Profitable Weekend for Grimes & KG Just Money, Wins Sand Cup Derby, High Desert Stampede

By Tanya Randall

Veterinarian and National Finals Rodeo qualifier Kathy Grimes had a very profitable Easter weekend.

She and KG Just Money, her homebred 6-year-old gelding, collected $15,122 after winning the $2,000-added Derby and Tim Corfield Memorial Slot Race at the Sand Cup, held April 2-5 in Moses Lake, Washington, and the High Desert Stampede Pro Rodeo, April 2-4 in Redmond, Oregon.

"He is so special. He really is amazing, very fun," Grimes said of the gelding she calls "Showie." The gelded son of multiple WPRAs World Champion Sire PC Frenchmans Hayday is out of Grimes 1.2 million dollar producer KG Justiceweexpected ("Izzy"), the Judge Cash daughter that helped take her to the NFR.

Showie, who has earnings of $401,399 as tracked by QData prior to this past weekend, was a leading futurity horse in 2025. Grimes successfully transitioned the gelding to pro rodeo this winter. He collected wins at Yuma, Arizona, and Perry, Georgia, and had a very impressive showing at the San Antonio Rodeo.

"(I'm) very proud of him for his winter," said Grimes. "You just never know how they're going to do until you start taking him. I hadn't taken him to much rodeo-wise his futurity year because they're so much money in the futurity year that I didn't want to create problems."

Grimes and Showie should move into the WPRAs Top 15 and take the lead in the Columbia River Circuit with their $6,482 win at the $16,000-added one-run rodeo in Redmond, Oregon.

HORSE HAIR ANALYSIS®

After making their rodeo winning run in slack on Thursday morning, Grimes spent Friday working and left early Saturday morning for the Sand Cup.

Grimes and Showie made two runs on Saturday, one in the first go of the derby, which she won with a 15.247 and then came back and blasted a set to win the Tim Corfield Memorial with a 14.922 for $2,064.

“That’s not always my favorite,” she said of running twice in one day. “But I felt it was worth the effort.”

She said their second run was “snappy.”

“We did have top of the ground,” she said. “I don’t care what anyone says, it always helps if you’re top of the ground usually. “I think my first barrel was a little tighter, my second was great all weekend, my third, I almost felt like I was going into it too tight and I actually two-handed around it, which I can’t believe I did that. I feel like his acceleration and deceleration is not that much different and he stays pretty smooth, so I was able to stay balanced.”

Her game plan for her last run on Sunday was simple—“not to screw it up!” They clocked a 15.289 to take third in the round and secure the derby aggregate for $2,389.

“It was good, just not as fast,” she said. “I did make a little mistake. I got a little behind after we left the second barrel, and I panicked a little at the third and pulled on him. It just wasn’t as smooth as he normally does because I got in the way.”

They collected an additional $4,187 on the weekend with carry-overs to the open and various sidepots for a total Sand Cup haul of

While most Sand Cup contestants are staying over the Valley Girls Barrel Racing Association’s Barrel Daze, Grimes will miss the crown jewel of the northwest futurities to compete at the WPRA Western Regional Qualifier Event in Salina, Utah.

“Normally I would go to Valley Girls,” she said. “I’ve gone for 20 years and never missed it. It was hard to think about (missing) it. In fact, I had entered Valley Girl’s thinking, ‘I can’t go to Salina right now between foaling and the start of my breeding season, then to drive past Moses Lake, which is 90 miles from my house, and Salina is 14 hours and with the price of fuel...maybe I’ll do the Canadian qualifier like Anita (Ellis, last year’s Calgary Stampede Champion) did.’ I found out (the Canadian Qualifier) was June 8th and 9th, which is right at the end of my breeding season. That’s not really any better. Then they said that Salina was also a Days of ’47 qualifier and the money counted...there are three good things if I do good. I can’t miss it.”

On top of her great weekend, Grimes was waiting on Showie’s dam, Izzy, to ovulate so she could be bred with frozen semen. That meant palpating her every four hours since she got home from Moses Lake.

