Digging Success -- Morgan & HR Fameskissandtell Win Vernal, Utah's Dinosaur Roundup

By Tanya Randall

Former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Shelley Morgan of Eustace, Texas, furthered her chances for a second NFR berth with a $4,390 victory at the Dinosaur Roundup, held July 8-11 in Vernal, Utah. She and her talented 6-year-old mare HR Fameskissandtell ("Kiss") turned in a 17.04 in slack after the second performance to take the win.

"It was one of those runs that I knew was good when she was making it," said Morgan, who ran at the 2009 NFR. "The biggest thing with Kiss is sometimes she doesn't run hard, but I think that's mostly due to inexperience. She's always going to go in and do the same pattern every time. It's just a matter whether she runs or not. When she was making her run, I knew her pattern was good and she felt like she was running. I didn't think she'd run an .0 though."

Morgan wants to thank the Vernal Rodeo Committee, for the hospitality and extra attention to the ground, raking after each runner, as well as all of the rodeo committees who have hosted events this summer.

"It seems like every rodeo we've gone to this year the people have been so nice and accommodating," she said. "It seems like they're trying extra hard. We're just so excited they're having something and they act like they're excited because we're coming. It's kind of refreshing."

SHOEING: Regular steel rims all the way around

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: "I ice their feet some. It seems like every horse I get out here the first thing that gets sore is the feet. I come from deep sand in Texas so I guess the hard ground and pounding causes it. I pack their feet some. I always ice her legs after I run her. She has a PHT magnet blanket. I also use a Flair Strip. She used to be really nasally and several different vets told me to try the Flair Strip. That's what got me started using them and I haven't changed."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I hardly ever work her on the pattern. I live on some acreage and we have some hills on the back of it, and I like to walk and trot up and down those hills when I'm home. Out here, I don't exercise her a ton, especially if she's running a lot. I'll get her out and walk her with another horse, but a lot of time I just let her rest. She doesn't really require a lot. I just try to keep her in shape where she gets her air, but not over do it to where her feet start hurting."

Morgan says she's stayed "decently busy" with rodeos in spite of the COVID restrictions, postponements and cancellations. "We've been going steady until this week," she said. "My perspective might change after we've been sitting a week and I'm bored. This year everyone is at the same place and not spread out like before, which makes it tougher in my opinion."

The schedule is playing into her hands with her young horse, Kiss, whom she's trying not to pressure.

"I try not to throw too much at her," she said, "but as long as she keeps doing good, we'll keep going."

Bred by Elizabeth Hays, Kiss is by Jet Of Honor, Shoot Yeah stallion CEO out of the Dash Ta Fame, Fire Water Flit mare Fames Fiery Kiss. The mare was sent to Morgan in the spring of her third year, and by the BFA Juvenile Futurity in December she belonged to Morgan.

The duo got their first taste of rodeos together in the fall of her futurity year before going further afield in 2019.

"We just kind of piddled in the rodeo world," Morgan explained. "I entered some of the small rodeos in the spring and then last summer we came out here just to get her feet wet. She liked it out here. We qualified for the winter rodeos doing that. I think she likes it, or she acts like she does!"

Morgan is currently seventh in the WPRA World Standings with $31,196. Kiss has carried her to the majority of those earnings.

She says the young mare's unexpected success has made rodeo really enjoyable again.

"When you have no expectations and they do really well, it's so enjoyable," she said. "That's when it goes back to being fun again. That's why we started going in the first place, to have fun."

Morgan also has the 7-year-old JL Dash Ta Heaven mare Kinda Heavenly (“Phoebe”) that she bought from Jennifer Burgess in the trailer.

“She’s as equally as talented as Kiss,” Morgan said. “She runs right there with her. I’ve never had two competitive horses. I’m learning them still, which one to run where. Kiss is a little easier to run. Phoebe I have to pay attention to ride.”

Morgan, who was known for winning on cowbred horses like her NFR mount My Playboy Champ (Docs Lil Playboy x My Lady Scootin x Scootin Gone) and her multiple Texas Circuit qualifier

Will Merada (Light N Lena x Meradas Oh Cay x Freckles Merada), has the complete opposite with her two barrel bred granddaughters of Dash Ta Fame.

