$23,953 Weekend For Taylor Cherry & Lynns Honor at Royal Crown Canada

By Tanya Randall

Taylor Cherry has won four Royal Crown Canada titles, and three straight at Royal Crown Canada events in Claresholm, Alberta. She topped the inaugural running of the event in 2023 with Poverty Ta Fame, by Guys Keepin The Fame—a full brother to Tiany Schuster's National Finals Rodeo and Canadian Finals qualifier Famous Mic Guy Ver. They later won the Royal Crown Futurity sidepot in Brandon, Manitoba, in that same year.

In 2024, she rode Ashley Klassen's Royal Crown stallion Blazin Sugar Daddy ("Preacher") to the Futurity Championship.

At this year's event, held May 5-11, Cherry guided Lynns Honor ("Lenny") for Tracy Scott to dual victories in the 54-entry, $40,000-added Royal Crown Futurity and 75-entry, $5,000-added Open Futurity for total event earnings of $23,953.

Cherry and Lenny collected $16,068 for the Royal Crown Futurity win with $11,269 going to Scott. Doug and Debbie Willis, who own Lenny's sire Guys Casanova Cowboy, collected $3,359 on his behalf, plus another $1,440 as Lenny's breeders. The winning pair also picked up $4,571 for the Open Futurity Championship and $3,314 in open carryover earnings.

"It's kind of wild actually," said Cherry, who splits her time between Claresholm and a winter residence in Arizona. She had just returned to Canada for the Yellow Rose Futurity in Claresholm the prior weekend.

"I feel like a part of my success at Royal Crown comes from the Yellow Rose," she noted. She and Lenny finished fifth in that aggregate. "The ground at Claresholm can be a little bit tricky. It's important to get those colts in there and get them used to it."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "I ride her a lot. I ride her five, six days a week. I just keep her as fit as I can. I probably go through the barrels every day, two or three times. I don't tune on her a whole bunch. I just keep her really, really fit. If I do have to tune on her it, it's a little rate, just slowing her feet down. She's super aggressive and really wants to move her feet fast in a turn, so I have I have to slow her feet down a little to turn."

Cherry and Lenny won the opening round of the Royal Crown Futurity with a 16.091.

"My first day I just sent her," she said. "I wanted to see what she could do. She had a beautiful run. It was pretty flawless. It was nice and smooth."

They were third in the second round with a 16.199 to win the aggregate by three-tenths.

"The second day I knew I had to make a bit of a businessman's run, which I don't do often," Cherry explained. "I was pretty conservative and made some weird moves on her. I honestly don't know how she clocked what she did on Saturday. My second barrel was not ideal. She kind of hung on the backside and took a funny step off of it and took a step off third just because of my entry. It was not pretty, but it worked!"

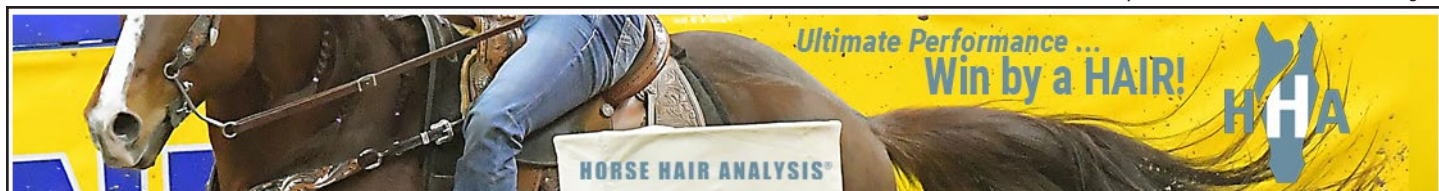

Lenny, who is out of the Hayes Blue Valentine, Jet Of Honor mare, Lynns Blue Valentine, is the second horse that Cherry has ridden for Scott.

"I've had her about 10 months," said Cherry. "I got her last summer. Keely Durrell started her, and Tracy had exposed her a little bit and lightly started her on the pattern. I rode her out for two or three months, just putting my buttons on her, and then I put her on the pattern."

Cherry said Lenny's training was inconsistent over the winter, but her natural ability made up for the lack of saddle time.

"I rode her inconsistently this winter," she admitted. "I honestly rode her two to three days a week. I had sale horses going and other horses going so she sat a lot. Then come January, I really started camping on her. She just took to it. She was pretty broke by that time, everything else just came really natural for her."

