Shannon Lillard & LZK Dashus Rockstar Dominate Better Barrel Races World Finals

By Tanya Randall

Fargo, Oklahoma, barrel racer Shannon Lillard and her 12-year-old gelding LZK Dashus Rockstar ("Herman") made four trips down the alleyway at the Better Barrel Races World Finals, held August 12-16 in Oklahoma City. They won every single time save for one when they were second best by 7/100ths to Randee Prindle and Red Man Jones.

"It's unbelievable really. I think I'm still in shock," said Lillard that following Monday afternoon. Earlier that morning she told some customers, who came into Cowboy's Tack Shop in Woodward, Oklahoma, where she works, that she really didn't realize what was happening at the time. "I try to just take one run at a time. The first run I was like, 'Wow!' Then when I went and did it again, it about brought me to tears right then!

Lillard and Herman collected an incredible $20,640. They won the 1D Championship, won Race 1 in Barn 6, placed second in Race 2 in the Coliseum, won the 1D Invitational and topped both Adult incentives with carryovers.

"When it was over, I called my dad to tell him how I had done," she said. "Of course, he'd been watching it on the webcast. He said, 'Do you realize what you've done! You won darn near every round and got second in the one!' Then I finally saw it all as a whole and was like 'Oh my gosh!' I can't even fathom it right now!"

Her fairy tale weekend began on Thursday in Barn 6 with a 15.282.

"I had a couple of mistakes in that first run, but he's a fast horse," she explained. "It just surprised me. I was in the first 50 and I kept thinking, 'Is something different?' I just couldn't believe he'd gone out there and smoked the pattern like that!"

On Friday, they were out in the Coliseum. Their run of 15.207 nearly achieved her goal of running a 15.1 in Oklahoma City. "I always find that if I'm focused on my riding, I don't really think of the time," she said. "I don't think, 'Oh this is going to be fast,' or anything. When I reached the timeline and looked up, I think I shed a couple of tears. To have the lead in both of those barns at BBR is just... You know things like that are possible, but you never think... Things like that just don't happen to me!"

Lillard has to quickly get her emotions in check as she turned her focus to her 18-year-old daughter Macy, who was about to run. Unfortunately, a slip caused the younger Lillard's horse to come up on the wrong side of the first barrel.

"It was a little overwhelming," she said. "It took me a minute to gather myself. (My daughter) was almost in tears too because she was so happy for me. Then, it was heartbreaking for me. She had a slip at the first and she ended up pulling up. I had a little bit of joy for 10 or 15 minutes and then it was taken away, because I felt so badly for her.

On Saturday, she won the 1D Invitational with a 15.369. "He likes Oklahoma City for whatever reason," she added. "He runs pretty good down there. I've actually only run about two or three .2's on him in the coliseum or Barn 6. He's usually a .3 or .4. I went in thinking that there was a possibility that I could win some money, but never expected what happened."

For Sunday's Finals, she had decided that Herman had already exceeded her wildest expectations and didn't owe her anything more. She also drew on her recent rodeo experience at the Dodge the lineup there and it was Hailey Kinsel, Brittany Pozzi, Jordon Briggs, Stevi Hillman and then there was me! I kind of let my head get to me in the Finals and I overrode my horse. It was a lesson learned.

“So, I really had to tell myself, ‘It’s just another run. You know how to ride your horse. Don’t make any changes, just ride him.’ So, I had just let my nerves go and just went in there to make a smooth run.”

Smooth is fast.

Lillard and Herman turned in the fastest time of the event, a 15.196, to win the 1D Championship.

“I still just can’t even believe it!” she exclaimed. “It’s just amazing! I’m so grateful! I really think it was a God thing!”

She says Herman was definitely the star of the show. “This is all his win, for sure,” she said. “He’s definitely been a gift from God. He’s been our angel. He’s pulled through when we thought we couldn’t go anymore. He’d pull through with a win. He’s paid our bills sometimes.”

Lillard purchased Herman in January of his fifth year from Amanda Dessel. Bred by Karla Lane’s Lazy K Ranch in Oregon, Herman is by Lane’s stallion Bulldashus, a son of Bully Bullion out of the graded stakes winning Dash Ta Fame, Rocket Wrangler mare BB Dreams Of Cash. His dam is the Marthas Six Moons mare Hergone. Herman had found his way to Oklahoma via Tammy Phillipou and Kelly Beeman.

