Kimemie Wall's Winning Streak Continues

By Hope Sickler

Roosevelt, Utah barrel racer Kimmie Wall has been steadily climbing her way towards the top 5 in the WPRA World Standings and after a very successful weekend at the Farm-City Pro Rodeo in Hermiston, Oregon and the Champions Challenge in Cody, Wyoming, she now finds herself just barely outside the top 5, sitting 6th in the WPRA World Standings and well on her way to her first NFR qualification.

Wall and her insanely talented sidekick, 8-year-old TKW Bullysfamous Fox, known as "Foxy" around the barn, took home the championship in Hermiston with a blazing fast run of 17.09-seconds, good enough for $4,492. She then packed up shop and hit the pavement for Cody, Wyoming for the coveted Champions Challenge where she finished second with a blazing fast 16.91 behind Jackie Ganter who posted another blistering fast time of 16.84-seconds.

"Foxy pretty much made a picture perfect run in Hermiston. She showed up for business and the committee did a fantastic job on keeping the ground even. The Champions Challenge in Cody was an absolute blast and it was so much fun to be there with the crowd literally from all over the world. The ground was also well managed and good and the competition was top-notch," Wall explained. Wall explained that the format change at Hermiston from a two-header to a one-header this year was very much appreciated for the fact that it made the very busy week of rodeo a little easier on herself and her horses; especially with the long haul to Cody for the Champions Challenge.

Finding herself well on her way to her first NFR berth, Wall explains that life on the road can be difficult and it is easy to get down and out when things are quite going the way we all would like them to go. However, instead of letting them affect her mentally, she does the exact opposite and doesn't allow it bother her because she knows if she does, she is doubting herself, her horse and their abilities.

"It seems like it is really easy to get down when you have even one bad run, which it is hard and can be disappointing, but I try really hard to not let it bother me until it happens three times. You have to know your horse and how to fix problems while out on the road. I know my family and my rodeo family will always have my best interest in mind and Travis (my husband) always does his best to keep me grounded and tell me when he thinks I need to let an issue go or instead, go to work fixing it."

Wall stresses that positive reinforcement and confidence are a very important keys to success and her positivity and confidence were certainly on point this past weekend when she pocketed over $7,000.

"I am very grateful and fortunate and I don't take one run for granted. I am so thankful for my support system and my amazing sponsors for standing behind me along the way. I wouldn't be where I am without them, and of course, "Foxy," concluded Wall.

2017 American Quarter Horse Hall of Fame Inductees Announced

Five horses and five American Quarter Horse Association members have been selected for induction into the American Quarter Horse Hall of Fame in 2017.

Induction into the American Quarter Horse Hall of Fame is the highest honor that can be bestowed by the American Quarter Horse Association. Those chosen for induction are recognized for their lifetime of accomplishments and service.

The horses chosen are: Casey's Ladylove, Dashing Phoebe, Majestic Scotch, Strawfly Special and Zips Chocolate Chip.

The four men and one woman who will join the Hall of Fame are: Marvin Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma; AQHA Past President Peter J. Cofrancesco III of Sparta, New Jersey; Bobby D. Cox of Fort Worth, Texas; Past AQHA Executive Committee member Dick Monahan of Walla Walla, Washington; and Sandra Vaughn of Hernando, Florida.

The 1961 mare Casey's Ladylove was the foundation of a barrel racing dynasty. James and Frances Loiseau of Flandreau, South Dakota, bought the mare as a 2-year-old for $720, looking for a horse their children could ride. Later, they started breeding her, selling the colts and keeping the fillies for their broodmare band that led to such barrel racing and rodeo champions as French Flash Hawk, known to barrel racers as "Bozo," and Frenchmans Guy, a leading sire of barrel racing horses.

Dashing Phoebe was a fast runner and the mother of fast runners. The 1983 sorrel mare by Dash For Cash won or placed in 15 of 20 career starts, earning $609,553 on the racetrack. She was a two-time AQHA racing champion filly, earning that honor in 1985 and 1986. She earned her AQHA Supreme Racehorse title in 1987. In 2008, she was named an AQHA Dam of Distinction after producing 15 winners, five stakes winners and the earners of nearly $2.4 million. She was bred by San Jose Cattle Co. of Rockport, Texas, and was euthanized in 2013. She was buried on owner Kirk Goodfellow's Dreams Come True Ranch near Nacogdoches, Texas.

Majestic Scotch was born to lope in a show ring. The 1994 sorrel gelding won 10 world championships in western riding and western pleasure and seven reserve world championships in those classes plus showmanship. Majestic Scotch was bred by Donald and Jean Bangasser of Ackley, Iowa, and was owned by Sharnai Thompson of Pilot Point, Texas. He was shown in classes from halter to hunt seat equitation to trail. He earned a youth AQHA Supreme Champion award and 13 Superiors. He retired from competition in 2012 and was euthanized in 2013. He was inducted into the National Snaffle Bit Association Hall of Fame that same year.

Racing stallion Strawfly Special sired two winners of the All American Futurity, Streakin Flyer and Ausual Suspect. The 1987 stallion by Special Effort was bred by Dan and Jolene Urschel of Canadian, Texas, and was owned by Double Bar S Ranch of Moreno Valley, California. Strawfly Special's offspring earned more than $25 million on the racetrack, and his gelded son Tailor Fit was racing world champion in 1999 and 2001. Strawfly Special died in 2004.

Zips Chocolate Chip was a leading sire of award-winning western pleasure horses. The 1985 bay stallion was by Zippo Pine Bar and out of the Custus Jaguar mare Fancy Blue Chip. After a short career in the show ring, earning $18,000 in western pleasure futurities, Zips Chocolate Chip moved to the breeding barn. He was a sire of AQHA and National Snaffle Bit Association champions. He was a model for a Breyer horse. After his breeding career was over, he retired to owner-breeder Ann Myers' farm. He was euthanized in 2015 due to complications of old age.

