Arena Records Fall to Sue Smith & Dashes Centerfold at Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Two-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Sue Smith of Blackfoot, Idaho, continued her ascent of the WPRA World Standings with a $22,258 victory at the $67,000-added Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo—the Daddy of ‘Em All—held July 22-30 in Wyoming.

“Cheyenne is just an amazing rodeo,” said Smith. “It’s so historical. The crowd is so involved. It’s an amazing rodeo. After I did well at the rodeo, we went to a restaurant. People were there that had been to the rodeo, and it was like I was a celebrity.”

The horse trainer and leather artisan from Blackfoot, Idaho, has won nearly $50,000 the past two weekends with her great mare Dashes Centerfold.

“It’s a pleasant surprise,” she said. “I didn’t really feel like going and rodeoing a whole lot. I was just going to stay in my circuit. I’ve had so much support and friends just pushing me out there—obviously my husband Kyle (Edwards). Busby Quarter Horses have been huge in opening doors for me and pushing me that direction without being too pushy about it. My friends the Drosihns are the same way. They want me to go a little bit more. It’s friends like that who get you headed in the right direction, and for it to be going good, I guess that’s where I need to be. That’s what I need to be doing at this point.”

Making the win even more monumental was Smith also trained last year’s Cheyenne champion Blazing With My Dude, who carried Andrea Busby to the 2022 title.

THE RUNDOWN w/Sue Smith

Dashes Centerfold, 15.2 h, 1,250 lbs

BIT: Dave Elliot Spur Up 03 with a twisted three-piece, a copper roller mouthpiece (07)

SADDLE: Sue Smith by Three Forks

SADDLE PAD: 3S Custom Equine

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Aluminum with a rim pad on front, aluminum slight wedge on rear. Smith shoes her own horses unless Chris Wilkins is available.

FEED: Purina Strategy Healthy Edge

HAY: Alfalfa hay plus Cubeit hay cubes with 30 percent grass, 70 percent alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: Equi-Pride, Zesterra, MSM, Forco “Centerfold is a bit finicky and a hard keeper on the road. She’s been so much better since she’s been on Forco.”

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Magnet and ceramic blankets

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: “I ride her every day. I’m up at Ogden tonight and I rode her lightly this morning. I don’t work barrels on her. I just work on keeping her stood up. I do a lot of straight lines and turn. A lot of times I’ll pony her. If she’s dialed in, I don’t work on barrels much at all.”

SPONSORS: Elliot Bit & Spurs, Three Forks Saddlery, 3S Custom Equine, Iconoclast, Forco, Zesterra, Coats Saddlery and Rodeo Rigs.

THANKS: Husband Kyle Edwards, friends Jeff and Andrea Busby and the Drosihns family; veterinarians Jason Moulton, Marty Tanner and Beau Beck.

“To come back and win it after a dear friend won it on a horse you trained the year before...that’s incredible to me,” said Smith. “Never in my wildest dreams did I imagine that would happen. When that hit me, it was almost overwhelming.”

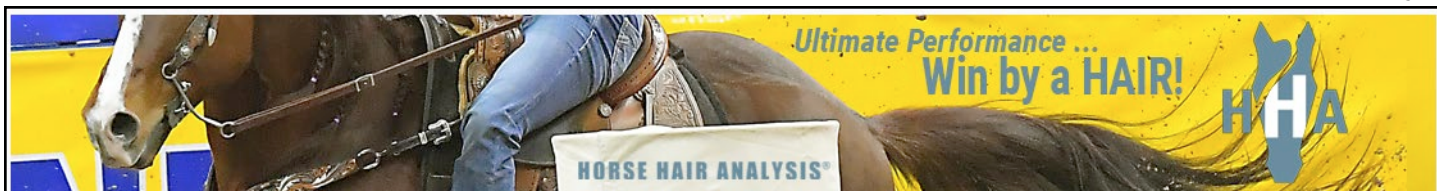

Steely Steiner, who rides Teena Turner and Hillbilly Bombshell—both Smith homebred trainees—told her that next year it’s her turn to keep the streak alive at Cheyenne.

