Historic One-Two Punch—Siblings Take First & Second at Ruby Buckle Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Only in the age of embryo transfer could two full siblings take first and second at one of the richest futurities of the year.

Tres Chasin Babe PZ (“Rosie”), ridden by Brittany Tonozzi for Teton Ridge, topped the $280,000 Ruby Buckle Futurity, held April 24-30 in the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and the filly’s full brother Seis On The Chase, ridden by Ashley Schafer for Joe and Kelly Tovar, took second.

Both horses are by $4.8 million dollar barrel horse sire Tres Seis out of Tonozzi’s multiple NFR qualifier and aged event champion Babe On The Chase (“Birdie”), by Chasin Firewater. Birdie, who has earnings approaching a half million, is out of Tonozzi’s cornerstone mare Streakin Six Babe, a multiple NFR qualifying producing daughter of two-time WPRA World Champion sire Streakin Six.

“We are listed as the breeders but the Zerlottis should get the credit,” said Tonozzi. She and husband Garrett are listed as the papered breeders of both horses, while Mario Zerlotti was responsible for the pairing of Tres Seis and Birdie. “We sold them the embryos, but by turn of events, both horses ended up back in our program. We are just super proud to be a part of their careers.”

Chelly Zerlotti said the Tres Seis, Babe On The Chase cross turned out amazing and luckily she and husband Mario were in Guthrie to witness it.

“We knew Rosie was a freak,” said Zerlotti. “We knew Chase was doing better and better with Ashley Schafer. We knew he was going to do good sometime, but we never expected those two to be first and second in the same race.

“I don’t know when we’ll see this again. That doesn’t happen very often that twins win first and second. I’m pretty happy it happened this time.”

The Zerlottis also watched Bryanna Haluptzok win the first round of the Derby on her Tres Seis, Cat Mai Flash, that same day. The following day, Miss Rockin Vodka, a daughter of their late stallion Triple Vodka, a son of Tres Seis, was the high seller at the Ruby Buckle Sale at $130,000.

“We were extremely happy with Ruby Buckle results for ourselves,” added Zerlotti.

Zerlotti Genetics in Beeville, Texas, which is close to Tonozzi’s childhood hometown of Victoria, had served as her breeding center for many years. In 2018, the Zerlottis and Tonozzi did an embryo, stud fee swap.

“We have a partnership with the owner of Tres Seis and some mares, we always had some of his frozen semen at home so we could breed to him anytime we wanted,” Zerlotti explained. We didn’t have any barrel racing broodmares of our own, and when Brittany wanted to breed to him, she wanted to make a deal.”

Tonozzi chose to breed KissKiss BangBang (“Mona”) while the Zerlottis picked Birdie.

“Babe On The Chase was at our house a lot,” Zerlotti recalled. “We really liked her style, so we picked her. She double ovulated so we got two embryos.”

When the colt and filly were four months old, Tonozzi had a 3-year-old that Zerlotti wanted, so she traded the colt back. Tonozzi named her colt Seis On The Chase and the filly was named Tres Chasin Babe PZ, with the initials standing for the partnership between Mario Zerlotti and Guy Piexoto.

“We kept the filly,” Zerlotti said. “She was always really special. She had a really, really strong personality. She never walked. She trotted everywhere.”

As a 2-year-old Rosie was sent to Laura Castle, who put 40 rides on the filly. Then they got her ready for the 2021 Pink Buckle Sale, where she was the second highest seller commanding a $240,000 bid from Teton Ridge.

“I’m so glad Brittany ended up with that mare,” said Zerlotti. “When we posted on Facebook that Rosie was going to be in the Pink Buckle Sale we had so many calls with people offering money to buy her before. Then at the Pink Buckle a lot of big time breeders were bidding on her. When it was finished, I texted (Brittany) and said, ‘Do you know who bought her?’ because I couldn’t see. She said, ‘She’s coming to me!’”

The following year, Tonozzi sold Chase to the Tovars for $160,000 to be the third highest seller. Tonozzi, who had started the colt, had already sent him to Schafer to get more riding time before the sale since she was busy finishing up her 16th NFR qualification. The Tovars made the decision to leave him with Schafer for his campaign.

At Ruby Buckle, Rosie clocked a 17.032 to place fourth in the first round of the futurity and came back to win the second with a blistering 16.844 on a WPRA Standard Pattern. The average victory was worth $35,750. Rosie also finished fifth in the Open 1D average for another $9,412. Her career earnings are now just shy of the $100,000 mark.

