First Time Charm for Taylor Rivera & Pritzi Maker at NHSFR

By Tanya Randall

Freshman Taylor Rivera and the great Pritzi Maker ("Barney") made a big splash at their first National High School Finals Rodeo, held July 14-20 at the Sweetwater Events Complex in Rock Springs, Wyo. The duo won the National Barrel Racing Championship with a 6/10th of second lead in the average.

"It was unreal," said the 15-year-old from Murrieta, Calif.

Rivera qualified for the NHSFR in dramatic fashion at the California High School Rodeo Finals in Bishop, where she qualified in the cutting, goat tying, breakaway roping as well as barrels.

"I had some really not good runs in the first two rounds and I actually made it back really far down," she explained. "I had to win the short go to make Nationals. I won the short go and set an arena record."

In Rock Springs, she had to get her nervous jitters out on her first run. She and Barney clocked a 17.790.

"My first run was okay," said Rivera, who receives her education through Laurel Springs School, an accredited online college preparatory. "I finished 16th in the first round. He wasn't very fast, but he was good and solid. I think I was little nervous. It wasn't great, but it was good to get the first round out of the way smooth and clean."

Dakota Randolph of Sparr, Fla., won the first go in 17.426.

The second go belonged all to Rivera and Barney. Their winning time of 17.050 was the fastest time of the rodeo.

"He felt amazing," said Rivera.

They were second in the short go with a 17.227 to Taylor Engesser of Spearfish, S.D., who had a 17.219.

"It was the third fastest time of the rodeo," said Rivera. "It was great. The only time he wasn't great was my first run, but he was amazing for the second two."

Rivera shares Barney with his owner, trainer Danyelle Campbell Bassett, who took the gelding to the Wrangler National Final Rodeo a few years ago. Bred by Ed Allred, Barney, 15, is by Pritzi Dash out of Secret Maker, by Raise A Secret. He was given to Bassett as a 2-year-old after he fractured a rear sesamoid bone.

"He's pretty special," said Rivera, who has won the high money title on Barney at the NBHA Las Vegas Super Show. "I love him. He's the best."

For now, Barney will get some time off as he's always run sparingly due to the old injury. Although she rode him at all her high school rodeos last year, Rivera plans on splitting runs between him and her colt this next season.

"Hopefully I make it back to the National Finals on him next year," she said. "If I could just make it back that would be awesome."

Rivera's mother Nicole had her daughter ride at an early age.

Although her mother never competed, Rivera started barrel racing at an early age.

"I was kind of a daredevil when I was little and I liked going fast," laughed Rivera. "I had a really fun little pony. I started running barrels when I was 4 on the little pony."

She started riding with Bassett when she was 10.

"Danyelle's been so amazing. I couldn't have done any of this without her," said Rivera, who also wanted to thank mother and sponsors—Formula 1, Professional's Choice and Iron Horse Jeans. "They all made it possible. Without them I wouldn't have been able to do any of it. They're amazing!"

Barrel Racer Kisses Arena Record

By Susan Kanode and Julie Mankin
For Cheyenne Frontier Days

With the most spectacular performance to date at the 2013 edition of Cheyenne Frontier Days, cowgirl Christy Loflin of Franktown, Colo., nearly shattered a 17-year-old arena record in barrel racing on Monday afternoon.

Eight months after a heart-breaking injury kept Loflin's 8-year-old mare, Sheza Blazin Move, out of Loflin's first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, the duo came back at Cheyenne to stop the clock in 17.07 seconds – just four-hundredths of a second off the pace set by Kristie Peterson back in 1996.

"Kristie is such a hero of mine, and to come that close to what she did is just amazing," said an emotional Loflin, who finished second at Cheyenne last year. "This horse has made all my dreams come true. To win this rodeo after the surgery and rehabilitation she's had would be incredible."

The mother of two leads the Cheyenne overall standings by a full second over fellow Coloradan and former Cheyenne champion Kim Schulze of Elbert (who is running a horse from Peterson). Loflin's daughter, Randi, will compete at Cheyenne on Thursday.

