Craig Brooks & Im So Sway Top Lucky Dog & Breeders Challenge Futurities in Memphis

By Tanya Randall

After more than two months on the mend from a broken ankle, Craig Brooks made up for lost time topping the $10,000-added Futurity and Breeders Challenge at the Lucky Dog Race in Memphis, Tennessee, May 6-9, with Im So Sway, owned by Joseph and Jordan Diaz.

"We were just really hungry," said Brooks. "Hadn't eaten in while. Training bills weren't coming in."

Including the stallion owner and nominators earnings, Im So Sway was responsible for earning his connections more than $25,265. The Lucky Dog Futurity plus the Open 1D win on Thursday paid $7,176, while the Breeders Challenge portion paid $18,089.

"It is worth paying all those extras to be able to run at that kind of money," said Brooks. "Sway probably doubled his earnings in that one weekend. It's definitely a blessing for those of us that do it for a living."

Mid-February, Brooks broke his ankle in a gruesome fall at the Royal Crown in Bryan, Texas. Brandon Cullins catch rode Sway for Brooks as well as Im Stylin Like Sissy, whom he had for Margo Crowther, at the Dinero Dash in Alvarado, Texas, the following week and at the HHA Futurity in Waco, Texas, in early March.

Brooks greatly appreciated the help of Cullins and his girlfriend Emily Eford during the Texas trip.

"They took care of the horses, while I was laid up in the trailer," he said. "They rode those colts for me. I had a couple of friends fly out and drive me home. I had the surgery and then my wife had to deal with me."

While in Texas, Brooks was able to see rodeo specialist Dr. Tandy Freeman. The MRI that Freeman ordered discovered more damage than initially suspected. While the initial plan was to have surgery in Texas, scheduling delays sent Brooks back to Georgia. Surprisingly, a phone call to his veterinarian yielded the name of a surgeon, Dr. Fred T. Finney, Jr., of Peachtree Orthopedics. Finney just happened to be a foot and ankle specialist.

"He knew I needed to get back going and got me in right away," said Brooks of Dr. Finney. "He was great. You could call or text and he would get back to me. Eight to 10 weeks is what he initially said before I could get back on. Once we did the surgery, he said, 'I think we could do six weeks, how does that sound?' I said, 'Four sounds better.' I was shooting at five."

When the horses came back from Texas, Brooks gave them a break while he recovered. Taylor Ray, a local barrel racer, kept the horses exercised, while Brooks coached from the sidelines.

"I gave my opinion from the Kubota," he chuckled. "(Sway) didn't have anyone on him since Brandon rode him. Taylor loped my 3-year-olds and I let Jordon (Diaz) go around the barrels on some because she's been with me so long that she kind of knows my way. Otherwise, we just kept them legged up."

Brooks said the downtime wasn't all bad because it did give him plenty of time with he and wife Elan's two boys.

"It's been a blessing and a curse at the same time because I have been at home with my family," he said. "Up until I was in Memphis, I hadn't missed a single baseball practice or baseball game. I get to see all that."

"Then the horses sitting in the barn...that's tough to take. It was tough to sit around especially when I was well enough to get up and do some things. When I was completely down, it wasn't as bad because I couldn't do anything."

Right at six weeks post-surgery and three weeks prior to Memphis, Brooks was back in the saddle. After spending a week getting his bearings back in the saddle, Brooks went to a Good Times Barrel Race in Ashville the following week to see how his surgically repaired ankle felt under pressure.

"I haven't been back on too long," he said. "I got back on at the end of the five week mark. It feels pretty good; it's just trying to convince your mind that it's going to be okay when you through all your weight into that outside stirrup."

Brooks still wasn't sure how well his ankle would hold in Memphis. While he wanted to be cautious, Sway, who has been prone to getting ahead of himself speed-wise, had other ideas.

"Not really trusting my ankle, I was trying to pick a pace I would be comfortable with going down the alleyway," said Brooks. "He went quite a bit faster. He really set up on all three barrels just right. My biggest thought was to get him up into the third barrel. Two weeks before, on my first run back, I kind of chickened out and dropped him early. He allowed me to pick him back up but it caused us to step out a little bit early. I wanted to get him all the way up into the turn which is a little difficult not trusting that ankle. He really took care of me. He stepped up and snapped back and I had to hold him up a little on the backside of the turn. He's always been one that can clock for what he does."

Sway won the first round of the futurity with a 14.432 which also carried over to win the Open 1D and the corresponding Breeders Challenge sidepots. Their second run got a little wild, a 14.953, but still held for the average victories in the futurities.