Herman had a slight bucking issue, and due to past owners pregnancies, found his way to Lillard. Although he did have spurts of bucking with her, she eventually decided to treat Herman as if he had a muscle disorder and changed his feeding program.

“I think his muscles were tightening up on him and making him hurt,” she said. “We just changed his feed and he hasn’t done it in the past couple of years.”

Lillard says its taken a lot hard work, dedication and struggles to get to a horse like Herman. She didn’t grow up in a rodeo family but her father, Steve Buckley, who raised her, eventually let her progress from trial riding to barrel racing.

“He loved sports and we were always watching sports on TV,” she recalled. “We were watching either Mesquite or the NFR on TV and I saw the girls running barrels. I think I was 10 years old and I said, ‘Oh my gosh! That’s what I want to do! I have to do that!’ I had horses, but I guess he didn’t want me going fast. After years of begging, I started running barrels when I was about 12 or 13.”

Lillard got serious about the sport in high school. Her dad bought a horse off the track and she had to train it herself. “I had to learn the hard way,” she said. “My dad always told me it would mean more to me if I made it rather than bought it. I took that to heart. I got a job when I was in high school and rode when I got off. I think it kind of gave me the dedication to know you have to work for it. It took me a lot of years that led up to this moment, I tell ya!”

Now, she’s trying to make the WPRA Prairie Circuit Finals with Herman. She’s got rodeos in Guymon, Elk City and Henrietta, Oklahoma, this week.

The mother of two grown children wanted to thank her friends and family, especially her dad and husband Clint, for their endless support.

“My dad is always helping me out when he can,” she said. “My husband—Dear God, Lord, my husband! He’s put up with me for all these years! I think he sometimes feels that he’s on the back burner a lot of time. When we’re up there or on the road, he works just as hard as we do. He’s not a horse person, but he really lays it all on the line for me. I could go and on about family, who have been supportive and always behind me!”

THE EXTRA MILE

Not only does 2020 BBR 1D Champion own every therapeutic product that she can afford, she’s willing to go the extra mile to keep her great horse LZK Dashus Rockstar (“Herman”) happy and comfortable at events.

“We baby him anyways,” she laughed. “He really got babied down there, whether it was taking care of legs or just bathing him.”

Since Herman lives outside, Lillard made sure he wasn’t in his stall the entire time at the BBR Finals. She walked him two to three times a day for an half-hour to hour-and-a-half at time.

“My daughter just turned 18 last week and she’s like ‘Mom, we have to sit out here this whole time?’ We have to make it as normal for them as possible. They have to have their gut moving and blood circulating.”

The extra mile made a $20,000 different for Lillard.

“At BBR we were with the horses fulltime, from sun up to sundown,” she said. “Everyone’s like ‘you want to go eat.’ Well, I have to schedule it in because I have to go walk my horse! He’s not the easiest to haul down the road. As long as I can keep in a somewhat normal routine, he stays happy.”

The Stylish Lane is a great mixture of run and cow.
His dam is a really nice all around horse, competing in barrels, tie-down and breakaway roping. He has a great disposition and is very broke. We have used him in all facets of ranch work, and he is started in breakaway roping. He is working a nice set of barrels with smooth fluid turns. This colt is one of my favorites and I think he is going to be a great one.

DaCota Monk & Famous Lemon Drop Sweep BBR Finals Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Famous Lemon Drop ("Barbie"), ridden by DaCota Monk for Matt and Bendi Dunn, swept both rounds of the BBR World Finals Futurity to win the average by nearly 4/10ths of a second. The victory in the 113-entry, $15,000-added Futurity, held in Barn 8 at the State Fairgrounds in Oklahoma City, was worth $8,926.

"It was a lot of fun!" said Monk.

The BBR World Finals Futurity was the fourth title for Monk and Barbie, a 4-year-old daughter of First Down French out of Shannon Akerstrom's Dash Ta Fame mare A Famous Lady. They won their first futurity, the Texas Ultimate Classic, and followed it up with wins at the LG Invitational in the Futurity and Slot race.

With the Elite Futurity in March, their last event before the COVID shutdown, Monk started taking Barbie to local jackpots to prepare her for the major futurities rescheduled for mid-summer. One of their first jackpots back, Monk and Barbie ran second to Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday. Unfortunately, they all didn't go that way.

"I've had a couple of little spills with her when I was trying to get her ready after they rescheduled all the futurities due to the COVID stuff," Monk explained. "She got sore and it's been a bit of a struggle to get her back feeling really good."

