$64,359 Haul For Ashley Schafer & Born On Derby Day at Ruby Buckle Guthrie

By Tanya Randall

Ashley Schafer and Born On Derby Day bumped their career earnings to just shy of $200,000 with a $47,500 Futurity Championship and $16,859 Open 1D Reserve Championship at the Ruby Buckle, held August 22-28 in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

"I don't know what else to say about her other than she's just incredible," said the Comanche, Texas, based trainer. "I never go into things with expectations like that...she's just incredible."

This is the seventh futurity championship for Derby, a daughter of National Finals Rodeo qualifier Freckles Ta Fame, out of futurity standout, KR Last Fling, by A Streak Of Fling. She got her first titles at the Kinder Cup, where she won the Futurity and Breeders Challenge Qualifier Futurity, going to the right barrel first. Schafer later switched the mare to the left and won the BBR World Finals Futurity, Elite Futurity and the Colorado Classic Open and Breeders futurities.

In Guthrie, Schafer and Derby finished second in the first go with a 17.036 on the WPR Standard Pattern and followed it up with a round winning 16.946.

Schafer said she was grateful for the tuning tips from fellow trainer Kelly Conrado that helped make Derby more forgiving to ride after a little hiccup at the Royal Crown followed her to the Ruby.

At the Royal Crown, Derby caught the third barrel in the second round and Schafer blamed herself.

"I really felt like it was my fault," she admitted. "That pen is pretty trap-y. The barrels are pretty much on the fence. I almost went one-handed to the third barrel. I thought, 'Oh man, I better go two-handed just for insurance.' As soon as I did, we were getting close to that rate point and just that movement in the saddle made her rate. We just started our turn too soon. She's just so honest. She never tries to shoulder a barrel. She just rated really hard and turned too soon."

During the 10 days between Royal Crown and Ruby, Schafer just exercised her horses in the pasture. They never saw the arena. However, after her exhibition on Derby for the Futurity, she felt Derby reacting the same as she did at the Royal Crown. She thought it was coming from the Royal Crown's small pen to the WPR Standard at the Lazy E was making Derby feel a little short coming into her turns.

"I got to visiting with Kelly Conrado a little bit," she explained. "I said, 'I think I need to work on that a little bit before tomorrow. I'd never felt her be that way and I felt it a little in her exhibition.' I think I kind of created it from the second round at Royal Crown. So, I picked Kelly's brain about it a little bit. He told me a couple of little things I could do that would probably help her."

Derby, who normally has great reach up into and through the turns, wasn't shouldering her barrels. Instead, she was shortening her front-end stride too much and bringing it to the barrel too soon.

"Kelly had me going across two handed and posting at a trot and then I'd sit and go to the horn early and made her keep moving forward off that inside rein," she said. "She needs to know that when I sit down and go to the horn that does not mean start your turn. You can keep reaching. Get your butt under you but keep your front end pulling."

Conrado also warned her against posting through the turn—"They need to learn to keep pulling forward when you're in the seated position in your turn," Schafer noted.

The night before the first round, Schafer trotted through the pattern a few times using the method that Conrado suggested to keep Derby moving up and around the turn. She did it again during her warm up for the second round.

"That helped a lot," she said. "The second day I did the same thing I did at Royal Crown, but she was so much more forgiving. I rode her to the third barrel exactly the same as I did at Royal Crown. I sat too early, but she kept pulling and moving up and around the turn. It definitely helped me a lot.

"I was really appreciative of Kelly for helping me with that. Sometimes we get to doing the same things all the time. I've never had to tune this horse much, just a little here and there, and I've always been doing the same because she's won so much. That was just something different than I felt her normally do. I knew what I would normally do to fix it, but I enjoyed getting a little bit of insight from Kelly. He said this is what you need to do and I did it, and as soon as I did, I was like, 'oh yeah, she did need this.' I was grateful."

Schafer also wanted to thank her colt-starting, horseshoeing husband Seth and the Spitzs', who gave them the opportunity to own Derby when she was just an embryo. Incidentally, Derby also won the Spitz $12,624 in stallion owner and breeder money.

Schafer also placed the second go of the Open on Derby's full sister, Famous Cash Can, who earned $406 for 20th in the 1D. She was 11th in the second go of the Futurity, earning $1,719 on the Spitz's Streakin Boon Dox mare French Streakof Fame.

