Monsterr-Sized Win—Jenna Dominick & Monsterr Sweep Futurity Titles at Colorado Classic

By Tanya Randall

The royally-bred buckskin stallion Monsterr delivered on his pedigree at the Colorado Classic, winning the Smoke Creek Quarter Horses Futurity, Stallion Incentive Program Futurity and Breeders Challenge Futurity along with Saturday's Open and the Stallion Incentive Program Open for rider Jenna Dominick and owner Danielle Stubstad of Ocala, Florida.

Money won in the 4-year-old stallion's name totaled $28,747! The open futurity paid $6,251, while the stallion incentive paid $12,312. Breeders Challenge awarded $6,193 to be split between Stubstad, the owner and nominator, and Monsterr's sire Tres Seis.

"It paid extremely well," said Dominick. "It was run very smooth and in a timely manner. The staff was more than accommodating. We'll definitely put it on our schedule for years to come. It was one of the nicest places we've gone to this year."

Stubstad added, "We hope more people from the East Coast make the trip over. Even before we got the win, we knew we wanted to come back. We can't thank Kayla (Jones) and that crew enough. They were extremely accommodating and nice."

In the first round on Friday, Monsterr and Dominick made their first competitive run since placing sixth at the Old Fort Days Futurity mid-May. They clocked a 15.699 on a cruise through that placed in all three first rounds.

"The first run I thought he ran really well," said Dominick. "We had a decent run but I did feel him struggle with the ground for the first time. He was bottom of the ground and he's not one that I've ever felt struggle with ground before, but in the video you can see him get a little hung up in the ground at the second barrel. I had to ask him for another step on the back side, which he's pretty agreeable about that. He gave it to me. Again, he slipped at the third barrel and got me popped forward leaving."

On their next run, they clocked an incredible 14.963 to win the second round across the board. The run was also slightly ahead of Anita Ellis and RV Two Dash Ta Vegas's reported arena record of 14.986 set the weekend prior during the Run At The Rose.

"It was just so smooth and so flawless," said Dominick. "I knew we would be a good bit faster, but I had no idea that it would be THAT fast! He's always had the talent and athletic ability to make those runs. He's always clocked well even with mistakes so I knew if we could get those really solid, smooth runs that he could be a very competitive horse."

Stubstad watched the run from the alleyway and her shock was clearly evident in the video.

"I was running back and forth in the alleyway trying to see each barrel," Stubstad said. "I think everyone saw me in the video afterward. I was getting a lot of screenshots of my reaction. When he finished that third barrel, I knew he was going to be fast, but when they called out the time, I was blown away!"

Dominick, who just started entering futurities three years ago, still gets tears in her eyes thinking about her first major win. "It was just tears," she said. "Even as you're asking me again, tears are just welling up. I always knew he could do it and that he had the athletic ability to do it, but to get it done and hear that kind of time..."

Monsterr was destined for greatness from birth. Raised by Alan Woodbury, the son of Tres Seis is out of multiple National Finals

THE RUNDOWN w/Jenna Dominick

Monsterr, 15.1 hands, 1,100-1,200 lbs.

BIT: Klu square mouth with three chain links in the middle. It has a very soft rope chin strap.

SADDLE: Seven

SADDLE PAD: Seven

LEG GEAR: Seven boots on front, polo wraps behind, whatever bell boots are available

SHOEING: Rims on all four; shod by Rex Amos

FEED: Tribute Calm Ultra

HAY: All the alfalfa he can eat.

SUPPLEMENTS: Platinum Performance, Formula 101 Noni, Omega Oil Complete, CPE Daily Lung from Megan Daniels

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: BEMER blanket pre- and post-race

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: Basically keep him soft and supple. I do a lot of slow work, but not drills. I don't make a ton of runs. I don't do a lot of barrel work. It's just exercises.

SPONSORS: Seven Saddles-Mandy Amos, J'Z Fashion Boutique-Sidney, MT, Gray Horse Energy Service-Newtown, ND

Stubstad, who is originally from Sidney, Montana, picked the stallion out on a visit to Woodbury's in Dickinson, North Dakota.

"I went looking for a filly," she laughed. "He was scrolling through his book. He had conformation photos and pedigrees. He was scrolling through the colts, making his way to the fillies in the back of the book. I just immediately held out my hand where it made like a page mark. 'Stop! Who is that?' He looked at me and laughed, 'Little girl, if you buy this horse, you're going to be in the stud business.' I saw the papers and went out and saw him. You just knew he was special. Needless to say, I didn't come out with a filly!"

Monsterr was started under saddle at the Lazy E under the direction of Britton Collum. Dominick started riding him as a late 2-year-old.