As a bracket-style rodeo, all contestants at Cheyenne made their first run in a qualifying round of slack. The top 72 advanced into one of six quarterfinal performances. The top four from each quarterfinal advanced to one of two semifinal performances. From there, the top six in each semifinal advanced to the championship final.

Smith and Centerfold were fourth in the qualifying round with a 17.52. They drew the last quarterfinal performance on Thursday, July 27, but after winning the Snake River Stampede in Nampa, Idaho, and Ogden Pioneer Days in Utah—with a record time no less—Smith was unsure about making the return trip to Cheyenne due to questionable ground conditions.

“I was nervous about running her so many times there on that type of ground,” she explained. “I just know how hard it is to keep these horses sound when they compete at this level. Every time one of these amazing horses goes through that gate, you’re asking them for their life basically. We put them at risk. That is why barrel racers have such a bad reputation about complaining about the ground but there is so much more to it than winning. The risk you take putting your horse on that ground is bigger than winning. I would give up any win to keep my horse sound.”

“It’s not that I don’t want to win. I’m a competitor. But that’s the way I look at it. My horse comes first. I don’t want to put my horse in any more jeopardy than is necessary to win.”
Ultimately, the arrival of ground guru Randy Spraggins, who ripped the hardpan with his famous skid steer, and just the right amount of rainfall, sent Smith back to Cheyenne.

“That guy’s amazing,” Smith said of Spraggins. “I watched him at Salt Lake City where they went in with those skid steers and took out all the top dirt and tore the hard pan up, conditioned that, and put the ground back. They did that at Cheyenne too.

“As they worked it, it continued to get better. The moisture didn’t hurt a bit. It held a lot better after it rained and then it kept raining just enough to keep it that way.”

Smith said she tries not to overthink her riding of Centerfold when it comes to ground conditions.

“I try not to overthink it on her because then I’ll get in trouble,” she said. “When I go, I obviously don’t want to run that hard all the way from the gate. She can get a little sticky in the alley if I stop. If I can keep forward motion, I don’t have a problem. They kind of stack you up in there, so I have to worry about that a little bit.

“Mostly I just try to get her far enough up to the timer before I let her drop. Then I just try to keep up with her and ride her deep enough up into the hole, so she doesn’t get in on me. Yesterday (in Sunday’s final) I kind of let her get in on me at third and she stepped off of it. She didn’t step off of it because the ground was bad. She just got in on me a little and she took that space up on the backside. But she kept moving.”

Smith and Centerfold posted identical times of 17.37 to take second in their performance and win their semifinal. In the finals, Summer Kosel and FirewaterFrenchFame broke their previous arena record with a 16.97, running second on the ground. Smith and Centerfold were first out after the midway drag and set the new arena benchmark at 16.89.

“I have to commend the committee,” said Smith. “They went above and beyond and did what they had to do to get it better. I went and found the ground person and thanked them for it. When you can go run 16s on two different styles of horses that says a lot for the ground and the effort they made to get it good.”

Now within the Top 15, Smith is going to be running Centerfold’s oldest offspring Diamond Center (“Heff”), by A Smooth Guy, a little bit more.

“I’ll be running him a little bit more now,” said Smith. She had to turn out of the pro rodeo in Preston, Idaho, because Heff needed a few days off due to a puncture wound in the muscle above his hock. “It all worked out good. My vet, Jason Moulton at Animal Health Clinic, is always there for me. He just nipped it in the bud. It just got better from the minute he treated it.”

She has nine foals out of Centerfold, a 12-year-old daughter of Dash Ta Fame and a Proudest Effort mare. Kenna Squires has a Firewater Canyon out of her. Smith has a Frenchmans Guy, who belongs to the Drosihn family.

“The rest of them are mine,” added Smith, who had been pulling embryos out of the mare since she was 4. Although she had the mare ready to run at that age, Centerfold was in a bit of a speed jam, trying to turn her barrels with the same speed she ran down the track.

