Mega Win For Chloe Gray & Guys On Firewater

By Tanya Randall

In 2012, Chloe Gray was sitting on an $8,000 check as she had the lead in the finals of the All-American Youth. She heard her time hold run after run until the last drag when she got bumped to second.

When she and Guys On Firewater ("Cross") posted the only sub-14 of the entire Mega to take the lead with more than 220 head to go in Saturday's finals, she opted for a different strategy.

"Every time a good horse was coming up, I'd go to the bathroom or step outside!" she admitted. "I did not even want to watch! I was joking with everyone that I developed ulcers waiting it out!"

The Yatesville, Georgia, barrel racer and trainer picked up $8,573 total at this year's Mega, held as originally scheduled on August 20-22 in Jackson, Mississippi. She and cross picked up the additional $573 after taking 10th in the first round and placing in the adult incentive on a carryover.

"We had high hopes for him," Gray said of the leggy, 6-year-old gelding. Last year at the Mega, he ran an .0 in the second go, but I drug over a barrel. Going into this we knew he kind of liked Jackson and wanted to give it another shot this year."

Cross was just three runs returned from a 45-day break, having made his first run back the weekend prior at the NBHA Colonial Nationals.

"The first go, he felt good and was snappy. He was top of the drag and ran a .2," Gray said. "The second go, we were last on the drag and he kind of got caught up in his turns a little bit and run a .5."

"He's funny. He's so big you would think the bottom of the ground doesn't affect him. He likes it smooth when he runs."

For the finals, Gray wanted to make a smooth run and tighten up Cross's first barrel.

"He's big and he's goofy," she chuckled. "He doesn't have to try hard a whole lot. He's so fast and long-strided, he can make a mistake and still clock. I know in the first two go's I kind took a step past my first barrel so that was kind of my game plan for the finals was to really bump him and get a better first barrel. I knew I was top of the drag so I really wanted to take advantage of that."

Gray says she could tell when she was getting Cross ready for their finals run that the gelding was focused on the task at hand. "He was really spunky all week," she said, "so in the Finals I was just trying to keep him focused. Brushing him and getting him ready it seemed like he was listening to everything that I was whispering to him. He seemed really focused and has that special attitude. I knew he was going to go in there and work for me."

Bred by Valerie Vansickle Kiphart, Cross is by the proven performing Frenchmans Guy son Frenchmans Six Dash out of the Fire Water Flit mare Firewater Annie. He came to Gray's barn as a well-broke, lightly started 3-year-old. It wasn't long afterward that Kelly Craver, another client of Gray's, purchased the gelding.

Gray says the gelding always had talent but had to learn how to manage the legs that came with his 16.3-hand frame.

"He came along a little slower," she said. "He had to figure out where to put his feet. We didn't futurity him because we thought he needed to be brought along a little slower. He needed to find his speed. He's always been super willing go in there and do his job. He's super honest. Never once tried to hit a barrel or do anything bad. If anything, he might misplace his feet every once in a while. He just slowly came along and grew into those legs. He's really

Gray, 24, is past NBHA Youth 1D World Champion. Her parents were involved with horses, although her dad grew up with them. She got interested in barrel racing when the family received a flyer for the Perry, Georgia, rodeo.

"My mom's not much of an animal person and she tossed it in the trash," Gray laughed. "I saw it and said I wanted to do that. I started out doing English for the first six months. That definitely wasn't my cup of tea. I wasn't too in to it, but it gave me a good foundation as far as balance goes."

She started competing in junior rodeos and later joined the NBHA.

"I started off on some not-so-great horses that taught me a lot," she said. "Once we got into NBHA, Carl Wise took us under his wing."

It was from Wise, a Southeastern barrel racing icon, and his daughter Kassie that Gray learned the true ins and outs of barrel racing and training.

Today, Gray is an active professional rodeo competitor—when COVID isn't causing cancellations—and has her own breeding operation. She stands proven sire Tomahawk N Firewater, a son of Fire Water Flit and Jodie Bug Moon, making him a full brother to NFR producer Gin N Firewater. Gray spent part of her summer taking equine reproduction courses and hopes to offer those services to the public starting in January.

GOODTIMEGUY - 2017 Buckskin Gelding out of NONSTOPPIN GOOD TIME by Good Timin Hank

Goodtimeguy is a super nice 3 year old gelding with a great mind and eager to learn. "Rocky" has been ridden a lot of miles outside doctoring and working cattle. He is lightly started on the barrel pattern as well as the roping sled. His solid foundation will be an asset in any training direction. He is sound and built to last!

