Earning Their Spurs--Jill Welsh and French First Watch Win Reno Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

"Of course every little girl dreams of making the NFR, but I'm just happy to be at any rodeo," said Reno Rodeo Champion Barrel Racer Jill Welsh of Parker, Ariz. The two-time cancer survivor pulled off the biggest win of her career, riding for the simple joy of just being able to do so.

Riding the talented, turny French First Watch ("Custer"), Parker got tapped off right winning the first round with a speedy 16.88. She followed it up with a 5th-place run in the second round and second-place finish in the short go to earn the famed Reno Rodeo Championship Spurs and $11,958.

"I made my first run on Tuesday," recalled the 29-year-old. "I couldn't have asked for anything better in that run. It was nice and quiet. We made a really nice smooth run that turned out to be pretty fast. I tried to give him a little more room each run we made, so we'd stay clean. He still stayed pretty fast in his times, so that was just awesome."

Bred by NFR qualifiers Judy and Rachael Myllymaki, Custer has been in Welsh's barn for two-and-a-half years. The 11-year-old gelding, by leading sire Frenchmans Guy out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Dashing To Fame, carried her both mentally and physically through her two bouts of cancer.

"I got him from Rachael Myllymaki," Welsh explained. "She trained him and did a great job with him. I can't thank her enough for selling him to me. He's been a real blessing in my life in many ways. He's a great horse inside and out of the arena, which is great for me."

Welsh had watched Myllymaki bringing Custer up through the ranks, but the horse she initially wanted was Give Me A Wink, the daughter of Doc O Dynamite out of Myllymaki's NFR mount Ms Wayne Page.

"I had always loved that horse," Welsh said of Wink. "After I got sick, I had no idea what was going on in the barrel racing world at the time, but I called her up and asked her if she had anything for sale. I told her that I really wanted to get into barrel racing again, and I would really love it if you wanted to get Wink out of the house." She said that Wink was being a broodmare now and the only other one she had was Custer. I told her if she'd have me, I'd come take a look."

Welsh bought the gelding without ever throwing a leg over his back.

"I had never ridden him, because I was still in a wheelchair," she admitted. "I was hoping that getting me a horse would get me out some and get me active again. I told her as long as you could show me he knows the pattern, I trust you. She ran him and that was kind of it.

"She asked if I wanted to get on and try him, and I said, 'Oh no, not yet!' I worked up to it. I was so weak and fragile that I was almost scared of horses. I had him for maybe two weeks. I guess you never lose that desire. Look at him out in the in the pen when I'd go brush him and stuff, I was like let's get him saddled up and do it!"

Though disease and treatments had ravaged her body, Welsh has the talent and moxie to ride her talented rim-runner.

"I don't think I've ever had a time when I've said, 'I passed that barrel.' When you touch his reins he turns as tight as he can," she laughed. But she noted that he still does his best to take care of her. "Some days I get left behind a little bit, but what I love about Custer is he takes care of me, whether its slowing up and letting me catch up running or around the trailer, he's always kind and gentle.

Racer's Edge is Back!

Racer's Edge™ from Classic Equine®, hosted by professional barrel horse trainer Dena Kirkpatrick, is excited to announce the launch of the second miniseries premiering July 8. Unlike any program of its kind, Racer's Edge is a lifestyle variety show about the professionals in the barrel racing industry and the sport that has taken the western world by storm. With an inspirational undertone and an array of places, topics, and people showcased, Racer's Edge appeals not only barrel racers but to the competitive equestrians of any age from all disciplines.

Loaded with action, the series premiere will kick-off with the exciting conclusion of the 2015 Better Barrel Races World Finals "Final Fifty". This very special two part series will showcase 50 of the best horses in the nation in a suspenseful slowest to fastest running format resulting in only one champion. In the following episode, Dena Kirkpatrick meets with the founder of Gypsy Soule and talks fashion, fundamentals and balance for her as a barrel racer and working mom. As promised, Dena takes viewers to a variety of places, one being the practice track to visit legendary Quarter Horse Racing trainer Dwayne "Sleepy" Gilbreath, to talk race horses and the unique marriage between our two industries. Horsemanship is the topic of the hour while Dena shares what she has learned from world renowned Australian horse trainer Ian Francis. Racer's Edge will take you back to the cloverleaf pattern with BBR Slot Race and horse trainer Leslie Willis, and will round out the season with the upmost respected 2x RFD-TV's The American Champion Barrel Racer and 8x NFR Qualifier Lisa Lockhart.

