A $32,713 Win for Wenda Johnson & MacGyver Moonflash at Xtreme Million Finals

Wenda Johnson and MacGyver Moonflash set the pace at the inaugural running of the Xtreme Million Finals, held June 22-28 at the Blackhawk Arena in Salina, Utah, with a victorious 14.866 on their final run to earn $32,713, including sidepot money.

The Pawhuska, Oklahoma, barrel racer also rode Dreams First Flash to fourth and 11th in the 1D to earn an additional $26,272. All totaled, Johnson collected $58,985 on behalf of the horses' owners Tres Mesa Horses of Fort Worth, Texas.

BRR: Have you been to many races since the COVID shutdown and has it affected you or your horses' performance?

Johnson: "The last month I have only been to a few races, and the circumstances did not affect myself or the horses. It is not uncommon for the horses to have a long break between competitions, and this time was no different. The horses are kept in shape by the owner's barn manager, and they felt great when I got back on them."

BRR: What drew you to the Xtreme Million Finals?

Johnson: The amazing producers Dana (Burns-Shaw) and Destiny (Shaw-Crane) have been putting on great races for a long time. This particular race was impressive because of the deep payouts in each D. Plus, both horses had competed in Salina once before and I knew the ground was good. I am also familiar with the area and had friends and family there to support us at the finals.

BRR: How did you qualify for the Xtreme Million?

Johnson: I qualified three spots at the Levelland, Texas, race and planned to attend the finals. Since many of the additional qualifiers were no longer available (due to COVID), the association allowed entries without qualifications, during this unique situation, and I was able to purchase three more spots. Both horses made three runs at the finals.

BRR: Tell us about your winning runs.

Johnson: Both horses did amazing and I am grateful to ride such special and talented horses. Mac made two solid, consistent runs, and finished strong with a 14.8. He has such an ability to put a run together and make it look easy. It's never a surprise, just a pleasure. He's 7 and still coming into his own and, more than anything, he is loving running barrels.

The ground held well for all my runs, but it took a few days to acclimate to the elevation. On the last run, Mac was focused, ran hard and felt amazing.

Two years prior in this arena, we won the Glen Wood Memorial Futurity.

BRR: Mac has also become quite the rodeo horse. Have you done anything special to help him develop?

Johnson: In the last couple of years, I have strived to develop Mac by building his confidence when I am around him. Rarely do I drill on him because he listens so well during a run I can correct him. If I hit a barrel, it is pilot error. He does well with consistency so I trot or lope him through once or twice prior to a race. Other than that, he is so easy to ride and a pleasure to be around. When he's at home the barn manager keeps him in shape and soft.

BRR: You currently sit 10th in the WPRA World Standings with $22,457 won at 9 rodeos. What are your Fourth of July plans?

Amelia McCumber & Aint Seen Famous Yet Pocket $67,338 at Xtreme Million Finals

By Tanya Randall

Physician's assistant Amelia McCumber and her 6-year-old gelding Aint Seen Famous Yet ("Wally") were the high-money earners at the Xtreme Million Finals, held June 23-28 at the Blackhawk Arena in Salina, Utah, earning $67,338.

The duo won money with every run they made, earning the 1D Reserve Championship, worth $27,440, placing seventh in the 1D for $8,576 and placing third in the 2D for another $21,132. They picked up an additional $10,186 from the various sidepots.

McCumber, 29, had qualified twice for the Xtreme Million and when they opened it to late entries due COVID, she paid for a third run.

"I was driving all that way, I figured I may as well," said McCumber, who made a 14-hour trek to Salina. She typically stays within a four-to-five hour radius of her Atkinson, Nebraska, home.

Wally's initial reaction in the Blackhawk Arena put a temporary dent in her "may as well" attitude at first. The very "watchy" gelding didn't think too highly of the orange and purple banners surrounding the arena.

"We call him Watchy Wally," she chuckled. "This weekend I had to exhibition him eight times because he was so scared of those purple and orange banners, he wouldn't even turn the first barrel. I thought, 'Oh great! I drove all the way out here for you to not turn the first barrel because you're so scared!'"

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I'll give him two to three days off after a weekend. I like to let him rest. If I'm going again the next week weekend, I lunge him one day and I might long trot him another. Pretty light. We don't do too much. I do not work barrels on him. I don't think I've worked barrels on him in a year. I don't go back to the pattern unless I have something that needs to be fixed. Knock on wood, he's been so honest and consistent I haven't had to go back."

