Busy Week For The World Champ – Mowry Wins The American $100k With Force The Goodbye, Diamond Classic Open With CP He Will Be Epic

By Tanya Randall

No one won the $1 million bonus this year at Teton Ridge's The American, but WPRA World Champion Kassie Mowry still added nearly $200,000 to her career earnings, and possibly more pending incoming results.

The Dublin, Texas, based trainer picked up $72,000 from the Diamond Classic Futurity, Derby and Open with more money to come from sidepots and carryovers to the open-to-all classes, and added the $100,000 American Championship from the little rodeo held on Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas.

"There was A LOT going on last week," said Mowry. "The week was really long for a lot of reasons. There were so many ups and downs."

Mowry spent Friday, April 4 in Salt Lake City, Utah, at the Governor's State of Sport Banquet to receive a $15,000 bonus for being the highest money-earning female athlete during Utah's Pioneer Week Rodeos—the Utah Days Of '47, Spanish Fork Fiesta Days and Ogden Pioneer Days. She won the Days of '47 and Ogden and finished seventh at Spanish Fork on Force The Goodbye ("Jarvis") to win the honor.

Monday, April 7, she was in Abilene for exhibitions for the Diamond Classic. CP He Will Be Epic was her superstar in the Taylor County Expo, winning the 1D Average Championship in the 572-entry, $450,000-added Diamond Classic Open. He won $15,768 for Mowry and $6,757 for Diamond Classic Slot Holder 4M Equine, the owner of Will's sire Epic Leader.

"He's been on fire lately, just having fun," said Mowry of the 10-year-old gelding. "I just love running him. He's so easy and fun for me. I love 10-year-old Will. I tell everyone that Will used to be really emotional. This year, he's just grown up so much. He's level and consistent as far as his personality. He used to be such an anxious horse and now he's so content."

Will even outran Jarvis, who ended up placing sixth in the Diamond Classic Derby and ninth in the Diamond Classic Open. The 7-year-old AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year earned $13,442 for Mowry and $5,761 for Diamond Classic Slot Owners Jarvis Farms, who own his sire The Goodbye Lane.

Mowry also won the first go of the Diamond Classic Futurity with a smoking 15.022 on RDC Black Ta Fame ("Mable") for the mare's owner and trainer Cayla Small.

"I'm trying really hard not to mess her up," admitted Mowry, who took the ride in trade for a Slick By Design embryo that Small had flushed from the mare. "I don't get horses that are already trained very often and I'm not really good at figuring them out and being a jump jockey. It's taken us a minute, but she hasn't given up on us."

"I was really proud of her there. She won the first round pretty handily too. It just finally came together. We just caught the second barrel the next day. She still ran a very fast time, just cruising. I was just really happy our timing came together."

Mowry also placed ninth in the Diamond Classic Futurity aggregate on RP Poetry In Motion ("Roxanne") for Roger and Rachel Primm.

"That mare's got some more to give," she said. "She's relatively green for a futurity colt. She's pretty fun and easy. I really like her."

After three days in Abilene, Mowry got to come home for a day before heading to San Angelo for her second run of that pro rodeo on Friday night. She and Will took over the second round lead and are second in the aggregate coming back to the April 18 short go with two performances left.

With just three hours of sleep, Mowry and Canadian barrel racer

Mariah Mannering, who helps her during the winter and spring, headed to Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas, for the early morning practice before the rodeo that afternoon.

"I almost ran Will there," Mowry confessed. "It came down to the last day before I went to San Angelo. I ran it by a couple of friends. Will is trying really hard to get his job back. He's been just winning lately like crazy. He's such a good one-header horse. He's just as aggressive his first run as he is his last run somewhere.

"If Jarvis had a weak spot, I think it would be that he's not quite as aggressive his first run out of the gate in a new arena or if he's had some days. I knew the ten-man round would be so hard to get through. I was worried that I might not get it. You can see why. We qualified back in fourth. He did the same thing at Houston, we barely got in there. The thing about Jarvis is, you don't want him to get there because that second run, he's hard to beat. He just steps it up another notch.

Her decision came down to the rule that riders weren't allowed to switch horses between the Round of 10 and the Finals of The American. She decided to run Will at San Angelo, a rodeo that he's won before, and take Jarvis to The American.

Jarvis may have squeaked in to the final round, but he set a new arena record, 15.055 on his second run to edge Taycie Matthews and Fame Fire Rocks by just a hair over one tenth of a second.

"I'm so thankful for them," she said of Will and Jarvis. "I'm happy that I get to enjoy them and I'm in a position to keep them and care for them when it's time to retire them. I'm happy that I can provide that."