Second Go Leaders: 1 Christy Loflin, Franktown, Colo., 17.07, 2 Kim Schulze, 17.56, 3 Ann Peterson, 17.64, 4, Lizzy Ehr, 17.69, 5 Rebecca Hughes, 17.75 6 Gretchen Benbenek, 36.11

Average Leaders (on two): 1, Christy Loflin, 34.7, 2 Kim Schulze, 35.66, 3 Lizzy Ehr, 35.85, 4 Ann Peterson, 35.93, 5 Gretchen Benbenek, 36.11 6 Lynn Brown, 36.27

Barrel Racers' Sprint For CFR Heats Up

As the dog days of summer settle in and the races for coveted CFR berths intensify, a couple of people who narrowly missed getting to the Finals in 2012 are doing all they can to see that history doesn't repeat itself.

Merritt, British Columbia's Katie Garthwaite added to her earnings total on a weekend that featured the 'east run'--the trio of rodeos in Kennedy and Maple Creek, Saskatchewan and Morris, Manitoba—with a win and two solid placings on her palomino mare, Frenchie.

The duo clocked a 17.161 at Maple Creek for the win, and added a fourth place finish at Kennedy and a 5/6 split at the 50th anniversary edition of the Manitoba Stampede for a total of $2289 and a move to tenth in the overall standings and, more importantly tops among the Canadians who will make up seven of the twelve CFR qualifiers, Garthwaite who was $600 out of a CFR spot a year ago stated emphatically, "I don't want that to happen again!" Her 10 year-old mare (FC Guys Prime Time), an own daughter of Frenchman's Guy out of an own daughter of Martha's Six Moons has been solid all year.

"I have two really nice horses now so this is just a lot of fun," Garthwaite smiled. The second mount is the talented young stallion, Fiesta Royale that belongs to Bruce H. Robinson. She likes the equine pair enough that next year she is planning to breed the mare to the grey stud for an eventual embryo transfer.

National Champions Crowned at NHSFR

After a week of competition that featured nearly 1,500 contestants from all across the United States, Canada and Australia, the 2013 National High School Finals Rodeo National Champions were crowned on Saturday night at the Sweetwater Events Complex.

Idaho's Garrett Smith made history when he became the first three-time NHSFR All-Around Cowboy Garrett won his titles in consecutive years (2011-13) and even picked up a Rookie All-Around Cowboy title as a freshman in 2010 This year, he competed at the NHSFR in six events, earning a trip to the short round in boys cutting (where he finished second overall), steer wrestling (sixth overall and won the short round) and saddle bronc riding (fourth).

For the second straight year, a freshman won the All-Around Cowgirl title as Raelee Self of Texas picked up the win after taking the top spot in pole bending and finishing seventh in barrel racing She finished just ahead of fellow Texas pole bender/barrel racer/freshman Sissy Winn Raelee was the pole bending champion at the 2012 National Junior High Finals Rodeo in Gallup, N.M.

The top 20 contestants based on their two-head average times and scores advanced to the short round on Saturday night, where they competed in front of a packed house and cameras from RFD-TV's Cinch Highschool Rodeo Tour National Champions were determined by their three-head average scores and earned awards that included college scholarships, custom Gist Silversmiths buckles, Tod Slone saddles, as well as products from Cinch Jeans and Shirts, Ariat Boots, Resistol Hats, Professional's Choice and more.

Cronquist Tops Dash 2 Tetons

Jessi Cronquist on Just Making Dust (01 b. g. A Dash Of Beduino-House Of Crystal, Leinster House) took the average and the fastest time 16.257 crystal trophy @ Dash 2 Tetons.

The big outdoor pens drew great contestants from all over with total payout of $32,986 over the 3 day event. Big Shout out to all whom made these events possible and the Spectacular TSV facility and the Sponsors huge thank you. As our Crew rolled the Contestants thru the gates and prayed off the Thunderheads we had awesome runs by many including, Stacey McDaniel, ID, Shirley Ankrum, ID, Linda Hegel, MT, Kelli Hipwell, UT, Kallee Munns, UT and Landers Scott whom travelled all the way from Tennessee. We wish Jessi the Best of Luck as she is on a Winning Streak through out the Circuit.

The Iron Horse Classic is August 9-11 entries and stalls are open online www.tripodproductions3.com. special thanks again to Platinum Performance, Flat Creek Tack, TSV, Agave, Big R Home Ranch and most of all The Tri Pod Crew a fabulous production.

Slick Packs McLeod to Five Figures at Nampa

By Julie Mankin

To jump on a 6-year-old stallion in March and expect to set the rodeo world on fire in just a few months might seem a stretch – unless that stallion is Slick By Design.