“I’m exhausted already after the weekend, the adrenaline and the anxiety of not screwing things up,” she said. “I’ve not gotten a lot of sleep lately but it’s OK. I was gone about 30 hours. Nobody foaled and nobody ovulated. It all worked out.”

Judge My Class Offspring Shine for Jordan Bailey at Sand Cup Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Jordan Bailey is working hard to promote the offspring of Judge My Class, owned and bred by her mother Tammy.

Bailey rode three by the Judge Cash, Captain Biankus stallion to the pay window at the Sand Cup Futurity, held April 2-5 in Moses Lake, Washington.

"It's a pretty big deal for us," Bailey said of proving Judge My Class's offspring. "This is hit first real foal crop. It's really exciting actually."

She got the win on Judges Sly Oakley, a 5-year-old mare out of Cottons Sly Kitten, by Cottons Tomichi, that her family owns and raised.

Brian McPhee started Oakley under saddle and put 30 to 60 days on her as a 2-year-old. Bailey rode the mare some and then McPhee put some more time on her as a 3-year-old. Then it was Bailey's turn to train her on barrels.

Bailey started jackpotting on Oakley right after the November 15 futurity season kicked off and then hit the major futurities in Arizona over the winter.

At Moses Lake, they won the first round with a 15.470 and finished one out of the money in the second round but held on to win the 80-entry, $10,000-added Futurity for $3,652.

"Saturday she did really well," said Bailey. "I was a little surprised at how well she clocked, but she was working really good. Sunday, we did not have the best run, but she got through it and we hung on for the average."

CJ Vondette and Slick It Or Stick It (Slick By Design x Bea Dance Queen x Sticks An Stones) were just one-tenth of a second behind to take the reserve championship. Bailey also finished eight in the futurity average on Judgin N Streakin, a Judge My Class, Streakin Six mare that belongs to Ellie Purdy. They earned $635.

Takin On The Judge, a Judge My Class gelding owned by her mother, finished just out of the money in the average after placing third in the first go, earning $1,534.

Nearly every one of the seven head that Bailey ran over the weekend—four in the futurity and three in the derby—were either bred, raised or owned by her family at one time. In addition to the futurity horses, Bailey picked up $3,787 on their homebred Mulberry Fame, Judge Cash mare Ima Girl Fame.

Cassie Morton & SS I Am Misty Shine at ICRP's Butter Cup Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Fresh off their Amateur Futurity Championship at the Barrel Bash Select Stallion Stakes Futurity, Cassie Morton and SS I Am Misty claimed full honors at the Butter Cup Futurity, produced by Indian Creek Racing Productions at Gordyville USA in Gifford, Illinois.

Morton and "Misty" collected $5,983 at the 90-entry, $15,000-added ($2,500 each round, $10,000 average) Futurity, held April 3-5.

They were second in the first round with a 13.976.

"That pen is very tricky," said Morton, who resides in Jackson, Tennessee. "The first barrel is long way up there and the pen is very narrow. She made a solid run. I was beyond excited because that was more than what I expected of her."

On Sunday, a first barrel mistake on one of her derby geldings almost cost her the futurity win.

"I was sitting there thinking, 'Do not miss the first barrel on her! You just need another solid run. I just need to be clean and make a decent run, and we'll place in the average,'" Morton said. "She went in there running kind of hard and I checked her pretty soon at the first barrel. It's a good thing she's honest because as soon as I bumped her she rated down. I was like, 'Oh no! That was too soon!' I handed it back to her and she went on up there."

They placed fourth in the round with a 14.087 to win the average by .024 over John Ressler and Nothin This Special (Aint Seen Nothin Yet x Arista x Bully Bullion).

"My husband said I cut it a little too close in the average," she said. "I would have been thrilled with second!"

Misty's success in the arena is a team effort with Morton's husband Josh doing all of the mare's training and tuning. She only exercises the mare and competes on her.

It's a program that's given the couple the taste of success in aged event competition with three different horses.

"It does work out well," said Morton, who works for the state of Tennessee. "I ride them some during the week, but I don't work them on the pattern. I let him do that. He usually doesn't say a whole lot to me about things. I think it works well because he's in trainer mode, and when I get on them, I haven't been riding them on the pattern during the week, so I don't know every little thing that they were doing that he wasn't happy with. For the most part he doesn't say anything unless it's something I need to watch for, but he knows not to try to tell me too much or I start to overthink things."

