It's Miller Time at the Daddy Of 'Em All

By Tanya Randall

After running in a downpour and hail, defending WPRA World Champions Nellie Miller and her great mare Rafter W Minnie Reba ("Sister") both deserved a tasty adult beverage to celebrate their $19,529 Championship at the Cheyenne Frontier Days.

Known as the 'Daddy of 'Em All,' Cheyenne is a bucket list rodeo for many. The $50,000-added rodeo is open to all cardholders and is progressive after the first round. Everyone made their first run on the morning of July 16 with the top 96 runners split amongst the performances. The top 12 on two runs qualified for the short round on July 29.

Miller and Sister left Calgary, Alberta, on Sunday after the rodeo and made the allnight, 1,000-mile drive to Cheyenne. They blew the doors out to win first round with a 17.54, the fastest time of the rodeo, before heading to Salinas, California. She had a couple of days at home before she headed back for her second round run in Cheyenne on Saturday.

Mother Nature was determined to make Cheyenne entertaining as the last few performances and the short round were in less than ideal weather conditions. It was actually the first time that Miller had ever ridden Sister in the mud.

"It was pretty soupy on Saturday," said Miller. "Sunday, it was actually drier, but it started storming right as we started barrel racing."

Miller and Sister finished fifth in the second round, which was topped by Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi on her homebred KissKiss BangBang, to lead the average on two going into the Finals. They finished out of the money in the short round with a 17.91 to barely edge short go-winners Stevi Hillman and Cuatro Fame, 53.21 to 53.26 in the aggregate.

Right before short round, weather forced officials to delay the rodeo for 15 minutes.

"We were warming up on the track and the sirens started going off in town and all of our phones started going off," said Miller. "We were all kind of nervous. They were just about done with the steer roping and we were next. They announced that the crowd needed to take shelter, so we were kind of panicking."

Miller's husband James and their two girls were in the stands and took shelter in a little room underneath the stands with 200 other people. Meanwhile, Miller and Sister headed to the access tunnel underneath the racetrack.

"It never came over us or anything, but halfway through the barrel race it started raining and hailing on us," said Miller. "It was small hail, thank God, and not golf ball-sized hail! Right before I went it really started coming down. They have a little shelter over the alley you come in on and we were all huddled there. We wondered if they were going to stop it again, but they kept waving us to go. It was wild!"

2018 Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale Moves Back to South Dakota!

The 2018 Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale kicks off Saturday, August 25th, 2018 at Seven Down Arenas near Spearfish, SD with a preview at 1:00 pm MDT, followed by the Stallion Preview at 4:45 pm MDT, with the sale following at 5:00pm MDT.

The sale features 53 select horses mostly sired by Myers Ranch sires: $12 Million performance sire Frenchmans Guy, A Smooth Guy, Ima Special Kindaguy, Cowboys Cartel, Hot Colours, Mr Sassy Frenchman, and World Speed.

Along with the Myers horses the Lantis family will offer a select few horses by Dot Com Guy and Slick By Design. The sale will also feature 3 offspring of the All Time Leading Barrel Sire, Dash Ta Fame, as well.

The sale includes everything from weanlings, yearlings, 2 year olds, 3 year olds on up to bred broodmares. The riding horses will have all the correct basics for them to be successful performance horses in the arena.

"I've said this many times before, but I truly believe this is the strongest set of 2 yr olds we have ever offered for sale. These horses are a result of 35+ years of breeding, training, and selling horses. I believe our training program sets us apart and the percentage of winners that we have sold back this statement up. We started the 2 yr old program in the year 2000 and it has become a standard in the barrel horse industry that has become very successful." said Bill Myers of Myers Performance Horses of the sale horses.

The sale offering includes a full sister to BFA Futurity winner, Guys Cash Perks; a full sister to multiple futurity and rodeo champion & $180k earner, Smooth N Famous; 2 full brothers (1 stud, 1 gelding) to futurity, derby, rodeo champion & $220k earner Bring It On Guys; 2 full siblings by Dash Ta Fame out of futurity champion Guys Best Bet; and a Frenchmans Guy 2 yr old filly out of one of the very best Dash Ta Fame mares in the country, 3 time Montana Circuit Champion Fames Licorice Kiss.

