Brian Wheeler & SBW Heavenly Peach Top Lucky Dog Futurity, Breeders Challenge Memphis Qualifier

By Tanya Randall

Brian Wheeler and his homebred 4-year-old mare SBW Heavenly Peach ("Bonnie") topped the incredibly tight $10,000-added Lucky Dog Futurity, held May 5-8 at Agricenter Showplace in Memphis, Tennessee. The duo from Hattiesburg, Mississippi, also topped The Breeders Challenge qualifying sidepot to lay claim to $12,562 for the weekend.

"I can remember going to Memphis in 2009 and winning the open on Bonnie's mom," said Wheeler. "Now all these years later, I'm riding a baby out of her and doing the same thing. It's kind of cool."

Wheeler and his mother Stephanie raised Bonnie, by champion performer Heavenly Firewater. Bonnie, whose temperament in the stall got her named after the female sidekick to notorious outlaw Clyde Barrow, is out of the Wheelers great performer SX Dr Peacharita ("Peach"), a daughter of Dr Nick Bar out SX Frenchmans Peach that Stephanie raised in partnership with Carisa Shearer.

Although Peach's early foals have been hampered by bad luck injuries, she's already on pace to produce like her mother with two standouts running, 2020 Old Fort Days Futurity Champion SBW Copy Cat, by Blazin Jetolena, who is now owned and ridden by Wheeler's girlfriend Blaise Bercegeay.

Wheeler said, so far of the four he's trained and ridden, Bonnie reminds him the most of Peach.

"Riding-wise, this one is more like her than all of them," he said. "She's very honest and tries really hard. The others seem to take more after the studs they're by. To me she knows when she needs to be fast. You can tell when you warm her up. She's more keyed in and wants to try harder. The first round she seemed lazy almost and that was more like her momma. With her momma, the first go was always slower everywhere you went. She just got faster with each run."

In Memphis, Wheeler and Bonnie were fifth in the first round with a 14.671 but came back with a 14.356 to win the second and the extremely tight aggregate where less than 1/10th of a second separated first through third.

"The first day, to me, she didn't run as hard as she can," he said. "She was a little more looky and hunting her turns and I kind of had to hold her off just a little bit which slowed her down some. The second go when I warmed her up she was a little stronger, a little more free-moving, so I thought she was going to run harder and she did."

The victory gave Wheeler and Bonnie their second futurity title. They won the Jingle Bell Classic in Perry, Georgia, this past December. The Lucky Dog Futurity paid $5,510, plus $2,027 for open and adult carryover earnings. The Breeders Challenge victory was worth $5,052 with $1,516 going to the Matthews family's Mission Ranch on behalf of Bonnie's sire Heavenly Firewater, who just happened to place well at the Guymon, Oklahoma, Pro Rodeo the same weekend for Taycie Matthews.

Bonnie is the second Heavenly Firewater that Wheeler has trained and ridden. He made the stallion's first foal, Feelin Heavenly, into a multiple futurity finalist.

Wheeler, who splits his time between shoeing and training horses for his girlfriend Blaise Bercegeay, Kim Matthews and his mom, said the two mares are a lot alike.

SBW Heavenly Peach "Bonnie" 15.2 h, "She's a big mare."

BIT: L&W shanked bit with a drop-back curb

HEADGEAR: None. "She's actually the first one that I've run without a tiedown or bonnet. It's a different feel for me but I'm figuring it out. She doesn't move as well through the turns when I have one on her."

SADDLE: Brett Monroe Signature Series

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on front

SHOEING: Plain aluminum up front and plain steel in the rear

FEED: Bluebonnet

HAY: Grass

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Weekly cold water spa treatments at home "To me that helps more than anything else we've ever done. I tell people all the time, sell a horse and buy one if you're going to do this all the time."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I ride her three, four times a week. Lots of time it's just long trotting in the hay field. She doesn't take a whole lot."

"The way you work them and ride them, they're very easy," he said. "They don't take a whole lot of tuning and getting after. They ride like they're ready for business."

Bonnie has a busy couple of weeks ahead with a last minute decision to go to the Royal Crown in Waco, Texas, before the Old Fort Days Futurity in Fort Smith, Arkansas, the following week.

