Betting On Success – Anita Ellis & RV Two Dash Ta Vegas Triumph at Inaugural Ruby Buckle Futurity

By Tanya Randall

After a nearly 20 year barrel racing hiatus, Anita Ellis returned to the competitive arena in 2020 to win the Ruby Buckle Futurity Championship at the inaugural running of the nearly $1.2 million Ruby Buckle Regional with her 4-year-old French Streaktovegas gelding RV Two Dash Ta Vegas (“Axel”), her first ever futurity horse to train and campaign.

“It’s still unbelievable to me,” said the mother of four from Blackfoot, Idaho. “Every time I think about it I get overwhelmed! I can’t believe it happened!”

The Ruby Buckle Regional, held June 3-6 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, featured a $295,000 Futurity with an additional $95,000 2D payout, a $695,000 Open 4D and a $100,000 sidepot for Pink Buckle enrolled horses.

In addition to the $42,091 Ellis put in her pockets as the winning owner in the futurity, she also won $4,952 for French Streaktovegas and $2,576 for the Walkers.

She and also picked up checks in the Open with carryovers from the futurity. They finished eighth in the Open average, earning $4,356 for Ellis, $513 for French Streaktovegas and $256 for the Walkers.

All totaled, Ellis and Axel were responsible for earnings of $54,644.

“I thought that event was so well ran,” she said. “The grounds were just amazing to me! It was so beautiful! Everyone was so helpful! From the second we checked in, it was very easy. We knew exactly what to do and where to go. I was really impressed. It was great!”

The eldest daughter of Vauna Walker, who won the inaugural running of the Pink Buckle Futurity two years ago, Ellis was a talented competitor in her youth until she injured her back in a car accident. Although she exercised and tried to strengthen her back, complications from a fractured vertebra made riding impossible.

“Every time I rode I suffered for two weeks afterward,” she said. “There was never anything that I could do.”

She did really well physically until she fell while snowboarding with her daughter.

“After that I just couldn’t deal with it anymore,” she said. “The pain was out of control.”

Ellis opted for spinal fusion a little more than three years ago and got her life and ability to ride pain free back.

When Ellis was ready to return to the arena, Walker had a project picked out for Ellis in her and husband Randy’s homebred herd. A 2016 gelding by multiple futurity and BFA Derby World Champion French Streaktovegas out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Two Dash To Fame, who won seven futurities and more than $60,000 in 2008.

“Two years ago, I started back really carefully riding my 2-year-old, which was very nerve wracking because I was afraid of hurting myself,” said Ellis. “Now I have him, a 3-year-old that I will be running next year and I feel great. I’m so glad I had that surgery even though it was a tough recovery and really nerve wracking, but I feel really good now.”

The biggest challenge, she says, was doubting her ability to train a barrel horse from scratch.

“I knew I could ride and I didn’t feel like I had lost any of that,” said Ellis, whose last attempt at running barrels was six years ago

THE RUNDOWN w/Anita Ellis

RV Two Dash Ta Vegas “Axel”, 15 hands, 1,000 lbs.

BIT: Medium shank Ed Wright Lifter with a three-piece dogbone.

“That’s another thing about my mom that has been awesome. She has everything. I tried out everything of hers before I bought my own! These bits are expensive. I don’t want to buy one and have it not work,” Ellis chuckled.

HEADGEAR: Tiedown “He was putting his head up around every barrel last year, so my mom suggested putting a tiedown on him. It’s been a game-changer for him.”

SADDLE: A trophy saddle that her mother, Vauna Walker, won. “I have my own, but it didn’t fit him right. So, I raided my mom’s saddles too.”

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Rims on front, regular on back

FEED: None

HAY: Alfalfa hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Ichon injectable for joints, monthly

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: “I do some slow work, but it’s mostly conditioning. It just depends on how he runs. It’s mostly conditioning, but I’ll pick a day where I will do some slow work with him. He hates going slow around the barrels so I try to avoid the pattern just to keep him calm.”

when she tried to run one of her mother's horses but then painfully regretted it over the following weeks. "I just didn't know if I could train something to run the barrels."

