Dunn Ranch's MCM Tres A Legacy & Jolene Montgomery Fastest At Old Fort Days

By Tanya Randall

Leading aged event rider Jolene Montgomery claimed her fourth Old Fort Days title with a $31,858 Futurity Championship aboard MCM Tres A Legacy at the 47th annual event, held May 13-18 at Kay Rodgers Park in Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Montgomery won her first title in 2010 when she won the Derby on Jud Little's great JL Dash Ta Heaven. Two years later, she claimed her first Futurity title on KN Fabs Mist Of Fame, for Robin Weaver. In 2019, she set an event record time to win the Derby on Busby Quarter Horses' Jets Heart N Soul.

"Fort Smith has been good to me," said Montgomery, who trains with her colt-starter husband Kerby out of Purdon, Texas. "I don't know what it is about the place, the arena or the atmosphere."

The $40,000-added Futurity was the first Old Fort Days title for Matt and Bendi Dunn of Dunn Ranch, who own and bred MCM Tres A Legacy ("Tiffany"). The 4-year-old mare is by leading sire Tres Seis out of the Dunn's legendary performer and producer Mulberry Canyon Moon, by Marthas Six Moons. As they have with many of Mulberry's foals, the Dunns sent Tiffany to Montgomery at 2.

"She was a little bit feisty to break," chuckled Montgomery, noting that her name came from a Facebook meme about the names of crazy people. "She was kind of broncy when Kerby broke her, so it took a while. I didn't get on her as early as some of the other ones because she was still kind of scary."

Luckily, the mare did a complete 180 in the demeanor department. She's now one of the best minded and laid back horses in Montgomery's program.

"Right from the start, we knew she was super talented," said the 2.8 million dollar rider. "She feels like a racehorse but can be quick footed too. Kerby was riding her out in the arena, not long before I got on her. He was out loping her around a barrel a little bit, and he was like, 'She keeps kicking a hip.' I said, 'Well, put it back under her.' He said, 'No, to the inside.' I was like, 'Oh ha ho! That's great! Leave it!' That was cool!"

Montgomery said although the mare never really wanted to ride around really fancy, she did "pretty great" going around the barrels without it. Her biggest challenge was getting mare to use her racehorse speed, but it wasn't something that she hadn't experienced before with a Mulberry colt. Futurity champion MCM Firewater Dixie, now a pro rodeo earner with Ivy Hurst, was the same way,

"It took me a while to get her running," Montgomery explained. "She was perfectly happy to high lope for a really long time, even through the Juvenile, but she got confident pretty quickly. Dixie kind of did the same thing. She started running and working really great at Hamilton (at the Lone Star Shootout, the first of January)." Tiffany was fifth at the Lone Star Shootout, won the first round of the Golden Buckle with the fastest time of the futurity, was second at the Kinder Cup, fifth at the Texarkana Shootout Futurity and third at both the Elite Extravaganza and Diamond Classic leading up to Old Fort Days.

While Tiffany had come close to a futurity win—"Oh my gosh! So many times!"—as Montgomery put it, Montgomery knew she needed to clean up the little bobbles to get the mare a victory.

At Fort Smith, Montgomery said Tiffany felt great from the moment she got there.

"She exhibited a 16.8 pretty easily," she recalled. "I was like 'Oh cool!' She had a really nice run in the long go. She was super snappy and got just a tick by her first, but other than that I could

SUPPLEMENTS: MVP's Exceed 6-Way and Gastro-Plex

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Cold water spa

CONDITIONING/TRAINING: "She's pretty easy. I always give them several days off after a big race like that when I can (Montgomery was leaving Tuesday for the Royal Crown in Guthrie, Oklahoma, following Old Fort Days). I start back with an easy ride and then we'll work barrels for a couple of days. If I haven't made a run in a couple of weeks, I'll breeze her through at home. A big thing with her—I haven't had to do this with any other horse—is I breeze her a lot, at home around the arena or in the warmup pen before I run her. She's so quiet. You've got to get her a little amped up."

tell she wanted to work. She was really running hard. That's usually where we lose a little time; she'll get really ratey, but Fort Smith makes them run. It was good for her."

