Record-Breaking Run For Hailey Kinsel & DH Jess Stellar at Women's Rodeo World Championships

By Tanya Randall

One of the secrets to a long, successful rodeo career is knowing what setups best fit your horse.

When three-time WPRA World Champion Barrel Racer Hailey Kinsel found out that the Women's Rodeo World Championships were scheduled for May 16-18 in Fort Worth, Texas, she knew it would be a great opportunity to run DH Jess Stellar ("Jules"), owned by Damon and Donna Hodges of Omaha, Texas.

All parties involved were over the moon when they found it the rodeo would be held in the tight confines of Cowtown Coliseum, where Jules just happened to own the arena record, especially Donna Hodges, who watched the event from the stands.

"Every time she's ran in that arena she's had a chance," said Hodges, who along with her husband have been raising horses for 22 years. "Even at the American Semifinals this last year she did amazing. We knew going in she had a big chance, but to go all the way...?"

Kinsel and Jules had already made three runs on the 13-second course, with one of those being a 13.492 just an hour prior, when they slammed the clock in 13.384 to win the $60,000 championship.

Hodges was "just ecstatic."

"I was breathless!" she exclaimed. "It was just beautiful to see her give her whole heart again. It was just a proud moment. I'm just grateful to have her."

Hodges raised the mare, by their late stallion Mighty Jess, a son of Mr Jess Perry out of a Special Effort, Six Fortunes mare, and out of the Cowan family-bred mare PC Stellar Frost, a daughter of Sun Frost out of a Boon Dox John, Doc's Jack Frost mare.

"When she hit the ground, she had her mother's amazing conformation and she just had that attitude, 'Look at me! I'm going to be special!'" recalled Hodges.

Jules was started under saddle by Bryce Jenkins, who told the Hodges they had a special one on their hands. They approached Janna Brown about training the mare for futurities.

Brown, who was recovering from a leg fracture, didn't start training Jules until late spring of her third year, but they quickly gained ground. Jules won the very first barrel race she entered that December and had a solid futurity and derby career with Brown.

With nearly $100,000 in earnings with Brown, the Hodges knew they needed to continue beyond the aged events with Jules.

"We knew we needed to go on with her," she said. "Our dream is for our granddaughter, Wiley Jo, to get to ride her, but we knew she wasn't ready for a horse as strong as Jules."

A connecting friendship put Jules in Kinsel's hands.

"I feel like in a lot of ways she's not a backup horse," said Kinsel, who qualified for the WRWC by nominating the San Antonio Rodeo. "She's a second No. 1. When the setup fits her, she can win. That allows me to plan and look ahead where to utilize her."

Last year, knowing that she was going to ride her great mare DM Sissy Hayday ("Sister") at The American, Kinsel suggested that Brown get the opportunity to ride Jules once again at the American Semifinals in Cowtown Coliseum.

Even though she hadn't ridden the mare in quite some time, Brown and Jules never missed a beat together, set the arena record of 13.387 in the long-go of the American Semifinals, and qualified for The American in AT&T Stadium.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: She gets ridden almost every day. She does better on five days of riding, two days off. She's fairly on the high strung side. She wants to work all the time. Some days I'll go to the barrel patch and work on fundamentals and dry work. The other days it's conditioning away in the pasture. Lots of walking. Since she gets a little on the worked up side, I do lots of walking before and after.

Not long after, Jules suffered an injury and was out for seven months. When she came back sound, Kinsel gave the mare a lot more opportunities than before. As with Brown the year before, Jules made it all the way to AT&T Stadium.

For Hodges the opportunity to watch her horse run in such a venue was everything.

"When she gave Jules the opportunity at The American when Sister had won it three times—,” said Hodges, “that meant the world to us, and then to do this... We’re over the moon! We just appreciate it and it means so much to us.”

Moving forward, Kinsel is excited about finding more opportunities for Jules.

“I’ve never ridden her at anything like this, with more than one run,” said Kinsel, who won $63,400 total at the event. “It’s all been one-headers. It was almost like practicing—Ok, improve on this. Do this the same. I think I jumped a big way with her, just going to the same place and figuring things out over the course of three days.”

Kinsel said the best thing about Jules is that she stays honest indoors.

“The nice thing about her is there are a lot of horses that get short indoors and she doesn’t,” she said. “She gets tight, but it’s honest. Janna had told me that from the very beginning that was kind of her deal. She’ll be ratey but not cheat. You definitely only learn that by making runs. Now that I’ve got to test her out, I rolled her into the first barrel at Northside and she nailed it all three times. Being able to get my timing and confidence in a setup like that is really great.”

Hodges is just happy to be along for the ride.

