Bugni Strikes Again; Wins $63K at Old Fort Days

By Julie Mankin

Considering that you can earn a $62,584 check just for one run, the “World’s Richest Futurity” is almost like a 4-year-old slot race. The difference is that anybody can enter to qualify – as long as they do it five months ahead of time.

The Old Fort Days Futurity in Fort Smith, Ark., on May 18-25 this year drew 484 entries, and 136 of those scratched because they got hurt, sick, sold or just backed out. To enter, owners had to put the $720 entry fees up in December (no late entries are allowed, period). And trainers had to spend almost 20 weeks worrying about Fort Smith’s notoriously tricky pen.

They do it every year because the money is phenomenal and the futurity pays 40 places; the derby 20. Plus, any rider who doesn’t make the top 40 in the futurity or the top 20 in the derby can enter a combined Consolation 4D race. Two other changes were implemented in the finals this year. Organizers held a random draw for position (instead of making the fastest qualifiers run last on the ground), and raked every three runners.

But back to the tricky part.

“There are two alleys right and left of center, so you have to run in a little too far to the left or a little too far to the right with a person standing in the middle of the alley. And the third barrel is in the middle of nowhere with daylight out the end of the arena,” said Mark Bugni, in his third year competing at Fort Smith. “Sometimes the best horses in the country don’t even make it to the finals. Every futurity rider I know calls this one a crap shoot.”

Bugni said luck is a big factor on a colt at Fort Smith – and mental strategy. His plan paid off in the form of that fat $62,584 check for Bridget Thomas, who owns BT Buddy Stinson (“Fast Eddy”). Ironically, fresh off a huge $20,000 win at the BBR slot race in April, Bugni wasn’t aiming quite that high in Fort Smith.

“You can only win so many, and against the caliber we’re running against, I knew it wasn’t likely I’d win,” he said. “I just wanted to leave with a substantial paycheck.”

In the trials, Bugni had been careful to give Fast Eddy a sound approach to the first barrel, enough speed to clock in the top 40, and a significant rein-check to avoid shooting by the third barrel. It took a 17.348 to make it back. Bugni’s 17.0 landed him in 10th place, and he drew the 18th running position in the finals.

“This time, I asked him to run a little harder and he smoked first and slid a little around second. I didn’t want to blow it all at third, so I brought him back stronger at that one and actually caused more of a bobble by doing that,” he explained. “But it sweetly paid off.”

Fast Eddy’s time of 16.725 edged that of Stephan Boutin on VF Lil Red Design – a Designer Red filly out of a Dash Ta Fame mare – by just five one-hundredths, giving Boutin the second-place check of Thomas was in town to watch, and had helped hand-walk Fast Eddy the day before the trials when an ulcer flair-up had him in such colicky distress that a vet had to administer oil and Bugni dosed him with Ulcergard. Their efforts did the trick.

Had Fort Smith been a two-header, Boutin would have cleaned up because he also had the fastest time of the trials (16.682). Incidentally, VF Lil Red Design also earned $3,657 for first in Future Fortunes bonus money.

The futurity/derby Consolation Race was won by Becky Dixon’s 5-year-old Dash Ta Fame/Runaway Winner gelding. With Troy Crumrine at the reins, they smoked the field by more than four-tenths of a second with the fastest time recorded all week – a 16.359 – worth $4,540.

As for Bugni, he’s putting together a Crumrine-worthy personal best in earnings this season.

“Everything I’ve been winning hasn’t been BFA-sanctioned,” said Bugni. “But I think as a rider I’m leading the nation as far as money won. I should be just under $300,000 since Dec. 1.”

Fast Eddy will get a nice break in the pasture now and will only hit a few local shows before the fall futurity run kicks off in August.

“We’ll get our 3-year-olds out and concentrate on them; exhibition them and see who the superstars will be and who isn't going to make it," said Bugni, who weeds through just six or seven colts a season. "A lot of trainers pick through ten to twenty 3-year-olds, but I like to spend more time on fewer of them. If you can give me five, I feel I can pull two out that will be top 1D horses."