The historic Old Fort Days Futurity utilizes a progressive format, with the fastest 40 qualifiers from a time trail advancing to a clean slate Final. Additionally, those failing to advance have a second chance through the Consolation 4D, where the five fastest in each category (4-year-old futurity, 5-year-old futurity and derby) also advance to their respective Final.

Montgomery and Tiffany were the second fastest qualifiers with a 16.658 behind Kassie Mowry and Goodbye Sophie.

"For the short go, I just snapped her up a little bit in her warmup and sent her," Montgomery said. "She's so good minded I don't have to worry about her getting wound up or washed out. She'll let me start her in the alley wherever I need to. She'll let me place her. She's quiet in her stall. She's just a really great-minded mare that wants to work."

Those are characteristics that Montgomery has seen nearly all of the Mulberry colts that she's ridden.

"Almost every one of them wanted to turn a barrel from the very start," said Montgomery. "Most have been really good minded, and you can get after them when you need to. They've just got it. They want to work. They don't necessarily want to ride around super fancy, but that's okay! Every one of them right from the beginning put their feet in the right spots around a barrel. You lope around a barrel five or six times and they've got it.

Montgomery, who has a 3-year-old full brother to Tiffany and sire MCM Ima Hoss in training, said it also helps to have faith in the bloodline.

"It's hard sometimes when you're a little unsure of what their dam did, or their sire did," she explained. "It's sometimes hard to stay hooked. Not all the Mulberry's started really fast but just having faith in the bloodlines and owners that don't rush you, it just works out."

RAISING ROUSEY

While Jolene Montgomery was winning the Old Fort Days Futurity, another horse she bred and raised Chicado Moon was getting national attention, setting an arena record at the Cowtown Coliseum during the Women's Rodeo World Championships and coming in clutch to win the inaugural Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo at AT&T Stadium for Makenzie Mayes.

"Rousey" is by Guys Canyon Moon, a son of Frenchmans Guy out of Mulberry Canyon Moon, that Montgomery trained and campaigned. Her dam is futurity finalist and 1D money earner Chicados Bully, a daughter Chicado Cash, that Montgomery trained, and out of Return Of The Bully, whom Montgomery rode to six futurity championships and a reserve championship in the Old Fort Days Futurity.

"I'm so proud of her," Montgomery said. "I didn't want to sell her. I just got broke like every other horse trainer and had to sell something. That's the one that Naoma (LeBarron) picked. I gave her the choice between her and a gelding."

Montgomery's husband Kerby broke Rousey and her sister Haylee Layman started her on the pattern before she was sold as 2-year-old.

"I'd only ridden her a handful of times," Montgomery said. "I really liked her—she wanted to turn from the get-go—but I didn't really know much about her yet."

Montgomery has Chicados Bully back in foal to Guys Canyon Moon. She also has her dam Return Of The Bully. So she has several colts from the mares that she won on in the past and most are by stallions she rode too.

"I'm getting really biased and spoiled," she said. "I'm getting to ride all these colts and fillies by horses that I've rode. It's a lot of fun."

Adios Amigoz – Whitney Pickle Wins Old Fort Days Senior Horse Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Twenty-six years ago, Talmadge Green had a spicy filly in his barn that he didn't particularly fit. After watching Cody Bauserman do well at the futurities on the stallion Nik Dell, Green gave him a call.

Bauserman and the temperamental filly Likely Fuel captured the Country Boys Futurity before winning the biggest check in barrel racing history at the time $93,700 at the 1998 Old Fort Days Futurity. It was the first of four Old Fort Days Championships for the trainer from Sallisaw, Oklahoma.

This year Bauserman set Whitney Pickle up for the same experience. He and Pickle had been trading race time with Pickles' Tres Seis gelding Runnin Ron, but he'd left Adios Amigoz, his own Tres Seis gelding, in her hands since January. The decision resulted in the biggest win of Pickle's barrel racing career—a $26,577 Senior (5-year-old) Futurity Championship at the 47th Annual Old Fort Days Futurity, held May 13-18 in Fort Smith, Arkansas.