Cherry did have to adjust the mare's natural tendency to have a lot of drop on her front end and stay a little strung out in her turns. "I felt like she was very low and wanted to throw herself (into the turn)," she said. "She's very, very fast and she wanted to be a bit strung out. Like in a turn, she wouldn't set and keep everything up under herself. She'd want to let everything stay loose. As soon as I was able to get her head up and elevate her, she's the coolest thing to ride around. She rides around like a jet boat. She's really cool." Cherry said she spent a day riding with Shelly and Taylor Manning in Arizona, which helped a lot. Taylor has a proven track record with the Guys Casanova Cowboy's, including her Canadian Champion Little Sexcee Cowboy.

"(The Cowboys) kind of want you to hold them in a turn," she explained. "She's adapting to my style where I don't have to hold her as much, but I did have to get a hold of her in the turn to bring everything up. Now she's got that style where she wants to stay up and it feels pretty cool."

Cherry got the mare to elevate more by allowing the mare more freedom in the bridle.

"I didn't bridle her up a lot," she said. "She will bridle up and ride around fancy, but I let her keep her head up and get her nose out a little bit. I still have a lot of body control, but I let her head get up a little bit."

Unfortunately, Royal Crown will be Lenny's last futurity until late summer. She's undergoing surgery to remove an OCD from her hock this week.

"We just found it not too long ago and she's going for surgery on Thursday," she said. "She'll be out a couple of months, but she'll be back for the late summer futurities here. I'm hoping to have her back ready for the Breeders Elite."

Cherry also placed third in the Royal Crown Derby on her defending futurity champion, Preacher. The 6-year-old son of Blazin Jetolena added $11,588 to his career earnings.

"He was amazing all year long," she said of last year's Canadian Futurity Horse of the Year. "I think he made $220,000 by the end of the year and I honestly didn't go that much. He had a month off, maybe closer to two months, after I won Royal Crown last year. They had him at home, breeding."

Preacher is staying with Cherry this breeding season. She'll haul him to be collected as needed but plans on rodeoing on him this summer.

Another Royal Crown Title for Anita Ellis & SGL Rico in Canada

By Tanya Randall

Royal Crown Rock Springs Futurity Champions Anita Ellis and SGL Rico made a profitable trip to Canada. The Blackfoot, Idaho team won the 55-entry, $30,000-added Royal Crown Derby and 73-entry, $5,000-added Open Derby at the Claresholm, Alberta, event, held May 5-11.

They collected $24,289 on the weekend. The closed derby paid $13,541 with $9,478 going to Ellis, $1,219 going to Rico's breeders Gregg and Shana Gibson and $2,844 awarded to the Jarvis family on behalf of the gelding's sire The Goodbye Lane. The open derby paid $4,476 and they won an additional $6,272 with open carry-overs.

"I'm about to hit the rodeo trail," said Ellis, "and I had a little bit of a break in between rodeos, so I decided to go to Canada. It paid off really well!"

She and Rico, a 5-year-old gelding out of the Winners Version mare Version Blue, won the closed derby aggregate by nearly a half-second.

"My first run, he was last in the drag," Ellis explained. "He's won multiple goes being last on the drag, so it's not something I worry about. His first barrel felt really good. It was a tiny bit wider than I would like it to be. He came into the second really hard and I almost tipped it because he turned it so hard. He kind of rocked it a little bit. His third barrel was awesome."

They won the round in 16.064 before taking second in the next round with a 15.908.

"The next day I had in my mind that he was going to turn the first barrel tighter because he's really sure of where it is now," Ellis said. "He did. He came around that first barrel so hard. It was a perfect barrel. It was one of the best first barrels he's ever had."

"I had in my mind, 'Get him by the second barrel a little further than yesterday,' not to chance anything. I pushed him deep into that second and he came back hard just like he normally does. It just felt like a pretty perfect run."

"It felt like he kind of let up before the eye the second day, but he ended up being faster. I think it was because his first barrel was so great. It was amazing. It was a good day. For him to put two really good, consistent runs...that's just what I count on him to do every time."

Ellis purchased Rico from the Gibson's as a yearling. She said that the gelding "caught the vision" early in his training. Not surprisingly, Rico ran out more than $175,000 as a futurity horse in 2024.

