Loflin Uses "Daddy" to Crack Top 15

By Julie Mankin

No one has claimed back-to-back championships at the "Daddy of 'em All" since Kristie Peterson did it in 1996-98. But Christy Loflin probably came closest.

One year after the Franktown, Colo., mother of two zoomed from ninth in the short round to second in the average at Cheyenne Frontier Days (the $8,799 paycheck helped her qualify for her first NFR), Loflin came back for that trophy saddle. The win was sweet, because before last year, Loflin joked that for years she was just added money at Cheyenne.

"This rodeo is in my circuit. You know that big sign by the Interstate?" Loflin told family and friends during the awards presentation. "It seems like I drive by it about 50 times and every time, I think, 'Darn you, Cheyenne, one of these years...'"

All 107 barrel racers made their first run in slack and, like last year, Loflin clocked a 17.6 on 8-year-old Sheza Blazin Move, which landed her in fifth place for $2,684. Sydni Blanchard and her buckskin, NF French Tigger ("Clancy"), won the round with the only 17.4 that day.

A full week later, Loflin returned for round number two, having traded with someone for Tuesday. She was first out, and crossed the finish line in 17.07 – fittingly just .04 seconds off the arena record Peterson set on Bozo back in 1996. Winning the round by three full tenths of a second paid $5,637.

"Kristie is one of my heroes, and to come close to what she did is just amazing," Loflin said tearfully after the run. "I am so grateful for every run I make on this mare after her surgery and being without her. This horse has made all my dreams come true."

While she hadn't dominated the rodeo quite as handily as Mary Walker did last year with two 17.2-second runs, Loflin was going to be tough to beat. The only one knocking on her door was Michele McLeod, who had put together a 17.5 and a 17.3 and was just two tenths back, having earned $8,857. At that point, Loflin's total was $8,321.

As luck would have it, Loflin drew up fifth in the field of 12 on championship Sunday, while McLeod drew dead last. Making sure to keep the cans up, Loflin came in at a conservative 17.8, which opened the door a little for McLeod. But when Slick went a good stride or so past the first barrel in the mud, he couldn't do better than a 17.72.

McLeod's time was still second in the round, which meant that she actually earned an event-high $19,235 – but Loflin had held on by just .14 seconds to take home the saddle and $16,775.

"It's amazing to be able to pull this off," Loflin said from the stage in the arena. "This is just an overwhelming experience and I'm so blessed to be back here."

Fans almost think Movin has come back better than she ever was, and Loflin can agree.

"I don't know if it's me riding with more confidence or her being in the best shape of her life, or maybe a combination," said Loflin,

The Federal Jury Ruled Against the AQHA in Cloning Lawsuit

A 10-person jury in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Amarillo Division, ruled in favor of the plaintiffs in the Abraham & Veneklasen Joint Venture et al v. American Quarter Horse Association lawsuit. The plaintiffs sued AQHA alleging that AQHA Rule REG106.1, which prohibits the registration of cloned horses and their offspring in AQHA's breed registry, violates federal and state anti-trust laws. The jury awarded no damages. The trial began July 17.

"We are deeply disappointed by the outcome of this trial," said AQHA Executive Vice President Don Treadway, Jr. "It continues to be our position that our rule prohibiting the registration of clones and their offspring is both reasonable and lawful."

The lawsuit was filed in April 2012; Rule REG106.1 has been on AQHA's books since 2004 although clones and their offspring have never been eligible for registration with AQHA.

"When individuals with shared interests, goals and values come together to form a voluntary association to serve a common purpose, the members have a right to determine the rules for their association. The wisdom of our membership – which is largely not in favor of the registration of clones and their offspring – has not been upheld by this verdict," Treadway said.

"We will meet with our legal counsel and executive committee regarding our appeal options in continuing to fight for our members' rights and announce our decision in that regard in the near future" said AQHA President John Dobbs. -- Courtesy of the www.AQHA.com

Jury Rules in AQHA Cloning Case

By Jim McBride; jim.mcbride@amarillo.com

An American Quarter Horse Association committee and top AQHA officials violated state and federal antitrust laws by conspiring to bar cloned horses from the organization's horse registry, a federal court jury decided Tuesday, but jurors awarded no damages to a rancher from Canadian and a Canyon veterinarian who owned the pricey steeds.