“Normally when I get in the back, I’m kicking my horse, going, ‘Wake up this is a timed event!’ Well now, I’m like, ‘Calm down, calm down!’” she chuckled.

Morgan plans on staying out through the first week of August before working her way home through Dodge City, Kansas. She has her husband Rex driving, while her two grown boys are taking care of things back home.

EXTRA KISSES...

When Shelley Morgan first started working HR Fameskissandtell on the pattern as a 3-year-old, she didn’t have do much at all, she says.

“She was just a natural,” Morgan said. “She was very easy. I just had to tweak little things.”

One of the things Morgan had to “tweak” was the mare’s tendency to swing her rear leaving a barrel when she started running her as a 4-year-old.

“When I first started running her, she would swing her butt,” Morgan said. “Some people may say she still does. She might do it a tad. It’s mainly on her second barrel. She’d make a nice turn, but on her last step her backend would swing out before she took off to the next barrel. I knew that was costing me time, so I worked on that a lot.”

When slow working the barrels, Morgan worked on driving the tall, long-bodied mare up into the bit at her turns and used pressure from her outside foot to keep the mare’s hip in and her body moving forward.

She’d also work around a pole or cone away from the pattern to concentrate on how she wanted the mare to use her body in a turn.

“I also focused on keeping her straight leaving it instead of bent,” she explained. “She’s not overly bendy, but she has a long body. I think when she was younger she just had a little trouble keeping it all together because she has so much of it. She still has an awkward turn style, but I like it.”

Your now is not your forever.

Saving The Best For Last – Jill Tanner & Credit Ta Fame Win Weatherford Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Current WPRA Top 15 member Wenda Johnson and MacGyver Moonflash had set a seemingly insurmountable pace in the first second of barrel racing slack at the Parker County Sheriff's Posse Frontier Days & PRCA Rodeo, held July 8-11 in Weatherford, Texas. Their time of 17.33 held until the very last runners of the final performance of the rodeo when Jill Tanner and Credit Ta Fame ("Saturday") posted the victorious 17.27 to win $3,696.

"On my way to Weatherford, I told my husband I don't even know what my game plan is for tonight," recalled Tanner. "We'd been struggling on the third barrel. He went in there and worked! No one was more surprised or excited than me!"

Making the win extra special was that Tanner was able to get the win on a memorable day for Saturday's breeder and trainer Caryn Henry.

"Saturday (night) was the anniversary of Caryn Henry's mother's heavenly birthday," explained Tanner. "Both she and her daughter had a really good day at a barrel race. I called her as soon as I was done running. It was the icing on the cake of celebrating her mom. I thought that was really cool."

Tanner had purchased Saturday (the horse) as a 5-year-old from Henry, who raised the gelding by the Dash Ta Fame son Flyin Ta Fame out of her tough Cash Not Credit, Nonstop Jet mare Quick Moon Credit. She qualified for the Southeastern Circuit Finals on the gelding before sending him back to Henry to ride while she awaited the birth of her daughter Georgia, now 3.

Henry rode Saturday to the 2016 NBHA World Finals 1D Championship and returned him to Tanner in early 2017. Saturday had a lightened load while Tanner focused on her daughter and her boutique business Southern Honey, but still managed to make memorable runs when they could, like winning San Angelo in Tanner had considered making the Fourth of July rodeo run in the northern plains states but drew out.

"I ended up releasing because things just weren't feeling right," she said. "I thought if I'm spending the money trying to get things right I might as well be closer to home."

Part of getting it right turned out to be a bit change before Weatherford. She rode Saturday with a Charmayne James lifter with the pretzel-like port mouthpiece.

"I was needing a bit more control at the third," she said. "I have him a little over bendy at the first with it, but it gives me a little more control. That was our second run in it and he really listened. I almost hit the third actually. He nicked it with his nose."

Tanner is a cradle cowgirl. Born and raised in Hobbs, New Mexico, Tanner is the daughter of 1981 PRCA All Around Champion Jimmie Copper. Her brothers, team ropers Jake and Jim Ross, were the first twins to qualify for the NFR. Her husband Jimmy Tanner is an NFR roper as well.

She confessed that running barrels didn't come naturally to her after spending her formative years roping, but the event is now her priority even though she's picked up breakaway roping again. She's been a regular competitor at the Mesquite pro rodeo in both events.

