Mays & Judge My Fame Win the Daddy of 'em All

By Julie Mankin

Brenda Mays didn't do anything spectacular in the first round at the largest outdoor rodeo in the nation. In Cheyenne, Wyo., during slack, she posted a solid time of 18.03 seconds on her longtime backup horse, Dora.

Toward the end of the week, she made her second run and Dora really fired, posting the fastest time in two weeks in Cheyenne – a 17.48 to win the round. Mays' combined times moved her all the way to second in the average going into the July 27 short round. But still, she never thought she'd win the rodeo.

After all, Lisa Lockhart had a lead of more than three-tenths on her, and Kaley Bass was breathing down her neck – less than a tenth of a second behind her in third.

"I knew things had to happen right," said Mays, 45, of Terrebonne, Ore. "Lisa had such a good lead on everyone. I thought I'd just go make the same run I had before and whatever happened was fine."

The draw in the finals meant Bass would be ninth out, which is often preferable to being at the top of Cheyenne's notoriously shifty ground. Meanwhile, Lockhart had drawn the third position and Mays fifth.

On Sunday, Mays watched Mary Walker's horse, Latte (who won Cheyenne in 2012), lose both hind feet trying to leave the third barrel. And she watched as Lockhart's Chism – a seasoned veteran on rodeo ground – slip terribly around the second barrel.

"When Lisa had that slip, I thought, 'I can't let my mare roll in there and turn hard – I've got to check her up,'" Mays said. "So that made me ride her a little bit different."

Helping Dora slow down with a big two-handed rate prior to the second and third barrels was the ticket. Mays turned in a 17.72 to go to the lead in the round. Now it was just up to Bass. The young cowgirl's wonder horse, Cowboy, made the best run of the day in 17.67 seconds, but it fell a hair's breadth short – five one-hundredths of a second – of besting Mays.

"It's anybody's ball game when you get to a short round out here," Mays said of the 118th Cheyenne Frontier Days. "There are way too many good horses in these short rounds. I was just pretty mellow about it and God has a plan. It must have been His timing."

Mays and her mom, Lynne Mays, raised Dora out of their now-deceased sorrel mare, Flashy Cashy Cat. Like Jethro, she was by Judge Cash, but she was out of a double-bred Three Bars mare.

"I knew Dora was capable, because I ran her when Jethro was hurt off and on and she'd placed at San Antonio," Mays said. "And she's always been pretty decent with Cheyenne's type of ground. The first time I ran her there, I placed in a round. So I realized she could place but definitely didn't think she could win it. Luckily, she's real quick with her feet. She can run pretty hard and with those quick feet kind of tip-toe around a barrel and clock."

When Mays completed her victory lap and took the stage in front of more than 12,000 fans on July 27, suddenly everything she'd been through in 2013 came flooding back and she couldn't battle the tears.

"I never even dreamed it would be possible to win Cheyenne," she said. "To go win it this year after last year was super special. I'll never forget it."

Just one year earlier, she and Jethro had made the short round at Cheyenne for the first time together. Two months later, an injury sidelined Jethro – the 2010 WPRA/AQHA Barrel Horse of the Year; the one that had taken her six times to Las Vegas and helped her win the 2012 NFR average. Ensuing attempts to heal him up went awry and finally in May, she'd had to lay him to rest.

So in 2014, Mays has been over trying to make the NFR. She went to five rodeos in July, including Cheyenne, and earned about $40,000. And even though she climbed to within $6,000 of the top 15, her plans won't change. She will take Dora to her good circuit rodeos in late summer and fall, but otherwise she'll continue staying home more with her son, Kyle, who plays two high-school sports in addition to roping and bulldogging.

"Rodeo will always be there," she said. "I'm pretty close [to make the NFR] now, but I'm not craving going. I'm going to stay the course."

Armstrong wins trailer at Youth World

By Julie Mankin

Ali Armstrong of Lexington, Okla., has added another big championship to her International Finals Youth Rodeo barrel racing title from July.

The 15-year-old placed fourth in the second round of the NBHA Youth World Championships. Since the format was to take the top 20 in each division after two runs to the finals, she would get to make another run. Her time of 14.786 in the finals won the Teen Division of the Youth World and was one of the fastest times turned in all weekend at the event, July 21-27 in Perry, Georgia. Armstrong edged Blaise Bercegeay of Mississippi on Easily Smashed Toast (Bercegeay placed fifth, as well, on Runnin For A Title), and earned $4,483 plus a 4-Star gooseneck trailer, a saddle, two buckles, a saddle pad and more.