"It was quite a week!" said Pickle of her richest career win and first-ever futurity championship. "It was my biggest win and first ever futurity win. For that to be at Fort Smith, it's pretty surreal in and of itself. It's such a historic event. It's like a dream come true!" She and Amigo turned in a 16.598 to win the Senior Futurity Championship. Bauserman and "Ron" finished third, earning $6,644.

"I thought he was going to catch me there for a second," said Pickle, who hails from Oologah, Oklahoma. "He actually ran a few drags after me and I was rooting for him to win because he's never won the 5-year-old. I think that would have put him with the most wins at Old Fort Days."

Pickle was extremely grateful for the opportunity to ride Amigo. "He very well could have ridden him himself and done just as well," she said. "I'm super grateful that he believed in me enough to let me stay on him and achieve what I did."

She also wanted to give a shout out to Bailee Snow, who rode Amigo as a 3-year-old when she worked for Bauserman.

"I'm grateful for the time and effort she put in on this colt," she said. "I think Cody and I both would agree that this colt wouldn't be where he's at if not for the time and effort she put in on him as a 3-year-old."

Amigo, out of the Special Rhythm mare Special Moonchild, was bred by Castle Farms in Seguin, Texas. Laura Castle had started the gelding under saddle before she sold him to Bauserman.

Come January 2024, Amigo hadn't been entered anywhere, and when Bauserman left for the early Texas futurities, he let Pickle take the gelding.

"I do like exhibitioning them and seeing them progress, so I took him," she said. "The first weekend I had him, I took him to two jackpots, and he won money at both of them. He started out in the 2D and progressed on from there. I took him to a super show with 4-500 people and he placed sixth there and won the futurity sidepot."

Afterwards, she asked Bauserman if she could take Amigo to the Select Stallion Stakes since he'd won enough to pay his way. He continued to pay his way, winning sixth in the Futurity. His second futurity was the Ruby Buckle, where he finished seventh. Old Fort Days was his third futurity.

"He really just gets better the more runs you make," Pickle said. "That's what really stands out to me. Everything that I've asked of him, he's just stepped up to the plate."

Pickle, who had entered the Old Fort Days Futurity a couple of times and had never made the Finals, had a rough start to the event, starting with Amigo's exhibition.

"With more runs, he's kind of got a little bit anxious and with that long alley I thought I better make sure he knows to wait on me and not take off too soon," Pickle explained. "So going in I kind of got on to him for wanting to take off and then from there on I guess he thought we were out there to visit the arena. He didn't take it all serious. I was really nervous because my exhibition was a disaster."

Then, Amigo turned back on the same side at the second barrel during his time trial run, leaving Pickle to have to earn one of the top 5 senior futurity spots in the Consolation to advance to the Finals.

"No one wants to go through that!" she laughed. "I joked when I went to go enter, 'This is where no one wants to be!' But it all ended up working out like it was supposed to be."

Knowing that she needed to be under 17 seconds to remotely have a chance at making the Finals, Pickle tuned on Amigo the morning of the Consolation. She mainly focused on keeping the big gelding's front feet moving through the turns instead of stopping and possibly coming back on the wrong side again.

"He's a big guy," she explained. "He's long and tall. We've always struggled to keep his front feet moving. That's what I really did. I really just worked on getting him to move that front end. He's an honest colt and doesn't try to hit a barrel. I just worked on getting him to move those front feet, so he'd be snappier on the backside of his barrels."

They ended up topping the Consolation with a 16.730, worth

$2,241.

The Consolation win gave her confidence going into the Senior Futurity Finals.

"I knew when I got on him that day that he was sharp and feeling good," Pickle said. "I knew he was on his game. I didn't have to do much. I trotted him around the barrels once. I never dreamt that we would win it, but I just knew he would do well that day because he felt so good warming up. He smoked a run and somehow we held on to win."

MEET WHITNEY PICKLE

Newly crowned Old Fort Days Senior Futurity Champion Whitney Pickle didn't grow up in a horse family, but competitiveness was always in her blood.

