Lindsey McLeod & Kellies Chick earn NHSRF Barrel Racing Championship

By Tanya Randall

Every member of the McLeod family who has thrown a leg over the talented Kellies Chick ("Skye") has won a championship title. 2013 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier Michele McLeod won the Justin Boots Championship in Omaha, Neb., last fall and her middle daughter Katelyn won the 2013 Summer Shootout. Now, McLeod's youngest daughter Lindsey has collected two championship titles at the only two events she's ridden the mare—the Texas High School State Rodeo Finals and the National High School Rodeo Finals.

"My first time to run her was back at (the Texas) State Finals back at the first of June," said Lindsey McLeod, a 17-year-old recent high school graduate from Whitesboro, Texas, "and I haven't run her since then. My fourth, fifth and sixth run on her were at Nationals."

Luckily, Skye's pretty easy to ride.

"Once you're in the arena, she's easy," said Lindsey. "She's all or nothing. She doesn't really slow down, so you really have to stay with her. She's really, really strong. In the back, she's really strong so you have to have someone with you."

Lindsey had to share Skye with her mom during the week since Slick By Design is recovering from a severe fever that kept him out of the Calgary Stampede Showdown. Luckily, everyone drew up well.

On Tuesday, Michele ran the mare at Cheyenne before making the short trek to Rocksprings, Wyo., for the high school finals. Lindsey drew up Wednesday for both of her runs.

"My first round Wednesday morning was my first time back on Kellies Chick since June," said Lindsey, who placed third in the first round with a 17.495. "I was a little nervous because my mom didn't make that good of run on her at Cheyenne. After I turned that third barrel and headed home I was so relieved. I knew I didn't hit any barrels and I knew Kellies Chick is always fast."

She made her second round run that night.

"Kellies Chick always gets faster her second run," Lindsey noted. "People were coming up to me all day and were saying 'Oh man, you drew up back to back.' I was like, 'it's okay.' She's used to it. I had a pretty good run."

They clocked a 17.260, which was good enough for another 3rd place check.

The next morning it was an eight-hour drive to Nampa, Idaho, for the Snake River Stampede, where Michele had her first run Thursday. Michele and Skye set an arena record to win the first round; however, Michele wasn't going to defer Lindsey's chances at winning a National Championship. For the Nampa short go, Michele would ride the 5-year-old Frenchmans Guy gelding, Tax The Frenchman ("Frenchie") that qualified Lindsey for the state high school finals, so Lindsey could run Skye in the short round at Nationals. Lindsey and Skye bested the field by nearly 4/10ths with a 16.964 to win the average by more than half-second.

"I kept getting by my first barrel a little bit, and I kept saying she'll get it figured out by Saturday," said Lindsay. "She left the alleyway so hard. She was flying. I got a couple of strides from that first barrel and I just closed my eyes. She dropped in and turned the first barrel better than she had all week. I knew from there, it was on. I couldn't see the timer because it was over my shoulder, but I heard the crowd roar. I knew it was going to be fast, but I thought it was going to be a 17.1 or a 17.0. When they announced a 16.9—I can't even tell you how big my smile was!"

Although Michele was disappointed she missed the run, she had plenty videos to watch.

“Mom was actually running about the same time I was,” noted Lindsey, who also received an automatic berth into the Semifinals for RFD-TV’s The American. “She got to watch videos of it. She said, people that she didn’t even know were coming up to her and showing her videos of it!”

The morning following the victory, Lindsey and her sister Katelyn were back in the truck to meet back up with Michele. The group will later meet up with Michele’s driver Jon E. Suttle, who is hauling Slick back to Canada, and return to Texas. Skye, a daughter of Darkelly out of The Skye Chick, by Fiesta In The Sky, will do all of the heavy lifting for Michele while Slick rests for approximately six weeks.

