Cheers! Rookie Jimmie Smith & Lena On The Rocks Triumph at Wrangler Pro Rodeo Tour Finals

By Tanya Randall

Jimmie Smith of McDade, Texas, is looking to become the third Texas A&M University graduate to earn Rookie Of The Year honors in the WPRA. She and her gritty mare Lena On The Rocks celebrated their richest win of their young careers with a $21,474 championship at the Wrangler Pro Rodeo Tour Finals, held in conjunction with the Washington State Fair Pro Rodeo in Puyallup.

The victory jumped Smith from third in the rookie standings to first with $49,804. It also moved her into a better position for the winter limited-entry rodeos at 26th in the World Standings.

"I never thought I'd end up in the position I'm in," said Smith. "We're just kind of going one-run at a time and we'll see how the standings end up. I would like to run at San Antonio. I wasn't able to get into Denver or Fort Worth or anything like this year. I look forward to running at those that I can get into next year."

Smith and Lena topped the first two performances of Puyallup to take the average lead going into the second set, which was dominated by Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and her iron horse Yeah Hes Firen ("Duke").

Smith and Lena ultimately ended up second in the average on two after finishing third in the first round and second in the second.

The top eight on two runs advance to the semifinals: Pozzi Tonozzi, Smith, Tammy Fischer, Jessica Routier, Darby Fox, fellow WPRA rookie Leia Pluemer, Kellie Collier and Andrea Busby. The advancement was significant for Fischer who was 15th in the world at the time of the rodeo and Collier, who was just out of the top 15 in 17th. It was also significant for Smith and Pluemer, who was leading the rookie standings.

Going into the Semifinals, Smith said she was just enjoying the experience rather than worrying about the outcome.

"Honestly, I had no expectations for it," said Smith, a recent Texas A&M graduate who is pursuing her Master's in Ag Sciences online through Texas A&M-Commerce. "The beginning of the week was so much fun. All we were doing Sunday was having fun really. Whatever happens, happens. You can't change what God has planned."

Smith and Lena ended up finishing second behind Pozzi Tonozzi and Duke in the Semifinals after a run Smith described as "pretty rough."

"She tripped really bad going into the first barrel," she recalled. "She almost jerked the reins out of my hands because she stumbled so hard. We went by it a pretty good ways and I kind of thought about pulling her up because she tripped that bad. She kind of

LGI Championship Race 2019

Message from Lance Graves about LG International Barrel Racing Championships

Ok friends and barrel racing fans, we have some exciting updates for the Lance Graves International Championship barrel races Feb12-17, 2019 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma!!! The 2019 International Futurity Slot Race has been completely REVAMPED! I'm super excited AND I hope all producers will look at my new format and consider a similar structure. Yes, I realize I have been copied before and if that's what it takes to benefit our industry, please continue to do so!! Here it goes....

- 1) The slot race is now for five year old and younger horses.
- 2) Added money is the same $30,000
- 3) Entry fee has dropped to $3,500
- 4) Open to 75 horses
- 5) The Championship round will be the side run of the first go round of the BFA and the first run of the 5 & under futurities.
- 6) slot horses competing in the BFA futurity will run at the end of the BFA futurity and slot horses entered in the 5 & under futurity will run at the beginning of 5 & under futurity. This way ALL slot horses run consecutively.
- 7) The Championship round will pay $75,000 to win and will pay 9 places.
- 8) The remaining 64 horses that did not receive a check in the Championship round will be eligible to compete for the Consolation round which will be the side pot off of round two. Same structure!! Everyone that didn't get a check gets another chance to win this way!!

With the BFA moving to the Lazy E in November 2019 and planning to use the same pattern measurements from the Oklahoma City arena, the LGI 2019 will also adopt the same pattern measurements. Information courtesy Lance Graves

ProRodeo Hall of Fame part of Museum Day Sept. 22

The ProRodeo Hall of Fame and Museum of the American Cowboy will open its doors free of charge to all Museum Day ticketholders on Saturday, Sept. 22, as part of Smithsonian magazine's 14th annual Museum Day, a national celebration of boundless curiosity in which participating museums emulate the free admission policy at the Smithsonian Institution's Washington, D.C.-based museums.

Museum Day represents a nationwide commitment to access, equity and inclusion. More than 250,000 people downloaded tickets for last year's event, and Museum Day 2018 is expected to attract more museumgoers than ever before.

The theme of this year's Museum Day is Women Making History, honoring women in society who are trailblazers in the arts, sciences, innovation and culture, and emboldening others to be pioneers as well.

