Going to Xtreme -- Jenna Duhon & LJ Rearview Ta Fame Win in Reno

By Tanya Randall

Jenna Duhon and the 5-year-old futurity horse LJ Rearview Ta Fame topped the 1D Average at the Reno Xtreme Barrel Race in Nevada.

"This is the first weekend that he really showed what he can do," said the Phoenix, Ariz., barrel horse trainer. "I drug a lot of barrels over on him in January and I drug some barrels down in Heber City that cost us some money a couple of weeks ago. This weekend we just got our act together, I guess."

Dubbed the "Biggest Little Barrel Race in the World," a play on the host city's motto, the Xtreme Barrel Race offered three $10,000 added Open 5Ds and a slew of fabulous prizes.

"They're great!" said Duhon. "That's why I traveled so far to go to this one. I've always liked their races and how they were ran when they were in Salina and Heber City, so I knew it would be really well run. I knew it would be a good event and worth the drive. The saddles they gave away were from their custom line, so not only was it a beautiful saddle; it was something that you could ride."

Duhon and Rearview's share of the purse was $3,210. They were fourth in the 1D on Friday and 12th on Saturday on a less than stellar run after Rearview possibly cast himself in the stall.

"On Saturday, even though I placed on him, he had a cut right between his ears and he kind of shook his head the whole run," Duhon explained. "He had some paint on his front feet and I bet he tried to roll in his box stall or something. Luckily, Kelli Heidt with Animal Crackers was up there. She worked on him and put his poll back in for me Saturday evening and got him all fixed up for me."

On Sunday, they turned in the fastest time of the event to wrap up the win and 1D Average.

"It was a really excellent surprise," said Duhon. "I really felt like he was really special from right away, but it was nice to have it come together this weekend and let other people see what I felt he was. That was fun."

Bred by Lee and Marijane Jolley of Albion, Idaho, Rearview is by JB Proud N Famous out of LJ Little Sista, by Easy On Limits.

"His mother is a full sister to the gelding that Julianne Jolley was very successful at the rodeos on," explained Duhon of the double-bred Easy Jet mare. "His mom never performed on the track or in the arena because she got cut as a baby that went into the hock joint."

Duhon purchased Rearview in the summer of his third year for Dawnee Robinson of Mesilla Park, N.M. The plan is once Duhon has him working solid Robinson's daughter Whitney will take over. The naturally turny gelding always showed promise but was plagued with downed barrels early in his futurity career.

"He's always wanted to be a turner," said Duhon. "He was real natural. He got his head under the lead rope last fall and got a little sore in his neck and kind of out of whack. He didn't really have a good December and January. It was a little bit of struggle to get through those futurities and then this spring since he's not sore he's gone back to where he wants to work."

As of right now, the only major event Rearview has on his schedule is the Colorado Classic Futurity in June, but between now and then, Duhon said she doesn't have any definite plans for the gelding.

"I don't really have anything picked out yet," she said. "The Colorado Classic Futurity is for sure on the books I figured I'd slow back down and go back to doing some slow stuff after this weekend. We'll let him tell us what's next."

Duhon wanted to thank the Robinsons "for letting me pick him out and train and ride him. They're great owners and are always for what's the best for the horse. It's a pleasure to ride for them."

Surviving the Storm – Holdinalltheseises & Pete Oen Triumph at Josey Reunion

By Tanya Randall

Pete Oen and the 4-year-old futurity horse Holdinalltheseises (“Rolex”), owned by the Shoppa Ranch, Decatur, Texas, topped a rain-drenched Josey Reunion, held at R.E. and Martha Josey’s Ranch in Karnack, Texas, for $3,338 and a slew of prizes including a year’s use of horse trailer.