On top of her hectic schedule, Mowry had to contend with foaling mares, injured babies and sick horses. She lost a foal to a red bag delivery and had another kicked in the jaw by its mother and yet

Winning Reality -- Sarah Zaleski & Haleighs Dream Top Diamond Classic Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Software engineer Sarah Zaleski and her 4-year-old mare Haleighs Dream scored a victory of a lifetime at the Diamond Classic Futurity, held April 4-13 in the Taylor County Expo in Abilene, Texas. They topped the 170-entry, $300,000-added Futurity for a cool $59,014 and placed 14th in the 1D Average in the 572-entry, $450,000-added Open for another $8,638.

"That's amazing!" said the Tuttle, Oklahoma, barrel racer. "I'm ecstatic! I've never won that much money. I guess those incentives are worth it. That's the only incentive she's in, so I was going!"

Zaleski, who nominated her farm so that all her horses would be eligible for the Diamond Classic, also has money coming from various sidepots and carryovers to the ancillary Taylor County open-to-all races.

"I knew I could win it if she worked," said confident but soft-spoken Zaleski. "That's how nice she is. She's all there and she wants to work. She tries really hard, and she's broke really well."

Zaleski's journey with Haleigh actually began with Hall Of Famer, a talented Dash Ta Fame, Streakin Six gelding that Zaleski purchased from Bo Hill. As the gelding progressed in his training, Zaleski shared his progress with his breeders David and Rebecca Lowry. In doing so, a friendship began, and they later offered her his full brother Windowdownandcruisin ("Cruiser").

"I loved their style," she said. "They'd grab their ***, wrap and turn. It was easy. They never dropped their shoulder. You didn't have to help them. They never did anything bad."

"It's crazy because a lot of times full siblings don't work the same, but they had the exact same style."

Although she was hoping to leave him a stallion, Cruiser had a tendency to be a little "ugly" from time to time, especially when loading him in the trailer—he liked to kick out when shutting the partition. Zaleski decided to cut him during his derby year. Plus, she had another promising stallion in Got Caught Speedin, a son of Dash Ta Fame out of the Lanes Leinster mare Speedy Petitti, dam of American Finalist A Cornerstone.

"I just decided that I was tired of it," she said. "I didn't need to promote two studs."

I loved his style, and I didn't want to lose it, so after Fort Smith as a 5-year-old I collected him and cut him. He could be dominant, but I still wanted a baby by him."

Ride In The Stall

One of the biggest challenges facing Sarah Zaleski is time. Her 9-to-5 job affords her horses but puts her at a competitive disadvantage when it comes to saddle time. When it came time to keep her Diamond Classic Futurity Champion Haleighs Dream going without easy access to an indoor arena during the miserable winter weather, Zaleski took the advice of a friend, who simply stated, "Ride in the stall."

"A cutting horse friend of mine said, 'You've got to ride to out run them. You've got to out train them. If that's all you got, ride them in the stall,'" she explained.

"I thought if that's what it's going to take, I'm going to do it. On the west side of my barn, I've got a double stall. It's a 12' x 24' and I'd trot figure 8s. I kept her going all winter long when it was cold and rainy and snowy because that's all I had."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Sarah Zaleski

Haleighs Dream 14.3-15 h, 950 lbs.

BIT: Locked O-ring twisted wire snaffle

SADDLE: Older Cecil Phillips

SADDLE PAD: Cutter Collection

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on front

SHOEING: Rims on front, bare behind

FEED: Country Acres 12/8

HAY: Coastal Bermuda

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: XLR8 blanket

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: I just trot around the arena a couple of times and lope around. I do lots of circles, like a 20-foot circle, keeping her soft in the face. I don't work her on the barrels much. She's got plenty of rate. Just lots of circles and getting off your hands and feet and staying in a good correct circle.

Cruiser was a multiple aged event finalist and the 2018 AQHA World Champion Jr Barrel Horse. Sadly, Zaleski lost him to colic as a 6-year-old.

Although she has plenty of frozen semen from him, Haleigh is the only foal by Cruiser. Her first Cruiser foal lived only a day. Haleigh, who is out of the cutting-bred mare Verdaderas Scoot, by Smart Lil Scoot, was raised by Cruiser's breeders, the Lowry's. Zaleski purchased her as a yearling.

Haleigh was started under saddle by Tell Renz, a cutter, and Zaleski started her on the pattern the summer of her second year. She made her competitive debut in the BFA Super Stakes.

