Richards Crowned Horse Heaven Roundup Barrel Racing Champion, Kennewick, WA

Article by Amy Wilson

It's crunch time in ProRodeo as the regular season ends September 30th and the battle to get a top 15 spot in the World Standings intensifies. Carley Richardson didn't set a goal of making the Wrangler NFR this year, but that plan has since changed.

Last year she went home after Chevenne. "I think I was about 20th but I was quite a ways out of it so I wanted to go home and make my circuit finals," the two-time NFR barrel racer said. She also wanted to qualify for the Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo. She ended up winning her circuit finals, and although the RNCFR didn't go as planned, she still qualified for Calgary because she had been so successful at the winter rodeos. "I ran a green horse, Money. I knew he would either do really good or he would embar-into the week they were ranked 13th in the WPRA World Standings, rass me. He did really good and we won a bunch this winter," Richardson said about Flit Money, an 11 year old who was raised by the same people who raised her great horse, Doda Flit "Radio". "The NFR plan kind of happened on it's own – it wasn't my initial goal, but of course it is now," the Pampa, Texas cowgirl said. Money is a free-runner and better in the building rodeos, so he'll get called on for Albuquerque, Amarillo and Omaha.

Up north, her once-in-a-lifetime horse, Radio is helping Richardson climb the standings during this crucial time. Going but only about $500 ahead of 15th place. Thankfully, they won the first round with a 17.11 and the average with 34.56 seconds on two at the Horse Heaven Roundup in Kennewick, Washington to earn $7,741. "This time of year is stressful. I definitely needed to win, and I knew I needed to win. I just tried to put it out of my mind because all I could do was the best I could do. Radio just showed up for me and he worked good. He picked a good time to do it," Richardson said following the big win. "That's such a good rodeo. The ground is really good. The fans there pack it out every night. They put up good prize money." Richardson also won it in 2015 on Fashionable Boy "Boy", who is currently out with an injury. "The ground was great then and it's still great now," she added.

Richardson also picked up a third place check worth $1,811 in Bremerton, Washington on her 6 year old mare, Hot N The Fire "Loretta". "She has unexpectedly shown up. It's almost like Radio told her that this is a really important time," Richardson said about the young mare who has very limited rodeo experience. "Dodge City was actually her first rodeo and I only got on her because I hit

Triangle's Fall Sale Line-Up Showcases Third Annual Barrel Classic

Triangle Sales will soon host the 39th Triangle Fall Sale, Oct. 26-28 at the Heart of Oklahoma Expo Center in Shawnee, OK. The three-day event will be highlighted by the Triangle Barrel Classic returning for the third year as a special session. Sales will begin with regular cutting, reining and ranch sessions on the 26th and 27th and continue with a full sale day for the Barrel Classic on the 28th.

The Triangle Barrel Classic will offer some of the barrel horse industry's most elite yearlings, 2 and 3-year-olds, finished competitors, and breeding stock. Last year's top seller was Flirtin Dirty (Fire Water Flit X Moonlight In Paris by Sail On Bunny), a 2016 palomino filly, which sold for $41,500.

Since its inception in 2016, the Barrel Classic has been a stellar market for quality horses. To be included for sale, yearlings must be sired by a marketable sire and eligible for at least one of four incentives: Future Fortunes, Select Stallion Stakes, Pink Buckle or Triple Crown 100.

Yearlings included in the Barrel Classic are also made eligible for the John Read Foster Challenge, which gives sales graduates an added $20,000 minimum bonus purse, if paid in full to Future Fortunes by being the highest advancing entry in the BFA Juvenile Futurity.

Jim Ware, owner of Triangle Sales, says the heavy incentive program has been incorporated within the structure of the sale not only as incentive to buyers, but also for the benefit of sellers.

"The norm has typically been to start and market barrel horses as 2-year-olds," Ware said. "By the time you raise them, hire a trainer, and start them at their careers, there's a lot involved."

"With that in mind, an industry has to have solid opportunities for selling yearlings to remain viable," Ware continued. "And, providing an incentive pay off to 3-year-olds also helps stimulate that production by rewarding young prospects. Then an owner starts over and does it again. That keeps the cycle going fast – from breeding to showing."

