Ivy Conrado & KN Fabs Gift Of Fame Push Through ProRodeo Tour Finale in Puyallup

By Tanya Randall

Three-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Ivy Conrado may have locked up her fourth straight trip to rodeo's Super Bowl in Las Vegas with her second ProRodeo Tour Finale Championship. She and KN Fabs Gift Of Fame ("J Lo"), owned by Kenny Nichols and Dale Barron, picked up $10,488 at the Finale, held September 5-8 at the Washington State Fair in Puyallup.

"It was pretty cool to win it again," said Conrado, who won the rodeo 2016 aboard Cfour Tibbie Stinson. "It's just really cool to be able to do it on J Lo and harder conditions too."

The challenging conditions were brought on by a rain and lightning storm that delayed the fourth performance until Sunday morning.

The $20,000-added Finale was limited to the top 24 contestants in the Pro Rodeo Tour Standings. Each contestant made two runs and the top eight in the average moved on to a semifinal. The best four of the semifinals advanced to a final run for the championship.

Conrado has always entered for the second set at Puyallup because you make your two go-round runs in one day. The first set has them split between a Thursday night and Friday night performance.

"My horses seem to come back snappier the second run," noted Conrado. "I ran my first one and placed fourth. We came back for our second run and during the team roping, a storm came through and it had a bunch of lightning. They had a big lightening delay and it didn't stop for an hour and a half, so they just delayed it to 9 a.m. the next morning.

"It rained A LOT; I mean A LOT! It was super muddy. I wasn't sure I was going to run."

With one rodeo horse in her trailer, Conrado has always been protective of the 10-year-old superstar mare. In fact, her first run in the mud was at the Calgary Stampede in July.

"I had never run her in the mud before, but I think she likes it. She's a princess. I couldn't even get her to ride through a mud puddle, so I was really surprised she did so well and won the round when it was muddy," she said recalling the Calgary experience.

With her season riding on the last month of the 2019 qualification season, Conrado decided to watch the first few barrel racers before deciding to turnout or run.

"If they had any trouble, I was just going to leave," she said. "I wasn't going to run. So, I watched the first couple of girls go and they had no trouble. I knew she could handle it. She ran .33 in the mud, which is crazy. She was .07 out of placing and everyone that placed in that round had run on dry ground."

Conrado and J Lo, a daughter of leading barrel horse sire Frenchmans Fabulous out of the all-time leading barrel racing dam Mistys Dash Of Fame, by Dash Ta Fame, were third in the average going into the eight-man Semifinals. They turned in the best time of the Semifinals, a 14.17 to advance the Finals along with Amber Moore and CP Dark Moon, who were directly on the No. 15 bubble, Leia Pluemer and Famous French Bug, another Frenchmans Fabulous sitting right outside the Top 15, and Alishea Broussard and Bogies French Trick.

Although she knew she was getting at least one more run on Sunday in the Semifinals, there were some discrepancies as to whether or not the four-man finals would be held. The championship final for the barrel racing ended up taking place after the entire rodeo was over.

"They didn't work the ground one time yesterday at Puyallup," she noted. "They had 15-16 runs on it or more. I was last out in the four man and she wins it. She's just a really special horse."

The best news is her victory at Puyallup saved her from having to make a monster run on The Green Mile at the Pendleton Roundup, which also got a little rain over the weekend.

"That was the deciding factor," she quipped. "Do I want to run in the mud here or do I want to run in the mud at Pendleton? I decided it was the mud at Puyallup."

Instead of running at Pendleton, she's celebrating her upcoming October 4 nuptials to Billie Jack Saebens with a bachelorette party in the famed Let 'Er Buck room. She's turned out of every rodeo she'd entered this week to give J Lo a much deserved rest and isn't sure what all she'll hit until next season starts.

Conrado, who currently sits eighth in the WPRA World Standings with $93,269, says she went pretty slow this year, which put her playing catch up at the end of season.

"I was pretty tired after last year. I do everything by myself. I haul by myself. I drive by myself. I'm not going to say that I'm burnt out; I'm just tired. I ran at the winter rodeos and did okay. I ran at the All American Finals and my circuit finals and did well and that set me up to where I could have kind of a chill winter. I went to the big stuff and placed here and there but didn't really crack them anywhere."