At their first futurity back, they were third in the average at the Select Stallion Stakes Futurity in Guthrie, Oklahoma. They followed it up with a fifth-place finish at the Old Fort Days Futurity in Fort Smith, Arkansas, a week later. Unbeknownst to Monk, Barbie was fighting a respiratory infection during her qualifying run at Fort Smith. While they got her well enough for the Finals, Monk left Fort Smith trying to get Barbie feeling well once again.

"My main goal was to get her feeling good energy-wise," he said. "I really didn't really do anything on barrels. I was just trying to get her feeling good and happy again."

Monk was also still dealing with the fallout from Barbie's early slips on the first barrel. Her style had changed.

"Ever since she fell at the first barrel at some of the jackpots before the futurities started back, I never could get her first barrel back," he explained. "She'd go by it and come back every time. So, I've been trying to get her slowly back to turn that first."

Monk, who normally just rides the mare around in a bosal hackamore, put an L&W steel nose hack on Barbie to do a little slow work.

"After Fort Smith, she got a little freer than normal," he explained. "One, she didn't feel good. Two, that arena is difficult for any horse. So, I was trying not to go off of Fort Smith, but I kind of did. I just felt like I needed to get her a listening to me a little bit more. Normally, we're a good 50-50 team, but she's mostly been doing it her way and if it didn't go right—Oh well!"

After she exhibited well with the hackamore at BBR, Monk almost left it on her for his runs.

"I was a little nervous putting it on her because she's really light," he said. "I worked her in it here at home, just really slow, walking and trotting. She really responded to it. I actually nearly ran her in it because she felt so good in it. But, I thought, 'I'm not going to do that to her!' If something goes wrong I'm going to be really mad! I ran her in the same bit that I've had on her from the get-go, which is a short shank L&W."

In the first round of the BBR Futurity, they were a 15.598 even with a less than perfect first barrel.

"I kind of figured if I'd keep her quiet in the alleyway and not let her go from as far back as I used to that she would turn the first barrel," he said. "So, I tried that the first day and she really didn't calm down. I didn't want to fight with her too much, so I just let her go and she went by the first. I actually hit with my toe. I thought, 'That'd better not fall' because I would have been really mad! Then she smoked her second and third barrel."

On their second run, Monk got his plan full implemented, which gave them a 15.484, the fastest run of the BBR Finals in Barn 8.

"My second run, I thought I'm just going to take my time and stop her and let her relax in the alley so we can get that first, and she did," he said. "She relaxed and we nailed that first barrel. It was perfect! Amazing!"

"I think that was the best run we'd ever made. We made another run where we won a $3,000-added jackpot back in January that was a really fun run. She just felt like an open, finished rodeo horse. This run, I think was my favorite. She was just super easy and went to her spots. I felt like I rode her really good. I was really proud of both of us. It was fun."

Monk is laying low this week as he and his wife Paula and daughter Alissa are leaving for a futurity run out west. His sister Brittainy Hall will be in charge of his Emory, Texas, business, while he runs Barbie at the Glen Wood Memorial in Salina, Utah, and the Fizz Bomb in Gillette, Wyoming.

"We're really excited to get out of Texas and into cooler weather," he said. We leave the 24th and we won't be back until September 15th. We've never been out that way, so we're really excited about going."

Michelle Darling and Martini Throw Down and Cash In at WCRA Stampede at the E

BRR: Can you walk us through your runs at the Stampede at The E?

Darling: My first run was on Tuesday and she ran a 15.6. It was a good run but I knew she could be faster. We had some different shoes on her that we had not used before to give her some more support for her hamstrings. I knew the shoes were hindering her runs and slowing her down. So Wednesday evening I changed her shoes and went back to what she used to use. Then Thursday morning she ran a 15.2! I knew we had to be fast on Thursday because it was a knife fight, there was a lot of girls there with really nice horses. Kylie Weast ran the fastest time of the week and had a really good run on Reddy! So we got to rest on Friday and then run Saturday night at the finals. We were first on the ground! I don't typically like to be first out just so I know the timer is going to work and to watch the ground. So no matter what I knew I had to throw down and make a run and she did. We ended up being second and coming back for the short round. I knew Martini was going to be really tight going to first barrel for my second run so my intentions were to send her by it one stride and she did exactly that. She came right back to me and smoked her second and third barrel!