Training any horse for barrels is a challenge but it is even more so with colts pointed toward futurities.

"So many times, my horse would work really good," she said, "and the next day I'm like 'What is he doing? Did he just forget?' or 'What am I doing?' You just have your doubts in your head, but you have to keep moving forward. Working with colts is so different. Some days you're on cloud nine and then the next you're like 'Did he forget everything we worked on this week?'"

Thankfully, she had her mom to go to for advice.

"I'm sure my mom was tired of me calling after a while," she said. "I've asked my mom for a lot of advice for certain things that he was doing like coming off the barrel, what kind of exercise could I do with him. Everything she told me to do has worked. She'd watch him and say he looked a little bit sore, so we got that taken care of. She helped me a ton. She's the best coach ever, so it was awesome having her."

Ellis also has to balance her busy family life as well. A former junior high math teacher, Ellis keeps the books for her husband Brandon's business and manages their four children: daughters Ashtin, 17, and Quincy, 4, and sons Dallin, 15, and Tanner, 13.

"It's busy," Ellis said of her family's schedule. "Everyone is involved with everything possible they can be involved in. They ride as a hobby, but most of them do sports. My youngest is probably going to be a barrel racer. She loves her horse and is on her pony every day."

The trick, says Ellis, was working with the young horses without her youngest assistant.

"She just wants to be outside and doing things with me," she said. "Doing things with colts—that's always scary with little kids around. You never know what they're going to do. I always tried to time things when my husband could take her or she was at preschool. With my older kids, there's a big enough gap where they can help to, but they're just as busy. We just had time it where she couldn't 'help' me."

Ellis and Axel made their competitive debuts at Buckeye, Arizona, in January. It was Ellis's first since her surgery.

"I was so nervous I can't even describe it," she said. "It's crazy how your mind starts thinking what if this happens. I've always tried to protect my back and those thoughts right before a run were overwhelming to me.

I have to control that a lot. I worked on it a lot at the Ruby Buckle. I had to not think any negative thoughts and picture myself making a run and my horse running like I know he can. That was a struggle for me at first. Your mind goes crazy when you're afraid of hurting yourself." They picked up a 2D check in the first futurity but came back and finished fifth in the average in the Greg Olson, which she says was a "total surprise."

After the COVID shutdown, Ellis and Axel picked up go-round checks at both the PCR Pink Cadillac and Yeti Classic futurities but caught barrels to place in the average at each.

"This weekend I was so nervous," she said.

"I'm glad I had those two futurities so I would know how to ride him better for the Ruby Buckle. That's what those two futurities did for me. I realized I need to ride him hard into every barrel and not sit up because he just responds to my cues so much. When I sat up too soon that's when he would tip a barrel. I felt like it was my riding mistakes every time I tipped a barrel. He's just really responsive and that's what I love about him."

In the first round, Ellis and Axel were fourth with a 17.238.

"The first run, I had to adjust him a little bit going into the first barrel," she explained. "(He) picked his head up just a little bit. He was a tiny bit of unsure of where he was turning. It wasn't bad. Only my way home, I felt like he pulled up a little bit before the eye, but he had amazing run."

Not wanting to make the same mistake she made at the prior futurities, Ellis was focused on riding Axel all the way into his turns and trusting him to do his job.

"Randy always asks me before I run, 'What's your strategy?' trying to get me to calm down," she said. "I'll tell him, 'I just need to ride him.' He's like, 'Yes, you need to ride him deep in the barrel and trust him that he's going to turn.' That's what I tried really hard to do both runs—trust him that he's going to turn the barrel."

In the second round, Ellis and Axel turned in the fastest time of the futurity, a 16.998, to win the round and average. She says the run felt "amazing."

"The second run felt really perfect," she said. "The only thing that happened was my foot came out of the stirrup at the second barrel. I just held on to the third. I couldn't kicked him coming home so I got my over and under out to keep him from holding up before the eye, but it felt amazing!"