Owned by High Point Performance Horses and ridden by Texan Michele McLeod, “Slick” has exceeded expectations, all while being collected for semen until the day McLeod hit the summer trail on June 5.

In their first-ever visit to the Snake River Stampede in Nampa, Idaho, which wrapped up Saturday night, July 20, McLeod placed second in the first round and won the short round to sweep the average race by a full half-second for $10,768.

“I knew he’d like the crowd at Nampa and run harder with all the hype,” said McLeod. “I would have been faster but I took a hold of him a little at third because I didn’t want to hit it, and he stepped off of it.”

McLeod loved the Stampede right off the bat.

“I was very impressed with Nampa,” she said. “They have a great committee and put on a great rodeo; really do a good job. The stalls are great; they have a nice RV area with hookups for us and offer us a laundry service and a hospitality tent. This is my first time on the road, living out of my trailer, and it’s really nice to come to these rodeos where people will let you know where to buy feed and other things you might need.”

Last week, McLeod moved from 16th in the world standings to 10th. With over $55,000 earned, she looks to have punched her ticket to her first NFR.

"I'm not paying attention to that," she said. "My support team is constantly watching it, though. We talk all the time. They are two of the best guys there are to ride for. It's very much a group effort. When we had that setback in Canada, we all had a meeting and decided on a change and it worked out the best."

After a poor run in the finals at Ponoka, McLeod determined she needed to be able to move Slick's body around the barrels a little differently. So she went with a lighter bit.

"I had been using a Josey combination called the Million Dollar Bit because that's the one that came with the horse and he'd won so much in it," she said. "And it's hard to change bits when you're entered every day."

She tried a draw gag, but needed a little more noseband, so she settled on an L & W combination with a sliding gag and chain mouthpiece.

"I needed more break in the poll so he would give his face more," she said. "I warm him up now in a hackamore so I'm out of his face and he stays relaxed."

To say the bridle change is working is an understatement – in all kinds of patterns.

"I'm winning Salt Lake City right now with a 13.3," said McLeod. "It was a little tiny pattern. I'm hoping for a big check there."

And she'll return for a second run at Cheyenne this week, where she already placed third (for $4,026) in the first round.

"He's just awesome," she said. "And he's still so green – this is his first year out here. He's handling everything great. He comes off the trailer and does his job. I won Laramie the other afternoon and just barely cooled him off and jumped him back in the trailer and drove all night getting to Nampa at 4 am. We put him in a stall for a few hours and ran; then drove straight from there to Cheyenne slack."

And it's not over. On Monday, Slick was up in Spanish Fork that night; up the next day at Ogden; the next day back at Cheyenne; the next day in Deadwood and would finally get two days off as McLeod runs her back-up at smaller rodeos in Steamboat and Breckenridge, Colo.

"This week we run every day and my goal is to try to make a nice solid run at each place," she said. "At each pen, I evaluate where the barrels are and try to turn three solid barrels. I only got on him in March, so we're starting to click and get in a groove. My goal is always to make a nice, solid run and that's what's been happening. And it's been getting us some good checks every time."

Pozzi and Duke Win Second Straight Salinas Buckle

By Julie Mankin

According to Brittany Pozzi, "When Duke is feeling good, he shows it."

Yeah He's Firen was certainly firing at the California Rodeo in Salinas – an event that he and Pozzi won for the second straight year and third time overall on Sunday, July 21.

In 2012, the two-time world champ and her former Horse of the Year made their four runs in 64.62 seconds to earn $12,490. This year, they won the average in an even faster 64.50, earning $11,731. Pozzi was the highest money-earner of the entire weekend in the WPRA.

"I was a little longer in the first round at Salinas this year," said Pozzi. "He had run by the first barrel the night before at Nampa – I guess from coming off that long run at Calgary – so I took a hold of him at the first barrel and then he had to jump out of the way to keep from hitting it and jerked a shoe. With all that, I was still a 16.3, so I was thinking, 'Oh yeah; he's right there.'"

This time of year, barrel racers switch daily from smaller indoor pens like Salt Lake City to enormous arenas like Cheyenne to tight-fence set-ups like Salinas on the racetrack. Pozzi uses bits out of her Professional's Choice line, but on rare occasions when the second barrel is on the fence, she runs Duke in an unorthodox Quick Bit. "It helps me get him over for second," she said. "He doesn't hit it a lot, but he scares me into thinking, 'Gosh, we need to get over!' This is the same bit Charmayne ran Cruiser in, but it has a roller in the middle."