“I was struggling with her,” Smith admitted. “I had her entered at Buckeye (Arizona for the early January futurities). I thought I could probably do well here, but it will probably bite me in the butt later. I sent her home and flushed her. That’s how we got Diamond Center.”

Smith said Centerfold’s babies have been a nice blend of both her and the sire. Most seem to want to run with their ears pinned back like she does.

“I’m big into the power of broodmares, but you also have to have a nice stallion too,” said Smith. “So, I pick stallions that I gravitate to, like Blazin Jetolena. I’ve bred her to RR Mistakelly. She’s got a Fire Water Flit and a Goodbye Lane. You can see both in those colts, but at the same time you see her traits. Like with Frenchmans Guy of the Drosihns' and the Blazin Jetolena are the same age. The Frenchmans Guy filly looks more like Centerfold than the Blazin Jetolena. The Blazin Jetolena has some of both. You can see the Blazin Jetolena in her and you can see Centerfold. She does stamp her fillies. They all have a tendency to look more like her. The colts—not as much. That might just be a colt versus a filly too.”

As a 5-year-old, Centerfold was the 2016 EquiStat Leading Futurity Horse and the WPRM World Champion Futurity Horse. The start of her rodeo career had a few starts and stops. She was injured at a rodeo in Montana and had to have time off after surgery. Another injury led to the removal of a sequestrum, a piece of dead bone.

“It seemed like every time I’d get going on her something would happen,” Smith said. “The last one happened a couple of years ago. I was just taking her to circuit rodeos, and she’d won a few. She was holding her own. Then we discovered she had a chip in her ankle, and we had to get that fixed. When they were doing that, they actually discovered that she had fractured the bottom of her cannon bone at one time. She’s over all of that now and feels really good.”

Smith has two circuit rodeos this weekend in Heber City, Utah, and Idaho Falls, Idaho, where Heff will get the call. She also plans on running Heff at the Royal Crown Derby in Rock Springs, Wyoming, and hitting a few of the rodeos close-by. (Hopefully later this week, the rodeo results will be updated so the WPRM can update standings so we can see exactly where Smith sits in the Top 15!)

NBHA Youth World Championships

This past weekend at the 2023 NBHA Youth & Teen World Championships in Perry, GA the decades old cornerstone event of the industry featured repeat champions. In the Youth Division, Braia Vogel won for the 2nd straight year; this year with Chrome By Design & 2022 with Frenchies Single Guy. In the Teen Division, Pressley Green, from the famous Green barrel racing family won the title on Sissys Slick Design this year after winning the Youth Division in 2021 on Little Jetsablazin.

We caught up with both of them to ask a few questions about their big wins!

Chrome By Design & Braia Vogel — NBHA Youth World Youth Champion!

BRR: Can you walk us through your runs in your the 2 Qualifying runs and then the Finals run?

Vogel: In round one, I wanted Chrome and I to have a clean smooth run to qualify us back to the finals. He performed well and was able to make it back in the first go.

In round two, I wanted to see how he would perform since he'd never ran in the Reaves Arena before. He ended up doing amazing, winning round two!

In the finals, I was hoping for clean barrels because my previous horse tipped a barrel. As soon as I turn the third, I just had a feeling that he was going to clock a great time!

BRR: Can you share with us about your gelding where your gelding came from and his career up to now?

Vogel: Chrome was bought by the McWilliams family while his mom (French Twister) was in foal with him. He was born at the McWilliams farm in Kentucky and raised there until he was bought by Brad Wagner when he was a 2 year old. Brad trained him and seasoned him through is 6 year old year.

BRR: What are a few things you did with him to have him at his best for this weekend?

Vogel: He goes on the Freestyle Horse Exerciser daily and then is ridden 3 times per week, gets Flexineb treatments and also Bemer!!

BRR: Can you tell us a little about yourself and your barrel racing career?

Vogel: My only ever sport in life has been barrel racing. I started riding when I was 3-4 years old and I have been doing it ever since!

BRR: What are your future plans for you and your horse throughout the rest of the 2023 year?