On their first run on Friday, McCumber says she didn't set Wally up well for the third barrel, causing him to step out on the turn. The run was still a respectable 15.396. Her goal for her second run on Saturday was to be 15 flat and hopefully secure a top four finish in the 1D. Wally delivered with a "beautiful" 15.043.

"I thought for sure that would be in the top 10 unless a bunch of crazy stuff starts happening on Sunday," she said. With money practically in hand after her 15.043, McCumber just decided to have fun with Sunday's run.

"I was so tickled from Saturday, I thought we'll just go in there, give it all we got and she how the cards fell," she explained. "He ran a 14.8, which I wasn't expecting. It was a beautiful. It was kind of cool because he had a 14.896 and he had run a 15.396, an exact half-second off, on his first run. For the longest time, I was leading 1D and 2D until Wenda (Johnson and MacGyver Moonflash) bumped us at the very end."

McCumber, who grew up riding horses, purchased Wally as a yearling from his breeders Joshua and Kaylee Little of Wyoming while she was still studying to be a physician's assistant. He was part of her "five-year plan" while she had to be away at school.

By Frenchmans Guy, Dash Ta Fame stud, Aint Seen Nothin Yet, a rising star in the barrel racing industry, Wally is out of the race-track money earner A Nasty Chick, by Its Royal Time.

"He's a mess," McCumber chuckled. "He's not good at anything but running barrels, but that's what I bought him for anyway." McCumber's farrier Chad Coleman started the gelding under saddle and she later sent him to Jena Garwood for polishing as a 3-year-old. He also spent time doing pasture work with Jackson Montgomery as a 4-year-old.

"Nobody really liked Wally," she recalled. "He's really watchy. He's a pain-in-the butt. He took forever to break and ride. He took twice as long as anything else I had."

Wally was so difficult that McCumber had thought about selling him.

"In March of last year, I exhibited him and it was the most embarrassing thing in my life! We couldn't even trot an exhibition because he was that watchy. I remember crying afterward and I was going to sell him," she said.

What Wally was missing was confidence.

"With those types of horses, sometimes you've just got to go faster and it gets better the faster you go," she said. "He just needed some confidence. Once we got rolling and making some progress it was like a light bulb went off and the rest was history. He definitely put me through the ringer for a couple years. He was not an easy horse at all!"

McCumber, who wanted to thank her family and friends for their support, says she enjoys riding young horses and seeing them progress, and with her work schedule the futurity world fits her program.

"I really like the futurities," she said. "I typically run inside on good ground. I don't rodeo. I'm a fair-weather barrel racer. I don't like running in the rain at midnight. With my work, the futurity world works really well for me, going on the weekends. I have Monday's off so I have a day to regroup."

Wally is going to get a little break while she covers the emergency room over the Fourth of July, but she has plans to attend the 5-State Breeders Maturity, the Gridiron, Royal Crown Race and the BBR Finals later this summer.

Thankfully, her rural county hasn't been greatly impacted by COVID.

"We've been pretty slow," she said. "We've only had a couple of cases in our county, so we've been pretty fortunate that way."

Unfortunately, that doesn't equate more time to ride.

"I still have to go to work and I'm still on call," she said. "I take one weekend a month and two nights a week in clinic, so I'm plenty busy."

A MILLION DOLLAR PAYOUT...

The inaugural running of the Burns family's Xtreme Million Finals awarded $1,047,307 between the Finals, held June 22-28 at the Blackhawk Arena in Salina, Utah, and the various qualifiers held throughout the country.

The Xtreme Million Finals, a main race held over the course of the week, awarded $686,495, not including the many sidepots. The purse grew daily as late entries and buy-backs pour in.

"I was really surprised at how many late entered and would enter again when they hit a barrel," said Xtreme Million Finals 1D Reserve Champion Amelia McCumber, who left Salina with $67,338 courtesy of her three money-winning runs on her 6-year-old gelding Aint Seen Famous Yet.

When the Xtreme Million first launched, contestants were to qualify for the event through sanctioned sidepots at established races throughout the country, primarily in the Western United States. An entry fee of $1,250 got barrel racers got two runs to qualify. Those placing in the money in each race qualified for the Finals.

