Macee McAllister & Family-Bred TW Lane Ta Fame Earn NHSFR Championship

By Tanya Randall

Macee McAllister of St. George, Utah, made the most of her first trip to the National High School Finals Rodeo, held July 14-20 in Rock Springs, Wyoming, with a barrel racing championship aboard her family's homebred mare, TW Lane Ta Fame ("Lainey").

"It's just so crazy," said in the incoming high school senior. "I still can't believe it! It's honestly shocking! You always go in hoping, but it's cool when you actually do it."

McAllister and Lainey placed third in each round with runs of 17.474 and 17.364, respectively.

"I was up Monday morning for my first run," she explained. "I don't get very nervous. I wasn't nervous for that run. I just wanted to go out and make a good run. She actually stumbled a little on the second barrel. She pulled the reins out of my hand but I was able to grab them really quick and keep her going. She turned it perfect still. It was a little scary.

"My second run on Friday night I was the most scared for probably. I was like, 'I really want to make it to the short go. That's all I really wanted to do. I was really nervous for that run. She still ran perfectly.'"

McAllister headed to the short round in second behind Shaw Nelson of Hartford, South Dakota.

"I was second barely in the average," she noted. "It was all really tight."

She and Lainey were 18th out in the short round and she tried her best not to listen to anyone's time.

"I wasn't really even nervous for the short go, which was weird," said McAllister. "I just wanted to go out and make a good run. I was really excited to run. The girl that was in front of me made a nice run and they announced that she was first, then I got a little nervous. I just went in and held my breath and kicked as hard as I could. It worked for me, so I was happy."

The nervous ones were her father Jade and grandmother Wanda Anderson, who raised and trained Lainey.

"Everyone was so much more nervous than I was," laughed McAllister, who also competes in breakaway roping, team roping and pole bending.

Her father and grandmother had been in a similar situation before with McAllister's older sister McKenna, who also rode Lainey.

"Her older sister won state two times and had a chance at Gillette," recalled Jade McAllister. "She came back third or fourth and hit a barrel to win it or win second that year. This was a little nerve wracking. Running to the third, I was like, 'Just don't hit the third.' I don't know if I could go through that again. It worked out. It's just a fairy tale. That's an amazing horse. It's all pretty amazing."

The neatest part, he said, was having the horse raised and trained by family.

Lainey, 13, is by all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of the Lane Leinster mare Lois Lane DJ.

This is the second straight year for a Utah cowgirl to ride a Dash Ta Fame to the high school national championship. Amanda Butler won it last year on TS Snapn Ta Fame.

McAllister, along with Butler, were amongst the five barrel racers from the Beehive State in the short go at the NHSFR. Lindsey Peterson of Ogden, Kamryn Carlse of Neola and Hayden Madsen of Honeyville also made the short.

"Utah is crazy tough, barrel especially," said McAllister, who struggled with her other horses until it was her turn to ride Lainey after her sister graduated.

Her father concurred, "The horsepower is unreal."

Team Camarillo Western Classic

It was "Fun and Fast Times" July 12 thru the 14th at the 28th Annual Team Camarillo Western Classic held at the beautiful Rolling Hills Equestrian Center in Corning, CA. The three go round race for over 60K in cash and awards was run on a standard pattern. Each round paid equal money in each division rewarding riders and horses for consistent performance. The last round ran slowest to fastest making for an exciting run at the fantastic average awards! This year's Classic final round was one of the most exciting in history as we watched the last ten contestants come in with fast and very consistent runs!

Myrtle Point, Oregon Cowgirl, Olivia Train made the trip to Corning with two horses in hopes of repeating her Grand Championship status from last year! She is currently leading the WPRA Rookie for the Columbia River Circuit. Olivia and Ought to Streak clocked a smoking 17.767, 17.458 and a 17.501 to win the average! Her second round time of 17.458 held as the fast time of the weekend and landed her The Pursuit of Excellence Award which is a Rambo Blanket sponsored by Horsemare Ireland. Dental Hygienist by trade, a horse trainer and Pro Rodeo Cowgirl by choice, Olivia collected $3181 in checks and a custom Reinsman Team Camarillo saddle, breast collar, Equithrive and MVP Products, and Ice Vibe Boots from Horsemare Ireland. Olivia also was Reserve Champion in the 2D on her second horse Desparado winning a Reserve Champion Montana Silversmiths Buckle and monogrammed Horsemare Ireland Team vest. Former Classic Champion Jandee Smart On Bully's High Society clocked 17.99, 17.706 and her Fast Time of 17.472 putting the pressure on Train in the final round!