BRR: You have had a lot of success at the WCRA events. What is it that gives you and Martini the edge in those shootout formats?

Darling: The WCRA has been very good to me. Winning just a little over $100,000 there now on Martini is amazing. I love the set up because Martini gets faster and faster the more runs she can make in the same pen.

BRR: Your horses always work so correct and pretty, what slow work and pattern work do you do to keep your horses correct?

Darling: I'm really big on just riding a horse outside the arena.

Down the road or pasture. I let them relax and show me they are happy and having fun. I like to just make sure they are soft throughout their body and give to me when I ask them to do something. I only work one barrel on Martini maybe once a week just to make sure she's listening.

BRR: What are your plans for the rest of the year for you and Martini?

Darling: I'm going to try and get back in the top 30 (WPRA World Standings) to get into the bigger rodeos for next year. So, Martini and her hauling partner, a little 10 year old black mare named Bianca, will continue to help her out.

BRR: Do you have any colts of Martini's you are riding yet? Tell us a little about her babies you have had? Do they act like their mom?

Darling: I have not kept any colts out of Martini to ride yet. They have been bringing so much money I have been selling them. I do have a Tres Seis filly I'm keeping to ride and a Blazin Jet Olena due 2020 Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale Coming This Week!

The 2020 Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale kicks off Saturday, August 22nd, 2020 at Seven Down Arenas near Spearfish, SD with a preview at 1:00 pm MDT, followed by the Stallion Preview at 4:45 pm MDT, with the sale following at 5:00pm MDT.

The sale features 63 select horses mostly sired by Myers Ranch sires: $13 Million performance sire Frenchmans Guy, A Smooth Guy, Ima Special Kindaguy, This Guyz A Keeper, Cowboys Cartel, and Hot Colours. This sale is the exciting debut of the first 2 riding 2 yr olds by Mr Sassy Frenchman and Lucky Wonder Horse.

The sale will include everything from weanlings, yearlings, started 2 year-olds, arena prospects up to broodmares in foal. Overall there are 40 head of riding horses from the best bloodlines in the country.

"I've said this many times before, but I truly believe this is the strongest set of 2 yr olds we have ever offered for sale. These horses are a result of 35+ years of breeding, training, and selling horses. I believe our training program sets us apart and the percentage of winners that we have sold back this statement up. We started the 2 yr old program in the year 2000 and it has become a standard in the barrel horse industry that has become very successful." said Bill Myers of Myers Performance Horses of the sale horses.

A few of the sale highlight include: the 2 yr old sorrel full sister to Smooth N Famous, barrel earner of over $250k; a 3/4 sister to Bring It On Guys (LTE $300k) and Smooth Movin Guy (LTE $85k) by Mr Sassy Frenchman; 2 colts out of the Myers cornerstone Dash Ta Fame mare, Disarray (producer of over $250k), one 2 yr old gray mare by A Smooth Guy and a 3 yr old gray gelding by Frenchmans Guy; a 2 yr old buckskin gelding by Lucky Wonder Horse out of Seriously Guys, the full sister to BFA Futurity Champion Guys Cash Perks; the 2 yr old bay gelding by PYC Paint Your Wagon out of the Futurity, Maturity & ProRodeo winner, Guys Champagne Girl. Along with the riding horses a few select weanling include; a Mr Sassy Frenchman stallion out of Irish Colours, the earner of $80k+ in Heading, Heeling, Breakaway. The yearlings include a palomino mare by Lucky Wonder Horse out of the proven barrel money earning Frenchmans Guy daughter, Little French Rose. The broodmares offered include the full sister to A Special Colour (LTE $150k+), Wild Colours, a futurity, derby, rodeo earner by Hot Colours out of French Wild Heart by Frenchmans Guy.

Sale information, catalog and videos are all available on the sale page of www.FrenchmansGuy.com . The videos can also be seen by subscribing to the Myers Performance Horses channel on YouTube. Please email myerstrainingstable@gmail.com or call 605.642.9789 to sign up for phone bidding. The sale will be carried live on www.321actionvideo.com and Myers Stallion Facebook pages.

$7,651 Weekend For Dona Kay Rule & High Valor

By Tanya Randall

Dona Kay Rule and her 2019 AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year High Valor topped two rodeos over the weekend to pocket $7,651 and jump four spots in the WPRA World Standings to fifth with $47,873 won the season.