RUNNIN IN MY SOX

2019 Gray Mare

out of RUNNIN IN HEELS by Tres Seis

This is a big strong correct filly that looks like an early futurity prospect. Her dam was un-started due to injury, but her maternal line is full of proven producers. Her 2nd dam is a grade 2 finalist producer and her 3rd dam has produce earnings of nearly $350,000.

Paid in the PB, RB, FF & TC100

FLIP FLOPS N CROP SOX

2019 Sorrel Mare

out of JC PICK SIX by Tres Seis

This filly has the makings of a top futurity horse. Her AAA rated dam is a proven producer on the track and soon to be in the barrel arena. Kassie Mowry has her 3 year old full sister and calls her "Special". Not only does this filly look the part, she's gorgeous and amazing minded.

Down The Stretch They Come – Pro Rodeo Update

By Tanya Randall

The PRCA announced last Wednesday that there will indeed be a National Finals Rodeo in 2020, but they wouldn't confirm anything further until September 30, just after the qualifying season's end.

For the NFR hopefuls, just five weekends remain. Thanks to the craziness of COVID, no one knows what it will take to make the NFR. In recent years it's taken $90,000, but this year it looks more like $45,000.

Unfortunately for some, that figure puts them in the position of having to double their season earnings in the last month of the season. There's money to be won, but it simply looks too spread out to seem possible.

As one Top 15 member said, no one wants to make Springhill, Louisiana, and Gooding, Idaho, in the same weekend.

Caldwell, Idaho's Jessie Telford was the high-money earner over the weekend, picking up $4,560 for winning the $7,500-added Northwest Montana Fair & Rodeo in Kalispell ($2,940) and placing fourth ($1,620) at the Cassie County Fair & Rodeo in Burley, Idaho.

Those were the only two rodeos she entered and she rode her great 9-year-old gelding Famous Cool Whip, by Dash 'Ta Fame out of her mare Had A Kinta, by Doc's Rocky Top.

"It was a good weekend, definitely," she said. She moved up five spots to 17th in the World Standings with $26,561.

"Being 17th sounds so close, but really when you look at the math and all the numbers, I feel like I'm still going to have to win $15,000 in a month," she explained. "That's pretty impossible with the amount of rodeos left. I'm not high enough in the (PRCA) Tour standings to get to go to Rapid, so that takes that side of it out also."

Telford is still entering, especially all of the good upcoming rodeos in her circuit.

"I have Tremonton this week and that's it," said Telford, who made her run in slack on Tuesday afternoon. "I'm not anywhere until the following week. I've entered in Filer, Evanston and Dillon. I was fouled at Gunnison, so it was Gunnison or Evanston. I just chose Evanston because it was closer."

While miracles could happen and she make her second NFR this year, Telford's content knowing she's going to be high enough in the standings for whatever comes with next year's rodeos.

"I feel really confident that I will be in the Top 25 to be able to get into everything next year," she said. "The reality of it is that is pretty much where I was going into last weekend and I feel like I kind of secured that and I'm pretty happy with it."

As of August 25, these are the rodeos tentatively remaining with more than $1,000 added for the 2020 rodeo season. For the last week of August: Rapid City, South Dakota ($5,300), Tremonton, Utah ($7,000-added) and Alamosa, Colorado ($1,700).

Labor Day Weekend: Filer, Idaho ($8,000), Gunnison, Colorado ($5,000), Killdeer, South Dakota (Friday $3,000; Saturday $2,100), Elk City, Oklahoma ($4,000), Dillon, Montana ($3,000), Evanston, Wyoming ($5,000). Midweek is Blackfoot, Idaho ($2,900).

The second weekend of September: Fort Madison, Iowa ($11,000) and Salt Lake City, Utah ($4,000), Abilene, Texas ($5,000).

The third weekend of September: Gooding, Idaho ($10,000), Spring Hill, Louisiana ($3,500), Redmond, Oregon ($2,500), Buffalo, Texas ($1,500), Dickinson, North Dakota ($3,000).

Outside of the Gold Buckle ProRodeo Tour Finale in Rapid City, Stephenville, Texas, with $3,000 added will be the largest added money rodeo on the final weekend.