Pozzi landed near the top of each of the next two rounds. Then, heading into the short round, the horse race was between Pozzi and her traveling partner and good friend Sherry Cervi.

"Salinas is one of our favorite rodeos," said Pozzi. "Sherry and I were talking before the short round and she said, 'You know what? As long as we keep first and second in our rig, we're good.' She wasn't going to slow down for me and I wasn't going to slow down for her, but we wanted first and second in our rig!"

They didn't disappoint.

"Sherry had a great run but it was one of her slower runs, so I thought maybe the ground wasn't very fast," said Pozzi.

But Duke fired again, and Pozzi's 16.15 placed her third in the finals. Cervi held onto second in the average for $10,652. The two formidable champs then jumped in the truck and drove all night en route to Ogden.

While the press used to revel in the heated rivalry between Pozzi and fellow champ Lindsay Sears, an opposite relationship has flowered between Pozzi and Cervi.

"We get along great," Pozzi said of the three-time world champ. "We think so much alike it's kind of scary. We've gotten to hit a lot of rodeos by splitting our rigs and we've both won a lot of money this summer that way. Basically, we feed off each other. She's been through some things I have and understands."

The two were drawn closer exactly a year ago in Cheyenne, when Pozzi's then-boyfriend, Broc Cresta, died unexpectedly overnight.

"I didn't know how I'd feel when I got to Cheyenne this year," said Pozzi, who placed in the first round on a 5-year-old mare. "But it was when I got to Salinas that it was like, 'Wow.' Last year at Salinas was the last time we were all together for four days. It was really hard just being there because that was our last, happiest time all together. It's still really hard. I'm sure I had an angel on my shoulder there this year."

If Pozzi keeps winning this week and next, she'll send Duke home for the rest of the season.

"He doesn't like running into closed gates, and there's a lot of that in the Northwest," she said. "Plus, I have two futurity colts to get ready for the fall futurities."

She also has two former futurity colts to run in the Northwest – Ima Super Fly Guy and She's Free To Flame. It was on the latter mare that Pozzi placed in the first round at Cheyenne. The young mare was purchased by Trip and Callie DuPerier in March from Savannah Reeves and Jan Boultinghouse. Pozzi was leaning toward running her in the second round at the "Daddy," too.

"I had Savannah ride Fly Guy at Oklahoma City, so she asked if I'd ride Free To Flame at the JB Quarter Horses Futurity," said Pozzi. "I won the first round and third in the second round. I won a lot on her over the Fourth of July and ran her Monday night in Ogden."

Read what past interns have to say about the RVSW Program!

"The RVSW Undergraduate Internship is one of the strongest internships in the nation because the size of the business is paralleled by the involvement of the veterinarians and staff in meeting the individual learning goals of the student. It is very stimulating to work with professionals in the field that welcome interns and are dedicated to teaching them physiological theory as well as practical skills they need for the future." - Megan Born

"All that I am learning is only confirmation that equine reproduction is the area that I wish to work in. This area of study fascinates me... I believe that RVSW has a great internship program. Everyone here is warm and friendly making it a great work environment. Interning (here) has improved my knowledge of equine reproduction immensely. My internship at Royal Vista Southwest has truly been a life changing experience." - Christina Gosch

Footloose—Plaisance & Just Let Her Dance Win

By Tanya Randall

Teenager Sarah Plaisance and her 6-year-old mare Just Let Her Dance (“Dancey”) made the run of their young lives to win the inaugural Elite Youth Extravaganza, held July 17-21 at the Extraco Pavilion in Waco, Texas. With a winning time of 15.316 in the clean-slate finals, Plaisance and Dancey captured the 1D Championship of the $5,000-added Youth 5D.

“I always knew she had potential, but not that kind of potential!” said the 13-year-old eighth grader from Frierson, La. “I really just took a shot in the dark because I hadn’t been sending her. I’d been holding her back a little bit because she so young. I took a chance and she proved me wrong, thinking that she couldn’t do it.”

Plaisance, the only member of her family to have any interest in horses, purchased the petite sorrel as a 3-year-old from her breeder Rick Hamm of Figure 9 Quarter Horses in Ada, Okla. Dancey is by Bouncy Brown Cadillac out of Dancing Rio Style, by Rios First Flit Bar. She was sent to Leslie Holder for training and Plaisance started riding her two years ago.