"This will be our fifth year participating in Museum Day," said Kent Sturman, Director of the Pro Rodeo Hall of Fame. "We appreciate this opportunity to showcase our museum with this free admission to those that may not have been here before. And with this year's theme of Women Making History, it is a chance for guests to come and see our newly installed exhibit on the Women's Professional Rodeo Association and learn about the amazing women who have been inducted in the event of barrel racing."

The ProRodeo Hall of Fame began inducting barrel racers in 2017, and the second class of members from the WPRA were inducted last month.

Families with children also can be able to enjoy our Little Champions Arena, a children's exhibit and play area that educates, entertains and promotes rodeo to the museum's younger audience. Museum Day tickets are available for download at Smithsonian.com/MuseumDay. Visitors who present a Museum Day ticket will gain free entrance for two at participating venues on Sept. 22. One ticket is permitted per email address. A list of participating museums can be found at Smithsonian.com/MuseumDay/Search. For more information, visit Smithsonian.com/MuseumDay.

Tibbs Foundation to induct Frenchmans Guy

The 29th Annual Casey Tibbs Foundation Tribute Dinner will be held on Saturday, November 3, 2018. Now in its 29th year, the Tribute Dinner is an opportunity for friends and families in the ranching and rodeo communities to celebrate and honor the accomplishments of South Dakota cowboys, cowgirls, families and animals. We congratulate the following Honorees.

Rodeo Animal Athlete: Frenchman's Guy owned by Bill and Deb Myers of St. Onge

Frenchman's Guy is a 1987 Palamino Stallion that sired many great performance horses and rodeo champions with progeny earnings exceeding eleven million dollars. His owners, Billy and Deb Myers are the leading breeders of arena performance and rodeo champions. Though he lost his right eye as a yearling, Frenchman's Guy became a highly competitive arena athlete in the barrel futurity, derby and PRCA/amateur rodeo circuits. He was a finals qualifier PRCA Badlands Circuit and South Dakota Rodeo Assn, Northwest Rodeo Cowboys Association Reserve Champion and Finals qualifier PRCA Badlands Circuit and South Dakota Rodeo Assn, just to name a few. He is known as an elite competitor especially for his extended stride and speed. Frenchman's Guy is now 31 years old and resides on the Myers ranch in St. Onge.

lost her backend at the second barrel, but I just kept going. I really didn't think she would clock. I was fourth out and I was sitting second after I ran. I was like, 'Well, I don't know if that will hold. There's a bunch of tough girls left.' It ended up holding to make the shootout round. I started crying."

Her traveling partner Tess Wyly told her that she needed to save the crying because she had another run yet to make that afternoon.

Joining Pozzi Tonozzi and Smith in the Finals were Andrea Busby and Tammy Fischer. Smith was last to run.

"The three girls in front of me made awesome runs, and I thought 'Whatever happens, happens.' When I saw the clock, I lost it. I cried so hard," she said.

Smith grew up rodeoing, but her parents did their best to make her support herself.

"My parents opened a checking account for me when I was 6-years-old, and I've been paying my way ever since," she noted. "Of course, they helped me a first, but I've raised and trained some nice horses along the way that I've been able to sell to nice homes. That's really what's been able to keep me out here this long."

She took a calculated risk when she purchased Lena from her breeder Cindy Skinner, a barrel racer and former futurity producer, two years ago. The daughter of two-time NFR sire Firewaterontherocks out of Turlena, by Smart Cash Cutter, had only been to six barrel races when Smith purchased her as a 6-year-old.

"I started running her at the college rodeos, and the first college rodeo I took her to she won third. Hailey (Kinsel, her teammate at the time) and Sister (DM Sissy Hayday) set an arena record at the rodeo," said Smith. Although they missed the College National Finals their first season together, they were able to make the trip to Casper, Wyoming, this year.

Along with the college rodeos, Smith took Lena to a few of the tough open amateur rodeos around Southeast Texas.

"I went to a few here and there and placed at a couple, but didn't she traveled over the Fourth of July with Cassidy Kruse “just to get her feet wet,” but ended up staying out the entire summer. “I was supposed to go home after Cheyenne, but we had some plans change. I decided I was going to keep entering and she decided that she was going to win, so we’ve been out here ever since,” she said.

She said she doesn’t really know what flipped the switch on Lena, but she noted that the mare thrives on the crowd in performances and seems to get stronger with each run.

Smith also gave credit to Jana Bean for encouraging her to stay out longer and said having a good mentor is one of the most important things a rookie can have.

“While I have been out here, Jana Bean has been one of the more important people,” she said. “At Casper at the pro rodeo, she told me that I didn’t need to give up yet, that I needed to stay out here. I’m sure glad I did, that’s for sure. Definitely have a good mentor.” Other important rookie rules Smith learned while rodeoing this summer were, “Always stay positive and keep positive people around you. And, don’t pass up a gas station!”