"My family didn't grow up around horses," said the 36-year-old Pickle. "My dad and his two brothers all played professional baseball, so I came from a very competitive family. Winning has always been at the top of the list and what's been instilled in me."

When she was 6, she got her start riding a former fair pony that only knew how to go in circles. Later, her parents bought her horses that knew their jobs, but they weren't top of the line, seasoned competitors.

"My parents bought me some nice horses but a lot of them were more problem horses that you kind of had to figure out and work through the issues," she said. "A lot of them were very talented horses, but I had to work to get them to the level that I wanted to be at."

After competing at jackpots and super shows, Pickle started dabbling in training horses. She started with colts she raised out of the mare she rode in high school. After bringing a few horses up through the divisional ranks, she decided to try aged events.

"I'm not your typical futurity winner with a lot of experience," she admitted.

Pickle also works a fulltime job in the finance department at Phillips 66. "I do this on the side," she said. "A lot of times, it's not on the side like now. I go to work and then come home and do this all evening. I've been really fortunate to be around a few very good people that do this for a living that have shown me what to do with the determination and the work ethic that it takes. I hope to some extent that I can serve as encouragement to people that they can do this too."

DREAM TEAM

- Mowry & Force The Goodbye

The WIN List for Force The Goodbye (Jarvis) & Mowry

- 2024 Old Fort Days Derby
- 2024 San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo
- 2024 Rodeo Austin
- 2024 Texarkana Showdown High Stakes & Derby
- 2023 NFR Wins Rounds 8 & 9; ran the fastest time of the NFR, a 13.30 in Round 8 (also helped Mowry to 3rd in 2023 NFR Avg.)
- 2023 Breeders Challenge Finals Derby
- 2023 Royal Crown Rock Springs Derby
- 2023 Elite Extravaganza (March Race) Derby
- 2022 BFA Futurity
- 2021 BBR OKC Rookie Futurity

Force The Goodbye had $875,082 in earnings before Old Fort Days. With the $22,238 in winnings from the Old Fort Days Derby put him at just under $900k ($897,320). It should be noted that in addition to the 1st place finished list above they were 2nd in several big events as well. What a team!!

Back From The Brink -- Kindyl Scruggs & Melrose Chrome Claim Women's Rodeo World Championship

By Tanya Randall

It was do or die time for Kindyl Scruggs in the Semifinal Round at the Women's Rodeo World Championship, held May 13-18 in Fort Worth and Arlington, Texas.

Scruggs had squeaked into the semis last in the average with a tipped barrel from the first round of competition. The only way left for her to advance to the Finals in AT&T Stadium was the win.

"I didn't have a choice," said Scruggs, the 2016 International Pro Rodeo Association Barrel Racing Champion. "I had to win the Semis to progress to the Finals. My mom actually joked that when people back me in a corner, I generally do my best."

She and her 10-year-old gelding Melrose Chrome posted a victorious 13.097, the second fastest time of all the runs in Fort Worth's Cowtown Coliseum that week, save Makenzie Mayes and Chicado Moon's record breaking 12.946 that won her division's semifinal set.

While trying to make clean runs for an aggregate wasn't her cup of tea, the setup at AT&T put Scruggs back in her element.

"That's more of my type of setup," she said. "Make one run and be as fast as you can."

The arena also suited Chrome.

"My horse is very much a turner," she said. "The bigger the pattern, the further the barrels are off the wall, the better he does. I think, for him, it wasn't a big deal."

The atmosphere in AT&T for the WRWC Finals, which were held in conjunction with the PBR World Finals, was unlike anything she'd ever experienced.

"That place is insane," she said. "It's kind of indescribable. You can feel the sound on your skin. It's like walking into a room if you were deaf and you could still tell how loud it was."

She and Chrome bested the field of 12 by nearly four tenths of a second to take the title and $60,000.

It was a heck of a payoff for a win aboard a horse that wouldn't make the pattern when she traded for him four years ago.