“The weather was crazy,” said Oen, who trains out of Ardmore, Okla. “I had five horses entered and I only ran one horse on Friday before the rain hit. Rolex was my second horse to run; it wasn’t muddy yet, but it was darn sure wet and we were running in the rain. My last three—they needed rubber boots on. They were jumping water puddles! I couldn’t hardly see my first barrel on my last two runs because it was raining so hard. It was crazy! I was soaked clear through to my underwear when I got done running! It was quite the adventure. I almost scratched the last two or three but I thought maybe they’d get in. Ryann (Pedone) was like ‘Oh you’ve just got to get in the spirit of it.’ Even though none of those horses got back in, I told her maybe we were getting those horses experience for the rodeos with the next girls!”

The race was delayed for the second go as the Josey crew worked to get the ground as best as the could under the circumstances. (The rain in East Texas had been so bad overnight that six people were killed in floodwaters two hours to the southwest of Josey’s.)

“It was reverse order and my horses still ran in the muddier conditions before the sun came out and the ground got drier,” said Oen, who is sponsored by Met-Vet Pharmaceuticals, Outlaw Equine, Equi-Resp, Bluebonnet Feeds. “Rolex was my fourth horse to run so he did get the better ground. I qualified three horses back in the 2D and I qualified Rolex back in the 1D.”

Rolex’s 16.391 actually finished second in the second round with only three horses in the 1D. And although Dana Haas had a faster time, she had actually qualified in the 3D on her first run, so that left Oen running last in the short go, which ran slowest to fastest.

“I actually got a clean drag of my own,” said Oen, who attended a Josey clinic in 2011. “I was sitting there by myself and I looked up toward the arena and saw the crowd and everyone was just staring at me. I thought, ‘Ok, I’m not going to look up again!’ It was a little bit nerve-wracking. I took a big deep breath and let him run down the alley. I let him run pretty hard to the first barrel. I knew if I was going to try to win it I had to go ahead and let him run. And, he inhaled the first barrel. I thought he was flying to the first when he turned it. The second barrel, he stepped in a little bit on me and I thought I was going to hit it, but he didn’t. My third barrel was pretty smooth, but it wasn’t a super tight turn. He just kept running through the entire run. When I turned the third I thought he had a pretty chance of placing but I wasn’t confident that he had a shot at winning it. I didn’t even look over at the timer. I thought I heard him say 15.8, but in the midst of that everyone starts screaming, so I thought ‘I guess I just won!’”

Oen started riding Rolex a couple of months prior to last year’s BFA Futurity. The Shoppa Ranch-bred gelding is by Tres Seis out of Bountiful Bootie, by Spanish Boot. Bountiful Bootie, out of April Coyote Skunk, was the 2011 AQHYA Reserve World Champion with Kristin Shoppa and was the 2010 WPRA Finals Derby Reserve Champion with Kristen Weaver-Brown. April Coyote Skunk, a granddaughter of Doc Quixote, was a top performing reined cow-

THE RUNDOWN w/ Pete Oen

Holdinalltheseises, “Rolex” 15.1 hands, 1,000 lbs.
BIT: Switched to a twisted wire loomis for the second go and finals. “He runs in a whole lot of no bridle.”
SADDLE: Ammerman
SADDLE PAD: Best Ever
LEG GEAR: Iconoclast, but polo wraps at Josey’s. “I Had enough polo wraps to use a pair for a run and then throw them in a bag to be washed rather than trying to wash the boots off after every run.”
FEED: Bluebonnet & Alfalfa
SUPPLEMENTS: In-Sync, Gastro-Plex & Exceed 6-Way
ADDITIONAL THERAPY: Theraplate three days a week, Equi-Resp treatment two to three times, Vet care for Rolex by Dr. Don Lee horse, having placed third at the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Open Futurity.

“Ryann Pedone had been riding him for the Shoppa Ranch,” said Oen. “I rode him for a couple of weeks and kind of liked him. She had sent him to me to sell, but when I told her that I was kind of liking him, she told me to keep riding and I could run him for Shoppa Ranch.”

Oen and Rolex placed in one of the slot races in Arizona, placed in the BFA Futurity average at the LG Pro Classic and had about $14,000 won prior to Josey’s.

“He seems to like the bigger, wide open stuff,” he said. “He likes to be outside. He liked the standard pattern in Arizona. If I had to run him into the walls, he doesn’t like that setup.”