“It’s just like being a proud momma!” she said. “Just Thank You God! For me the whole journey has been a God thing from the beginning. I’m so grateful for Janna for everything that she did, and the same for Hailey. Her interview the other night was so precious. She was talking about Jules’ family and it really is a family thing.”

TRHeavensIlluminated & Molli Montgomery Strike It Rich at Old Fort Days Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Much like Kentucky Derby Winner Rich Strike, TRHeavensIlluminated ("Cyrus") went back to his stall full of himself after making the winning run at the 45th Annual Old Fort Days Futurity, held May 17-21 in Fort Smith, Arkansas.

"He must be bred like Rich Strike," laughed his jockey and trainer Molli Montgomery. "He was gritted up. I walked in the stall and he bit the bar. He's a mess. He's proud now. He trots on that lead rope. He's bouncing now. He struts now. He's a great horse."

The victor's share of the 325-entry Hart Farms Futurity was worth $43,460.

"I was proud of my horse and I was proud of myself for riding smart," she said. "I was just saying little prayers thanking God for being with me every step of the way. I just kept telling him how good of a boy he was over and over again. I always tell him he's a good boy."

Ironically, Montgomery almost skipped the event in favor of running at the Breeders Challenge qualifier in Memphis, Tennessee. With the Ruby Buckle, Breeders Challenge, Royal Crown and Fort Smith all back-to-back, Montgomery was worried about putting too many runs on her young charge.

"I love Fort Smith," said the first time Old Fort Days Champion. Montgomery had taken reserve at the 2016 futurity with A Dash Ta Glamour. "I didn't know which one I was going to skip. I almost skipped Fort Smith to go to Memphis, but at the last minute, I skipped Memphis to go to Fort Smith. Thank God!"

Even so, the many runs leading up to Fort Smith made for some challenges.

"I feel like that horse is really solid, but he's so talented that you can't do too much; you can't do too little either," said the Dawson, Texas, based trainer. "You have to be there for him but you can't do too much. We had done several runs in a row, so he was getting a little anxious about it, a little nervous, because he felt like he needed to run hard."

In the Futurity Time Trials, Cyrus posted a 16.995 to have the 19th fastest qualifying time.

"Our first run at Fort Smith, he was running really hard," she said. "He was doing his job, but he was running too hard and still trying to turn. That gets wild! I knew we could do better."

Montgomery spent the next two days between the Time Trials and the Finals focusing on her slow work.

"I even trail rode around on him," she chuckled. "Everybody was like, 'What are you doing? Trail riding?' I'm like 'Yep!' I just did lots of slow work. I rode him three times between the time I ran and the Finals, just to try to work on his mind."

All her hard work keeping Cyrus quiet was almost undone right before her run. They were out in the first set after a big drag—that took way longer than expected.

"You don't want to be up there any sooner than you have to," she said. "I saw Cody (Bauserman) and Tyler (Crosby) going over there and I thought 'Oh they're almost done.' I bet we set over there for seven more minutes. Cody and I laughed because twice we've been back-to-back. We were like we're each other's good luck charm because we were back-to-back in the same drag at Ruby Buckle. He ran a 16.9 and then I came in behind him and ran another 16.9."

This time, they were better than another 16.9, with a 16.330.

"I really try not to have a plan because things happen so fast," she said. "I try to let my subconscious take over because I feel like your conscious mind is so much slower. I was just trying to be smooth and not let my horse get out of hand."

She said Cyrus got a little too quick to the second barrel and she had to do some jockeying to get into correct position for the third. "We didn't have the second we could have had because he was running too hard," she said. "I had to pull pretty hard at the second and he over turned and I had to bring him back over to straighten him up for the third. He just smoked it."

Cyrus has been in Montgomery's barn since Thanksgiving of his second year. Lambert had purchased the gelding as yearling at the 2019 Copper Spring Ranch Sale for $30,000 from his breeder Harry Thomas. The gelding is by leading barrel horse sire and past Old Fort Days Derby Champion J.L. Dash Ta Heaven out of Thomas' great performer and producer TR Dashing Badger, better known as "Dolly."

"That horse just has so much talent," Montgomery said. "You just direct and control the rocket. You're just guiding the missile around the pattern."

Cyrus is going to get a little break, having won two and taking second once at his last four futurities. Montgomery said he'll crack out for the Colorado and Utah futurities later this summer.

"He won Chickasha (Select Stallion Stakes), was second at Ruby and won Fort Smith," she said. "I think he deserves a little rest for his body and his mind."

See how your horse can run its best in every race with optimal digestive health.