Chrome, a gelded son of First Place Texas out of the Krimps Elmer mare Crownroyalmercedes, had a solid start to his barrel racing career but had developed a bad habit of ducking with a younger owner. Scruggs dug into the horse's history and was willing to take a chance on fixing the gelding, so she offered a little money and the

MEET KINDYL SCRUGGS

Kindyl Scruggs from Southaven, Mississippi, is a nine-time International Finals Rodeo qualifier, two time IFR average champion and the 2016 International Pro Rodeo Association Champion Barrel Racer.

The 32-year-old did not grow up in a horse family, instead she became the de facto member of one. Her mother Kathy Crenshaw, a longtime UPS manager, knew Darlene Scott through work. When her daughter wanted to be a barrel racer, she turned her over to Darlene, her husband Scott and their daughter Lacey to cultivate her equine knowledge.

"I was over there at least once a week, sometimes three times a week, for lessons," recalled Scruggs. "I spent my summers over there. They hauled me to shows. They taught me everything I know. I have to give them all the credit, because I wouldn't know anything, if not for them."

Scruggs, who works as an office manager for a plumbing company, is paying it forward. She now trains a few outside horses and gives lessons when she's not going to IPRA or WCRA rodeos.

She is currently leading the IPRA World Standings and is already racking up points on the WCRA Leaderboard to qualify for their next event.

"I hope to keep capitalizing at the WCRA events," she said. "It's so convenient to be able to nominate and go to three or four events a year that you can win more at than you can all year at the pro rodeos."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Kindyl Scruggs

Melrose Chrome, 15.1-.2 h., 1,000-1,100 lbs.

BIT: Mini Hemi

SADDLE: Bob Marshall — SADDLE PAD: Josh Andrews

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on all four

SHOEING: Aluminum Safe Grip Shoes on all four; 3D pads on front

FEED: Ware Milling performance horse feed — HAY: Alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: Horslic mineral tub; Gastrogard or Ulcergard as needed; Red Cell

ALTERNATE THERAPIES: Regular chiropractic care, BEMER, PHT, Back On Track

CONDITIONING/TRAINING: "I try to ride three times a week, minus my runs, and longe once or twice a week. I try to give them one day off. Between our runs at Fort Worth and Arlington, I gave him one day off and used the spa at Outlaw Equine."

SPONSORS: Mom, Kathy Crenshaw. "She was my sponsor for a long, long time."

trade of two broke 2-year-olds.

"I second guessed my decision for some time after that," laughed Scruggs. "It was not an easy time for me or him. Now we've got it figured out. He goes around the barrels instead of on the wrong side of them or through them."

It took Scruggs nearly two year to get Chrome lined out.

"I was trying to rodeo season him as I was trying to fix him," she explained, "so for a couple of years, it was a lot of practice pen time and back-and-forth to the vet and shoer. Towards the end of last year, he really came around. I think it was more of him learning to trust me in what I was saying was right because he'd done the pattern wrong so many times."

The hardest thing was learning to trust her repair job.

"I've had a lot of people say they don't know how I can trust him after he's ducked so much. Honestly, what took me the longest to be able to win on him was that I couldn't trust him.

"He's very honest now, but if you tell him to do the wrong thing, he'll still do the wrong thing. He's honest in that he'll let me pick him up and move him over or if the ground is bad, he'll let me slow him down. It makes him easy and hard. If you ride him right, he's 100 percent all the time. If you're having a bad day and mess up... He's not one of those that's going to do it for you."

How far Chrome has come has even surprised Scruggs.

"I never thought that I made a bad trade, but I never thought that he would be honest," she said. "I thought I'd be able to get by him, but I'd never be able to sell him. That's how I felt about him for a long time. At first, I did buy him to sell him, but that's changed now. I have no desire to sell him. That was a year and a half ago, not just now after what he did this weekend."

Leggett & Things Are Looking Up Conquer Cloverdale

This past weekend, the Cloverdale Rodeo & County Fair in Cloverdale, BC handed out some big checks north of the border. Although the big payout don't count towards the Canadian or WPROA Standings the rodeo is still a great boost for the barrel racers getting ready for a big summer run. This weekend, Things Are Looking Up & Vanessa Leggett placed in both gos of their Pool B and then came back with a great run to take the Finals and win the Cloverdale Championship! Their win netted them a nifty $28,000 to help them get down the road for the summer. If you have watched the Canadian results you have seen Leggett in the results all the time along with her mother Julie Leggett. We caught up with Leggett to get a little more info on her big win!