"I don't like to run mine too much," Wheeler said. Bonnie had

Briggs Wins Big at Memphis Lucky Dog Productions and Breeders Challenge Derby

By Britany Diaz

2021 World Champion barrel racer, Jordon Briggs, found herself at the top or towards the top of the leaderboard on not only her superstar horse, Famous Lil Jet (Rollo) but also on her futurity colt, KN So Bam Epic (Bam) by Epic Leader. This was the Breeders Challenge's third qualifier, held in conjunction with the Lucky Dog Productions Futurity/Derby/Open at the Agricenter Showplace Arena in Memphis, TN on May 5-8. Briggs and Rollo won the first go-round of the Lucky Dog Derby with a time of 14.357. They also won the Breeders Challenge Derby sidepot that day. The duos time of 14.544 on the second day, secured them the championship title of both the Lucky Dog Derby and The Breeders Challenge Derby with a combined time of 28.901 seconds. The team placed third in the Lucky Dog Open Race One and second in the Thursday's Breeders Challenge Open. Rollo and Briggs also won a check in the Lucky Dog Open Race Two the second day, earning a weekend total of $12,168.47!

KN So Bam Epic (Bam) didn't want to be left out on the winning weekend. Bam and Briggs won third in the first round of the Lucky Dog Futurity and The Breeders Challenge Futurity with a time of 14.593. They were consistent in the second round with a 14.553, placing them second in both the Lucky Dog and Breeders Challenge Futurity. Their average time of 29.146 earned them a third place finish in both futurities. The duo earned a weekend total of $9,004.62! Altogether in the Derby and Futurity with all of the breeders and stud incentives, Briggs won $21,165 in two days.

Briggs primary goal when entering the event in Memphis was to qualify for The Breeders Challenge $1,000,000 Championship held at Will Rogers Coliseum on September 14-17, 2022. Briggs shared, "I had recently just found out that Rollo was still eligible for the Breeders Challenge. I thought last year was his last year and I didn't want to put any extra runs on him last year, besides the ones that were towards my goal of making the NFR. Since I was blessed enough to win RodeoHouston, it takes some pressure off of going to so many rodeos. I figured I should try to qualify for The Breeders Challenge to save on some diesel money from going to the Northwest rodeos this year." Briggs and Rollo punched their ticket in both the open and the derby.

Briggs had two winners in her trailer last weekend. KN So Bam Epic was purchased by Jordon and Justin as a 3-year-old at the Kinder, LA sale. Briggs said, "I have run him at two other futurities, but this was the first time I had thrown him to the wolves. He had made smooth runs, so I figured it was time to put the hammer down a little more. He is five this year, so a little more mature, which helps." Briggs and Bam also punched their ticket for the Breeders Challenge Championship.

Jordon has two nice futurity colts this year, along with her World Champion horse, Rollo. She is currently ranked #1 in the Women's Professional Rodeo Association Standings. It takes a lot of dedication, preparation and planning to be successful at both the futurities and the rodeos. "Rollo and Bam are going to go to the Royal Crown this week for the derby and futurity. I am going to go out over the fourth this year. The Texas heat is almost as hard on them as the hauling, I haven't decided what I am going to do with Bam yet, I may sell him or I may turn him out and run him at The Breeders Challenge futurity myself. My other futurity horse is going to go out on the road with me to rodeo this summer. My plan is to try to be gone from the end of June until the middle of August and come home after Dodge City, KS. We are not moving this year, so I am hoping my husband and my family can go with me more this summer," said Briggs.

"My rodeo count last year was 50, because I broke my ankle and was out for two and a half months, so I had to play catch up. This caused me to go to more rodeos last year than planned. Both of my futurity colts are five this year, which gives them another year to mature and more time to haul them. The second reason I was able to rodeo last year and still have futurity colts ready this year is my husband. We were moving and building a place. Cinnamon is a finished rope horse. He went to the jackpots and got seasoned and learned how to use his feet being a rope horse. Same goes for the Epic Leader. Justin uses Bam to heel on and hauled him. He teaches them how to be pulled on going fast, making my job easier." said Briggs, when asked how she manages to make winning futurity colts while on the rodeo road to make the National Finals Rodeo.

The Agricenter Showplace Arena in Memphis is a good pen for young horses. Briggs shared, "The arena has walls and is kind of closed in, but the barrels are not right on the fence, which makes it a good arena to push the horses in there. They don't anticipate the turns so bad, because the barrels are not right on the wall. It is a really easy place for futurity colts. It felt like room for Rollo, coming off of these small indoor rodeos from the winter run. It was a good place to get confidence and make smooth, consistent runs on both of them. The producers were super friendly, with all of the roll-overs and sidepots, they did such a good job producing it. This was my first Lucky Dog Productions race to go to. I loved that Lanie and the Breeders Challenge crew were there to hand out awards and answer questions. This is one of my favorite incentives."

