Kelli Tolbert and RF Firefly Move Into WNFR Contention

By Tanya Randall

Kelli Tolbert took a lot of pressure off of herself by moving into contention for her second Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualification with dual wins this past weekend.

Tolbert and her talented mare RF Firefly ("Cleo") won $11,184 over their four-rodeo run that took them from Idaho Falls to Strathmore, Alberta. The duo scored victories at the $16,000-added, one-run Strathmore Stampede in Alberta and the $8,200-added, one-run Big Sky Roundup in Great Falls, Mont. They also placed fourth at the Mountain Valley Stampede in Heber City, Utah.

The only rodeo where Tolbert and Cleo struck out was the War Bonnet Roundup in Idaho Falls.

"I actually hit two barrels in Idaho Falls, so it didn't start out great, but it ended up okay," said Tolbert, who hails from Hooper, Utah. "It took a lot of pressure off me for sure."

After the poor performance at Idaho Falls, Tolbert decided to give Cleo the benefit of the doubt.

"The ground in Idaho Falls was a little slick, so she turned a little bit stiffer," she said. "I was kind of mad at her after I ran, but the more I thought about it—maybe it was the ground; let's give her the benefit of the doubt. The next run was Heber (City), and Heber is notorious for their great ground, so I thought I'd just send her in there and see how she did. She turned great. She turned like her normal self?"

Their fourth-place finish was worth $1,207. From Heber City, it was on to Great Falls, Mont., for that rodeo's final performance.

"We had heard the ground conditions there were great," said Tolbert who is hauling with (or on some occasions following behind) Sue Smith. "It's kind of different set up. It's like a perfectly square arena, and it actually might be wider than it is long. It's a blind run to the first barrel. In those kinds of situations, she seems to excel. I just went and checked out where the timers were set before the rodeo started and picked out what point to start from, and it was quite a ways back because it's a squatty little arena. She rolled in there and turned the first barrel perfect."

The Great Falls victory was worth $3,209.

In Strathmore, Tolbert found more favorable conditions. "It's a really good arena," she said. "It's the kind of setup you want to go to all the time. The ground was good. There were no tricks to the pattern. It was a center alley where you could run in and out. She just had a great run. The ball just kept rolling from Heber and Great Falls, and she made an outstanding run there too."

Tolbert, who is sponsored by Equine Pride Feeds, Tony Llama and Roper Apparel, believes her decision to save Cleo for the big rodeos has provided her with a healthy, fresh horse for the remainder of the rodeo season.

"I just got it in my mind just to hit the bigger rodeos," she said. Cleo, a 9-year-old daughter of Smoke N Sparks out of Dots Scooterette, by Dots Jessie, is her only rodeo horse. "I haven't really hauled her all that hard and I think it's paid off. I think I entered four rodeos over the Fourth and I actually turned out of one of them. My Fourth of July was very non-hectic, and I think that played a big role in how she's working now."

She was equally tickled that the ProCom computers finally drew her up at the rodeos “on the day that you could win,” acknowledging how much of rodeo is a drawing game as far as favorable competition conditions go.

Tolbert is looking forward to the Northwest run. She is up at Hermiston, Ore., and Omak, Wash., this Thursday.

“She’s always done really well out there,” she said. “The arenas are big open arenas and the barrels aren’t on the fences anywhere. It’s kind of her deal so I’m really excited about it.”

Kaley Bass Makes A Strong NFR Push on the Prairie

By Tanya Randall

Davenport, Florida, barrel racer Kaley Bass put herself in prime contention for her first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo berth with an exceptional weekend on the prairie, winning the Dodge City Roundup, Wild Bill Hickok Rodeo in Abilene, and Iowa's Championship Rodeo in Sidney.

Bass also placed fourth at the Jayhawker Roundup Rodeo in Hill City, Kansas, and third at Kansas' Biggest Rodeo in Phillipsburg. All totaled Bass pocketed $12,883.

"I cannot complain," said Bass, who is sponsored by Se'Belle Dymmek's S-Belle Brand, Justin Boots and Triple Crown Feeds. "I was really happy with the way that he worked with it being as hot as it has been down here. We've been in the northern area where isn't so hot. He's been handling it very good and he's in tip-top shape right now."

Bass started her week in Hill City and Abilene before making her first two runs in Dodge City. She headed to Phillipsburg and then Sidney, where she gave Wonders Cowboy Dan a break by climbing on his younger full-sister Girl Pal Wonder. Afterward it was back to Dodge City for the short go.

At Dodge City, Bass and Dan, a 12-year-old gray gelding by Wonders Pal out of Jackies Cowgirl Bar, by Cowboy Dans Bar, won the first go and earned the right to compete in that's night performance. She left the rodeo knowing she would back on Sunday.

"My first run I made was just good and consistent," she said. "I knew it was safe and would make it back. My horse gets faster with every run so I knew he was just going to get faster and faster. With all the other rodeos I went to this week, I knew he was going to come back strong for the short go."

Hayden Segelke had the average lead going into the short, so Bass knew she couldn't let up.

"I knew I needed to be fast again," she said, "and I was confident because I knew he gets faster. I had no worries going into the short go. I was pretty excited because my week wasn't over yet."