Lindsey, who will be attending Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas, this fall as a pre-med major—she wants to be an anesthesiologist, wanted to thank Skye and Frenchie’s owners Charlie Cole and Jason Martin of High Point Performance Horses in Pilot Point, Texas, for the opportunity to ride such great horses, her family for all their support, Jon E. for all his great mental coaching and her sponsors—Glam&Grit Hats, Oxy-Gen, Shiloh Saddles, Deuces Wild Tack, Professionals Choice, Smart Pak, Cetyl-M, Cruel Girl, Elder Dodge and Back On Track.

Rookie Wall & TKW Bullysfamous Fox Charm Snake River Stampede

By Tanya Randall

Kimmie Wall of Roosevelt, Utah, extended her lead for WPRA Rookie of the Year with a $10,463 victory at the $29,000 Snake River Stampede in Nampa, Idaho. She's also jumped within striking distance of the WPRA Top 15 as she currently sits 19th with $39,787.

"I'm so excited, so, so excited," said the 34-year-old mother of two—Brylee, 12, and Stran, 10, with husband Travis. "It's one of the biggest (rodeos) in my circuit. It was very exciting to come home to my circuit to win big. It helped out a bunch."

Wall and her homegrown superstar TKW Bullysfamous Fox ("Foxy") made a big loop to get the victory. Her first run was in slack on Sunday, July 13.

"I was in Laramie and I was entered in Estes Park (Colorado) and Nampa, and I had to make a choice," she explained. "I couldn't make both. I knew my horse would run really good in Nampa. We've been struggling a little bit with the ground, because she is only 6. I knew the ground was really good in Nampa. It was one of the rodeos I did take her to last year as a 5-year-old. We would have come back for the finals but we tipped a barrel. It was a really hard decision because I was only two hours away from Estes Park."

While Wall thought it would be nice not to travel, she made decision to turn out of Estes Park because of the unknown ground factor.

"It was so crazy," she laughed. "I drove 10 hours to Nampa, made my run and turned around and drove 10 hours back to Cheyenne. I was like 'Thank the Lord. I made the right choice.' After that we just waited it out to see where I ended up. I'm a little over booked."

From Cheyenne she went to the California Rodeo in Salinas and made her first two runs before turning out her third to make the short go in Nampa. She also made another tough decision turning out of her second run in Cheyenne.

"I did make the performance back in Cheyenne," she explained,

“but my horse didn’t run great there. They would have had to move me because I had to run on the same day that I was out in Nampa, so I turned my second round out at Cheyenne. That was a tough decision too because that’s ‘The Daddy of ‘Em All’ and everybody wants to run there. I wasn’t going make that drive back on my horse when I knew she was going to run fine in Nampa.”

After making the tough decisions and even tougher drive, Wall found out she and Foxy were last gunners out in the short.

“I was like no way!” she laughed. “I couldn’t believe she ran as well as she did, and she won the finals and the average by quite a ways. It’s the biggest win we’ve ever had. I was just thrilled. She tried her little heart out even after as far as we had traveled. I was just so happy with her.”

Wall and her husband raised Foxy, a daughter of Bully Bullion out of the Dash Ta Fame, Easy Jet mare Getaway Ta Love.

“We’ve raised and trained horses for a long time,” Wall said. “We’ve done it together. When we bred Foxy we had in mind to take her to the futurities. She was so tiny when she was born and she stayed tiny. I had two other nice horses at the time so I didn’t need to get on Foxy. I didn’t start Foxy until her 4-year-old year. One of mine got hurt so I was forced to get on her. From the first time I got on her, I was like ‘Wow, she’s going to be phenomenal.’” Although she did futurity some, Foxy proved to be more of a surprise at the rodeos.

“When I bought my card last October, I took off just to see what Foxy could do, and she surprised us,” said Wall, who is sponsored by Cactus Saddles and Platinum Performance. “I think she placed at seven out of the 10 rodeos I took her to last Fall during the Texas run. She would have placed at two others, but I tipped barrels. I was so surprised. At that point we already had so much money underneath us I thought ‘Now what do we do?’ I took off in January and thought ‘I’ll just keep going until we stop doing good,’ and I’ve never been home.”

Wall won’t be returning anytime soon either, if her luck holds. “We’re in Utah for a couple of rodeos and then we head to Montana,” she said. “I’m traveling with Kelley Carrington-French right now. We are just crazy busy, which I guess is what you want for this time of year.