The Minco, Oklahoma, team won $5,063, their largest check at the $11,000-added, one-run Fallon County Fair in Baker, Montana. They picked up a $1,523 at the $1,500-added McCone County Fair PRCA Rodeo in Circle, Montana. Rule and Valor also placed third at the $5,700-added Wyoming State Fair & Rodeo in Douglas, Wyoming, for $1,065.

"I appreciate the committees of Circle, Baker and Douglas for having them," she said. "We're grateful they're having us and they're just delighted that we're there!"

Rule started off in slack at Circle, where she took the lead from local favorite Lisa Lockhart by 1/100th of a second. Her second run was a slack in Baker, where she bested the field by nearly 2/10ths. She wrapped up the weekend in slack at Douglas.

The 2019 NFR qualifier says the COVID-altered year with the rodeos more spread out than they were last year when she solidified her first trip to Las Vegas in the Northwest has been difficult for her since she's traveling alone.

"It's honestly made it a little bit more difficult," she said. "A lot of my trips were five to 10 hours between events. Which is tough for me because I'm going by myself. You think you're not doing anything but you're mentally exhausted by the time you get there. That's a surprise for me. I thought it would be simpler. Where in the Northwest, one to three hours is a pretty big trip."

It's also meant going to some unexpected places.

"I think we've shocked some of the little committees," she laughed. "They have a huge train of trucks and trailers, people and ropers coming through and they don't know what to do! You go to a little town of 500 and there's a line six deep at the diesel pumps! It's made me smile a couple of times."

The skippy schedule has also meant for more down time and opportunities to take in the sights.

"That's been kind of cool," she said. "I went to a couple of museums. I went to the dinosaur dig at Vernal (Utah). I really enjoyed stuff. I like that stuff anyway. I got to go ride in the mountains in Lead, South Dakota. That was really fun."

Her 11-year-old superstar got to enjoy the trail ride too.

"I told them to give me a nice little flatlander trail," she chuckled. "They were kind to me. They didn't make me go up and down real mountains."

Rider/Owner: Dona Kay Rule; Breeder: Lana Merrick

THE RUNDOWN w/Dona Kay Rule

High Valor "Val" 15.1 hands, 1,200 lbs.

BIT: O-ring for daily riding; Sherry Cervi lifter with a twisted-wire mouthpiece to run—just in case she miscalculates and needs to lift a little in a turn.

SADDLE: made by her husband—John Rule Saddlery

SADDLE PAD: 7/8ths 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on all four, plus bell boots

SHOEING: Full crease, plain steel shoe. "I've got a tremendous farrier, Dusty Franklin from Minco, Oklahoma. His spent his life studying legs and feet, and I trust him deeply." As a certified journeyman farrier, he's got an extensive network throughout the country and has been able to recommend shoers for Rule.

FEED: KoolSpeed

HAY: All the alfalfa he wants

SUPPLEMENTS: KER Nano-Q10 and Nano-E

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Deanna Harrison's lung support essential oil topical blend daily, Equi-Resp, Chiropractic care and acupuncture, MagnaWave and Acuscope—but not something she does often.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I do a lot of trail riding. I spend a lot of time with him. I hand walk him and let him eat grass. I just spend a lot time with him. They're such a herd animal and they look to their leader. I try to be the leader. It's just time more than anything. It's not just brushing, working or drilling, it's just time. Of course, there are the normal body conditioning things where you long trot and lope. I don't work barrels hardly ever."

SPONSORS: KoolSpeed Feed, 5 Star Equine Products, Equi-Resp, Kentucky Equine Research, Deanna Harrison's Essential Oils, Owl Manor-Pro Stride.

Rule says there is "so much" difference between Valor last year—his first year on the road fulltime—and this year with the COVID conundrum.

“He’s way more rested,” she said of the Valiant Hero gelding out of Lana Merrick-Bailey’s Rare Form mare Rare High. “You travel a ways and then you wait a day, travel a ways and wait a day. He seems to be maintaining his weight and he seems to be generally happy. The only thing I’ve done differently is adding some Vitamin E and Nano Q10, an antioxidant. That’s the only thing I’ve changed and he’s just been really happy there. I’ve struggled a little bit here and there with ground, but for the most part he’s been great!”

Rule starts this week’s run in Miles City, Montana, before driving to the other side of the state for Kalispell. Her last rodeo of the week will be in Burley, Idaho. She figures she’ll head home sometime around September 6.

