The Calgary Stampede - Sue Smith's Real Claim To Fame

By Tanya Randall

"Winning Calgary is the highlight of my entire career," exclaimed two-time Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier and multiple aged event champion Sue Smith of Blackfoot, Idaho. "It's amazing to think you've won over $100,000. And it happened to me! That's the stuff that happens to somebody else!"

Smith and her great horse Real Claim To Fame ("Claimer") left the 100th Annual Calgary Stampede with $111,500 that she said they earned "the hard way."

"Overall, I was really happy with the way that he worked there," said Smith, who is sponsored by Coats Saddlery, Iconoclast, Back On Track, Silver Bit Ranch in Aguila, Ariz., and Equine Pride feeds. "He tried hard. We did it the hard way. We got in through the shoo-tout and I was hoping not to have to run him that many times. I just didn't know how he would handle that many runs; I didn't know if I would have enough horse left."

After a grueling 2011 season that left Claimer with a sore suspensory ligament, Smith laid off the 9-year-old gelding until the second weekend of June. After rolling through a couple of rodeos, Smith was assured of Claimer's return to top form. The duo went back to knocking out checks at several Canadian rodeos and Red Lodge, Mont., and Cody, Wyo., over the Fourth of July before heading back to Calgary for the Stampede.

Smith started out running in an incredibly tough Pool B, from which all of the Top 4 came. After winning the first round of her pool, Smith had costly barrels drop. She caught the second barrel on her second run on what would have been her fastest run of the rodeo, and she got the first barrel on her third run due to pilot error.

"There was not a lot I could have done on the first barrel I hit, but the second one I hit had everything to do with me," she explained. "I know this comes from a rodeo clown, but Flint (Rasmussen, a barrel racer's husband mind you) said that he slipped a little leaving that second barrel and caught it. I thought we were clean. We would have been second in that round. He just drug that barrel down.

"The next barrel I hit—that was me. I just didn't ride him hard enough into the first. I just let up on him and he got in on me. That was my fault."

Smith and Claimer split fifth in the fourth round, which put them in Saturday's Wildcard Round.

"I kept thinking, 'You still have a chance.' That's the cool thing about Calgary; how it's set up, I still had a chance," she said. They finished second in the Wildcard and moved on into the Round of 10, where a third-place run advanced them to the $100,000 Showdown.

During the Round of 10 semi-finals, Alberta, Canada's famous rodeo rain made its appearance. By Finals time, the arena was a veritable lake.

"At first it was kind of light," said Smith, "and I was thinking that it was just going to sprinkle a little bit and then let up, but it didn't. It just soaked in. I was drenched. My boots were wet. My feet were wet inside my boots."

In preparation for the possibility of a slick course, Smith, who does her own shoeing, "tweaked" her rims for added traction. To make her horse more comfortable for the Finals, Smith removed all of Claimer's wet leg protection and went with rubber bell boots, fresh Iconoclast leg

Seminole Tribe Extends Partnership With PRCA

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) has extended its partnership with the Seminole Tribe of Florida through 2012.

The Seminole Tribe of Florida, which acquired Hard Rock International in 2007 as part of its worldwide business enterprises, has been the presenting sponsor of Wrangler National Finals Rodeo telecasts since 2007. Under the partnership renewal agreement, The Seminole Tribe will continue to be both a PRCA national sponsor as well as the presenting sponsor of the 2012 WNFR live telecasts on Great American Country.

In 2011, the WNFR provided coverage of our sport to a record 10 million viewers on GAC.

"The Seminole Tribe of Florida has deep roots in agriculture and rodeo," said PRCA Commissioner Karl Stressman. "Their continued support of the PRCA and the WNFR telecasts has allowed us to provide rodeo fans with TV coverage of the WNFR over the past six years. The tribal leadership has expanded the Seminole Tribe of Florida businesses across the world ... but they still respect their past. They are a terrific fit as a PRCA partner."

CFD Offers Assistance to Wildfire Relief

In light of recent wildfires in Colorado and Wyoming, Cheyenne Frontier Days™ (CFD) will be collecting monetary donations to assist the Red Cross in both states as well as the Larimer County Humane Society located in Fort Collins, Colo.

While most of the fires are contained, the damage was extensive, affecting many residents within a 100 mile radius of Frontier Park where the bulk of the 116th annual celebration event activities will occur. The Wyoming and Colorado Red Cross came to the aid of victims and firefighters. The Larimer County Humane Society took in 400 animals free of charge for evacuees of the High Park Fire.

Knowing that these agencies went the extra mile during these disasters, CFD will put out donation boxes at each of the Pancake Breakfasts as well as at the Front Gate of Frontier Park for the 10-day celebration, slated for July 20-29.

"We want our neighbors to know that just because the fires are contained doesn't mean that we have forgotten about them," said CFD General Chairman Rod Hottle. "We decided to support these agencies that incurred significant expenses during these disasters. We appreciate all of the work they have done and are prepared to do."

In Colorado, the High Park Fire west of Fort Collins has burned 87,284 acres and destroyed 259 homes. In Wyoming, the Squirrel Creek fire west of Laramie burned 10,921 acres and the largest of the fires, the Arapaho, northwest of Wheatland has burned 98,115 acres. In all, more than 275 square miles have burned.