Now Ellis plans on taking Rico, along with her former futurity horse of the year RV Two Dash Ta Vegas ("Axe") and derby mare A Dash Of FlingNFame ("Jessie"), who also won $4,389 in Canada, on the rodeo road. Of the three, Axe may be the veteran, but Rico is rapidly gaining No. 1 status, especially after taking Ellis all the way to The American earlier this spring.

"He's so pleasant to run," said Ellis. "I don't get as nervous because it's not as intense (as Axe). He got a little bit nervous in Canada his first run because the wind was blowing super hard and stuff moving around made him nervous. For the most part, he's pretty calm. He just walks in and goes when I ask him to. Axe is intense because he thinks he knows everything, so it's hard for me to move him if he's out of position. Rico, I can move him anywhere. He'll listen to me during the run if I can keep my brain thinking fast enough. Rico responds really well. He's very pleasant to ride and run and be around."

But he's also a pest.

"He chews everything," she laughed. "He ruins everything. On the ground, he's terrible! He's chewed through the screens on my trailer. All of them are gone because of Rico! He just cracks me up! "In Canada, I got him saddled up and my husband tied him inside his stall. We slid the door closed but didn't latch it. I went to get my clothes changed, and when I came back, he was tied outside, three stalls down. Come to find out, he'd untied himself, opened the door

SHOEING: Lite rims on all four

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "He needs a lot of exercise. I long trot him for 15 to 20 minutes a day. I lope him a little bit. I'll review the pattern with him for five or 10 minutes. He has to do a lot of exercising, or he has way too much energy."

THANKS: Royal Crown. They're just great to work with. Energy Equine for sponsoring it.

and was just walking around eating everyone's hay! He's just kind of a pest that way, but very pleasant to ride and run."

The Royal Crown Canada event might be Ellis' last aged event until the incentive's Rock Springs, Wyoming, event, due to a packed rodeo schedule.

"I was looking at my schedule from this next week until the end of July and there's probably 60 rodeos that I could get to," she said. She's got Redding, California, Central Point, Oregon and Richfield, Utah, this week alone. "It's going to be a crazy summer."

"The reason why I'm doing that this year is Rico has come on so well, and I have my mare that got reserve champ in the derby at Royal Crown in August. Now, I feel like I have three horses and could take a little bit of pressure off my older horse Axe. I feel like the timing with my horses is really good, so I'm going to hit the road. All of my horses are really talented. I'm really excited for this year."

Green Shines at Spring Showdown

At the 2025 Spring Showdown in Perry, Georgia, a familiar name shot to the top of the leaderboard. Pressley Green from the famous Green family of barrel racers (Mike and his wife Janelle, daughter Madeleine, son Michael T and his daughter Pressley) won the Heavyweight Open Shootout, Xtreme Mini Million & Open Round 1 on their way to a $20,028 paycheck aboard the Southern Rose Ranch raised superstar Lovininthefastlane!

Lovininthefastlane was born to be at the top. By the $13.5 Million Leading Sire The Goodbye Lane, the dam of this beautiful home raised palomino 7 yr old stallion is none other than Sissys Little Coin. Sissys Little Coin is one of the greatest barrel futurity mares in history. The multiple futurity champion won $242,259 (per QData) before the age of incentives and big purses.

Sissys Little Coin is a daughter of Packin Sixes; the former leading barrel horse sire son of Streakin Six. Packin Sixes passed away young, but he had a strong influence on barrel racing bloodlines. On the bottom side she traces back to the Thoroughbred Master Hand and other old school performance running blood.

Sissys Little Coin has passed on her immense talents to her offspring. Before this weekend, she had earners of $610,499 (per QData) from many different studs. In fact, her Top 5 money earners are all by different sires.

Lovininthefastlane is her top money earner at $110,567 prior to this weekend; so will now be over $130k in earnings. A Little Corona PLZ (by Coronas Prospect) has earned $89,109. Sissy First Title (by Title Contender) is her 3rd high earner with $85,618. Sissy Slick Design (by Slick By Design) is her 4th high money earner with $80,959. And her 5th high money earner is Sheza Dime (by Famous Jr) with $44,404 in earnings.