“We’re going to behave as if there’s no tomorrow,” she chuckled. “Who knows if we’re going to have an NFR? I don’t know the answer, but I’m going to keep on working diligently. I’m just going to keep on the best I can. At my age, I can’t wait around and see (if there is going to be an NFR or not). I’ve got to get ‘er done or quit, and that I’m not going to do!”

Rule also wanted to thank her sponsors as well as her family,

TRAINING TIP

“Every single thing I do has to do with a correct barrel turn, but I don’t use barrels,” says 2019 NFR qualifier and current WPRA Top 15 member Dona Kay Rule of Minco, Oklahoma. “I might use a pile of poop in a cow patch. I set him up, get his inside hind where it belongs, get his ribs loose and walk him around it and then release him and let him walk off, which is exactly what I do at a dead run in a barrel pattern. It might be a set of trees. If he’s going to start ignoring me, I’ll walk through a set of trees and do the same thing: set his hindleg up underneath him, break in the ribs, walk through and if he’s not listening we’ll back through them. That’s a chore now! That’s when you find out where your holes are!”

including her husband of 40 years, for all their continued support.

“My family is always calling me and telling me to go on,” she said. “They’re poking and prodding me to continue on.”

New Stars Emerge at Stampede at the E

As the first discipline of the Stampede at The E, bareback riding had the fans inside Lazy E Arena on the edge of their seats throughout the action-packed night where contenders prevailed. After Jake Brown (Cleveland, Texas) and Orin Larsen (Ingles, Manitoba) advanced to the showdown round tied courtesy of matching 86.5-point rides, the two quickly became immersed in a shootout for the $12,500 Major payday in the showdown round. Outsourcing Larsen, the victor from the 2020 Royal City Roundup who was seeking his second win in the Triple Crown, by 0.5 points, Brown delivered a critical 87.5-point ride on Top Flight to capture the victory.

As the Saturday evening event continued, a hotly contested race in the saddle bronc riding began to unfurl. Tying for the long round win, Shorty Garrett (Dupree, South Dakota) and Taos Muncy (Corona, New Mexico) entered the showdown round with equally scored 83-point rides earned aboard Real Fancy and Damaged Goods, respectively. Calm and collected, Garret remained poised on the chutes as he readied for what would be a career defining moment. Reaching the requisite 8 aboard Delta Dawn for 82.5 points, Garrett captured his first-ever WCRA Major win and accompanying $12,500 payday.

In the bull riding, PBR (Professional Bull Riders) world No. 1 Jose Vitor Leme (Ribas do Rio Pardo, Brazil) rode supreme. Capping his perfect 2-for-2 effort on Saturday evening, the former semi-professional soccer player rode Nailed for a monstrous 89.5 points to net an equally impressive check for $62,500. Unlike the other disciplines at the Sooner State event which paid out a combined $28,000, the bull riding featured a $78,000 purse. The $50,000 champion payout from the Kansas City Royal City Roundup Major carried over after no qualified rides were recorded in the showdown round.

The team roping title was won by the duo of header Colby Lovell (Madisonville, Texas) and heeler Paul Eaves (Lonedell, Missouri), notching a 11.04-second run. They edged the runner-up duo of Erich Rogers (Round Rock, Arizona) and Paden Bray (Stephenville, Texas) who logged an 11.2-second effort. The second-place finish dashed the hopes of Rogers and Bray who were hoping to leave the Lazy E with their second victory in the WCRA Triple Crown of rodeo after topping the discipline at the first Major of the year in Kansas City in February.

Stockton Graves (Alva, Oklahoma) was unstoppable in the steer wrestling. The Northwestern Oklahoma State University Steer Wrestling Coach recorded a 3.85-second run in the long round, prior to delivering a lightning-fast 5.08-second effort in the showdown round. The victory is Graves' second WCRA Major win, capturing his first title in 2019 in Green Bay, Wisconsin.

In tie down roping, 17-year-old Riley Webb (Decatur, Texas) was the undeniable star of the discipline, delivering what would be the most groundbreaking performance of the event. As the only athlete to deliver a qualified run in the showdown round, his 8.5-second effort elevated him to a $16,500 payday. For Webb, fresh off his win at the National High School Rodeo Finals (NHSRF), the event marked his career first WCRA Major, advancing to the main event through the DY (youth) Pool. Not only did Webb emerge victorious, but did so by defeating WCRA Royal City Roundup Champion, 2019 NHSRF Champion and the world's No. 1-ranked tie down roper Shad Mayfield (Clovis, New Mexico) who failed to catch in the showdown round. Webb also defeated 2013 PRCA World Champion Shane Hanchey (Carmine, Texas) the final athlete to compete in the showdown round.

