James Barnes, This Guy Will Moonya for $39K at Fizz Bomb Classic, Blue Collar Breeders

By Tanya Randall

The perpetual bridesmaid finally got a turn.

James Barnes, a veteran barrel horse trainer from Hamburg, Arkansas, got his second career futurity victory at the Fizz Bomb Classic, held September 6-10 in Gillette, Wyoming, aboard This Guy Will Moonya ("King"), a homebred for Brad and Jackie Tidwell's Bear Creek Quarter Horses in Bienville, Louisiana.

"I've been training horses full times since 2011, and this is only my second futurity win," said Barnes, who previously won the 2017 Lucky Dog Futurity win Wheres My Soxx. "I have several reserve championships. I've always been the bridesmaid, never the bride! "I do like to win, but I'm very happy with being consistent so I can sell my horses to people that can go on to be winners. I have a huge record of producing winning barrel horses from my program." In addition to King, who also topped the $55,000 Blue Collar Breeders Futurity sidepot, Barnes also trained Fizz Bomb Derby Reserve Champion and Blue Collar Breeders Derby sidepot winner Runnin With Wings, owned and ridden by Londyn Gorham.

"It was really special because I hauled to Gillette with Londyn and her mom Amanda and we came home with two Blue Collar wins," he said.

The Blue Collar Breeders incentive win was worth $24,614 with the owner's and breeder's portions all going to the Tidwells. The Fizz Bomb Classic victory was worth $12,522 plus $1,757 in open carryover earnings.

All totaled, King won $38,893 in Gillette.

King and Barnes were fourth in the first round with a 15.272 after having a less than stellar second barrel.

"He really didn't come around his second barrel like he normally can," Barnes explained. "He elevated a little bit coming out of the second, so that cost us some time. I felt like I could run a .0 on him but I was concerned for the second go because I was fourth on the ground; that arena could get a little deep. I was internally worrying just because I had a decent run in the first go and I wanted to be smooth again and not hit a barrel.

After some serious internal dialog running over various scenarios, Barnes ultimately decided to focus on making another smooth pass and whatever happens, happens. But before making that second run, Barnes tuned King in the warmup.

"When I tune him, I normally counter arc him around every barrel to get him to lock his hip and quicken his shoulders up," Barnes explained. "With him elevating around the second in the first round, I thought I needed to sharpen him up just a tick.

"When I went to the warmup pen before my run, I walked him around the barrels and counter arced him around each one. When I went to run, he smoked his second and third barrel. He didn't elevate, he stayed down and driving, and he kept moving forward. When I turned the third barrel I was like, 'Oh! Wow! I have a clean run!'

"When I saw the .1 I got really excited because I figured I needed to run a .2 to go to the lead in the average or at least be in the Top 5. I kind of yelled when I saw my time. I was really excited that I beat my time from the day before. I always tell people, I train champions, but I'm a placer. My goal when I go to the futurities is to win as much money as possible for my clients and try to be consistent or get better with each run. I was excited not because I

Ironically, it was a year ago at the Fizz Bomb that Barnes put a lot of faith in King's ability.

King started his career in the Montgomery program with Kerby breaking him and Jolene starting him on the pattern at 2. When it became apparent that King wasn't going to fit Jolene's program, the Tidwells tried to sell him but ended up bringing him home. Then in September of his third year, the Tidwells crossed paths with Barnes at the Ardmore Futurity in Oklahoma, and he got the gelding a month later.

"I rode him for four months and felt like I was getting somewhere—all to the right barrel first, because that's how Jolene had started him," he said. "I had him going my way for the most part, but I felt I needed to switch him to the left. I said, 'I like this horse. I think I can win on him, but I think he needs to go to the left.'" "He nails his right first barrel every time, but his left turn was inconsistent. He would smoke the second and then goof off at the third or goof off at the second and smoke the third. I thought switching him to the left would be the ticket."

Barnes had King on the trailer when he went West for the summer futurities last year. In fact, King was second in the Fizz Bomb futurity showcase—a mock race exhibition run for next year's crop of colts.

