Tayla Moeykens & Dash Of Blue Sky Take College National Finals Rodeo Championship

By Tanya Randall

Tayla Moeykens made her first trip the 72nd Annual College National Finals Rodeo, held June 11-19 at the Ford Wyoming Center in Casper, Wyoming, a memorable one. She took home three titles starting with the barrel racing national championship aboard her 15-year-old mare Dash Of Blue Sky ("Blue").

"It was definitely a dream come true and an honor to be able to do that," said the 19-year-old rising sophomore at Montana State University in Bozeman.

Moeykens along with teammates Paige Rasmussen, Shelby Rasmussen and Lindsey Pulsipher won the Women's Team National Championship. Another Bobcat, Shai McDonald finished fourth in the nation in the barrel racing too.

"Montana State had a really good finals," added Moeykens. "I'm glad I was able to help my team come out with the win."

The Big Sky Region Champion nearly swept the barrel racing, winning all but the second round with times of 14.24, 14.51, 14.10 and 13.99—the fastest time of the rodeo.

"We just went out there with no expectations," she said. "We'd never been in the pen and I'd never even really seen anyone run in there. I didn't really know what to expect. The second round we had a little bit of an off day, but it still put us in there in the average. We were able to come back in the third round and the short, win those two and ended up winning the title."

Moeykens went into the short round fourth in the average and knew she needed to put together a run.

"I just wanted to go out and make the best run we could," she said. "You can only control your run, so we just wanted to go out there and put our best foot forward and see how it landed."

Moeykens has only been riding her winning mount for "about a year." Blue, a daughter of the Dash Ta Fame son Bobbiesdashtafame, is out of the Six Fortunes, Azure Te (TB) mare Blue Sixes. She was bred and raised by family friends Barney and Sunny Carnagey and trained for barrels by Sunny. Blue found her way to the Moeykens family about two years ago.

"Last year, she was new to a performance atmosphere because she hadn't been in them that much," Moeykens noted. "This year, she's really starting to get into it."

A barrel racer from birth, Moeykens followed her mother Deena, a three-time Montana Circuit Finalist and multiple Northern Rodeo Association finalist, into the arena.

"My mom has been running barrels since she was 12 and she's the one that got me into it," Moeykens explained. "I actually started walking the barrels by myself when I was 3. I used to ride around with my mom all the time when she pro rodeoed. This has always been a family thing and we love to do it together."

Her father, Rick, is also very involved with her horses. Not only does he serve as her farrier, but he also provides massage therapy for her horses.

She wanted to thank her parents "for always being there for me and going to every rodeo with me," her sponsors for their support, Sunny Carnagey for "raising an amazing animal," and her family and friends, saying "We have a great support team that's always watching from back home. I can't thank them enough."

A Three Forks, Montana, native, Moeykens only has a 30 mile her major.

"I want to rodeo professionally, but I also wanted to have a degree, something that could go with me on the rodeo trail," she explained. "On top of that, I really like the major."

Moeykens, who was on her way to the Reno Rodeo in Nevada, where she's out on Wednesday, is sitting third in the WPRR Rookie Standings with $6,306. She's won two pro rodeos this season already—Cave Creek, Arizona, and Vernon, Texas—but had to limit her schedule because college rodeo took priority this spring.

"All of April I was in Montana for college, and then we were in Casper all this last week," she said. Current rookie leader Kylee Scribner has been to 37 compared to Moeykens' 11. She's got a full Cowboy Christmas schedule ahead of her with the Colorado Springs qualifier, Greeley, Colorado, Oakley City, Utah, Red Lodge and Livingston, Montana, Cody, Wyoming and smaller circuit Fourth rodeos in Roundup and Big Fork, Montana. "We haven't been to as many, but it's going good so far."