Speaking of talented colts, the Old Fort Days Futurity also held its first sidepot for graduates of its annual horse sale. Fourteen horses were eligible, and the pot paid four places. The $4,000 first-place check went to Caryn Henry riding Elliott Equine Service's horse CE Sugar Daddy. Of the 35 horses that went through the sale ring, the high seller was a 3-year-old filly by Alive N Firen who went to Beth Miller for $22,000.

McLeod Earns $30K By Design in Ft Smith Super Derby

By Julie Mankin

Just three weeks after winning the pro rodeo in Guymon, Okla., Michele McLeod and Slick By Design smoked a field of 130 horses on May 25 at the Old Fort Days Super Derby in Fort Smith, Ark. When Jason Martin and Charlie Cole of High Point Performance Horses in Pilot Point, Texas, bought "Slick" last fall, they discovered he was eligible for the Super Derby, so they paid him up. The 6-year-old black stallion has been collected all spring while running at rodeos with McLeod of nearby Whitesboro, who first stepped on in March.

The stud shined at 2011 futurities under Kim Ulbricht for Allene Tatom and was ridden last year by Jennifer Epps, who won the 2012 AQHA Junior World Championship on him just before his sale to High Point.

In the Super Derby trials, Slick had turned second beautifully but fell on his nose leaving it and tore a shoe off. He still clocked an 11th-place 17.0, which shocked McLeod (who hunted down his shoe and had it put back on). Incidentally, Chris Coffee clocked the fastest time of the trials with a 16.487 on 6-year-old Streaking Romance (it took a 17.204 to make the top 20).

In the finals, McLeod just wanted a nice solid run because she was up in the Old Fort Days Rodeo six days later. She was making one until, "on the way to the third barrel one of his shoes flew off and hit my foot and I watched it roll past me on the ground," she said. "I remember thinking to myself, 'What are you doing looking at that shoe?' and he stepped by third."

Still, Slick stopped the clock in 16.438, which helped McLeod edge Jolene Montgomery on KN Fabs Mist Of Fame by just five one-hundredths of a second – giving McLeod $29,490 for first and Montgomery $11,796.

"He's a phenomenal athlete," said McLeod of the stallion. "I just fit him. We get along great."

Like the reserve Futurity champ, Slick is by Designer Red – a rare mix of Foundation blood that includes Leo, Steel Dust and a thoroughbred named Jetalong. On Slick's bottom side is more old race blood via Native Dancer, Three Oh's and Pass Em Up (with a little Depth Charge and King thrown in).

Slick's owners wouldn't mind seeing him rise to the cream of the rodeo crop, so McLeod is sending her clients' horses home and hitting the road with him next week headed for Canada.

"When you're riding a horse of this caliber, it's hard to justify staying home,” said McLeod, a mother of three girls with husband, John, who is a body-shop estimator. “Still, rodeoing is a tough deal. We’re trying to be realistic and take it one weekend at a time.”

Huge success at only a few rodeos has already propelled McLeod to 26th in the WPRA world standings.

“We’ll go this summer and see how he does at rodeos,” said McLeod. “I train horses for a living and was a little nervous about sending them home. Jason and Charlie told me, ‘Just go win the derby and you’ll have money in your bank account before you leave for the summer.’ I was like, ‘Oh yeah,’ but it worked out okay!”

McLeod will haul a colt along, as well as a back-up in the form of High Point’s 11-year-old gelding, Moss Me Moe. He’s the quarter-thoroughbred great-grandson of Easy Jet and Tonto Bars Hank on whom she recently won the rodeo in Ramona, Calif.

Incidentally, High Point also owned Boomer, on whom Charmayne James won Cheyenne Frontier Days one year. They raise and campaign pleasure, trail, Western Riding and jumping horses, and have a staggering bunch of talent in their new crop of barrel colts. According to McLeod, they have six Dash Ta Fame babies coming up, including two out of Fiesta and one out of Stingray. If the rodeo horses of High Point have the same success as their horse-show counterparts, world championships could eventually be had.