Near Record Pace Give Leslie Willis & Gimme Damoney A $34,066 Victory at Inaugural Ruby Buckle

By Tanya Randall

A blistering 16.653 on a WPRA Standard Pattern pushed Leslie Willis and Gimme Damoney ("Trouble") past Janna Brown and Leos Pretty Woman for the Open 1D Average Championship at the inaugural running of the Ruby Buckle Regional, held June 3-6 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma. The margin of victory was .002.

Willis and Trouble collected $27,691 for the average and second go-round wins, plus another $6,375 for the Pink Buckle Sidepot victory. They also earned $4,008 for Trouble's sire Tres Seis and $2,004 for his breeders Hodnett Quarter Horses of Arthur City, Texas. The grand total credited to the pair was $40,078!

In the first round, Willis and Trouble were out of the money with a respectable 17.264.

"He slipped a little bit leaving the first barrel," said the multiple aged event champion from Chester, South Carolina. "It kind of pitched him back toward the timer line and I struggled a little bit getting him across the pen to the second barrel. When I ran a 17.2 I knew it wouldn't place in the round, but I thought to myself, 'Well, if we come back tomorrow and do better, we can at least place in the average.' The top 10 in the average was my goal."

For her second, run she made some adjustments to Trouble's start in the alleyway and blistered the clock with a scorching run.

"The first day I let him catch his hip on the alleyway coming in because I have to run him straight at his first barrel," she explained. "(It) isn't something I do on any of my other horses, but for him to get around it, that's kind of what I learned to do. The tighter the pocket going into the first barrel, the easier it is for me to get around it. The second run I gave a little more room coming in the alley but I didn't let him drift up the middle of the pen, I just tried to keep him the same tracks. When I got to the first barrel, he just smoked it. I thought, 'Don't hit the second and third!' When he turned the second pretty nice, I thought, 'Just get down there. Don't hit it. Don't mess this run up.' Luckily, he listened to me."

It was one of those runs, where every barrel was tight but nothing was in danger of coming down.

"Everything was where it was supposed to be," said Willis, who doesn't see many Standard Patterns. In recent years, she's only ran on them at the Pink and Ruby Buckles. Thankfully, the longer pattern and openness of the Lazy E worked in her favor.

"A lot of places we go it's smaller and the barrels are closer to the fence," she said. "In Guthrie, they're kind of out there. There's no walls that you're running into. I think that helps him. The bigger pattern also helps him because he gets his momentum going that way he's not shutting down. The momentum carried him around those turns."

Willis' husband Jason picked out Troubles at the 2013 BFA World Championship Futurity. The Tres Seis gelding out of Damoney, by Mr Eye Opener, ran in the Juvenile with Abby Pursifull. "I struggled with him," she recalled. "I hit a lot of barrels. Looking back, we just couldn't click. A lot of people knew he wasn't particularly my favorite. Jason said, 'You tell everyone all the time that you hated him!' I could win the go round or I could hit a barrel. That's just how it went. Looking back, I can attribute a lot of that to his front feet. We just had to learn a lot. A lot of x-rays were shot. I think knowing how to shoe him has made a big difference."

Trouble is also one of the few open horses that have got to stay in the Willis barn.

"I get to keep them until they're 10 and he's 10 this year, but I'm going to tell Jason that he's 8," she laughed. "Actually, he knows he's 10. Trouble has some front feet issues and it's been

Gimme Damoney "Trouble", 15.3 hands, 1,200-1,300 lbs. "Believe it or not, he's one of the shorter horses in the barn."

BIT: Custom Carolina Bit. Freeman gag shank with a dogbone mouthpiece with a copper roller.

SADDLE: Double J

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine Zone

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Cross Fit, Classic Equine 3DX bell boots (discontinued), polo wraps behind

SHOEING: Special steel rims on front; shod by her husband Jason Willis

FEED: Whole oats with a little Nutrena Safe Choice

HAY: Homegrown rye grass hay and a flake of alfalfa a day

SUPPLEMENTS: Cox Vet Lab products

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Cold water spa, both days at Guthrie. Acupuncture and Chiropractic care.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I still tune on him a little bit. I actually had to tune on him when we got to Guthrie because we've been under water the last three weeks. We've been long trotting around a wet cow pasture. It's pretty minimal. We long trot them maybe 10 minutes. It's not every day either, three, maybe four times a week. It just depends on what I'm trying to get ready for. I feel like they don't need a lot of wear-and-tear."

one of those things that Jason's learned to shoe him and keep him sound. He pays his way and keeps me from going insane. Jason like to win. When he does get to be around them, he wants to see them win not just place. I'm sure our decision may change, but right now, we don't even price him when people call about him."