Racer's Edge accommodates entertainment unavailable on any other network program. Having a perfect balance of entertainment, motivation, and instructional material the show truly has something for everyone. Racer's Edge will air on RFD-TV, Wednesdays at 7:30PM CST 8:30PM EST and 11:30PM CST 12:30AM EST.

Students Travel Across TX To Receive $1 Million in Scholarships

Students, parents and Show representatives traveled from 68 Texas counties to celebrate the accomplishments of 78 students and award more than $1.4 million in scholarships at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Area Go Texan scholarship banquet.

"While the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo draws international attention, the organization's main focus is here, in Texas," said Joel Cowley, president and CEO of the Show. "The Show's educational commitment of more than $24 million for 2015 is evidence that we believe in our youth and the future of our great state."

The 78 Area Go Texan scholarship recipients are from 68 different counties surrounding the Houston metropolitan area. Each student received a four-year, $18,000 scholarship, for a total of $1,404,000. Each of the 68 participating Area Go Texan counties awards a scholarship to one of the county's graduating high school seniors. An additional 10 awards are given at large to eligible students within these counties.

Scholarships are awarded to students who meet the program requirements as well as demonstrate academic potential, leadership and financial need. All recipients also must attend a Texas college or university.

These scholarships represent just a portion of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo's annual commitment of more than $24 million to scholarships, research, endowments, calf scramble participants, junior show exhibitors, School Art participants and other educational programs. For more information on the Show's educational support, visit <http://www.rodeohouston.com/AboutUs/EducationalSupport.aspx>.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is a Section 501(c)(3) charity that benefits youth, supports education, and facilitates better agricultural practices through exhibitions and presentations. Since its beginning in 1932, the Show has committed nearly $375 million to the youth of Texas. For more information, visit rodeohouston.com and connect with RodeoHouston® online via Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, YouTube, Pinterest and Tumblr for all of the latest news. Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Heritage Partners are NRG, Ford, Miller Lite, Coca-Cola, BP America and Mattress Firm. The 2016 Show will run March 1 - 20.

He won't knock me over. He tries to look out for me and that's really special."

Welsh wanted to thank Myllymaki "for helping Custer end up at my house," and of course, her family. Her brother, Kyle, has appointed himself team manager of Welsh and Custer.

"My brother gives up a lot of his time," she said. The siblings actually own a tobacco shop together in Parker. "He's got the biggest heart. He's driving me. He takes care of my horse; saddles, if I can't lift it. He'll even go check the draw for me. He takes care of anything that takes a lot of energy."

The two will be logging the miles of the Cowboy Christmas. They'll start in Greeley, Colo., go West to St. Paul, Ore., loop back for Cody, Wyo., before dropping back down to two prime rodeos in her home Turquoise Circuit—Window Rock and Prescott, Ariz.

"We have a day or afternoon in between to drive," she laughed. "That seems to be the biggest obstacle—the driving over the Fourth."

Now No. 33 in the world standings with $19,279 won in just 19 rodeos, there's no telling how high Welsh can go. Several NFR qualifiers, including last year's Christine Laughlin, have used the Reno Rodeo to start them on their Las Vegas journey.

For Welsh, though, she's content to take each day as it comes. "I grew up as kid being so competitive where it was only a good day if you won, but after going through that...all the cancer and medical stuff...I couldn't be happier than just to be out riding," she said. "And then, to be competing with these top girls...it's so tough. Everyone is so talented. It's great fun."

Mathis Making It Happen at The American Qualifier in Reno

By Hope Sickler

Casey Mathis could easily be one of the handiest 12-year-olds that you've ever seen. Hailing from a west coast cattle ranch that she and her family manage, Mathis has grown up learning what it's like to work for something you want and she has put that ethic into her barrel training with her main guy, Button Down Cash aka "Castle". The Mathis family bought "Castle", an 8-year-old palomino gelding by Button Down Peppy and out of a daughter of Centurion Command, for young Casey as a rope horse but he would soon take a career change and become a champion barrel horse under the guidance of the 12-year-old blonde-haired cutie.

