Ideal Outcome For Heather Crowley & Aint She Perfect At Glacier Chaser Classic Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Heather Crowley of Poplar, Montana, and her 5-year-old mare Aint She Perfect ("Lucy") turned in two consistent runs for a $5,280 win at the $10,000-added Futurity at the Glacier Chaser Classic, held July 6-9 at Cottonwood Equine Center in Joliet, Montana.

"I was actually a little frustrated with my riding," Crowley admitted. They were fifth in the first round with a 14.929 and won the second with a 14.964. "I thought she could have done better if I had done a better job, but she made up for it. She tries so hard every time. It just worked out, I guess."

Crowley said going from an outdoor run into the smaller confines at Cottonwood for the futurity may have made her ride too aggressively.

"She usually clocks a little better if I give her time to gather up and get around her turns," she explained. "We had been outside and were going back inside so I was like, 'Just make sure you ride her by...' I think I was too aggressive on her."

Following the futurity, Crowley made a mad dash to meet her farrier in Miles City, Montana, before heading to the 100th Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede for the performance that night.

"Some people were like, 'You're crazy to try to make that!' It wasn't like I was going somewhere else. It's basically home," said Crowley. Wolf Point and Poplar are just 20 miles apart.

She opted to ride Lucy.

"I was going to run my good horse, but she had had the week off and I just had her shoes changed," she explained. "When I got on her, she just felt like a firecracker. I thought I've got a good draw, so I was just going to get on where my confidence is, so I got back on my futurity colt."

Making just her second pro rodeo run and first in a night performance, Lucy placed third, earning $1,528, in front of Crowley's family and friends.

"Someone asked me after Wolf Point if I was shocked," she noted. "I said, 'Well, kinda, but at this point, I'm expecting to be shocked. It's the craziest thing. You take her over to the arena and let her see it, see what's going on, and she's like OK. It's funny. She'll walk in there like 'I've got it.'"

Crowley was riding with a heavy heart after learning of her cousin Brent Fjeldheim's passing in a car accident on Friday night. "I felt like I was running for him, and then (Lucy) came through for me," she said through tears. "It just felt like he was with us. His mom, my aunt Annette, has always been one of my biggest supporters."

Crowley grew up in a rodeo family. Her father team roped, and she got started on his roping horses.

"My mom and dad worked really hard to get us to clinics and things where we could learn," she said. "I ended up getting a college scholarship and kept on with it. I think it's one of those things that once you get your toes in there, you get addicted and then you're stuck."

Now the mother of two preschoolers--a 4-year-old daughter and 2-year-old son, with husband J.C. Crowley, is a regular on the Montana Pro Rodeo Circuit and has recently dabbled in the futurity world in recent years. She purchased Lucy from her breeder Starr Nelson in February 2022 after seeing the mare for sale on Barrel-

“She sent me a picture of what her mom looks like and she looks exactly like her mom,” Crowley said. “I think that mare probably had more ability than anybody maybe thought she had, she just wasn’t bred like what’s big in the industry.”

Lucy was well broke and started on the pattern when Crowley got her. She did switch her to the left barrel first because she thought her right turn was better. Although she had planned on going to more futurities earlier in the year, a nasty winter left them a little behind on seasoning. At the Ruby Buckle in Guthrie, Crowley said Lucy did well but was just too green to be competitive.

“She did great, but she just wasn’t ready,” she said. “She just didn’t have enough runs for that level of competition.”

By mid-May, things started coming together for the mare. They were fourth at the Royal Crown Canada Futurity, earning $18,000.

“That’s when I was like OK, I’ve got something here,” noted Crowley.

Then at the Lynda Ottun Memorial at Miller’s Horse Palace in Laurel, Montana, Lucy clocked a 13.9.

“To run a 13 at all in there is pretty crazy,” she said. “They’re pretty few and far between. I was like, ‘Oh Geeze’ that was the best I’ve ever run in there.”

Then Lucy jumped up and won second at her first pro rodeo in Belt, Montana. Given her recent success at Wolf Point, Lucy will probably get a few more rodeo runs this summer.

“I’ve tried to be careful with the ground. There’s so much money at the futurities I’m trying to be careful where I run her. I could have run her over the Fourth, but I didn’t feel like I drew anywhere that that would be a good idea. If I get somewhere where the ground is good, she’ll definitely get a chance.”