In Memphis, Rollo ran in a No-Hit Bit Hackamore. Bam ran in a tie-down with a Dave Elliot lifter bit 3-piece dogbone. Both horses run in the Classic Equine Shock Guard felt top saddle pads. Jordon competes in her Shiloh Contender saddle. She protects her horses legs with the Classic Equine Flexion wraps. Briggs feeds her winning partners, Purina Omelene 200 and Impact Professional.

It takes a team to be successful both in and out of the arena. Jordon thanks her family and sponsors for being a part of her winning team: Durango Boots, Classic Equine, Purina, Horse Hair Analysis, Rodeo Rigs, Shiloh Saddlery, Quanta Services, American Hat Company and Rock & Roll Denim.

Kinsel & Sister Strike Again at Guymon Pioneer Days

By Britany Diaz

The team of Hailey Kinsel and her beautiful palomino mare, DM Sissy Hayday, better known as Sister, have become a household name in the barrel racing and rodeo industry. This past weekend, the duo won the championship title for the second year in a row at the Guymon Pioneer Days rodeo in Guymon, OK. Kinsel and Sister placed second in the first go-round with a 17.19. In the second go-round, they tied for second and third, running a 17.03, putting them at the top of the average leaderboard with a combined time of 34.22. This win pocketed the team $5,738.70 and moved them closer to the number one ranked cowgirl in the Women's Professional Rodeo Association, Jordon Briggs, RodeoHouston champion. Kinsel and Sister are currently in the number two position.

This dynamic duo finds themselves in the winners circle more often than not. Kinsel and Sister split the win in Guymon last year with reigning World Champion, Jordon Briggs. This is currently their sixth year rodeoing professionally as a team. They won the World Championship title in 2018, 2019 and 2020. Three world titles out of the five years going is very impressive.

Kinsel has a strategy when entering the rodeos. "I try to treat each run differently. I am very specific to the arenas. I never enter a rodeo to enter the rodeo. I enter the rodeo to run a specific horse. I entered Guymon to run Sis, because Sis likes Guymon. As soon as you start to know your horse, I like to enter for the horse." Kinsel says, "the trickiest part of Guymon is probably the third barrel, especially in the second run. For some reason, horses try to slice that barrel. The second barrel sits on the bucking chutes, so when you come off that barrel going to the third, it looks like it is right on the fence. It is not, it is way off the fence, but there is an angled fence back there with a banner on it. Sister came close in our second run and we rocked it coming into it. She stepped off of her second barrel a little bit, but her angle was still so good that she came off of the third straight. If your horse slices the third, it can send the out to no mans land on the backside and make them lose momentum. They run home to a closed gate and some horses shut down too soon. I think those are the tricky parts specific to Guymon. I like to arrive early and come up with a strategy and solidify it. Not just to make a run or survive a run, but to be fast in my run."

Guymon is the first standard pattern that Kinsel ever ran Sister on. It was in 2017. The team won second in the average that year. Since then, the team has dominated on standard patterns, holding the WPRO arena record on a standard. "I know that she likes standard patterns, it's easy on her. It is easier to ride her outside. It used to be easier to run her indoors, but it has flipped over the years. The more automatic and the more settled she has gotten into her ways, the easier it has gotten to run her outdoors. The ground in Guymon is similar to Cheyenne. A lot of horses don't handle it well, but she seems to like that shifty sand. It gives me that edge because she can handle that when a lot of horses cannot." Kinsel laughed, "Other than that, I am not sure what it is that she likes so much about Guymon; Is it the wind, is it the heat, is it the cold nights, the long drive?" Sister likes to run so hard to the first barrel. Kinsel bought a picture this year that was taken maybe a stride before the first barrel where Sister's front foot was right by the barrel. The time clock in the picture said 1.6 seconds. That is from the timer to the first barrel, which shows just how hard Sister runs to that first barrel.

Hailey and Sister have been tough to beat going on six years.