BRR: Can you walk us through your Finals winning run?

Leggett: The winning run, I just wanted to keep my barrels up and be smooth. He can be very turny and I've had to adapt to his style and get creative with lots of leg lifts!! His first barrel was so tight and fast it was shocking!

BRR: Can you share with us some more about the Cloverdale rodeo; the atmosphere, setup and such?

Leggett: This was my first year being invited to Cloverdale and it is an incredible rodeo! Almost like a mini Calgary Stampede, big money added, huge crowd and the stadium bowl feel is electric. I love the pen size/set up and the committee and sponsors work so hard to have a great rodeo! We even had a dinner back number ceremony before the short go!

BRR: I know you have a couple really nice horses. How do you go about choosing which horse to ride & how do you go about riding each horse the way they need rode?

Leggett: Both horses are quite different. Whiskey (Hagans Charger Fling) is a big powerhouse and he's a lot more elevated and in your hands. I tend to sit back more in my saddle with him. Looker is so fast, basically I just ride as hard as I can, try to keep him square and on his hip. He does want to get low in the turns and he makes me work for it!! Looker is brave and thrives in a loud exciting rodeo atmosphere! My mom Julie trained both horses and I find our styles compliment each other!

BRR: What did you do this past couple weeks to have Things Are Looking Up at his best?

Leggett: I'm noticing more and more for Looker the prep work is so key for him! He can get body sore so we do equiscope and chiropractor lots and taking care of his stomach really helps. As far as exercise, I do lots of slow work, nothing fast and he doesn't like going into the arena before hand.

BRR: How do you mentally prepare for big runs like this weekend prior to entering the arena?

Leggett: I try to do some energy work before hand and I get pumped up with the crowd and Bob Tallman talking! My mom won

THE RUNDOWN w/ Vanessa Leggett

Things Are Looking Up "Looker", 8 yr old, 15 hh

BIT: Myler long shank old school

HEADGEAR: My mom makes handmade beaded bridles and I use a leather bonnet.

SADDLE PAD: Woodys Gel no seam pad

LEG GEAR: Alliance Equine SMB boots, they are amazing!

SHOEING: Rims on front, eventers on back

FEED: Renew Gold, MVP Joint and alfalfa pellets

SPONSORS: Alliance Equine, Rebecca Williams and Electro Equiscope, Special FX Equine Performance Products, Leading Edge Equine, Triple G Farms and Michael Glaicar, Billie Bird, Leggett Barrel Horses

THANK YOUS: Thank you to my family!!

Cloverdale in 2015 and I really wanted to be a second generation champion and follow in her footsteps! That was a big goal for me.

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?

Leggett: I get nervous if I don't have a really good and full vet box. Honestly I always have a Back on track blanket with me and my dog!

A Tribute to Patrick Gottsch - Celebrating a pioneer of rural broadcasting, champion of American agriculture and family man

Patrick Gottsch grew up on his family's farm in Elkhorn, Nebraska, where he learned firsthand the importance of rural America in the lives of everyday Americans. These early experiences instilled in him a deep appreciation for the agricultural community and its values, shaping his future endeavors.

Patrick began his journey into broadcasting in 1991 with Superior Livestock Auction. This venture was the stepping stone to his most significant achievement: RFD-TV. What began as a dream turned into reality on August 31, 1988, when RFD-TV started broadcasting across North America. This network quickly became rural America's most vital television superstation, offering six full hours of live news, market updates, weather reports, business features, and special reports each day.

Patrick's extensive background in farming, ranching, and his experience as a commodity broker on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange gave him unique insights into the needs and interests of his audience. His commitment to success and dedication to a previously unserved audience made RFD-TV a cornerstone of rural American media. Over the next 35 years, the network spotlighted America's farmers, ranchers, and Western sports, consistently serving the needs and interests of rural America.