"I made good runs there, but I bumped the first barrel in the slot race. and I think I bumped it again in the first go (of the Juvenile) and I had a nice run the second go. She won money at the futurity at Oklahoma City."

Unfortunately, Zaleski's health took an unfortunate turn at Christmas.

"I woke up with severe pain in my back," she recalled. "I don't know what caused that because I didn't do anything crazy. I couldn't sleep. I couldn't do anything. The next week, I was in the barn unloading shavings and my thumb on my left hand quit working. I had a doctor's appointment the next day and I asked if that's related to my neck. I had an MRI, and I had a bulging disc at C5 and C6 in my neck, which is causing pain. By New Year's it switched to the right side."

Knowing that Haleigh was too nice to be sitting doing nothing, Zaleski sent her to her friend Cody Bauserman, but the longtime leading futurity rider didn't get along with the petite mare.

"I had to have surgery in January on my hand so I couldn't use it for four weeks," she explained. "I gave her to another friend, Megan Stoll. She won a jackpot on her. She ran her at Shawnee. She won the futurity sidepot but hit a barrel the first day. I just let her have her for 30 days because I didn't want her to sit. I know how nice she is. Megan rides well. She enjoyed her."

Zaleski had only been back running the mare herself three weeks prior to Diamond Classic, defying doctor's orders to not grab or pull anything with her surgically repaired hand. She decided "holding" the saddle horn didn't count.

In Abilene, Zaleski and Haleigh were ninth in the first round of the Futurity with a 15.439.

"I went and looked at the alley way when I got there and it's really, really long," she explained. "I thought I'd better hold on to her, stepping in the gate. I didn't want to get by the first barrel, but that didn't work out. She ran in there so hard. I said 'Whoa!' and checked her twice, and I still got a little deep behind it. The other two barrels were Johnny on the spot. She smoked them."

Everything came together for them in the second round with a victorious 15.173.

"I just kept telling myself go out there and ride her," she said. "I got on her early the next day and just worked on circles, circles, circles and giving to my hands. My next run I did hold her a little bit longer, deeper into the alleyway. My timing was better the second run. She smoked that first barrel. I thought, 'Ok. We've got this! Let's go!' She smoked the second and I'm like, 'We've got that too! Let's go!' She was working and listening, really soft."

Haleigh's style, though, is nothing like her sire's and uncle's.

"She can pivot behind the barrels," Zaleski said. "I don't know if that's the cutting horse side coming out in her. She's a little flatter turning, not like Hall of Famer and Cruiser. She hits that three-quarter point and Bam! She's out of there! She's super quick and light in the face."

A cowgirl from the cradle, Zaleski was born into a rodeo family. While she's rodeoed some herself, the futurities fit her lifestyle well.

"It's a weekend here and a weekend there," she said. "I can do that with my job. I couldn't afford all these horses without that day job!"

Zaleski, who has a master's degree in computer science, works as a contractor for the airway transportation system overseen by the Federal Aviation Administration. She keeps the maintenance and technical instruction handbooks up to date and generates high accuracy service coverage maps using transmitter and receiver information at airports. Her evenings belong to her horses.

"Sometimes, I ask myself if it's really all worth it," she said. "It's hard to stay competitive with those people that have all day and indoor arenas."

Yet, she's managed to build a small, but successful program.

Blaise Wheeler & The Goodbye Guy Leave Diamond Classic With Derby Championship

By Tanya Randall

The 2024 Diamond Classic Derby Champion defended her title with a new horse and a new last name.

"This new last name has a lot of luck to it!" said newlywed Blaise (Bercegeay) Wheeler, who rode The Goodbye Guy ("Swagger") to the 2025 Diamond Classic Derby Championship for Scott Duke.

The victory in the $300,000-added, 179-entry Derby was worth $52,783 with $37,648 going to Duke and $16,125 going to Jarvis Farms, who owned the "slot" that made Swagger eligible to run at the event, held April 4-13 in the Taylor County Expo at Abilene, Texas. They also finished reserve 1D champions in the $450,000-added, 572-entry Open, earning an additional $9,737 for Duke and $4,173 for Jarvis Farms.

"We couldn't believe it!" Wheeler exclaimed. "We were shocked! We bought the horse because we liked it and knew he had the potential to do that. It was just great to have it all come together finally."

Duke had acquired Swagger earlier this year and Wheeler won the Diamond Classic Derby with her 10th and 11th run on the 5-year-old gelding.

"We're just trying to figure him out," she said. "Everyone's BIT: Switched from a shanked L&W with a drop back curb to a chain Petska.