Tonozzi said Rosie is similar to her mother in style but completely different in personality.

"They have very different personalities," said Tonozzi, who had escaped for a short non-horse vacation. "Rosie is a handful, whereas Birdie is very easy going and docile. The one way they're alike, you can feel how powerful they are leaving a turn."

Chase was also very consistent with a 17.156 and 16.939 on his two runs. He also placed 11th in the Open 1D Average for total earnings of $32,500. His earnings now stand at $55,000.

Incidentally, all the horses involved with the initial transaction between the Zerlottis and Tonozzi won money. Chitichiti Bangbang, Tonozzi's Tres Seis out of Mona, also won money. All totaled, the three horses resulting from that embryo, stud fee swap won $78,674 at Ruby Buckle.

Ruby Buckle Repeat For Kassie Mowry & KL Touch Of Heaven, Wins Derby & Open Titles

By Tanya Randall

Kassie Mowry and KL Touch Of Heaven ("Dove") backed up their 2022 Ruby Buckle Futurity Championship with two titles at the 2023 Ruby Buckle, held April 24-30 in the Lazy E Arena at Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Mowry and Dove topped the $125,000 Derby and $600,000 Open 4D for total earnings of $38,002. The derby victory was worth $18,276 and the Open paid $19,726. While all of that jumps Dove's lifetime earnings to more than $433,000, Mowry claimed $30,400 as Dove's owner, his breeder Karma Loftin, owner of his dam Junior Country Girl, earned $3,801 as did Whitmire Ranch, owner of his sire JL Dash Ta Heaven, now a $6.1 million dollar barrel horse sire.

At last year's event, Dove was a little challenging outside the arena as weather-related circumstances had made him more than a little fractious.

"I think I was panicking about him not panicking this time," laughed Mowry. "I literally asked myself several times, 'He's so quiet. Is he not feeling well?' I think he's just getting confident now."

Mowry and Dove clocked a 16.713 on their first run on the WPRA Standard Pattern on top of the ground and followed it up with a 17.033 on the bottom.

"He was really efficient on his first run, like flawless in his turns," she said. "I was really happy with how he worked. I was bottom of the ground my second run and I think the fastest time was run on the bottom, so it could be done. He's not a huge runner. When his feet get tied up and he has to start over, it's a little more taxing for him. I felt like overall he put a good pattern together. At the third, his feet got a little tied up together so he had to come out of his turn a little bit, but he still tried really hard and got it done." Dove, the 2022 EquiStat Leading Futurity Horse, hasn't run a whole lot this year. Mowry did crack him out at the Fort Worth Stock Show where he won his first pro rodeo money and advanced to the Semifinals, which Mowry unfortunately missed due to icy road conditions.

"I kind of threw that at him," Mowry said. "Will (her San Angelo and San Antonio rodeo champion CP He Will Be Epic) couldn't go, so he had to. I would have liked to have finished that out but with the weather I just couldn't make it back for my semifinal run.

"He showed some promise and he handled it a lot better than I thought. It was almost like sensory overload for him. There wasn't just one thing for him to be scared of. He was almost calmer because there was so much going on. I think it helped him rely on me more for comfort. I think he'll be able to handle it and I'm looking forward to taking him to some more rodeos.

"I think he'll be a really fun outside horse. He always hunts that first barrel, always. He always tries and is good on any type of ground. He's careful. I think he'll be fun. He'll be a nice back up for Emmett...and Will."

Mowry did take the time to tweak a few things and she also discovered that Dove had been battling ulcers late last fall even though the signs weren't glaringly obvious.

"He's fat and always eats, not finicky at all," she said. "The only thing he would do is when I would cinch him up he'd get uncomfortable and nervous. I ran some ulcer meds through him and that seemed to help him a lot. Since then, he's been a lot more even. He's striding out better. I've been keeping an eye on him with that." She also took the time to find the perfect bit for the gelding.

"When you're running for big money like we did last year at the futurities, you hate to try new stuff," she said. "This year I was trying different bits that I wanted to try last year that I just didn't have the courage to. It was just small, small changes, like same shank,

SPONSORS: EquiBrand (Classic Equine & Martin Saddlery) and Signature Equine

THANK YOU: To Ruby Buckle. "I'm really grateful for producers like them," said Mowry. "It was a fun show and very smoothly ran. I think the ground was excellent from start to finish. It's so hard to keep ground even over that many days and that many runs. I felt like from the beginning to the end you had a fair shot. Kudos to the ground crew for keeping it fast and good. Those were some really fast times and there were a lot of them."

different mouthpiece or same mouthpiece, different shank." What Mowry discovered she liked was the Billy Allen mouthpiece on the shank of the Spur Up 04.