Tamara Barnhart & Guys Sweet Design Stay Hot, Sweep Glacier Chaser Classic Derby

By Tanya Randall

American Contender Tournament Champions Tamara Barnhart and her 7-year-old mare Guys Sweet Design (“Lucy”) picked up $10,345 at the Glacier Chaser Classic, held July 6-9 at Cottonwood Equine Center in Joliet, Montana. They swept the Derby for $4,965 and won $5,330 in the Open races.

“It was a great race,” said Barnhart. “I’d never been to that facility. The ground was great. It’s a nice set up. My horse had a stall right by the river. That was super nice.”

Barnhart and Lucy turned in runs of 14.490 and 14.646 to win the Derby title.

“The one thing I’m having to adapt to is she’s running so much harder to the first,” said Barnhart. “I’ve had to start rating her a little bit sooner and it’s taken me a while to figure that out. We’ve been over shooting the first barrel a little bit.”

Barnhart and Lucy have won $115,000 this year alone from The American, several derby championships and top placing at the larger jackpots like the Xtreme Million.

“We’ve been on fire,” said the chiropractor and single mother of two boys from Athol, Idaho. “We’ve been having a killer year. It’s really surreal how she’s been running. We’ve had a few bobbles here and there, some hit barrels that have cost us, but overall, she’s been phenomenal, rock solid, running hard, and a lot more consistent. It’s really been a surreal year as far as the fact that she’s running with the best people. She’s just really turned it on.”

Barnhart, who didn’t start barrel racing until a year before Lucy was born, purchased the mare as a yearling from her breeder Glenn Johnson. Lucy is by Guys First Down Fame, who now resides in Australia, and out of Smart Designer, by the New Design stallion Designer Jet. Late in her fourth year, Lucy started running in the 1D and has just become more consistent the last two years.

After her American experience this past winter, Barnhart took Lucy to a few rodeos to get more experiences with a crowd and different situations.

“That way if we make it back to Texas (for the American), it’s not that big a thing,” said Barnhart, who has already qualified for the 2024 Contender tourney. “There’s really no way to prepare them for 37,000 people like that.”

However, the main focus will be the larger added money jackpots.

“With the money they have at the jackpots these days, I’d much rather run at a jackpot than a rodeo,” she said. “With my lifestyle, with my job and my children, if I can go every other weekend and pull some good checks that’s perfect. To be honest, I like the technicality of jackpotting. The footing is so good that it comes down to the perfect course, the straight lines and tight corners.”

Perfectionism is the mother of procrastination.

Shelley Morgan & HR FamesKissAndTell Win Second Rooftop Rodeo Title and $7,376 for the Week

By Tanya Randall

Four-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Shelley Morgan and her great mare HR FamesKissAndTell won the $6,700-added Rooftop Rodeo, held July 5-10 in Estes Park, Colorado, for the second time. They won the rodeo in 2021 and were third there last year.

"She likes Estes," Morgan said of Kiss, her 9-year-old daughter of CEO out of Fames Fiery Kiss, by Dash Ta Fame.

Shockingly, Morgan almost turned out of the rodeo, where she won $4,217, due to her upcoming runs in Pool C at the Calgary Stampede later this week.

She was in Vernal, Utah, on Saturday, where she made a third place run, worth $3,159, and Estes Park on Sunday night in slack after the performance. Morgan also had her first run at Salt Lake City in slack on this Wednesday morning. Going to Estes Park meant a detour east for one run.

"We thought since we were in Vernal, we'd just turn out of Estes and go on to Salt Lake City and then head on up to Calgary," Morgan explained. "We got to thinking. We wouldn't run at Salt Lake until around 10-ish. I was like run No. 105 and it started at 8. By the time we got her cooled down and iced, we wouldn't pull out of there until 11. It was a 14 hour drive (to Calgary) if you were to drive straight through. Well, we would have stopped twice and got her off the trailer so that makes it more like a 16-hour drive. We got to adding everything up and we've got an 8 o'clock meeting in Calgary in the morning. If we have any trouble at the border or any mechanical issues, it was pushing it too close. So, we turned out of Salt Lake and went to Estes."

Morgan said her rodeo strategy this year is quality over quantity. She didn't start her summer run until the Greeley Stampede, and only made four rodeos over the Fourth of July.

"That was mainly due to weather," she said. "An all-night drive played the part on another. Rex (her husband) and I decided we're too old for that! Let's do quality over quantity for sure this round!"

Morgan and Kiss won $12,206 over the Fourth of July, after winning Oakley, Utah, and placing at Cody, Wyoming, Red Lodge, Montana and Greeley. They're currently in the WPRA's Top 15 (#14 - $48,367) with her turn at Calgary yet to come.