A five-woman, seven-man jury deliberated more than 10 hours over three days before reaching its verdict.

Last year, rancher Jason Abraham of Canadian and Amarillo veterinarian Gregg Veneklasen sued the 280,000-member organization, seeking to overturn the association's Rule 227a, which has barred cloned horses from the AQHA registry since 2004.

In their verdict, the jurors determined that the AQHA's Stud Book and Registration Committee and top AQHA officials violated two sections of the Sherman Antitrust Act and Texas statutes by barring the plaintiffs' horses from its registry.

After the verdict, Wade Arnold, one of the AQHA's attorneys, said he did not wish to comment at this time. Nancy Stone, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys, said after the verdict that the plaintiffs are hopeful that the AQHA will now register the plaintiffs' horses without further court action.

Stone said the plaintiffs and others involved in the case have about 20 clones they are seeking to register.

In closing arguments Friday, Nancy Stone, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys, told jurors evidence presented at trial clearly establishes that the AQHA's rule against cloning violates federal and state antitrust laws.

"Send a message to the good old boys, who as Butch Wise (a top AQHA committee member) said, have the most skin in the game," Stone said.

During her closing statement, Stone said AQHA maintains monopoly control over the elite quarter horse industry and that excluding the plaintiffs' cloned horses from its registry keeps the plaintiffs from competing in the multimillion-dollar quarter horse industry.

The AQHA repeatedly rebuffed the plaintiffs' attempts to have the rule changed and continued to stack the AQHA Stud and Rule Book Committee with top officials opposed to cloning, the plaintiffs' attorneys said.

Many of those officials own horses that frequently compete in major racing events, Sam Stein, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys, told jurors.

"They want to exclude his horses from competition because it doesn't jibe with their economic interests," he said.

But AQHA attorney Arnold told jurors the organization has a right to set its own lawful and reasonable rules and most of its members are opposed to cloning, some on moral grounds.

Arnold told jurors the organization doesn't hold monopoly sway over the quarter horse industry.

"Our members ought to have the right to make their own decisions," he said. "Our members have reasonable and legitimate reasons to oppose those proposals."

The AQHA convened a task force to study cloning and studied all the scientific research, he said, but the organization's committee repeatedly declined to change the rule.

The plaintiffs, Arnold said, knew the rule when they entered the business of breeding quarter horses.

"It doesn't cause any harm to competition," he said of the rule. --Courtesy of www.Amarillo.com

Cresta Scholarship Fund Awards Scholarships

The late Broc Cresta's dream was to become a world champion team roper, but it was his character, commitment and dedication that made him a champion in ProRodeo and a two-time qualifier for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. The Broc Cresta Scholarship Fund has been established to help other young adults accomplish their dreams, presenting college scholarships to rodeo contestants based on individual activities, letters of recommendation, and the applicant's personal statement on character. The inaugural awards – announced on July 28, the one-year anniversary of Cresta's death – went to Taylor Santos-Karney (top boy, $1,000), Katie Rice (top girl, $1,000), Kayla Nichol, Quincy Crum, Clay Adams, Jessica Bates and Tyler Colt Forsberg (all $500). Santos-Karney won the tie-down roping at the July 27 Sonoma County Fair Wine Country Rodeo in Santa Rosa, Calif., where friends and members of Cresta's family paid tribute to his memory during the opening ceremonies. --Courtesy of www.prorodeo.com who sent the mare to Texas for salt-water therapy and swimming throughout the past several months.

Both Loflin and McLeod can tell impressive come-from-behind stories this season. McLeod only stepped onto Slick By Design in March, while Loflin didn't have a chance to run Movin until May. Last week the two were the highest earners of any barrel racers, with McLeod placing at Deadwood, Salt Lake City and Ogden and then winning Steamboat on a young mare she was trying as a back-up for Slick. Her $26,027 on the week sent her to fifth in the world. Loflin, meanwhile, also placed at Spanish Fork, Deadwood and Ogden to rack up more than $22,000.