"It's the same shank that I used on him to win the Breeders Challenge but instead of a two-piece, it's more a mullen with a Billy Allen. I've gone back and forth with the Billy Allen and you can't find one on a gag-type shank. The Billy Allen is easy to find a shank, any length shank you want, but it never has any slide to it. He needs a little slide to help him go into his turns right. It's funny how little things like that make a huge difference. When I used the bit with the Billy Allen he got too sharp in his turns but to find one with that type of gag shank has really been a game changer."

Mowry had L&S Bits, makers of the No Hit Bit, to build her the bit she needed.

"Those guys put it together for me and he's just been happy, happy," she said. "I don't think he likes a bit collapsing down on his mouth but he needs that slide. He doesn't like a chain curb. He has just the little string there. He's just been really happy since I got that bit and gave him a little ulcer meds. He's really come around and been happy and easy."

Driven Victory For Victoria Procter & NNN Sixums Firewater at BBR World Finals

By Tanya Randall

Texas A&M University junior Victoria Procter was gone four days for the 20th Annual Better Barrel Races (BBR) World Finals, held April 25-30 in the State Fairgrounds at Oklahoma City, and the Resistol Rookie Roundup, held April 28-29 in Cowtown Coliseum at Fort Worth, Texas.

She spent more than one day—26 hours at least—behind the wheel to make both events.

“(NFR qualifier) Emily Beisel had made a post on Facebook about needing to fire her secretary for her schedule this past weekend, and that she was her own secretary,” chuckled Procter. “I thought a lot about that post this weekend. I need to fire my secretary too! I just entered up. I’m exhausted and I have exams, but my mares made it all worth it!”

Procter and her 9-year-old mare NNN Sixums Firewater (“Bunny”) topped the BBR World Finals for $14,183. Then Bunny and Dealin N Firewater (“Quincy”) split the load for Procter to win second at the Resistol Rookie Roundup and jump to second in the WPRA Rookie Standings.

“They were both so amazing this weekend!” said Procter of her two mares.

A Wednesday evening exam in College Station, Texas, left Procter leaving late that evening for Oklahoma City. She had her first runs on both mares in the Smart Pak Qualifying Round in Barn 6 on Thursday morning.

Quincy, a 7-year-old daughter of Guys Real Deal out of Flittin Fire Bug, by Fire Easy, made a short go qualifying run after placing eighth in the 3D, but Bunny, a daughter of notable southeastern barrel horse sire Deep Sixum out of Miss Doubtfire Flit, by Fire Water Flit, didn’t fire and ended up in the middle of the 1D pack.

“She likes and excels at the rodeos,” Procter said of Bunny. “She felt like she needed a rodeo after her run in Barn 6. I was hoping that we’d be coming back (to the Finals) and I could have turned out (of her second run) but that’s not how it worked. God had a plan the whole time, even though I was a little scared and confused at first, and it worked out like it should.”

On Friday, Procter turned out of the Cowgirl Tuff 2D Invitational Shootout to make her first run at the Rookie Roundup. She and Bunny made a fourth place run that evening to advance to the Round of 8 on Saturday night, but first they had to return to Oklahoma City for their second runs at the BBR on Saturday morning.

Hyped up from her rodeo run, Bunny clocked her best time ever, a 15.538, in the Visit OKC Qualifying Round in the coliseum to qualify for the short round.

“She made a great run,” said Procter. “That was the best run I’d ever made in there. This is my third year at the BBR Finals with her. She’s made it to the Finals twice before in the 2D.”

Although the run did what she needed it to, Procter was a little concerned about how Bunny did it.

“She was kind of flinging her butt around and not getting in the ground. It was just weird,” she said. However, Procter didn’t have time to do much about it because she had to leave right after that run to make it to Fort Worth in time for her second run there. In Fort Worth, Procter ran Bunny in the Round of 8, placing fourth, which qualified her for the championship round an hour later. Since Bunny had already made two runs that day, Procter opted to ride Quincy for the championship.

“I was so nervous because it was a lot of pressure on Quincy and she had not done much in the rodeo world,” said Procter. “I never really get nervous on Bunny because she knows her job. It was a challenge for me to ride Quincy because they’re completely opposite.”