Try SUCCEED Digestive Conditioning Program to support your barrel horse's total digestive health. A horse in good GI health stays eating, gets full nutrition from feed, maintains condition and energy, and can be more confident and focused. And that makes for a comfortable and strong horse capable of winning.

First-time customers can purchase through succeed-challenge.com for discounted pricing on a 60-day supply of SUCCEED, free shipping, and our money-back guarantee. Or:

Shattering Records -- Smooth Way Ta Heaven & Kristin Hanchey Dominate Old Fort Days Derby

By Tanya Randall

2021 Old Fort Days Futurity Reserve Champion Smooth Way Ta Heaven would not be denied at the 45th Annual Old Fort Days Futurity & Super Derby, held May 17-21 at Kay Rodgers Park in Fort Smith, Arkansas.

The 5-year-old bay roan mare, owned by Tracey Williams and trained and ridden by Kristin Hanchey, dominated the 138-entry Derby with two of the fastest times ever run at the historic event to win $24,945.

"To come back this year and win it...talk about a surreal dream," said Hanchey of the petite mare known as Mouse. "I still don't think it's set in yet."

After having to go through the Consolation at last year's Futurity, Hanchey was determined to make the Derby Finals straight from the Trails. Luckily the mare was onboard even though she was a little "saucy" through the week.

"When I first got to Fort Smith, I went to get on her and thought, 'Uh Oh...,'" said Hanchey, noting the Mouse tends to freshen while on the road. "I went to back her up and she fussed with her face, so I got after her and she flew into bucking. I thought, 'If she bucks me off on the first day at Fort Smith, this week is not going to go well!' I got her back under control, and gosh, she felt good all week!"

Mouse behaved well during exhibitions when Hanchey floated her through so she could feel the ground. The irony was in her exhibitions for last year's Old Fort Days Futurity, Mouse clocked a 17.905 on her float through. This year she was a 17.903.

"Mouse is like that," Hanchey added. "She is a very, very consis-

SUCCEED® Means Speed!

"I used SUCCEED for years, and my horses looked good and performed well. I didn't realize how good it was until I stopped using it. My horses had more issues with their stomachs, didn't eat well, and were cinchy. I noticed a difference immediately when I started using SUCCEED again. I've learned my lesson. I want to SUCCEED—and I want you to SUCCEED as well."

In the Trials, Hanchey and Mouse dropped the arena record of 16.250 set by Jolene Montgomery and Busby Quarter Horses’ Jets Heart N Soul in the 2019 Derby by more than a tenth to a 16.148. They proved the run was no fluke with a 16.220 to win the Finals. “That mare had one thing on her mind this week,” said Hanchey. “She was on a mission. She might be a stinker outside the pen and you have to keep her in line during the week, but when she crosses that plane of the alleyway that mare does the one thing she has always done—give it her all. She just loves to run. I stay out of her way and let her go out there and do it.”

Mouse was bred by Larry Ammons, who was the papered owner of the great Fame Fling N Bling that he co-owned by Stephen McDonald. Her sire, Blings Smooth Guy, also bred under Ammons’ name, is a son of the late A Smooth Guy, out of Bling, who took McDonald’s niece Sarah Rose Waguespack to numerous championships, multiple National Finals Rodeo qualifications and an RFD TV’s The American title.

The mare’s maternal line is no less impressive. Her dam Cash Ta Heaven is from Jud Little’s famed breeding program. The daughter of JL Dash Ta Heaven is out of Paid To Cash, a daughter of the great youth mare and Josey Jr World Champion Paid To Boogie, who goes back to Jets Pay Day and Sugar Bar Flit, a full brother to Flit Bar.

Hanchey had competed against both Bling and Paid To Boogie in their heyday. Her sister Bobbie Jo Alcazar, even competed on Boogie once.

“It’s so full circle,” said Hanchey. “It’s amazing to see it. I’ve got a 2-year-old half-brother, by Absolute Vanilla. He goes back to another great mare, SX Frenchmans Vanilla. I’m super excited about him. I tell him all the time, ‘You’ve got power mommas in your pedigree. You better be like your sister!’”

Mouse was started under saddle as a 2-year-old by Hanchey’s father Bob Haberlandt, who also serves as her farrier. Williams’ goal was for Mouse to make a horse for her daughters, just like Haberlandt, Hanchey team had done before, but Mouse was different.

“When Tracy called and told him that she wanted her to make a horse for her girls, Dad said, ‘You need to sell her. She’s not going to be that kind of horse. She needs to be a trainer’s horse. You have to stay on top of her. It’s going to be a fine line to get this horse made.’” Hanchey recalled.

Williams then asked Hanchey if she wanted to try to make something of Mouse and she was more than willing.

