Ceri Ward & Nonstop Lane Ta Fame Find Path to Success at Run At The Rose

By Tanya Randall

Ceri Ward guided Sharin Hall's Nonstop Lane Ta Fame to a $6,932 championship in the 102-entry, $15,000-added Horse Hair Analysis Futurity at the Run At The Rose, held June 7-9 in Montrose, Colorado. Ward and "Laney" picked up an additional $1,998 in open carryovers for total earnings of $8,930 plus another $4,171 in Select Stallion Stakes & Royal Crown payouts for an event total of $13,101.

"She's just a really good mare," said Ward, who first catch rode the mare for Hall at the BBR Futurity. "She's super easy and she tries really hard. She just wants to do her job. She's a good horse."

Ward, who trains out of Ardmore, Oklahoma, took seven horses—four futurity and three derby/maturity—with her to Colorado.

"It was a pretty good week. I placed sixth on Gambling Slick, ninth on BTR Moonflash and 12th on Epic Covid Effects," said Ward, who also placed in the derby on Lighters In The Dark.

Laney was actually the first of Ward's futurity quartet to run down the alley. She was second fastest in the first round with a 15.434 and came back with a consistent 15.458 for fifth on the next run.

"She just made two good, easy solid runs," said Ward. "The first run, I thought I was going to hit the first barrel leaving it; I had to roll my hips and step her around it a little bit, but she was just running and moving forwards. The second run, I let her get in on me a little at the third and she let me handle her. She maybe could have been a little bit faster, but it worked out for winning the average."

Although she knew she had a good shot at the average after doing so well in the first round, Ward was too busy to pay attention to what was getting done by her competitors. Plus, she wanted to focus on staying aggressive and letting her horses work.

"I was just going to do my job and see how it turned out in the end," she said. "It was probably a blessing that I didn't know what anybody had done."

About Laney

Bred by Chuck and Mary Crago, Laney is the third generation product of their breeding program. She is by 14 million dollar sire The Goodbye Lane out of CM Famous Victory, a Famous Bugs daughter that the Cragos raised out of CM Bubblin Dynamite.

Hall purchased the mare as a yearling. Laney was training really well until Hall got hurt in the 2023 BFA Super Stakes. This year, Hall let Dale Long start off with Laney.

"Dale made her first few runs on her," she said. "I feel like he really helped step her up out of exhibitions."

Hall ran Laney at the Select Stallion Stakes Futurity in March and Diamond Classic in April.

"I feel like I got her round and solid," she said. "Then I got hurt at the BBR (World Finals) on my very first run on (Hello) Stella. I fractured my patella, so I had Ceri jump on her. I thought it was a pretty good fit."

With the Ruby Buckle on the heels of the BBR World Finals, Ward had only taken a couple of horses to run in the futurity, so she had time for Hall's catch ride.

"I don't jump ride that much anymore, but I used to," said Ward. "I had watched that mare go all year. I'd watched her a little with Sharin and a little with Dale. I always liked her. I was excited to get to ride her. She fits me good."

Ward and Laney placed at the Old Fort Days Futurity and qualified for the Breeders Challenge Finale at the Royal Crown in Guthrie. It made sense for Hall to leave Laney with Ward through the two Colorado futurities since she had a conflict with her rodeo schedule.

"I just decided that I'm going to do rodeos this year," said Hall, who is currently in the WPRA's Top 30. "I don't need it, but I feel like my horse deserves to be there."

Hall also plans on having Laney to help her great mare Stella this summer.

"It's really hard when you just have one (horse)," she said. "It's such a grind, even when you're only gone six weeks. I'm really hoping that Laney steps up and can help a little bit. This seems to be really good timing."

"(Laney) didn't pop off at the beginning of the year, but she just made solid runs every time. She's kind of finding her speed now and getting confident. I feel like that's why she's where she's at. I've just kept her really solid and not pushed her past her point and waited on her, and she's showing up. I'm very proud of her."

Jordan Bailey & Ima Girl Fame Top Mike Mini Slot Race at Run At The Rose

By Tanya Randall

Onalaska, Washington, based trainer Jordan Bailey got her two-week stay in Montrose, Colorado, topped off with a $6,394 victory aboard Ima Girl Fame ("Olive"), raised and owned by her mother Tammy, in the $5,000-added, 75-entry Mike Mini Memorial 3D Slot Race, which kicked off the Run At The Rose, held June 6-8.

"I really wasn't expecting that from her," said Bailey. "We've never run at this high of elevation. I really just wanted a clean smooth run because she'll clock for me as long as I do my job. She didn't feel like she wanted to fire super hard, but it felt pretty smooth for the most part."