Counting Down

Former rookie of the year and two-time champion Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and palomino warrior Yeah Hes Firen (“Duke”) were working their way to sweeping the Wrangler Pro Rodeo Tour Final in Puyallup, Washington, winning both rounds, the average and semifinals. Slips in the Finals maybe have cost them the rodeo, but the $17,957 Pozzi Tonozzi banked put her in the hunt for her third world championship. She currently sits third in the WPRA World Standings with $133,807.

Puyallup, plus exceptional finishes at two other rodeos, sent Tammy Fischer back south to finish up her seventh NFR qualification closer to home. Fischer picked up $7,471 in Puyallup, plus finished second at Lewiston, Idaho, ($2,433) and sixth at Fort Madison, Iowa ($1,024), to jump to 10th in the World Standings with $91,277. This week all eyes are on Pendleton, Oregon; Abilene, Texas; and Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Slack for the $37,500-added Let ‘Er Buck Pendleton Roundup was held Monday. Carley Richardson and Kellie Collier, who sit 14th and 17th, respectively, in the WPRA World Standings, competed, but both took costly penalties.

Jessi Fish and Teri Bangart, who sit 18th and 19th, respectively, did well. At the conclusion of slack, Bangart, last year’s reserve champion at Pendleton, was sitting second. Fish was in sixth. The first performance is Wednesday and the first round will conclude on Friday. The top 12 will advance to Saturday’s Finals.

Jessica Telford, currently 16th in the World, is currently down south, awaiting her runs at Abilene and Albuquerque before flying back to make her first run at Pendleton on Friday. Bangart, too, is on her way south before returning for a likely Pendleton short round. Both ladies have two horses to split the duty.

Meanwhile, Carman Pozzobon, Kelly Bruner and Amber Moore are foregoing barrel racing’s “Green Mile.” The remaining NFR chase, with the exception of two possible Canadian rodeos for Pozzobon, lies to the south.

The southern run final push begins with $5,000-added Abilene and $11,000-added Albuquerque. They paid $2,463 and $3,972, respectively to win in 2017. Bruner placed at both last year. Collier, too, picked up a check at Abilene.

Also at stake at this time of the year are the crucial positions further below in the standings. Cracking the Top 40 is often the goal of many to be eligible for the limited-entry rodeos this winter. Ladies in those positions are also making last ditch efforts to earn those spots.

Janet Staton and JS Milo And Stitch Rack Up a 6th Futurity Championship at Wyomings Fizz Bomb

By Amy Wilson

There's a lot to be "happy" about for Janet Staton and JS Milo & Stitch as they continue their winning ways. They were reserve champions at the Glenwood Memorial Futurity in Salina, Utah a couple weeks ago, and then made a big statement while winning their sixth futurity at the 36th Annual Fizz Bomb Classic in Gillette, Wyoming. Staton and Happy won the slot race, won Futurity round 1, second in Round 2, and won the futurity average. They collected nearly $18,000, and they've now surpassed $250,000 in earnings this year.

"It was wonderful, and I had so much fun. It was one of the best I've been to," Staton said about the Fizz Bomb. "It was ran so smoothly and professionally. Everyone was fantastically nice." After winning, she also realized there was a special connection, "On the way home I got a message from my friend, Tessa. Her mother originally helped start the Fizz Bomb. I had won a buckle, and I turned the buckle over and it said 'In Loving Memory of Karen McCurley'. I had no idea there was a connection there and they still give the buckle in her memory so that was really special."

Staton was away from her Texas home for about three weeks attending the two futurities, and she made the most of the trip. "I decided to stay in Colorado at Brittany's [Pozzi Tonozzi] for the week in between. I had a couple friends with me and we had the best time." They went to Colorado Springs, and went white water rafting and to the casino. "We saw all the sights – Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls – we just experienced everything we possibly could while we were there. When we got to Gillette, I didn't think I'd ever get the chance to see it again so we hauled to Mount Rushmore." Staton typically just goes to and from the futurities, so she enjoyed the change. "We had some good-friend, old-woman fun," she said laughing.