"To me, that's the primary focus for this particular sale," Ware said

Friday, Oct. 26 will feature the Select Cutting and Cow Horse Session, followed by the 2 and 3-year-old Cutting and Cow Horse Exchange. Saturday, Oct. 27 will include the Select Reining Session and the Shawnee Session, which consists of ranch horses, riders and roping horses.

Sunday, Oct. 28, the Barrel Classic will begin with barrel demonstrations prior to the start of the sale.

Sale consignments are currently open through September 14th. For more information, go to www.trihorse.com.

PRCA, CPRA create Maple Leaf Circuit

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association is pleased to announce that it will be adding a 13th circuit, starting in the 2019 rodeo season.

The PRCA and Canadian Professional Rodeo Association have partnered to create the Maple Leaf Circuit, which will join the previously sanctioned 12 PRCA circuits.

"The creation of the Maple Leaf Circuit is a significant step toward our goal of unifying the sport of professional rodeo, while increasing the opportunities for our members," said PRCA CEO George Taylor. "The longstanding relationship between the PRCA and the CPRA is a legacy that has created mutual benefits in the past, and the shared vision for the Maple Leaf Circuit will provide even more opportunities for our combined membership into the future."

Effective Oct. 1, 2018, rodeo competitors who are members of both the PRCA and CPRA will be able to enter a select amount of CPRA rodeos throughout the 2019 rodeo season and earn Maple Leaf Circuit points.

CPRA General Manager Jeff Robson sees the new agreement as an opportunity to strengthen Canadian rodeo in several key areas.

"Both of our organizations are committed to attracting new members and creating avenues for new and existing members to make more money. This agreement solidifies the role of the CPRA and PRCA as industry leaders in and out of the arena," Robson noted. "Expanding our partnership fits very well with our combined vision. Working alongside the PRCA to allow CPRA members to qualify for the RAM National Circuit Finals south of the 49th parallel is a vital element in growing our sport. It is an exciting time as we continue to collaborate on initiatives that will benefit our members."

The champions of the Maple Leaf Circuit - two in each rodeo event - will qualify for the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo, in Kissimmee, Fla., starting in April 2020.

"We are excited to see the addition of the Maple Leaf Circuit to the circuit system," said Beth Knight, Osceola County (Fla.) Deputy Manager. "We believe that they will draw additional fans, especially given the number of Canadians that call Central Florida their winter home. This agreement will provide unique marketing opportunities and will drive a new fan base to our destination."

a barrel in the first round so I had to make my second run right after and I didn't want to run Radio back to back like that. I had no expectations, I just basically didn't want to get a turn out fine," she said with a laugh. "We ended up splitting fifth in the round. Then I ran her at Gooding. That was her first perf. I just didn't want to run Radio before the short round at Caldwell. She won third there." While in Washington, Richardson is appreciative to have a nice spot to layover as she's staying at a good friend's place. Next week, her sister plans to fly out and they go to Puyallup and Pendleton. If Pendleton goes good, she'll leave her horse there and fly back and get on Money for Albuquerque and Abilene, and then fly back up to Oregon for the short go.

Richardson is now 12th in the WPRA World Standings with $82,630. "I was looking and 15th is close to $75,000 which is crazy for this time of year because you still have Omaha and all the Texas rodeos. Plus Puyallup is going to be a game changer this year for someone. You can't count those girls out who are even outside of what you would consider the bubble because they could hit good at Puyallup and it's going to pay so much this year," she said about the Wrangler ProRodeo Tour Finals which has an estimated payoff of $70,900 per event, making a clean sweep worth over $25,000. "I think we're definitely going to see a new record high for making the finals," Richardson said. The current earnings level record is $79,068 set by Amber Moore in 2016.

With so much pressure to win, what is the key to success at this point in the season? "I think it's almost all mental. There's stuff that happens that you can't control, but sometimes when you need to win you start riding different or doing things that you don't normally do – I know I've done that several times. But it's being able to stay focused and do your job, and let the cards fall where they may. I actually asked Jana [Bean] at Dodge City for advice on how to do this because she's like the queen of the bubble, and she laughed," Richardson said pointing out that Bean agreed it's stressful.

And to add to that stress level, Richardson, who is engaged to PRCA Pickup man, Chase Cervi, had to move their September wedding back because of trying to make the NFR. It's now in November. "So if I do make the finals, I'll be Carley Cervi at the NFR," she said adding that her mom and Chase's mom are doing all the wedding planning.