Pressley Green has already earned $114,600 (per Equistat) before

Driver Leaves Corpus With $31,500

By Julie Mankin

Late April and early May have been a whirlwind for 22-year-old Jordan Driver.

Instead of walking across the stage to get her degree in kinesiology during graduation at Tarleton State University on Friday, she'll be inside AT&T Stadium preparing to run in Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo, thanks to her win aboard 8-year-old Judge JB Cash at Rodeo Corpus Christi. That happened on May 8-10, just after she won the reserve championship out of 300 horses at the Ruby Buckle Central Derby on 7-year-old TRHeavensIlluminated ("Cyrus") for $11,900 and won the NIRA's Southwest Region and some $30,000 at college rodeos on Judge.

"I've been trying to win that surfboard for four years!" said Driver. "I'm so excited to finally get it. But leaving there with $31,500 is what makes the WCRA so fun – you're almost guaranteed a check when you go down there. And it was a week with no circuit rodeos, so it worked out."

Driver's WCRA points from last winter got her into January's San Diego Rodeo at Petco Park, which she won for $31,000. Then, she nominated that – and several college rodeos and big barrel races – toward Rodeo Corpus Christi and the Women's Rodeo World Championships. It pushed her to No. 1 in the Virtual Rodeo Qualifier leaderboards of both, seeding her directly into the Progressive Rounds at both Corpus and Arlington this week.

"I've never even made the Progressive Round before," said Driver, ranch-raised near tiny Garden City, Texas, which is between Midland and San Angelo. "This time, I was seeded in and had the top of the ground. We have really good friends who live there and we love going down and hanging out in Corpus."

Very few girls nailed the unique countdown start in the first round, because the countdown light was at the opposite end of the arena and the announcers talked over the countdown sounds (the next day they moved them closer to the alley). Driver placed in a round and landed second in the average for $3,500. Alisha Broussard had the start down to a science and dominated the average on two runs by two full seconds on her daughter of A Streak Of Fling. But in Saturday night's Showdown Round, a heart-breaking five-second penalty was added to Broussard's 14.2 for leaving the alley a moment before the light turned green. Meanwhile, Driver posted a 14.8 to win the round by more than three-tenths of a second, worth $18,000 and the trophy surfboard.

"Corpus has a long alleyway," Driver said. "When the light turns blue, you have 20 seconds to get prepared. When it turns red, you have 15 seconds until it turns green and the clock starts. So, at about 5 seconds, you couldn't blast through there, but you could hit it just right if you coasted through the alley. It took me four rounds to figure it out! I still think I was off the start by about a half-second."

In addition to the $21,500 paid to Driver for the win, she earned a $10,000 cash bonus for finishing second overall in the Reliance Ranches VRQ Points Bonus.

"This is a little pen, and I've run my other horse, Cyrus, at Northside several times and cannot get around the barrels," she said of Cyrus, whose dam is Jill Moody's NFR mare Dolly. "Plus, I knew I'd be able to hold up Judge in the alleyway easier than my sorrel." Driver has a torn ligament in her shoulder, and fighting a horse in the alleyway would probably pull it out of socket.

"Judge is a bit of a scaredy cat," she said of Quincy Sullivan's self-made grey that she acquired last summer. "He definitely does not want to get in trouble, so he's always listening to me. It helps a lot."

Did we mention Judge is also a head horse, and used to scoring (he runs in a ported roping bit)? In Corpus, it doesn't pay to be late at the start, but those lasers at the mouth of the alley also penalize – akin to breaking the barrier.

"You definitely have to use more brain power than I was thinking," Driver said about the starting system. "You have to make everything click at once. But I thought it was a fun aspect of the competition. It's like, 'Which horse is going to score better?' It wasn't really 'the fastest horse wins' even though I'm thankful I did win it! It was more about which team was most in sync and hit the start just right, but also finished the course. A lot of girls were so focused on the start that they let their run get out of hand."

Driver's pace isn't slowing down a bit. This week, she's got three circuit rodeos on top of Arlington's WRWC – where $60,000 is up for grabs – and Kid Rock N Rodeo, where $4,000 is guaranteed and $27,000 is possible (it airs May 25 on CBS Sports at noon Eastern). And then, of course, she'll head to Casper soon for the College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR). As the regional all-around champion cowgirl, thanks to breakaway roping, she'll rope and run barrels there. As for what barrel horse she'll ride, it's up in the air. Driver has a new mare she cracked out at the WRWC, plus last year she placed third at the CNFR on Cyrus.