Vogel: Chrome and I are planning to go to the Breeders Challenge, Pink Buckle, and All American Quarter Horse Congress.

BRR: What is the funnest part of running barrels?

Vogel: Being able to see friends from all over the country at different shows throughout the year.

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?

Vogel: My parents, my Master bear trap saddle, and my Bemer blanket.

NBHA Teen World Championships

Sissys Slick Design & Pressley Green
— NBHA Youth World Teen Champion!

BRR: Can you walk us through your runs in your the 2 Qualifying runs and then the Finals run?

Green: My go round 1 run, I hit the first barrel to qualify back with a 14.9 in the Reeves Arena then the second go round I ran a 14.8 to qualify in the 1d in the Perdue arena. Then I ran in the finals and my stud walked in the gate better than ever and I just went in the arena and I did what I was supposed to do and Slick did his job and ran a 14.6 to win the teen world championship

BRR: Can you share with us about your stud where your he came from and his career up to now?

Green: Sissy's Slick Design is a 2015 stallion out of our mare Sissy's Little Coin and Slick By Design. My Papa raised and trained him and he is actually a half sibling to the mare (Little Jetsablazin) I won the youth world championship 2 years ago and Slick has been 3rd at youth world before; him and I have been on a streak together here lately.

BRR: What are a few things you did with him to have him at his best for this weekend?

Green: My Papa Mike Green rode him every other day before we left and we wanted to keep him rested and on his game for the week ahead; we also gave him some Core Nutrition supplements.

BRR: Can you tell us a little about yourself and your barrel racing career?

Green: My name is Pressley Green and I was pretty much born into barrel racing and I've always loved it since I could walk. I love just being at the barn even if I'm not riding just to spend time with my horses. My career in barrel racing has been pretty successful so far; I've won our youth state show 2x, I've won the Youth and Teen World Championships. Also now I've been 3rd 2x, 2nd, and 5th at the NBHA Youth and Teen World Championships. I enjoy it and plan on continuing it and I plan on trying to follow my family's legacy!

BRR: What are your future plans for you and your horse throughout the rest of the 2023 year?

Green: I plan on going to more big and popular shows on my stud now and I'm just going to try and give Slick the best opportunities he can have.

BRR: What is the funnest part of running barrels?

Green: The funnest part of barrel racing to me is just my horses working for me and me just being able to accomplish my dreams.

NBHA Youth & Teen World Fun Facts:

The Green family's great mare Sissys Little Coin has produced three NBHA world champions by three different stallions. Her first was Sheza Dime, by Famous Jr, who was ridden by family patriarch Mike Green to the NBHA Senior 1D Championship in 2014. Granddaughter Pressley Green won the NBHA Youth 1D Championship in 2021 aboard Little Jetsablazin, by Blazin Jetolena.

Green won her second title in the Teen division this year aboard Sissys Slick Design, by Slick By Design. She was also fifth in the 1D this on Sissy's colt by The Goodbye Lane, Lovininthefastlane.

Sissys Little Coin, by Packin Sixes out of Queen's Coin, by Pocket Coin (TB), is one of the all-time leading futurity horses. She ran out more than $220,000 to be the leading futurity horse in 2000.

Loosenort Pockets $36K at Keystone Classic Open Slot, Wins With Martinis At Midnight

By Tanya Randall

Marne Loosenort is no stranger to winning high-stakes slot races, having captured the $100,000 BFA SuperStakes in 2010. The veteran barrel horse trainer from Hazel, Kentucky, captured her first open slot race championship at the Keystone Barrel Classic Big Bucks Slot Race, held July 29 in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Loosenort took home the top prize of $25,000 aboard her 6-year-old gelding Martinis At Midnight (“Tito”) and finished third on PT Love Tabea Blazin (“Chrome”) for $11,000.

“I have to thank Don Young for that,” said Loosenort. “I didn’t have any spots for it, and he offered them to us. I thought I haven’t been anywhere in a couple of weeks, so I thought why not? I’m very thankful that we did!”