Congratulations to 2D Champion Mary Scott from Red Bluff, California riding One Smart Bullion. In her 17th trip to the Camarillo Western Classic, Mary won a Team Camarillo Reinsman saddle, MVP and Equithrive products along with a Laser from our newest sponsor Spectra Laser.

Long time supporter of the Camarillo Classic, Debbie Rossi from Saied Valley, California, riding Clint Cajun Walker won the 3D Reinsman trophy saddle, breast collar and supply of MVP and Equithrive products.

12 year old Junior Rider, Addison Miller on her new horse 17 year old Sheldon, won the Reinsman 4D saddle, breast collar, MVP and Equithrive products as well as the Kalyn Brooks Memorial trophy buckle. This special buckle honors Kalyn Brooks, Cowgirl Hall of Fame Inductee and Camarillo clinic student!

Congratulations to all contestants and side-pot winners attending the annual Western Team Camarillo Classic! Next up is the Eastern Team Camarillo Classic held at the C Bar C Expo Center in Cloverdale, IN September 27-29, 2019. And save the dates for the 2020 Western Classic July 10-12, 2020! The Camarillo Classic Races are held annually to thank our Clinic students for their attention to horsemanship and their passion for the sport of barrel racing! Dr. J. Pat Evans, co-founder of Justin Sportsmedicine passes away

The rodeo and sports world lost a legend and pioneer in Dr. J. Pat Evans.

Evans, one of the founders of Justin Sportsmedicine Program, who was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2004, passed away July 22. He was 88. Evans is survived by sons, Kirk and Mike.

The Justin Sportsmedicine program was initiated at the 1980 National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City and Evans, along with Don Andrews, was a driving force in making that happen.

Before Evans envisioned the Justin Sportsmedicine, program and worked to get it started, there wasn't anything organized for providing medical care to rodeo athletes. In 1981, the Justin Boots Company became the only sponsor the program has known in its years of service.

"Justin Sportsmedicine was my dream," Evans told 1978 PRCA World Champion Bull

Rider Butch Kirby one time in conversation. "He was like a father to all of us. Cowboys used to go to Forest Lane in Dallas to see Dr. J. Pat so they could get fixed up. When he fixed cowboys and we won, he won also."

And, Evans loved treating cowboys.

"The cowboys are the toughest guys on the planet," Evans said through Dee Chambless, a family friend prior to his passing.

The reach of Evans' influence in sports medicine is far and wide, and especially on Dr. Tandy Freeman, the Medical Director of the Justin Sportsmedicine team.

"To begin with, he (J. Pat) was one of my mentors," Freeman said. "He is one of the people who has had a profound impact on my life. I wouldn't be where I am, doing what I'm doing, if it hadn't been for J. Pat. When I first met Dr. Evans, I was a resident in training, I hadn't decided what I wanted to do. I was doing an orthopedic surgery residency, but I hadn't decided what area I wanted to focus my attention on whether it was going to be sports medicine, double-joint replacement or something else.

"The thing about J. Pat that was the most influential on me was witnessing the relationships he had with his patients. How he talked to them and took care of them. It was a really personal form of medicine, nowadays it would be considered old-fashion. He helped me determine how I wanted to go about dealing with patients and taking care of patients."

In addition to rodeo athletes, Evans was one of the team doctors for the Dallas Cowboys from 1970-89, and a team doctor for the Dallas Mavericks from 1980-92.

Evans also was responsible for suggesting and promoting the development of the Tom Landry Sports Medicine and Research Center, which opened in 1990 in Dallas. Even today, it is one of the best sports medicine facilities in the world.

"He had a lot of famous athletes that he took care of and was friends with," Freeman said. "With the (Dallas) Cowboys there are guys he took care of who were arguably among the best ever that played the game and yet, he cared for the broken down, weekend circuit cowboys just the same as he would for a guy who was a hall of famer in the NFL. To him, there was no difference in terms of the attention that they got and the care they needed."