Patrick's vision didn't stop with RFD-TV. He expanded Rural Media Group Inc., the parent company of RFD-TV, to include The Cowboy Channel, The Cowgirl Channel, and Rural Radio. His innovative approach and willingness to think outside the box significantly contributed to the growth of the rural and Western way of life. Patrick always focused on family, involving his daughters in the business from a young age and enabling them to flourish in leadership roles. He welcomed the cameras to showcase his love of family, making it a central theme in his networks.

Even at 70 years old, Patrick lived life to the fullest, packing more experiences into a week than most people do in a lifetime. His determination to serve rural America was unwavering, ensuring that rural voices were heard and valued. Reflecting on his journey, Patrick often remembered running around Omaha with a business plan, trying to convince someone to fund his vision. Despite the challenges, he built a studio and launched a network that profoundly impacted millions.

Patrick's legacy is a testament to his passion, innovation, and dedication. His contributions to broadcasting have ensured that the stories and needs of rural America continue to be highlighted and celebrated. As he once said, his life's work has been devoted to RFD-TV, a network born from a dream and sustained by his relentless drive to connect and uplift rural communities.

SmartPak Joins WPRA Family of Partners Supporting Women in Rodeo

SmartPak was founded in 1999 and is now bringing their smarts to power healthy horses and happy riders within the professional rodeo world, specifically with the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA).

While all rodeo competitors have a love for their horses, the women of the WPRA take that level of love to a higher standard so to combine that love with the philosophy of those at SmartPak seemed like a no-brainer.

"Caring for our equine athletes and making sure they are feeling their best when they enter the professional arena is no easy task but the foundation that SmartPak has put together through their SmartPak supplement feeding system helps ease that burden," stated Hannah Miller, WPRA Partnership and Special Events Manager. "We are excited to bring their years of experience in equine care to the members of the WPRA."

Founder Becky Minard owned a horse that needed daily supplements. She quickly realized that what should have been a simple chore was in fact a complicated process in desperate need of solutions! SmartPaks were developed as a way to simplify feeding to ensure her beloved horse Westley always got exactly what he needed, in the exact right amounts, no matter who fed him.

The team at SmartPak is full of riders and owners who understand that health concerns are unavoidable realities of modern horsekeeping. Even the best managed horse may still experience times of stress, which is why they believe every horse deserves custom support from supplements designed to help them feel and look their best.

Unique to SmartPak is their FREE $15,000 colic surgery reimbursement program. ColiCare eligible supplements give your horse, backed by research, the best digestion and hindgut support. Routine veterinary care and digestive supplements can help your horse avoid common health issues, such as colic. Once you've ordered your ColiCare eligible supplement in SmartPaks, you'll be able to complete the application form online or over the phone. Applying to enroll takes less than 5 minutes!

"We are incredibly excited to start our partnership with Women's Professional Rodeo Association," stated Amanda Bodkin, SmartPak PR and Sponsorship Manager. "Our mission at SmartPak is to power the passions of our fellow riders and their equine partners all the way from their home barn to the NFR. We're looking forward to supporting the members of the WPRA and their horses as they chase their dreams and achieve their goals both inside and outside of the rodeo arena."

Every horse is different and the team at SmartPak believes it should be easy for you to create a customized supplement program that provides everything one's horse needs and nothing they don't. Four-time Wrangler NFR qualifiers Michele McLeod and Sherrylynn Johnson have used SmartPaks in their equine feeding regimen.

Along with providing top notch supplements, their online store has everything a horsewoman needs from grooming supplies, to fly control, to tack and equipment. They can even take care of your smaller furry companions.

Free Riders Win First-Ever Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas

Free Riders earn $500,000 for victory in landmark team-formatted rodeo

At the first-ever Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo, the Free Riders rode lights out, winning three gold medals in Round 1 before cementing their title as champions by winning four of the disciplines in the championship round.

The team, under the leadership of four-time PRCA (Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association) bareback riding champion Bobby Mote and Women's Rodeo Championship Commissioner Lindsay Rosser-Sumpter, won $500,000 for the victory. The Free Riders were the lone team not formed by the Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo Draft, but rather via the results of the recently held WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) Major Rodeo Corpus Christi.