"I called the owners and asked if they would consider late entering King in the BFA Futurity as a 4-year-old," he recalled. "I told them it was double the entry fees, $1,500. They said, 'Do you think you can win that back?' I said, 'Yes, I think I can make the short go.'"

In his debut against seasoned futurity horses, King ran in the Top 10 for both qualifying rounds, short go and aggregate.

King has won money at all but four of the futurities that he's entered since. His career earnings stand at around $150,000. "He's not in the Pink or Ruby Buckle so I felt like I had to haul him to some of the smaller futurities to get earnings on him," said Barnes. "He's won most of his money the hard way."

King, who is out of the proven performing and producing Designer Red mare VF Red Lights, is by the red hot sire Guys Canyon Moon, a proven performing son of Frenchmans Guy out of the great Mulberry Canyon Moon, by Marthas Six Moons.

It was a breakout weekend for Guys Canyon Moon. The 11-year-old stallion also sired Indiana Futurity Champion This Guys Flying, ridden by Craig Brooks. King's older sister Guys Moon Light added yet another pro rodeo win with Jennifer Neudorf in Canada. Jolene Montgomery also got a jackpot win on Fantastic Spitfire, a derby horse by Guys Canyon Moon.

"I think he's the next big thing," Barnes said of Guys Canyon Moon. "I think he's the most underrated stud there is. I think he's the best Frenchmans Guy stud out there."

A LITTLE EXTRA

Fizz Bomb Derby & Breeders Challenge Derby Champions: MJ Segers Fast Lane & Brandon Cullins

- MJ Segers Fast Lane has been on everyone's radar that follows the barrel racing results closely; setting arena records and running extremely fast times. This was the team's first big win in the spotlight.
- MJ Segers Fast Lane & Brandon Cullins dominated at the Fizz Bomb; they swept both round & the average of the Fizz Bomb Derby and also won the Open on both days! Their payday was $12,414
- The team also swept both rounds & the average of the Breeders Challenge Qualifier #6 Derby and both rounds of the Open as well for another $9,127 putting their total weekend haul at $21,541.
- MJ Segers Fast Lane had $55,488 (QStallions) of lifetime earnings before this event.
- MJ Segers Fast Lane pedigree set her up for success in the barrel arena. The Goodbye Lane is double bred to barrel racing cornerstone sire Tiny Watch and dam Sks Running Faucet also traces back to Tiny Watch.
- The Goodbye Lane is now a $6.06 Million Sire (QStallions).
- Brandon Cullins is a $1.583 Million rider according to Equistat. His first recorded checks were from 2005 on Jojos Prince!

A LITTLE EXTRA

Blue Collar Breeders Fizz Bomb Derby Champion: Runnin With Wings & London Gorham

- Runnin With Wings & London Gorham captured yet another big check at the Fizz Bomb and Blue Collar Breeders Derby. For the last couple years this team has been picking up big checks wherever they go. In fact, just last month they were the Reserve Champion of the the Royal Crown Derby!
- They won the Fizz Bomb Blue Collar Breeders Derby Championship and the Reserve Championship of the Fizz Bomb Derby & the Fizz Bomb Breeders Challenge Derby Qualifier. All told the team won $32,860 plus earned Runnin With Wings breeder $6,500.
- Runnin With Wings had earned $174,450 prior to this event according to QStallions.com so this win will put the speedy gelding over $200k.
- His sire, JL Dash Ta Heaven is now a $6.8 Million Sire (QStallions).
- Granddam of Runnin With Wings (CD Nick Bar) is also the dam of Kisskiss Bangbang (by Dash Ta Fame). An earner of $444k while also running a 16.479 on a standard pattern. Big time barrel horses are in Runnin With Wings blood!
- With a couple left before she turns 18, London Gorham has already won $545,981 (Equistat) in her career. Her first recorded checks were in 2013 riding Little Bit!

Puyallup Cinch Playoff Champions, SR Industry Titan and Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi- Tonozzi Continues to Triumph in 2023

By Hope Raley

If professional rodeo had an MVP, this season, it would be Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi. She has been on a heater since the beginning of the summer and after winning her 8th major rodeo of the year, she continues to prove why she is one of the best barrel racers of all time. She and SR Industry Titan notched another win in their growing partnership, winning the Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup during the Washington State Fair Pro Rodeo.