Due to the COVID shutdown, qualifying opportunities were forced to cancel and the Burns developed a buy-in option. A $1,500 entry fee got you one run toward the million. For those that had already paid $1,250 but didn't qualify, they could enter the Finals in by paying an additional $250.

Sponsors for the event included Burns Saddlery, Burns Hats, Sunset Trails, Redmond Equine, 5-Star Equine Products, Heritage Brand, Synergy Compete, Thunderbird Shirts, Platinum Coach Trailers, Summit (Shawna Payntier) and LaneAway (Kami Bird).

World Barrel Racing Challenge 2020 Pays out over $125,000 in Cash & Prizes

Despite all the setbacks in 2020, Jeanette Nelson and staff were able to bring the WBRC back to life for 2020. It was bigger and better than ever. A kind heart and pure determination by its producer, Jeanette Nelson, makes this a "must attend" event. The event was held in conjunction with the Lucky Dog Barrel race in Memphis, TN the last week in June.

This is a very unique barrel racing event, that instills a "team" spirit in young barrel racers. This is the 4th time for this event and, as always, the competition was nothing short of amazing.

The format allows 50 riders from the east and 50 riders from the west to compete for a spot in the Top 10 from their geographical area. Each rider had to opportunity to enter multiple horses if so desired.

The "long go" was held with the Lucky Dog Friday night race.

At the competition of the race, ALL team entries (east and west) were included in a team payoff that paid on a 2D format with a ¾ second split.

This offered a money earning opportunity for those who didn't qualify in the top 10. The Top 10 rider/horse combinations were determined.

The team captains, Keegan Pollard and Paris Jean flipped a coin for which team would have even draw numbers and who would have odd draw numbers. Each team member was allowed to draw their own running position.

Randee Prindle & Red Man Jones Sweep OE Nutra Bonus Race World Finals

American Semifinals Champions Randee Prindle and Red Man Jones ("Scooby") swept the Bonus Race Finals, winning both the Bonus and Open races to the tune of $14,564.

"To say the last few days have been crazy would be somewhat an understatement," wrote the Gilman City, Missouri, barrel racer of the Bonus Race Finals on Facebook. "It was a good time with friends I hadn't seen in a while and some pretty good laughs. When it was all said and done, Scooby-boy pulled (through) once again, winning both the Bonus Race and the Open race. He is definitely my unicorn and is so making up for the years of craziness he put me (through)."

Prindle also acknowledged her sponsors Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals, Kahm, Spectra Therapy, PEMF Complete, Hidez and Cowgirl Tuff.

Produced by Double B Productions, LLC, the $50,000-added event was held at the Built Ford Tough Livestock Complex in Tulsa, Oklahoma. All Bonus Race Finals World Champion received their choice of a horse trailer or cash in addition to their other prizes, which were awarded through 10th in each division. The trailers were sponsored by Towlite trailers and Double B Productions, LLC. No membership is required to compete, but "qualifiers" must be won to compete in the very lucrative Bonus Race.

Contestants can qualify from January 1 to December 31 the previous year (2019 in this case) at approved events. Qualifiers are given in each division at these approved events with one awarded for each 50 entries. For example, a 50 entry race, would award one qualifier in each division, while a 100 entry race would award two per division. Approval fees for the qualifying events are 100 percent paid back at the Bonus Race Finals.

An additional trailer was awarded, via drawing, to a Five Star producer, whose events contribute at least $500 in approval fees throughout the year. Tyrney Steinhoff Small of TSS Productions won the trailer.

Riders could also qualify for the Bonus Race by winning a spot through the $10,000-added Open held in conjunction. Those competing in the Open Thursday through Saturday could win a qualifier on site to be used in the Bonus Race that weekend. Sunday's Open competitors won qualifiers for the Bonus Race Finals in 2021.

The Bonus and Open races both had daily sidepots for a $10 fee for both their morning (AM) and afternoon (PM) sessions during the week.

Rookie Emily Taylor Outruns Veterans in Crossett

By Ann Bleiker for WPRA.com

Emily Taylor of Emory, Texas, turned in her biggest weekend of her young WPRA rodeo career winning the Crossett Riding Club 72nd Annual PRCA Rodeo and placing seventh at the Mesquite Championship Rodeo.

The muddy conditions in Crossett, Arkansas, didn't seem to bother first year member Taylor and her mare Czech as they stopped the clock in 17.67 seconds.