The sale also features the first 2 year old riding Ima Special Kindaguy colts offered to the public along with two weanlings by the new upcoming Myers Ranch sire, Mr Sassy Frenchman. This is just a few of the sale highlights offered in the 2018 edition of the Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale.

Sale information and videos are all available at www.FrenchmansGuy.com at the bottom of the home page. The videos can also be seen by subscribing to the Myers Performance Horses channel on YouTube.

Please email the Myers at myerstrainingstable@gmail.com or call 605.642.9789 to be sent a catalog. Call 605.642.9789 to sign up for phone bidding. Buyers are also encouraged to stop by the ranch anytime over the summer to see the horses if they are unable to attend the sale. The sale day phone number will be 605.578.3518 and the the sale will be carried live on www.321actionvideo.com.

Wrangler Cattlemen's Days Tough Enough to Wear Pink Raise More than 2.7 Million

Wrangler®, the iconic American denim brand representing timeless authenticity in apparel and leading sponsor of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA), announced that its partnership with Gunnison Cattlemen's Days Tough Enough to Wear PinkTM (TETWP) has reached a new milestone: $2.7 million in local funds raised for breast cancer awareness and treatment since 2006. That year, Wrangler made an initial donation of $230,000, matching what the event had raised in its first three years combined.

Through this event and other initiatives, Wrangler continues its remarkable support of the ProRodeo community. Founded in 1947 through work with members of the PRCA to develop the Original Cowboy Cut, 13MWZ, the brand sponsors 200 select rodeos annually, including the title sponsorship of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo and is the official jeans and shirts of the PRCA. Wrangler continues to sponsor more than 120 contestants, announcers, bull fighters and other members today, outfitting them in the only jeans and shirts licensed through the PRCA.

At its most recent fundraising event, held this month, Cattlemen's Days TETWP raised $360,000 to support the fight against breast cancer in its hometown. This most recent effort will generate funds for services, medical equipment and support, continuing the community's strong momentum towards making Gunnison Valley Health the number one rural hospital for breast cancer care in the United States.

Miller said she wasn't as apprehensive about the ground condition as she was about the possible tornado.

"I had watched on Friday and none of the girls were having trouble with slipping or anything," she said. "So, I figured it would be okay. I've heard that it just gets better, the wetter it gets in that arena. I didn't worry about it. I just went for it like normal. I knew she would handle herself good."

Miller and her homebred star will spend the next couple of weeks at home in Cottonwood, California, resting. Thankfully, at the time of this interview, their homeplace was safe from the fires that have ravaged Redding to the north.

"We're pretty close," said Miller. "We're about 15 miles from the fires. It was looking like it might come toward us for a couple of days, but now it's going in another direction. So, it looks like we'll be okay."

Miller and Sister, a 10-year-old daughter of KS Cash N Fame out of Miller's high school rodeo horse Espuela Roan, by Blue Light Ike, will run at few of their favorite rodeos in the Northwest to close out their 2018 season. They currently sit second in the WPRA World Standings with $141,551.

Miller, who wanted to thank all of her sponsors for their support, joked she was ahead of the game this year because she wouldn't have to come home and finish getting in her rodeo count for the California Circuit.

I'll ride her every day, especially if I'm not running her. We don't hardly ever work the barrels. I hardly work the pattern on her at all. We'll do some circles and little drills. I just hate to pound it into her all the time. She's really pretty easy to correct and easy to ride and she's always willing, so I don't want to keep on her all the time." SPONSORS: Wrangler, Total Equine, Corral Boots, EquiThrive and Haleakala Walnut Shelling, Inc.

Morgan and Roper Win Youth Honors

NBHA Youth World Championships July 21-28, 2018, Perry, GA Compiled by Amy Wilson

McKenzie Morgan and In Firewaters Honor "H2" defended their NBHA Teen 1D World Championship. McKenzie, who will turn sweet 16 on August 16th, was running five horses in Perry, Georgia, but it was the miracle super-horse, H2, who once again proved he's a winner! He's survived a bad wreck on the way to The American where he was trapped upside down for hours, to a battle with colic where the vet recommended putting him down and gave him only a 5% chance to live. Now his fans get to watch this record-setting horse continue to win with his perfect partner!