Evans is believed to be one of the first people in Dallas to develop a sports medicine practice. His practice was called Sports Medicine Clinic of North Texas.

It was through his work with the Dallas Cowboys that Evans was introduced to world of rodeo through Cowboys running back Walt Garrison, who also competed on the rodeo trail in the offseason. Garrison was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2018.

"Because of him they introduced what is arguably the greatest program to ever hit the sport (of rodeo)," said Tom Feller, the director of event marketing for Justin Brands.

“We are really blessed. Macee is pretty lucky. (She) has a great horse and a wonderful support team and has the greatest mom in the world, who keeps everything in line and moving along.”

McAllister, who is considering Utah State University for either veterinary medicine or physical therapy after high school, wanted to thank her family for all their help and support, saying, “They’re always pushing me to be better.”

High school rodeos start back up in Utah in two weeks. McAllister wants to hit a few bigger barrel races and see how that goes when she has time. Her dad also promised her that he’d start team roping again, so she’ll probably go to those too.

When she’s not horseback, McAllister plays soccer and basketball. In fact, she had soccer practice at 6 a.m. on the Monday morning she got back from Nationals.

Andre Coelho and Tinys Stormy Weather Five State Breeders Futurity Champions

The 5-State Breeders Futurity took place in Rapid City, South Dakota during July 18-21, and winning the $30,000 added 2D Futurity was Andre Coelho and Tinys Stormy Weather. They were consistent, running a 17.458 in the first round and a 17.418 in the second round. "On my first run, I tried to get my confidence. When we ran a 17.4 both days, I thought, holy moly – that was more than I was expecting," Coelho said. He also made it to the finals on a second horse, Famous Sassy Firebug. "To be honest, I wasn't 100% confident with those horses," he admitted. "Just to make it back to the finals was pretty cool for me." When a couple of the girls in contention of the futurity championship hit barrels, that was on his mind and he knew what he had to do to win – run a 17.8. "I knew I just needed a really smooth run. I kind of loped to the first barrel. I was making sure I didn't hit a barrel. I put so much pressure on myself because those girls hit barrels. I was nervous but I just prayed to my Lord and He helped me to be calm." He also told himself, "You know your job, just do it. Don't hit a barrel and you can win." They did exactly what they needed to do and ran a 17.715 to be first in the average with 52.591 to earn the victory. "She's such a nice and talented mare. It was so much fun," Coelho said. "I couldn't believe it when Bill [Kennedy, the owner] came to me crying saying, 'You won!'. I couldn't believe it. It was a dream come true."

Because Stormy had been at the breeding farm in Oklahoma, Coelho had only been able to ride the 4-year-old mare the past two months. "I was struggling because I took her to some local jackpots and was hitting barrels. I changed my thoughts and started giving her more pocket," he explained. The change paid off at the 5-State Breeders Futurity. "She worked really good for me and gave me 100%. She's really smart and she has a really good temperament – she's fun, she's really fun," he said about Stormy, who is by Frenchmans Guy and out of a Dash Ta Fame mare.

Coelho also placed seventh on Famous Sassy Firebug. "It wasn't that hard for me because Adrian Bolin and Cody Bauserman did such a great job with those colts so they made my job easier," he said. Stormy had previously won BFA Juvenile Champion. "They did such a great job training her. She's really athletic. She tries really hard. She's fancy broke," Coelho added.

Coelho, who is 36 years old, started barrel racing in Brazil when he was 13 years old. "I kind of learned by myself," he remembers. In 2008, he came to the United States to run at the NBHA Championship since there was international barrel racing and also to ride with Latricia Duke. "We had a qualifier in Brazil and then NBHA Brazil paid for us to come," he explained. "I liked the experience, so I came back in 2009 and every year until 2015. I came to ride with Bo Hill, Lance Graves, Pete Oen, Kassie Mowry – people that are my heroes – I came to learn from them."