There are many parts to keeping an equine athlete, like Sister, at the top of their game. Kinsel shares, "The main part is staying up on her nutrition, having quality forage, turnout times, keeping her used to standing in a pen so when we travel it isn't a big deal and she doesn't stress herself out and giving her ample time to move around at home when we get to be there. I stay ahead of my vet work, not behind. We go flex before we have to go make runs. Even when it is going great, we will go flex her out just to see where we are at. Same thing with shoeing. Stay ahead of an issue. We pull her shoes off when we can to give her feet a break, but also plan ahead. If we are getting ready to make runs, I don't just want to slap shoes on and go. There has to be a method to it. Just really thinking through every decision when it comes to basic health. Sister is a super sound horse. She doesn't have any lingering issues, but she does have things that show up because of her style and how hard she tries, but overall, she is just a good built horse. She has good feet, good bone and good structure. Her turning style has also helped. She has never fallen and rarely slips. I don't know if she has ever slipped to where I have had to pull her up. Sister really preserves herself. I don't think that is something you can really teach them, you can help a little, but she has always been good and smart with her feet."

It is not just a physical battle to keep horses of Sisters caliber running at the top. Kinsel credits her mental game to a lot of their success. "I fully believe that keeping them together mentally, helps their physical soundness, both in terms of stress and use of their body in a run. I can think of a few times where I have had to stay on her and make her deal with a situation. For example, if we are in a loud performance and she is ready to just be done and get back to the trailer, if it is a safe area, I am going to stay on her and calm her down there so the next time we come back to a loud performance, she isn't just going to go out there and sling her body around in a run, just to get back to the trailer. She is going to learn to keep herself sane, because she has been required to keep herself sane. A lot of horses, that line of knowing how much they can take versus how much they will take is going to vary a lot. Sisters is pretty far. Arlington was good for Sister because she was able to be in the arena 30 minutes before her run. A lot of horses didn't handle it well, but Sister was almost better when she was able to see it. I know it was scary, but this is the situation we have, so to a point, she learned to get comfortable with it." Kinsel stays very disciplined with herself to monitor the situation and Sister. If it is not safe or better for her to leave the area after her run, she will do more slow work at home during the week or take her to an open arena to walk and trot to keep her calm. For Kinsel, keeping a horse sound physically, starts with keeping them right mentally, before, during and after a run.

Sister is obviously one of the best. Hailey has only competed on Sister at four rodeos so far in 2022. The team ran at Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and Guymon. They have won first, second or third at all of them. "This year was exciting, because some of these great rodeos that we didn't have or know if we were going to have the last couple of years, are back and some of them are even paying more than they did before. I made a list before the winter rodeos of everywhere we have won first or second at, and decided that is where I will run Sis at to start with and see how we fare. It is a risky thing to do, but it is working out. I decided to take her to the rodeos that I know are favorites of hers. This horse gives me her heart on a silver platter and I don't want to use that up", says Kinsel. "She is very adaptable and will figure out any arena, but she has favorites that are easy for her, so I will take her to those."

We all see what Sister is capable of doing in the arena. Kinsel shared a fun personality trait that the public doesn't get to see. "Sister has this weird thing that if she can see an arena, she watches the arena. Whether she is in the performance or not, she will watch the whole function in the arena. My neighbors rope at night. She will stand in her pen and just stare over at their arena and watch. She probably thinks it's a rodeo. In Guymon, we were parked a long ways away so you could not see the arena, but you could hear the music. Sister stood there from 6:00 p.m. on with her head up, just staring in the direction of the arena. She is the smartest horse. It is creepy weird, almost not like an animal, she's more than an animal. Even when I saddled her, she was staring in that direction. She was really full of herself when I got on her that night. She ran her fastest time in Guymon that night. Sister has done well there in the past, but she ran her two fastest times in that arena, this year. Sister has an addictive personality to barrel racing. For her to be eleven and getting faster, is really cool."

Kinsel and Sisters win in Guymon is a great way for the duo to kick off the summer run. "It feels like a very cowgirl rodeo. You have to have a cowgirl horse to win that rodeo because it's kind of a rough, tough, outdoor setup. It is a good confidence booster to start the summer run with."

Sister runs with a tie-down in a Hollis combination with a chain mouthpiece and a full gag. She uses the Classic Equine Zone pad with the suede top and runs in a Martin Stingray saddle.

There is no doubt that we will see these two dominating more rodeos throughout the year. Kinsel could not do it without her sponsors and those that support her. Her team consists of Purina, Platinum Performance, Classic Equine, Teton Ridge, Bloomer Trailers, YETI, Hodges Farms, 12 Gauge Ranch, Capital Farm Credit Agri-Insurance, Signature Equine Hospital.

Ima Famous Babe Passes

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi lost her home raised superstar, Ima Famous Babe (better known as Katniss) on April 22, 2022. Ima Famous Babe started winning as a futurity horse and has never backed off. Katniss went from futurity wins to derby wins to rodeo wins; all the way to qualifying to and placing in a number of rounds at the NFR.

