Kylee Scribner & Firewater Cartel Nab First Pro Win at Woodward Elks Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Kylee Scribner, the WPRA's leading rookie member, got her first pro rodeo win at the $7,000-added Woodward Elks Rodeo, held June 9-12 in Oklahoma. She and her 6-year-old bay gelding Firewater Cartel ("BB") turned in a 17.01 for a $3,984 payday.

"We're super grateful for it and eager to see what God has in store for the rest of our rookie season!" said Scribner, who had just finished making her run at the Parker County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo in Weatherford, Texas, when she found out she won Woodward, via text message from her veterinarian.

Scribner and BB had led the Woodward since Tuesday slack. "I actually broke down on the way up there," she said. "Some random guy came and helped me. I ended up making it slack. It was miserable hot because we didn't run until the middle of the day because the guys slack went first. We were all trying to keep our horses cool because it was so hot."

Scribner was the 15th barrel racer out with a drag at 12. She said she was really proud of BB's run.

"He was really focused and made a nice run," she said. "The ground seemed to hold us really good. He seems to thrive on a little deeper ground and it was definitely that there. He is young yet so we're still trying to work a few of the kinks out, but it seems like he's starting to figure out these bigger pens and the barrels that are off the fence."

"Everything leading up to this has been smaller pens or indoor pens. We kind of made a transition on our last run in Florida, and

BIT: Custom combination made by J.D. Morrow. "It's a custom bit that I designed with J.D. Morrow. It doesn't really have a name. I tend to use the custom bit for loud performances and bigger, more open arenas." She's also run BB in an Ed Wright Pretzel.

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Scott Burger, farrier; rims on all four

HAY: Hay-Rite Mini Cubes

SUPPLEMENTS: OE Nutraceuticals

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track, PEMF machine, Equi-Resp and Flair Strips

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "We try to keep him comfortable and stretched out. It depends on where we're at and how much we're running that week. We try to give him at least the day off after a run if we can. I just try to keep him in the best shape that I can and as comfortable as possible."

we went to California for Red Bluff and Clovis and got a taste for the bigger pens. I think after a few runs we finally got some things figured out and we finally put it together at Woodward."

BB is just 18-months into his barrel racing career. Bred by Leroy Pritchard and patterned by his wife Holly, BB is by the Fire Water Flit, Orphan Drift son Firewater Frost, and out of the SC Chiseled In Stone, Floyd De Great mare DNA Awesome Chrystal. Scribner started running BB in December 2019, and by year's end, BB had filled her WPRA permit twice and set her up for a 2021 rookie title run.

While BB got the call last weekend at her first rodeo of the week—Woodward—and her last—Weatherford, Texas—Scribner ran her B-string at rodeos in Cleburne, Gladewater and Coleman, Texas. She's already won a check earlier this year on her backup gelding, Im Downright Dashing, a 10-year-old palomino by As Good As Nick Gets out of Get Down Dandidash, by First Place Dash). She debuted Badger A Conchadrift, owned by Simone Elmore, at Gladewater. It was the first pro rodeo for the 12-year-old mare, by Concho Drift Regallo out of Miss Concho Badger, by Zack Badger, and she and Scribner were just a few holes out of placing.

With her horse power in order, Scribner is set to make her run for the rookie title and the National Finals Rodeo. The Azle, Texas, barrel racer currently sits 19th in the WPRA World Standings with $20,923 and has a commanding $11,164 lead in the rookie of the year standings.

"Your rookie year is definitely full of challenges and learning experiences," she said. "The biggest challenge is keeping everything in line and knowing that not everything is going to go your way. I think your rookie year you've just got to pick a goal and keep moving toward it. You've got to learn that things aren't always going to go your way and you have to adjust accordingly."

At the time of this interview, Scribner was driving to North Platte, Nebraska, where she'll start her summer run. She's got a few rodeos in Utah before dropping down to the Reno Rodeo. Her Fourth of July run will bring her to Colorado for Greeley and then north for Cody, Wyoming and Livingston, Montana.

Emma Charleston & Makana Get First Pro Rodeo Win at Parker County Sheriff's Posse in Weatherford

By Tanya Randall

Emma Charleston and her equine partner of five months Makana got their first pro rodeo win at the $4,500-added Parker County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo, held June 9-12 in Weatherford, Texas. The Reeds, Missouri, barrel racer and her 6-year-old mare clocked a 17.14 to pick up $3,773 at a very salty rodeo—just 3/10ths separated first through 15th place.

Charleston, who was also ropes breakaway, made her barrel run late in slack on Saturday morning. In year's past, the sand in the Sheriff's Posse Arena became bottomless by slack's end with drags after each set of 10 barrel races, but this year, the rodeo committee graciously added a drag in the middle of the performance, so that meant the playing field was literally leveled each five runs.

"It really was a game-changer," said Charleston. "The ground was great all the way through the slack. Normally, they say it gets a little bit slower, but this year it was really, really good. We're very thankful the committee decided to do that."