"I was one of last girls to run in the short round, and I didn't think it was going to be that fast," Armstrong said. "He kind of drifted off his third barrel a little but was running hard and clocked pretty good."

Armstrong's horse, Matt's Freckled Cowboy ("Panama"), is just 7. Her family bought him in Lexington as a 4-year-old after he'd been started on the barrels.

"He's not very big, but he has a big personality," said Armstrong, who has been running barrels since third grade. "He loves to play. He will play chase and he'll bite you and is just a very energetic little horse. He has pulled my pants down before. I had a pair of Nike shorts on one day and he pulled those down to my knees in front of people. He is very full of himself!"

Armstrong plans to compete in some high school rodeos as a sophomore this year, and continue going to NBHA shows. Her stepfather, Clifford Chastain, hauled her the 15 hours to Georgia. He got her into barrel racing, and she's had some help from Audra Masterson of Purcell and Debbie Caywood of Lexington.

As for Panama, he may be a cow horse but he's dominating the youth ranks. In July, Armstrong won all three rounds and the average at the IFYR in Shawnee, Okla.

"He always keeps his butt up underneath him and works off his back end and gets around them really quick," she said. "I'm just going to let him keep doing what he's doing and try to keep him healthy."

Ryan wins Youth World on Jud Little bred mare

By Julie Mankin

The Ryans have only owned Famous Rhythm for three months, but Bailey Ryan, 13, has already gotten in tune with the mare enough to notch a big win at the NBHA Youth World Championships.

Janae Massey won the AQHA world championship in Junior Barrel Racing on "Famous" at the 2013 World Show last fall. Now 6, she was raised by Jud Little and is by his stud Famous JR and out of I Forty Rhythm by Special Rhythm.

Ryan placed third in the first round and made it to the finals, where she posted a 14.622 to earn a total of $3,430 plus prizes. "She's just such a sweet mare; I love her to death," said Ryan, who has only been barrel racing for two years. "I'm just getting to know her. We were looking on the internet for a horse that was a little bit faster than what I had, and we came across Judd Little's website.

There was another horse we were interested in, and when we called they also told us about Famous. We went and checked those two mares out and ended up buying both of them. They're very nice mares."

The other mare is 5-year-old Buggin Me Baby, also trained by Massey and ridden to derby money for Little by Cassie Ward. Just before the Youth World Championships, Ryan went to Des Moines, Iowa, where she competed at the National Junior High Finals Rodeo. While in Des Moines, Bailey had some problems, but earlier this year she had entered the state finals in 15th place and won the short round to go to nationals in second place for the state of Texas. It was a good momentum-builder for the Youth World Championships.

"I qualified on three horses for Perry, which was a big deal for us,” said Bailey, also a former Josey world champ. “We were ready for the drive and decided it would be a good race and paid good and would have good competition.”

The eighth-grader’s parents sold their construction business last year to spend more time helping Bailey with her barrel racing. They still own a ranch and raise cattle in tiny Oplin, Texas. Ryan has always ridden horses, but mostly competed in playdays until two years ago, when some people tipped them off about junior-high rodeo and big jackpots like those held in Glen Rose.

“I just want to keep my barrel racing career going and hopefully make it to the NFR,” Ryan said. “I’ll just keep doing junior high rodeos and bigger barrel races and hopefully keep winning.”

Headin' For Home

"Classic" by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

It's amusing to watch the horses when you first turn them out to exercise. Some will roll but most of them will run, buck and jump for the sheer joy of being free.

Maybe we should be filled with joy like that because we, too, have been set free. When Jesus took our place to pay for the sins of mankind, we were freed from the sentence of spending eternity in hell.

Galations 5:1 says, "Stand fast therefore in the liberty by which Christ has made us free..." John 8:36 states, "Therefore if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed."

The 4th of July, also known as Independence Day, is observed as a legal holiday in the U.S. in commemoration of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. That's good but let's not forget every day to be thankful to our Creator for the good plan He has for our lives. We live in the best country in the world with endless benefits and opportunities and we have the freedom to worship God as we please.

So amidst the parades, rodeos and picnics remember to say, Thank you, Lord for giving us Jesus to be our Savior. And, don't go to Heaven alone. Share the Good News wherever you can and give the gift of joyous eternal life to all your family and friends. Now that's something to buck and jump about!!!

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