WPRA Names Caroline Lukens New Chief of Operations and Board Executive Secretary

The Women's Professional Rodeo Association is pleased to announce Caroline Lukens as the new Chief of Operations and Board Executive Secretary.

The WPRA Chief of Operations is responsible for the hands-on operational aspects of the WPRA activities and is a critical partner to the WPRA President and the Board of Directors in terms of growing and ensuring a healthy and viable not for profit membership-based business. In addition, this position leads the office team, headquartered in Colorado Springs, handling the day-to-day operations to be efficient, productive, and effective.

"The WPRA Board of Directors is looking forward to working with Caroline Lukens as she joins the WPRA team," said Heidi Schmidt, WPRA President. "Her passion for rodeo, strong work ethic, and effective problem-solving skills are certain to help the WPRA flourish as it strives to advance the women in rodeo into a new era."

Lukens resides in Kiowa, Colorado, and prior to joining the WPRA served as the Rodeo Operations Coordinator at the National Western Stock Show in Denver. In fact, she was the first female to hold that title in Denver. She was responsible for the planning and production of over 35 rodeo performances each year including the National Western Stock Show, Rodeo All-Star, and various private rodeos hosted at the National Western Complex. She began her time as an intern and continued to advance her way into her Rodeo Operations role. For a short time, she also worked as an Assistant Commodities Buyer for Pilgrim's Pride. She graduated from the University of Wyoming, earning a Bachelor of Science in Marketing. During her time at the University of Wyoming she competed on the rodeo team in goat tying and breakaway roping. She was honored as one of the Cowgirl Magazine 30 Under 30 in 2024.

"As the oldest women's sports organization in the country, it is an honor to join the Women's Professional Rodeo Association," said Lukens. "With the rapid growth of breakaway roping and the strong roots of barrel racing, I look forward to contributing to the continued growth and longevity of women in rodeo."

Date Set for Funeral Honoring Roy Cooper

Family, friends and PRORODEO fans are welcomed to attend the funeral services for Hall of Famer Roy Cooper, who tragically passed away April 29 in a house fire at his home in Decatur, Texas. He was 69.

Services will be held on Memorial Day, Monday, May 26 at 2 p.m. (CST). According to a post on social media, the family is referring to the honor as Cooper's "last matinee performance."

"All your stories and memories have really shined a spotlight on the love our dad had for the world," the social media post read. "It has been so uplifting to read them! Dad LOVED life and he LOVED people! We can't think of a better way to honor him than to celebrate his life with all of you."

The services will take place at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas. The Stockyards Hotel will be the host site for individuals traveling from out of town. The family encourages guests to use the code "Super Looper" when booking.

In lieu of flowers, the Cooper family is asking for donations to be made to the Roy Cooper Memorial, which will go toward helping kids learn the ins and outs of roping. PRCA's Overall Rookie of the Year in 1976, Cooper went on to have an illustrious career in PRORODEO, winning eight total world championships. In 1979 he was inducted into the PRORODEO Hall of Fame's inaugural class in Colorado Springs, Colo.

He is widely credited as one of the best cowboys ever in the sport of rodeo and someone who changed it for the better. Nine-time world champion Ty Murray compared Cooper to Michael Jordan, arguably the best player ever in the NBA.

"The guys that have been badass in calf roping in the last 20 to 30 years, the legends of the game, they send Roy Cooper Christmas cards," Murray said. "Roy Cooper is a legend that the legends look up to."

Billie Bray Named 2025 Pam Minick Lifetime Achievement Award Recipient

The Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC), the richest women's rodeo in history, proudly announces Billie Bray as the recipient of the 2025 Pam Minick Lifetime Achievement Award. This prestigious honor is presented to a female leader who has made outstanding contributions to the field of western sports and has committed her life to supporting and elevating cowgirls.

The award, created in 2023, is named after legendary rodeo icon Pam Minick, who was also the inaugural recipient. Reba McEntire, a lifelong advocate for cowgirls, received the honor in 2024. These remarkable women set a high standard for leadership, vision, and advocacy within Western sports, and Bray's name now joins theirs in this esteemed legacy.