“I just hope we can keep doing as well as we’ve been doing and finish it out with a bang. We’ve worked so hard for this. We finally feel like our hard work as a family is paying off. Even though it’s been the hardest thing we’ve ever done as a family, it’ll be worth it in the end.”

Near Domination – Laughlin & Guys Six Pack To Go win California Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Pueblo, Colorado's Christine Laughlin jumped back into the WPRA Top 15 with dominating performance at the $23,400-added California Rodeo in Salinas. After winning all but the third round, Laughlin's first appearance at the historic rodeo was worth $14,562.

"It was really unexpected," said Laughlin, who currently sits 13th with $57,753. "I didn't really know what to think."

Her horse Guys Six Pack To Go can get a little tight, but the setup on the racetrack around the main competition arena suited the 9-year-old Frenchmans Guy gelding, out of Scatter The Stars, by Packin Sixes, perfectly.

"Honestly, he fires so hard out of the first barrel I don't think he even realized, 'Oh, there's the (second) barrel,'" said Laughlin. "He had his momentum going a lot harder than he would have in a little indoor pen. I don't think he knew better because it was outside. He got around the second great, and the first day, he even thought about going by the third. I had to say whoa on that one. After that, he kind of knew and worked awesome."

Having won the first two rounds, Laughlin didn't have the stress of worrying about staying clean on her third, because she was worried about just making the pattern after her reins flipped over Six Pack's head at the first barrel.

"Coming around the first, I flipped the reins over his ear so the reins were right in the middle of his head," she laughed—now. "By the time I thought 'What do I do?' I was at the second barrel, so I just went with it. I switched hands like normal and I threw my hand way forward. He's so light-mouthed that I barely pulled on him turning second and his head turns to the right, going 'where are we going?' I zig-zagged to the third barrel and got the reins flipped back over. He was still a 16.0 and placed third. I don't know how he did all of that and still clocked. It was sure scary."

The California Rodeo is unlike any other during the Summer Run. In fact, many contestants consider it a mini-staycation since its one of the few rodeos that all three rounds are back-to-back. The majority of entries run in afternoon slack at 1 p.m. and then it's off to the Pacific for extracurricular activities that include deep-sea fishing and fresh seafood.

A few contestants like Sherry Cervi and Liz Combs flew back to Nampa, Idaho, for the short round of the Snake River Stampede on Saturday night before returning to Salinas for Sunday afternoon's short round.

Even with the lead going into the short round, Laughlin knew she couldn't weaken.

"It was just like Reno," she said. "I had Sherry Cervi and all of them behind me. I knew I had to go make a run."

At the time of this interview on Monday, Laughlin, a former

Headin' For Home

"Classic" by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Horses come in all shapes, sizes, colors and dispositions. Christians are like that, too. They come in all shapes, sizes, colors and personalities.

Some Christians are so trusting in God that nothing much moves them. They know God will protect them and bring good out of what the devil intends for evil. They pray and wait because they have totally surrendered their lives to Christ. Their lives are fruitful.

Others get all excited about walking with the Lord for a short time but then get careless and start trusting in themselves their money, their friends, the government or everything but God and then they blame God for their problems.

Then there are those who live so deep in the world and are so blinded by material things that they cannot and will not even try to understand the truth of God's Word. They lead empty, dissatisfied lives and fear death.

Read Matthew 13 and Mark 4 and see what Jesus says about those who hear the Word and accept it. He uses a parable of a sower out sowing seed and the different kinds of ground the seed falls on which is a comparison of how mankind receives His Word.

Don't let "the cares of this world, the deceitfulness of riches, and the desire for other things" enter in and choke out the Word of God in your life. Be the good ground where God's Word lands and flourishes and you will bear much good fruit: "some thirty fold, some sixty, and some a hundred!"

Yes Christians come in all kinds from lukewarm to on-fire for the Lord. Be the kind that is 100% sold out to the Lord with no compromise and let it show for all to see!

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