The Tour Finale, which has already announced a $300,000 payout—a nearly $40,000 purse for the barrel racers, will be the best last chance for an NFR berth for many. Although full details on the Tour Finale have yet to be release, the top 24 in the Pro Tour Standings that have attended at least half of the 24 designated rodeos are eligible to compete.

Most of the barrel racers in the PRCA Tour Standings have met the attendance requirement and for the couple that haven't there aren't enough rodeos left to make up the difference. One three-

PRCA Tour Rodeos remain: Filer, Idaho, Gooding, Idaho, and the RAM National Circuit Finals, which is scheduled for the second weekend of September in Greeley, Colorado.

Although the money counts toward the 2021 standings, points won at the RAM National Circuit Finals may boost someone into eligibility for the Tour Finale. As of August 25, all of the Top 20 have the Tour Finale made with the exception of Wenda Johnson and Telford.

*The agonizing pain we feel losing The Kandyman reflects the pure pleasure we felt in knowing him.
Our time with him was suddenly cut short.*

All Rights & Lefts Exercise with DaCota Monk

By Tanya Randall with DaCota Monk

One of DaCota Monk's favorite drills is the simple, but classic All Rights & Lefts.

"It's one of my favorite drills when I'm starting one on the barrels," he says. "I even like it for finished horses that are trying to out-think you or if you just want to work on one specific turn without working the entire barrel pattern."

The Method

All Rights & Lefts uses the traditional pattern, so there's no reason to move your barrels! For the sake of simplicity, the drill is described as for a right-handed first barrel horse.

All Rights: Start by going to the right first barrel, you can turn it one or two times, and then go to the third barrel. From the third, you go the second barrel. You can either finish the drill by going back toward the alleyway to stop or keep the drill going by loping circles in the corners before heading back to the first barrel. (See diagram).

All Lefts: To work all lefts, flip the pattern and start with by turning the second barrel first before going to the third and then the first. Just as with All Rights, you stop or work another circuit.

"Most of the time, I like to go in and trot it and then go back and lope it," Monk notes.

Monk also wants his horses to have strong command of the basics before he starts working rights and lefts. He also wants them to know how to correctly make a turn before adding a barrel to the equation.

"I like to a lot of dry work before I start them on barrels to see how tight of a circle they can handle," he says. "If they can handle a really tight circle, hold their lead and body position and not panic, then I stay pretty tight around the barrel. Obviously, it's really slow and relaxed, but it's a lot tighter than you would think."

His optimum pocket is three-foot all the way around the turn.

"I try to keep the barrel behind my leg," he says. "I like to keep their body pocketed so they wrap around it—not a whole lot of nose, but a little bit of bend in their body."

Benefits

All rights and lefts allows you to continuously focus on form in the turns without having to worry about the lead change. It's also great for teaching horses to maintain forward motion and finish their turns.

"It helps your first barrel because you're really completing that turn and headed toward the third barrel," he explains. "They're really having to listen to you at the second and third because that's not the way they normally go."

Monk says it also helps strengthen a horse for their first turn. When working a regular pattern, you only make that turn once so your horse isn't as physically strong as he is for the other two turns.

"It will also help your horse complete the third barrel," he adds. "A lot of horses will get in a hurry and want to run home. When you turn that third barrel and go the first, it gives them something to think about. It also helps with your body position by turning and pointing your hand toward the first barrel instead of pointing your hand home. When you (point your hand home), they normally step off instead of going straight home. I feel like every curve and straight line is time off."

Another variation of the drill can help with the lead change too. The greater distance between the first and third gives you more space to work on the lead change without the next barrel coming up so quickly.

"If I'm working on my first barrel lead change and I'm having trouble with a colt, I'll turn my first, ask for a lead change and head to the third and turn to the left," he explains. "That helps those colts get that really pretty lead change. It helps throw them on that lead when you move on the backside to go the third rather than the second."

One-Hand Challenge

Monk says he probably goes to one hand a lot sooner than most people would think, even when doing this basic drill with his colts. If the horse has trouble, he'll go back to two hands until they're broke enough to handle it.