"I wasn't trying to make a safety run," he said. "I was trying to make a run to win it. He got up the pen just a touch at the first barrel. He got by his third because I held him so long to make sure he got up into the barrel he was just being really honest and didn't set up for it until I really asked him to. It kind of cost us a little bit. I was really tickled with him to leave them up and not make his best run but it was still good enough to win with the run he made the day before."

Bred by the late leading breeder Jud Little, Sway is by leading barrel horse sire JL Dash Ta Heaven out of NFR qualifier Smooth My Credit, by Cash Not Credit. The Diazes purchased the gelding as a yearling for $15,000 at Little's 2018 production sale. He was started under saddle by Ashley and Derrick Kowlasky before heading to Brooks later in his second year.

Brooks said the laid back gelding trained well and was one of the best clocking 3-year-olds he's ever had. They won the Southern Futurity at the beginning of 2021 before Brooks got sidelined.

That Worked Out Well

Craig Brooks knew he wasn't quite up to his best form after his ankle surgery, so it seemed like the right time for Lindsey Netterville to climb aboard her 4-year-old futurity horse Holy Flitin Fireman ("Junior") that he had trained. The Lucky Dog Futurity turned out to be a great first showing because Netterville and Junior qualified for Breeders Challenge Amateur Futurity in Fort Worth, Texas, this fall.

"She was going to play with him after Fort Smith (in late May), so I thought she could get started riding him now since I wasn't at full operation yet," noted Brooks, who won the Carolina Can Jam Futurity with the JL Dash Ta Heaven gelding. "It's a lot of fun to see someone else step on your stuff and have them go out there and work."

He was glad to get the win for his longtime customers and grateful for their support during his injury.

"When you've got good owners that stick with you through the ups and downs of injuries to the horses and yourself, it's nice," he said. "They've been with us a long time. We've had some good luck and not so good luck and they've stuck with me. They sit back and let me do my thing, but they're always involved too, getting them vetted and giving me the best opportunity. My experience has grown, but their experience has grown as owners too to give them a better opportunity. It's all kind of come together over the years. They'll stick it through, but they also know when to quit on some... that's part of the game."

Maggie Poloncic & Aint Seen Me Yet Top WCRA Rodeo Corpus Christi

By Tanya Randall

Maggie Poloncic is probably the only Wyoming resident with a surfboard.

The Gillette barrel racer picked up the unique award with her $12,500 check at the WCRA's Rodeo Corpus Christi, held May 3-9 on the Texas Gulf Coast.

"I think they've got the market cornered in unique awards," laughed Poloncic. "It was a cool thing to be involved in. I've been doing the WCRA since it started. I think it's a great organization and I hope they continue to grow. With the money they have added I don't see how they can't. They found that balance between someone who likes to jackpot and futurity and go rodeo. They made a hybrid of those. I like to be home. It's given me the opportunity to run for big rodeo money and get great exposure for my horses." The Corpus event, held with the Buccaneer Days Festival, was the first stop for the WCRA's Triple Crown of Rodeo. A contestant who wins their event at three consecutive WCRA major rodeos will receive a $1 million bonus. So far, teenage calf roper Riley Webb is one win away from the bonus, while Poloncic is just starting her journey.

Having claimed the No. 1 spot in the points period (segment) leading up to Rodeo Corpus, Poloncic was able to advance straight into Sunday's qualifying round. She earned her No. 1 position by nominating the Montana Circuit Finals and both All-In Races that she attended. She did well at both events, which were designated Division I events for maximum points. She hedged her bets by nominating a few jackpots to maintain her position in the standings.

"Their long round started Monday and Tuesday and I couldn't be down there because I have obligations here at home," said Poloncic. She teaches dance classes Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights on top of training horses. "I really wanted to go run down there, but I couldn't do it if I wasn't No. 1. The format was really tailored for people like me, who have to be home and can't leave until a certain time."

The trip from Gillette to Corpus was a long one with drastic temperature changes to boot. It's still snowing at night in Gillette, but it was in the upper 80s and humid at Corpus.

"If you drive straight through it says 20 and half hours, but it took us 26 because we stopped at a fairground and let the horses run around and rest. We stop every five hours and get them off just to let them get their heads down and drink. It just takes us a little longer."

She and her father John split time behind the wheel.

"My dad drove for a lot of it though," she admitted. "He likes those all night drives and I'll drive during the day. We split it up so it's pretty nice."