Consistency pays for Jones & Cobys Easy Sox at BRN4D Finals

By Tanya Randall

Sarah Jones and her 12-year-old gelding Cobys Easy Sox ("Red") earned the prestigious Open 1D Average Championship at the BRN4D ("Brand") Finals, held May 24-27 at the TRAC in Pasco, Wash. Jones collected $2,484 and won a Yukon utility vehicle.

"It's really cool," Jones said of her new UTV. "All the average winners had a barrel race with them after the awards ceremony. We raced the UTV's for $100. I guess I just like to go fast because I won that too. It was pretty comical."

Jones and Red won two of the four races over Memorial Weekend. Running on a WPRA Standard Pattern, they clocked a 17.070 to win Friday's $5,000-added and a 17.014 to win Sunday's $5,000-added.

"I had a little bobble on Saturday," said Jones, a former residential appraiser who now makes her living horseback. "He's so responsive and every little move I make he reacts to and I had a little bobble on the third. I was still like 11th with a 17.3."

Ironically, Jones's mother Cindy Davis won Saturday's race with a 17.133 for $1,046.

Both qualified for the Top 20 Championship Round, an optional run open to the 20 fastest runners from the prior three open runs. Jones had entered the pro rodeo in Coulee City, Wash., but ended up turning out. Weather and her good run of luck at the BRN4D Finals factored into her decision to turn out of the rodeo.

"I had the fastest time of the weekend so I ran last," recalled Jones, who now lives in Pueblo, Colo. "We would have won that too, but coming around the first I kicked the barrel over. I was heartbroken. I could not believe that I kicked that barrel over with my foot. I was still pretty proud of his 16.9 on a Standard Pattern. He worked awesome. He's such a cool horse."

By Sox Em Biankus out of Isle Go Easy, by Totally At Ease, Red was bred and raised by Jones' grandfather Dick Tetrick, Pomeroy, Wash. Her mother started the gelding and Jones took him to his first barrel race—the VGBRA Barrel Daze as a 6-year-old.

"Ever since I started running him, he's been pretty awesome," said Jones, 27. "Since then he's been my go-to man. I can count on him for pretty much everything. He's a cool horse. I've been really, really blessed to have him."

Jones started competing at the pro rodeos on Red a couple of years ago, and he's placed at such prestigious rodeos as Sisters, St. Paul and Molalla in the Columbia River Circuit. She has more pro rodeos in her future as she heads home from her grandparents in Washington to Pueblo.

"We're entered in Garden City, Kansas, Cortez, Colo., and Elizabeth, Colo.," said Jones, who wanted to thank her grandparents Dick and Barb for their hospitality during her stay in the Northwest for the spring run of futurities. "We're planning on going strong. Hopefully we'll be coming back up to the Northwest if everything goes right."

There is one hickey in her plans though—Red is for sale and there are some interested parties.

"If I still have him, we'll still be going hard," she said. "If not, I'll be riding the younger ones."

Ganter, Daniels speed to $10K in Stephenville

By Julie Mankin

Sixteen-year-old Jackie Ganter was the star of the CC5D Open show over Memorial Day Weekend in Stephenville, Texas – but a 9-year-old girl nearly dominated even more.

Running a total of five horses, Ganter recorded the fastest time in Lonestar Arena over the three days – a 15.076 – on 6-year-old A Special Colour to win the overall 1D and $1,878.

“I actually ran a 15.000 at the January race there this year, on another horse I have named Bobbie Gene,” she said.

It wasn't her only fast time. Ganter's 15.3 on 5-year-old Cartel's Fame also placed eighth in the overall 1D for $369, and she piloted 11-year-old Frenchmans Jester to a 15.5 for first in the 2D and an extra $1,610.

Ganter ran each of those three once a day from Saturday through Monday, so she also earned day money that came to $600. Additionally, since her times on A Special Colour and Cartel's Fame were also rolled over to the derby sidepot, she raked in an extra $605 for first and second in that.

But Ganter wasn't done. Rolling all her times to the Youth race, including her 15.7 on 5-year-old Roses For Ragtime, meant she also won the Youth 1D, actually pulling in four checks worth $580.