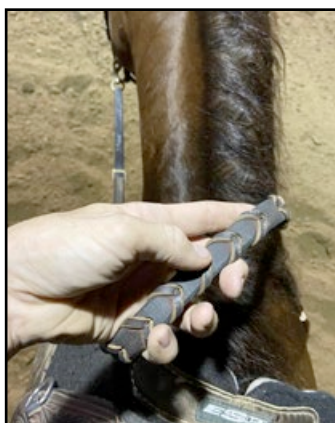

"Even when my sister breaks my colts, I tell her to ride one handed as soon as she can," he says. "When you first start loping circles around the arena you need to hands, but I want to get them to a point where you can lope a circle around the arena with one hand on the rein without them losing their shape all the time."

When starting All Rights & Lefts, Monk wants them going one-handed as soon as possible too.

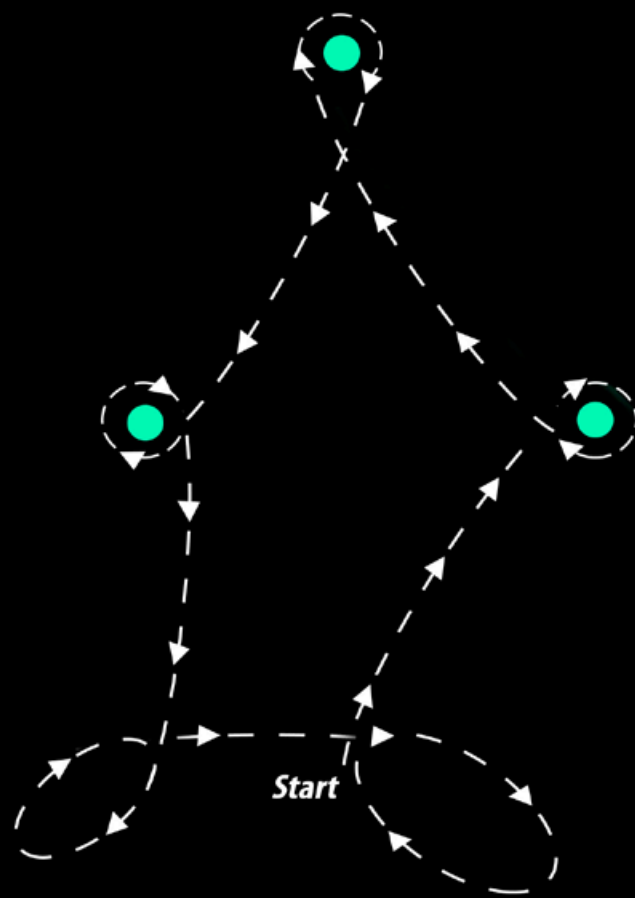

"Training a horse one-handed is important because we'll drop to one hand in a run," he explains. "Sometimes we'll drop to one hand too soon and the horses panic and start the turn too soon. We get mad that they shouldered the barrel, but we've never taught them to do it one handed. We always do our slow work two-handed until we get to our perfect spot then we drop one rein and go to the saddle horn. When we run, we go to our saddle horn two-strides before we're supposed to and we're expecting them to do what we showed them two-handed."

Monk says using his one-handed techniques on the All Rights & Lefts drill allows him to work on forward motion without having to handle them as much.

"If they make mistake you can go around again or go on to the next one," he notes. "It's not always going to feel perfect when you first start doing things one-handed because they're not used to that feel and sometimes they'll lose their body position, but if you just stick with it, you can still get same feel as two hands if your horse is really broke and your hand is in the right position on the reins. I feel it makes a huge difference with the babies. They get a huge confidence boost from it because you're more relaxed when you're one-handed."

2020 Myers Performance Horse Sale Results

This past Saturday, August 22, with the majestic view of the Black Hills of South Dakota in the background, the Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale at the Seven Down Arenas, Spearfish, SD held another market setting sale. The crowd was big and the bidding was brisk as nearly 40 riding horses and another 20 foals, yearlings, and broodmares walked through the sale ring.

As is the case across the industry, proven crosses were the hottest horses of the sale. Topping the 2020 edition of the Myers Sale was the freaky natural athlete, Hez Famous Guys. His dappled grey coat and beautiful movement led to a bidding war that ended at $80,000. The 3 yr old grey gelding by Frenchmans Guy is out of the blue hen mare, Disarray. The well bred daughter of Dash Ta Fame has produced rodeo & futurity winner, Famous Mic Guy Ver, slot race winner Guys Famous Girl, and futurity and rodeo winner Guyz R A Mystery as well. This gelding displayed the magic cross of the top 2 All Time Sires of the barrel racing world, Frenchmans Guy and Dash Ta Fame. The Platts family in Arizona purchased this neat gelding.