Poloncic and her 9-year-old mare, by red hot sire Aint Seen Nothin Yet, out of Jumping Sugar, by RR Milk Bone Shorts, had to make two runs on Sunday. They topped the 9-man round with a 13.795 and were joined in the final round by Kelley Carrington-French and Slice Of PeachFame and Sadie Wolaver and Im A Sharp Frost.

"They did the bull riding and turned right around and did the 3-man round," Poloncic explained. Between her runs, Poloncic unsaddled and unwrapped Puff and let her drink a little water. She also helped her cool out with a partial body alcohol bath. "It was probably 45 minutes between runs. That was different for us. We've never done that before. She handled it fantastic."

Running from slowest qualifier to fastest, Wolaver and her mare tipped a barrel. Carrington-French was a respectable 14.176 after her mare jerked off a shoe as she rated for the third barrel. After a little slip at the first barrel on their first run, Poloncic took a different approach to make sure Puff handled the firmer footing.

"Typically, Puff doesn't like hard ground," she said. "She kind of bounces around on top of it. I think she's getting more experience and she seemed to do just fine on it other than the tiny slip she had on her first run around the first. My second run, I tried to keep her on the inside of the tracks so it was a little fresher dirt. I think that helped us a little bit."

Poloncic also managed to break her habit of holding up the barrels in the turns for the better part of both runs.

"I've been working on it," she chuckled. "I ride several horses a day and my goal has been to focus on that outside ear and ride two handed as long as possible because I'm trying to break that habit. I think it's a good tool to have if you have a barrel going down and you can reach down and save it to win some money. I would never shame anyone for that. I think what I've done is made it a habit. I'm reaching down when I don't need to and I'm throwing my horse off balance. I'm going to fail at it a lot because it is such a habit now. I thought I rode her really good at the first and really good at the second. I just lost my bearing a little bit going to the third and reached out even though I didn't need to, but we are working on it. Progress is happening!"

Poloncic's next WCRA event will be the Days of '47 in Salt Lake City in July. She has an automatic exemption as the 2019 silver medalist (reserve champion) since the event was canceled due to COVID in 2020.

In the meanwhile, Poloncic plans on staying closer to home and getting Puff in great shape for the summer circuit rodeos. "I might run her at a few jackpots just to keep her making runs, but I'm really going to concentrate on the futurity colts I have at home. I have them entered in a couple of things in May and June. "Once the circuit rodeos pick back up again in June, I'll start running Puff at those. My only goal is circuit finals again and setting ourselves up for next year. We'll stick to our circuit rodeos for the most part and some of the bigger added money jackpots like Ruby Buckle and stuff."

Poloncic is also set to debut her barrel racing-focused fitness program, Distinctive Performance, later this week.

"I designed a fitness program specific for barrel racers," she

I think there are things that haven't been touched on like hand-eye coordination, explosive power and body awareness that will set us apart as athletic barrel racers. I've got a lot of feedback and people are excited to try it. I'm just waiting on my website. I'm hoping it will be ready to roll out at the end of the week."

Webb in Contention to be the Youngest Millionaire in the History of Rodeo

As the event was down to one eligible athlete in the Triple Crown of Rodeo (TCR) at May 9 Rodeo Corpus Christi, tie-down roping had the fans inside American Bank Center on the edge of their seats throughout the jaw-dropping run where Riley Webb (Decatur, Texas) Riley Webb prevailed. The 17-year-old Riley Webb was the undeniable star of the rodeo, delivering what would be the most groundbreaking performance of the event. As only one of two athletes remaining TCR eligible in the TCR round (short round), his 7.03-second effort elevated him to a $12,500 payday. For Webb, fresh off his win at August's Stampede at the E, the event marked his second consecutive WCRA Major, putting him in contention to be the youngest millionaire in the history of rodeo. If Webb triumphs at July's Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo, he will be the first victor of WCRA Triple Crown of Rodeo $1 Million Bonus.

Not only did Webb emerge victorious, but did so by defeating WCRA Windy City Roundup Champion, and the 2013 PRCA World Champion tie-down roper Shane Hanchey (Carmine, Texas) and JD McCuiston (Collinsville, Texas). Webb received the quickest time in both May 9 rounds.

As the Sunday evening event continued, a hotly contested race in the breakaway roping began to unfurl. Women's Rodeo World Champion (WRWC) Madison Outhier (Utopia, Texas), Titledown Stampede Champion Shelby Boisjoli (Stephenville, Texas), and WRWC All-Around Cowgirl Jackie Crawford (Stephenville, Texas) entered the TCR round edging each other's showdown round times within the tenths of second. Calm and collected, Outhier remained poised as she backed into the roping box as she readied for what would be a career defining moment. Madison's rope broke off from her saddle horn at an impressive 1.84-second time edging out Crawford's 2.60-second time and Boisjoli's penalized 6.67-second time.