THE RUNDOWN w/Victoria Procter

NNN Sixums Firewater (“Bunny”) 14.2 h “She’s very little.”

BIT: Simplicity II. Tuned in a short shank mule mouth gag as opposed to her usual Loomis before BBR Short Go run.

HEADGEAR: Wire tiedown

SADDLE: Circle Y Tammy Fischer Treeless

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine Treeless Sport Saddle Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine front only.

SHOEING: Steel rims on all four; shod by J.O. Duke

FEED: Nutrena Triumph

HAY: Alfalfa and coastal

SUPPLEMENTS: Oxy-Gen Focus for every single run

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Soft Rides for every trailer ride; Darryl Elliot, chiropractor; BEMER blanket; XLR8 Blanket CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: I ride her just enough. I mainly long trot and lope circles. She’s a nervous horse so I try to keep her as calm as I can. She has this beauty contest mentality—she has to have the prettiest pattern. That’s great but sometimes she doesn’t fire as hard. The past two weeks I’ve been breezing her around Tammy’s arena. It’s not a small arena, but it’s not a track. Tammy and I have talked about this. It’s so much better than breezing them on the track because she’s got to slow down enough to collect her body for those turns around the corners but speed her body back up for the straights. I really think that got her firing this week.”

THANK YOU: Tammy Fischer and Ryann Pedone; parents Richard and Jena Procter; veterinarian Cody Johnson at Elgin Veterinary Hospital

Quincy clocked well enough to earn Procter the reserve championship.

“She really blew me away!” said Procter. “She did way better than

I thought she would have! That was her third perf ever! After that, I was like 'Everything's great!' I would have been fine with that!"

The elation gave her energy to make the return trip to Oklahoma City for the Classic Equine Short Go.

"I was so exhausted and my mom was like 'Maybe you should just come home.' I just couldn't turn out because it was such an incredible opportunity. So, I drove back and got there at 4 in the morning," she said.

She had her first run on Quincy, who was still a little tight from the short course at Fort Worth and caught the second barrel.

"When I went to Bunny's stall to get her ready, I told her, 'I drove a lot. You don't owe me anything, but let's just get a check so I made this drive last night worth it. I need a little momentum to go home on, a little adrenaline to get me the six hour drive home.'" Before her run on Bunny, Procter had time to school the mare a little and correct the issues she felt in their qualifying run on Saturday morning.

"She was getting too stiff on me and I made her round up around her barrels," she explained. "I really made her bend and pay attention to me."

A little angry from her schooling, Bunny took off on Procter in the alley.

"I thought if we're leaving early, we're going to leave fast, so I reached over and whipped her to the first," she recalled. "I remember Carl, the gate man, saying 'Go on, girl!' as I go running by. We smoked the first and remember hearing people yell so I thought we turned that one really good. She turned her second like she normally does. She didn't throw her butt out or float. I thought after that we just needed to get to the third and home. This is the easy part for us. I was literally shocked when I saw the time. Tears came out because I wasn't expecting that. She was almost a half-second faster than we were the day before. For her to go in there and work the way she did and give me her heart the way she did is just more than I could ever ask of her."

Procter, an agriculture business with an economics minor, grew up in Lampasas, Texas, started running barrels when she was 12.

"Wayne Brooks, who announces at the NFR and a bunch of big rodeos, is one of my dad's really good friends," she explained. "He told my dad that if we really wanted to get in and do it right, we needed to get with Tammy Fischer. The first time I really went around the barrels was at Tammy's house when I was 12."

When COVID hit her senior year, she relocated to Fischer's in Ledbetter.

"I called Tammy and asked if I could intern with her over the summer and never really moved out," she chuckled. "She hasn't kicked me out yet!"

Procter came across her two winning mares after losing her horse Rabbit right before her first college rodeo her freshman year at Texas A&M. Quincy came first and Bunny followed six months later. Both horses came from Ryann Pedone.

"My dad wanted me to get a rodeo horse because we had all these college rodeos. Bunny was our compromise. She hadn't been to any rodeos—and I wanted to season my own—but she was young and solid.

"Ryann called us in March. She said 'I have this incredible horse. I futuritized her and she placed in the 2D like everywhere. She's for sale again and I think this is a really incredible mare.' We went up and tried her at Glen Rose and I was third in the 1D. It felt really good. It's kind of been a fairy tale ever since."

Procter said there are no words to describe Bunny, who now has more than $100,000 in career earnings with her.