Oen wanted to thank the Shoppa’s for the opportunity to ride Rolex and Pedone for pairing him with another winner. His 2015 futurity standout Hip Swinging Gypsy was a product of Pedone’s breeding program.

Pay It Forward with Jill Moody

By Jill Moody

Rainy days and Mondays would be an opportune time to spend on the internet now that social media has taken over personal interaction but if you limit yourself to those parameters you will likely miss out on a lot of “stuff”. I’m not much of a conversationalist so social media allows me to interact with my friends without actual conversation.

Texting is the best thing ever! Talk without talking, visit without visiting. How convenient is that? Back in the day we had to actually open our mouths and emit words to communicate or rely on the USPS to deliver our messages via snail mail. Today everything is a click away.... email, instant messaging, facebook, instagram, facetime, youtube.

My question pertaining to the ever evolving world of cyberspace is, “How do people find the time to interact on social media 24/7?” I can’t keep up with facebook so I don’t even try to partake in tweeting or twittering or any of the other venues. My facebook page is public, once something goes on the internet it’s a free for all anyway. Most of my “friends” I don’t know but if people feel the need to “follow” me so be it. The more the merrier!

I do like to investigate what my family and actual friends are up to and I have gained valuable information from social media. My problem is that once I post something I am consumed in checking comments and “likes”. Grrrr. I don’t have time to check my notifications every other minute but I will! I might miss out on something and I have FOMO (fear of missing out).

I appreciate the fact that social media is free networking and free advertising and I applaud those who can utilize it as such. I find it frustrating. The horse won’t stand for me to take a decent picture, the day I need a video is the day the horse performs subpar, it won’t upload, it won’t download, it won’t steam, and so on and so forth.

If I do manage to get a satisfactory video or picture and all systems cooperate and it gets to the proper place in cyberspace my FOMO kicks in and I don’t get much accomplished because I’m engrossed in my phone. Grrr again!

Oh yeah, then there’s that darn phone, aka mini-computer, that doesn’t ring but rather sings. Is the singing ring supposed to lessen the aggravation, especially if that ringing or singing is about to get you bucked off? But, by all means don’t leave that phone alone for one second because somebody is trying to get in touch with you...NOW! They aren’t looking for you; they know where you are because they can track you via your phone. You can’t hide from anyone anymore and fibbing your way out of a situation is becoming difficult. I guess am just not that good at multitasking but with that said I need two hands to run a pitchfork, push the wheelbarrow, throw hay bales, catch my horse, saddle, unsaddle, etc. I like to share the fun things, the important things, and sometimes the tragic events in my life but before I do I have to make sure I have the time to click and scroll because once I hit the send or share button my FOMO kicks in and game over....LOL!

Gilbert Claims First CPRA Win at the Drayton Valley Pro Rodeo

Colby Gilbert is making a good showing this year after her first Canadian Professional Rodeo Association win at the Drayton Valley Pro Rodeo. Gilbert collected a first place cheque of $1,978.70 unofficially after her 13.344 second run.

This may be her rookie year but she is no stranger to the rodeo world. Gilbert's father, Steven Gilbert, is a past CPRA Steer Wrestler and Mother, Andrea Udal, is a Canadian Barrel Horse Incentive Champion, but now she's ready to make her own mark in the rodeo world.

"[My mom] got me in to the CCA rodeos young and I've been going to those since 2008," said Gilbert of her successful start in rodeo, becoming the Canadian Cowboy's Association Rookie of the Year and Finals Champion in 2014.

The 21-year-old has already had a good start to her season, filling her Semi Pro Card requirements by placing at the Medicine Hat Broncs and Honky Tonks Rodeo and then gaining her first win just three weeks later at Drayton Valley.

"It was great, I kind of went in a little nervous, I knew it was fast and tough. We went there for the weekend and got the horses in the arena for a while because I am on a younger horse and she worked outstanding. I got out and I thought 'holy man that just happened really fast,'" said Gilbert.