"For Radio to have one more NFR qualification would be awesome," Richardson said about the 14 year old grey gelding who has taken her to the National High School Finals Rodeo, the College National Finals Rodeo, and the Wrangler NFR. "He literally changed my life. I was more of a breakaway roper and goat tier. We bought him as a 2 year old and I had no professional rodeo plans – no one in my family had ever professional rodeoed. He just started winning. We trained him, but we can't really take credit for it, he more trained us." Radio has been winning for Richardson for ten years now. "He's getting to the point where he'll get outrun, but he never gets out-tried. He always tries his best," she said. Then she admitted, "He's so honest. He's really ruined me because now I think every horse should be like Radio. I've had rude awakenings with some of my young ones. It's made me realize just how good he is. I'll never have another one like him." Richardson wants him to retire sound, and whenever that day comes, he has a place at her house forever. For now though, she knows how fortunate she is to be on such a solid horse. "He makes the same run every time and he's a good horse to be on when the pressure is on that's for sure."

SADDLE PAD: CSI

Leg Gear: Classic Equine Legacy on the front and Classic Equine polo wraps on the back

Shoes: Aluminum wedges on the front and barefoot on the back

FEED: Purina Ultium

HAY: Alfalfa and a little grass hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Platinum Performance, Race Today, and Equi-Bone.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Response system boots, Flexineb, and anytime I see someone with a magnawave I try to get them to work on my horses.

RIDING SCHEDULE: At home I just ride him in the pasture and exercise him. I don't work the barrels very much. Sometimes if we have cattle to move, I'll take him to do that and just let him think about something else. If I need to sharpen him up a little, I'll work the barrels. I worked him right before Kennewick and got him on his toes a little. The main thing is moving him around a little bit everyday because with his age, he has some arthritis issues and he seems to do better if he gets exercised a little bit everyday, but nothing too intense. BREEDING BETTER BARREL HORSES . . . ONE BABY AT A TIME

JL TWISTED ROC IS HEADED TO AMERICAN SEMI FINALS!

JL Twisted Roc (2014 gelding by JL Sirocco out of Miss Twist Bug, Shawne Bug) placed 6th in the 2nd Go of the Glen Wood Memorial Futurity, made the short go, and placed 6th in the average this past weekend in Salina, Utah. Earning nearly $4,000 for owner Mark Bugni.

This Sirocco yearling filly will be consigned to this year's OKC BFA World Barrel Sale in December. JL I Luvcheapthrills is out of an own daughter of Shawne Bug (SI 101 $277,023 LTE) and a full-sister to Mark Bugni's 4-year-old JL Twisted Roc.

JL SIROCCO

Sirocco's progeny earnings are currently $256,000+ with 13 foals running. Named the number 2 Up-and-Coming-Stallion in 2018 by Barrel Horse News, his first foals are only six years old. His top money earners are:

JL Roc Paperscissors ($141,543), Dash Ta Frisco ($29,409),

JL Rocthespaniard ($21,997), JL Twisted Roc ($21,800);

JL Tularosa ($15,796), and FL This Guy Rocs ($15,087)

Moon Shot – First Moonflash Geldings Sweep Glen Wood Memorial Futurity & Maturity

By Tanya Randall

The Southwest Desert Classic, held the weekend prior to the inaugural running of the Glen Wood Memorial Futurity, held August 23-26 at the Blackhawk Arena in Salina, Utah, was a pretty good indication of how things were going to play.

The Tres Mesa Horses-owned First Moonflash geldings, trained by Luis Hernandez and ridden by Wenda Johnson, made the trip from Texas well worth it, sweeping the $40,000-added Futurity with 5-year-old MacGyver Moonflash ("Mac") and the $7,500-added Maturity with 7-year-old Dreams First Flash. Their total haul for the weekend was $22,653.

Johnson said the incredible weekend was just a wonderful opportunity to help her friends at Tres Mesa Horses with their unbelievably talented horses.

"Our story is unique, but it was brought together for a reason," she said. "Throughout this experience, I strive to stay positive and grateful for this time and season of life, understanding it is a blessing to meet amazing people, ride fast horses and build relationships that will last a lifetime.