J Lo got some additional down time this spring so embryos could be flushed.

THE RUNDOWN w/Ivy Conrado

KN Fabs Gift Of Fame "J Lo" 15.1-15.2 h., 1,000 lbs. "She's not a big mare, but she runs big and looks big."

BIT: "I'm actually running her in a Troy Flaharty combo with the slow twist Billy Allen mouthpiece."

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on all four

FEED: ReNew Gold Senior

HAY: Alfalfa and some orchard grass

SHOEING: Aluminum on front, barefoot on rear

SUPPLEMENTS: Platinum Performance and Standard Process

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: I have PEMF machine and I use that on her a lot. Flair Strip. Veterinarian Marty Tanner

CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: "I just pony her for the most part. One or two days before the rodeo, I'll get on her and tune her up. She just gets lots of exercise. I'll long trot 10 minutes each direction, walk 10 minutes and then lope each direction 10 minutes, walk 10 minutes in between. I'll always set a timer so I make sure we're getting in the time we need to. Basically, she gets ponied for an hour and half each day."

"That took two months and we gave her one whole month off of her body doing nothing," noted Conrado. "It was just a slower year. I didn't go very much. I didn't enter much over the fourth. I kind of put all my eggs in one basket for Calgary and just went with that. Thankfully, it went good."

A lighter schedule kept Conrado and J Lo from getting into a rhythm.

"She takes runs," she explained. "We never really got into a rhythm. It wasn't my best year, especially in the Northwest. When I go to the Northwest, I feel like I can really win some stuff and I just didn't. I was worried, thinking that I was going to have to run at Pendleton. I wasn't planning on doing anything at Puyallup but ended up winning it so I didn't have run at Pendleton. I just feel like we finally got in a rhythm because we kept going. Breaks are good. She needed a break and I needed a break, but that's not usually a good thing with her."

HELD IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE PINK BUCKLE BARREL RACE

$1.5 MILLION DOLLARS GUARANTEED PAYOUT

FUTURITY & OPEN 4D • OCTOBER 9-12, 2019

GL NAT KING COLE

2017 Sorrel Gelding

GL SOPHIA LOREN

2016 Sorrel Mare

(Dashing Guy-Jess A Holland, Holland Ease)

Cole is stout made and has the bone to carry it, he is built to last.

This gelding is very intelligent and eager to learn. Body control is natural for this gelding. He has a very smooth feel and responsive to hand and leg cues. Cole has been exposed to different situations and has tracked cattle.

Consigned by Gary Langford (386) 299-1239

(Dashing Guy-SS Flyer, Sweet First Down)

Sophia is a classy filly but has the grittiness of a winner. This filly has a forward moving feel with a lot of response. She has a great start on the pattern. Watch her videos from the beginning of her start on the pattern to current. She will be ready for the $100,000 Sale incentive for The 2020 Pink Buckle futurity.

Cayla Small & Slick N Black Shine at the Rodeo Rigs Futurity at the Fizz Bomb Classic

By Tanya Randall

Cayla Small and Slick N Black ("Spatch") picked up $10,161 for winning the $20,000-added Rodeo Rigs Futurity and taking reserve in The Kandyman and French Streakin Jess Futurity Slot Race at the 38th Annual Fizz Bomb Classic, held September 4-8 in the Cam-Plex in Gillette, Wyoming.

"I wasn't even going to go to the Fizz Bomb, but Kassie Mowry and my mom (multiple National Finals Rodeo qualifier and IPRA World Champion Jane Melby) talked me into it," said Small, who lives in Harrogate, Tennessee, where her husband Zac, an former National Finals Rodeo team roper is a fourth-year veterinary student. "I was planning on going home after Utah."

Small and Spatch, a 5-year-old black mare, placed second in the first round of the Futurity with a 14.725, which also gave them the Futurity Slot Race Reserve Championship. Some rider mistakes made them go long in the second round with a 15.249, but it was still enough to claim the Futurity Championship.

"My first run was awesome," she said. "I had kind of gotten in the high loping mode, and I told myself that I was going to ask her to run. I did and she worked awesome."