Vauna Walker & RV Brijett Capture Inaugural Run At The Rose Futurity Championship

By Tanya Randall

Vauna Walker and her homebred RV Brijett collected $6,026 for winning the inaugural running of the $10,000-added Horse Hair Analysis Futurity at the Run At The Rose, held June 18-20 at the Montrose County Fairgrounds in Montrose, Colorado.

The Run At The Rose precedes the Colorado Classic, which is scheduled for this weekend in Montrose. The climate controlled facility and picturesque San Juan Mountains to play in during the week between have been well-received by the futurity players that made the trek to Western Colorado.

"I've never been in this part of the country," said Walker. "It's beautiful. Everyone has been great. This has been a really fun place to come. For a first futurity, Taylor (Hildreth) and Kayla (Jones) were very organized and they ran it off fast. Everyone has been really commenting on how fun it has been."

Walker made the trip from her Pingree, Idaho, home with her husband Randy and two daughters Anita Ellis and Deena Van Tassell. While Randy had to head home during the week, the ladies have found plenty to do during the week.

"It's been really fun, and fun to spend some time with my daughters," said the veteran futurity trainer and multiple aged event champion. This is the fourth futurity she's won this year and the first on Brijett. "It's been very laid back, just getting the horses out and riding a little bit, going to see some things," she said. We went up to the lake yesterday. Obviously, we've been having a great time." In the first round, Walker placed third on her mother-in-law Ruby Walker's three-time futurity champion DTF Classey Chick ("Mia") and Brijett was right behind her in fourth. In the second round Brijett stayed consistent, turning in another 15.5 second run to win the average.

"She's a fun mare," Walker said of 4-year-old Brijett. "She just gave me great runs both times. They weren't the fastest runs but it's like you can count on her and that's been really fun."

Mia was a tick off the pace in the second round, but still placed third in the average for $4,142 in total earnings.

"I was so happy with both of them," she said. "Mia was a little wound up coming back for the second run and was a little bit worried. I'm glad I'll be able to get her back in the arena this week. She ran a 15.7. I was still happy with her. If they go out and try to work I'm generally happy with them. They're young. We're settling everything down with her this week."

Brijett, on the other hand, has always been the "cooler" of the two mares.

"It's been really good to travel with these mares together," she said. "There's lots of good and bad with these mares being bonded but they really calm each other. If one horse is calm and collected the other one kind of feeds off that."

Perhaps circumstances of her birth have given Brijett a "chill" attitude.

"We had been in Arizona and it was the 23rd of January and one of the worst snowstorms in a couple of years," recalled Walker.

"We barely got home. The snowplow ran ahead of us just to get us home. It was late that night. We basically nosed the trailer in there and shut it off. We had to get the skid steer to get to some pens so we could put horses away. It was a miserable night. We kind of looked at stuff and went to bed. Randy woke up at 5. He was just really uneasy and wanted to go out and get a better look. It was even still pretty dark. The recipient mare wasn't due until the end of February. She had that baby out in the blizzard."

The filly was so small that Walker could pick her up.

"We didn't think she was going to make it," she said. "I thought she was a little miracle baby. She never had a sick day. She just took off and started growing."

Walker named her Brijett after her great, great aunt Annie Bridgett O'Neil, who came to the United States from Ireland and settled in western Pennsylvania, where Walker is from originally.

"There were all these stories in the family about how tough she was and what a survivor she was," said Walker. She thought it was fitting that she named the Blazin Jetolena, DTF Mellowdoc filly in her honor.

"She has my heart, she does," said Walker of Brijett. I love her. She reminds me so much of her mom. She had won quite a bit halfway through the year. She was fun to ride, fun to be around. This mare is actually quieter. I don't know if I've ever had a mare with that much go and been this quiet. It's been really fun, kind of new. I don't know what I'm going to do when I get one of those hot ones that are hard again, because I've been kind of spoiled the last couple of years."

Walker thinks that Brijett, like her mother, who has ran at the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, will make a rodeo horse.