It's worth noting that many of the training videos for Derby and the horses mentioned above can be found at www.BetweenTheReins.us along with videos from Jolene Montgomery and Joy Wargo. Schafer also picked up $1,219 for Nicklebar Ranch for catch riding their stallion Dollys Streaknbadger for an injured Kyle Leleux.

"I don't claim to be any kind of jump rider," said Schafer, who first rode the A Streak Of Fling stallion in the second round of the Royal Crown Derby after Leleux was severely injured in the fall in the first round of the futurity. "When he asked me, I thought to myself that there has to be a lot better people than me to ride for you, but because I ride so many A Streak Of Fling bred horses I kind of felt like it would be a good fit. So, I agreed to it. It was awesome.

"He's so fast that he doesn't have to be perfect. That helps us because my timing isn't perfect yet. I can make a little mistake and he's fast enough to make up for it."

Most of Schafer's crew will get a break until the Breeders Challenge Finale in Fort Worth, Texas, mid-September. She has Derby, Albany, Swoon Ta Be Famous and French Streakof Fame all qualified in the open and their respective aged event. She'll also run Dollys Streaknbadger too.

She's plans on taking the Darkelly stallion Makin Dark Money, who isn't eligible for an incentive, and another horse to the Fizz Bomb Classic the weekend before the Breeders Challenge.

Big Money Mowry and CP He Will Be Epic Win Ruby Buckle Open

By Britany Diaz

Kassie Mowry is having an epic year. She and her horse, CP He Will Be Epic, also known as Will, made themselves known at the Ruby Buckle Open Barrel Race in Guthrie, OK at the Lazy E Arena on August 22-28. Mowry and Will finished second in the first go-round with a blazing fast time of 16.961, adding $5,688 to their winnings. In round two, the team got even faster, running a 16.908 for $4,469 and a third place finish. The duo secured the average championship with a combined time of 33.869 on two runs, winning an additional $16,250. The team won $26,407 total for their efforts on the two runs. Mowry and Will were the only team all weekend to make two sub-seventeen second runs on the standard pattern at the Lazy E Arena.

Mowry is no stranger to the winners circle. She is currently ranked seventh in the world in the Women's Professional Rodeo Association standings. She is also having a standout season at both the futurities and derbys across the country on numerous horses. There is no doubt that every horse is being set up with the best opportunity to be successful at every level in the hands of Kassie Mowry.

CP He Will Be Epic is a 2015 gray gelding sired by Epic Leader, out of Percilla x Dash Ta Fame. Mowry is both the owner and rider of the big gelding. Mowry purchased Will as a yearling. "Everybody calls him 'Big Will', he is 17 hands. He wasn't the most natural athlete in training. It took him a little more time to start clocking competitive times and gauging his stride going into his turns, but he did. By his first futurity, as a 4-year-old, he was competitive," said Mowry. "He has just been really consistent and an easy horse to run. He's got a huge stride, but the weird thing about him is that he loves running at Northside and small setups. The bigger pens are where he has struggled the most, so it was a big deal for me to have him be that competitive on a standard pattern in Guthrie." Will and Kassie have been competitive at the Lazy E in the past, but this is the first time the duo has ever ran two sixteen-second runs there.

Mowry shared, "Will is pretty green for his age. He only ran half of his futurity year with his last run being in May at Fort Smith. He has had some injuries over the years, so when you add all of his runs together, it really isn't that many. He is a big horse. I feel like they can be a little more accident prone due to their size and weight. A horse that tries as hard as he does, naturally exposes themselves a little more, making themselves more apt to injury. Will always comes back. He loves his job and has it figured out at this point." Will and Mowry have proven themselves a tough team in the past as well. The duo qualified for the American Semi-finals and made it through to the Cowboys Stadium in 2021. Their efforts resulted in a tipped barrel, but there is no doubt this duo will have their shot again in the future.

Mowry rested Will up for this event. She credits a few things to his success this trip to Guthrie. "He is sound. He is a big, long horse, so my struggle with him is getting his body all the way around the first barrel. I called up Danyelle Campbell and said, 'Hey, this is the only thing I am struggling with on this horse', so she gave me a drill to try. It was hard because I had to do it in the warm-up pen in Guthrie and people kept passing me in line due to where she wanted me to start him at. She had me start where the right timer would be. It was a different angle for him to go at and a different way to go about it. She had me go halfway around the barrel and then take him back about ten to fifteen feet towards the timer. I had a couple people watch me do this that came up to me afterwards wondering why I did this, but it obviously helped him, because he did good after working him this way. I did it at a walk and trot just a couple times before I ran him. I do think it helped me clear that barrel with that big body and gave us that extra inch. Moving forward, I will incorporate that into his program."