Marvin Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma, was the owner and trainer of Mr Master Bug, a Supreme racehorse and winner of the All American Futurity, and FL Lady Bug, an American Quarter Horse Hall of Fame inductee. The 50-year cumulative breeder and his late wife, Lela, were fixtures in Oklahoma Quarter Horse racing for more than 50 years. Barnes bred the earners of more than $3.9 million on the track and two world champion horses who earned seven world championships.

Peter J. Cofrancesco III of Sparta, New Jersey, was the first president of the American Quarter Horse Youth Association to become president of AQHA. Cofrancesco grew up showing horses with his family in many aspects of AQHA competition, later specializing in halter. He was elected to the AQHA Executive Committee in 2008 and served as president in 2011-12, focusing on youth involvement.

An owner and 30-year breeder of American Quarter Horse racehorses, Bobby D. Cox of Fort Worth, Texas, bought his first racehorse in 1976. His homebred mare All About Ease won the Ruidoso Futurity in 2004, the same year his homebred stallion Brimmerton won the Rainbow Derby and the All American Derby. In 2007, his homebred Dont Let Down won the All American Derby. In all, horses Cox bred have earned $20 million on the track. Horses Cox has owned have earned $16 million on the racetrack.

Racehorse owner and breeder Dick Monahan of Walla Walla, Washington, bought his first race-bred yearlings in 1969. He and his wife, Brenda, raised and raced American Quarter Horses for more than 30 years. He was elected as an AQHA director in 1985. At the time of his death in 2009, Monahan was serving on the AQHA Executive Committee.

Judge, breeder and AQHA Professional Horsewoman Sandra Vaughn of Hernando, Florida, became a professional trainer at age 19. She has trained horses to multiple Champion titles and has ridden horses to seven world championships and 11 reserve world championships. In 2003, she was part of the team that helped Movin Artfully become the Farnam Superhorse. In 1995, the first year the award was given, Vaughn was named the Professional Horsewoman of the Year. She served as an AQHA director from 2006 to 2013.

Paige Willis & Goodfrenchmanfriday Double Dip at Coffeyville & Lawton Rodeos

By Tanya Randall

Paige Willis and Goodfrenchmanfriday were on a roll last weekend, winning two out of the four rodeos they entered and placing second at another to pocket $6,935.24. Willis, who hails from Bristol, Fla., is trying to climb her way back into the Top 50 to have a shot at qualification the lucrative winter rodeos for 2017.

"I had a good weekend," said Willis. "I did a lot of driving. We started in Sikeston, Mo., but it rained and I ended up running a different horse in the mud. From Sikeston, I went to Lawton, Okla., for the perf that night. I went back to Crossett, Ark., and from there I went to Coffeyville, Kansas."

Willis and Friday, an 9-year-old sorrel gelding, won Lawton for $3,758.

"I knew for Lawton he felt really good and he warmed up really good," she said. "We had top of the ground. He just felt like he was ready to go to work. He was running and firing."

They continued their good fortune, placing second at Crossett for $1,179 to 2014 WPRA World Champions Fallon Taylor and Flos Heiress. Their weekend wrapped up with a winning run at Coffeyville for $1,998, where they out ran fellow Southeastern circuit member Sally Young for the top prize.

The prior week, Willis and Friday picked up checks at Dodge City, Phillipsburg and Abilene, Kansas. Willis said that Friday is finally coming back into form after getting a little sore through July.

"It's been a four-week long process getting him back to feeling 100 percent," said Willis, who treated Friday to some veterinary maintenance coupled with complimentary chiropractic and acupuncture treatments. "I think he's finally coming back around. He did the same thing last year and just needed a little attention. Now I is owned by Darren Scholl of Goshen, Ala.

"I really want to thank Darren Scholl for giving me the opportunity to ride him again," she said.

Willis first paired with the gelding to fill her WPRA permit in the fall of 2014. She and Friday were contenders for the 2015 WPRA Rookie-of-the-Year title until the gelding got sore over the summer run. After several months' separation, Willis and Friday paired up again over the Fourth of July run at Cody, Wyo.

Friday is currently getting a six-day rest before Willis works her way back to the Northwest.

Willis, who is also trying to make a return trip to the Southeastern Circuit Finals Rodeo, will pick up Vinita, Okla., a co-approved Prairie Circuit rodeo, and then head to Rapid City, S.D., Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Kennewick, Wash.

"I'm going to try to slip into the circuit finals and try to claw my way back into the top 50, but I'm going to just try to take it one run at a time and make each run count," said Willis, who is currently 70th with $15,413.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I'm sure that if you have been barrel racing for any time at all, you will have been to a clinic, read a teaching article on it or watched a video. If you are my age, a lot of what you learned was the old fashioned way...trial and error. I'm so thankful for all the tools these days. Those avenues of instruction to help get us to a better place.....AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE!

And, if you have been at it a while, you will have had the opportunity to help/teach someone else some of the things you have learned. I love that part! But have you ever had a newbie want your help and then argue even the most basic principles with you? It's kind of funny. Now don't get me wrong, we NEVER quit learning. But arguing the basics??

Well, have you ever argued with God on HIS basics? Like, loving one another? Staying out of strife? No gossiping? Giving? Questioning God doesn't make us good Bible students. Reading His Word AND DOING IT, whether we understand it or not, THAT AND THAT ONLY will make us a good student. And I have learned that when I do what He says, things go really well, really fast! Exactly like I want my horses to do!
