Kyle Leleux's Dollys StreakNBadger Wins $91,000+ at Royal Crown Rock Springs

By Tanya Randall

Kyle Leleux got the biggest win of his barrel racing career aboard Dollys StreakNBadger ("Bentley") at the $500,000-added Royal Crown Futurity, held August 10-15 in Rock Springs, Wyoming.

Leleux and Bentley are responsible for winning $91,359 at the event. Their winner's share of the futurity was $65,000. Bentley's sire A Streak Of Fling's share was $10,465 as was Harry Thomas' breeder's portion. Leleux and Bentley also won $4,191 on open carry overs and an additional Royal Crown open bonus payout of $1,238.

Bentley had been on a break since taking reserve at the Run At The Rose and placing at the Colorado Classic at the end of June. "I didn't really know what to expect," said the trainer based at Southwestern Farms in Kirbyville, Texas. "I'll usually go to a jackpot just to keep him sharp. It was about a month and he hadn't been entered anywhere. He felt really good in exhibitions so I was feeling confident."

In the first round, Bentley had ground trouble at the first and second barrels, but still placed third with a 15.282.

"He slipped really bad at the first, but he just kept on turning," Leleux said. "He had another bad slip at the second. I think by the time he got to the third barrel he had the ground figured out. He just never stopped running. That horse is super strong and fast. I feel like the faster you go on him, the softer he is in the face. I think with the slips and bobbles, he got stronger, more gritty, trying harder."

Leleux was feeling the pressure in the second round.

"I was a bit nervous," he admitted. "The pressure was on, for sure. I knew I had to keep the barrels standing, which is pretty easy on him. The faster you go, the softer he is, so I knew I could handle him. I wanted to play it safe a little bit, but I also knew I had to go fast, so I couldn't play it too safe. I feel like he had the ground figured out by the second round and he stood up and made his pass."

Running in reverse order in the second round, Leleux and Bentley, running at draw 103, had a while to wait to see if their 15.211 was enough to give them the aggregate title. The two horses that had finished ahead of him in the first round, Jill Atkinson's BVB Winners Fame and Jenna Dominick's Monsterr, were in the very last drag of the second round.

"It was intense," said Leleux, who sat in the stands and watched. "It was pretty nerve wracking!"

Raised in New Iberia, Louisiana, Leleux grew up around horses. While his father trained racehorses, barrel racing was his first love.

"I helped my dad with the racehorses, but I've always done the barrel horse thing," said the 32-year-old. "With all that, I've ridden a bunch of reiners and cutters. I like it but I never really got into it all that much. I didn't love the reining and cutting."

After a brief stint in nursing school, Leleux decided training horses was his calling. After working for other established trainers, he went out on his own about six years ago. He got his first futurity win in 2016 at the Triangle Cross Futurity in McCook, Nebraska, with another A Streak Of Fling, Streakin Otoe Girl.

When Todd Matte called last fall and asked Leleux if he would take an A Streak Of Fling stallion, he was initially reluctant ... until

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I'll ride him five to six days a week. He'll see the barrels a day or two before I leave for a barrel race. He's super easy. All I have to do is make sure he's quick-footed and paying attention. I will keep him soft in his rib cage. I like to back a lot of circles on him. It's a lot easier to keep him soft and supple by going slow—trotting, stopping, backing up, backing up in circles, rather than loping him to get him worn down."

he found out it was out of TR Dashing Badger, the Mr Illuminator daughter that carried Jill Moody to two WPRA Reserve Championships and two NFR titles.

Sale for $40,000 from Harry Thomas, Dolly's owner and breeder. Bentley got his initial training with Andrea Cline. After some time off, Bentley was sent to Leleux last fall. When Matte decided to sell the stallion, Leleux knew he needed to buy him.

"I fell in love with this horse from Day 1," Leleux said. "He's been easy, super talented. He never does anything wrong."

Leleux, who used to own the Tres Seis son Tres Fortunes, hadn't planned on being a stallion owner again when he bought Bentley.

"My plan was not to do the whole stallion thing," he said. "I didn't buy him because he was a stallion. I bought him because he was special. I didn't want to do the stallion thing so badly that my plan was to castrate him. Then Todd called to tell me that he'd paid the deposit on his Ruby Buckle spot and to not to forget to pay the balance. With how big the Ruby Buckle is growing, I thought I'd better take a chance, keep him a stallion and see what happens. Thank God I did!"