Staton also utilized her time at Brittany's to do slow work with Happy, and she knew it had paid off after they won the first round of the Fizz Bomb Futurity. He can get a little tight and she thought he was pretty tight the first go, so before the second go she did more slow work and worked him off the barrels. According to Staton, she doesn't have any secrets, she just goes back to the basics mostly. "I like to work him past the barrel and make sure his hip stays in and shoulder up. And I'm not big on flexing." She also made an impromptu bit change in Gillette. "I usually run him in a perfect bit, and they made me a new one that is absolutely gorgeous with a nose piece and the shank is a little bit shorter than what I normally ride on him. For some reason, I just grabbed it and put it on him." It obviously was the right decision. "That's the best he's worked in awhile," she said complimenting the Perfect Bit and the 4 year old bay gelding. "He's an amazing horse because it's like he knows when it's time to do something big and he pulls through." Staton doesn't take any credit for helping him master that, she believes he was born with it.

As for his ability to excel, she says, "Nothing bothers him. For a colt, inside the arena, he acts like he's ten." Outside the arena he can be a handful sometimes, and gets a little buddy sour at times, but he takes the road great and he drinks "like nobody's business".

Staton explained what it's like to ride the futurity superstar, "When you hit the alley, you can feel it. He's super confident. He can mortally fly. He kind of elevates a little bit when he takes off. He's very easy to deal with. He just walks down the alley, doesn't really get nervous. He has all those great things you want in one."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Janet Staton

JS Milo & Stitch "Happy" 15.3 h. 1,200 lbs.
 BIT: Perfect Bit
 SADDLE: Coats
 SADDLE PAD: 5-Star
 LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Legacy
 SHOES: Rims on the front and flats on the back
 FEED: Producer's Co-op
 HAY: Alfalfa
 SUPPLEMENTS: DAC oil and Purina Outlast
 ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: "Not a thing other than chiro adjustments as needed. He's never even had an injection."
 CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: I mostly just keep him in shape. I ride him 2-3 times a week, and if I'm going somewhere, I'll do some slow work.

Staton doesn't usually feel like their runs are pretty, but his speed makes up for it. "Every once in awhile he'll make a pretty run, but not very often. Most of the time I feel like there were a lot of things I could've done better. His run at Fort Smith and his run in the finals at Diamonds and Dirt were two of his prettier runs. Everyone says that it looks like he's loping, so he's really long-strided. I don't have to be perfect on him because he can really run so if I can just get around them pretty good, when I turn the third barrel, that's when he does his deal because he can really run."

Staton bought Happy when he was 7 months old from breeder Shelly Martin. He is by the late Firewater Ta Fame and out of a Tres Seis mare that belonged to one of her hometown friends. In November, Staton was approached by Jennifer Fite about selling him. "She agreed to let me keep him all year, pay his way, and buy him as well, so it was kind of a deal I couldn't turn down. maybe I would've, but you never know. It's been the best of both worlds."

One thing Staton does regret is not chasing her barrel racing dreams sooner. Her dad entered her in her first open rodeo when she was only 4 years old. "I grew up riding all my life and it's always been my passion," she said. "I had a super nice horse in the 1980's. I think he would've excelled out west. He loved big outdoor pens. My friend went out and barely missed making the finals[NFR]. I wanted to go so bad but I had got married and we had built a house, so I just couldn't justify it. And I didn't have the confidence, I was too scared to try it." It also aligned with how she was raised, "My parents brought me up knowing I had to get my education and have a job with insurance, not to chase your dream because that's not practical. So I did what I was supposed to do, but finally I said 'forget it, I'm going to give it a shot.'" After teaching for 26 years, and having a couple people ask her to ride their young horses, she knew training was what she wanted to do. "I finally retired from teaching and got into this to enjoy it and that's how it's been – I enjoy it."

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

This article might step on some toes, so if you think that may be you, just scrunch yours up a little...

When you are talking to someone, do you want to have their attention? Or do you want them looking down at their phone... or multitasking and grunting at you from time to time to let you know they are hearing you...ya right. I can't tell you how many times I may be trying to talk to someone and they get a text, but they encourage me by saying, "Go ahead, I'm listening, I just need to answer this." SERIOUSLY?

And do you count on Facebook for all the news, about the news, in the news? If God put the rapture date on Facebook, I'D MISS IT!!! My friends, we really need to reconnect with some people in our lives! We need to TALK to them! We need to hug them! We need to be a real and present part of the lives around us!

When they talk, we need to LISTEN! At the barrel race this weekend I saw the oddest thing. This lady was talking (?) to a guy sitting next to me. It was easy to hear her and she was wanting to write him a check for something. I am not exaggerating, it took her 15 minutes to write him that check because she couldn't stay off her phone! HE was looking quite perplexed before it was all over!

I guess I said all that to say, that is NOT how God does us! HE LISTENS TO US AND HE HEARS US!

I John 5:14-15 says, "Now this is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. And if we know that He hears us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we have asked of Him." What a wonderful breath of fresh air! Let's talk to someone with our MOUTH this week!