BRR: What was your reaction to winning back-to-back titles? Morgan: I knew we had a good chance at being able to win, but I knew the finals were going to be super stiff - the competition was insanely tough. I thought it would be super cool to win it back-to-back, and I knew that hadn't happened in a really long time. When H2 ran that 14.6, I literally just laid on his neck and hugged him. When my brother got to me at the stall, he hugged me and then we paced back and forth waiting on it to be over. And when it got over, he picked me up and we just started screaming in the barn! It was very memorable.

BRR: Take us through your final run. I think everyone was holding their breath on the second barrel.

Morgan: I don't normally remember my runs on him, but when he left the alleyway, he was running really hard so I knew if he turned this time, I was super excited and kind of forgot to guide him on third, but we made it around it.

BRR: What was your prerun mental preparation and warmup routine before your final run?

Morgan: So H has a particular warm up schedule every time. He's the type of horse that you can't change things up on him. Chuck Fletcher has been a big blessing in our life. I ride H and then Chuck gets on him. We lope circles, walk circles, flex him, walk more circles. And then when we get in the holding pen we put a ligament/water mix on him. It's an old recipe.

BRR: Tell us about your horse, where your horse came from, and what makes him such a winner.

Morgan: We bred and raised H2. When he was about two, no one wanted him when we tried to sell him. Everyone said he wasn't going to make anything, and that he was clumsy and ugly. I was in the third grade when I started riding him and he still had issues, but we grew together and here we are.

His heart makes him a winner. He has so much heart and dedication to the game. When you go to saddle him, his whole demeanor changes. He's special.

BRR: Does your horse have any special humorous quirks? Morgan: He is the funniest horse ever. He loves sweet tea, and warm French fries but they can't be cold or have salt on them.

BRR: How did you end up barrel racing and what do you love about the sport?

Morgan: My Papa got me barrel racing when I was like four. I've grown up in this sport and done it as long as I can remember. It's in my DNA and I love it. I wouldn't be me if I didn't run barrels.

BRR: Do you have a role model in barrel racing? Who is it and why do you look up to them?

Morgan: Chuck [Fletcher]. He's so genuine and knows so much about horses and everything. He can literally fix anything. My philosophy is if Chuck can't fix it, it can't be fixed.

BRR: If you could share one piece of advice to other barrel racers, what would it be?

Morgan: Confidence is the key. You can't get anywhere without confidence and believing in your horse and yourself.

BRR: What are your biggest barrel racing goals and dreams? Morgan: I plan on making it to the NFR. That's my biggest goal and hopefully I have H around to take me there.

BRR: Any interesting facts about yourself?

Morgan: I have this superstition that I have to wear my lucky red shirt in the finals. So I had on my lucky red shirt that I wore when I won Youth World last year too. I've had it since I was 10 years old. It's getting kind of short, but I make it work.

BRR: The NBHA World Show offers a lot of fun in Perry, what did you enjoy most outside of the arena?

Morgan: It was the most fun I've had at a barrel race. I got to see all my friends that I haven't seen in forever, especially Lucy, my really good friend from Panama. Every year I meet new people!

A Very Happy Birthday for Raylee Roper

It was a special birthday present for Raylee Roper, from Virginia, as she turned 14 years old on Friday, July 27, and then the next day rode her 14 year old mare, Lady La Dash to win the NBHA Youth 1D World Championship in Perry, Georgia with a time of 14.894 seconds.

BRR: What was your reaction when you won?

Roper: I was very excited! I don't even know how to put it into words.

BRR: Can you walk us through your final run?

Roper: At the first and second, I was afraid I was going to knock them because we got so close. To the third, I was like, 'we're still in it so keep on pushing'. We came home and I was happy because I knew it was fast.

BRR: What was your prerun mental preparation and warmup routine before your run?

Roper: My dad tuned her up for me, and he usually does that before I run. And we prayed also.

BRR: Tell us about your horse, where your horse came from, and what makes her such a winner.

Roper: She's my Nanny Sharon's [Kay Bryant's] horse. She bought [Lady La Dash] when she was two years old. My mom ran her for awhile, my dad ran her for awhile, and now I'm running her. Lady has a big heart and she's gritty. She has a pretty big winning NBHA Youth Continued on Page 33

BRR: Does your horse have any special humorous quirks? Roper: She's sweet for the most part, but she's kind of gritty. She loves what she does.

BRR: How did you end up barrel racing and what do you love about the sport?