Leleux wanted to thank Matte for the opportunity to own Bentley and the stallion owners that made Royal Crown possible. He also wanted to thank his vet Josh Harvey with Outlaw Equine and farrier Joao Neto. Most of all, he wanted to thank Bentley.

Record Setting Run for Kassie Mowry and Famous Ladies Man at Royal Crown Derby

At the Royal Crown Barrel Race in the 2nd Round of the Derby, Famous Ladies Man (Emmitt) and his $3.85 million earning rider Kassie Mowry tore through the Rock Springs, WY arena setting a new arena record of 14.69. The previous record was 14.855 set by Sue Smith last year. The pair ran the fastest time of over 1000 barrel runs over the course of the Royal Crown event this past weekend. The smoking run led the speedy pair to the Derby Average Championship and Open victory at the Royal Crown. These victories along with their Slot Race championship netted Famous Ladies Man & Kassie Mowry $31,825 (including sire & breeders earnings). If you are a barrel racing purist, you need to watch this run! The run is up on the Royal Crown & 3-2-1 Action Video Facebook pages and shared on our Barrel Racing Report page. It was a near perfect run for one of the All Time Leading riders in our sport so we thought we would catch up with Mowry to ask a few questions about her run and win.

THE RUNDOWN w/Kassie Mowry

Famous Ladies Man, "Emmitt" 15.1 h. 1,100 lbs.
owned by Michael Boone

BIT: Red River Shank Bit w/ dog bone mouthpiece

HEADGEAR: Rope head band type bonnet

SADDLE: Martin BTR

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine felt / Navaho pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine boots

SHOEING: Rims shoes on front, slicks on hinds

FEED: Nutrena Pro Force

HAY: Cube It Cubes

SUPPLEMENTS: Succeed Paste

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: I can't remember the last time I had to make practice runs on him. I mostly just ride to keep him in shape and I will walk or trot the pattern.

SPONSORS: Classic Equine, Martin Saddlery and Brazos Valley Equine

THANK YOU: I wanted to thank everyone with the Royal Crown. The stallion owners, sponsors and producers. It was a first class event and the best one I have been to all year. The ground was consistent from beginning to end and I was really grateful they drug after 3 in the slot race. After running at rodeos where you virtually had no chance depending on where you draw it was refreshing to see a producer make the extra effort to give everyone a fair shot.

BRR: Your 14.69 arena record in the Second Round of the Royal Crown Derby was just a flawless performance by you and Famous Ladies Man. Can you tell us what you felt as you went through that run?

Mowry: That last derby run was the most flawless run I have ever made. I am pretty good at realizing my mistakes and I just don't think there is anything I would change. I thought his body position and footwork were on point and he was running as hard as he could. I knew when he turned the first I needed to stay balanced and not get in his way. That day I told myself to just make a nice clean run to get in the average and looking back, Emmitt had other plans! The runs there felt like we were very in sync as a team, we know where to make up for each other.

BRR: Famous Ladies Man has been a winner from right away when you started hauling him. What makes him so special?

Mowry: Emmitt placed at every single futurity he went to. I don't really know if that had ever been done before. He has a very balanced build good mind a great work ethic and a pesky little personality He runs to me from out in his pen when I come carrying a halter. He can be as stubborn as a mule when he doesn't want to do something like walk in a wash rack, load in a trailer or go somewhere he doesn't want to go! That's how I know he loves his job because he is not at all above just saying no and not doing something! LOL!

BRR: You have been rodeoing more this year (#17 in the World). Is a lot of the reason you are hitting rodeos because of Famous Ladies Man?

Mowry: I normally try to get enough money won in the WPRA to get qualified for the winter rodeos each year. With them not having as many this year I decided to go out west and try to keep our money up We were sitting 17th after our last week out there and I Cooked to Perfection.

The way horse feed should be.

For over 35 years, HYGAIN® feeds have been perfected with painstaking attention to every detail. Our feed range includes a not-so-secret ingredient: the Australian Sweet Lupin, a soluble super fiber that is low in starch and sugar with high energy sources for optimal conditioning with more control.

Made in an equine-only manufacturing facility for product purity with no cross-contamination, each of our feeds is formulated to deliver optimal health, enhance nutritional value, improve palatability and increase feed efficiency.

Two-Step For The Texan—Kylee Scribner & Firewater Cartel Win Hermiston & Omak

By Tanya Randall

A nearly $11,000 weekend put WPRA Rookie Kylie Scribner back in contention for the National Finals Rodeo. Scribner currently sits No. 15 in the WPRA World Standings with $42,857.