Ganter went home to Abilene with a total of $5,734 on the weekend aboard her herd of derby-age horses and one former NFR horse.

“I don't have a favorite – they're all so different and have such different styles that I love to run all of them,” she said.

Jordan Briggs campaigned both Jester and A Special Colour at futurities, while Sharin Hall was the jockey for owner Christian Chaney aboard Cartel's Fame in January when they won the 2013 Greg Olsen Memorial Derby in Arizona.

A Special Colour is by Hot Colours (Special Effort/Chicks Deck) out of a Frenchman's Guy daughter. Cartel's Fame is by Dash Ta Fame and out of Corona Koolaid – by Corona Cartel and out of a Streakin Six/Rocket Bar mare. And Roses For Ragtime is by a Jet Of Honor grandson named Ragtime Jet (an AQHA high-point barrel racing stallion) and out of an Otoe-bred mare.

“I plan to run the three younger horses I'm riding in some of the big remaining derbies this year and also to go to some open rodeos to further season them and get them ready for when I get my WPRA card in a year and a half,” said Ganter. “I have one other 5-year-old, Bobbie Gene [Dash Ta Fame x Flick Can Disco], who just stayed home for the weekend.”

Remarkably, 9-year-old Karsyn Daniels took second and third behind Ganter on one horse – Zan's Last Firewater – with times of 15.175 on Sunday and 15.108 on Monday. She earned $700 in day money and $3,112 in the overall 1D. Plus, she rolled her times into the Youth pot for another $311. All told, she stuffed $4,123 in her piggy bank.

The Daniels family of McKinney, Texas, bought Zan's Last Fire-

Old Fort Days Horse Sale Results

2013 High Selling Horse at the Old Fort Days Futurity Horse Sale Hip # 30, Yolo Yella, consigned by Boo Flournoy of Ocala, FL was purchased by Beth Miller of Pennsylvania for $22,000. Yolo Yella is a 2010 Palamino mare by Alive N Firen x VF Takin No Odds by No Compromises. Yolo Yella is also the High Selling Future Fortunes Horse.

Boo received a $500 Shopping Spree gift certificate donated by Classic Equine, and a black leather duffle bag from Future Fortunes. Congratulations to both Boo and Beth. We will look forward to seeing Yolo run next year in the futurity and running for the Sale side-pot money.

Headin' For Home

by Shery Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Do you remember my geese Click and Clack? The big grey ones who ran away from home? Well they have started to try to put the run on people. And all you geese haters are thinking, "Well, that's what geese do, why, I remember as a kid I got chased by...and you fill in the scenario here...or you stepped in you know what. But personally, I don't seem to be afraid of anything smaller than me or animals I am familiar with (or at least anything that I can drop kick across the yard!) So I was really surprised when my sister-in-law called me and told me the geese wouldn't let her out of the apartment door! I'm thinking.....SERIOUSLY!!!!

But Gloria is a city girl. She grew up in inner city L.A. She doesn't have any knowledge of a lot of animals/birds. BUT she has owned 2 rottweilers! (Aren't they the great big black dogs that weigh 150 pounds with real long fangs and fierce growls????) I told her to get a broom and whack them and I'd be home pretty soon. It was a successful exit...the right tool for the job!

You know, that's how most of us are. We are brave and fearless when we are familiar with circumstances/people/situations. But put a little change or challenge in there and uncertainty can creep in.

And God said.....THAT'S WHY I WANT YOU TO READ THE BIBLE AND GET TO KNOW ME SO WHEN THESE SCARY SITUATIONS COME UP YOU CAN GRAB THE RIGHT TOOL AND WHACK THE DEVIL WITH IT!!!! THE WORD, THE BLOOD OF JESUS AND THE NAME OF JESUS ARE YOUR TOOLS!!!!

Is that plain enough? Sure it is! And it's easy. Anyone can do it! So let's get informed. Let's read the Word and be smart about stuff. We do not want to be like this quote I read the other day that said,

"If you are a worrier, you are living in the right time because there is a lot to worry about!" LOL!

God bless you richly!