This was actually Loosenort’s first open slot race. “Steve Wright and Adele Stevens treated us like kings and queens,” said Loosenort. “We had super nice stalls and the ground was good. That place was immaculate and they treated us so nicely. It was a super nice production.”

Her winning horse, Tito, is by the A Streak Of Fling, Marthas Six Moons stallion Streak Of Moon BRZ and out of Ritas Gone, a Dash Ta Fame mare that Loosenort trained and futurityed. She bought the gelding as a 2-year-old from his breeders Carrie and Janie Potashnick.

“I ran Ritas Gone and sold her to Carrie,” Loosenort explained. “Carrie did great on her. She won a bunch on that mare. She did way better than I did on her. That mare and I had a love-hate relationship. Carrie and her just matched up perfect.” Loosenort also has Ritas Gone’s 4-year-old PC Frenchmans Hayday that she’s running this year.

“I think that mare is really going to be a producer,” she said. “You can’t argue that bottom side.”

Loosenort also has a lot of familiarity to Chrome’s family. The 4-year-old Blazin Jetolena gelding is out of her great rodeo mare Lovin Fame, by Dash Ta Fame. She and husband Bob co-own Chrome with her longtime friend and client of 25 years, Danny Kingins, who raised the gelding.

“I’m pretty excited about him,” she said. “He’s really coming on. I’m super excited because we raised him out of Lovin Fame. He’s her first foal. We had to retire her this year, which I have mixed emotions on that. She’s fat and happy, but I hated that I had to retire her. It seems like the boys have helped me through that, doing well. She was my main horse and I made it to the American on her I don’t know how many times.”

McKinlee Paschal & DDD ShawneStrekNFame Win Junior Title at Cinch World Championship Junior Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Running second out in the Saturday night Finals, McKinlee Paschal and her 9-year-old gelding DDD ShawneStrekNFame ("Poncho") turned in the fastest barrel racing run of the junior barrel racing at the Cinch World Championship Junior Rodeo, held at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, to win $7,232 and the event's title. Savannah Shumpert of Mooreville, Mississippi, won the world championship title based on yearlong points totals.

"It's an amazing event! Everyone should enter!" exclaimed Paschal, who was biting her fingernails through the finals to see if her time would hold.

The Nome, Texas, barrel racer earned her way into the finals through the rounds since she wasn't in the points standings and made four runs to capture her title.

"In the first round, I hit the second barrel to win it," she recalled. "In the second round, we placed third. That's what qualified us for the semifinals. Friday night we were second in the semifinals with a 17.1, and in the short round, we ran a 16.8 and got first."

Paschal purchased Poncho two years ago from Shayna Gattis of Junction, Texas, who trained the gelding by Streaking Ta Fame out of Denis Winn's Shawne Bug mare Winn Shawnee Jet.

"I've been trying to season him the past couple of years, and we've really been getting along," said Paschal.

Paschal grew up in a rodeo family. Her father Shane roped and dogged steers and her mother ran barrels.

"It's been throughout my family for generations," said Paschal, who also competed in the United Professional Rodeo and Cowboys Professional Rodeo associations along with high school rodeo. "I grew up around horses. When I was 10, I started competing at youth rodeos. Ever since then I've been going at it."

Paschal will be a freshman member of the Fightin' Texas Aggie Rodeo Team as she studies toward a degree in public health at Texas A&M University in College Station.

Tailyn Kimble & CL Falena Capture Youth Title at Cinch World Championship Junior Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Clayton, New Mexico's Tailyn Kimble climbed aboard her mother's horse CL Falena to capture the Cinch World Championship Junior Rodeo youth barrel racing title. Kailyn Armstrong of Mesa, Arizona, won the WCRA Division Youth World Champion title for the barrel racing via a commanding lead in the points. Tailyn, who was attending her very first WCRA Division Youth event, picked up $4,495 for her rodeo championship.

"I'm very grateful for the opportunity to run and be on that kind of stage," said Tailyn, who will be an eighth grader in the fall. "I loved how they had it super pumped up with lots of energy."