The Azle, Texas, barrel racer and her 6-year-old gelding Firewater Cartel (“BB”) picked up $10,705 for winning the $17,500-added Farm-City Pro Rodeo in Hermiston, Oregon, and $8,500-added Omak Stampede in Washington.

Those were the only two rodeos she entered for the week. “My rodeo count got a little high on me, so I just decided to enter the big ones,” she said. “If it’s our time, we’ll win where we need to win.”

She made her first run on Thursday at Hermiston

“He did not warm up well,” she laughed. “He was full of himself. I think I was on him an hour before he ran. He worked really honest for me. He came back to me every time I asked. I was really happy with him.”

Scribner and BB turned in the only run under 17-seconds, a 16.92, to win $7,514.

They ran at Omak on Friday.

“Everything felt great at Omak,” said Scribner, who won $3,190. “He warmed up great. He worked super solid. I was really pleased with how he worked this weekend. We took on two different setups. Omak is a little bit different and there’s not much place to warm up. There were a couple things there that went against us because he’s a young horse, but he went in there and worked really nicely.”

Bred by Leroy Pritchard and trained by his wife Holly, BB is by Firewater Frost out of the SC Chiseled In Stone mare DNA Awesome Chrystal. He was Scribner’s futurity horse last year and hasn’t had much experience at outdoor rodeos until this summer.

“This summer is really the first time that we’ve been outside,” said Scribner. BB is lethal indoors, holding the arena record at the WPRA World Finals in Waco, and has managed to break through outside with wins like this weekend’s and Woodward earlier in the year.

“Last year, I kind of babied him. I did some futurities but I didn’t even go to the big ones. I just stayed local on him. I did go to two outdoor rodeos before I started rodeoing and it was absolutely terrible! I just kind of threw him to the wolves and he’s handled everything in stride for the most part. We’ve had some setbacks, for sure, but he’s come back to me and we’re getting everything lined out.”

Scribner has a busy week ahead, starting off with Caldwell and Gooding, Idaho, before picking up Canby, Oregon and Moses Lake, Washington, and hopefully heading back to Caldwell for the short round.

She wanted to thank her sponsors as well as her friends and family back home, God and BB for the opportunity.

“I owe so many thank you’s to so many people,” she said. “It takes more than a village, a city, to be out here.”

Forever Golden – Remembering Leading Barrel Horse Sire Frenchmans Guy

By Tanya Randall

Barrel racing's iconic leading sire Frenchmans Guy was laid to rest on August 13 at Myers Performance Horses in St. Onge, South Dakota. He was 34.

"We were blessed to have him that long," said Deb Myers. She and her husband Bill had owned the stallion since he was a weanling. "I always want him to go out with dignity and I think he took care of it for us. We were really thankful to be with him in the end."

For the Myers, including sons Chad, Billy, Brandon and Brady, Guy was family.

"He was always close to us," said Deb. "He was here when our youngest two boys were born. I think the reason we got so close to him is that we were always so hands on. Whatever he did, we did it with him. I'm so thankful that was the way it was, that we were so hands on in his life, and he was family. That makes it even more special."

At the time of his passing, Guy's offspring have earned more than $11 million in the arena and was the No. 2 Barrel Horse Sire of All-Time, according to Equi-Stat, the statistical division of Cowboy Publishing Group.

Hall of Fame Pedigree

Foaled on June 1, 1987, Guy was the product of a partnership between Pat Cowan and Francis Loiseau. He was by Cowan's stallion Sun Frost and out of Loiseau's Laughing Boy mare Frenchman's Lady, a daughter of Casey's Ladylove.

The Myers were first turned on to Loiseau's bloodlines with Lord Alamitos, a 1971 gelding by Liege Lord, a son of Alamitos Bar, out of Frenchman's Lady. After training the gelding on the track and winning the South Dakota-Bred Futurity as a 2-year-old, the Myers took Lord Alamitos to the arena as a reined cow horse and ultimately a barrel racing and rope horse.

Others from the cross followed. Guy was the final colt out of Frenchman's Lady that they purchased, giving $2,500 for him as a weanling.

"At the time that was like $250,000 for a lot of people," Deb chuckled.

The Myers original plan was the geld Guy, train him and sell him as they had the others, but a barn accident forever changed their lives and the sport of barrel racing.

When their oldest son Chad was cleaning Guy's stall, the yearling stud attempted to jump the wheelbarrow blocking the door. Chad raised the fork to scare the colt back, but Guy jumped into the fork, costing him his right eye.