"When I go to these rodeos and things didn't go so well in the breakaway or the barrels I feel like I still have a bullet in the chamber," she said. "I can still salvage something and get some money out of this."

Until Saturday got the Weatherford win, Tanner says breakaway has actually been paying her way down the road.

"Before Weatherford, that's kind of how it had been for us," she laughed. "We'd been going to some of the amateurs (rodeos) around the house and that's kind of how it's been, the breakaway had been paying my way for the barrel racing. "It's exactly opposite of what I expected coming into the year. At Weatherford, I was like, 'OK, barrel racing!' We can go a little bit more now, cautiously of course!"

Tanner wanted to give a huge "shout out" to Weatherford and the Parker County Sheriff's Posse for having their rodeo. "They did not have to put it on and I feel like they risked a lot," she said. "That's just an awesome rodeo. Those stands were just packed. I was so excited to see such a great turnout for them. It's a great rodeo, close to home and pays good. We certainly appreciate them sticking their necks out and putting it on."

Valee Miller & Covergirl Fame Pose for a Futurity Win at Glacier Chaser Classic

By Tanya Randall

Producing an event and trying to compete at the same time is an enormous undertaking. Not surprisingly, Glacier Chaser Classic producer Valee Miller wasn't keeping up with what her homebred 5-year-old mare Covergirl Fame was doing in the $9,000-added Futurity, held July 9-12 at Majestic Valley Arena in Kalispell, Montana, but when she got back to the office to print out results, she was in for a pleasant surprise.

"I knew that I had did well," Miller admitted, "but I had thought that the other gal had outrun me! I didn't get a chance to watch anyone else or pay attention to what was really going on. I made nice runs, but they didn't feel like they were nice runs. I didn't really know where I was sitting until I got back to the computer. I was printing off the results and was like, 'Holy crap! I won!'"

The Billings, Montana, barrel racer and Covergirl were very consistent, placing third in both rounds with runs of 17.585 and 17.461 respectively to take the average title and $4,480.

"I didn't feel like our runs were the best ones that we've ever made, but she was really smooth," Miller said. "She wants to be quick and I sometimes I get in a little bit of a hurry up there because it is quick and I go a little too fast."

Miller, who along with her farrier husband, Clayton, manages

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Steel Rims on front, plains behind

FEED: Purina Ultium Growth

HAY: Alfalfa twice a day and grass pasture

SUPPLEMENTS: Purina Super Sport & Outlast

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: I long trot her and keep her wind up. I do a lot of walking slow circles and keeping her really soft and broke loose everywhere. I try to give her some funner things to do. I try to ride her out of the arena. Before a futurity, I'll spend a day just slow working her through. When I do that I generally put a tiedown on her just to keep her waiting on me because she wants to be aggressive about turning.

Miller's Horse Place in Billings and produces events under the banner of Miller Productions, grew up riding gaited horses in the mountains near Powell, Wyoming.

When she was 8, her mother took her and her little Fox Trotter to a Connie Combs clinic. That same year, her parents bought her an unbroke 2-year-old and with the help of NFR qualifier and clinician Judy Myllymaki got her first true barrel horse.

Miller says she "slowly and progressively got into better horses" as she got older. Her best one was Nikes Special, a granddaughter of Special Effort she bought as a unbroke 4-year-old and trained herself.

"I didn't know much about training barrel horses," she said. "I had barrel raced but didn't know that much. I trained her and she did really well. We broke some arena records. Then we started going to the rodeos and doing really well."

Miller and the mare qualified for the Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo before a career-ending injury forced Nikes Special to broodmare duty. With her parents help, Miller bred the mare to Dash Ta Fame. Covergirl was the result.

"This baby has been a little stressful from the moment that she came," Miller laughed. "She broke her jaw the week of my husband and mine's wedding as a yearling. We had to do a little emergency trip to Littleton Equine (in Colorado) to have it wired shut. We made it through that. She's just made some bad life choices. It's really exciting that we've actually gotten to the point of running down the alley."

Miller's husband put five rides on Covergirl before handing over the reins. The couple's 2-year-old daughter Cooley can also take a little credit for the training she helped with while in utero.

