Family Legacy -- Kylie Weast & Hell On The Red Win Transwest Futurity

By Tanya Randall

The winning legacy of Youree-Ward Barrel Horse has continued with their homebred Transwest Futurity Champion, Hell On The Red ("Reddy"). The talented 5-year-old mare, ridden by Kylie (Ward) Weast, nearly swept the $10,000-added Futurity for earnings of $7,164.

"It was pretty exciting," said Weast, who calls Addington, Okla., home. "That was my first futurity win."

The Transwest Futurity was held April 14-16 in conjunction with the Barrel Bash at the famed Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Okla. The event drew 1,506 entries and awarded $92,365.

Weast said it was a "well-ran event."

"Renea Bolling and her staff always do a great job," she said. "Kevin Hebenstriet with Transwest sponsored the futurity and I'm very grateful for that. It was $10,000 added and two-hours from the house. I love the facility and I can't wait to go back next year."

The event's use of a WPRA Standard pattern also made it appeal to Weast and her sister Janae Massey.

"Janae and I both thought that would be to our advantage because we both have turners," Weast explained. "Honestly, I wasn't worried about Reddy missing a turn. I knew it was a two-run average and I just had to get around them clean twice. I knew she could clock."

Weast and Reddy won the first go of the Futurity with a 17.390, which also placed second in the Open on Saturday. They came back with a 17.549 to split the second round with eventual Amateur Futurity Champions Aimee Montgomery and Florida Fame.

"The first run I wouldn't have every thought it to be a .3," said Weast. "I knew I just had to do it again. She kind of zeroed in a little more (on Sunday) and didn't let me be safe. I had to lift a leg on the second barrel. She just gave me 100 percent."

By leading barrel horse sire and last year's leading futurity sire JL Dash Ta Heaven, Reddy is out of Designer Ruby, a daughter of leading sire Designer Red that the family had hoped to futurity. Unfortunately, an accident at the colt breakers ended her career before it started and Ruby immediately joined the broodmare band. Reddy is her oldest foal and first performer.

"We had to spend a lot of time on her, but it wasn't around the barrels," said Weast. "She had to be ridden every day or she'd take advantage of you. But now, she's grown up past that. She's a really gritty mare and tries hard really hard, whether you're riding out in the pasture or going to the barrels. She always gives 100 percent. It's just that sometimes, all I need is 60!"

The raw-boned mare was well-started by Weast, who also trained RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo Champion Namgis D 35, ridden by Emily Miller. In late summer of the mare's fourth year, a pregnant Weast turned the reins over to Massey.

"I went to the NBR Finals in Guthrie (July 31st) and that was last time I rode," recalled Weast. "I was five months pregnant. August first, Janae got on her and basically finished her. She did all the seasoning and hauled her to all the jackpots."

"She probably only had four to five months on the barrels before that. She just wants to be a barrel horse."

Massey ran Reddy at the BFA World Championships in the 4D and took the mare to the Arizona futurities, where she picked up checks at both the Greg Olson Memorial and Classic Equine futurities. Meanwhile, Weast, who gave birth to her son Marcus in November, was working hard to get back into competitive riding form.

"She gave me a lot of incentive to get the baby weight off because I knew what I had," laughed Weast.

Since Weast climbed back aboard, the duo has placed well at The Patriot Futurity and both the slot race and futurity at Diamonds & Dirt. All totaled, Reddy's futurity earnings are more than $30,000 from just five events.

Conrado Banks at Colorado's Rodeo All-Star

Ivy Conrado, the #14 Barrel Racer in the World right now, notched another big win over the weekend winning the barrel racing at the Rodeo All-Star Rodeo in Denver, CO. Most reading this are used to her winning on her WPRA Horse Of The Year, Cfour Tibbie Stinson, but this year she has started picking up rodeo checks on her new horse as well, Fames To Blame. In fact, she won her Semi-Finals and the Finals of the All-Star Rodeo on "Famey" before getting back on Tibbie for the Championship so that Famey only had two runs in the same day. Although her $8,750 payday here doesn't count towards the World Standings, this payday along with her $25k payday in the Super Shootout at Rodeo Houston (that also didn't count) will help her get down the road through this spring and summer. With her recent big wins and a new horse on her team, we thought it was a good time to catch up with Miss Ivy!

BBR: This year you are running both Cfour Tibbie Stinson and Fames To Blame. Tell us what it is like to have two horses to start off the spring and summer run with? How are your horses alike and different?

Conrado: I've never had two horses so I'm super excited to be able to go to more rodeos and learn what pens fit me and my horses! Then to give Famey a try at some of the pens Tibbie doesn't really prefer. My rodeo count will be a lot higher than last year that's for sure! The good thing is they are more alike than they are different; little and scrappy! Famey's first barrel is definitely a lot easier than Tibbie's but Tibbie's third barrel is easier than Famey's!