"He took to the barrels very easily," said Dominick. "It was very natural for him."

Monsterr started out at some of the smaller futurities around Ocala. His first win was at the Kim Landry Futurity.

"We've taken it pretty easy on him," said Dominick. "We've let him come on at his own pace with not a ton of pressure. He's just getting stronger, more solid and more confident with every run."

She credit's Tyler Crosby with helping her get through one small rough patch and putting the finishing touches to make Monsterr a solid horse.

"I was going through a little rough patch, where I was hitting barrels," she explained. "I was so discouraged I didn't even want to go to Fort Smith. He showed me some drills that would complement Monsterr's style. He even came out and helped me fine tune him before Fort Smith. He's the only other person that's been on Monsterr besides me."

As of now, Monsterr is scheduled for a select few larger events.

"His performance career is our main focus right now," said Dominick. Monsterr does however have weanlings on the ground. "He's going to run until he tells us he doesn't want to. We'll finish out his futurity year, go his derby year and try to dabble at some rodeos and other big events. His performance career and making him the best horse he can be is our main focus. That's why we didn't rush him at the beginning of the year and we're not going to put a lot of pressure on him this year and go to every single futurity listed. We're going to take it easy on him as much as we can. The long haul is the end game for that horse, not just to win as much money as we can this year and stand him at stud."

Monsterr's next event is the Ruby Buckle in Salina, Utah.

The Odd Couple

The Sunshine State of Florida has vast appeal to many horsemen, so it should come as no surprise that the contact numbers for Smokey Willow Farms in Ocala have Montana and New York area codes.

Danielle Stubstad, who owns the farm, was taking online college classes when friends urged her to come visit.

"I just loaded up my three best horses and decided to go down there and barrel race for a month or so, while doing online classes," she said. "That all changed when I got down there. School was officially out for me. I never came back. I just started making trips up north and moving things down. I was staying with friends and renting for about a year until I found the farm that we're at currently in Florida."

Her parents enjoy pinhooking Thoroughbreds, buying yearlings, starting them and selling them at in-training sales as 2-year-olds, but Stubstad's passion was with the barrel horses. It was through the Thoroughbreds that she met like minded Jenna Dominick.

Dominick, a New York native, grew up with horses, but showed equitation before making the switch to barrel racing. She spent eight winters in Ocala before making the move permanently.

"I've been in the Thoroughbred industry nine or 10 years when I met Danielle, but barrel racing was my passion. Their farm in Florida is primarily Thoroughbreds, but her passion was raising Quarter horses and barrel racing herself."

Dominick went to work for Stubstad five years ago. With a breeding program in place, Dominick was tasked with proving them in the arena. She made her first foray into the futurity world three years ago at the local events around Ocala.

"This is quite a change for me being out at these big events," she said. "I've never been to any of these arenas, any of these locations. It's been adventurous."

Dominick and Stubstad headed to Sidney, Montana, two weeks prior to the Colorado Classic. The location, though still remote, will put them closer to larger events like the Royal Crown, Ruby Buckle-Salina and Fizz Bomb Classic than central Florida.

Both ladies want to thank the small staff at Smokey Willow for taking care of the farm and allowing them the opportunity to travel this summer.

Lowell and Hovde Heat Up Bakken Barrel Daze

The 10th annual Mid-Rivers Communications Bakken Barrel Daze was held at the Richland County Fairgrounds in Sidney, MT, June 26-27, 2021. Great weather for the extra size pattern, which was WPRA, NWBRA and BBR approved.

The Saturday winner of $684 was Hannah Lowell aboard JL Bam Bam winning the open 5D and Twitchell Cattle Co. youth. The 2D winner was Renea Smith on Iknowsheknows. 3D winner was Kate Hatter on Feature Me N Speed. 4D winner, Lora Lee Anderson rode TS Dizzy Frenchman and the 5D winner was Sydney Kukla on Truly A First Prize. The WPRA Netzer Law sidepot was won by Tisha Larson on JL Red Cupid. Linda Vigen on Niftys Genuine Bella won the Senior sidepot.

Sunday, Sidney runners prevailed. Winning $695, the Sunday open 5D and WPRA Netzer Law sidepot was Trista Hovde on Flyin Blue Roses. 2D winner and Church race winner was Jaycie Rau riding Machismos Sunrise. 3D winner was Dede Anders on PC Sunnerelse. The 4D winner was Rowan Ellingson on Missn Quik Charm and 5D winner Sarah McGinley on One Bold Eagle. June Tibbetts riding Laces With Talent won the senior sidepot. Kierra Hougen riding JL Red Enough won the Twitchell Cattle Co youth. The Church Race minister was Christa Phalen, who gave an amazing message. Thanks Carla Leland with The Cowboy Paparazzi photography.