"The first couple of years of her life I just worked on getting her broke," Miller said. "She's always been super easy and very willing. She was very natural when I put her on the barrels. I actually didn't work her very much on the barrels as a 3-year-old. Even into her four-year-old year I probably only sent her through the barrels maybe 10 times. It was so fun.... I tried to really make sure that I would slow work her good and do different drills with her and stuff."

Miller first started asking the mare to run last November. When she started entering, the mare just continued to get better with each run. Her ultimate goal is to have Covergirl be the horse that takes her back to the circuit finals and beyond.

"She's just been easy," she added. "She does have a tendency to get a lot hot, so we spend a lot of time walking. She's really aggressive. I spend more time teaching her to wait on me than I do anything. I think sometimes she loves running barrels more than I do!"

Miller says she has to thank her husband, parents and in-laws for all their help and support, especially when she was trying to produce and compete.

"It was a lot with all the entries and trying to run," she said. "I'm appreciative to be able to do both and I'm appreciative to have places to go. I have a whole new respect for people who are trying to produce events and compete in them."

2020 PRORODEO Tour Finale moving to Rapid City

The 2020 PRORODEO Tour Finale is moving locations and changing dates.

The PRORODEO Tour Finale will take place Sept. 23-26 in Rapid City, S.D., offering competitors the chance to score big money in the race to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas as the 2020 regular season concludes.

"It's great to see Rapid City step in to host this crucial event amid this pandemic," PRCA CEO George Taylor said. "The PRORODEO Tour Finale is one of the crown jewels in PRORODEO. It's also a key element in determining qualifiers for the Wrangler NFR and will give the Top 24 competitors in the Tour one more opportunity to make it to Las Vegas."

The PRORODEO Tour Finale was originally slated to take place at the Washington State Fair Rodeo in Puyallup, Wash., Sept. 10-13. The event had to be moved when the Washington State Fair Pro Rodeo announced it had canceled for 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Rapid City and the Tour Finale will play a key role in determining which cowboys will be crowned PRORODEO Tour champions and which ones will be heading to the Wrangler NFR, Dec. 3-12. The Top 24 contestants in the PRORODEO Tour standings will qualify for the Tour Finale in Rapid City at the Central States Fairgrounds.

The Central States Fairgrounds is also scheduled to host the Range Days Rodeo Xtreme Broncs, the Xtreme Broncs finale, Aug. 27.

The PRORODEO Tour Finale is scheduled to be broadcast on The Cowboy Channel and streamed on the PRCA on Cowboy Channel Plus App. Go to cowboychannelplus.com for more information on how to watch.

Through a Facebook post on July 14, Whitmire Ranch announced a 2020 incentive for colts by their sires; JL Dash Ta Heaven, Bullseye Bullion, and Barue. If a colt by any of the those three stallions wins either the Old Fort Days Futurity or Derby, they win a check for $10,000! Check the JL Dash Ta Heaven & Bullseye Bullion's Facebook pages for more information.

A soft, easy life is not worth living,
 if it impairs the fibre of brain and muscle.

We MUST DARE to be GREAT; and we must realize that greatness is the fruit of toil and sacrifice and high courage...

For us is the life of action, of strenuous performance of duty;
 let us live in the harness, striving mightily;
 let us rather run the risk of wearing out that rusting out.

— Theodore Roosevelt

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Have you been praying over what's going on in our country? I hope you have! But HOW are you praying? Are you praying, like Miss America candidates, for "world peace"? lol! Do you pray and believe God, then talk fear and hopelessness? Let's do a quick prayer tutorial today.

Several times over the years, we have looked at James 1:5-8. Our instructions from God there, are to ask Him for wisdom, and He gives it. But we are to ask in faith, WITH NO DOUBTING. If we doubt, then we can expect to receive NOTHING from Him. We are double-minded. Does that sound like praying one thing and talking another? Yes, it does.

Heb. 10:23 promises us, "Let us hold fast the confession of our hope WITHOUT WAVERING, for He who promised is faithful."

Church, we have a part to play. We pray and stand on God's Word. Then we talk the Word, the answer. We stand on our prayer and we don't back up, back down or quit.

Joshua 1:7-9 will encourage our hearts and reinforce what we, as God's children, know to do... be strong and very courageous!