The comradery in the barrel racing world is like no other. Everyone riding young horses understands how colts can humble you on any day. Mowry shares, "It always helps to see things from someone else's perspective. When you are doing the same thing over and over and you are not getting the results you want, changing bits or riding differently may not help, so maybe a new way to work them will. We all know the struggle. Every year every colt is not smooth sailing, even if it appears that way. There is a mutual respect between trainers and we all love to learn. I feel like when you quit trying to learn or evolve is when you quit winning. You have to keep up with everything. It is constantly changing; the competition is getting tougher and tougher and the bloodlines are getting better." Mowry explains about Danyelle's advice with Will, "I needed to try something new, so I figured why not try it. These big time futurity trainers are all successful and everyone gets there a different way, but every one of them has a trick up their sleeve or can offer some advice so why not take it. It does not pay to keep doing the same thing over and over that isn't working. You just have to be open-minded. In this sport you cannot be afraid to mess up. I have gotten to where I am not afraid to try new things.”

Mowry had great success on the Will's sire, Epic Leader, during his futurity season. “They have lots in common. Will and Epic are both really light in the face, light-sided and very bendy. Will was very eager to please and easy to train, just like Epic was. They are really good with adjustments. They are not set in their ways and are sensible. They are still receptive to changes even after they reach a higher level of competition.”

With an epic year, comes a lot of organizing, support and work. Kassie has been extremely busy training, competing and hauling to both rodeos and futurities. She is thankful for events like the Ruby Buckle. Mowry shares, “These events have changed the industry and given us a reason to keep these horses beyond their futurity years. To be able to run them at good money and keep them longer is great for my program. Getting to hang onto them for a couple more years after their futurity year to get them ready for their new owners is a big deal.”

Mowry runs Will in a mullen with and inch-and a half slide to it. He either runs in that or an O-Ring or mullen combination with a leather curb. She runs in a Martin BTR saddle and the Equibrand ESP saddle pad. To protect his legs, she uses the Classic Equine Legacy sport boots. Will eats Cubeit alfalfa cubes, salt and Nutrena

ProForce Fuel.

Kassie shared a little valuable advice for those aspiring to train and compete. “Keep evolving, be open-minded. Watch...watch how people work their horses and you may get an idea of how to work your own or fix a problem. If you are a beginner and don't have access to the trainers at the beginning of the week at these events, just watch as there is a lot to be learned in the warm-up pen just by paying attention. I grew up doing eventing, so I am good with constructive criticism and being taught. The biggest thing for me is watching. Before my first big futurity, I drove to Oklahoma City just to watch. I didn't have a horse there. I watched them work them, warm them up and then would go watch them compete to learn things. I watched Troy Crumrine, as his timing is incredible and he really stands them up before they turn. I have learned the most just by watching. My fiance, Michael Boone, I ride with him a lot and our styles mesh. He has done this for so long and has been in the industry for so long, so I always listen to his input.”

Mowry is also thankful for her sponsors: Classic Equine, Equibrand, Martin Saddlery, Signature Equine Hospital and Western Haulers and all the support from family and friends behind her. We wish you the best of luck Kassie as you head out to finish your rodeo and futurity season. No doubt it will be fun to watch how this amazing season finishes off.

Mark Bugni & JL Roc Lost A Sock Dominate at Glen Wood Memorial, Win 11th Futurity Title

By Tanya Randall

Mark Bugni and JL Roc Lost A Sock, owned and bred by Jill Lane Quarter Horses, captured their 11th Futurity Championship with a dominating performance at the $40,000-added Glen Wood Memorial, held August 19-21 in Salina, Utah. Bugni and "Mighty Mo" also crossed the $300,000 mark in career earnings with their $14,315 haul.

"That was my personal goal after we finished up the Southwest Desert Classic," said Bugni. "I wanted to cross $300,000. If I just focus and get $13,000 out there, we'd reach that mark. We had to dominate two of those days to do that."