Big Money Barela – $31,054 for Harlee Barela & Thlast Wicked at Xtreme Million Finals

By Tanya Randall

Vegueta, New Mexico, teenager Harlee Barela has a “wicked” track record for winning “big money” in the two years she’s attended the Xtreme Million Finals in Salina, Utah. In 2020, she and AWickedBid (“Wicked”) topped the 2D to earn more than $28,000. At this year’s event, the 15-year-old jockey and her 6-year-old gelding Thlast Wicked (“Rooster”) took home a 1D Championship and $31,054!

“It still hasn’t sank in what happened!” said her mother Lisa. “It’s just amazing!”

After first barrel bobbles kept them out of the money at the Xtreme Blackhawk Reunion the prior weekend, Harlee was determined to sit down at the first to get her run off to a good start.

“I hadn’t been sitting down and he’s been taking a step out and going wide on it in his other runs at the Reunion,” she explained. “I really focused on sitting down on his first and making sure he turned it good. And he did!”

Her mom, who watched the pair run a 15.5 after tipping the first last year, was excited to see Harlee and Rooster nail the turn and nearly break the 14-second barrier with a 15.050.

“She said, ‘Mom, I just sat the whole way. I didn’t even drive him!’” added Lisa. “He wrapped the first and when he came around second, he bumped it a little bit, so she did a leg lift. He just opened up on the way home. It was just amazing! To watch him work is like watching a well-oiled machine!”

Her father James was waiting back in the alley. His celebratory heel click—a move he’s been perfecting since watching the movie 8 Seconds in the 1990s—was caught on video much like Leslie Kinsel’s when her daughter Hailey won her first WPRA World Championship.

“That’s my signature move,” said James, who has an equine chiropractic business Barela Equine Balancing. “Every time the girls lay down a nice solid run, I tell them, ‘Hey, look!’ and I jump up in the air and click my heels.”

Having made the run at draw 124 on Monday meant a week’s wait to see if it held.

“It was the longest nail-biting week of our lives!” said Lisa. “Monday after she ran we went home. I think we refreshed Saddlebook.com 10,000 times! By the last 100 runs, we were just a complete mess. We finally quit looking at it. At 11:30 (Sunday morning), we found out it was over. I went back and looked and there were 2,274 runs (over the two weekends), and she was the fastest out of all of them! It was amazing!”

Harlee and Rooster have been competing together for two years. Her parents bought the gelding as a 2-year-old because he had the same sire as Wicked. Both horses are by the Streakin Six, Dash For Cash son Terribly Wicked and Rooster is out of La Chica Es Caliente, a Wisecamp, Skipper W-bred mare by Skipa Tribe.

Rooster, who was bred by Freddie Sumrow, who owned Terribly Wicked, had been on the back burner so he was a little tough to handle in the beginning.

“They called him El Diablo because they couldn’t control him,” said Lisa. “He was the devil. He didn’t even know how to load in the trailer when we brought him home. I said, ‘I don’t know what we just did.’ I was kind of scared. He was just a baby and they hadn’t really messed with him.”

THE RUNDOWN w/Harlee Barela

Thlast Wicked “Rooster”, 16.1 hands, 1,200-1,300 lbs.

BIT: Lagniappe

HEADGEAR: Loose tiedown. “We’re trying slowly to wean him off of it, but he uses it to balance. We’ve noticed a difference when we’ve run him with and without it. He uses it for balance and it really makes a difference in his runs.”

SADDLE: Merrill by Three Forks Saddlery

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star Equine

LEG GEAR: Professional’s Choice 2xCool on front, rubber pull-on bell boots

SHOEING: Aluminum wedge on front, plain steel on rear; shod by James Barela

FEED: Kool Speed “It’s made a real difference in Rooster. Kool Speed just changed the game for us.”

HAY: Grass hay 24/7, alfalfa in the evenings

SUPPLEMENTS: Summit, B-complex vitamins occasionally

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Equi-Vibe plate, PEMF therapy, Sports-Vibe blanket, laser therapy, chiropractic care from James Barela

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: “We ride him five out of seven days a week. We just work him in the arroyos in the sand. We climb hills with him. That’s how we get him strong. If we do any barrel work, it might be drill work one day a week. We really believe in riding out horses out all the time.

Harlee did most of Rooster's barrel training. When she started running him, each run he took a second off his time until he was running and winning at the bigger events.

"He's always been special," said Lisa. "When we started running him, it was like he just knew what he was supposed to do." Harlee came into the sport naturally. With Lisa running barrels and James team roping, all their four girls were on a horse as soon as they were old enough to sit up.