In 2014, Coelho and his wife, Renata went to the NFR to watch Junior Nogueira compete at his first NFR in the team roping - heeling. "Me and Junior [Nogueira] have been friends since we were kids," he said. Coelho was a calf roper back then and they met while rodeoing together in Brazil. "He's amazing. He came from a really poor family and he's worked really hard to get where he is right now," Coelho said about the 5-time NFR qualifier who has also won the All-Around World Championship. While at the NFR that year, Nogueira told Coelho about a lady who had watched him on YouTube, and he wanted to introduce them. That lady was Fallon

Taylor. When she said she wanted to learn from him, his response was, "Are you kidding me? You guys are my heroes!" After that they kept in touch and would send each other videos about drills. Coelho's wife encouraged him to pursue riding barrel horses in the United States since she knew how much he wanted that opportunity. He was able to start working for Bill in 2015 – 2016, then his wife got pregnant with their second daughter, so they returned to Brazil to be closer to their families. Two years later, he came back to work for Bill at Smoke Creek Quarter Horses again.

Now following his 5-State Breeders Futurity win, he said, "I got so excited. For me being a Brazilian guy, I grew up watching Americans run on YouTube. To be in the middle of trainers that were and still are my heroes, it's unbelievable." He continued, "It was hard for us to leave our country, culture, and leave our family. I had my own ranch there." But as he looks ahead to his long-term plans here in the United States with his wife and daughters Maria (6-years old) and Alice (2-years old) while riding barrel horses, Coelho said, "I don't want to go back, I love this country and I want to learn to ride like the Americans. I have so much to learn from them."

To Coelho, it doesn't matter if it's a local jackpot or a big futurity, his reaction is the same. "When I win, I get so happy. I pray and am so thankful. Bill and Cheryl Kennedy, they're like family to me. They deserve the success and to win because they are such good people, and Bill's breeding program is amazing. The people that train and everyone there help each other – it's really fun to be here in the United States. I'm really thankful for everything Bill and Cheryl do for me and my family."

Coming from Brazil does present some challenges for him. "When I go to the barrel races, I'm not shy but I get so quiet because I don't speak English well." Sometimes people talk too fast for him to understand or they try to speak to him in Spanish instead of Portuguese. "It makes me sad that I can't talk with people the way I'd like to," he said sincerely.

"My dream was to win a futurity," Coelho remembers well. Because of the 5-State Breeders Futurity win along with others, his dream has come true. "Now my dream is to keep doing what I'm

Terri Wood-Gates & Smooth Movin Lena Sweep Snake River Stampede in Nampa, Idaho

By Tanya Randall

Terri Wood-Gates and Smooth Movin Lena were the only duo to turn in sub-16-second runs at the Snake River Stampede, held July 16-20 in Nampa, Idaho. Their clean sweep of the $28,500-added rodeo was worth $13,948.

"I'm just ecstatic!" said the West Jordan, Utah, barrel racer. "You have no expectations going in, but you hope for the best. I never would have dreamt that—win both goes and the average."

Wood-Gates started her year at the Arizona futurities, where she did really well with her colt PCR Blew By You.

Then on January 28, she was accidentally kicked in the forehead by a very frisky Lena. A concussion and 20-plus stitches later, Wood-Gates is still fighting her way back.

"It's been crazy," she said. "I've been not feeling good and I think the concussion was making me feel sick to my stomach. I think I'm getting a lot better."

What has bothered her the most was having to step off her talented futurity colt.

"The saddest thing for me is that futurity colt is too fast for me on his barrels," she said. "I just had to give him some time off. I was making him so anxious because I was so anxious the few times I ran him. I've started running him again in bigger, outdoor pens to try to keep up with him. It's easier when I have some time to think between barrels. I've been so angry with myself because he's such a nice colt. He proved that in Arizona."

She's also had deal with some lingering anxiety left by the incident. For someone whose life revolves around horses, it's hard to function when you're frightened by leading one.

"It's been crazy," she said. "I have PTSD leading a horse. When I go to the rodeos, Stewart (her husband) leads my horse. I have such anxiety. I'll break down crying when a horse jumps. It just changed everything."