Bailey and Olive also placed sixth in the $3,000-added Derby the next day to add $1,408 to their earnings.

Olive, 7, is the leading money earner by Scottie Johnson's late Mulberry Fame, a son of Dash Ta Fame out of the great Mulberry Canyon Moon. She is out of the Judge Cash mare Ima Girl Judge.

"Her mother was a big mare that my mother ran," said Bailey. "She was super powerful and really business."

Bailey, who also won a check on Olive's three-quarter sister Ima Girl Dash, by Dash Ta Fame, has trained and ridden all four of Ima Girl Judge's babies.

"They get a lot of drive and work ethic (from her)," said Bailey. "They want a job so bad. Every single one of them has been like that."

An accident as a 2-year-old almost ended Olive's performance career before she was ever started under saddle.

"She hit her knee, and it abscessed in four different spots," Bailey explained. "It took over eight months to heal. About a year afterward, the vet was over at the house and said, 'Why don't we look at that mare?' She was sound and we broke her to ride."

Bailey did all of the mare's training, from her first ride to her barrel training. Unfortunately, Olive's career almost derailed again after a bout with equine protozoal myeloencephalitis (EPM).

"She didn't really do anything special in the spring of her futurity year," recalled Bailey. "In the summer, she started to clock in the 1D and by the end of summer, she was clocking consistently in the 1D."

Now, in her second derby year, QData has her earnings at nearly $150,000.

EQUI BRAND

Heidi Gunderson and Wonder If Im Lucky Sweep Grid Iron Futurity for a $9K Payday

By Julie Mankin

Minnesota trainer Heidi Gunderson quit her teaching job this year, and it's paying off in the arena. She took a 4-year-old to the big Grid Iron Futurity in Bowman, N.D., on June 5-7, where she won both rounds and the average – by almost four-tenths – against mostly 5-year-olds. The last time she entered the Grid Iron, it was in Spearfish, S.D., and she ran a 4-year-old and swept it then, too. But this particular colt had more expectations riding on his back. Gunderson was on Shannon Kulseth's Wonder If Im Lucky ("Casey") – the colt that topped more than 300 horses to win the 2024 BFA Juvenile Futurity as a 3-year-old.

"He's a phenomenal horse," said Gunderson of Murdock, Minn. "Shannon owns a 5-year-old Dash Ta Fame colt I'm also running, and she didn't know if she wanted to campaign two the same year. I said, 'Well, he's ready. I don't really want to wait on him!'"

Gunderson won the first round by a tenth, and the second round with the only sub-15-second run of the futurity, also by over a tenth of a second.

Casey dominated the Grid Iron wearing a tiedown. Casey has worn a tie-down since he was a 2-year-old. "He's kind of high-headed, and I knew right away he would always need one," said Gunderson. "If he spooks, his head goes up. And he spooks a lot. When I won the BFA, I got message after message, people asking why I use a tie-down."

But Gunderson trains a horse to give to it, and thinks of it less as some kind of Band-Aid and more of a tool that helps her, that horses can learn to use to their advantage.

"He will bury his hind end and is so athletic that he has a ton of push out of his turns," said Gunderson. "After our 15.2 won the round, my husband told me to send him harder to first. Sometimes this colt will see people in the crowd and float out of a turn, so I've been trying to handle him a little too much there. That second day, I just kind of sent him in there and trusted him more. So, when he left that turn, he was moving. He was just in and out of there so fast."

Their 30.187 seconds on two runs won the average by nearly four-tenths of a second for $2,724. But that wasn't all. The two runs also won both rounds and the average of the Breeder's Futurity for $2,496.

It's worth noting that Kelly Conrado placed third, fifth and seventh in the futurity and placed in the Breeder's Maturity, all on horses related to his daughter Ivy Saeben's former NFR mare Cfour Tibbie Stinson. Conrado won $2,466 on two half-sisters of Tibbie and $6,553 on three offspring of the great mare, now 16 and owned by 88 Ranch.

As for Gunderson, her smoking 14.9 placed second in the Low Stakes and won both the Mid Stakes and High Stakes sidepots for another $3,378. Oh, and her first-round time was also third in Friday's Open for $390. Casey's two runs banked Gunderson $8,988 total.

"Even when he makes a run that's not that great, he still clocks," said Gunderson. "When he really lays down a run, you know when you cross the timer it's going to be really good."

Heidi's husband, Mark Gunderson, starts all her colts including Casey, and keeps them ridden down for her when she's busy, too. Living northwest of Minneapolis, she used to only be able to ride from April through November, but the pair built an 80x120 indoor barn during the pandemic to allow year-round patterning. Today, they have 20 head of outside horses at their place.