"The girls have always loved it," said Lisa. Her oldest two still ride, but no longer compete. Now it's just Harlee and her 12-year-old sister Danilynn running. "We started doing it with the girls just for fun and once we knew the girls were really into it, we knew we had to start training these horses. We just took any advice we could get. It's just been us against the world trying to figure it out." Harlee, who at the time of this interview was on her way to El Paso, Texas, for the Texas A&M Veterinary Science Day Camp, hopes one day to rodeo professionally.

"She wants to try her hand at pro rodeo when she turns 18," said Lisa. "I told her that she needs to have a good education because you're going to have to pay for being on the road. Even if she doesn't want to be a vet, it just opens up the door for so many different things."

The family wanted to commend the Burns-Shaw family for producing such a life-changing event.

"They are just the nicest people," said Lisa. "You feel like part of the family with them. They know you by name. What amazes me is Danna (Shaw) announces the whole race and she has something

Photo Finish Victory For Wenda Johnson & MacGyver Moonflash at Reno Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Just .02 separated Reno Rodeo Champions Wenda Johnson and MacGyver Moonflash from defending and three-time WPRA World Champion Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday. The victory for the Pawhuska, Oklahoma, barrel racer was worth $18,331 at the $62,500-added rodeo, held June 18-26.

"It's amazing to compete and be successful at great rodeos with so much history," said Johnson. "I'm thankful for my family's support, the horse owners at Tres Mesa Horses and my sponsors OE Nutraceuticals, Kimes Ranch Jeans, JW Brooks Hats, Silver Horse Care and Ultimate PEMF Sales."

The Reno Rodeo was limited to 96 contestants. Each set of 12 contestants got their first run in morning slack, followed by a second run in a performance that same night. The top 12 on two made the short round on Saturday.

Johnson and Mac led the field into the short round on Saturday after placing second in the first round and winning the second round with the fastest time of the rodeo to that point, a 16.85. With the short round running from slowest to fastest qualifier, concern grew as the ground, which had been great all week, was proving to be problematic for many of the contestants.

Kinsel and Sister went first and turned in a flawless run of 16.74 on a WPRA Standard Pattern. Johnson, having seen and heard what happened before her, knew she needed to stay upright.

"It was important to stay square and have Mac stand up to manage the ground," she explained. Their 16.99 was just what they needed to take the title.

Tres Mesa's Mark Singletary was head horse wrangler on this rodeo run, so he was in Reno to watch. He admits to being a little concerned over the footing but was happy to see Mac and Johnson excel.

"You're kind of holding your breath and doing the math in your head really quick to see if that's enough," he said. "It was a very tight race, very exciting. It's good for the sport and good for the contestants and good for us!"

Johnson, a nurse practitioner, currently sits No. 2 in the WPRA World Standings with $49,688 won at just eight rodeos. She has a much busier Fourth of July run than last year when she went to just one—the Prescott Rodeo, which she won. Singletary said so far their itinerary has Oakley City, Utah, Cody, Wyoming and Livingston, Montana, before turning the rig over to Wenda for a solo trip to the Calgary Stampede. He'll return to the road to finish out their summer run.

"We'll for sure go to Cheyenne and if the scheduling works right we'll go to Ogden and Spanish Fork and probably Dodge City on the way back home," he said. "It might end up a little more than last year, but luckily we can replace some of the little ones with the bigger ones like Reno and Cheyenne that weren't held last year. We're still not going to go to 30 rodeos. We'll probably hit about 24. We're not in the position or have the desire to go to 40 rodeos!"

When Mark Singletary started this journey, his goal was to have a racehorse. He ended up with NFR barrel horses instead.

"I've learned a lot," he chuckled. "I learned enough to have a lot of respect for people who have been going at it for years and the effort and toll it takes on the horses to do that much travel. It wears me out! It's a whole different set of challenges apart from the actual event and the people that have been successful at it deserve every penny they've earned and every bit of recognition that they receive."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Independence Day! What a heritage we have! What a blessing to live in the USA! How glorious to be free!

Our freedom is a direct result of people who were willing to fight for it! Our freedom was bought and paid for by the blood of men and women who wanted a country where we could live and worship freely.

There is much responsibility in maintaining this freedom and we should never take it lightly. Yet, there is a greater freedom that Jesus bought and paid for us to have with His precious blood. It is the freedom from the devil who comes to steal, kill and destroy.

John 10:10. Jesus paid the WHOLE PRICE for us to live in abundant life and to deliver us from our sins and hell in our future. The price for us is so small. We need only to ask Him to be our Lord and Savior.

Romans 10:8-10. With Him, our freedom is eternally secure.

John 8:36, "Therefore if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed." As we celebrate this week, let's start with Jesus!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