Katniss was the type of horse that could change the lead anywhere, anytime so no one wanted to miss watching one of her runs. The 2013 chestnut mare was born to run barrels. She was by the $29 million All Time Leading Barrel Sire, Dash Ta Fame and out of Tonozzi's blue hen barrel producer, Streakin Six Babe. Streakin Six Babe is over $1 million in earners ($1,065,940 as of 5/10/22 according to Equistat) and averages $88,828 per earner. According to QStallions, Katniss had earned $445,281 in her career.

***Our thoughts go out to all Katniss's connections, she was a special one that will not soon be forgotten.

2022 WRWC Final Athlete Roster Announced

Ahead of the 2022 Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC), scheduled to storm the Fort Worth Stockyards, at the Cowtown Coliseum May 16-18, the organization has announced the final roster of 179 female rodeo athletes set to compete.

The WRWC is the largest event purse in the history of women's rodeo and will pay out more than $750,000 in 2022 while crowning World Champions in both the Pro and Challenger classifications in the following disciplines; Team Roping (Heading and Heeling), Breakaway Roping and Barrel Racing.

Each WRWC Event Champion will take home a minimum of $60,000 while the All-Around Champion will collect a $20,000 cash bonus. The WRWC is a culmination of a year-long race of women's rodeo events worldwide.

The third edition of the WRWC, will make its debut at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth May 16-18 in conjunction with the PBR World Finals with a roster comprised of 51 barrel racers, 42 team roping pairs, and 44 breakaway ropers.

All qualifying rounds of competition will be held May 16-17. The top four in each discipline, from their respective classification, will advance to the May 18 Showdown Round.

The top three ladies from each discipline in the Showdown Round will progress to the Triple Crown of Rodeo Round, which will be broadcast on a live CBS Sports Network Broadcast at 7:30 p.m. CT.

Fans can watch the historic event on PlutoTV (Ridepass, Channel 720) May 16-17 while the May 18 Showdown and Triple Crown of Rodeo Round will be live on a CBS Sports Network Broadcast at 7:30 p.m. CT

May 18 tickets are on sale now and start at $20. They can be purchased at the Cowtown Coliseum Box Office, or online at cowtowncoliseum.com.

Triangle's 2022 Spring Sale Closes with Another Record-Breaking Average

The demand for quality western performance horses continues to hold its ground—exemplified again during the recent Triangle Spring Sale in Oklahoma City, April 29—30. The sale reached a 42-year, record-high average of $14,500 for the venue's spring event on 367 catalogued horses, less withdrawals, amid a packed house of buyers from 25 states and one foreign country. This average was up from $12, 975 last year, and the sale closed with an 86-percent sales completion.

The strong sales elevated Triangle's Top $10,000 Club with the addition of 159 horses averaging a phenomenal $21,800. This brings the Triangle Top $10,000 Club to 391 horses for two sales in 2022, compared to a total of 375 for Triangle's three annual sales in 2021. Top sale averages broken down by discipline include reining-bred horses, averaging $33,000; cutting and cow horses at $24,000; ranching and roping horses at $16,000.

Triangle Sales has been a go-to sale site for buying and selling the best in a range of western disciplines since its founding in 1979. Jim Ware, owner of Triangle Sales, says the strong economy coupled with public buying demand, has continued to drive incredible sales. He has also seen an upswing in the energy of Triangle's sales since relocating to Oklahoma City.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

A hhhh...the Kentucky Derby! What a race! The long shot won! Who would have thought it! LOL! The Lord showed me two things about that race.

Number 1. So many times, people think by looking at a person that there isn't a chance in hell that they could ever get saved. They are just too bad, too indifferent, too hard. Well look at Paul/Saul. He was a Christian killing machine until God knocked him down and had a talk with him. Acts 9. Saul got SAVED! God changed His name from Saul to Paul and we are reading books he wrote in the New Testament today! Who'd a thunk it!

Number 2. Criticism of the man who was getting eaten by Rich Strike and had to defend himself. Ignorant people make judgments that they have no expertise to make. Personally, I thought the horse needed a spanking!! I've been bitten and shaken by a horse and it's not fun! There are millions of people out there who know nothing about horses. There are millions of people out there who know nothing about God. And they blame God for every bad thing that happens in their lives. Why? They don't have any experience or relationship with Him or His Word. Ahh, but if people knew anything about horses or our very good God, they would ride happily and safely off into a heavenly sunset!