"We originally bought him as rope horse for Casey. He had never ran barrels before Casey started messing with him. He took so quickly to the pattern and absolutely loves running barrels," explained Casey's mother, Jene Mathis.

When asked if "Castle" would rather run barrels or rope, Casey quickly replied with "run barrels" and by the looks of her run at the Lita Scott Reno Rodeo American Qualifier, she is probably right! Mathis and Castle stopped the clock in 17.413-seconds which was good enough for the win, a check for $1575 and a custom Coats trophy saddle. In addition to her outstanding qualifying run, Mathis also rolled her time from the run and made another run on Saturday in the open earning her just over $3700 for the entire weekend along with another custom trophy saddle and prizes.

"Casey was 38 out of the 42 that were entered and prior to her run there was another 17.4 that was winning the race. About 5 or so riders before she went, she waved me down from the stands and asked me what the rest of the time was for the 17.4. She wanted to know because she wanted to get it in her mind what she had to do to go out there to win it. She was bound and determined to win the deal and sure enough, she did! We were so proud of her and "Castle" as we only went hoping to see how they stacked up against the pro girls."

The confidence that young Mathis displays is refreshing and motivating. She got it on her mind before she made her run what she had to do and she made it happen. She trusted her horse and she trusted the countless hours of training that she spent onboard "Castle" to make him the horse that he is today.

"I visualized my run before I went and when I made my run, I stayed calm and made it happen. Our run definitely wasn't the best run we could've made but I was still very happy with how "Castle" performed for us only having about 12 runs together," explained Casey.

Mathis and her family are looking forward to making the trip to Ft. Worth in the winter and cannot wait to share the experience together as a family. Family is very important to the Mathis' as they are doing this together as a team.

"Casey has a rodeo dream and we are working together as a family to make it happen. We cannot wait to get to Ft. Worth and see what the semi-finals have in store for Casey and "Castle". We are very proud of her hard work, perseverance, and drive. Even as her parents, we are constantly surprised of her incredible work ethic," Mathis said.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We all have enemies. Not everyone is going to like us. Even when we think that “to know us is to love us”, there are people who just don’t get us. The sooner we accept this, the sooner we’ll be free from a lot of unnecessary time spent wondering why.

Unlikely as it may seem, I actually have had enemies that have become fast friends. It’s amazing how silly, preconceived ideas will change when I’ve had the opportunity to get to know a person – or them me.

Our greatest enemy, however, is the devil. He is a liar and the father of all lies. John 8:44. It seems like we hear from him the most just shortly after we ask Jesus to be our Lord. I remember the day I heard for the first time that Jesus died for me, took all my sin on Himself and forgave me. He forgave ME. He forgave ALL my sin. And to me, it was a BOATLOAD of sin. So I took Him up on the trade. His sin (He didn’t have any) for mine. And I got everything good from Him in that trade. I was free! Romans 10:9-10.

But the next day.....did I really just say my favorite cuss word? I thought I was done with all that! Immediately the devil came to tell me that I was awful and I really didn’t get saved and I was horrible for doing yada yada yada.....it was hard at first. I had to keep remembering the promises He had given me. I had to look again at the Bible verse (2 Cor. 5:17) that told me that “all things became new”. I liked being new. And you should too. We aren’t perfect. We just keep growing in the Lord and making the changes He directs.

But the devil will keep reminding you of your past.....there is a man that I knew in high school (HIGH SCHOOL!!!!). He was just an upper classman. We weren’t friends. I just knew who he was. Do you know, that to this day, when I see him in the post office I’ll say “hi” and he’ll say “how are you?” and I’ll say “good” and he’ll say.....”Oh right. Remember I knew you in high school.” Seriously????????? I’m not going back a day and neither are you, thank God! We are new creatures in Christ Jesus! And for this man’s sake, it’s a good thing I got born again.....LOL!