"We ride a lot of different colts and I thought this colt has a rodeo future because she just takes things in stride," she said. "She's less reactive than a lot of the Dash Ta Fame-bred mares. She had a couple issues with the ground, but not much. She feels to me like she runs on top of the ground. She's just light-footed and has a way of managing it. She's just been really consistent."

Walker also picked up a little check in the 2D Futurity average on her son Colin Letham's horse LX Famous Jet, who was returning to competing from an injury.

"He got hurt in Arizona and was off," she said. "They said I could start riding him the first of May. I'm not asking him for his life because he's not had that many runs back. He feels great. He made two solid runs for me.

SADDLE: Double J Pozzi

SADDLE PAD: 3S Custom Equine

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Rims on all four

FEED: A little Purina Ultium and Outlast

HAY: Alfalfa hay and a little bit of grass

SUPPLEMENTS: PhytoSana CBD Crumbles; Gastro Plex; Ichnon injectable for joints, monthly or more frequently when running more frequently

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track products

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "We do a lot of outside riding, going to the ropings. If they've been off, for like two or three weeks, I'll do some slow drills. I'll do the two-barrel exercise just to refresh their memory on the position that I like. I try not to run them two often. If we do three futurities a month that's enough. Her training is pretty laid back. Now, it feels pretty easy with her.

SPONSORS: PhytoSana CBD, Best Fit Horse Care-Mike & Cindy Holland, 3S Custom Equine

"He's also a Blazin Jetolena. He's going to be awesome. He's going to be one of those horses that you stick your hand up on his neck and run him. He's so willing. He finds his positions. He's been fun too."

She said her son likes to dabble in raising horses.

"He helps us a lot," said Walker. "He's actually breaking one for my daughter Anita right now. He used to travel quite a bit with me when Randy was still working full time. He and some of my daughters would come with me when I had a lot of horses. We all have a lot of great memories from that. It was Fort Smith, the year that Slick By Design won the Derby there. He said, 'I've got to raise some of these horses!' It's been a lot of fun having everyone involved!"

Kyla Roberts & Shiners Finest Doc Sew Up All-American Youth Championship

By Tanya Randall

Teenager Kyla Roberts collected more than $12,700 at the 20th Annual All-American Youth, held June 15-19 at the Kirk Fordice Equine Center in Jackson, Mississippi.

The 15-year-old from Paragould, Arkansas, won the event on Shiners Finest Doc ("Elvira"), owned by one of her mentors Chris Cunningham. They turned in the fastest time of the event, a 14.041, in the Finals to hold off defending champions Elaina McKinney and WRS Cool Memories and win $8,760.

It was only the fourth run together for the pair. They were matched up a week earlier by Cunningham, who encouraged her to go to the event.

"She's super easy to run," said Roberts. "You just have to be very quiet with your hands. You have to push her up to her barrels and sit real quiet and she'll work for you."

Roberts and Elvira finished out of the qualifying in the 2D in the first round with a 14.713. They qualified for the Finals on their second run, a 10th-placed finish in the 1D with a 14.223.

"Each run we started getting more comfortable with each other," noted Roberts, who plans on running the mare again. Cunningham is pushing her to try to qualify for the Jr American and American. Bred to be a reiner and reined cowhorse by Cryin Coyote Ranch in Hempstead, Texas, Elvira is by Shiners Lena Doc out of Hollymoons Finest, by Footworks Finest. The 11-year-old mare came to Cunningham via Angie Lamb.

Lamb also offered up her other cow-bred gelding Mr Colonel Spark for Roberts to ride.

"She said if I wanted to take a horse that was super consistent and always wins a check I could take him too," Roberts explained. She and Junior picked up $701 and made Saturday's Finals as well. Roberts third horse was her own 7-year-old mare Texxy Little Gypsy ("Lil Sass"). Another cowbred, Lil Sass is by Strait To Texas out of Gypsy High, by Starlights Gypsy. She came to Roberts a little over a year ago from Hannah Kaufman.