“From the beginning with that mare, I’ve always had a connection,” she said. “We have a line. I don’t cross that line with her and she doesn’t cross it with me. I think we’re both alpha women for lack of a better way of saying it.”

THE RUNDOWN w/Kristin Hanchey

Smooth Way Ta Heaven “Mouse” 15.1, 1,100 lbs.

BIT: L&W Lifter with a twisted, dog-bone mouthpiece; warmup in a chain mouth rope bit

SADDLE: Martin BTR

SADDLE PAD: CSI

LEG GEAR: Polo wraps on front only

SHOEING: Triumphs on all four; shod by Bob Haberlandt

FEED: Purina Ultium

HAY: Alfalfa; grass at turnout

SUPPLEMENTS: Race Today 2x daily, Equinity

THERAPIES: Equine Hemp Solutions Body Spray before she’s saddled every day; Dr. Nate Lea; Joanna Sherman equine chiropractor.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: She gets rode pretty much every day. She might get a day off here and there. She’s such a tight muscle horse, she’s one that’s got to stay moving.

THANKS: God, himself. My team is so behind me, but if it weren’t for the Lord himself placing the people he has in my life, I couldn’t do any of it. He is to be given every ounce of thanks and praise.

Faith-Based Mental Toughness

Late Saturday evening following her record-breaking Old Fort Days Derby victory, Kristin Hanchey took to Facebook to share her testimony of how she allowed her Christian faith to give her victory before her race was even won.

“We all work so stinking hard at this and one of the hardest things to do is just let go and let God do his thing,” she said.

Hanchey said her biggest personal battles are with fear of failure and doubt in her abilities as well as comparing her life to others. All those insecurities took over in the alleyway, so she sought away to find peace before her run. She found that peace in her faith and believing in God and the gifts He had given her—her family, friends, the life she leads as a horsewoman. Trusting God’s gift meant having faith in herself and trusting her horse too.

Her message hit home with thousands of barrel racers with countless shares across the social media barrel racing circle.

“I’m so thankful that people got what I was meaning to get across. That means more to me than the barrel race almost.

BARREL RACING REPORT NEWS

2022 Womens Rodeo World Championship Crowns Champions

Following this week's electric Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC) event inside the historic Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, not only are there new event champions crowned, but the event reached a new level of dominant competition.

The ferociously contested Breakaway Roping Event Championship race capped off a slug-fest between Martha Angelone (Stephenville, Texas), and barrel racer/breakaway roper Britta Strain (Bryan, TX).

Backed by a strong showing, including tying for the fastest time of the week, Angelone surged to the top of the breakaway roping leaderboard after a 2.05-second time to win the showdown round, besting Strain's 2.29-second run. The 3x WRWC qualifier entered the Triple Crown of Rodeo Round alongside Strain and Jenna Dallyn (Nanton, AB).

Strain delivered a groundbreaking performance at the event, as the string broke away from her saddle horn at an impressive 2.04-second time, good for the fastest time of the week. Angelone backed into the box and stopped the clock at the same time as Strain, tying for the event title. Angelone's Showdown Round time was the tie-breaker decision. As Angelone had a faster time than Strain in the showdown round, Angelone was named event winner.

In an equally thrilling race, Hailey Kinsel (Cotulla, Texas) was crowned the 2022 Women's Rodeo Barrel Racing Event Champion. After making her WRWC debut as the No. 11-ranked barrel racer on the pro leaderboard, her jaw-dropping 13.384 push through the Cowtown Coliseum course propelled her to the top of tonight's battle, beating Laura Mote (Llano, Texas) 13.564-second effort and 2022 WRWC Champion Rainey Skelton (Llano, Texas) 18.908 run. Taking the top time aboard her horse Jules, Kinsel netted $60,000.

As the World Championship event continued on Wednesday evening, a hotly contested battle in the Team Roping began to unfurl. Roping duo Kylie Mclean (San Tan Valley, Arizona) and Megan Gunter (Mccammon, Idaho) had fans inside historic arena on the edge of their seat as they were last to run, earning a remarkable 6.65-second time. Tracey Nelson (McDavid, FL) and Kaylee Billingsley (Phoenix, AZ) notched a valiant 7.96-second run, to take the number two spot. Mclean and Gunter took home $60,000 individually, a Jesse Jaymes Silversmith's buckle and the WRWC barrel racing Event Champion Title.

AQHA Increases Added Money to $50,000 for Barrel Racing at World Show

Get qualified to compete for more cash and make the dream of winning a golden globe reality at the 2022 Farnam AQHA and Adequan® Select World Championship Shows at the OKC Fairgrounds in Oklahoma City.

