Lockhart Ladies In The Lead, Take Cheyenne & Little Britches Titles

By Tanya Randall

The Lockhart family of Oelrich, S.D., had an exceptional weekend with the barrel racers in the family taking home two major titles.

Matriarch and current WPRA World Standings leader Lisa Lockhart and her great horse An Oakie With Cash ("Louie") captured the prestigious Daddy of 'Em All—the Cheyenne Frontier Days Championship. Her oldest child and only daughter Alyssa captured the Senior Girls Barrel Racing Championship at the National Little Britches Finals Rodeo the day before.

"It was just fun," said Lisa. "I had a nephew too who was participating at the high school finals too and then going to the Little Britches Finals with both my kids (Alyssa and Thane; the youngest Cade doesn't compete). Even my youngest, who doesn't rodeo lives for Rock Springs and Pueblo. They love the social aspect of it. It's fun to watch that—watch them compete and make new friends. The rodeo family is a great thing."

Lisa and Louie were fresh off their $116,500 Calgary Stampede Championship when they snuck into Cheyenne for Tuesday morning slack on July 14. They set a blistering pace with a round winning 17.48 before heading four hours West on I-80 to Rock Springs, Wyo., for the National High School Finals Rodeo, where Alyssa was pole bending.

After watching her run in the short go at the High School Finals, the family headed back to Cheyenne for Lisa's second run. Normally, as the fastest qualifier, Lisa would have run on the Saturday before the short go, but in order to make the Little Britches Finals, she traded for the middle Sunday.

"It was the only free day we had between the High School Finals and Little Britches," she said. "Alyssa was in the short go at the High School Finals on Saturday night and Little Britches started on Monday morning. Normally, I would have run on that last Saturday (of Cheyenne) but that was the short go of Little Britches, so I was keeping my options open."

Louie, in an uncharacteristic move, was ready to get the show on the road and took off from the "Back 40" rather than allow Lisa to slowly ease him into the arena toward the barrel pattern, which was a long, long way from where they started.

"That wasn't by my choice!" laughed Lisa. "He took the bit and was running. He's never done that! No, I take that back, he did it to me once four years ago in Sheridan, Wyo. My husband was laughing at me. My daughter was laughing at me. (Louie's) shaking his head and has his mouth gapped open running off from the gate. Half-way to the timer I'm thinking this ain't working so I went ahead and went with it. I figured I'd better straighten him out and start driving him forward. He was shaking his head and he was almost headed more to the second barrel than the first barrel. He didn't know where he was going. That took me by the surprise. That's so not like him."

Louie The Perfect was given an excuse, between the horse races and mounted shooters that afternoon, he was pretty amped.

"He was pretty tense in the alley," she said. "He hesitated a little going in and when I gave him an inch, he took a mile! There's a lot going on at Cheyenne and that set the tone. He was pretty wired." When they returned the following Sunday, Lisa made sure she kept him quiet before making her run.

"He was decompressed more for yesterday's run for whatever reason," Lisa said from home, sweet home on Monday. "He'd had some time off and had spent some time just riding. I got on him early and just tried to keep him quiet. He was a trooper yesterday and stayed really quiet for me.”

Lisa admitted between the Fourth of July run and Cheyenne it was a lot for Louie, especially since he didn't have Chisum (Fast An Gold) to spell him any. Chisum is currently recovering from an injury at the South Dakota State High School Finals.

“It's a lot,” she said. “Sometimes it seemed like we had something every day in July.”

Now Louie is getting some time off until the Champions Challenge at Cody, Wyo., as Lisa seasons her young horses at some circuit rodeos and spends some time with her family before school is back in session.

Alyssa, a 17-year-old high school senior, finished ninth in the nation in the pole bending before winning the Little Britches title in the barrels on Streakin Stan (“Shadow”), a palomino gelding by Streakin Turn out of Sake Em Sally, by Stan Sandoc.

“We've had him since he was a colt,” said Alyssa of the 14-year-old gelding. “We didn't start running barrels on him until he was 8. I started riding him after mom. She didn't like him. She started him and I finished him.”

The duo put together solid runs to win the championship. “The first one wasn't that great,” said Alyssa, who wanted to thank her parents Grady and Lisa for going out of their way to help her and her brothers with their activities. “He wasn't very sure of the arena and the ground wasn't very good, but he worked alright. It was good enough. The second run, he worked really well and we ended up winning the round. He was more comfortable and so was I and we both went in there and did our job. The short go, he worked good again, not as good as he did on the second run, but his times were pretty much the same. The ground was little more iffy. A lot of girls' horses had trouble with it. He didn't make as pretty of a run as he did in the second go but it was still alright.” Lisa said she was “thrilled” for her daughter to do so well and admitted to being just a tad nervous throughout the ordeal.

“The first round for her I wasn't that nervous, knowing that it wasn't her strongest event, but I knew she would be competitive,” she said. “After she did well on her first run, I got a little more nervous with each run. I was like ‘Oh my gosh! She's really got a chance here.’ The more the stars aligned the more nervous I got!

But, she's a trooper and takes care of her business. She makes my job [as a Mom] easy.”

Alyssa returned the favor and got nervous for her mom on Sunday at Cheyenne.

“Oh my gosh,” said Alyssa, a sounding like her mother. “It's totally worse for other people! It's tough!”

Chouest Dominates at NBHA Youth World Finals

By Hope Sickler

Perry, Georgia is the host city for the NBHA Youth World Finals and Louisiana standout barrel racer Allie Chouest took the Cross-roads of Georgia city by storm at this year's finals.