The Free Riders were dominant in the initial bracket competition as the lone team to win multiple gold medals, let alone three.

They jumped to an early lead, winning the first discipline of the night, barrel racing, complements of a lightning-fast 18.197-second run by 20-year-old phenom Makenzie Mayes.

The Free Riders repeated their success in the second discipline of the night inside the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys as RC Landingham won the bareback riding with an 87.5-point ride atop French Love.

In the team roping, the Free Riders punched their ticket to the championship round as Douglas Rich and Jake Smith delivered a 5.42-second run to earn the discipline's gold medal.

The Misty Mountain Hop advanced to the championship round alongside the Free Riders by earning one gold medal, two silver medals and three third-place finishes. The Charmayne James and Justin McKee-led outfit earned their one victory of the night in the steer wrestling as Tyler Waguespack logged a 5.58-second run to earn himself and his team a gold medal.

The Misty Mountain Hop's second-place results were earned in the team roping and breakaway roping, while their bronze showings were logged in the barrel racing, saddle bronc riding and tie-down roping.

As Rock N Roll icon Kid Rock readied to retake the stage, it all came down to seven runs in the championship round to determine whether the Free Riders or Misty Mountain Hop would be the inaugural Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo Champions.

The Free Riders struck first, winning the bareback riding as Landingham rode Scarlett From Hell for 87.5 points, beating the Misty Mountain Hop's Mason Clements, who rode Top Egyptian for 85 points.

The Misty Mountain Hop, however, quickly evened the score in the steer wrestling as Waguespack delivered a 5.56-second run, outpacing the Free Riders' no-score from Cody Doescher. They then pulled one discipline ahead of the Free Riders in the team roping as Kaleb Driggers and Junior Nogueira posted a 5.15-second run, besting the no time from the Free Riders' Luke Brown and Jade Corkill.

The Free Riders, however, righted the momentum in the saddle bronc riding. Cole Elsher rode Tomo Jo for 81 points to beat the no score from the Misty Mountain Hop's Stue Wright. Via the win, the scoreboard was tied 2-2.

The Free Riders then posted a second consecutive championship round discipline win in the breakaway roping when Kieley Walz went a torrid 3.0 seconds, defeating Danielle Loman's miss for the opposing squad.

The Free Riders' 3-2 lead, however, was then erased in the tie-down roping. The Misty Mountain Hop evened the score and forced the landmark team rodeo to come down to the final discipline as Caleb Smidt logged an 11.36-run, beating the no time from the Free Riders' Quaide Hiatt.

The inaugural Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo then came down to barrel racing, the very event the $1 million rodeo began with.

Repeating their success that began the night, the Free Riders' Mayes again delivered her team a victory. Her 18.80-second run beat the 19.60-second run from the Misty Mountain Hop's Wenda Johnson.

For their win, the Free Riders earned $500,000, with each athlete and coach earning $27,778.

Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo launched the biggest weekend in Western sports.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

There are lots of graduations going on! Millions of teenagers are going into the next season of their lives! At The Barn, we only had one high school graduate this year. We always do a cake and celebrate with them.

I was in the kitchen getting ready and two younger children came in. Emily is 10. Emma is 11. Like all older adults, I asked the question I'm sure kids get sick of being asked, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" Emma said, "I think I want to be a praise leader." Emily said, "I wanted to be a nurse in the military, but I think I will be a veterinarian so I can help my dad with the cows."

So, in the church service, I told everyone what the girls had said. Emily raised her hand and said, "And when I get to be a veterinarian, I will give everyone in The Barn a free vet check. . . .". I didn't laugh, but it was close!

Now, the million dollar question. What do YOU want to be when you grow up? Do you think you are already grown? No, you (and I) are not. Until the day we go home to be with Jesus, our life should be a quest to be more like HIM!

As of today, I don't personally know anyone that has reached Christlikeness. 2 Cor. 3:18. But if we don't get stuck in the "teenage" years, where we think we know everything, we will grow and mature!

And as we do that, we will be a blessing to those around us! Let's get going!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