"The primary mission of the Red Cross is to ensure that victims of disasters have their essential basic life needs like shelter and food met," said David Block, regional chapter executive for the Wyoming Red Cross. "All funds help support those efforts. We need staff and a strong core of volunteers to maintain the infrastructure to ensure that disaster services can be launched whenever they are needed."

During the Squirrel Creek Fire, the Wyoming Red Cross had a shelter open for 6 days to serve evacuees and to provide other supplies and services including water and snacks for fire fighters.

"Cheyenne Frontier Days efforts will be tremendous as far as people becoming more aware of disaster services that we provide," Block added. "It will bring to the forefront of people's minds the importance of disaster relief agencies when wildfires and other disasters occur."

The CFD committee is planning on adding additional funds to those that are collected during the Western celebration, which kicks off on July 20 at 6 p.m. with a concert featuring the Zac Brown Band.

The first rodeo performance will be July 21 and run through July 29. The Cheyenne Frontier Days celebration also includes more night shows, an old west town, Indian village, parades, pancake breakfasts, behind the chutes tours, the Old West Museum and an art show. boots for his front legs and casting bandage covered in Vetrap for his hind legs.

"I was trying to get the weight off his legs," she said. "Everything had gotten so wet."

In the Showdown, Smith had to run against two past $100,000 winners—Lindsay Sears and her great horse Sugar Moon Express ("Martha"), who drew first out on the ground, and Tammy Fischer and her gritty gelding Easy Dash Oak ("Roundpen"), who were last to go. Joining them was Carlee Pierce and Rare Dillion, who were out third.

Running second, Smith watched Sears and Martha go into preservation mode after the great mare couldn't get her footing coming into the first barrel.

"I knew that Lindsay had trouble with the ground right before me," she said. "I just thought I hope he can stand up and I hope the shoes I put on him will help me do it."

"Really, what choice do you have? There's $100,000 up. You can't be careful. You can't be stupid about it either, but you've got to try to win."

The sloppy footing wasn't to Dillion's liking either, leaving Pierce off the pace. That left Fischer and Roundpen. After peeling the paint on the first barrel, Fischer and Roundpen gave a game effort, but fell short of Smith and Claimer's 17.53.

"It's easy afterward to say, 'Oh I did this and that's why I won,'" said Smith. "It's just how it goes at barrel races. Things lined up for me. Sometimes it's your day and sometimes it's not. Thank Goodness, it was my day that day."

Dash 2 Tetons Prevails, Rain or Shine

Dash 2 Tetons
July 13-15, 2012, Driggs, ID

It was a great time had by all the new contestants and our wonderful followers. The spectacular backdrop of the Tetons gives the contestants something to look forward to by coming to TSV. The 3-day competition was fast paced thanks to our tractor driver and contestants who were ready at the gate to beat the weather. The Tri Pod Productions crew with the help of friends, worked early Sunday morning to move the production indoors.

It was Shirley Ankrum's second go win to clinch her second Dash 2 Tetons average title. Thank you to the sponsors for your support. Please look for online entries coming soon for our second signature race, Iron Horse Classic Race, August 10-12, 2012. --Julie Breaux-LaRose

Pozzi Sails Ahead, Waide Rocks the Boat

This weekend a string of big rodeos followed up the 4th of July run. While many of the top barrel racers chased the $100k check in Calgary, a few rodeoed in the states using their absence to give gain the advantage in the World standings.

2012 WPRA NFR STANDINGS
Courtesy of www.wpra.com - Unofficial as of July 16, 2012
1 Brittany Pozzi	$133,803
2 Carlee Pierce	$118,053
3 Lindsay Sears	$100,856
4 Benette Little	$59,300
5 Lisa Lockhart	$55,180
6 Mary Walker	$54,556
7 Nikki Steffes	$48,185
8 Brenda Mays	$46,935
9 Christina Richman	$43,325
10 Sherry Cervi	$40,882
11 Sammi Bessert	$38,622
12 Trula Churchill	$37,248
13 Tana Renick	$35,949
14 Kaley Bass	$35,355
15 Robyn Herring	$34,162

Brittany Pozzi had already taken over the lead in the World with her outstanding 4th run but over the weekend she widened gap with an additional $11,934 (all on Yeah Hes Firen) and now has total earnings of $133,803 compared to Carlee Pierce's $118,053

Mary Walker and her great gelding Perculatin used the weekend to add another $5,326 to her earnings, she stands #6 in the World with $54,556 and is closing in on the amount traditionally need to make the NFR. In 2011, the 15th spot was $60,588, in 2010 the 15th spot was $49,914, and in 2009 for 15th you had to earn $57,060 to make the NFR field. According to those numbers, the top 6 in the World are close to locking up their NFR tickets

Sherry Cervi used another solid weekend to move a couple more spots up the standings. Last week she stood #12; and after last weekend, she moved up to #10 with $40,882. Her and Stingray (Mp Meter My Hay) are consistently picking up checks and have warmed up over the summer to slowly move their way up the ladder. This time of the year has led to some real big wins for this pair in the past, so keep your eye on Cervi and Stinray to keep moving their way up towards the top.