Tonozzi piloted the 10-year-old stallion by Firewaterontherocks out of the great Mulberry Canyon Moon to the tune of $18,863. The Washington State Fair Pro Rodeo marks the start of the Cinch Playoff Series. The top 23 contestants in the Playoff Series Standings and the champions from the NFR Open battled it out in Puyallup to compete for their share of $648,000 and a chance to advance to the Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota where a $1-million purse will be on the line.

Tonozzi was in Playoff 2 of the Series, and she and "Titan" finished 2nd in the first performance behind Arkansas' Taycie Matthews. After the dust had settled on the first performance of Playoff 2, Tonozzi and "Titan" turned on their afterburners. The dangerous duo won the second performance of Playoff 2, the semi-finals, and then posted the fastest time of the entire rodeo, running a 13.99 in the finals.

Admitting that she was a little unsure of how "Titan" would handle the small setup, short start and not much for an alleyway, Tonozzi didn't have high expectations going into the rodeo. "I sent Benny home after Caldwell, and although I was a little hesitant of leaning totally on Titan, I knew it was what needed to happen. I needed to set him up for the NFR. He was amazing in Puyallup and exceeded my expectations."

One unique facets of the Washington State Fair Pro Rodeo is the midway where horses and contestants must walk through roughly a solid 10-15 minutes of wall-to-wall people.

"The midway is definitely unique," explained Tonozzi. "Kids running everywhere, many wanting to pet your horse. The mom in me definitely comes out; I don't want anyone getting hurt and you just never know how horses will react. But overall, it is a fun

What Tonozzi really loves about the Washington State Fair, almost as much as she loves winning the barrel racing, is the ever-so popular vendor by the name of Fisher Scones. These famous scones are a signature food attraction at state and local fairs across the northwest and Tonozzi promises that you'll never taste anything quite as tasty. "I'm not really a scone-person per-say, I have only ever had them from Starbucks or coffee shops, but these are in a league of their own! They are smeared with whipped butter and have raspberry jam in the middle. I always make sure that when I am in Puyallup, I stock up on the scones!"

Tonozzi commends the rodeo committee at Puyallup for their hard work and for always going above and beyond for their contestants.

While the wins are still fun for Tonozzi and her family, she does admit that the older that she gets, it is more about the relationships made along the way that mean the most.

"I am very grateful for the friendships and relationships that horses continue to bring into my life. We definitely couldn't do what we are doing without all of the people that are in my corner!"

Tonozzi is home in Texas before heading out for the final few rodeos of the 2023 rodeo season. She is still in a very commanding lead in the WPR A World Standings, with $246,882.54 won as of September 11th.

Craig Brooks & This Guys Flying Dominate 48th Indiana Barrel Futurity, Wins $20,000

By Tanya Randall

Multiple aged event champion Craig Brooks and the 4-year-old gelding This Guys Flying (“Tucker”) took home $20,598 from the 48th Annual Indiana Barrel Futurity, held September 8-10 in Edinburgh.

The longest running futurity sanctioned by the Barrel Futurities of America had record entries, 102, for its $20,000 in added money. Sweeping both rounds and the aggregate paid $8,930.

“I was really tickled to win as much as we did this weekend,” said Brooks, who hails from Eastanollee, Georgia, where he trains horses and wrangles the two sons that he shares with wife Elan. “Jason Willis (who co-owned the futurity reserve champion with his wife Leslie) said I must have been really hungry to make the runs we did.”

In a way, Willis was right. After finishing just out of the money at several of the slot races held throughout the Southeast, Brooks and Tucker were due a turn.

“It was nice to get something back after spending all that money on those slots,” he noted.

He and Tucker turned in two of the three fastest runs of the entire event, the fastest of which was their 14.611 to win the first round of the futurity and Saturday’s Open. They came back with a 14.771 to win the second round and Sunday’s Open. “I don’t know if I’m necessarily known to ride the horse that’s going to win the go-round,” he said. “My style is being more consistent than running that big number. I’m tickled to be able to come back and run another fast number.