The couple first had success with Scootin In The Dark ("Frank"), a Darkelly gelding that was supposed to be her husband's pole bending horse.

"He taught us a lot about the futurities," she said. "We stayed on our side of the river (east of the Mississippi) and went to the smaller stuff mainly, but he ended up winning BFA Futurity Horse of the Year. We won more money with him than we'd ever won before with horses."

Since they both work full-time jobs, they only have one futurity prospect each year. Morton works for the state of Tennessee. Her husband is a civil engineer and vice-president of a road construction company.

"He trains one a year," she said. "If they make it we have a futurity horse for the year. If they don't, then we don't."

Their next winner, SS Rocky Canyon, followed right on Frank's heels. Morton's brother-in-law JT Morton had purchased the gray gelding, by 1.2 million dollar sire RR Mistakelly, out of the Slick By Design, Mulberry Canyon Moon mare, MCM Shes Slick, from his breeder Pam Smith and intended to compete with the gelding himself.

"My brother-in-law had some health problems, and he kept all that pretty quiet," Morton explained. "I think he knew his health was declining and was thinking about selling. We were looking for a 2-year-old. My husband looked at the horse and was like, 'No, he's too small. I don't want him.' That was around Thanksgiving and my brother-in-law passed away in January. We still hadn't bought anything, and my in-laws were like 'We don't need this colt. We need to sell him.'"

Knowing that his brother wanted to campaign the gelding at the futurities, Morton's husband decided that he'd take the horse and follow through with his brother's plans.

"Last year was pretty emotional," said Morton with tears in her voice. "My husband trained him and I rode him. I was thankful to have the opportunity, but I shouldn't have had it."

Rocky, who has QData earnings of more than $85,000, also pulls double duty at the barrel races, running for Morton and then quieting down for her 6-year-old daughter Macie to take through the pattern in the pee wee class.

Even before Rocky had been entered, they decided to take Smith's offer to sell Rocky's year younger full sister in September 2024. The couple bickered a little before making the purchase sight unseen. Morton thought Smith was keeping all her fillies until her husband told her that Smith had offered to sell Misty.

"I said, 'Buy her!' He was like, 'I want to go look at her.' I said, 'Just buy her!' He said, 'I need to try her.' I said, 'She's 2. She's had 45 days of riding and you're not going to like her when you ride her. Buy her before she posts her (online) and sells her!" Morton chuckled.

Jade Peterson put an additional 90 days of riding on Misty before Josh started her on the pattern as a 3-year-old.

"As my husband says, she tested him," Morton admitted. "I think part of that was being a mare. We don't normally ride mares. Even in September when I got on her, he was like, 'I don't know how this is going to work out.' If you had asked him then if she would be where she is now, he would have said, 'No way!' She's really put it all together. We're pretty excited about her."

PRCA cowboys make cameo appearances in Ella Langley's "Choosin' Texas" video

Ella Langley is a country music superstar. When she and her team wanted to reshoot a music video for her smash hit "Choosin' Texas" she wanted authentic cowboys to appear in the video.

That's when she got in touch with her friend Shea Fisher-Durfey, a fellow country singer, and wife of 2016 PRCA World Champion Tie-Down Roper Tyson Durfey.

"I've known Ella for a while now. We originally started making belt buckles and stuff for her family, and then her mom and Miranda (Lambert's) mom sat with us in a suite at the NFR, so we've known them," Fisher-Durfey said. "So, when Ella's manager called me and told me that they were going to shoot the music video for "Choosin' Texas," we got on a phone call with the producers, and they were like, 'Hey, where can we shoot this and make it look real?'"

"I said, 'Well, if you want this to look legit, you have to do it here in Texas. I said, you're welcome to come use (our) ranch. So, they shot all the truck (driving) and all the like flashbacks on the ranch here (at the Durfey's ranch) in Brock, Texas. Ella was so sweet. She flew in on a private plane and got there (March 5) when we started to film all the B-rolls. Then, she said, 'I need some cameos. Like, what do you think?' And I said, 'Okay, well, if you want people to notice who's sitting at the bar, I said, we've got to get world champions. We've got to get faces that have a big following.'"