When ladies breakaway roping and barrel racing took center stage, the female athletes of the WCRA shined bright. Chelsey Abernathy (Athens, Alabama) won the breakaway roping title at the Stampede at The E courtesy of her 2.14-second run in the long round, and 2.09-second run in the showdown round, both the quickest times of the rounds. Abernathy topped Kelsie Chace's 2.50-second time, knocking Chace out of the race for the Triple Crown of Rode $1 Million bonus. In the barrel racing 2019 Titledown Stampede Major Champion Michelle Darling (Medford, Oklahoma) and mare Martini expertly navigated the course as her 15.481-second run in the showdown round was the quickest, distancing runner-up Wenda Johnson (Pawhuska, Oklahoma) who recorded a 15.676-second run.

Since launching in May of 2018, the WCRA and its partners have awarded more than $7,700,000 in new money to rodeo athletes.

On Saturday, August 29 fans will be able to tune into the Stampede at The E on a CBS network broadcast at 8:00 p.m. ET.

Fans can relive all the action from the WCRA's Stampede at The E on Sunday, August 16 at 8:00 a.m. EST on RidePass, at RidePass.com or via the RidePass app available on iOS, Android and Roku.

Pro Rodeo Debut's on Yellowstone

Fans of the hit TV show "Yellowstone" who also follow ProRodeo might have noticed several familiar faces during the rodeo scene in the episode that aired Aug. 2.

A few days after winning the Pendleton (Ore.) Round-Up in mid-September last year, bareback rider Tilden Hooper found himself in a different kind of spotlight during the filming of an episode of "Yellowstone" near Park City, Utah.

"It (the set of a TV show) is like a rodeo really," said Hooper, who helped on the episode. "It takes a lot of different moving parts and people behind the scenes to produce what you see on TV or in the arena, so it's pretty cool."

Sid Steiner, the 2002 steer wrestling world champion, and his son Rocker are among the cast for Season 3, Episode 7, titled "The Beating." But in the background and around the action fans are likely to notice some of ProRodeo's top athletes in bareback riding and saddle bronc riding.

"The episode had a shot of Rocker Steiner riding bareback, and Sid, Bob and Joleen (Steiner) were there and involved with the storyline, so we happened to be around town, and Sid asked if we would help buck the horse," Hooper said. "I ended up flanking the horse and helped Rocker out there. Kaycee Feild was there too helping do pickup, Cort Scheer was on the bucking chutes and made it in some shots, and Jake Finlay was there too. It was a handful of contestants who stopped and helped."

"Yellowstone" airs on Paramount Network. It is also on NBC's streaming service, Peacock Premium, and on Amazon Prime.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I have joked in the past about my personal hesitation to change anything. I naturally struggle to try something new...to do something new... to make a new friend... to go to a new place. Mike on the other hand is always looking for that new thing and he embraces them and sees them as exciting. What is up with that? As you can imagine, this can cause somewhat of an upheaval in a marriage. Me, Miss Conservative... him, hair on fire!

I surround myself with funny sayings about change. Like... "Change is good... as long as I don't have to do anything different." Or... "I hate change... I didn't used to... but I've changed."

There's a Garfield cartoon where Jon is talking to Garfield and he says... "Let's do something!" "Like what?" (Garfield). Jon.. "Something fun!" Garfield... "No way, you know how I hate trying new things!"

It gives me comfort to know that my way can be laughed at and is often shared by others. But I asked myself what God would say about my way of NOT doing something.

Well, fortunately I know that He created me with the gifts I have and personality traits that are unique to me. And He made Mike with his personality and gifts.

God likes a variety of things. There is no need for us to be the same... one of us would be useless.

So if I am to be more like Jesus, obviously I am going to have to change. I need to get those rough edges buffed up, my love walk needs to improve, my patience perfected and an assortment of other things refined.

But, on the other hand, GOD CHANGES NOT, and if I am made in His image, I would "change not," too. So, if we would listen to the Holy Spirit, He would lovingly direct us on what needs to be changed and then we would stand no matter what. Our loving Heavenly Father knows us all inside and out. We are all different, valuable and essential. Let's just listen to Him to know when to change and when to stand and it will be perfect!!