“He was bottom of the ground the first day, so that was really cool; it was pretty special. To go in and back it up, I was really tickled with that. With a horse that can run as fast as he can, it’s tough to back it up because there can be some bobbles.”

Brooks and Tucker also won the $1,000-added 5-year-old Futurity Sidepot for $1,608 and the open slot race for $2,681. The open carryovers were worth $2,596.

They also won $4,175—$2,505 to the owner and $835 to the breeder and stallion owner—from Future Fortunes, which celebrated its 20th anniversary with a $50,000 open bonus at the event where it first started. First place in the newest incentive, the Diamond Classic, paid $608.

Brooks figures that Tucker’s earnings are now at the $40,000 mark.

Mike and Kellie Sokol raised the gelding by their stallion Guys Canyon Moon, a money-winning son of Frenchmans Guy out of the champion performer and producer Mulberry Canyon Moon, by Marthas Six Moons. Tucker is out of the race-winning Dash Ta Fame, Strawfly Special mare Regal Flying.

The Sokols sent Tucker to Brooks as a 2-year-old. Brooks sent the gelding to Kelly Mohler, a cutting horse trainer who started a few of his colts, for his first 60 days under saddle.

“He’s always been a good-minded colt, but he was a little spooky at the start,” noted Brooks. “He would shy away from a horse that was 30 yards away in the arena.”

To help the 2-year-old overcome this fear, Brooks put his helper McCrea Campbell—“the sticky kid”—on Tucker, while he loped small circles around them. Brooks also put Tucker in the roundpen and worked other horses around him as well.

“That was our biggest issue in the beginning—getting him used to other horses being around him,” said Brooks. “That was probably why he was a little inconsistent at the start of the year and has really come on here recently. He was just really looky and sometimes in a run he would just back off or be a little like a deer in headlights. Now, he’s gotten over a lot of that.”

Brooks also had to contend with Tucker’s extreme speed.

SADDLE: Pro Rider

SADDLE PAD: Impact Gel

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast all the way around

SHOEING: 2° aluminum wedge on front; Kerckhaert SX7 with a wedge pad on hinds; shod by Daniel Vaughn.

FEED: Tucker Milling

HAY: Alfalfa and Bermuda grass

SUPPLEMENTS: Stierwalt Superflex, Core Nutrition

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: “He’s getting less than he was as a colt. About three days a week, I’d work him on the barrels, now it’s once or twice depending on what’s coming up. He gets turned out daily and we work them about three days a week.”

SPONSORS: Impact Gel, Iconoclast, Core Nutrition, AR Enterprises, Steirwalt Super Flex, Banixx, Spur West

“He’s also incredibly, incredibly fast,” he said. “To me anytime you have something that can run like that, it ups the odds of some errors until they get a little further down the line and get more solid. He’s just incredibly talented on the clock and can run some big numbers.

“I’ve been really pleased with how he’s come on the past three or four months. He’s gotten a lot quieter too. He was always quiet, even with the spookiness, but he’s even quieter now.”

Brooks wanted to thank the Sokols for the opportunity to ride the colt and their patience with his development.

“They were tickled to death,” he said. “They’ve been really patient to really let this colt come into himself. They know that I’m not going to put more pressure on him than what he can handle.”

He also suspects that their stallion Guys Canyon Moon is about to hit the big time. Last weekend, James Barnes was riding Bear Creek Quarter Horse's This Guy Will MoonYa, by Guys Canyon Moon, to the Fizz Bomb Classic and Blue Collars Breeders titles, while that horse's full sibling, Guys Moon Light, was carrying Jennifer Neudorf to yet another pro rodeo check in Canada.

“As a trainer talking to other trainers, he's one of the few stal-

ions that I have not heard anything negative about,” Brooks noted. “Every trainer has had that one horse that makes them think differently about having a certain horse in a pedigree. I haven't heard anything negative about him and I expect him to really take off here in the near future, especially with the horses he's had jump up here recently. I think a lot of people are going to jump on the bandwagon with them.”

Breeders Challenge Big Money This Week!