The American Quarter Horse Association has announced $50,000 will be added to Level 3 barrel racing classes at the Farnam AQHA and Adequan® Select World Championship Shows, slated for October 28 – November 20 at the OKC Fairgrounds in Oklahoma City.

Qualified exhibitors will not only compete for increased earnings, but will also write their name in the AQHA history books alongside barrel racing greats like Flos Heires – aka "BabyFlo," the 2018 senior barrel racing world champion – and Slick By Design – the 2012 junior barrel racing world champion.

Qualified exhibitors will compete for $50,000 in added money, plus 100% payback of the jackpot. The qualifying period is from August 1, 2021, to July 31, 2022.

- $20,000 added – Level 3 senior barrel racing
- $10,000 added – Level 3 junior barrel racing
- $10,000 added – Level 3 amateur barrel racing
- $10,000 added – Level 3 Select amateur barrel racing

Three Ways to Qualify

Get qualified through one of three options offered by AQHA:

• Option 1: Earn the required number of qualifying points at AQHA-approved shows. Bonus, qualifying this way gets added to your horse's permanent record!

Points to qualify:

- Level 3 senior barrel racing – 3 points
- Level 3 junior barrel racing – 3 points
- Level 3 amateur barrel racing – 4 points
- Level 3 Select amateur barrel racing – 2 points

Option 2: Participate in six AQHA-approved events during the qualifying period.

AQHA events encompass all judge numbers for a particular show or circuit. For example, the Tulsa Holiday Circuit is considered one event, even though it includes six sets of points. This qualifying method will not be added to the horse's permanent AQHA record.

Option 3: Pay a higher entry fee to enter. For entries not earning the required number of points or participation credit, open classes will require a $7,500 nomination fee per class, while amateur and Select amateur will require a $5,000 nomination fee per class. That money will be added back to the purse in the respective class. Learn more about qualifying and find classes near you.

Cowboy Channel Celebrates

The PRCA and the Cowboy Channel want to give you something to smile about while enjoying America's western sports streaming on the PRCA on Cowboy Channel Plus App.

The Cowboy Channel is the official network of ProRodeo through 2028 and to celebrate we are including the 2022 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo with an annual subscription to PRCA on Cowboy Channel + for only $99.99. Stream over 750 PRCA Rodeo Performances, AND all ten days and nights of the 2022 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo for only $99.99. This offer is for a limited time and may not be offered again. Never miss a minute of the action, signup at cowboychannelplus.com and get more bang for your bucks!

For monthly subscribers, the 2022 Wrangler NFR WILL NOT be included but you can upgrade to an annual subscription for the same $99.99 and enjoy all the same great rodeos and get the 2022 Wrangler NFR!

San Antonio Commits to $11.5 Million for 2022

The San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo on May 20 announced its educational commitment of $11.5 million for 2022. This year, the organization helped educate over 21,000 Texas students. Since 1984, the Rodeo has committed more than $243 million to serve its mission.

Executive Director & CEO Cody Davenport had the following to say:

"We are thrilled to help future generations of Texas youth achieve their educational goals," Davenport said in a press release. "The Rodeo and our over 6,000 volunteers work diligently to generate as many funds for the youth of Texas as it is at the core of our organization and mission. This educational commitment would not be possible without the support of our community, sponsors and patrons that came back this year to visit our event.

"The support of San Antonio, Bexar County and the State of Texas and all those that attend should feel a sense of pride that they are making a positive impact on our future.

Your struggles develop your strengths.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I had a new first last week. I learned how to drive a zero turn mower...Now, quit laughing. Some of you grew up on a zero turn mower! For YEARS I mowed with a push mower. And then, praise God, we got a self-propelled mower. And I'm not talking about a small yard, either. My yard is HUGE! Some days it felt like it was at least an acre.

Then, the riding lawn mower was invented! Ahhhhhh. I wasn't very good at first. Mike gave me a one minute tutorial and sent me off. I zig zagged my way around, over correcting, under correcting, too fast, too slow. I accidentally popped a few wheelies! Kinda reminded me of riding colts! I'm sure the guys driving by on 4-J Rd. got a good laugh or a heart attack depending on which way I was heading! BUT. I. GOT. IT.

Friends, it's like your walk in life with God. You ask Him to be your Lord. You asked Him and He forgave your sins. You start out and, at first, it's a little jerky. You aren't perfect, but you're trying to do your best. Little by little you get lined out. You're running over the devil and mowing him down. The breeze is in your face and tho there's a few bumps in the road, you get the job done.

When you arrive in heaven, He will say. "Well done, though good and faithful servant!" Matthew 25:21.