"The second go, I was last on the ground and it would get a little deep. I know she doesn't really like to be on the bottom of the ground. I was going to try to make a good run, just kind of help her and not hit a barrel. My first barrel was good. On the second, I don't know if she hit a hole, but it definitely felt like I was going to come back and hit it, so I reined her off half-way around it, and I ran her by the third too."

"She just had a jockey malfunction. She pretty much goes anywhere you tell her to, so we definitely know it's my fault when she doesn't work! She works pretty much all the time, but sometimes I steer her around like a crazy person, and she's like 'You want to go over there? OK.' She's very strange. She doesn't care if you run the barrel pattern or if you tell her to run all over the arena. She couldn't care less."

Spatch, so named for her spatula-shaped blaze, was Small's from the get-go. On a rodeo trip to Canada in 2013, her mother asked if she wanted an embryo out of RC Back N Black ("Beauty"), the Ninety Nine Goldmine daughter that carried Melby to the 2011 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. Of course, Small said yes!

"I wanted to breed to Slick By Design," recalled Small. "My mom was like, 'I don't know who Slick By Design is, but you can HAY: Lives on grass pasture. When hauling, grass and a flake of alfalfa.

SHOEING: Aluminum on front, regular steel rim on rear

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: "She doesn't get any physical therapy, just mental. I breakaway on her when she gets a little strong. It's not like I'm that good of a roper; it's more like we chase calves and then stop!" she laughed.

CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: "She's mostly just exercised," she said. "If I'm going to go somewhere, I might trot her through the pattern. She doesn't really have to see the barrels at home. She literally goes where I tell her to, so we definitely work on me going in straight lines and then turning."

do whatever you want.' That was before Michelle (McLeod) started running Slick. Jason (Martin) and Charlie (Cole) had just bought him. I'm sure he'd done more at the time than I knew about, but I had just seen Jennifer Sharp run him at the barrel races and really liked him."

Beauty double ovulated so twin embryos were flushed. Unfortunately, the stud colt broke his knee when was stepped on by the recipient mare, so he's a standing stallion in Canada.

Spatch got a late start due to Small's focus on rodeo. She qualified for the WNFR in 2016, the same year she won the WPRR Rookie title.

"I kind of forgot about her because I had gone on the road," she said. "She was just out in the pasture until she was 3-and-a-half. My brother (Colton Melby) got her. She didn't even really lead when he got her. He put 60 days on her. I picked her up from him and have done pretty much everything myself ever since. My mom has helped me with her a couple of times."

Small hasn't gone to many futurities with Spatch because it's a long haul from Tennessee to where the 5-year-old futurities are held.

"I just mostly went when it was convenient," said Small, who is entered in the Ardmore and Pink Buckle futurities as well as the BFA and OKC derbies. "I haven't gone all that much. It's hard to want to go from Tennessee when you have to drive at least 15 hours for a futurity."

After her husband graduates next spring, the couple will relocate to Welch, Oklahoma, northeast of Tulsa. The move should make it easier for her to train futurity horses and rodeo more if she desires. "I don't really know if I want to rodeo again because it's really hard on me mentally," she said. "If I do rodeo again, I definitely want more than one horse. I've got some 3-year-olds for next year and some 2-year-olds that are really nice. We'll just keep going and hopefully get some made and then maybe go again."

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I don't know about you, but I really like my life to flow along with few problems. NO problems would be my dream! LOL! Is that possible?

Well, I got an answer the other night at church. There I was, happily listening to Mike preach. (You can, too, on Facebook!). He had us turn to Matthew 16:24. When you go read it, read from verse 24-28. Jesus is talking to His disciples and He said, "If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow Me."

You will note here that He said we would take up OUR cross, NOT His! He paid it all so we don't have to go to the same cross that He did. Our cross is denying ourself... sigh.

I like to do things my way. And I like to be my own boss but, I know that Sherry makes mistakes. Jesus does not. Jesus said, "Follow Me."

Then Mike made this statement and right there was my answer!!!! He said, "YOU CANNOT FOLLOW SOMEONE IF YOU'RE IN FRONT!" Yep, there's my answer! Have a great week!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