"This money put us right up there," said Loflin, who jumped to 11th in the world. "I'll keep plugging away. This group on the road right now is tough and they don't weaken. It seems like every time I gain some money, so does everybody else."

Everybody else includes Lisa Lockhart, who ran Chism in the second round and Louie in the finals at Cheyenne. Then there's Blanchard – the college national champion who is holding onto 14th in the world thanks to her Cheyenne money earned on NF French Tigger. Kim Schulze used "the Daddy" to come within $2,000 of the top 15, while rookie Chandler Markel will make her first Mountain States Circuit Finals Rodeo with her $11,019 earned at Cheyenne.

Sabrina Ketcham's horse blew the first barrel on her second run at Cheyenne, but she cashed in at Spanish Fork and Deadwood to jump to sixth in the world. While Latte didn't have his usual performance in Cheyenne, Walker said he was just sore from Calgary and is back in fine form now.

Meanwhile, Loflin is quite sure that because of Calgary paychecks, it will take a lot more money to make the NFR than it did in 2012. But she's on track to do what she intended to do last year – run Movin in Vegas' Thomas and Mack Center.

"That's what drives me," she said. "Since the first time I swung a leg over that mare. She's the most important part of the team. I want to be there with her."

Wee Feelin Special, Elliott win NBHA Youth World Championship

By Tanya Randall

Rylee Elliott and Wee Feelin Special ("KiKi") made the most of their last appearance in the Youth Division at the $77,276 NBHA Youth World Finals, held July 21-17 at the Georgia National Fairgrounds in Perry, Ga., by winning the 1D Championship and $3,584.

"I'm very excited," exclaimed the 13-year-old daughter of Steve and Jessie Elliott from Newberry, Fla.

Elliott and KiKi placed fifth in the first go and second in the second go with incredibly consistent times of 14.849 and 14.850, respectively. They saved their best run for last, a 14.690.

"The first go and second we had a little bit of trouble with the third barrel, getting by it," said Elliott, who dominated the Southern States Triple Crown, held in the same arena over the Fourth of July.

"By the Finals, she finally had a good third barrel, but her first and second were REALLY good."

To tidy up her third barrel, Elliott changed her game plan for the Finals, and it paid off.

"She was shutting down to the third barrel," she explained, "so in the finals, I just really pushed her to the third barrel to get her past it, so she would turn it better. So I did ride harder to the third barrel than I had been."

Even though she ran first out in the last drag of the Finals, she had to sweat through All American Youth Champion Max Chouest and his 5-year-old phenom The Riverboat Gambler, Paris Jean and National Finals Rodeo qualifier Fantasia Fame and Riley Preston and Speeding Locomotion, who had posted the fastest time of the entire event, a 14.520 to win the first round.

"It was a little nerve wracking watching the last three horses run," said Elliott, who has an interest in marine biology along with her barrel racing pursuits. "There were three really good horses left. (It was) a lot of pressure."

Elliott also picked up $567 with Yvonne and Carolyn Skelton's Firen With Ease ("Chance"), a 10-year-old gelding by Fire Easy out of A Real Sweet Thing, by Real Thing, that was bred by Bob and Tracy Haberlandt of Okeechobee, Fla. Elliott and Chance placed fourth in the 2D in the first go and came back as 1D qualifiers, placing 11th in the second round.

"It was only my fourth run on him when we got there," explained the homeschooled eighth grader. "I hadn't been on him very much."

Elliott practically grew up with her 1D Champion KiKi. The two were both born into the sport of barrel racing.

KiKi, a 7-year-old daughter of WPRA World Champion Sire Special Feelins out of Wee Nicker, by Wee Doc, was bred by Adell and Paulette Story of Wauchula, Fla., and the Elliotts purchased the mare as weanling.