Making the experience extra special was that Johnson, who now resides in Pawhuska, Oklahoma, was back in her home region of the desert southwest.

"Friends and family from California, Arizona and Utah were there cheering us on," said the Arizona native. "I am so grateful for the support that surrounds us."

In the Futurity, Johnson and Mac won the first go with a 15.109, the fastest time of the futurity right out of the gate, placed second in the second round with a 15.229 and topped the short go on Sunday with a 15.162, which also won the Open. They topped the futurity average—determined by the best of their qualifying runs and the short—with a 30.271 to earn $14,384. From their carryover times from the second round and short go of the futurity, they also won the Open 5D Average with a 30.391.

"The first runs at the Southwest (Desert) Classic barrel race provided an opportunity to make runs after a long trailer ride," noted Johnson, adding Mac placed sixth in the American Semifinals Qualifier that weekend too. "In the Glen Wood Memorial, he felt great after acclimating to the elevation change and made solid, smooth and consistent runs."

All totaled, Mac won $16,242 from the futurity, open and open sidepots.

Bred by Ivy Lane Racing, Mac is out of the stakes-winning mare Touched By The Moon, a daughter of Black Moon Rising and a Dash Ta Fame mare. Mac was a race winner on the track, earning $14,409, before starting his barrel racing career.

Like Flash, Mac's daily care and training is under the guidance of Hernandez. However, He has got to go spend some time doing ranch-type riding with Johnson.

"When Mac is home, Luis maintains a very consistent routine," said Johnson. "Occasionally, I have taken home to my place to add variety to his training by riding him in the hills, swimming him and scoring him. Mac has transitioned well between the two places."

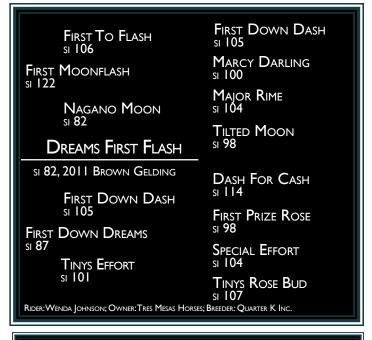

Flash, who is the polar opposite to Mac in disposition and style, also had two exceptional weekends, sweeping the Southwest Desert Classic Opens with arena record-breaking performances and sweeping the Glen Wood Memorial Maturity. He won $4,062 in the Maturity and $6,411 total at the Memorial.

Johnson said Flash, who is out of K Incorporated's First Down Dash mare, First Down Dream, had an amazing weekend.

"Flash is developing and maturing well," she said, "and my goal is to help him emotionally and work toward making consistent runs. Putting together a solid run feels amazing, and it is exciting to ride

Easy Nights Cash In for Randy Dubose at The Mega

By Tanya Randall

When barrel horse trainer Randy Dubose of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, returned to his home Friday night, he wasn't sure he was going haul back to Jackson for the Finals of the Mega. His mare Easy Nights Cash In ("Twitch") was struggling with the ground, and a slip into a barrel had cost them the $8,000 first-place check a few years back. This year wasn't looking any different.

"She slipped on both runs," he said. "She's a bigger mare and she moves a lot of ground."

Dubose and Twitch qualified in the first round. They were a few holes out of the money in 13th with a 14.528. They were 15th in the second round with a 14.415.

"I was really frustrated," he said. "I said, 'I may not even go.' I know I have the horse, but if you can't stand up it doesn't really matter. For whatever reason, 'I said, God if you want me to go, show me.' Everything started lining up. We threw her in a little three-horse and went up there. I forgot my boots. It was nuts."

Running 197 in the Finals, Dubose and Twitch turned in a 14.063. "She was running really hard," he said. "She slipped on the first and then got footing. Well, she ended up putting me ON the first barrel. I had to catch it to make sure it stayed up. In the meantime, I didn't know that the reason that she kind of stayed there when she slipped was that she stepped on her shoe and pulled it. I kind of got after her and started hustling her. My sister was hollering like a nut. I sent her hard and she was flying. The crowd started hollering before I pulled up, so I thought, 'Well, this might be kinda good!"

Unfortunately, there were still another 118 horses left to run.

"That was the hardest part—the waiting; it wasn't the running! It was a lot of fun. I had friends and family there. Things lined up. It was God's plan for that day. I'm hoping we get some really nice embryos from her. Her mom was a producer and I think she probably will be too," he added.