Bass and Dan turned in the fastest time of the rodeo, a 16.87, en route to the championship for their biggest paycheck of the week, $7,355 at the $15,193-added rodeo. Incidentally, Bass and "Girl" turned in the fastest time of last year's rodeo in the second round. Both horses were working tough, but Dan was doing his best to scare Bass with his paint-peeling turns. She thought she was going to knock at Abilene, Phillipsburg and Dodge City.

"At Abilene, I thought I hit the second barrel," said Bass. "I did everything that I could to get around that barrel. I had a couple of runs like that this week. In the short round (at Dodge City), I thought I hit the first barrel. Thank goodness, the announcer said it's up and I kept going. I had a run at Phillipsburg like that too." Bass said Dan wasn't hitting the barrels, but was brushing them enough to scare her.

"He's the most honest horse I could possibly get on," she said. He doesn't want to hit a barrel. That's how he is. He knows."

She credits Dymmek with providing her with the horses that have given the opportunity to rodeo for the WNFR.

"She's a big help," said Bass. "These horses came from her. To be able to come out to these rodeos with two horses like that. . . . Not just one is good, they both are."

Bass will head to Sikeston, Mo., on Tuesday before heading to Lawton, Okla., and Lovington, N.M.

After melting on the Kansas prairie, Bass is looking forward to the next leg of her WNFR journey, "We go back to the Northwest from there, back to the cooler weather!"

RODEO NOTES WITH MARY WALKER

We caught up with the hottest barrel racer of the last month, Mary Walker again about her Cheyenne victory. She won both rounds and the average at Cheyenne, WY, won second at Deadwood, SD and eleventh at Odgen, UT en route to earnings of $19,450 last weekend. This weekend she won second at Phillipsburg, KS and eleventh at Great Falls, MT. To say the least, she is showing no signs of letting down as we get into the last two months of the season.

BRR: What was it that let Latte (Perculatin) adapt to Cheyenne so well?

Walker: Latte really loved Cheyenne. Several of the horses were having problems, they seemed to be getting a little strung out; but he stayed collected and close.

BRR: What are you doing with your buckle from Cheyenne?

Walker: Byron (her husband) was runner-up 6 times (in steer wrestling), he never won it. I told him he could wear the buckle! The awards were amazing, beautiful spurs, saddle, boot jack and of course the buckle.

BRR: What are your plans rodeo-wise now that you are for sure in the NFR?

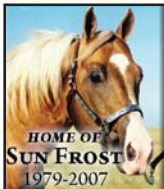

Walker: My plans are to keep going. Latte is doing great and seems to love the road. I have a driver and Byron so I'm not tired at all. I hope to be home sometime in September. I am really enjoying being out here and seeing old friends and meeting new ones.

Walker: Dreams can come true and if I can help one person get through a tragedy in their life, I have won.

As of this writing, the World Standings show Mary Walker stands #4 with earnings of $84,149 and growing!

Read what past interns have to say about the RVSW Program!

"The RVSW Undergraduate Internship is one of the strongest internships in the nation because the size of the business is paralleled by the involvement of the veterinarians and staff in meeting the individual learning goals of the student. It is very stimulating to work with professionals in the field that welcome interns and are dedicated to teaching them physiological theory as well as practical skills they need for the future." - Megan Born

"All that I am learning is only confirmation that equine reproduction is the area that I wish to work in. This area of study fascinates me... I believe that RVSW has a great internship program. Everyone here is warm and friendly making it a great work environment. Interning (here) has improved my knowledge of equine reproduction immensely. My internship at Royal Vista Southwest has truly been a life changing experience." - Christina Gosch

Headin' For Home

Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Attitude. Attitude is just as important in horses as it is in people. Nobody enjoys riding a lazy horse that is always trying to turn back to the barn nor one that spooks at every bush or rock. You feel you are wasting your time trying train a crabby horse that kicks and bites and doesn't want to learn anything.

Have you been around people like that? I have and unfortunately, some of them were even Christian. What kind of image do they portray to the world of the Christian walk? Remember people are watching you and you might be the only Gospel they see to influence them to seek Jesus.

If you're born again and have a personal relationship with the Son of God, you have nothing to fear in this world. Turn your life and circumstances over to Jesus and He will work things out for you in ways you never thought of.

Pray for understanding when you study your Bible, talk to other Christian friends and find a Bible church. Strive to be like Paul, who suffered countless hardships but still he praised God and said he had learned to be content in all situations, even to being chained in a sewer. Read about his peace of mind in Philippians 4:11-13.

Maintain a cheerful, hopeful attitude. Be ready to help those less fortunate. Remember Jesus said, "Whatever you do for the least of them. You do for Me." (Matthew 25:40) It tells us in 1 Peter 3:15 that we need to always be ready to explain our hope, joy and peace to anyone who asks. So our attitude is very important if we're going to show the way of salvation and how to live the abundant life in the here and now.

We can help you. Send us your name and address if you'd like to get on our mailing list to receive our free teaching CDs every couple of weeks. You're always welcome, too, to attend the teaching sessions every Tuesday night in The Barn in Gillette, WY and also the Saturday night service in The Barn.

Let's all give glory and honor to God and live the high life that Jesus died to give us!