The second high selling horse also showed a proven cross. Queen Of Smooth is the full sister to Smooth N Famous, the winner of over $250,000, Smooth N Famous has won everything from futurities, derbies and rodeos and now is winning in youth events. By the late A Smooth Guy, sire of barrel earners of over $750k, this quick footed and fast sorrel filly was out of the Dash Ta Fame/Frenchmans Guy mare, Fc Peachfuzz Ta Fame. The second dam is leading producer and one of the first big winners for Frenchmans Guy, Sx Frenchmans Peach. The fancy filly found a new home with the Lowery family in North Carolina.

The third high selling horse was a striking buckskin filly by A Smooth Guy named, Tutti Fruti Smoothie. A crowd favorite with her buckskin color, exceptional build and long mane and tail, Tutti Fruti Smoothie was out of Cowgirls Cartel who is by Myers stallion Cowboys Cartel. Her second dam is the Paddys Irish Whiskey daughter, Full A Irish Whiskey, who produced Bring It On Guys (LTE $300k) by Frenchman Guy and also Smooth Movin Guy (LTE $85k) by A Smooth Guy. That makes this fancy filly a 3/4 sister to Smooth Movin Guy. The gavel dropped at $45,000 and the filly went to the Baze family in Texas.

The next high selling horse was again out of the great Myers mare, Disarray and by A Smooth Guy. The 2 yr old grey filly named A Smooth Disarray showed her power and quickness in the preview and it caught the eyes of the buyers. The filly brought $43,000 and went to the Hickeys in Texas. Disarray has produced over $250k of winners already making this fancy filly a 3/4 sister to big winners

Famous Mic Guy Ver, Guys R A Mystery and Guys Famous Girl.

The fifth highest selling horse of the Myers Sale was another cute filly by Frenchmans Guy, Shez Got Guy Visions. The classy bay filly was a 3 yr old on track for the futurities. She had been exhibited over the winter in Arizona and was ready to go on with. Her dam, Moon Visions, is a Mr Jess Perry/Marthas Six Moons mare who consistently produces classy horses. After her barrel racing career is over she will be a top broodmare prospect. The 3 yr old mare went to the Lynchs in Arizona.

This year was the first major offering of both the Lucky Wonder Horse and Mr Sassy Frenchman riding age colts. Lucky Wonder Horse is the combination of All Time Leading Race Sire First Down Dash with current rodeo winning NFR mare, Rosas Cantina CC. His dam line includes 3 NFR horses, Rosas Cantina CC, Dash Ta Vanila & Sx Frenchmans Vanila. The high selling Lucky Wonder Horse colt was Seriously Lucky, a 2 yr old buckskin gelding out of the Frenchman Guy daughter Seriously Guys, the full sister to BFA Futurity Champion Guys Cash Perks. The big, powerful gelding showed the combination of speed and collection you would expect from this cross. He sold to the Hatchs from Florida for $36,000.

Mr Sassy Frenchman is sired by $14 million dollar sire Frenchmans Guy and out of the stakes winner of $110,503 and producer of $1.5 million in race earnings, Jess Sass Me. The Mr Jess Perry daughter is out of one of the best Corona Cartel daughters, Sassy Smith. He has already earned over $45,000 running barrels and heading and is still competing. Mr Sassy Frenchman's high seller was the sorrel 2 year old filly, Sassy French Kirk. The quick, collected elegant filly showed her stuff in the preview and sale ring catching the buyers eyes. She brought $26,000 to Negretes in California. She was out of Jenny Kirk, a No Brakes Now/Dr Kirk mare from a proven arena performing family. She was a 3/4 sister to Matt Reeves' gelding French Kirk who has won everything there is to win as a hazing horse. This versatile athlete will go on to be a neat outcross as a broodmare after her performance career.

Overall 49 horses changes hands for a sale total of over $1 million with an average of $21,796. BARREL RACING REPORT NEWS

The Kandyman passes

The promising young stallion career of The Kandyman has been cut short. Last Thursday night, August 20, 2020, The Kandyman was laid to rest due to complications from colic.

The Kandyman was a futurity winning son of leading barrel sire, Tres Seis, sire of $2 Million in barrel earners, and out of 2 Time Slot Race winner and leading futurity winning Dash Ta Fame mare, Famous Silk Panties. The 7 yr old beautiful bay stallion's first crop of barrel colts are just getting ready for the 2021 barrel futurity year and are showing great promise.