Bugni and Mo won every race they were eligible for at the Glen Wood. The dynamic duo swept the futurity and both opens and seniors. They also won and placed in the high stakes Run For the Money with both of his futurity times.

On Friday night, they were fifth in the 1D—their slowest run of the weekend, a 15.646.

"I decided that Mo tends to work better if he gets that warmup run like in the Friday night jackpot," Bugni said. "It seems like his next run in, he's a lot more focused and a lot more serious. All week long we ponied horses and idly rode in that pen, nothing serious or really fast. I thought I need to wake him up a little bit."

It paid off with the fastest run of the event, a 15.106, in the first round of the futurity.

"Saturday morning, he was just fast and precise and strong," said Bugni. "He hit every spot as perfectly as he could. The bazaar part is he ripped a shoe off somewhere in the pattern. We couldn't find it anywhere. It was probably the fastest, most precise pattern I've ever had."

The second round started with Bugni and Mo having a 2/10th lead and Bugni had figured he had 4/10ths to play with to take the aggregate. They were 15.342, which was also the fastest run of the day for all classes.

"The second round, he didn't come in as fiery," he noted, "but he was just smooth and clean and steady as a rock."

The 5-year-old gelding, by JL Sirocco out of the barrel futurity money-earning Thoroughbred mare Reddy To Rebound, by Red, hit a little rough patch in July after a couple of nasty falls.

He took a tumble in the second round of the 5 State Futurity and later slipped to the left and right but caught himself before he completely went down at a jackpot in Minot, North Dakota.

"It just torqued his pelvis really bad," said Bugni. "I ran him at a little jackpot a couple of days later. He ran a 17.3 on a standard and won the jackpot, but he wasn't sitting down and turning the first barrel quite right. We noticed he started to dump on his front end going into his first turn. I knew I needed a good chiropractor and "He was 15th in the first round but still didn't feel like himself," said Bugni of his first run at Royal Crown. "He was still floating on the first barrel a little bit and he would throw his head in the air before he would leave. I knew he wasn't right. I had Mark Stewart chiropract him between round one and two. I ran him in the second round and he felt so much better. I don't know how but we pulled third in the average and won a bunch of money!" Rather than make the trip to Oklahoma for the Ruby Buckle, Bugni chose to stay out west.

"My home (in Shawnee, Oklahoma) is being built and I would still have to board down there, and I have five horses with me," he explained. "I don't go home until the end of summer and I didn't want to drive all the way down there and then come back up here (to his sister's Dickinson, North Dakota). I had three I had to hit up here so I could make it a much more comfortable trip. We just stayed up here and enjoyed it a little bit."

"Between the three weekends—Rock Springs (Royal Crown),

Luckily with the help of Dr. Don Lee of XX Equine, his crew and chiropractor Mark Stewart, Bugni was able to get Mo back feeling good.

Southwest Desert and Glen Wood—he pulled between $83,000 and $84,000. I couldn't have asked for a better trip.”

His fellow competitors were ready for Bugni to return home though. After Bugni and Mo had won the Southwest Desert Classic the prior weekend, Stacy Glause jokingly posted on Facebook that she had found the missing sock. It was in Texas and Bugni needed to go get it so he'd leave some money for the locals to win.

“I thought, ‘Oh my God! She did not just post that!’” laughed Bugni. “We laughed about it quite a bit. She went and bought me a pair of socks with a unicorn on it. She said, ‘Here, you go. I found your sock! You can go now!’ I decided for the win picture that I needed to wear a sock and Mo needed to wear a sock! We found his sock and it was right here in Utah!”

Michelle Alley & Seis Caress Take Two in the Northwest

By Tanya Randall

Michelle Alley and Seis Caress topped the $13,000-added Golden Spike Rodeo in Tremonton, Utah, and the $12,000-added Kitsap Stampede in Bremerton, Washington. The barrel horse trainer from Madisonville, Texas, and her 10-year-old mare won more than $4,000 at each rodeo to take home $8,507.

Alley started out her week in slack at Tremonton on Tuesday.

"I drew really good last week," said Alley. "I was sixth out at Tremonton, so I was first after a drag. I couldn't have made a better run. It was pretty much flawless."

The judges did stop the slack after a fall to rework the ground, but Alley opted not to run again.