Kaley Bass and her wonder horse, Wonders Cowboy Dan, made good use of the weekend too, winning a whopping $11,002. She placed 2nd at Vernal, UT, 2nd in the Average at Casper, WY (placed 3rd in the 1st Round and won the Finals), and won 3rd in the 2nd Round at Colorado Springs, CO. This big weekend took her from out of the Top 20 and landed her in the Top 15 at #14 with $35,355 in earnings.

Although it is just the middle of the summer, keep in mind the end of the 2012 rodeo season is only a little over 2 1/2 months away; so the standings will be moving and shaking right until the end of the summer to determine those lucky 15 that head to Vegas in December.

Over the weekend, a face new to many barrel racing fans was popping up all over the place, Kelly Waide from Winston, NM and her 16 year old gelding Hummer (Zee Slash Cash), were on a roll winning $9,056. They won the Average at Colorado Springs, CO while winning 3rd in the 1st Round and 2nd in the 2nd Round, won Laramie, WY, and placed 2nd at Estes Park, CO. After the weekend, Waide was #46 in the World with $15,657. We caught up with her to find out a little more about Kelly Waide and her great mount Hummer.

THE RUNDOWN: KELLY WAIDE

HORSE: Zee Slash Cash "Hummer"

Red Roan Gelding, 16 Years Old, 15 hands, 1100 lbs.

HISTORY: I just turned 37. I am married, my husband Corey, just retired from the New Mexico DOT, I have a son, Ryan, who is 7. I grew up on my parents', Russell and Trudy, ranch in Winston, NM and we still live in Winston. I have been rodeoing my whole life. My Mom, Trudy Freeman, has been to the NFR twice (1984, 1985). She was rookie the same year Charmayne James was. I high school rodeoed, won the NMHSRA barrel racing as a Junior in 1992. I rodeoed in college and then went to jackpots and such from there until I got Hummer.

My aunt's boyfriend had Hummer in Stephenville, TX and he was supposed to be a rope horse but he was too responsive. My Mom had a horse she didn't like and so she traded for Hummer site unseen. He was 5 then. Mom started him and he took to the barrels pretty quick. Somewhere along the way I started riding him and have been riding him since. He was probably 8 or so at the time. We started out at the NBHAs, won the New Mexico NBHA District 2 Championship 3 years in a row now. We have been NMRA Reserve Champions in the barrels for the last 3 years now, won the average at the Finals there 2 years in a row. We went to the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo the last two years. In the Turquoise Circuit, 2010 we were 3rd (ran at the DNCFR due to a qualifier getting injured) and in 2011 we were second in the circuit.

BIT: Jeff Lemaire O ring snaffle

HEADGEAR: None

SADDLE: Billy Cook Barrel Saddle

PAD: Tod Slone Wool Pad

LEG GEAR: Professionals Choice overreach boots, and SMB boots

GRAIN: Rolled Oats

SUPPLEMENTS: SmartPak for joints, Stop The Pain, Animal Element, Aloe Vera Juice

HAY: Sudan Grass and Alfalfa (mostly alfalfa)

ADDITIONAL CARE & SHOEING: Wedge shoes in the front

YOU'VE RODEOD IN YOUR CIRCUIT, WHAT WAS IT LIKE TO RODEO AGAINST THE TOP IN THE WORLD? Last year I was more nervous, I ran at Cheyenne and was 18th in the long go with him stumbling and just missed the short go. Last year at Colorado Springs I hit a barrel in both goes to place second in the average. I knew after that my horse could run with them and I wasn't nervous at all this year, I just went and made my runs.

ADVICE FOR BARREL RACERS THINKING ABOUT HITTING THE BIGGER RODEOS: I would recommend going to those bigger rodeos. It is nice to get out of the rut and compete against different horses. Enter where you want, because you will never know how you run against them if you don't!

Headin' For Home

“A Tongue can accuse and carry bad news.
The seeds of destruction, it will sow.
So unless you have no sin in your life,
Be careful of all the stones that you throw.”

Those are words in an old country Gospel song but they are as true today as when they were written. Years ago, an old minister said, “You can do more damage with your tongue than with a rifle.” He was referring to the fact that it is hard to regain a good reputation once it has been smeared by gossip, lies and innuendoes.

There are Scriptures warning us about spreading gossip. Proverbs 25:23 says, “As surely as a north wind brings rain, so a gossiping tongue causes anger!” Proverbs 11:13 says a gossip goes around telling secrets, but those who are trustworthy can keep a confidence. Another Scripture, Psalm 34:12-13, says “Does anyone want to live a life that is long and prosperous? Then keep your tongue from speaking evil and your lips from telling lies!”

Some people are quicker to believe bad stuff said about another person than they are to believe a good report and some love to pass it on. But, they need to remember that they will be held accountable for all their idle words in the day of judgement. Read what Jesus had to say about it in Matthew 12:36-37.

There’s an old saying that a short person can’t be made tall by cutting off the legs of a giant. We’re to love God and our neighbor and be careful what comes out of our mouths.