Chouest has had a summer of barrel racing that many of us dream of. She has claimed championship titles at the last three big shows she was entered in and wanted to capitalize on that in Perry. Not only did she leave with the championship title but she did it on a different horse than the one she's been having such success on.

"I rode four different horses at this year's NBHA Youth World Finals and I won it on VF A Sporty Design aka "Sporty". I have been having such great success on RLJ High Intedsity so it was pretty exciting and special that I won this one on "Sporty". He is a lot of fun and absolutely loves his job," explained Chouest.

"Sporty" is a 13-year-old sorrel gelding by Designer Red and out of Skidmores Tiny Hope by Gonetruckin. "Sporty" was trained and ran as a futurity horse by standout trainer Talmadge Green and later sold to Angela Ganter. The Chouest family ended buying "Sporty" back shortly thereafter. He is typically ran by Chouest's older brother, Max Chouest, but being the great, big brother that he is, he handed the reins over to his little sister for the show in Georgia. "I hit a barrel in the first round on "Sporty" but I ended up winning second the first round on "Slick" (RLJ High Intedsity) with a 14.899 which was really cool. I then won the second round on "Sporty" with a 14.758 which qualified us for the final round. I ended up qualifying all four horses that I was entered on to the final round including "Slick", "Sporty", "Buddy Rose", and "Briscoscangetit".

To qualify four horses, that are all different from the next, to the final round at NBHA Youth World is a feat in its own and Chouest did it with grace and poise.

"Sporty" and I ran a 14.584 in the final round which ended up winning the round and the championship. It is kind of funny and ironic because I almost didn't run him in the second round because I ended up getting sick while in Georgia. I spent most of my time in the air conditioning in the bus so I could reserve what energy I had left for my runs," said Chouest.

At the end of the day, Chouest is fully aware that she would not be where she is at today without her great support system.

"I am extremely blessed to have the support system that I have. My family, Talmadge and Destri and every other single person who has been there for me, thank you from the bottom of my heart. Words cannot explain how grateful I am for everything. What made this win even more special was the fact that as soon as I made my final run on "Sporty" my brother, Max, was the first to greet me in the alleyway and congratulate me. That made everything even sweeter."

Chouest left Georgia with a boat-load of prizes including a brand new trophy 4 Star horse trailer, a bunch of awesome gift certificates and over $15,000 in earnings.

"A bunch of people are saying that I am on a "roll". Instead I feel like I am just very blessed."

Duffie and ReClaim Fame

The youth competition was stiff this year at the NBHA Youth World Finals held in Perry, Georgia, with Williamston, South Carolina cowboy Michael Duffie not only winning the youth 1D championship but also posting a blistering fast time of 14.428 in the first go to shatter the arena record.

The 13-year-old talent was riding ReClaim Fame, a 10-year-old gelding by Dash Ta Fame and out of Alicia Rene by Real Ease; a full brother to Sue Smith's great NFR horse Real Claim Ta Fame. ReClaim Fame "Famous" is owned by Mike and Janelle Green of Southern Rose Ranch in Pelzer, South Carolina and was trained and ran as a futurity horse by Mike where the duo had great success. Duffie started coming out to the Southern Rose Ranch to learn the ropes of barrel racing and was quickly mounted on some of the nicest horses in the industry.

"Michael has been a joy to have around. He started coming to ride with us and has worked very hard to get his riding to where it's at today. He hasn't been riding barrel horses for that long but has put in valid time and effort to be the winner that he is today. He is a hard worker and has a true desire to win," explained Janelle Green. Duffie piloted the big, strong gelding to a win in the first round which won the first round of the youth as well as set a new arena record.

"It was very exciting for everyone involved that he not only won the round but also set the new arena record. What made it even more special was the fact that his entire family was there to cheer him on and relish in the victory."

Duffie and "Famous" did it again in the final round where they clocked a 14.676, winning the final round claiming the youth 1D world championship.

“It was a dream of a weekend and having my family there topped it off. I feel so lucky to have the opportunity to ride these amazing horses and have such great coaches and support system.”

Duffie left Georgia with a brand new trophy 4 Star horse trailer, close to $10,000, a smile and great appreciation for the moment he has worked so hard for.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

The chances are high that you are a horse person if you are reading this! And if you have purchased at least one horse (is that even possible??) then you are familiar with the pitfalls and the trials of trying to find the perfect one.

If you are under the age of 12, anything with four feet, a tail and whinny's will do the trick. They can be any color, size or age. "Can I ride him?" was the only question I ever asked. Mike would tell you I'm still that way.

But if you have been around a while, a little cynicism will creep in...okay a lot of cynicism. Just who can you believe? Is the horse sound? Does it have any bad habits? Will it buck? How many rides has it had? How many barrel races has it won? A side note here..... When I'm selling a horse, I know that I am dealing with an inexperienced person when they ask me, "What is the fastest time they have ever run the barrels?" Another one is, "I'm looking for a 1D horse that places everywhere and I have $2500 to spend". AREN'T WE ALL????

I read a saying that is so true. "A seller can tell you anything, but when you get the horse home, it will tell you the truth."

In life we have to navigate a whole lot of bull. But it is not that way with God's word. It will tell you the same thing tomorrow that it told you yesterday. It doesn't change. People change but God won't. So if you read that He sent Jesus to die for you, then just receive it. John 3:16.

It's my desire that when I get to write to you about God, that you will see just how good He is and you'll run to Him. You'll know that He loves YOU. You will not be afraid of Him. You can count on Him and take Him at His word. He is right there for us in everyday situations....the funny ones and the serious ones. You don't have to put Him on the shelf and only see Him once in a while. He is our ever present help in time of need. And that's the truth!