"He has a huge motor and can get a little strong on me. I feel like that chain helps me round him up a little bit."

SADDLE: Master Lightweight

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine Shock Guard

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on front, polo wraps behind

SHOEING: Shod by Brian Wheeler

FEED: Bluebonnet Omega Force

HAY: Coastal and alfalfa

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Nebulizer

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "The biggest thing I work on with him is keeping him round. I work on it away from the pattern because I don't want him dreading the barrels. I'm honestly just riding a bunch to get his belly off! Lots of long trotting, lots of loping!"

program is so different. He's changing. We're changing. Everyone's learning everything about him. I'm just glad to know that it's there and we can do it."

Late last December, Duke was watching the GTBRA's Jingle Bell Classic via webcast and Swagger, who was ridden by his breeder and trainer Catherine Asmussen, caught his eye.

"He just sent me a text message that said, 'The Goodbye Guy,' and I replied back 'I have no idea what you mean.' He said, 'I love that horse.' He said we needed to find out if she wanted to sell it."

Duke was looking for an "eventual" horse for his 8-year-old daughter, Addie.

"He was looking for something that would be for Addie in the end," said Wheeler. "We all want something that wins, and you have to pay good money for it. He wanted something that was in incentives and derby aged so he had a chance to win his money back. His plan was to get something that I could take with me. He knew I liked to do the derbies and Brian did the futurities. He knew that I'd be going to all (big) places. He wanted something for me to take for a year or two and be really solid for Addie."

Swagger joined the Wheeler barn mid-January. The first few runs weren't their best, said Wheeler.

"I'm not a jump rider like (my husband) Brian is," she said. "It takes me a while to get with a new horse."

Thankfully, she was able to cross paths with Asmussen at the Texarkana Showdown in early February.

"I got to ride with her in the warmup pen that day, just to learn what she did and how she did it," said Wheeler, who ended up placing third in the High Stakes Slot there in Texarkana and earned $9,517 on the weekend. "I got to see it with my own eyes. Didn't have to talk to her over the phone. She rode him and I watched. 'That's such a huge help to me, just going back to the person you buy the horse from. It's so hard for me to be a jump rider. Everybody does things differently, and when horses are young like that it means a lot more to them. When I go and try to do it my way, I feel like I'm confusing them more than anything.'"

The two continued to be hit and miss for their next several runs. After their last big race prior to the Diamond Classic, Wheeler had even commented, "It's been a bit of a struggle." Yet, things really came together well for the pair in Abilene with two incredibly consistent runs. Their 15.030 won the first round of the Derby and they were fifth on their second with a 15.063.

"All I can remember going down the alley way was Seth (Roy, the announcer)," she laughed. "He really put the pressure on me! As I'm going in there, I'm thinking, I'm fine, my hands are fine, I was thinking about what I needed to do, and he's like, 'Oh yeah, this run counts for $26,000.' I could feel my hands just starting to shake and I'm just winding him up! I felt like I was a little early on the first barrel and we snuck around it, just barely. The second was good. The third, I don't know if I quit too soon or I was thinking about too much—like Dear Lord, I've just got to get around this one barrel!"

Wheeler was especially pleased to get the win for Swagger's owner.

"He's always bought and had nice horses," Wheeler said of Duke. "They've won a bunch of seconds but never really had a big win like this. They were pumped-up, excited."

Asmussen was also competing at Diamond Classic and got to see her horse take the win. She raised Swagger, by 13 million dollar sire The Goodbye Lane, out of a family-bred mare Frenchmans Drama, by Frenchmans Guy out of a Thoroughbred mare Valid Lark, by multiple graded stakes winner Valid Expectations.

Go To The Source

Although she's a very successful horsewoman herself and has husband Brian, a leading trainer and rider, at her side, Blaise Wheeler is adamant about getting help from the people who made her horses.

"It just makes sense to go right to the source," she said. "It already takes a long time to get with a new horse. Why would you want to extend that?"

With Plea Bargain, Wheeler went to his trainer Carlos Renato for help.

"I still call him and send him videos when things aren't going right," she said.

She took the time to ride with Ceri Ward at shows after buying Sirius Inquiries Only.

"I would meet her in the warmup pen, just to watch her and see how she does things," she said. "I'm such a visual learner it helps me so much to see how they do it."

"He is just freaky fast," Wheeler said. "He's more of a 'ask him to' rather than 'tell him to' kind of horse. You have to be aggressive, but you can't be too aggressive with him. I can't really even really explain his style yet."