"This is actually our first year to go to Calgary," Morgan said. She had earned the right to compete in 2009 after making the NFR on her great horse My Playboy Champ ("Short Go"), but after she lost him in a tragic stalling accident, she declined the invitation. Then COVID put a damper on any trips until now. "You know how horses have pens that they like? We're hoping she likes that one. We have a relatively fresh horse. She looks good and feels good. We're pretty excited."

Circuit of Champions Training Tour Creates Educational Opportunity

The mission of Smarty is to provide products and services for the Western industry to cultivate champions in and out of the arena through innovative creativity. As the portfolio of products has grown, so has the desire to engage with the consumers and professional team of athletes chosen to endorse the brands, providing ample support to create an in-person educational experience.

The Circuit of Champions Training Tour concept was developed to educate rodeo enthusiasts of all levels in multiple events. The first tour stop will be in McDonald, TN, August 28-30, 2023. Professional athletes Charly Crawford, Joseph Harrison, Levi Simpson, Cole Davison, Clay Tryan, Rich Skelton, and Speed Williams will coach a limited number of students in the team roping and horsemanship. Meanwhile, Tibba Smith, WPRA Reserve World Champion Breakaway roper, will be leading the breakaway session, and the founder of Steer Wrestling 101, Tom Carney will coach Steer Wrestling. Since the development of the Smarty Bronc, the relationship with 10-time NFR qualifier Ryan Mapston has spread knowledge throughout the sport's rough stock side, allowing for one day of chute etiquette and bronc riding fundamentals to be part of this program.

The goal of the Circuit of Champions Training Tour is to ensure that each student gets the most out of their experience. Therefore, spots are limited so that the environment is controlled and beneficial. Because the intention is to educate, a horse is not required to participate; an Auditor pass is available. Seminars for saddle fit and other helpful topics are also on the schedule.

Rural Radio 147 on Sirius XM Celebrates 10th Anniversary

Rural Media Group announced today that the media entity's radio network, Rural Radio on Sirius XM, is celebrating its 10th anniversary this Saturday, July 15th. Found exclusively on Sirius XM channel 147, Rural Radio is an agribusiness and western lifestyle radio network available to all Sirius XM subscribers throughout the United States and Canada. Originally launched on July 15, 2013, Rural Radio on Sirius XM 147 is headquartered in Nashville, Tennessee, and shares production studios with RMG's flagship network, RFD-TV. Today the radio network has over 37 shows airing weekly, including Market Day Report, AgriTalk, RealAg Radio, Ag PhD and This Week in AgriBusiness.

"For the past 10 years, Rural Radio on SiriusXM has delivered the news and information that is so vital to growing this country's food supply, yet relatively ignored by urban media," stated Patrick Gottsch, Founder & President of Rural Radio. "By delivering 'live' commodity market reports each morning, agricultural talk in the afternoons, and covering rural America's sport, professional rodeo, at night and on weekends, RURAL RADIO has grown into being now recognized as the most trusted media source throughout the Heartland. We sincerely thank the executives at SiriusXM for addressing this need a decade ago and sticking with us throughout this journey."

According to the most recent Sirius XM Study, there are over 35 million subscribers to Sirius XM, with 13.7 million new vehicles sold in 2022 in the United States, and 75% of those new cars/trucks have Sirius XM. And according to the 2022 AMR Rural Radio Study, Rural Radio is the #1 most trusted source for U.S. producers/listeners for receiving timely and accurate agricultural information, which almost triples local radio programming. Over 40% of Rural Radio listeners tune in over two hours per day, and 65% do not listen to AM/FM broadcasters, which shows the unique audience that has grown over the past 10 years.

New Recognition 'AQHA Horse of the Quarter' Unveiled

This year the PRCA unveiled a new recognition with the American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) called "AQHA Horse of the Quarter."

For this new acknowledgement, the PRCA will send a survey to all active PRCA

Announcers on Survey Monkey via email. The announcers will have the option to nominate – up to two times – any timed-event or pickup horse. If an announcer nominates a horse, he will receive $25 for making a nomination.

From the AQHA horses nominated, a winner will be chosen by an expert three-person panel with two representatives from AQHA and one from the PRCA.

The winner of the “AQHA Horse of the Quarter” for first quarter, was RK Tuff Trinket, “Bob” owned by team roping header Riley Minor, an 11-time qualifier for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, including last year in Las Vegas. Minor, who calls Ellensburg, Wash., home, received a $1,000 gas card for winning. Minor was nominated by veteran NFR announcer Wayne Brooks.