"I'd never thought I'd be at that point where we were winning amateurs and now I'm pro rodeoing on her," she said. "Never in my wildest dreams did I think I would be a contender at the BBR. I never have words for that mare. Every weekend she blows me away more and more. I owe her everything.”

“Ryann did a phenomenal job on her and Tammy’s done a great job with me to get me to where I can ride a horse of her caliber. When it comes down to it, that mare knows her job and I just try to stay out of her way enough to let her do it right.”

There’s no rest in sight for Procter and her herd. Although she only has one rodeo this week because of final exams, Procter, who finished second in her college rodeo region, is entered up at the pro rodeos through the College National Finals Rodeo in Casper, Wyoming.

“I want to go out there this summer and see what she feels best about, just kind of read her. I just want to do what she wants and what’s best for her.”

WPRA 75th Exhibit Set to Open at ProRodeo Hall of Fame on May 1

The Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) and the ProRodeo Hall of Fame have teamed up for the second time to bring fans and visitors an inside look at the history, members, and legends of the oldest women's sports organization in the world through a special exhibit. This year the exhibit is in honor of the WPRA's 75th anniversary.

The exhibit will officially open on Monday, May 1, 2023, when the ProRodeo Hall of Fame transitions from winter hours to summer hours. The exhibit is featured in the 101 Gallery and will remain up through mid-September.

"We are excited for all our visitors to see this special exhibit," said Kent Sturman, Director of the ProRodeo Hall of Fame. "We couldn't think of a better way to honor and celebrate WPRA's 75th and we believe our visitors will love this very unique and informative display."

The gallery is filled with major milestones of the WPRA during its 75 years in existence complete with clothing styles throughout the various decades. The largest clothing display was made possible by the family of the late Gayle Ann Brannon, who qualified for the NFR in 1973. Also featured in the exhibit are Top 15 NFR group images spanning 64 years with every year represented from 1974 through 2022 courtesy of Kenneth Springer. There is also special recognition to the All-Girls Rodeo, WPRA Breakaway Roping and the equine partners.

"We would like to thank the ProRodeo Hall of Fame for giving us this opportunity to bring our history to life through this special exhibit during our anniversary year," said Jimmie Munroe, President of the WPRA. "We invite all rodeo fans and fans of women's sports to come check out this exhibit. From the clothing to the history to the walk down memory lane with the Top 15 images it is a must-see exhibit."

The colorful history and equally colorful legends of professional rodeo live on at the ProRodeo Hall of Fame and Museum of the American Cowboy in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Since the Hall's opening in 1979, 294 people, 38 animals and 32 rodeo committees have been inducted (doesn't include the Class of 2023 in these numbers). Beginning in 2017, athletes of the WPRA were officially recognized with the addition of the barrel racing category in the ProRodeo Hall of Fame. The ProRodeo Hall of Fame summer hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week.

For more information on the ProRodeo Hall of Fame visit www.prorodeohalloffame.com.

Brazilian Rodeo Added to The Cowboy Channel

Rural Media Group, Inc. (RMG) announced today that it has partnered with Liga Nacional de Rodeio (LNR) to bring Brazilian rodeo to viewers in the United States. For 2023, there will be a confirmed total of 10 Brazilian rodeos that will air on The Cowboy Channel, including Barretos, one of the grandest events in the world, and Brazil's most popular rodeo, which takes place every August outside Sao Paulo. The plan is for each Brazilian rodeo to be recorded live with the LNR TV production team on-site in Brazil, and then be turned around in post-production within seven days adding in English commentary to broadcast on The Cowboy Channel and live stream + VOD on its digital platform Cowboy Channel+.

"I have been fascinated by the enthusiasm for western sports in Brazil since first going to Barretos for a PBR event in 2006," stated Patrick Gottsch, Founder of Rural Media Group, Inc. "Over 80,000 fans packed the stadium that night, all night, and I was hooked. Since then, we have made several trips to Sao Paulo and developed some close friendships in Brazil with leaders in both the country's broadcast and rodeo industries, who share our passion for agriculture and the western way of life. I am so proud to finally be partners with Marcos Abud and LNR to bring these great Brazilian rodeos to our North American audiences."