In the barrel racing 2019 Days of '47 Cowboy Game and Rodeo runner-up Maggie Polonic (Gillette, Wyoming) and mare Puff expertly navigated the course as her 13.817-second run in the TC round was the quickest, distancing runner-up Kelley Carington (Boston, Georgia) who recorded a 14.176-second run.

On Sunday, June 6 fans will be able to tune into Rodeo Corpus Christi on a CBS network broadcast at 1:00 p.m. ET.

Nominations are now open for WCRA's next Major rodeo- The Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo taking place July 20-24 in Salt Lake City. Athletes are eligible to nominate their competitive efforts in the Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) until June 27, 2021 to earn a spot in the $562,500 event.

Jr. Rodeo attracts American Junior Rodeo Association

Jr. Rodeo announced today a partnership with the American Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA). All AJRA rodeos now will be sanctioned by Jr. Rodeo and qualify contestants to the Jr. National Finals Rodeo.

The AJRA, headquartered in Bronte, Texas, will have its 2021-22 rodeos serve as qualifiers to the 2022 Jr. NFR.

The AJRA, founded in 1952 by Alvin G. Davis, provides the youth of central Texas opportunities to start in the sport and compete for annual recognition and scholarships. Many greats of ProRodeo got their start in the AJRA, including George Paul, Terry

"We are excited to partner with the AJRA to continue to expand Jr. Rodeo's reach and impact," said Anthony Bartkowski, Director, Athlete Development & Welfare. "The rich history of the AJRA and its leadership is vital to our continued growth initiatives of attracting youth to try the sport of rodeo and become further involved."

Cowboys and cowgirls accumulate points from the approved AJRA rodeos to participate in the AJRA National Finals annually. The 2021 AJRA finals rodeo set for Nolan County Coliseum in Sweetwater, Texas, July 27-Aug. 1, will advance the top five place winners in the core rodeo events to the 2022 Jr. NFR. At each of the 14 AJRA rodeos, the top place winners will also qualify for the 2022 Jr. NFR.

"The AJRA is super excited to be presented the opportunity to partner with the PRCA and Jr. Rodeo," said Wesley White, AJRA President. "Since 1952, being modeled after the PRCA, the AJRA is proud to be a huge contributor to the future of the sport, and this opportunity guarantees growth and a huge step for our cowboys and cowgirls to make their rodeo dreams come true."

Jr. Rodeo, the PRCA's official youth program, launched in 2019 with the first Jr. NFR held in March 2020. Throughout the 2020 season, Jr. Rodeo held more than 70 sanctioned events with more than 1,200 contestants qualifying for the 2021 Jr. NFR at Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, June 27-July 3.

Jr. Rodeo is focused on attracting contestants, 8-19 years of age, to the sport. Jr. Rodeo provides contestants the opportunity to compete in the core rodeo events: bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling, tie-down roping, team roping, barrel racing and breakaway roping. Jr. Rodeo is built on three pillars for success: education, skill development and competition. For more information, visit www.jrrodeo.org.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

As you grow in the Lord, there are good times and there are bad times. Sometimes you don't have to hardly believe for healing for a hang nail, or $10. Other times you may be facing a surgery or you need $100,000. Jesus is there in it all. He NEVER leaves us or forsakes us!

I know that when I've used up my hang nail faith and prayed daily over an area and STILL haven't gotten to the desired end result, I'll look to other tools. For instance, I will order a Christian book on the subject of healing, or finances, or whatever I'm struggling with.

So, there is this area in my life that hasn't changed, no matter what I already know, have prayed, etc. I needed help. I called one of my favorite ministries and ordered a book on confrontation. I used to think I had a black belt in confrontation! Nope. But that's not the point here.

After I put in my order, the very nice lady said, "Thank you Sherry. Now before we hang up, is there anything you'd like me to pray for you?" Drum roll here. I stupidly said, "No, I'm good.....SERIOUSLY?????"

I just ordered a book to get help and she's offering more and I say "NO!!!!!!!!!!!" There was this loooooonnnngggg pause while Jesus dealt with me. Finally, the light bulb came on and I said, "Yes please pray for me!" It was wonderful!

This week, if someone asks if they can pray for you, say yes! It just may be the only thing left before your answer comes! And don't be afraid to ASK someone to pray for you! We are in this together! Blessings!