Willis is picky about where the gelding gets to run too. His runs this year came at the American Semifinals, the Patriot, one run at the Elite Extravaganza and a couple of jackpots before Guthrie.

"I'm picky where he goes," she said. "I'm not one to run my horse for a couple of hundred dollars. Like a lot of my local friends didn't even know I had him. Unless they see me at the bigger shows, they don't even know he exists."

Trouble won enough at the Ruby Buckle to pay for his dam and siblings, whom Willis had purchased earlier this year.

"I bought them the first of March and I still don't know what they look like," she said. "We have been trying to buy his dam for five years and his breeder finally agreed to do it. I bought two mares and three yearlings. I put him out of the horse business!"

Willis also had nice runs on her two horses by Furyofthewind. Her 2019 futurity champion Ethyls Eyes, out of Joyous Eyes, by Mr Eye Opener out of the blue hen mare Joyous Bugs, by Bugs Alive In 75, was just out of the money in Open 1D. Her 5-year-old gelding, Runaway Fury ("Blaze"), won $9,365 for winning second in the second round of the futurity and tenth in the second round of the Open 1D.

"He would have been fourth in the first round (of the futurity), but tipped a barrel," Willis said of the gelding out of Runaway Mad, by Runaway Colors. "We actually put him in the Pink Buckle Sale last year with intentions of selling him. We wanted $40,000 and he brought $39,000. If he'd have brought one more thousand, he would have sold. Jason says now, 'Good thing we didn't sell him.'"

Willis opted to hold the gelding over to 5 because he was immature as a 3-year-old.

"He was a barrel horse," she said, "but he just wouldn't do it. He wouldn't run. He wouldn't put out effort. I turned him out for the winter and got him back up as a 4-year-old. Got him ready for the Pink Buckle Sale and it was like he just kept getting better and better."

"He can run so hard and then just put it in the ground and turn around. He's real looky. I think that hurts him a lot too because he won't run all the way up into his turns. I think with time he'll get better and better."

One thing is certain, Willis is hunting more Pink and Ruby Buckle horses.

"I think it's great," she said of the programs. "I've been really impressed with the Pink and Ruby Buckle."

Taulman Ropes Title in Mesquite

By Ann Bleiker, courtesy of www.wpra.com

While Cacee Sue Taulman might not be a household name yet in the WPRA Breakaway Roping ranks, she has world champion pedigree on her side. Her great-grandfather is the late Everett Shaw, a ProRodeo Hall of Famer who won six world titles in the steer roping and her late grandfather is Sonny Worrell, who won the 1978 PRCA Steer Roping title.

Taulman made them both proud this past weekend winning the WPRA Breakaway Roping title at the Mesquite Championship Rodeo, the first PRCA/WPRA sanctioned roping since the COVID-19 pandemic hit. The Drumright, Oklahoma cowgirl roped her calf in 2.9 seconds to outdistance the field.

"It was a blessing," said Taulman of her win. "That was the first time I had been back on my good horse, Joe, in about a year. He is 21 years old and I have had him since he was four. He carried me to the Junior High finals twice, High School finals twice and the College finals twice.

"I hadn't been competing on Joe much lately as I have several young horses I am trying to bring along. I had been to Mesquite before to barrel race, so knew that it was a stick'em pen. I didn't know what kind of calves they would have but knew it would have a short score and that is Joe's A-game. He was the perfect horse for me for that type of set-up."

Taulman who is currently working to fill her WPRA permit so her money can start counting to the world standings, knew it was going to be a tough roping at Mesquite when she saw names like JJ Hampton on the entry list.