She also said his looks favor his dam over his sire.

"He's the furthest thing from a Goodbye Lane that I've ever seen," she said. "He's short and compact. He looks more like a Frenchmans Guy than anything. He looks like a little calf horse. He's got a shorter neck, which makes him a stiffer style too."

Wheeler also ran and won money on four of her own horses: Plea Bargain ("MJ"), SBWFeelinThePressure ("Gauge"), Sirius Inquiries Only ("Cooper") and SBW Copy Cat.

"I feel like they're all coming together right now," she said. "They all seem healthy, and I think soundness is a huge part of barrel racing. Everyone is like, 'You're on a roll!' and I agree. They're all wanting to do the dang thing!"

Although full results weren't available as of this writing, Wheeler won close to six figures at the Diamond Classic.

Kathy Grimes & KG Just Money Sweep VGBRA Barrel Daze Futurity for $12K

By Julie Mankin

With a big win April 12-13 at the VLBRA Barrel Daze Futurity in Moses Lake, Wash., 5-year-old KG Just Money ("Showy") has already crossed the $100,000 mark in earnings for NineOh Barrel Horses and Dr. Kathy Grimes, DVM.

Grimes and Showy didn't just win the Barrel Daze Futurity – they clocked the fastest time and swept every round, winning the average by more than four-tenths of a second.

"It doesn't feel like he's running very hard," said Grimes, of Medical Lake, Wash. "And people tell me it doesn't look like he's going very fast. And I say, 'I know!' How fun is that?"

This comes just two months after the pair won Arizona's Royal Crown and South Valley Equine Futurities – and 10 days after they caught a barrel to also win the Sand Cup Futurity.

"It's just unbelievable to me," Grimes said. "I've never had anything this consistent and solid, ever, especially this early in the year." In Moses Lake, their 15.2 won the first round by almost three-tenths, followed up by a 15.3 that daylighted everyone by another full tenth and a half. Grimes earned $11,277 for her clean sweep, plus picked up another $845 in the Senior and Open to total $12,122 on the weekend.

"He doesn't waste a step – makes perfect straight lines between barrels and especially to first," said runner-up Tori Johnson of Grimes' buckskin gelding, nicknamed for football star Patrick Mahomes' college nickname of "Showtime."

Showy was pretty easy to train, Grimes said, and always seemed to understand what to do when she pointed him at a barrel. "He has a little different style," she admitted. "I get to the barrel and his little hiney just moves around it. I thought in the early days, 'I should fix that.' But I tend to wait until things become a problem. Plus, I thought maybe he won't catch barrels with his hip like my stud [KG Jukebox Hero]. It's a pretty cool style."

Showy is built like a tank (true to Sun Frost), and is now Grimes' fourth six-figure-earning horse by different sires out of her black NFR mare, KG Justiceweexpected. Eighteen-year-old "Izzy" is by Judge Cash and out of Grimes foundational breeding program mare Do It For Beau.

And he's by the late Mel Potter's deceased stallion Dinero, a sire by which Grimes has never ridden any offspring. A friend happened to have a breeding to him, but no mare. You could say the deal has worked out. Showy was born during the pandemic.

"Buckskin is one of my favorite colors, but when I looked under his tail it was like, darn, it's a boy," lamented Grimes. "Because I like the fillies. But his demeanor is sweet and nice. Fillies can be so sassy and difficult that I think maybe I needed a break! I decided to keep him."

Grimes' program already stands four stallions, and she said during Covid-19, she didn't know what the future held, anyway, so she gelded him.

"I'm always behind, which is why my futurity horses are always 5," said the longtime veterinarian. "Showy finally got to go with my rodeo horse last June. Him and my stud are like two little boys."

Grimes' 8-year-old half-brother to Showy, KG Jukebox Hero (by Blazin Jetolena), has already won more than $240,000 in derbies and rodeos, having qualified for two Columbia River Circuit Finals Rodeos and made the top 10 at The American last year.

Since The American falls right in the middle of her work breeding 135 mares and managing 25 recipient mares, plus embryo transplants and stallion collecting and shipping, Grimes couldn't try to qualify this year.

"But I'd like to make another NFR," she said. "And with these two boys, I think it's possible."

Johnson & So Frostin Epic has Best Weekend Ever Winning $17K at Moses Lake

By Julie Mankin

Tori Johnson of Olympia, Wash., had her “best weekend ever” in Moses Lake on April 10-13 aboard her left-barrel-first Epic Leader/Sun Frost 5-year-old grey mare. She won the Stallion Incentive Program (SIP) Futurity, as well as placing second in the Valley Girls Barrel Racing Association (VGBRA) Sharp Sports Medicine Barrel Daze Futurity, to rake in a cool $16,803.