“We’re just now starting to get together as she gets a little older,” said Plaisance, who would like to be a veterinarian and train barrel horses in her spare time when she’s older. “She’s really automatic. She’s not hard to get along with and is really easy going.”

At first Plaisance was a little concerned with how Dancey would handle the set-up and atmosphere at the Elite production since they had never been to one and didn’t make it to Waco in time to get an exhibition.

“We left at 3:30 in the morning hoping to get an exhibition,” she explained, “but we didn’t get there in time. They were all sold out. I didn’t really send her that hard Thursday. I just kind of cruised her in there and it was really smooth.”

That run of 15.618 eighth in the first go and qualified them back to the Finals on Saturday night.

“We placed in the first go and made it back to the short go, so I decided not to run her hard on Friday,” she said. “I decided to work on our turns instead of really sending her. I decided Saturday it was either go big or go home, so I sent her in there.”

Plaisance isn’t from a “horse” family. She’s the youngest of daughter of Sheila Plaisance and her late husband Roy. Her friends Baleigh Campbell and Jessie Williamson are responsible for getting her involved with barrel racing when she was 9.

She said she’s picked up bits and pieces from people over the years to perfect her barrel racing skills, noting that she appreciated everyone’s help along the way. Now that they’ve found success at the larger jackpots, Plaisance and Dancey will try their luck at junior high rodeos next year.

“We didn’t want to rodeo on her last year because she was so young and really young-minded,” she said. “We didn’t want to get her hurt with any of the rodeo atmosphere, so we’ve just been barrel racing. Next year we’re going to junior high rodeo in Texas Region 5.”

The other big winner in the youth was MacKenzie Powell of Troy, Texas. She won a year’s use of a Sooner 3-horse gooseneck, sponsored by The Trailer Store of Huntsville, Texas. Her name was drawn from the list of qualifiers for the Youth Championship Finals.

Rodeo money earners dominated the 1D of the Red HOT Open 5D Summer Run, presented by the Equidite Corporation and held in conjunction with the Elite Youth Extravaganza. Due to the fabulous turnout, the two $20,000 Guaranteed Races jumped to $22,500 each and paid 15 places in each of the five divisions.

Open Race 1 winner Andrea Cline, Springtown, Texas, and her 5-year-old futurity colt Stiches Streaknfame, by Firewater Ta Fame, posted a 15.178 to earn $1,518. Her neighbor just a few miles west, Debra Cooper of Poolville, Texas, turned in the fastest time of the event, a 15.130 aboard Rapid Firing Pass, by Rapid Firing Sixes, to also win $1,518.

The Elite Youth Extravaganza and HOT Summer Run were the first races produced by the McClellan County Fair Association (Heart Of Texas Fair), which purchased Elite Barrel Racing earlier this year. Plans are already underway for the 2014 Elite Youth Extravaganza as well as this November’s Elite Open Extravaganza, JB Quarter Horses Futurity and Texas Best Barrel Futurity Sale.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I seem to be on a "change" kick recently. I was thinking about some of the changes that have occurred in my short life (no seriously) and my reaction to them! For instance, do some of you younger people remember the first time you saw/got on an escalator? I remember walking up there...stopping. My head started bobbing, my feet started going up and down but I wasn't going anywhere! I was trying to get in time with it! I had people stacked up like cord wood behind me and these thoughts kept going through my head about getting a shoe stuck! Finally someone gave me the ole heave ho and I was going up, up, up! Glorious!

And self flushing toilets...my first experience was in the Denver International Airport after a non bathroom flight. I was minding my own business when a slight shift made the toilet flush. Next thing I knew I was hanging from the stall door with my feet in the air making little girl noises! Embarrassing.

Underground shuttles at airports were an amazing thing for me! You get on and the doors close (all by themselves). I chose to hang on to the pole. At first I was facing the wrong way and nearly slammed into the person in front of me when I shot backward!

After righting myself, I turned around and we are flying through the tunnel with the lights and those streamer things blowing and I couldn't help myself....I started yelling "WHEEEEEEEEEEE"! More embarrassment.

But if I hadn't done those things, I wouldn't know just how good they can be. And if you don't read your Bible, you won't know how good God is. Just you and the Word. Believing what He says about your prosperity, your health, your relationships. Nothing flaky here, just you and the Word. After reading the Bible and applying it, the wonderful, positive change it will bring into our lives is without compare!

We love you and bless you in Jesus name!