"Billie Bray embodies everything the Women's Rodeo World Championship Pam Minick Lifetime Achievement Award stands for," said the award's namesake Minick. "She's not only a fierce competitor, but also one of the strongest champions for others. Billie has dedicated her life to advancing women in the rodeo industry and has made a lasting impact through her unwavering support and investment in women's events."

Bray was presented the honor during the Women's Rodeo World Championship Tito's Welcome Gala and Back Number Ceremony, presented by Cowgirl Magazine, Sunday evening at Tannahill's Tavern & Music Hall in Fort Worth, Texas. For a complete video of the presentation, click HERE.

Bray currently serves as Chief Marketing Officer of Equibrand, where her passion for rodeo and business has left an indelible mark on the industry. She has played a key role in the development and growth of iconic brands such as Classic Rope, Rattler Rope, Classic Equine, Martin Saddlery, and Cashel. As a competitor herself and a lifelong student of the sport, Bray brings an unmatched authenticity and depth to her work. She is also the dedicated wife of Ken Bray and a proud mother to Wyatt and Paden Bray.

Bray's relationship with Pam has spanned years of shared experiences as both athletes and businesswomen. One of their most cherished memories was competing in team roping together and earning the title of Reserve Champions at the Windy Ryon in 2007. This personal bond makes the recognition even more meaningful.

"Billie's impact on the Women's Rodeo World Championship runs deep," WRWC Commissioner, Lindsay Rosser-Sumpter. "She was one of the original cowgirls whom PBR and WCRA approached with the concept of creating WRWC. From day one, she has championed the inclusion and growth of the Challenger classification, helping ensure that women of all levels have a platform to compete and succeed. Her tireless efforts continue to shape the championship's evolution and expand its influence within western sports."

Earning the Pam Minick Lifetime Achievement Award is a powerful symbol of cowgirls supporting cowgirls. It reflects the lifetime of dedication Bray has poured into the industry and her ongoing work to create equal opportunities for women in rodeo. It also represents the unique ability of women in this space to juggle family, careers, and competition, all while chasing their dreams and lifting others along the way.

Surfboards Raised & Checks Cashed: Rodeo Corpus Christi Ends

The 2025 Rodeo Corpus Christi concluded Saturday night as a new slate of champions hoisted the coveted surfboard trophy under the lights of the American Bank Center. The high-stakes event awarded over $600,000 in prize money, with breakaway roper Martha Angelone standing out as the only repeat champion, successfully defending her title in commanding fashion. All results from the event can be found here.

In breakaway roping, Martha Angelone (Stephenville, Texas) repeated as champion at Rodeo Corpus Christi with a commanding 3.4-second run in the Kid Rock Rodeo Round (KRRR), earning $18,000 and bringing her total event winnings to $24,001. Her dominance was consistent all week: she won the Wild Card round with a 3.49, placed first in Progressive Round one, and delivered a 3.02 in the Showdown to secure her spot in the final round. Kieley Walz (Ainsworth, Nebraska) and Taylor Raupe (Springtown, Texas) tied for second place in the KRRR, both turning in 3.67-second runs and collecting $6,000 each. Walz had started strong by winning the Wild Card with a 3.37 and followed with the fastest time in Progressive Round two at 3.53. Raupe advanced with a 4.07 in the Wild Card and a 3.85 in the first progressive round before posting a 4.21 in the Showdown to earn her spot in the final.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Our 'home' is in heaven, eventually. IF you've asked Jesus to be your Lord, of course. What about our home down here? Every single time we go on vacation to somewhere, I am soooo thankful that I live where I do. That does not mean there is anything wrong with where we go, it just means my comfort zone is Wyoming. It's familiar to me.

There are people who come to Wyoming (rarely in the winter) and wonder just how in the world we do it. After all, there are literally miles and miles and miles of no one around. Mike's friend from college freaked out his first time here because they drove for 112 miles with no people, gas stations, and towns. And that was one of the short stretches!

Jesus said he's going to go and prepare a place for us. Our new home. John 14:1-3. Mansions! I think about what heaven will be like. Will my mansion have horses, green pastures and creeks and streams? I don't know. But I do know this. God knows each one of us intimately. He created us each individually. I believe that each of our mansions will be as individually unique as we are. They will be a perfect fit for us.

And in John 14, He says that, "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." So much to look forward to!