“She’s really special,” said Johnson. “She makes everything easy. She always rises to the occasion.”

Johnson said she’s not a horse trainer – the futurity thing is just her hobby. She’s the operations manager at the lab she owns with her husband, Dustin Newman, in Olympia, where they test water and food samples.

Her run of 15.5 seconds placed second in the first round of the main Barrel Daze futurity. Paired with a 15.4 in Round Two, she not only landed second in the main Futurity average for $9,129, but also dominated the SIP Futurity Average for $7,289. She also placed in the Open with those runs aboard So Frostin Epic. “Raven” is by Epic Leader and out of PC Mari Madisun – by Sun Frost and out of a double-bred Orphan Drift mare.

“I didn’t grow up running barrels,” Johnson said. “I showed horses, and was actually on the horsemanship team at SDSU (South Dakota State University).”

Being in South Dakota led her to try running barrels, and exposed her to T4 Quarter Horses – anchored by Sun Frost (sire of Hall-of-Fame barrel horse Bozo). She picked out Raven as a weanling on T4’s website, after which Dustin bought her as a Christmas present.

“The T4 has really nice horses,” she said. “I’ve had the fattest crush on a lot of horses from their program. Raven’s super friendly. But tiny – she barely stands 14.2. And I’m 6 feet tall, so it looks like I stole a little kid’s pony!”

Raven was broke by Brett Hale of Stick Horse Training in Washington, and then had 90 days under Mandy Marriott of Oregon. Johnson said she also got a little help from Viki Freidrich of Rocky Top Arena. Tori and Dustin had a baby (little Warren) that will turn 2 this June, so she didn’t start running Raven until last year.

WRWC to Payout Historic $802,000 from May 11-17

The 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC) is set to electrify Fort Worth and Arlington, Texas from May 11-14 and 17, bringing together hundreds of the world's elite female rodeo athletes to compete for a record-breaking $802,000 payout and gold buckle championship glory. The competition will be broadcast exclusively on Cowboy Channel, bringing the accomplishments of the world-class female athletes into homes around the world.

In addition to the record-setting purse, competing athletes will be vying for the title of World Champion, in addition to overall event wins at the Women's Rodeo World Championship.

Additionally, for the third consecutive season, the WRWC has united with the Ariat Texas Rattlers from the PBR (Professional Bull Riders) Teams league to honor Texas resident cowgirls competing at the 2025 event. The Honorary Texas Rattlers Cowgirl Cash Bonus Award will be presented to the Texas resident cowgirl who earns the most points in any one discipline at the Women's Rodeo World Championship. These women will be distinguished by a Team Texas patch worn while competing.

The action begins on May 11 with the Tito's Welcome Gala & Back Number Ceremony, presented by Cowgirl Magazine, at Tannahill's Tavern and Music Hall, celebrating the qualifying athletes and officially launching the 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship. Fans can watch the ceremony LIVE on the Women's Rodeo World Championship Facebook page.

Competition gets underway May 12-14 at Cowtown Coliseum with Round One, Round Two, and Semi-Finals across all disciplines: breakaway roping, barrel racing, and team roping. Each day features a full slate of Pro, Challenger and Limited heats, followed by buckle ceremonies at Tannahill's honoring the daily winners. On May 13, the WRWC will also spotlight the Top 20 NIRA (National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association) athletes who have climbed the WRWC leaderboard in the Smarty Rodeo Goat Tying Showcase.

The 2025 Women's Rodeo World Champions will be crowned following the conclusion of the Semi-Finals. The World Champion in each discipline will be the athlete with the most world points earned from April 15, 2024-May 14, 2025.

The excitement reaches a fever pitch on May 17, when the Championship Round takes at AT&T Stadium in Arlington amid the PBR World Finals: Unleash The Beast – Championship. The Top 7 barrel racers and breakaway ropers along with the Top 6 team roping pairs will compete head-to-head in a final showdown that crowns the event champions in all disciplines. All rounds at Cowtown Coliseum are open to the public with free entry, giving fans the chance to experience the excitement of the WRWC up close. Tickets for the Championship Round on May 17 at AT&T Stadium are on sale now and can be purchased online at PBRWorldFinals.com and SeatGeek.com, or by calling (800) 732-1727.

The WRWC also announced that they have again joined forces with the PBR (Professional Bull Riders) Team Series.