"I've been wanting to do this full-time for a long time," said 45-year-old Gunderson, a veteran teacher whose sons are now 21 and 18. "This year, I thought about it and prayed about it a lot.

THANK YOUS: Shannon, for trusting us with the horses and letting us do what needs to be done; Mark, who I wish could travel with me but stays here to make sure next year's horses will be ready; who's my business partner and best friend and doesn't get enough credit; plus our kids who let me do this – follow this dream – and my sponsors.

SPONSORS: (All with Minnesota roots) Cowgirl Tuff, 14.2 Hand Tack, MVP, Buckeye Nutrition, Hay Chix

Then we won the BFA, and that felt like a sign."

Kulseth had purchased Casey as a long yearling at the 2022 OKC Futurity Sale and sent him straight to Gunderson. Wonder If Im Lucky's breeder, Stephanie Langford-Cleveland, has been a good friend of Gunderson's since she bought a horse from her about seven years ago. Last year, Gunderson won the WPRA Futurity world championship on Kulseth's 5-year-old mare, also by Lucky Wonder Horse, that Lisa Lockhart has now.

"This is the third Lucky Wonder Horse we've trained," said Gunderson of the stallion out of the Alan Woodbury's NFR mare Rosa.

Royal South Dakota bloodlines make up Casey's papers. The bay colt is by Myers Performance Horses' Lucky Wonder Horse (First Down Dash x Rosa's Cantina CC), and out of TS Sunny's Superstar – a mare that is Sun Frost bred along with Doc's Superstar Bar and Peppy San breeding.

Gunderson thinks growing up on her dad's cattle ranch, from roping and doctoring to dragging calves to the fire, helped her know how to ride green horses – because she and her three siblings were raised on unbroke horses.

Friday Futurity

*Almost every successful person begins with two beliefs:
the future can be better than the present, AND I have the power to make it so.*

MacDonald's & Homebred Foxys Mine Wins Alberta Rodeo for $5K

By Julie Mankin

At the 70th anniversary of the Lea Park Rodeo in Marwayne, Alberta, held June 6-8, Traci MacDonald clocked a 16.42, which won the big one-run rodeo in her home province by .16 seconds over Taylor Cherry to pay $5,339.

"He's very fast," said MacDonald of her 10-year-old gelding, Foxy's Mine ("Ralph"). "He had a really good first barrel and it just shot him straight across the pen, so he had a really good run."

MacDonald, a four-time Canadian Finals Rodeo qualifier, bred Ralph out of her good barrel mare Foxy Crime. The mare got hurt young. She's by Crimewave (by First Down Dash out of a Beduino daughter) and out of Licorice Fox, a mare by a Two Eyed Jack/Sugar Bars stud out of a dam going back to Zan Parr Bar. Ralph's sire is NFR producer Ninety Nine Goldmine.

"I don't train horses for a living, but I do train my own," said MacDonald. "And we usually raise our own. When you have a good mare sitting there, it makes sense."

MacDonald and Ralph made the Canadian Finals Rodeo in 2023 but downed some barrels. They've won quite a bit of money in Canada from derbies to slot races to rodeos. But she didn't haul him much last year.

Traci and her husband are raising a 15-year-old son and 11-year-old daughter, plus own a farm and live on a lake in Alberta where they own a resort that's open seasonally, so their summers are chaotic, she said.

SHOEING: regular steel rims

FEED: Purina's Omolene Sport Plus

HAY: Alfalfa

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: He doesn't see the barrels much. He runs on summer weekends with a couple of days a week riding.

THANK YOUS: My Family

"I'm trying to get some young horses qualified for the ABRA Finals, so I'm just leaving a jackpot to run home and meet my daughter and take her to a softball game," MacDonald said the Monday after the rodeo.

In fact, she'll just take this summer weekend by weekend. "It's tricky having a seasonal business," she said. "It's hard to justify being on the road. But if Ralph keeps pecking away, we'll keep entering."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

If you are familiar with Phil. 3:13, it instructs us to forget those things which are behind and press forward. Well, if you're remembering every knucklehead thing you've ever done, you're looking back.

I heard this statement this morning. "Every time you talk about the past, you upgrade it." I don't want to do that. And God doesn't want us to, either, right? If we've made mistakes, and we all have, letting the devil condemn us is not what our loving heavenly Father wants for us. Romans 8:1 tells us that there is no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus.

So, how do we combat the guilt that the devil tries to bring on us?

I heard ANOTHER statement this morning! LOL! It said in part, "When you have made mistakes in the past, you operated in the wisdom you had. You have more wisdom now, forgive yourself". I grabbed a hold of that! Hope you can, too!