"Czech took the lead at Crossett, AR after a perf and slack," wrote Taylor on her Facebook page on Thursday, June 25. "It was a sloppy mess, but I don't think she even noticed. Three more perfs to go and the ground will probably dry up a lot these next few nights. Here's hoping we hang in there for a check!"

Taylor most definitely got a check the largest of the weekend taking home $2,495 ahead of Wrangler NFR qualifier Tiany Schuster who took second in a time of 17.96 seconds and $2,121.

Taylor then made her way to Mesquite, Texas, where she rode her other mare she calls Diva. The duo stopped the clock in 15.35 seconds to finish seventh and added $277 to her weekend total.

"It was such a great and fun week," wrote Taylor on Facebook. "I got to see some friends at each rodeo and even made a couple of new ones! I have no idea what I did to deserve these two mares, but I'm thankful for them every day."

With her success over the weekend, Taylor is now ranked 10th in the WPRA Rookie Standings.

Fellow Texan Jill Wilson of Snyder joined Taylor in having a profitable weekend winning the Mesquite Championship Rodeo in a time of 15.11 seconds to pocket $968 and was fourth in Crossett in a time of 18.20 to add $1,497 to her 2020 standings. Wilson is currently ranked fourth in the world and looking for her first Wrangler NFR qualification.

Brandy Gilbert of Springtown, Texas, was lightening fast in the breakaway roping in Mesquite stopping the clock in 1.9 seconds. Gilbert edged 17-time WPRA World Champion JJ Hampton who finished with a 2.0-second run.

The other ProRodeo over the weekend featuring breakaway roping was in Kadoka, S.D., where Rickie Engesser and Sawyer Gilbert tied for the win. Engesser and Gilbert both turned in 2.0 second runs to outdistance Rickie's sister, Taylor, who stopped the clock in 2.4 seconds.

Winning the barrel racing in Kadoka was Callahan Tryan with a 17.72 second run. Tryan earned $1,424. Kelley Wheelhouse was second in 17.86 seconds, while Wrangler NFR qualifier Jessica Routier was third in 17.89 seconds.

This week will find contestants crisscrossing the United States on what has annually become known as "Cowboy Christmas." While the 2020 edition will take on a whole new look with many contestants venturing to rodeos they have never been, it will by far be the busiest week of rodeos this year with 14 rodeos on the schedule (June 29-July 6) spread between Texas, Arkansas, Kansas, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota. WPRA Breakaway roping will be featured at six of those rodeos.

The Digital Rodeo Tournament presented by The Cowboy Channel came to a close last week with champions being named in each event over the weekend Live on the Cowboy Channel. No. 14 ranked barrel racer at the start of the tournament, Brittany Barnett won the barrel racing fan voting over No. 8 Carly Taylor. A total of 60,255 voted in the final round with Barnett receiving 54.44% of the votes to Taylor's 45.56%. Both ladies are looking for their first qualification to the Wrangler NFR this year and hoping they will have as much success in the real arena as they did in the digital arena. Congratulations to both and thanks to everyone who took the time to vote.

WCRA Announces Competition Format for August Stampede at the E

WCRA today announced format details regarding the August 11-15 Stampede at The E along with entry dates. The newly added open qualifying pool format will give both DY (youth) and open timed event athletes the opportunity to enter and potentially qualify to compete in the August 15 one-day $300,000 rodeo.

Contestants in nine disciplines—bareback riding, women's breakaway roping, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, tie-down roping, barrel racing, bull riding, and team roping (heading and heeling)—will compete for their piece of the $300,000 purse. Athletes in each discipline will compete for a share of $28,000 in the main event with the champions walking away with a minimum of $12,500 each. All 10 qualifiers will earn money in the main event.

"As far as we can see, this $300,000 main event will be one of the single biggest opportunities this year," said WCRA President Bobby Mote. "Paired with a qualifier, the projected payout could be greater than $600,000."

WCRA also announced that open timed event athletes will now have the opportunity to compete in the Stampede At The E through the "Open to the World Qualifying Pools". These pools will give any open athlete the opportunity to enter and earn a spot in the August 15 one-day $300,000 rodeo. In addition, the timed events will be multiple entry allowing athletes to potentially compete in both the WCRA Pool and Open Pool.

In addition; DY athletes (competing in timed events only) can enter the DY qualifying pool and compete in a two head aggregate where the number one youth athlete in each timed event discipline will advance to the main event and go head-to-head with the pros at the Stampede At The E for their share of the $28,000 per discipline.