"We've owned her forever," said Elliott, who wanted to thank her sponsors Oxy-Gen and H3 Performance Saddles, saying "I couldn't do it without them, for sure."

Her mother Jessie trained KiKi.

"I've stole most of her horses. She trains for me now," she laughed, when asked if her mother still competes.

Comming Up Lucky—Brown wins NBHA Teen World Championship

By Tanya Randall

Katie Brown turned the lights on her career as a youth rider with a win in the $119,286 Teen Division at the NBHA Youth World aboard Comming Up Lucky ("Punk"). The 20-year-old college student from Waverly, Tenn., collected $4,586.

Brown and Punk started the week, placing fourth in the first go with a 14.821.

"The first day, he had a pretty decent first and second barrel and I was really pleased with the way he clocked," said Brown, who attends the University of Tennessee at Martin, where she competes on the rodeo team. "The second day, he got a little bit deep on the first and kind of stepped off the second and really stepped off the third. Even with that he still ended up sixth."

Making adjustments for the Finals run, Brown chose not to push Punk as hard to the first barrel as she did the day before so they wouldn't over run it. She also tried to tighten down her third barrel by running him up farther into the turn so he wouldn't slice it and bow off of it.

"The last run, he had the best first and second barrels I've ever had on him," said Brown of her winning run of 14.661. "He still stepped off the third, but not as bad as he did the second day. He was running really hard Finals day."

Brown was extremely thankful that Douglas Hall, White Bluff, Tenn., loaned her Punk, a 16-year-old gelding, for the summer.

Punk, who was orphaned when his dam died after his birth, was bred by Arvice Watson and her daughter Stephanie Nichols of Corydon, Ky. He was by Your Our Lucky Bar, a grandson of Sugar Bars, who passed away last July at the age of 29. His dam was Run Josey Run, a daughter of Magnolia Bar that placed at the super tough Josey Jr World during her barrel racing career.

Brown also placed 15th in the 2D in the Finals with her own horse Redmakers Flit ("Dan"), an 8-year-old gelding by Redmaker out of Galla Firen, by WPRA World Champion Sire Alive N Firen, that was bred by Jimmy Glover, Lafayette, Tenn. She had purchased the gelding from Misty Orr back in February and had been running him at the college rodeos.

Like her horses, Brown was born to run barrels with both of her parents—William and Teresa—competing. She started riding when she was 3 and barrel racing soon thereafter.

Brown credits her first horses with making her such a successful rider. She said her first pony Hank wasn't easy to ride and taught her to be aggressive. She graduated from Hank to her mother's horse Bravos Chick, whom she rode to the NBHA Youth 2D Championship in 2006.

Her ability to ride caught the attention of others and she was always well mounted for the major youth and open events. She won her first NBHA 1D Teen World Championship in 2009 with April Trusty's Leading Tradition, who later carried Sherrylynn Johnson to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“Don’t criticize.”
“Don’t complain.”
“Don’t condemn.”

That’s all very good advice if you want to live in peace, be blessed and have your prayers answered. It’s Biblical, too.

Matthew 7:1-3 says, “Judge not, that you be not judged. For with what judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you. And why do you look at the speck in your brother’s eye, but do not consider the plank in your own eye?”

When you complain you’re not being thankful for what God has given you. First Thessalonians 5:18 tells us to rejoice always and pray without ceasing, in everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you.

Condemning someone is dangerous. Only God sees the heart and knows all the circumstances. Mark 11:25 admonishes us ...if you have anything against anyone, forgive him, that your Father in heaven may also forgive you your trespasses. But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive you.”

An old rancher was often heard to say, “Don’t be messing in something you don’t know anything about!” In other words, “Mind your own business!” If more people would heed that advice, there would be more peace in our communities. Another old rancher said, “I refuse to worry. If there’s a problem I can do something about, I do it. If I can’t do anything about it, I just turn it over to God, pray about it and let Him handle it!”

Hallelujah! Aren’t we blessed to have a mighty God who cares for the smallest detail in our lives and hears us whenever we call! Don’t forget to give Him thanks and praise every day!