After her run, Charleston hauled to the other side of the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex to compete at Mesquite, where she placed fifth on TR Designerwildchild ("Paisley"), earning $285. She then headed back to Weatherford to rope breakaway in the performance. "I roped that night and then went up and watched the barrels," she said. "I knew right after they ran (that she'd won). It was pretty exciting!"

Charleston, who grew up in a rodeo family, purchased Makana from Michelle McLeod, who rode the mare's sire Slick By Design to three straight National Finals Rodeo appearances. She had seen McLeod run the mare at the futurities last year as she was running Paisley, who is also by Slick By Design, but out of Tana Renick's great mare, and near NFR qualifier, XV Wild Child.

"I was talking to (Michelle's daughter) Lindsey McLeod about another horse because I was in need of one to take with my other mare," she explained. "She said, 'My mom recently decided to sell Makana if you're interested in her.' I flew out to Oregon and we bought her."

Makana's Mare Power

Emma Charleston's pro rodeo winner Makana has a National Finals Rodeo pedigree.

Bred by Charlie Cole and Jason Martin of Highpoint Performance Horses in Pilot Point, Texas, is by their lauded stallion Slick By Design, the all-time leading money earning stallion with over $620,000 won in the arena. An AQHA World Champion, multiple NFR qualifier and round winner, Slick By Design has offspring earnings in excess of $2 million.

Yet, Makana's star power isn't only in her sire line. The 2015 sorrel mare is out of Rods Last Ladybug ("Boomette"), by Sharp Rodney. An AQHA World Champion in the junior barrels and reserve world champion in the senior barrels, Boomette was a full sister to FQH A Sharp Move ("Boomer"), one of Charlie Cole's personal barrel horses. Boomer, when loaned to Charmayne James, won the 2000 Cheyenne Frontier Days and went to the NFR.

Boomette is a multiple black-type producer. In last week's Barrel Racing Report her 2013 daughter Rollin In The Fame, by Dash Ta Fame, was featured for breaking the Standard Pattern World Record. The Brazilian import bettered her previous record of 16.399 with a 16.369.

Other winning progeny of Boomette include AQHA World Champion Rockette Ta Fame, by Dash Ta Fame, and multiple aged event finalists Confederateslastlady, by Confederate Leader, and Boom Goes The Fame, by Dash Ta Fame.

Makana, who ran out nearly $80,000 as a futurity horse, had never been to a rodeo until Charleston bought her.

"She only had been to barrel races and futurities so she's new to the rodeo world and rodeo ground,” noted Charleston. The two also had to learn to come together as a team.

“It took us a while,” Charleston admitted. “This was the first week we really clicked and it was really good for us. I was very thankful. I placed at a couple of rodeos on her but just struggled here and there a little bit. Since she’s been on the road with me, it’s been pretty good.”

Charleston, who is a second year WPRA member having held her roping card in 2020, started her week at Woodward, Oklahoma, where she placed eighth in the breakaway, but tipped to have placed in the barrel racing. Before her next rodeo, she visited with bit maker J.D. Morrow and made a slight headgear change.

“Michelle had her in a little bit different hackamore and it was just too much,” she said. “I was in Makana’s way a little bit. She felt better when I put this rope-nose hackamore. She seems to be a lot freer in it. I hadn’t been winning anything and was struggling. I needed a little bit of help. J.D. is really good about it. If you send him a video, he’s really good at helping you out.”

The first run she made with Morrow’s hackamore was at Glade-water, where she placed fifth, earning $1,071. All totaled, Charleston won $5,129 on the weekend in the barrel racing and moved into the Top 40 in the WPRA World Standings with $8,564. She wanted to thank her parents Kevin and Trish for their support and Tana Renick and Michelle McLeod for all their help.

Charleston is currently on her way West for the start of her summer run. She’ll run at North Platte, Nebraska, before heading to Nevada for the Reno Rodeo this Saturday. She’s also going to rope breakaway when the draw allows.

“I’m going to try to enter everywhere I can,” she said. “Barrels are the first priority but we’re going to try to rope where we can.”

PREPARE TO WIN with TY & STEVI HILLMAN

It would be wonderful if life was easy and we could be successful at whatever we decided to do without going through difficult times, but as you know, life doesn't work that way. Pain is actually one of the most useful tools to help us change.

For example, someone eats a steady diet of high cholesterol foods for years knowing it is unhealthy and they should change their eating habits, but they just can't seem to do it. For years, they are aware of the choices they must make, but they just can't seem to consistently apply it to their life. Then, one day, they have a heart attack and almost die. The doctor tells them they MUST change their eating habits or they will most certainly die prematurely. All of a sudden, the pain of the circumstance is unbearable and the person makes the decision to change the foods they eat.

This is an extreme example but it's helpful to understand how pain can actually be instrumental in making us commit to change we would normally blow off or choose not to do.