Luckily Lena has been the bright spot in fighting her way back to

THE RUNDOWN w/Terri Wood-Gates

Smooth Movin Lena, "Lena"

BIT: Carol Goostree Simplicity II (the Egg bit)

HEADGEAR: None; will tune on her at home with different headgear as needed

SADDLE: Double J Pozzi

SADDLE PAD: Best Ever Pad

LEG GEAR: Polo Wraps, usually blue or navy

SHOEING: Rims

FEED: Nutrena Safe Choice

HAY: Alfalfa and grass hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Oxy-Gen products

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track wraps. "I love everything Back On Track."

CONDITIONING—TRAINING REGIMEN: "I keep her rode most every day, even between runs. I don't want her to have any issues like tying up, so I keep her rode every day. I'm one of those weird people that do slow work on the barrels all the time. A lot of it is we need to get to know each other, but I do slow work with all my horses. I think that's more me. I like to know where each horse is going to go because they're all a little different."

normal.

"I'm so thankful that I can keep up with this mare," she said. "I tell people I just try to stay on and they laugh. I'm like, 'No, you don't get it. That seriously is my goal.' Ride to a spot and hang on. She's easier because she's older and more seasoned."

Lena, 8, is a full sister to Maine Dash Ta Fame ("Spence"), one of Wood-Gates all-time favorite horses. Spence carried her to the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship in 2004.

Both Lena and Spence came from Spencer Peterson. They were bred by Arlene Christensen and are by Dash Ta Fame out of Sheza Leapin Lena, by Sir Cashanova. Hailey Woodward ran Lena at the futurities and rodeoed on her a couple of years before Wood-Gates bought the mare last fall.

Wood-Gates, along with several others, were interested in the mare since she was a 5-year-old.

"We just watched her for two-and-a-half years and with all the circumstance that Hailey had, Spence (Peterson) and we had, we got in touch with them and ended up buying her," she said.

"We got her back in September. I ran her at the circuit finals. It just took some time for her to adjust to my style because I have a little different style of riding Hailey. Hailey did an amazing job with her. I think we've got to where we know each other now. She's just easy for me to ride right now."

The biggest factor in the purchase was her likeness to Spence.

"She reminds me so much of Spence," she said. "She's been like a dream horse for us because we know the whole family."

Due to her head injury, Wood-Gates is trying to limit herself to two runs a weekend.

"I tried to do more, but it didn't go so well," she said, noting that she ran in Ogden, Utah, the morning following the Nampa win and hit a barrel. "We have this really cool amateur association around here and I tried to do one of those too over the Fourth of July and I had a little mishap at Oakley. I didn't black out, but it was like my brain got turned around. I think I was just tired and wore down. So, we decided to just focus on two runs a week. I'll do a jackpot here and there, but I'm mostly focused on (pro rodeos), so I don't get wore down as much."

A past Wilderness Circuit Champion, Wood-Gates has a commanding lead in the standings. She's got her two-rodeo schedule mapped out for the next month. She's out in Spanish Fork on Tuesday night and won't run again until the following weekend when she has Heber City and Idaho Falls. She stick to her rodeo plan for another two weeks before spending two consecutive weekends in Salina, Utah, for the Southwest Desert Classic and Glen Wood Memorial futurities that she's hosting with her sister Vickie Solmonsens.

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Okay, let's say we have a bad day. When we do, it seems like that's all we can think about. Our problem is sooooo much worse than everyone else's. Surely, no one has had their day ruined like ours was.

Having a problem is never convenient. Have you ever heard someone say, "Geez, I just had a flat tire. No problem. I've got this."? (If you have I would love to meet them!) Ever hit a barrel when you are having a great run and have the FIRST thought be, "Oh good, I need to work on that."? I doubt it.

Well, how do we handle those everyday interruptions and problems? First, don't dwell on the problem. Tell your problem about the ANSWER, God. God is bigger than ANY problem.

Second, learn something from them. None of us are perfect so learning from our mistakes/sin is a great step to take and then DON'T DO IT AGAIN! Heb. 10:26.

We are just plain dumb if we keep doing the same thing the same way and expect different results. Being led by God in our heart will help us navigate and/or avoid most of life's everyday problems. Bad days happen. Who's watching is another thing entirely.

At the barrel race this last weekend, I very smoothly backed my pickup into a concrete barrier... while my friends were watching... and not stopping me... and then they laughed!!! Next week we'll talk about forgiveness... LOL!