"We were so disappointed and crushed," said Deb. "We were just devastated. We turned him out in a friend's pasture and forgot about him for two years. We never brought him in until his 3-year-old year. He never acted like he was missing that eye, holding his crooked or anything. Bill said, 'Well, he's looking pretty good. Maybe we should leave him a stud for now and get him broke.'"

Barrels

Bill trained Guy and ran him at a handful of futurities in the northern plains states. Although Equi-Stat records are incomplete for the early 1990s, the database has Guy placing at the Bad River, Dakota West and Fizz Bomb futurities.

It wasn't until Deb's barrel horse, a sister of Guy's, started having some soundness issues that she started to run the stallion. They're first outing wasn't good.

"He couldn't see the first barrel," noted Deb. "When you sat to say whoa you'd better be at that barrel. It was usually his best barrel. The first time I ran him was at Gillette. I said, 'Whoa,' and sat too soon and he crashed that barrel with his chest. I felt so bad because that was my fault. He did exactly what I asked him to do."

Then she went to one of the biggest barrel races in the region at the time, the Spring Fling.

"I thought if I could just hang with them maybe I'd run him some," she said. "When I got there I think there was eight of the Top 15 there. Bozo was there, Susie Karr was there on her nice Dr Kirk, Becky Carson, just a bunch of people that were at the top. I thought, 'God, just don't let me fall off!' He ended up second or third right behind Bozo.

"It was so easy for him. I took him to some rodeos that spring and I think he won five of the first six rodeos I took him too."

Running and hauling Guy was a blast, Deb said.

"He loved to go," she said. "He was a lot of fun to haul. I watched him more for the fact that he only had one eye than because he was a stud. I'd have people ask if they could ride by me and I would say, 'Yeah, as long as you ride on this side.' He'd get a little nervous if he couldn't see you."

Since she had four young children at the time, Deb kept her travels to the five state area around her South Dakota home. But the one thing she never worried about was Guy hurting her kids.

"Even with one eye, I never worried about that horse with the kids," she said. "We had other horses that I worried about around here with little kids."

Her German Shepherd puppies were even safe around the stallion.

"I had those puppies in a stall and somehow they got out," she recalled. "I was brushing him and looked down and there was this puppy under his back foot. He couldn't see it because it was on his right side. I thought this is it. That puppy is going to scare him and he's going to kill that puppy. It brushed against his leg and he just lifted his foot and held it there until that puppy moved. He was just a very kind horse. He didn't have a mean bone in his body, and he was such a people horse. He liked people."

Deb credits his breeding for his disposition and kindness.

"Those horses out of Loiseau's mares—we trained a lot of them for the track, cutting, snaffle bit, roping, barrel racing—they were all like that," she said. "They liked people. The mares liked kids. They were very forgiving. They didn't hold a grudge if you did something stupid.

"I think that's why they get along with the 3-, 4- and 5D riders and the kids. We really like it when they win with kids. We're really proud of that. They made a lot of memories for a lot of people."

Breeding

A month earlier in 1987, Guy's three-quarter brother was born to Frenchman's Lady's half-sister Casey's Charm, a Casey's Ladylove's daughter by Tiny Circus. The ornery colt officially known as French Flash Hawk ("Bozo") became Kristie Peterson's four-time WPRA World Champion.

With Guy having proven his ability in the arena coupled with Bozo's accomplishments first as an aged event horse on the national scene and later in the rodeo arena as one of the most dominant champions, mare owners began to take notice.

"Bozo did a lot to kick off Guy's career," said Deb.

Once Guy started getting attention in the arena, his demand as a stallion grew which left little time for competition.

"Our vet was having a fit," laughed Deb. "I'd breed a mare in the morning, take off and go run him, come back and breed a mare that night, get up, breed a mare and take off again. After a while I was like this probably isn't a good idea. After that he was pretty much just used as a sire."

The Myers' operation was a mom and pop shop. They did all their own reproductive work. When they first started they didn't even have a breeding shed but would collect him on their front lawn.

With AQHA's ruling to allow the use of shipped semen, Guy's reach as a stallion went nationwide. He has been on every leading barrel horse sire's list since 2000, the same year that Myers debuted their prospect sale, featuring their riding 2-year-olds by Frenchmans Guys and later his sons and daughters. Guy is also one of the industry's leading paternal and maternal sires.

As an aged event sire, Guy had numerous futurity champions including SX Frenchmans Vanilla, the leading futurity horse in 2001 and Guys Famous Girl, the leading futurity horse in 2011. His leading futurity horse in 2020, Teasin Dat Guy is currently in contention for a trip to the 2021 National Finals Rodeo.