"JJ is an idol and she is the same no matter what," said Taulman. "She is always there in your corner. To compete against someone like her makes you want to be better. She is there to win but also there to help her fellow companions. When you see her name on the list you know you are going to need to bring your A-game."

With the win in Mesquite, Taulman made a big jump towards filling her permit after winning $791 and is hoping to keep the momentum going this weekend at the Woodward (Oklahoma) Elks Rodeo. While no one knew what to expect with breakaway roping in Mesquite, Taulman watched those in slack before competing in the performance and she felt that knowledge paid off.

"My fiancé was competing in the team roping, so I got to watch slack so knew the calves were on the fresher end, and they weren't taking off," noted Taulman. "I was a little off on the start and ran him longer than I wanted but I just took my first shot and it all worked out."

She knows she is in for another tough roping this week in Woodward and plans to use a different horse as the pen is much bigger.

"Woodward is going to be a tough roping with a good score due to a bigger pen and probably bigger calves," said Taulman, who graduated from Sam Houston State University. "Not knowing exactly how the set-up will be and everyone not knowing opens it up to where we are all rookies on a level playing field. I enjoy that part of it."

Taulman works as a safety engineer and has been busy trying to plan her wedding which was supposed to be in March, but due to COVID-19 has been rescheduled three times already.

"We are now supposed to get married in 19 days," said Taulman on June 8.

Joining Taulman in the winner's circle on the WPRA side was Wrangler NFR qualifier Tiana Schuster of Krum, Texas, who finished atop the leaderboard in the barrel racing. Schuster stopped the clock in 15.40 seconds. Maggie Carter was second in 15.51 seconds, while Brittney Barnett was third in a time of 15.63 seconds. Schuster added $811 to her 2020 World Standings and is currently ranked 13th with $19,724. Complete world standings can be found at www.wpra.com.

Results: Breakaway roping: 1. Cacee Sue Taulman, 2.9 seconds, $791; 2. Jordan Fabrizio, 3.3, $654; 3. (tie) Kayla Graham and Sarah Morrissey, 3.9, $450 each; 5. (tie) Brandy Gilbert, JJ Hampton and Ashleigh Williams, 12.1, $127 each.

Barrel racing: 1. Tiana Schuster, 15.40 seconds, $811; 2. Maggie Carter, 15.51, $705; 3. Brittney Barnett, 15.63, $599; 4. Abby Pursifull, 15.65, $494; 5. Kelly Bruner, 15.74, $388; 6. Shelby Janssen, 15.86, $282; 7. Jennifer Kalafatic, 16.04, $176; 8. Sarah Rau, 16.06, $71.

NOTHING IN THIS WORLD CAN TAKE THE PLACE OF PERSISTENCE.
TALENT WILL NOT; NOTHING IS MORE COMMON THAN UNSUCCESSFUL PEOPLE WITH TALENT. GENIUS WILL NOT; UNREWARDED GENIUS IS ALMOST A PROVERB. EDUCATION WILL NOT; THE WORLD IS FULL OF EDUCATED DERELICTS. PERSISTENCE & DETERMINATION ALONE ARE OMNIPOTENT. THE SLOGAN, PRESS ON! HAS SOLVED AND ALWAYS WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS OF THE HUMAN RACE.

BARREL RACING REPORT

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

How are you doing? Is peace residing in your heart and your house? As God's children, it should be. It's not????? Oh dear. How can we change that?

Well, we must be spending more time in the Word of God, thinking about what He says about the current state of our country, then we do watching the news. In the natural, it's grim. In the Spirit, we are winning.

But we cannot win if we don't do what it takes to win. If you are active in any sport, and you want to win, you must put in the time and effort to BE a winner. You do not sit on the couch and watch other people on tv. You get your backside out there and YOU do what it takes.

We are the army of God. Not the couch potatoes of God! We are NOT TROUBLED about the things we see on tv. We are STIRRED INTO ACTION! We pray.....a lot.

We make a difference in the lives of others. We give.

We don't agree that America is going to hell in a handbasket. Our words and our actions speak hope, help and peace. Let's get out there and make a difference!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