Like with Elvira, Roberts and Lil Sass picked up the pace throughout the event. They had a 2D run of 14.826 in the first go and qualified for the Finals out of the second round with a 14.535, which placed fifth in the 2D. They turned on the jets to run a 14.104 to take fourth in the 1D in the Finals for earnings of nearly $3,500.

Roberts wanted to thank God, her parents, Rick and Misty, her mentors Cunningham and Christian Shipley, Lamb for the loan of the horse, her sponsors Opossum Creek Boutique and Tack, River Bottom Forge, and her family and friends for all their support.

Rider: Kyla Roberts; Breeder: Cryin Coyote Ranch

Horse crazy from an early age, Roberts forced her non-horse parents out of their comfort zone early. They soon realized that a stable full of toy horses wasn't enough.

"When she was about 4 years old she was just absolutely fascinated with horses," recalled Misty Roberts. "We bought so many different toys. She went to a friend's house and rode their horse. Her passion from there was so great we ended up buying her a pony when she was 9 because you can only buy so many toys."

Now, Roberts is home schooled so she has more time to devote to her horses. Her father, who set up accounts for her horse expenses and winnings, said the responsibility of caring and paying for her horses has made her grow up quickly.

"I think that's been one of the biggest contributors to her success," Mike Roberts said. "Now, she understands that money can go out quicker than it comes in. When she pays her own entry fees, it seems like she tries a little harder. She makes sure that money gets put back for the next time!"

College National Finals Rodeo Crowns 2021 Champions

The 72nd annual College National Finals Rodeo (CNFR) crowned 2021 individual, all-around and team champions during the final round of competition Saturday at the Ford Wyoming Center.

Cole Franks of Clarendon, Texas, turned in the highest-marked ride of the week – 85 points on Vold Rodeo's horse Misty Frontier – to win the final round of bareback riding and the national title. Franks, a sophomore agricultural business major at Clarendon College, came into the final round two points behind leader Jacob Lees, a Californian representing Western Texas College.

Franks was crowned the 2021 CNFR All-Around Cowboy and the 2021 Men's Rookie of the Year. He was the only cowboy to qualify for the final round in two events – bareback and saddle bronc riding. Franks was competing at his second CNFR. His father Bret, the rodeo coach at Clarendon College, is a former CNFR and National Finals Rodeo saddle bronc rider.

Tie-down roper Macon Murphy of Keatchie, Louisiana, was another second-generation CNFR athlete to win a 2021 title. His parents K.C. and Julie competed at the CNFR in the late 1980s with K.C. being a member of Montana State University's 1988 national championship team.

Murphy, who was part of the 2019 national championship team for Panola College, roped and tied his calf in 9.8 seconds. Leader Caleb Berquist had a great opportunity to make a solid run and win the title, but he drew a kicking calf and could not finish fast enough to beat Murphy.

The battle for the championship in breakaway roping came down to two freshmen. Zoie Bedke of Oakley, Idaho, trailed Grace Felton of Susanville, California, by three-tenths of a second as the round began. Bedke, a physical therapy major at Idaho State University, caught her calf in 2.4 seconds giving her a total of 10.3 on four runs. Felton, an agricultural business major at Lassen College, also caught her calf in 2.4 seconds, but she started too quickly and was assessed a 10-second penalty. Bedke took the title home to Idaho.

In saddle bronc riding Dylan Schofield of Philip, South Dakota, scored 84.5 points on Frontier Rodeo's horse Popsicle to take the lead in the final round. Schofield, a junior welding major at Western Texas College, came into the round trailing Clarendon College's Cash Wilson by 6.5 points overall. Vold Rodeo's horse Ima Be threw Wilson in the dirt and Schofield earned the national title.

Gavin Soileau of Bunkie, Louisiana, was the first national champion to hold onto first place Saturday night. The junior agricultural business major from McNeese State University wrestled his steer to the ground in 4.2 seconds which was good enough for second in the final round. His total time of 19.2 seconds earned him the national steer wrestling title to go along with his two National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) southern region championships.