The Cowboy Channel will be the exclusive home of the 2025 Women's Rodeo World Championship, airing LIVE coverage May 11–14 and 17 as the sport's top female athletes compete for gold buckle glory. Fans can look forward to wall-to-wall coverage, including daily pre-shows featuring key matchups, rising stars, and world title contenders. Post-event, the Cowboy Channel will deliver LIVE post-shows with expert analysis, interviews with newly crowned champions, and highlights of the most unforgettable moments from the WRWC arena.

The Cowboy Channel's Exclusive Broadcast Schedule (All Times ET)

- May 12 — WRWC Qualifying Round 1 (9:00 PM – 11:30 PM)

2025 ProRodeo Hall of Fame Class Announced

By Ann Bleiker

While most Americans know April 15 as Tax Day, the following individuals will forever remember April 15, 2025, as the day they got the biggest lifetime refund any rodeo personality could dream of as they received the call to join the ProRodeo Hall of Fame as part of the Class of 2025, marking the 46th annual induction. A total of 11 will be inducted, including two representatives from the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) on July 12.

Joyce (Burk) Loomis Kernek, the 1970 WPRA World Champion, will be inducted into the WPRA Barrel Racing category, while Pam Minick, will be inducted as a WPRA Notable. Kernek and Minick will join the following on the PRCA side — Stran Smith (tie-down roping), Jeff Collins (bareback riding), Steve Purcella (team roping), Mack Altizer (rodeo producer), Harley Tucker (stock contractor), Skipper Voss (contract personnel), Tom Miller (notable), RTR Little Willy (timed event horse), Livermore Stockman's Rodeo (rodeo committee). Red Steagall will also be honored with the Ken Stemler Pioneer Award during the Cowboy Ball on July 11. Kernek and Minick hold the distinction of first being crowned Miss Rodeo America and then winning a WPRA World Title. Kernek, born in Silver City, N.M., was named Miss Rodeo America in 1963 (Joyce Shelley), 10 years prior to Minick and then won the WPRA World Barrel Racing World Title in 1970.

"I am just thrilled and never expected this," stated Kernek, who currently resides in Pure Possibility. Pure Results.

Davis, OK. "Rodeo has offered me every opportunity that I have had in life. It was my great love. I loved the competition, the people, the whole thing. When I was a little girl growing up, in the mountains of New Mexico, I used to dream of going to rodeos especially after seeing the Price sisters (Florence and Sherry — previous inductees) in the Western Horseman that was a dream I had. This is truly an amazing honor."

Kerneck made headlines throughout the 1970 season, beginning the season ranked No. 1 and 12 months and countless miles and runs later, ending in that same spot. She did so aboard a horse named War Leo Dude.

"We won the first rodeo of the year, which at that time was, I believe, St. Paul, Minnesota," noted Kerneck. "I think he (War Leo Dude) was the only one in WPRA history to win the first rodeo of the year and the last and lead the entire season."

Kerneck and Dude were the first to surpass $10,000 in earnings in a single WPRA season. Kerneck chose a different approach to the grueling 10 days at the NFR.

"Dude was just five and he had run quite a bit during the season," Kerneck explains. "So, I borrowed Donna Patterson's horse Engle for the finals, and I ran each of them five runs, alternating horses each night."

What may have appeared a risky proposition ended with both an NFR average title and the World title. With NFR earnings of $812 (after paying a $100 entry fee), Kerneck was the GRA's wealthiest champion at the time.

Prior to 1970, Kerneck had already made a name for herself, winning GRA/WPRA world titles in 1968 and 1969 in the flag race and ribbon roping. Dude showed his versatility as well, serving as her then husband Barry's (Burk) steer wrestling horse. Dude helped Kerneck claim the All-Around champion title at the Duncan Girls Rodeo. She served on the WPRA Board of Directors from 1969-1972.

After her marriage ended with Burk, she married World Champion NRHA Bob Loomis where she expanded her clinician footprint into Brazil. In fact, in 2011 she was inducted into the Brazil Trainers Association Hall of Fame. Together they developed the Loomis gag bit used by many rodeo competitors today. In 1998, she married George Kerneck, a professional baseball player, who passed away in 2022.

Minick, who currently resides in Argyle, Texas, is considered one of the most recognized women in the equine world. From being named Miss Rodeo America in 1973 (Pam Martin), to winning the WPRA breakaway roping world title in 1982, to serving on the WPRA Board of Directors for 17 years and continuing her impact on the sport in front of the camera in a multitude of roles including serving as a great role model for the women in the sport today, no woman has made a bigger impact in the rodeo world than Pam Minick.