BBR: Could you walk us through your winning runs?

Conrado: My first run on Famey was fun! She bellied down at the first and then she really let me get a hold of her and move her over for the second! Maybe the best second barrel I've ever had on her so far! Or third was messy but it usually is, so we just went for it! She won the long round by .2 out of both days! My second run on her was definitely a little looser, kept more space around the turns than the first run but she still nailed the clock and won the progressive round.

I felt bad running her twice in one day and Tibbie was just hanging out and kind of needed a run so I ran her in the third round (Championship) and it was just a solid, fun Tibbie run!! She did great!

BBR: After having the experience of being on the road for a couple years and now having two horses, how will you rodeo different this year?

Conrado: Honestly, I have really never had to rodeo hard. So that will be a learning curve this summer on how to actually truly rodeo. I think having two horses will make it easier.

Wide Open Spaces – Amber Moore & CP Dark Takeoff at Clark Co. Fair & Rodeo in Logandale

By Tanya Randall

Amber Moore's great mare CP Dark Moon ("Paige") was happy to be back in the wide-open spaces of the west after several months of winter building rodeos. The 8-year-old mare won the Clark Co. Fair & Rodeo by nearly 4/10ths, claiming $7,072.

"She was just happy to be outside," said Moore. "I think she was happy there were no walls."

Moore, who hails from Kiser, Ore., entered Logandale on her way back home from the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Florida, because it fit into her schedule.

"We left Kissimmee Saturday after I ran," said Moore of the daughter of Darkelly out of SRQH New Highs, by On A High. "I wanted to get across Texas because I knew the weather was going to be bad. I wanted to get ahead of it and I managed to do it."

Moore filmed and shared the first performance and slack via Facebook Live, so she knew what to expect of the ground conditions for her run in Thursday night's performance. Running seventh in the draw, she and Paige posted the fastest time of the rodeo, a 17.06, to easily win the first round.

Moore said it was just Paige feeling good and ready to go.

"Most of the girls came creeping in the gate...She took off from the gate," she said. "I thought, 'OK, you're in charge. Let's go!' I think I got my speed on the run home. Halfway home, she realized it was an open alley and she hit another gear! It was something I hadn't felt. It was like 'FREEDOM!'"

The top 12 from the first round, advanced to a short go on Sunday evening.

Moore said after the first two horses slipped in the short go and with the events from Florida still fresh on her mind, her game plan was to stay standing upright.

Tiany Schuster and Show Mance posted the top time of 17.35 to edge Moore and Paige by a mere 1/100th of a second in the short go.

With $66,725 won in 15 rodeos, Moore currently sits fourth in the WPRA World Standings. She's entered in Red Bluff, Calif., with slack on Friday morning—weather permitting—and has Clovis and Springdale, Calif., the following week. Then she'll take a three week break before the Columbia River Circuit rodeos get into full swing.

"I've got to work," she laughed, muttering under her breath about filing taxes and bookkeeping for her store, that her daughter has been so diligently running. "I've been home one week in three months. I'll be playing catch-up."

She wanted to thank her family for being so supportive of her journey as well as her sponsors.

Moore plans on sticking to the same rodeos that got her to her first Wrangler National Finals last year.

"I get to go to Calgary and definitely want to go back to Cheyenne," she said. "There might be a few more that I throw in there, but I'll mostly follow the same path I did last year. All my money, except for $4,000, was won outside last year from Memorial Weekend on out."

As tough as she is outside, Paige started her career winning in trap arenas and left Las Vegas last year with a share of the arena record and $187,692 from the NFR alone.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

If you are married, do you remember when you were dating? You know. Those days when you were totally consumed with thoughts of that person and when you were going to see them again? And date night? Woo Hoo! You were ready to go an hour early and they showed up early!! Ya, I remember those days. I had to keep myself from jumping up and down when I knew Mike was coming to pick me up. But I acted cool! LOL!

JESUS is coming back to get us, and I believe very soon! He died for me and went to hell so I wouldn't have to! Shouldn't we be even more excited to see Him? Shouldn't we be ready and eager? Shouldn't we? Yes. We should.

I helped greet people at the door Easter service at The Barn. And when the clock struck the top of the hour, I went in to the service. My friend was greeting with me, but she didn't come in. She said, "As many people come in AFTER starting time, as do before....." I was flabbergasted! WHAT?!! People are LATE?!! HALF of them???!!!

Friends, what does that say about us? To me, it says that Jesus is not a priority. Even though He died for us, other things become more important. I don't want that to be true about me, or you. The Bible talks about the ten virgins. 5 were ready for the bridegroom, 5 were not. Read this account in Matthew 25:1-14. Let's stir ourselves up this week! Put Jesus first! We'll be glad we did!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY. 82717, 307/685-2272.