Tailyn, who was the Texas Jr High Rodeo Barrel Racing Champion for Region 1, opted to ride Falena over her own horse Tiger because the mare has more speed. She'd only made two runs on her before at the Texas Jr High School Rodeo Finals earlier in the summer.

Her mother Johnna wasn't sure who Tailyn should ride in Guthrie given the standard pattern and setup.

"We were back and forth on whether we should run her little horse or this mare," said Johnna. "This mare just has more run. Tailyn rode her so well and the mare just did her job and took care of her. They handled it like a champ. We were very proud of both of them."

Tailyn was near the top of the pack for every run, especially the last one that counted for the event title.

"The first round I ran a 17.3 and I ended up third in the round," she recalled. "The second round I ran a 17.0 and won the round and the aggregate. In the semifinals I ran a 17.128 and came back third to the finals. In the finals, I ran a 17.121."

Mom may have lost her horse, one that she originally hoped would be Tailyn's anyway. Her uncle and aunt, John and Fara Garcia, raised and trained the 15-year-old daughter of Super CL, a stallion that Johnna ran some in college, out of Gails Rocket, by Merridoc.

"Tailyn did try running her about 18 months ago," said Johnna. "She wasn't ready, and Falena wasn't ready. This year we thought we'd try it again at state finals and they were just a team, and it carried over to the Cinch finals.

"I think for them to come together in just six runs says a lot about the quality of horse she is, and the quality of rider Tailyn is. It's very exciting."

History Made at 127th Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo

From three bareback riding champions to unheralded first-time winners to repeat champions to arena records, Championship Sunday at the 127th Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo (CFD) was a day to remember.

The record-setting day began in the bareback riding when, for the just the third time since the event began here in 1936, three cowboys were crowned champions at the "Daddy of 'em All." Louisiana's Kade Sonnier, Wyoming's Cole Reiner and California's Clayton Biglow shared the winning stage after they each scored 87.5 points. Biglow won the title here in 2019; Sonnier is a rookie competing here for the first time and Reiner, who grew up in Buffalo and attended college in Sheridan and Casper, has three Wrangler National Finals Rodeo (NFR) qualifications since turning pro in 2019.

Both Sonnier and Reiner felt lucky to even have a chance at the title. CFD advances 12 contestants to the finals in each event, but in the rough stock events those who tie for sixth also advance. Of the 14 bareback riders who competed on Sunday, Sonnier and Reiner were two of the three who advanced on a tie in Semi Finals 1.

Joey Williams, a rancher from Volberg, Montana, won the breakaway roping with a time of 3.8 seconds. The mom of three is a former collegiate champion who has qualified for the National Finals Breakaway Roping twice. Williams, who earned a Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree from the University of South Dakota, won nearly $20,000 in Frontier Park.

Luke Potter of Maple City, Kansas, ranked 24th in the tie-down roping world standings when Cheyenne Frontier Days began. He started in the qualifying round July 17 on a borrowed horse since his main mount was injured last month and did well enough to qualify for the Quarter Finals last Thursday. On Wednesday he purchased an experienced roping horse called Katniss and finished third with both his quarter-final and semi-final runs. His time of 10.6 seconds on Sunday gave him the CFD title as well as a big boost in the standings which could put him in contention for his first NFR berth.

The CFD record in saddle bronc riding had been 91 points since Louisiana's Cody DeMoss set it in 2010 and it took another Louisianian to break the record. Ryder Sanford of Sulphur bested the mark by one and a half points when he scored 92.5 points on Sankey Pro Rodeo & Robinson Bulls' horse named The Black Tie. Sanford, who ranked 24th in the world when the rodeo began, was thrilled to win the championship here in the same year as Sonnier. They competed together on the McNeese State University rodeo team in their home state where Sanford earned a degree in civil engineering.