One year, we entered the fourth of July rodeo in St. Paul, Oregon. It's a long way to the west coast from the center of the United States where most of the rodeos we are competing at are that time of year. It was a good opportunity for Stevi to win a big check as the setup is a big, wide open arena... which her horse, Truck, loves... normally. Needless to say, the run did not go according to plan.

Truck had another idea and he flew way past the first barrel after he had already knocked it over. The "pain" (disappointment) from the incident caused us to immediately drive down the road an hour to Eugene, Oregon where she would be running again that night in the rodeo.

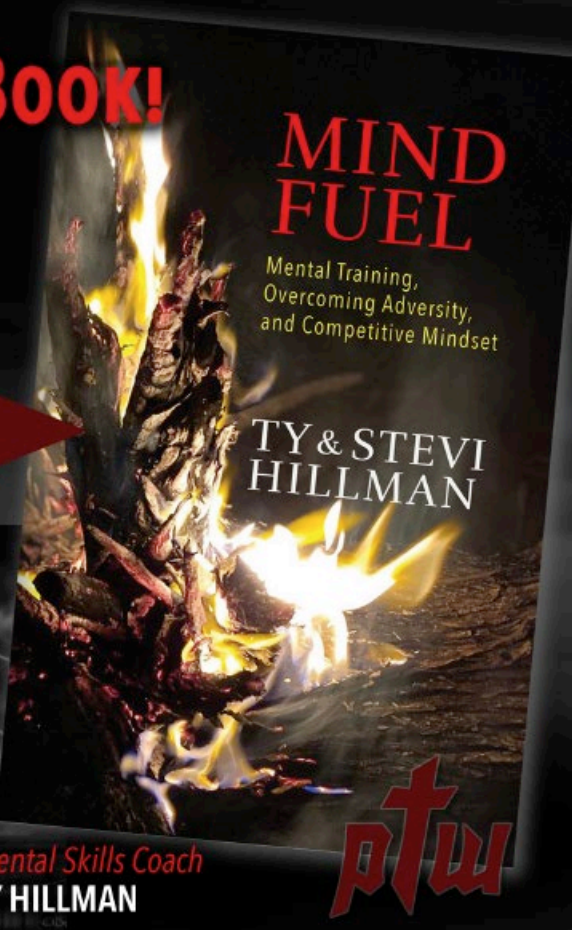

Because of Truck's performance earlier that morning, he got a little tuning session before the rodeo... even with the motorcycle jump in the middle of the arena and a lady doing a microphone check for the opening ceremony. Even with all the distractions, the tuning session must have worked because Stevi and Truck made a great run and won the rodeo.

Today, choose to embrace challenge and "pain" and use it as a catalyst to inspire change.

Reno Moves Forward With New Facility

Reno (Nev.) Rodeo officials say plans for new facilities are moving forward. The cancellation of the rodeo last year due to the pandemic slowed financing for the proposed projects at the Reno Livestock Events Center. But this year the rodeo is back on (June 18-26 with an Xtreme Bulls event June 17), and the Reno Rodeo Association is pushing ahead with its plans to revamp the LEC area, including building a new outdoor rodeo arena.

Clint Thiesse, chairman of the Reno Rodeo Association, said a new exhibit hall is first up in the plans, followed by a second indoor arena and upgrading the current indoor area. "We're not just looking at a new arena, we're looking at revitalizing the entire Reno Livestock Events Center facility," Thiesse said in a June 14 article in the Reno Gazette Journal. "Over the years, it's gotten outdated, and it basically doesn't meet the needs of a lot of existing equestrian events that happen throughout the year." Thiesse said highly variable construction costs have altered the preliminary cost of $120 million cited in 2018 and that the association prefers to not give out cost estimates that are inaccurate. Thiesse said the earliest both of those first two projects could be completed would be 2023, depending on funding availability. A new, 15,000-seat outdoor arena is planned for the northeast corner of the LEC parking lot. Thiesse said that would not be done until 2025 or 2026 at the earliest.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Jesus impressed upon me a few days ago, to encourage us all to be excellent in all we set our hands to do.

If I take my car to the mechanic, I want them to do a good job. After all, I'm driving the thing and I don't want to end up by the side of the road. I'm sure your haying equipment needs to work and work right. Your trailer, your veterinarian, your doctor, and the list could go on and on.

What do WE do and how do WE do it? Are we duct tape individuals? Just doing what we can get by with? Arrive late and leave early? Borrow a few things from the office, because they really don't pay you enough?

These attitudes add up. And they will add up until your name, your honor, your value is diminished or damaged. The answer from the Bible is: Col. 3:23-24. "And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Lord Christ."

Whether you work for yourself, or someone else, the Lord Jesus will reward you for excellence. He said so in those verses. No individual can keep Jesus from blessing us when we obey His Word! Watch for His blessing this week!