Guy sired numerous NFR qualifiers and performers, including Ima Guy Of Honor ("Mo") who helped Lindsey Sears win the 2011 WPRA World Championship. Mo kept Sears in the Top 15 through the winter and spring while she waited for Sugar Moon Eclipse (Martha) to recover from a stifle injury. Although Martha did the lion's share of winning in the end, the race between Sears and Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi was so tight that without Mo's early season earnings the title may have been lost.

Several other horses that made it to the NFR include, but aren't limited to, Guys French Jet, Guys Six Pack To Go, Ima Super Fly Guy, Frenchmans Jester, Frenchmans Twister, SX Frenchmans Vanilla, French Zone, Famous Mic Guy Ver, and Morning Traffic.

Remembrance

Michelle Darling, who owns Morning Traffic, Guy's richest offspring with earnings of more than $320,000, had her life changed by the stallion.

"I remember when I was just 13-years-old, my dad and I drove up to Bill and Deb Myers' first horse auction in 2000. That's when we purchased our first Frenchmans Guy colt, Guys Laughing Leo. The next year we went back and purchased Frenchmans Sunny, a mare I futurityed and won the amateur class on at the 5-State Breeders Futurity in 2003. Frenchmans Guy colts started my career and love of barrel racing. He changed the industry and is a legend. His offspring will keep carrying on his legacy and I'm so lucky to own a small piece of it!"

Crystal Shumate got involved with Frenchman Guy offspring as a teenager as well. Now she owns one of his leading sons—BHR Frenchies Socks.

"The first thing I thought of when I heard of Frenchmans Guy's passing was we lost a living legacy," said Shumate. "He means so much to me and my program. I knew after riding a few own sons and daughters of Frenchmans Guy that I wanted more! They are the easiest to train. They have so much natural rate and desire. I will always have Frenchmans Guy in my bloodlines. We feel privileged and honored to carry on his legacy not only as a great sire but as an outstanding paternal and maternal grandsire! He's made a mark and will continue to do so for many years to come."

Monica McClung also made a name for herself through Guy's offspring, two of which are amongst his greatest earners.

"The world lost a legend," said McClung. "It was my dream to own one of his babies. I have had the opportunity to own many and also many grandsons and granddaughters. He put me on the map by siring the great Easy French Alibi and Guys Voodoo Bug." Jordon Briggs, who won high school titles on Classy French Paint, Guy's richest paint horse, and went to the NFR on her BFA Futurity Champion Frenchmans Jester, credits Guy with making her the trainer she is today.

"I started riding Frenchmans Guy offspring when I was 11 years old," said prospective two-time NFR qualifier Briggs, "because of him and the Myers family, I'm the trainer I am today. His offspring taught me you learn more about yourself while training a horse than they ever do from you. I don't know where I would be without Frenchmans Guy. I was so blessed to ride such talented, smart horses at a young age. I know him and Bozo are up in heaven talking about how they created the barrel breeding business!"

Memories

Guy was buried on a hill overlooking the breeding and training operation that he helped build, forever watching over the people who cared for him and his legacy.

"He built our whole life practically, and because of him, we get to do what we want to do," said Deb. "It's so neat that one horse in our day and era could have that much effect on people, and a lot of young people too. That horse enabled us to do a lot of things for other people, not just in the industry. To help with St Jude or donate a stud fee to someone that has cancer or a sickness. I couldn't even begin to count what he's done for individuals like that. We were able to do that all because of him."

Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the heavenly lights, who does not change like shifting shadows.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Since none of us are perfect, I'm sure that we all need corrected from time to time. If you have children, you know that they need direction and a wakeup call sometimes. We are God's children. He loves us and He is trying to grow us up.

So my latest wakeup was this. "Behave like you believe." It was a passing thought by a Bible teacher I was listening to. He might as well have shouted it out because that's how I heard it in my spirit! Road rage, unforgiveness, frustration with the current state of events in our country, and many other things ran through my mind.

Instead of letting all these things dominate my thinking, I should be behaving like I believe. I believe in God. I believe His Word is true. I believe He will protect me. I believe He is raising up people to lead this country out of its current sorry state. I believe I'm protected from Covid and any other disease, real or imagined.

Why do I believe that? Psalm 91. James 1:25-26. I Peter 5:6-9. I John 5:14-15. Gal. 6:7-10. I Pet. 2:24. John 16:33. Put your eyes on these scriptures this week. You'll be encouraged and hope will arise in your heart! God bless you!