The first Brazilian rodeo, Braganca Paulista, took place this past weekend April 20th-22nd in Sao Paulo and is scheduled to air the week of May 1st on The Cowboy Channel. The schedule is as follows for the 2023 Brazilian Rodeo Schedule on The Cowboy Channel:

BRAGANCA PAULISTA – SP – April 20th-22nd / Broadcast May 1st
RIBEIRÃO PRETO – SP – April 29th-30th / Broadcast May 7th
CAJAMAR – SP – May 26th-27th / Broadcast June 5th
OURINHOS – SP – June 15th-18th / Broadcast June 26th
ORLÂNDIA – SP – July 6th-8th / Broadcast July 17th

JUÍNA – MT – August 3th-6th / Broadcast August 13th

BARRETOS – SP (FINALS LNR) – August 21st-23rd and August 26th / Broadcast September 4th

BARRETOS – SP (INTERNATIONAL) – August 24th-27th / Broadcast September 6th

IPUÃ – SP – September 7th-9th / Broadcast September 18th

ITAQUAQUECETUBA – SP – September 7th-9th / Broadcast September 20th

"We are very proud to be part of this new partnership providing, via LNR TV, a taste of our Brazilian cowboy culture to the United States audience," said Marcos Abud, President of LNR. "This opportunity with The Cowboy Channel is a big deal for Brazil and Brazilian Rodeo. Patrick and his team have a true passion for the sport of rodeo and showcasing the talents of Brazilian cowboys. We have a long-term friendship, and I could not admire more his work at The Cowboy Channel."

More information about Brazilian rodeo on The Cowboy Channel will be released soon. To stay updated on future programming updates, news, and information, please sign up for our newsletters by visiting www.thecowboychannel.com.

WRWC Announces 2024 Qualifier Series Events

The Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC) recently announced its Qualifier Series Events for the 2024 season. The first event will be held during the 2024 Cowgirl Gathering on May 14-16 in Fort Worth, Texas. The series will have eight dedicated stops to team roping, breakaway roping, and barrel racing. Each event will include a challenger and pro classification. Qualifiers will begin in mid-May 2023 and conclude with its final qualifier in Amarillo, Texas, at the Amarillo All Girl on March 16, 2024.

The $750,000 WRWC is the richest women's rodeo of all time. The event has paid out $2.25 million to women rodeo athletes since 2020.

Athletes can earn a generic qualification to the 2024 WRWC by participating in Qualifier Series events. The Qualifier Series is a string of events held before the 2024 WRWC where athletes who nominate and place in the top spot in their respected discipline at the qualifier will earn a generic qualification to the 2024 WRWC. Positions earned automatically place the athlete in the Qualifying Round of the WRWC regardless of leaderboard position.

During the 2022 WRWC, Martha Angelone earned a qualifier series position through the 2023 Cowgirl Gathering. Angelone battled through the qualifying round and delivered a ground-breaking performance to win the 2023 WRWC Breakaway roping championship. Angelone became the first breakaway roper to take home the coveted $60,000 payday, who also earned her position through a qualifier series event.

Here is a look at the events that will serve as a 2024 Qualifier Series Event:

Event Name	Location	Dates
Cowgirl Gathering	Fort Worth, TX	May 14-16, 2023

Bizzy Bee Stone Oak Barrel Bash	Stephenville, TX	Feb. 23-25, 2024
Amarillo All Girl	Amarillo, TX	March 16, 2024

Athletes who hope to earn a QS position in the 2024 event must compete and nominate their efforts with WCRA. If they are the highest placing nominated Pro or Challenger athlete, they earn the generic qualification to the $750,000 event. Athletes can also contact support@wrwc.rodeo.

The world championship event is open to any female athlete over 13 years old competing in breakaway roping, barrel racing, and team roping is eligible.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

"Stop saying what's happening. . . . And start saying what's written." The Lord spoke this to me not long ago. It seems everywhere I went, all I heard was bad news. Why is it that the news you hear first is always BAD news? Human nature. So here we are, spouting out the bad, the ugly, the sad and totally forgetting that there is good news out there. We need to change our thinking. For instance, if you read that there is 7% unemployment, translate that into, "well that means that 93% of us have jobs." See?

Things were pretty rough for Jesus those 40 days He was in the desert. And the stinking devil kept coming to Him and trying to get Him to quit, give up and bow down to him. Read the whole account in Matthew 4:1-11.

BUT JESUS knew how to beat the devil. He just kept saying, "It is written." Jesus never gave in! He just kept answering the trouble with the Word of God. And the Bible says that the devil gave up and "left Him for a more opportune time." That opportune time never came. Jesus showed us how to handle trouble. We don't talk about it. Instead we talk the answer! We say, "It is written"! And if we will consistently speak the truth of God's Word, the devil will go elsewhere. And that's exactly where we want him.