"I was pretty happy with my time," she said. "She worked great. I was pretty sick the two days before that. I could hardly get out of bed. I don't know what I had. I didn't go to the doctor. I just took a bunch of meds, rested and drank a lot of fluids. I actually stayed at Kellie Collier and Stetson Jorgenson's new place just a half hour north of Tremonton. I was able to rest and Saucy was able to rest. Thankfully, I felt better that morning and was able to make a great run."

THE RUNDOWN w/Michelle Alley

Seis Caress ("Saucy") 16.2 h., 1,300 lbs. "She's a big girl. She's wide and long."

BIT: "I change her around a little bit. Right now, I'm running her in a chain mouth combo. I'm not even sure what brand it is. In the winter time in the coliseums, you'll see me run her in a loose tiedown and an o-ring. Every now and then, like these next couple of runs where the first barrel is way off the fence, I'm going to put a hackamore on her. I can bump her down a little easier for the first barrel. The combo bit doesn't even have a curb chain. That's how fussy she is about her face. You just can't touch her face."

HEADGEAR: Tiedown depending on the setup

SADDLE: Trophy saddle Saucy won made by Green Custom Saddles of Greenville, Texas

SADDLE PAD: Best Ever

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on all four

SHOEING: Kahn Forge Concaves on all four

FEED: Nutrena Perform Textured

HAY: Alfalfa and some free choice grass hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Succeed paste, Zesterra if needed, Simply Equine products. I try to send in hair samples from time to time. She does stay on the Structural Boost

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Chiropractic care from Kim Gillespie back home and Ivan Bigsby and Buck Sprague while on the road. (All three trained with Larry "Thumper" Jones.) "I wrap legs overnight with standing bandages and pack feet with ReBound Hoof Pack. Otherwise, I don't believe in doing a bunch of stuff. I'm an old school racetrack kinda girl—take care of their legs and feet and keep good hay in front of them."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I exercise her a lot. I ride or pony her a lot, three to four times a week."

SPONSORS: Nutrena, Succeed, Bill Fick Ford, RenoVo, Simply Equine, Kim Gillespie-KG Equine, D Bar D Equine Dentistry, Zesterra and AH Performance Stall Mats.

Rider/Owner: Michelle Alley; Breeder: Robert Jenkins

With Saucy's speed and turning style, it was a good thing that Alley felt better.

"She's very, very strong, so powerful," she said. "She's not hard to ride. She kind of does her own thing and you just sit there. When she leaves a turn and makes that move on the backside...She's 16.2 hands but when she makes that move on the backside I swear she's about 13.2. I've got pictures where the swells of my saddle is at the top of the barrel. That's how low she gets."

After her run at Tremonton, Alley drove to Pendleton, Oregon, where she overnighted before making the last five hours to Bremerton. She was the very first runner in the first performance on Wednesday night.

"She made another great run," said Alley. "She walked in really quiet. The ground was great that night. It was just a flawless run. I couldn't pick it apart. She ran hard, turned hard and worked great."

She also ran at the Horse Heaven Roundup Rodeo in Kennewick, Washington, but ground trouble left her a little long on making the short round. Alley was also entered at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, but opted to ride her backup horse.

"She'd done her job for the week," Alley said.

Alley purchased Saucy as a 2-year-old after seeing her ad on Barrel Horse World. The daughter of Tres Seis out of the stakes placed First Caress, Merridoc mare GW Money Talks was being sold to dissolve a partnership.

"She only had one start on the track. I tried to get some of my futurity clients to buy her, but they weren't interested because she was off the track. I waited around about two weeks and they dropped her price, so I bought her. I bought her sight-unseen because I was in Rapid City for the 5-State Futurity."

Saucy had some time to decompress from the track before Alley started on the pattern. She got another break her third summer but came back up lame.

“Something had chased her into my pipe fence,” Alley explained. “She has 12 bone chips floating around in her pectoral area where they busted off her shoulder blade. We can’t really remove them.”

Saucy spent the first part of her futurity year recovering and didn’t run much until the end of the futurity year. She did place at the BFA World Championships and in the Fortunes Round of Future Fortunes.

“From there, I took her to some barrel races and hauled her to the CPRA (Cowboys Professional) rodeos in Texas,” Alley said. “She did well at those. I went to a few circuit pro rodeos and she placed at them. I think she won her first pro rodeo in Belton, Texas, over the Fourth of July. It was in a perf and that’s when I realized she feeds off the crowd. The more pumped up she gets, the better she runs.”