PRCA announcers are encouraged to submit their nominations for the “AQHA Horse of the Quarter” for the third quarter.

Rural Media Group Inc. Purchases the Iconic FarmHer & RanchHer Brands

Rural Media Group, Inc. (RMG), the world’s leading multimedia content provider dedicated to the rural and western way of life, announces today the acquisition of the two iconic FarmHer and RanchHer brands. This procurement comes with great excitement as the female role in agriculture expands. Raquel Gottsch Koehler has been named the new CEO of FarmHer, Inc., effective immediately. Koehler is a highly respected industry leader who brings a wealth of knowledge to this new project. She will continue the legacy and momentum of both FarmHer and RanchHer as she fulfills her new responsibilities as CEO.

“Connecting with and shining a light on women within our agriculture industry has always been my greatest passion,” said Raquel Gottsch Koehler, CEO of FarmHer. “For the past 8 years, I have served as a FarmHer board member and played a key role in the start of the FarmHer television series on RMG’s flagship network RFD-TV. As we celebrate ten phenomenal years of FarmHer, I am honored to lead this exciting venture into the next decade and beyond.”

FarmHer was founded by a woman named Marji Guylar-Alaniz, who, in 2013, left her corporate job in agriculture to start a photography project and blog to capture women working on the farm. With its eye-catching photos and great storytelling, Guylar-Alaniz’s blog caught the attention of RMG, who in 2015 offered to become a minority shareholder in FarmHer and produce the television series FarmHer on RFD-TV. The show launched in September 2016, and 122 episodes were produced for a total of 5 seasons, winning multiple awards including two Telly Awards in 2019 and 2020. In 2021, Guylar-Alaniz decided not to continue the FarmHer TV show for future seasons, as she wanted to spend more time at home with her husband and kids. RMG has since remained a minority shareholder in the brand, and FarmHer continues to focus on digital initiatives, merchandise, and events. In 2021, Guylar-Alaniz returned to a corporate job in agriculture.

“FarmHer will always hold a special place in my heart,” comments Guylar-Alaniz, Founder of FarmHer. “As I have changed directions in my life, I pass this torch with certainty that both Rural Media Group, Inc., coupled with new CEO, Raquel Gottsch Koehler, will uphold FarmHer’s mission to advocate on behalf of women in agriculture. I want to thank Rural Media Group, Inc. for believing in this brand and look forward to watching it grow into something even more special and having a greater impact for women everywhere.”

With this new purchase of FarmHer Inc. also comes ownership of the brand, RanchHer. When RMG’s second television network, The Cowboy Channel, first launched, it produced a sister series to FarmHer, called RanchHer, which aired for one season. Although this season was successful, conflict in scheduling between the number of rodeos on the new network made it difficult to have a consistent air date and time each week. Fortunately, with the recent launch of RMG’s third network, The Cowgirl Channel, comes more availability for new television series, especially ones focusing on women in agriculture.

As part of the FarmHer and RanchHer acquisition, RMG will produce new television episodes for both brands to premiere later this year on RFD-TV, The Cowboy Channel and The Cowgirl Channel. Pre-production planning for the new FarmHer and RanchHer television series has already begun, and more exciting details will be announced soon.

“Those familiar with the agriculture industry know farming and ranching is not one size fits all,” says Koehler. “The same can be said about FarmHers and RanchHers. From the field to the classroom and even the boardroom, women in agriculture bring a unique and enthusiastic perspective to the equation. Moving forward, FarmHer and RanchHer will continue to focus the bright light on these inspirational women and provide a platform for them to shine.”

In the United States Agriculture Department’s latest Census of Agriculture, it was revealed that 36% of U.S. farmers are women, and 56% of all agriculture-producing farms have at least one female decision-maker, proving that women are clearly a catalyst in the future of the agriculture industry.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We've all heard the admonition, 'you'll reap what you sow'. Gal. 6:7-8. It's unfortunate that we tend to look at that scripture from the negative side only. Or the disciplinary side.

How about this week if we use it to rejoice in the goodness we see in ourselves and others? Seeds sown always produce after their kind. Plant bananas, you get bananas, right? You want friends, plant friendship. Want help, give help. The Bible calls it in Luke 6:31, 'doing unto others.' There are so many scriptures that we can take and use in our lives for good.

There are many evil things and actions in our society and it can get to be a real downer. Like the Peanuts cartoon, it starts to feel like this dirty, black cloud hanging over us. But as children of God, we do NOT have to live like that. We can cultivate a thankful heart. We can spread joy wherever we go. You and I CAN make a difference.

Let's be the answer, not the problem!