The $1,000,000 Breeders Challenge Finale happens this week, September 13-16 at the John Justin Arena in Ft Worth, TX. It will be an event full of fast runs and big checks!

It is a full week of activity starting out with the High Stakes Challenge presented by Flinging Roses on Wednesday Night the 13th in the John Justin Arena. The race begins at 7pm, but entries will remain open until 8pm Wednesday. During the week there will be Cowtown Showdown races—open to everyone, no Breeders Challenge enrollment required—in the Will Rogers Coliseum where entries will remain open through the first 50 runs each day—$65,000+ in added money up for grabs.

Then Thursday, September 14, features the Open 4D Finals followed on Friday, September 15, with the Derby & Futurity Semi-Finals. Saturday, September 16, features the big lineup of Finals—Youth Finals (1pm), Senior Finals (2pm), Amateur Derby Finals (4pm), Open Derby Finals (6pm) and the Open Futurity Finals (7pm). All these races are run at the John Justin Arena.

The best place to keep up with all the action at the Breeders Challenge Championship Race this week is on their Facebook “The Breeders Challenge” or on Instagram “breederschallenge”. Also the schedule and all event details are available at www.BreedersChallenge.com.

The webcast will be done by Equine Promotion—available on www.BreedersChallenge.com and also on the Facebook page “The Breeders Challenge”.

WCRA & NIRA Announce Collaboration for 2024 CNFR & Offer a $10,000 Cash Bonus

The NIRA (National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association) and WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) are proud to announce a partnership and a combined effort to provide additional opportunities for college rodeo athletes. The two rodeo organizations are teaming up to bring a $10,000 bonus to the 2024 College National Finals Rodeo next June.

“This is another huge step to growing the sport of rodeo among college athletes and giving them an opportunity to qualify for WCRA events,” said WCRA President Bobby Mote. “We are ecstatic to be the presenting sponsor of the Armband Ceremony and offer this $10,000 bonus opportunity to college athletes. We are anxious to see college rodeo athletes qualify for the chance to compete for the $1 Million Triple Crown of Rodeo Bonus.”

The “WCRA College Trifecta” will pay a $10,000 cash bonus to any NIRA athlete who wins their respective discipline in their region and wins at least one go-round of competition at the CNFR in the same discipline and completes the “Trifecta” by winning the World Championship in that discipline. The athlete must have nominated their ride or run with WCRA at the CNFR to be eligible for the bonus. The following NIRA disciplines are eligible: bareback riding, steer wrestling, barrel racing, breakaway roping, tie-down roping, saddle bronc riding, heading, heeling, and bull riding. If more than one athlete completes the trifecta, then those athletes will split the bonus.

“NIRA is thrilled to announce its exciting partnership with WCRA, which promises to open new doors of opportunity for our college rodeo athletes,” said Jim Dewey Brown NIRA Commissioner. “WCRA’s unwavering commitment to elevating the world of rodeo ensures that our athletes will continue to thrive in a realm of endless possibilities.”

Athletes can use code “COLLEGE24” when nominating and receive 25% off. The code is limited to four nominations and can be used to nominate any future event. The code is valid until May 2024.

The beginning is the most important part of any work.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I have a history of deceiving myself in the guise of humor... I hope you don't do the same. I was in a store last week and came across this towel. I glanced at it and burst out laughing! I took it straight to the cash register and bought it. It now hangs next to the fridge on the oven handle. It summed up my deceitful attitude. It said, "I want to lose weight, but I don't want to fall for one of those eat right and exercise scams!"

As if that's not bad enough, it's just across the counter from a little plaque that reads, "Change is good as long as I don't have to do anything different." Are we seeing a theme here?

Gal. 6:7-10 talks about not being deceived and reaping what we sow. I'm sure we've all sown great seed and then there's that seed that is not so good. But thank God, when we repent, we can rip that bad seed right out of our ground! I John 1:9.

Humor is wonderful, of course, and God tells us that laughter is like a medicine. Prov. 17:22. He doesn't say, however, that we can laugh off His word and direction for our lives. That is disobedience.

Let's choose life by obeying His direction for us!