Saucy has carried Alley within striking distance of the NFR the two years. They were 19th in 2020 and 25th in 2021. They’re currently 25th with $49,802.

“We’ve just had little setbacks,” said Alley. “Last year, she chipped her left knee. I really don’t know when. She’s just so tough she doesn’t show lameness or soreness well. She was just hit or miss. After Dillon (Montana), I went to Idaho Equine and we did a full body lameness. That’s when we found the chip.”

Saucy had surgery the first of October.

“I didn’t have her for any of the winter rodeos this year because of the surgery,” she lamented. “I usually win $15,000-$20,000 out of them. If I had that money, I’d be right there, but it is what it is.”

Alley has three days off before her first run at Ellensburg. “It’s the first three days that I’ve had off in a long time,” she noted.

She also has Walla Walla, Washington, and Filer, Idaho, this weekend. Next week, she goes to Lewiston, Idaho, the NFR Play-offs in Puyallup, Washington, and possibly Spokane, depending on how she draws at Puyallup. Allen plans on ending her season with Pendleton, Oregon—she tipped to win the first round last year—before making the final Utah, California run.

Young Sire Famous Sierra Tops Ruby Buckle Horse Sale at $320,000

The 2022 Ruby Buckle Horse Sale held August 26 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, OK during the Ruby Buckle Barrel Race showed the continued demand for the best of the best in the horse business. 53 horses passed through the sale ring with 40 horses changing hands. The sale netted $1,081,300 with an overall average of $27,033.

The buzz of the sale was the elegant, pretty young stud, Famous Sierra. The 7 yr old son of the very popular $4.5 Million barrel sire, JL Dash Ta Heaven, won $36,745 during his performance career placing at multiple futurities, derbies and opens. The dam, Sierras Cashin In is a producing dam of Cash Not Credit and the second dam is the amazing producer Nancy Ann Smith, the dam of the sensational Old Fort Days Derby Champion, Dial A Red Rooster (earner of $235k). Famous Sierra's oldest colts are 3 yr olds and just getting ready to kick off their performance careers. The black beauty was offered by Jolene Montgomery and sold to Billy Wayne and Suzonne Franks for $320,000.

The second high seller was another stud, this time a beautiful buckskin 2 yr old stud colt by The Kandyman out of the futurity phenom Hip Swingin Gypsy. The late The Kandyman was a royally bred Tres Seis stud who was a very talented futurity horse before being retired to stud duty where his first colts include Ms French Wallawalla who has won $237,350. The dam Hip Swingin Gypsy was a daughter of Firewaterontherocks that won $106,988 in her career and is already producing winners herself. This fancy dude was offered by Pete Oen and sold for $101,000 to Southwestern Farms.

The third high seller was a bred mare, the striking daughter of Frenchmans Guy, Guys Movida Jet. Guys Movida Jet is a full sister to $2 million sire A Smooth Guy and she carries the same class and conformation as her brother. The dam Docs Movida carries a neat cross between cutting royalty, Dry Doc, and racing royalty, Jet Smooth. The pretty mare was in foal to the $4.5 million barrel sire and former NFR Qualifier, JL Dash Ta Heaven. This ready made breeding program was offered by Leslie Bailey and sold for $53,000 to Derek Osburn.

The Top 5 Sellers averaged $110,800 and the Top 10 Averaged $69,750. For more information on the Ruby Buckle Horse Sale and the Barrel and Roping events happening this past week in Guthrie, OK; go to www.TheRubyBuckle.com.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I think we all love a Cinderella story. And I also think that we'd like to be the one in the story. That once in a lifetime horse. A personal sports achievement. Promotions over other, very qualified, people. Head of the class, and so on. It's been awesome watching Mo win 11 futurities to date!

Congratulations Jill Lane and Mark Bugni!

We're all sure there have been ups and downs in this story, but they fade away as more victories add up. It's the same being a Christian with Jesus as your Lord. There are ups and downs, but the Bible tells us in 2 Cor. 2:14, "Now thanks be to God who ALWAYS leads us in triumph in Christ...".

With God, you can expect a 100% success rate if you won't quit, faint, give up. That's 2 Thess. 3:13.

I'm rejoicing with Jill and Mark. The Bible has something to say about that as well. Read Romans 12:15-16. Really, the Bible has lots of good stuff that pertains to the day we are living in. We need all the help and encouragement that we can get. And it's right there in the Bible!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