Texas team ropers Billy Bob Brown of Carbon and Kirby Blankenship of Lampasas may not be household names, but their time of 8.0 seconds gave them the CFD championship. The duo spent most of the past four years competing part time at rodeos and stand-alone ropings near home. They decided to make a month-long trip to major rodeos this month and success here has them altering their plans and staying on the rodeo trail.

Eli Lord of Sturgis, South Dakota, became the first of three men to win a repeat championship here. Some of Lord's earliest memories are of Cheyenne Frontier Days as his father J.B. competed here for more than two decades, coming close but never winning a title. Lord took an early lead in the steer wrestling with a time of 5.9 seconds Sunday, then watched the rest of the field, including two world champions, try unsuccessfully to best his time. Lord, the 2019 winner, earned his second CFD championship.

Cheyenne Frontier Days steer roping runs in Troy Tillard's veins. His grandfather competed here for the first time 80 years ago. "As a kid we worked all summer and got to spend the (rodeo) week in Cheyenne," Tillard said. "Cheyenne is a huge deal for most rodeo people, but for our family it's like 10 times."

Tillard's uncle Marty won the steer roping title here in 1991; his father Tim won the senior steer roping championship in 2010; and Troy won his first CFD title in 2004. Nineteen years later he was back on the winner's platform with a 14.6-second run.

Records also fell in the barrel racing. Summer Kosel of Glenham, South Dakota, broke the long-standing record for the fastest barrel racing time here in 2022 with a 17.02-second run. On Sunday, she broke her own record with a 16.97 and it looked like she was on track to win the championship. But Sue Smith of Blackfoot, Idaho, and her mare Dashes Centerfold had other plans. They beat Kosel's time by .08 seconds and set a new record with a time of 16.89 to win the championship.

This was the first time for Smith to run Centerfold in Frontier Park and "she likes it," Smith said. A trainer of futurity horses who generally competes at rodeos in the Wilderness Circuit, Smith earned more than $200,000 at futurities on Centerfold and has won a similar amount at futurities on one of the sorrel mare's colts.

Seven of the 12 bull riders made qualified rides in the finals with Tyler Taylor of Stephenville, Texas, taking the lead when he scored 89 points on Stace Smith Rodeo's bull named Tom Horn. Stetson Wright of Beaver, Utah, who was the 2019 bull riding champion here, bumped Taylor to second with a 91.5-point ride on Dakota Rodeo's bull Trump Train. The closest anyone came to Wright's score was an 89.5 by Josh Frost of Randlett, Utah on Stace Smith's Let's Gamble.

Wright, the two-time world champion bull rider, won the bull riding here as a rookie in 2019 and added another CFD bull riding title to his trophy case this year. Wright won the saddle bronc riding at CFD the past two years and also won the all-around title in both 2019 and 2022. Although he missed qualifying for the finals in saddle bronc riding in 2023, he earned enough in that event, when added to his bull riding winnings, to take home the CFD all-around championship for the third time.

Other champions at Frontier Park included Slade Keith of Stanfield, Arizona, who earned the Rookie Saddle Bronc Riding Championship on Saturday, and Team Agin who were crowned Wild Horse Race champions for the third time.

The 128th edition of Cheyenne Frontier Days will be held July 19-28, 2024, at Frontier Park.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Mike asked me if I ever thought we'd wake up one day and have nothing to do, because we FINALLY got it all done... Nope! Because I am hardwired to DO something ALL THE TIME! (Much to his dismay!)

"Resting" could possibly be one of those things that a lot of us think unimportant. Right? Please don't tell me that I am the only one. . . . It seems so "righteous". To be hardworking, honest, salt of the earth. Those are great traits!

It sure beats the alternative God points out to us in Prov. 24:33-34. "A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands and poverty will surely come on us." Well, we don't want THAT! And when someone asks you how you are, do you say "BUSY!"? I heard someone say that 'busy' stands for: Being Under Satan's Yoke.

Friends, there is balance in everything. Matthew 11:28 says, "Come to Me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest." If we will commit ALL our time to Him, there will be work time, rest time and play time, all in perfect proportion!

Only God knows what that proportion will be for you and me. So let's ask Him.

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