"The pain of loss is severe because the pleasure of life is so great." —Jerry Sittser

The agonizing pain we feel losing The Kandyman reflects the pure pleasure we felt in knowing him. Our time with him was suddenly and drastically cut short.

We were blessed spending the day Monday washing, picturing, and watching him play. He is irrepalable to us all. The only thing we can find comfort in is that he died knowing exactly how loved he truly was. RIP"

The Kandyman was lovingly raised by Valerie Vansickle and cared for by owners Lee & Hallie Hanssen. He stood throughout his stallion career in South Dakota. His colts are sure to carry on his legacy in the arena for years to come. . . .

2020 Cowboy Christmas in Las Vegas Officially Canceled

As Las Vegas is unable to host attendees for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo in 2020, Las Vegas Events announced today that Cowboy Christmas will not be held December 3-12 at the Las Vegas Convention Center. Refunds will be offered to all exhibitors.

Cowboy Christmas, the only official gift show of the Wrangler NFR, typically runs concurrently with the rodeo and has a total annual attendance of more than 250,000.

On Aug. 19, the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association announced that a final decision would be made on the location of the Wrangler NFR by Sept. 30. If the Wrangler NFR is held in another destination, Cowboy Christmas could be hosted in that location. LVE will work closely with the PRCA to determine the feasibility of including Cowboy Christmas in its plan for 2020 by the end of September.

One of the most successful and popular ancillary events of the Wrangler NFR in Las Vegas, Cowboy Christmas has grown into a 440,000-square-foot shopping and interactive experience. With more than 350 exhibitors from across the United States, Cowboy Christmas caters to the Western lifestyle and includes live entertainment, specialty food and beverage, exhibits and much more.

Statement from the PRCA on the Wrangler NFR

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) remains committed to hosting the 2020 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo (NFR). There is no question – the 2020 PRORODEO World Champions will be crowned.

There are several options being considered: with fans, without fans, in Las Vegas, outside Las Vegas. Despite these extenuating circumstances, the PRCA and Las Vegas Events want to produce the best NFR ever and provide fans, sponsors, contestants and members the outstanding experience they've come to expect.

At this moment, an event in Las Vegas with fans isn't feasible. There is an option to keep the NFR in Las Vegas without fans, so that is being explored. But there are other options being evaluated, including for this year only, holding the 2020 NFR in a new host city that will allow the PRCA to optimize:

- NFR fan attendance and fan experience, including shopping in the NFR gift show, walking through the PRORODEO Fan Zone, local nightlife with NFR afterparties and other ancillary entertainment. These are all important activities for fans that contribute to the overall NFR experience.
- Opportunities to hold the annual PRCA Convention, ProRodeo Hall of Fame Gala, NFR Contestant Back Number Ceremony and the annual PRCA Awards Banquet.
- Season tickets; the PRCA values those who have been committed to the NFR and will be working to accommodate those who currently hold NFR season tickets.
- The safety of contestants, members and fans; the PRCA is not willing to put anyone at risk and strives to maintain the safety of all involved.

We look forward to announcing the final decision by September 30.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

The military authorities know that soldiers must be equipped, taught and prepared before going into battle or they will face deadly consequences. It's the same for Christians because we're in a battle here on earth and cannot go through life unaware and unprotected. Read Ephesians 6:12 where Paul wrote, "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Your family, relatives and the people around you aren't your problem. A whole lot of spiritual forces in this world are trying to derail the will of God for your life. Keep reading in Ephesians Verse 13 and it will tell you that you need to wear the whole armor of God to withstand the enemy. Read the verses through 17 which tell what this armor is and why we need it.

Read the Bible, study and pray. Focus on Jesus more than people and leave your cares and your prayers in His hands, trusting completely in Him. He will always lead you in the right direction because He loves you, enough that He suffered a cruel crucifixion to atone for the sins of mankind and made heaven available to all believers.

Jesus is truly the Good Shepherd. He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life. He has your very best in mind, now and always. So don't be worried or afraid and live in guilt or anxiety anymore. If you've confessed your sins to Jesus, you can trust that His shed blood has wiped out those sins and you are justified.

So tell the devil to get out of your life and your family. You've made Jesus your Lord and Savior and He lives in your spirit. You have nothing to fear because "greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world!" (1 John 4:4)