DY athletes will have the option to enter in either the open pools or the DY pool. All youth athletes that have been participating in segment six have until Friday, July 10 to contact support@wcrarodeo.com to switch to the DY pool.

All timed event athletes competing in the Open To The World Qualifying Pools will compete in two rounds of competition with 16 athletes advancing to the progressive round of competition.

In the progressive round- the 16 athletes from the open pools in each discipline will compete in a single pool with the top four advancing to the main event.

Entries for the Open to the World pool will open July 13 at Noon CT and close August 5 at 5 p.m. CT. Entry fees for the open division will be $625 while DY fees will be $500. All entries will be taken on entrytool.com.

Athletes from around the globe have the opportunity to compete in the Stampede at the E and may qualify and earn points by nominating their efforts through the WCRA Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) until July 26. All timed event athletes ranked 1-16 on the segment six leaderboard as of July 26 will not be required to pay an entry fee. All timed event athletes ranked 17-64 will be required to pay a reduced entry fee of $250. The confirmed athletes advancing through the WCRA Leaderboard will enter the event on August 4 at 9 a.m. CT through August 5 at 5 p.m. CT.

The number one athlete on the segment six leaderboard in each discipline as of July 26 will earn a direct spot in the $300,000 main event. The number one athlete will also have the option to enter and compete in the qualifying rounds if they choose without forgoing their position.

All timed event athletes ranked in the top 64 on the leaderboard as of July 26 will compete in a separate pool. Following two-rounds of competition, 16 will advance to a one-run progressive round consisting of a single pool. The top four times in each discipline will advance to the main event, joining the number one athlete from the leaderboard, the number one DY athlete, and the four open pool qualifiers.

Rough stock athletes ranked 1-10 on the segment six WCRA leaderboard as of July 26 will earn a direct position into the $300,000 main event on August 15 with no entry fees.

The Stampede at the E will be coupled with the historic Lazy E Arena Bullnanza, a PBR (Professional Bull Riders) event, creating a weekend of can't miss western sports action. Details regarding bull riding format will be released at a later date.

The CBS Television Network will broadcast the Stampede At The E on Saturday, Aug. 29.

All rodeo athletes interested in learning more about the VRQ should be directed to wcrarodeo.com or contact support@wcrarodeo.com

Since launching in May of 2018, the WCRA and its partners have awarded more than $7,300,000 in new money to rodeo athletes.

Canadian Finals Rodeo Cancelled for 2020

The Canadian Professional Rodeo Association, Westerner Park and the Red Deer & District Chamber of Commerce made the decision to postpone this year's Canadian Finals Rodeo until 2021.

With the uncertainty surrounding COVID-19 related health guidelines and the cancellation of many qualifying rodeos this summer, they determined the standard of excellence and quality of experience that fans and competitors expect from the Canadian Finals Rodeo would not be achievable this year.

CFR is a national championship rodeo, scheduled to run Nov. 3-8. The world-class rodeo consistently attracts the best contestants and stock in Canada and more than 43,000 attendees. The six-day event contributes an economic impact of about $37 million.

"The health, safety and protection of our athletes, animals and guests is always our top priority," said Jeff Robson, General Manager of the CPRA. "During these uncertain times, and considering the pandemic, economic instability and reality of the extensive preparation that goes into a successful rodeo, we know it is the right decision to postpone this year's event."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Happy 4th of July week! Oh, how much we have to be thankful for! Blessings over you and all your plans! What a first part of the year.

I have been practicing being thankful every day. Because honestly, I want to complain and criticize and in general, be frustrated. So I PURPOSE to be thankful, and to say it out loud.

I went to a barrel race two weeks ago and put my horses in a pen. When I came back from the entry office, my gelding had kicked through a panel and barked up his leg. Definitely limping. Grinding my teeth, I went back in and drew out. AARRGGHH! But, here I am at the barrel race with my grandkids. So. I started thanking God that the leg wasn't permanently damaged and I had extra time to spend with the Grands.

Did I FEEL like being thankful? No. My thoughts were screaming at the situation. But what good would it have done to have a fit? My flesh would love it. God would not.

James 1:2 tells us to count it joy when we fall into various trials. He said it. I'm doing it. I CHOOSE to put my trust in His instruction and His wisdom.

Let's practice His word this week, whether we feel like it or not! That's what Christians do.