Unlike many of the top horses today, Twitch doesn't carry any Fire Water Flit, Frenchmans Guy or Dash Ta Fame blood. Bred by Ronald J. Landreneau, Twitch is straight running bred, by Such Easy Cash, a son of Dash For Cash out of a Special Effort, Easy Jet mare, and out of The Night Queen, by Free Feeling, a son of the Thoroughbred Nativo.

"She's something," Dubose said. "I've ridden her for a long time. Some previous owners had her for years. They had several different people ride her, but it seemed like I was the only one that could—mostly because she has her own way. She can scare you and herself if you don't accommodate her. I know her and make her behave, but I respect her way."

Dubose had helped sell the mare but ended up buying her back for himself.

"She's such an eccentric mare," he said. "I knew it was going to take a special person to respect her and there really wasn't anyone I thought I could sell her to, so I ended up buying her. She's one of those that can win anywhere, against anyone, if she gets her run. I needed her for that and I thought if I could win some on her that her embryos might be worth something."

Twitch qualified for the past two AQHA Worlds Shows and was the high-point barrel racing horse in the nation in 2017. While Dubose was tickled at the title, he knew he needed to add to her resume outside of Quarter horse shows. Winning the Mega, meant a lot for his program.

"It was really fun," he said. I've waited a while for it. It's been building up. I knew I had the horse, but the stars weren't aligning, and it just wasn't in God's plans at that point. We won $8,000 and whole bunch of goodies—saddles, pads, buckles. They gave a bunch of stuff away."

HEADGEAR: Light Tiedown

SADDLE: Ammerman

SADDLE PAD: Iconoclast

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four. "I use the rear boots on her fronts because she's so big and x-tall rear boots on back because she's hit herself up high before.' Shoeing: Aluminum front, steel rim behind

FEED: Nutrena Pro Force Senior

Hay: Colorado Alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: DAC Cool Gut & Optimum Flex

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Homemade leg paint made of equal parts DMSO, Bigeloil, Vinegar and Alcohol. "I think it really helps us from needing to do injections. I'll spray legs—hocks, knees and fetlocks—before I warm up and come back before run when their legs and decorded in the control of th fore run when their legs are dry and put their boots on."

Conditioning/Training Regimen: "I don't work the pattern at all with her. It's just keeping her conditioned. I swim her occasionally. Usually, we do trotting up to four miles every other day and then hand gallop them four miles on the other days. She's usually off on Friday if we're going somewhere that weekend. I'll give her more days off if we're going to be gone for longer."

Frenchmans Guy Filly Tops Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale

By Tanya Randall

Fillies were in high demand at the Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale, held Saturday, August 25 at Seven Down Arena in Spearfish, South Dakota. The sale featured 53 head with 38 changing hands for $1.238 million.

The average price was $32,579 and the median, or middle price, was $27,500. The 2 year old riding offspring of Frenchmans Guy averaged $52,800 and the 2 year old riding offspring of A Smooth Guy averaged $48,800. Overall the 2 year old riding horses offered by Myers Ranch averaged $44,789.

Beter WatchThis Guyz, a fancy 2-year-old buckskin filly, topped the sale at $104,000. The daughter of leading living barrel horse sire Frenchmans Guy is out of Serious Spender, by Bills Ryon. She is a full sister to 2008 BFA World Futurity Champion Guys Cash Perks. She was purchased by the Platts Family of Arizona.

The Platts also picked up the second choice among bidders, Guyz Girlz Have Fame, at $99,000. The blue blood 2-year-old palomino daughter of Frenchmans Guys is out of multiple Montana Circuit Champion Barrel Horse, Fames Licorice Kiss, by Dash Ta Fame.

Third high seller of the sale was the smooth moving 2-year-old sorrel filly Smooth N Fuzzy, by the late A Smooth Guy and out of FC Peachfuzz Ta Fame, by Dash Ta Fame. Smooth N Fuzzy is a full sister to Smooth N Famous, A Smooth Guy's leading performer with $180,000 in earnings. She was purchased by Keith Nellesson of Utah for $98,000.

Ima Standup Guy was the high-selling gelding. The 2-year-old sorrel is by Frenchmans Guy out of the Hot Colours mare Hot Movida, a half-sister to A Smooth Guy. He was purchased for $40,000 by Jamey Voge of Texas.