In goat tying Jill Donnelly of Surprise, Arizona, came into the final round in third place. The junior business administration major clocked a time of 6.5 seconds, giving her a total of 26.4 seconds. When leader Paige Rasmussen of Montana State University clocked a time of 6.3, it looked as if she would win the national title, but the goat failed to stay tied, disqualifying her. Donnelly, who carries a 4.0 grade point average, was competing in her second CNFR and won the national title to go along with her NIRA Grand Canyon region championship.

The team roping finalists had tough time connecting. Until the final two teams rode in the box, only one qualified time had been made. The championship came down to two pairs of brothers. JC and LJ Yeahquo of Crescent, Oklahoma, trailed Kellan and Carson Johnson of Casper by one-tenth of a second. The Yeahquos, who both major in business administration at Western Oklahoma College, roped their steer in 6.9 seconds, giving them a total of 27.7. The Johnsons, who major in psychology and education respectively at Casper College, brought the hometown crowd to their feet when they caught their steer in 6.0 seconds to win the national title by one second.

Tayla Moeykens of Three Forks, Montana, came from fourth place to win the barrel racing title. Her time of 13.99 seconds was the fastest of the week and won the final round. The freshman business and marketing major at Montana State University also won the first and the third rounds of barrel racing and earned the Women's Rookie of the Year title.

Tristen Hutchings of Blackfoot, Idaho, left no doubt as to who should win the bull riding title. The junior animal science major at Sul Ross State University in Texas rode Vold Rodeo's bull Milk Mustache for 90 points to win the final round. He was the only athlete to ride three of four bulls in Casper.

Montana State University won the women's team championship with Southwestern Oklahoma State University's team as reserve champions. Reserve champion men's

Cowboy Channel to broadcast, stream Jr. NFR

The Cowboy Channel and Jr. Rodeo are excited to announce that the 2021 Jr. National Finals Rodeo will carry all action from the first barrel run on June 28 until the last ride on Saturday, July 3 via the PRCA on Cowboy Channel+ app.

In addition, the Jr. NFR semifinals and finals will be telecast on Cowboy Channel, which will bring fans all of the action across your favorite viewing screen.

Fans can live stream events via the PRCA on Cowboy Channel+ app or watch the live Cowboy Channel telecast, depending on the round. Semifinals and finals will be available on both platforms, while all other rounds will be available live and on-demand via the app.

The Jr. NFR is being held at the historic Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth, Texas, June 28-July 3. The Jr. NFR features the best-of-the-best contestants in all of youth rodeo in a tournament-style rodeo competition.

More than 500 contestants will compete for a Jr. world championship in the core rodeo events. The Jr. NFR gives fans an opportunity to see the next generation of ProRodeo contestants. For more information, visit jrrodeo.org.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Last Friday were the NWBRA Assoc. Senior finals. Two go's. It was HOT out. I ran two horses. There were quite a few ladies that ran three and a few ran four. I observed, in our age group, buckets and stools positioned at trailers and in the warm up area. I think most of us have abandoned the knee in the stirrup and up mount, like little kids do. The grabbing and clinging are the same, though. It's just not as cute!

Full dress code. Some forgot and had to run back to their trailer and get their hat and long sleeved shirt... for the second run... in the same day. Sigh.

I did observe, however, that almost all of us, no matter how much pain our bodies were in, were smiling! We were glad to be there! And, once on board, you couldn't tell how old we were!

Horses. The great equalizer! After the run, when we got off, you could, however, see a limp or two. One lady asked me if I was breathing harder than my horse? LOL!

Now, what does this have to do with our Lord? He promises us in Psalm 103:1-5 that if we forget NOT His benefits, that our youth is renewed like the eagles!

So, it doesn't matter how old you and I are. If we don't forget what His Word says, we will always have youth. Start believing right now. Then when you get older, you'll be glad you did!
