to lie to you about God. If you are buying a horse, you need to educate yourself so you won't be deceived. Be smart enough to do the same thing where God is concerned. He loves you and wants only the best for you.... He is THE TRUTH. Enjoy getting to know HIM!

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