The high-selling broodmare was Shez Smooth N Famous at $25,000. The daughter of A Smooth Guy out of Disarray, by Dash Ta Fame, is a three-quarter sibling to Guys Famous Girl, the 2011 LG Pro Classic Slot Race Champion. She is foal to Cowboys Cartel and sold to the Bismarck Ranch of South Dakota.

Call Him Mr Smooth was the high-selling yearling, commanding a bid of $36,000 from the Harrell family of Oregon. The bay stud colt is by A Smooth Guy out of Run For Lacee si 97, by Special Leader.

The 11 head of Frenchmans Guy prospects sold for $563,000 with an average of $51,182 and median of $40,000. The 8 by A Smooth Guy sold for $329,000, an average of $41,125 and median of $33,500.

Record-Setting Yearling Tops Inaugural Breeders' Dynasty Premier Sale

By Tanya Randall

The $150,000 yearling stallion Jagaurr topped the inaugural Breeders' Dynasty Premier Sale, hosted by Butch and Stephanie Webb in Isabel, South Dakota on Friday afternoon, August 24.

Bred and consigned by Alan Woodbury, Jagaurr is by all-time leading sire Dash Ta Fame out of soon-to-be two-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Rosas Cantina CC, by Corona Cartel. The sorrel colt sold to BDT Ranch of Czar, Alberta, Canada.

Ridden by Lisa Lockhart, Rosa has gone white-hot this summer, winning several rodeos in the month of August. Also bred by Woodbury, Rosa is out of NFR qualifier Dash Ta Vanila, also a daughter of Dash Ta Fame yet out of the Triple Crown Champion Barrel Futurity mare SX Frenchmans Vanila, by Frenchmans Guy.

The proven performer Frenchys Toast, also consigned by Woodbury, was the second-high seller. The high school and youth suitable spayed mare, by Frenchmans Guy out of the PC Sun Socks mare Sandy Sun Socks, sold to Larry Froelich of Solen, South Dakota, for $44,000.

Woodbury's Cinderalla Man was the second highest-selling prospect, commanding a $42,000 bid from Lacey Romans of Bryant, Alabama. The 2-year-old palomino stallion is a full brother in blood to Jagauur being by Dash Ta Fame, but out of Rosas Cantina CC's full sister Wicked Felina CL.

The third choice amongst the prospects was Webb Ranch's Three Times Famous, who sold for $22,000 to Romans as well. Three Times Famous is by leading race and barrel horse sire Tres Seis out of the Webb's leading performer and $100,000-plus earner Vanilas Sudden Fame, a full sister to NFR qualifier Dash Ta Vanila.

The fourth pick was a foal selling in utero. Webb Ranch purchased a 2019 foal in utero by the legendary Fire Water Flit out of the Bully Bullion daughter Gem Dandy Bullion, an earner of $26,000 in the arena, for $20,000. Incidentally the three foals in utero offered sold for a total of $50,000 for an average price of $16,667.

Of the 45 consignments, 43 went through the ring for a gross of $689,000. With 25 (or 58 percent) changing hands, the sale netted $462,000 with an average price of $18,480. The median, which reflects the true middle value in the price range, was $8,500.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

an you receive constructive criticism? That's a hard one! We all want to be the bigger person and say "yes, of course".

But in reality, constructive criticism is generally received like negative criticism...not at all!

And criticism can be given under the guise of "just trying to help", or "God gave me a word for you." It's a slippery slope. And how about when you are ASKED FOR YOUR OPINION and you actually think your opinion is truly wanted...so you give it...and get yourself into big, big trouble? Sigh.

Well, God always has the answer for us, so in Eph. 4:14-16, He tells us to grow up, don't act like children and SPEAK THE TRUTH IN LOVE. Your motivation should be love. You want that person to succeed and be safe. It's not a one upmanship thing, but an "I care for you" thing.

And, if we were all perfect like Jesus, none of us would need any correction. But we're not. We all have bumps and warts and traits that are less than lovely, so we can all use help.

This week, pray and ask God to help you to grow in love. Ask for your weak areas to be strengthened and to be able to receive constructive criticism with grace and humility! My youngest grand-daughter is helping me. She said, "Gram, you have thin lips!