A: My whole family barrel races so I've been barrel racing since I was a baby. I love everything about it!

BRR: The NBHA Youth World Show provides a lot of fun for everyone outside of the arena too. What did you enjoy most about that?

Roper: Hanging out with my best friend Cheyenne. I hung out with her the whole week. She's from North Carolina.

BRR: Do you have a role model in barrel racing? Who is it and why do you look up to them?

Roper: My role models are my parents (Kay Kay and Adam Roper) because they've taught me everything I know.

BRR: What are your barrel racing goals and dreams? Roper: This was my dream! I also want to run in The American.

BRR: If you could share one piece of advice to other barrel racers, what would it be?

Roper: Don't let the nerves get to you. Let them work for good, not for bad.

BRR: Why was this run extra special to you?

Roper: One of our close family members that we barrel race with is in the hospital with an unexpected illness. I was riding for him. I dedicated my runs to Ed. It was really a blessing from God to bring the win home for him. They had almost called hospice in, but he got to see it on Ride TV and was so happy he cried. We drove all night so we could get back to see him. We believe he can be healed, but he's in a very dire situation right now.

Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday Win Gold at Days of '47 Cowboy Games

By Amy Wilson

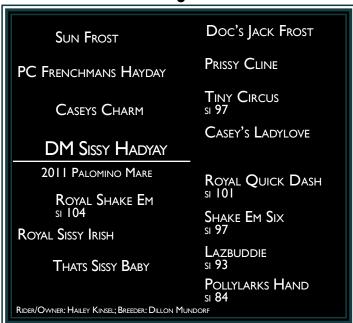

Gold buckles are synonymous with pro rodeo, but gold medals provide a new and unique opportunity for rodeo athletes. In fact, the Komatsu Equipment Days of '47 Cowboy Games & Rodeo presented by Zions Bank in Salt Lake City, Utah marked only the fourth time in history. The Olympic Winter Games in Calgary (1988) and Salt Lake City (2002) included rodeo as part of the Cultural Olympiad, and last year, Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo awarded Gold, Silver, and Bronze medals.

Held at the $17.5 million state-of-the-art Days of '47 Arena at the Utah State Fairpark, the World Champions Rodeo Alliance rodeo, which was created to develop and advance the sport of rodeo by aligning all levels of competition, featured 32 barrel racers including invited champions from top rodeos, as well as virtual rodeo qualifiers who earned points by nominating events.

The format divided the the competitors into four groups of eight each which competed in the first four performances July 19 -21, 23. Each performance paid four places, with first paying $3,200. The top two from each performance advanced to the Gold Medal Round on July 24. In addition, the two fastest times overall that didn't already advance, also moved on to the Gold Medal round thanks to the Wild Card category. Those 10 barrel racers then competed in the Gold Medal Round in a sudden-death format for a Gold Medal and $50,000 cash. The Silver Medal came with $25,000 cash, the Bronze Medal included $12,000, and fourth place was awarded $6,000.

The defending Days of '47 barrel racing champion, who happens to be number #1 in the world and coming off big wins at the WCRA Rodeo Showdown in Las Vegas and the Calgary Stampede, won her performance with a time of 17.22 seconds on her phenomenal mare, DM Sissy Hayday. Hailey Kinsel obviously has a standard of excellence because following that run, she wanted to make an improvement. "I shot out of the third barrel towards the fence on that run, so I worked on that a little bit to clean it up and make it straighter. Sis can make mistakes and still be fast, which is a good thing," Kinsel said. She then explained how she works Sis, "I just walk thru. She's very sensitive. If I'm to walk a pattern in the exact steps I want her to go, she'd probably run that exact pattern that night. She goes exactly where I tell her to go. And that is a really bad thing sometimes," she said with a laugh. She then continued, "She goes in expecting me to do it exactly the same way. So I just do a couple walk thru's, asking her to be really round and finish that third barrel tighter and be straight going home."

As for the format, Kinsel approves. "I definitely love running in sets. Yes, it depends how you draw up, as far as how tough your set is, but in the end the ground makes such a huge difference." She wishes more rodeos would look at doing a similar format, and understand what a difference the details can make. "Sometimes people and judges don't understand that when you set a barrel even a half inch different, it's going to affect the times. Consistency matters." Kinsel also commented on her perspective of WCRA rodeos, "They've done a good job running a production without making us feel rushed, or making us be an inconvenience to them. The risk may be higher and the competition is extremely stiff, but if you come out on top or near the top, you're going to get paid really good."