"I am just speechless, which doesn't happen very often," stated Minick upon learning of her induction. "I always think of myself as a person that cheers on the people that go into the Hall of Fame, not a Hall of Famer myself."

"For me doing what I do and being recognized like this is the icing on the cake, because everything I do is because I love it."

Born in Las Vegas, Nevada, she and her sister, Lynn, were raised on five acres of land but her family didn't own a horse. When Minick was nine and her sister was seven, they decided they wanted some horses to ride. After their mother acquired two palomino horses (Rebel and Rio) for $300 each, they learned to ride at the local 4-H club.

Minick proved a quick study becoming the first woman awarded the Nevada Cowboy

Association's Rookie of the Year title. After high school, she planned to go to UNLV, but before she could go to her first class, she was named Miss Rodeo Nevada at the state fair in Reno. Two months later, she was crowned Miss Rodeo America. As the youngest Miss Rodeo America, she hit the road in 1973 to represent the sport.

Already accustomed to the demands of rodeo travel and the public relations work she was doing for one of the hotels, Minick took to making public appearances and promoting rodeo like a pro. In 1976, Minick was asked to join rodeo superstars Donnie Gay, Larry Mahan and Jim Shoulders to cover the live rodeo broadcasts on CBS—one of just three television networks at the time when it wasn't unusual for 1.2 million people to tune in.

While pursuing her career as a TV personality in rodeo she remained competitive turning most of her focus to the roping end but also working to advance women in rodeo by serving on the WPRA Board of Directors. She served as an At Large Director from 1978-1980 before taking on a bigger role as the WPRA Vice President serving alongside Jimmie Munroe from 1980 through the 1994 season.

She won the WPRA Breakaway Roping world title in 1982 and was a 16-time qualifier for the WPRA World Finals where she also competed in team roping. She was also the first woman to be granted a PRCA Announcer card.

She is a natural with a microphone and has hosted more than 1,000 television shows on ESPN, TNN, NBC, CBS, The Outdoor Network, RFD-TV and The Cowboy Channel. These include rodeo, equestrian, country music shows and the famous Rose Bowl Parade. In 1994, Minick co-announced the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, becoming the first woman to announce a major professional rodeo. She also interviewed many world champions at the National Finals Rodeo.

"I loved being a competitor, I love being a broadcaster, I love my job in supporting organizations like the WPRA and working at Billy Bob's. Nothing I've ever done has felt like a job and that's how I've stayed energized for 70 years," stated Minick.

She will join her husband, Billy Minick, who was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2018 in the stock contractor category.

"The Hall of Fame has been so special to me, throughout my lifetime, and that's why, when I was asked to join the board a few years ago, I jumped at the opportunity, because I think it's something that every person that rodeos should plan on giving back to that organization," said Minick. "It's just an amazing collection of great rodeo history and a beautiful, beautiful building, but it's where people find out about our sport and the heritage."

"To be included with the people in there and to get the call from Jimmie Munroe, who I served for so many years on the board with is just very special. I just hope that I make people in the rodeo industry proud for what I've done in the past and what I hope to do in the future."

The WPRA first began inducting members to the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2017 and since that time a total of 16 members (including this year's class) have been inducted along with two world champion horses (doesn't include Scamper as he was inducted in 1996).

Full information on the PRCA inductees can be found at www.prorodeo.com.

The 2025 ProRodeo Hall of Fame Inductions are scheduled to take place at 10 a.m. MT on July 12 in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

What's the key to success? The key is, there is no key. Be humble, hungry & the hardest worker in any room.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I have a habit of changing peoples names. For me, it's a sign of affection. In our family, if you had a two syllable name, it got shortened to one. My name is Sherry. My family and friends call me Sher. If yours was one syllable, it got lengthened. My sister Gail? Squirrely Ann.

Makes no sense, like most of the things in my family. So, for whatever silly reason I do things, I started calling Thad, Thaddias. He's 9. His mom told me that at one of his events, he introduced himself to someone as Thaddias! She was surprised to say the least. Then, a few days later, he asked her if he could change his name to "Thaddias". "Thad" was boring. Oh boy! THAT'S not happening! LOL!

Long names, short names, nicknames. We all have one. But there is a name.... the name of Jesus! It's the name above every name. Every name that is named bows to that name! Phil. 2:10-12.

In the name of Jesus, we can ask anything. John 14:13-14. Our Lord. Our Savior. Thank you, Jesus, for dying on that cross for us. Happy Easter!