Gilbert's horse "Streakin' Ta Corona", otherwise known as "Famous", may be young but already has a resume of accomplishments behind her. The now six-year-old mare, owned by Corny and Maria Wiebe, was ridden by Gilbert's mother last year and won the title of 2015 Canadian Hi Point Futurity Champion.

"Now I'm going to start hitting the trail, CFR is always a goal and rookie of the year would be great. I'm just taking it one stride at a time, on a young horse you never know what will happen but she's sure proving herself pretty great so far," said Gilbert.

In between blazing fast runs, the fourth year nursing student spends her time working on her degree, something she hopes will be a good fit for her rodeo schedule in the future.

"It's kind of why I chose nursing, because it's so flexible and I can work anywhere. I would love to head down to Arizona eventually and work down there and hopefully it meshes well with the rodeo career," said Gilbert.

That budding professional rodeo career seems to be ready to bloom this season after Gilbert's win on the weekend. The Maple Creek, Saskatchewan cowgirl says she's excited about her horse's performance so far and adds that the mare seems to perform even better in outdoor pens so she hopes to continue

Another competitor that was on top of his game this weekend was Jesse Popescul who took home the Ron Harden Memorial Hi Point Award. Popescul placed third in the Tie Down Roping to collect $1,390.26 and after a fourth place finish in the Team Roping, collecting $809.34, the Glentworth, Saskatchewan cowboy took home the highest total paycheck of the weekend with $2,199.40 unofficially.

"I just want to thank the Drayton Valley Pro Rodeo Committee for putting on a great event and putting up these awesome awards. It seems like it's always a bonus to have success in two events at the same place. I just feel fortunate that things worked out," said Popescul.

Other competitors topping the leaderboard this weekend were: Logan Hodson, who placed first in the Bareback Riding with 85 points on Duffy Rodeo's "Blue Jeans" for $1,264.86. Scott Guentner came in hot off the American rodeo trail to win the Steer Wrestling at his first rodeo back on Canadian soil with a 3.6 second run, winning $1,859.32.

Braidy Davies and Chase Simpson topped the team ropers with their 5.0 second run to collect $1,329.63 each, making that three cheques in a row for the multi-time CFR Qualifiers. Another competitor that is no stranger to the CPRA leaderboard is Blackfoot, Idaho's Clint Arave, who bested his Tie Down Roping competition with a 8.5 second run and a $1,880.94 cheque.

There were also some ties on the leaderboard this weekend with Sam Kelts and Layton Green topping the charts with 83 points on C+ Rodeo's "Unleashed" and Duffy Rodeo's "Broken Nose" respectively to win $1,260.45 each. In the Bull Riding there was a trifecta of 86.5 point scores from Scott Schiffner on "Hookums", Jordan Hansen on "Blue Wing", and Zane Lambert on "Little Aylmer", all from the Duffy Rodeo herd. Each bull rider collected a $1,109.95 cheque.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

You know, sometimes it's not easy being a pastor's wife. People have these silly expectations of what THEY think YOU should do and what they think your job is. For example....

"Do you sing and play the piano?".....nope.
"I don't want YOU to pray for me, I want MIKE to pray for me.".....oh for Pete's sake!
"Excuse me, but I want to talk to the Pastor.".....by all means.
"My husband is mad at you and wants to confront you because he knows I talked to you about our failing marriage.".....I DOUBLE DOG DARE HIM!

And the stories go on and on.....
At first, it was pretty frustrating. Here I am...a barrel racer/horse lover/barrel race producer thrust into a job I never dreamed would happen to me. And to top it all off, I wasn't raised in any church. I was a HEATHEN!!! What did I know about being a pastor's wife? Nothing....

But I knew God! And over the years He has taught me that He created each of us just like HE wants us. No, I can't sing or play the piano, but I am very good at other needed things. So as time has gone on, I have developed the fruit of patience. James 1:4 says, "Let patience have her perfect work, that we may be perfect and complete, lacking nothing." And some wisdom. I don't want people to pigeon hole me, so I try really hard to do them the same courtesy. And to enjoy watching the gift that God has put in them! It's fun! Try it this week!