The competition was stacked in the Gold Medal Round, and Lisa Lockhart and Louie set the pace with 17.19 seconds on what appeared to be a perfect run. Kinsel and Sis ran towards the end, and after a non-typical hesitation on back side of the second barrel, the clock still showed just how impressive they are as it read 17.09 seconds. "Oddly enough, last year in my short round run there, she did the exact same thing. She took the exact same slip step in the exact same spot. When she does, I pulled because I made my same move that I normally make on the back side but since she was slipped down, it ends up pulling on her face. And she does not like me to touch her face in the middle of a turn. So she did this shake her head and come up thing. It was so weird that it happened twice because in the middle of the run, I was like déjà vu – like no way did that just happen," Kinsel explained. "But she ran in there really hard, turned the first barrel really fast, and got across the pen pretty quick. So even though I felt a big jerk at the second and a hesitation, I knew I still had a chance to be fast. I didn't know if I was going to win it, but I knew second paid $25,000 so I wasn't going to quit."

That all aligns with what Kinsel says makes Sis so great. "Her uniqueness compared to other horses is that she's very quick between the first and second barrels – it doesn't take her long to accelerate or shut down. That's where I see a lot of horses, including some of mine, lose time." And that's not all. "Plus a combination of her turning style and speed, and her grit. If she knows she made a mistake, she tried hard to make it up," Kinsel said complimenting the 7 year old palomino mare.

But what is Kinsel's favorite quality about Sis? "She's very sweet and honest in her personality, not just in a run, but outside she is my buddy and most of the time wants to be around me - but she is a mare so that can change," she said laughing. "She's very trusting of me - not so much other people or things - but very much of me which translates to our runs.'

Kinsel was raised to appreciate horses, make the most of what she has, and physically teach a horse and bring out the best in them, which she credits for her recent success. "There were a lot of times I could have wished Sis was different or did things a different way, but in the end, they're individuals. I can credit my mom and dad and the other people that helped me growing up and taught me early on to keep trying for the absolute best in a horse. You don't demand perfection, you just ask them to be as good as they can be."

Her dedication to that process has led to some unforgettable experiences, including winning Gold Medals. "Last year it was very special, but this year it's even better to do it twice. The medals are really cool, and it is real gold! Having those hanging up in my house someday; it's going to be really neat to look back on and know I got to stand on a podium and be given a gold medal. That's unique and special for rodeo."

And speaking of a house, Kinsel has some exciting news! "Thankfully I have two very frugal, smart parents who have helped me to be wise with money. It's been mostly saved. It has allowed me to make a living doing this. And I can officially say - because I closed on it on Friday - that I bought a piece of land in Texas, so for the first time ever, I'm a landowner!" After renting all through college and living in her trailer for a year and a half, Kinsel added, "Thank you Sis for this property! I'm planning to build on it soon." Of course she'll start with a barn for Sis, who recently surpassed $1 Million in career earnings and continues to quickly add to it. "I have google docs on every horse of exactly how much they've won everywhere. I have every run they've ever made written down with their time, and who was there and who won it, and what they placed and what it paid. After Calgary, I was adding it all in and realized we were over $1 Million." That impressive list now includes another $50,000 and a Gold Medal from Days of '47 Cowboy Games and Rodeo.

s we grow older, it's easy to look back at how things used to be. At 64, I've seen a lot of used to be's. Some are remarkable, some not.

When my mare got hurt last year, I was relegated to riding colts (a good thing). But when I started competing again this year, I noticed some changes in the barrel racing world. I was thinking about some changes I've seen and got tickled. There have been years where you did not DARE go to a barrel race if your hat, boots and belt didn't match! Pink hat, pink boots!! Does anyone out there remember when we roached manes and pulled tails to hock level? And you would not be caught dead at a barrel race in shorts, flip flops and tank tops! That was so uncool. And girls did their hair and wore makeup...always.

I am NOT criticizing anyone, but I notice that now a lot of US dress our horses better than we dress ourselves. I'm sure it will cycle back, as all things do. But I want us to not make the mistake of thinking that just because we change our minds about what looks great, or how we do things, that that is the way God operates.