It didn't take long for Fisher-Durfey to round up some star-studded PRORODEO cowboys.

She got her husband, Tyson, and then added to the list.

"Shad (Mayfield) was hurt so I knew he would be around. It was a little bit tricky with (Rodeo) Houston (going on at that time). I reached out to Shad, obviously Tyson, and Leighton Berry because he was close and he wasn't up at Houston. We kind of wanted to have a variety of timed-event guys and roughstock guys and we got JB Mauney and Dale Brisby."

Langley's love interest in the video is megastar actor Luke Grimes, and the bar scene was filmed at the iconic Stagecoach Ballroom in Fort Worth on March 6. The video features an all-star cast including Ava Phillippe, Miranda Lambert, and Kaitlin Butts. Country singers Mike Ryan, Casey Donahew, Tanner Ursey, Wade Bowen and Fisher-Durfey also appear in the video.

"They have been so thankful to all the cowboys and everybody helping," Fisher-Durfey said. "I mean, they've messaged so many times just saying, 'Hey, please let the rodeo community know. We're so grateful for all the support,' because she's seen how much rodeo and the Western (lifestyle) industry has been getting behind her. And she's personally sent messages saying, 'We're so thankful that you all got behind this and made it legit because that was her biggest concern. She didn't want to shoot a video in Nashville.'"

Mayfield, the 2020 PRCA Tie-Down Roping World Champion and 2024 PRCA All-Around World Champion, was thrilled to be in Langley's video.

"Tyson Durfey and Shea Durfey, they're really good friends of mine. They had reached out to them about using their place and they said that they wanted to have some real cowboys in it, you know, because they wanted to make it realistic," said Mayfield, who has not competed since Dec. 13 after having surgery on his hips in March. "You see a lot of music videos, but they don't ever get the real cowboys in there. Ella had some say on who she wanted, and she chose some of the best.

"It was cool. You know, I didn't know what to expect when we went in there and didn't know what we were doing. And we went to the shoot and, you know, she welcomed us with open arms and was super cool and, you know, treated us like we were just friends. I have a lot of respect for Ella because she's just so genuine and such a cool person. It was a really cool experience."

Berry, a bareback rider and four-time Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier (2020, 2022-24), also was glad to be a part of Langley's video and knows it helps PRORODEO become even more mainstream.

"It was a neat opportunity to be part of," Berry said. "Sometimes it's all about who you know in this world! Exposure is always key as a rodeo athlete, so this was great."

Langley showed her appreciation by presenting all the actors in the video Choosin' Texas buckles. Here is a link to watch the video, <https://bit.ly/3PLoHmw>

"Ella, Luke, they all want to come back to Texas," Fisher-Durfey said. "Ella's actually playing (Aug. 15 at Dickies Arena in Fort Worth) and she wants all the cowboys (from the video) to come to the concert. She just bought two horses, and her grandfather was a steer wrestler. She's obviously not going to go pro, but she is a horse girl, and she's always said that she wants to compete in a PRORODEO one day."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I pray about what to write to you each week. I was mulling over some thoughts while driving home from town and this thought occurred to my mind. Not my heart, my mind. . . . Why don't you use Bible scriptures to help people deal with day to day frustrations? After all, God has all the answers.

What scriptures can I use, for instance, when there is a parking lot traffic jam at Albertsons? People driving against the parking arrows. A dually crew cab Dodge trying to TURN AROUND between the rows, effectively blocking both directions.

What about people who just will not get into the turning lane, but straddle the turning lane and the inside lane? Gramma or Grandpa going 25 mph in a 50 mph zone? When you get forgotten at the restaurant and everyone, but you, are getting their food? People chatting in the aisles at Walmart and you can't get by them?

Well. . . . I. DON'T. KNOW!!!! LOL! Usually, I end up repenting for what I thought and said!

So, here's your scripture for the week. I Jn. 1:9. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. . . . You're welcome!!
