Margo Crowther & Shes Packin Fame Punch NFR Ticket with NFR Playoff Championship

By Tanya Randall

A $15,700 NFR Playoff Championship at the Washington State Fair in Puyallup solidified Margo Crowther's first trip to the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas this December. The North Fort Myers, Florida, barrel racer is currently No. 8 in the WPRA World Standings with $96,871.

"I woke up this morning feeling refreshed," she said. "I don't have to haul my  off and count pennies. I decided to turnout of all the other rodeos and just rest."

Crowther started her year off on a heater in her Southeastern Circuit. Even though she didn't make the cut or attend such winter staples as Denver, Fort Worth, Houston or San Antonio, Crowther and her great mare Shes Packin Fame ("Sissy") threw their name in the NFR race with intention after a great finish at San Angelo in May. After placing along all summer, they had their breakthrough in the Northwest, as far away from home as they could possibly get, with wins in Caldwell, Idaho, Omak, Washington and now Puyallup.

"It's 3,253 miles, one day and 20 hours from home. When Google shows me the way home, the whole globe pops up, it's so far!" she chuckled.

She was en route to Bozeman, Montana's Stock Ranch, her summer rodeo base camp that belongs to her Florida friends Brian and Lindsay Stock. Sissy is going to get a few days of rest in the pasture, while Crowther's mother flies in to help her make the drive home.

"I wish Puyallup would have been sooner," she said. "It felt like I had been waiting forever for that rodeo to come up because I knew that setup would fit her. The format, even though not ideal for a barrel horse, I knew wasn't going to affect Sissy too much because she's so sound."

The NFR Playoff took the top 23 contestants that entered from the Tour Standings plus the NFR Open Champion Cheyenne Allan. Running in two sets of 12 with two runs—each run counted as a round within a set—the top four on two runs from each set advanced to a semifinal of eight. The Top 8 were paired down to four. Making the format challenging for the later half, was two runs on Saturday and Sunday meant some fortunate barrel racers would be making four runs in just two days.

Crowther was out in the second set, which had two performances on Saturday. She was second out in her first round, picking up $2,700 for second place behind Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday ("Sister"), who were first out. With the order flipped for the second perf, Crowther knew exactly what she needed to do by the time she ran.

"Since it was reverse order, I didn't have to sweat it out," she said. "Everyone except Hailey had ran. I was third in the average until she bumped me to fourth."

In the semifinals, Crowther was fourth out and turned in her fastest run of the rodeo, a 13.90, which got her back to the Finals. Unable to make the long trip through the Midway back to the trailer, Crowther did the best she could to take care of her mare between runs.

"Sunday, I packed a bag with new boots so I didn't have to put dirty boots on her," she explained. "I didn't really have a plan. I actually unsaddled. Shelley (Morgan) had found a hose so I was able to rinse Sissy off because she gets so sweaty. She had a good 45 minutes to an hour to just chill out. There was a really nice big bale of alfalfa that she was munching on. She was really relaxed, but she looked so tired."

In the Finals, Hailey Kinsel and Shelley Morgan opted to ride backup horses, while NFR bubble chasers Crowther and Leslie Smalygo rode their main mounts. Crowther and Sissy set the time to beat of 13.96 as the second team through the gate.

"I had all the faith in the world in Sissy," Crowther said, reflecting on her winning run on the Carrizzo, Packin Sixes bred mare. "When she's on, she's been so good. She's been so confident. I knew if I stayed calm and focused and stayed out of her way that she'd take care of us."

After she'd won, Crowther had no idea that she'd won a golf cart load of goodies and punched her ticket to the NFR. She couldn't even call anyone right away because her phone had died. "I was walking through the carnival and went to take a video and there was only 8% left," she explained. "I knew there was no way it was going to last me all day. I put it on (battery saver) and it lasted me until I made the top 4. When I got back from running, I called my parents, my husband and my kids, they were all together at a watch party. We did a little Facetime and then it died! There was no charger around, but it was okay, because it kept my focus on Sissy." When Crowther did finally have her phone charging, her first call was to her mom.

"I asked her if she'd been sick or sleeping and she said, no, she just lost her voice screaming so loud!" she laughed.

Her second call was to Ann Thompson, who does all her entering.

"When I talked to my mom, I didn't know I had won enough to be up there and be safe," she said. "My second call was to Ann Thompson. The first thing she said was 'Girl, you've punched your ticket!' I said, 'Really?' She said, 'You didn't know that? I thought you would have already added it up!' I said, 'No, my phones been dead!'"

Crowther is looking forward to returning home to her family. She's excited about getting back on her futurity colts for next year—Sissy's first foal crop. Although she has Sissy's full sister to circuit rodeo on, Crowther said she doubts she'll run at another until the NFR. She's got some more important mom stuff to do with her three children.

Homegrown Success -- Britany Diaz & Dudes Spring Fling Top Fizz Bomb Classic

By Tanya Randall

Former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Britany Diaz and her homebred gelding Dudes Spring Fling ("Dollar") topped a salty $20,000-added Fizz Bomb Classic Futurity, held September 7-11 at the Cam-Plex in Gillette, Wyoming.

Two consistent runs put Diaz and Dollar .006 ahead of Mark Bugni and 2022's current leading futurity horse JL Roc Lost A Sock to claim $10,733.

"He was a rockstar," said Diaz of the 5-year-old gelding. "He's running harder and harder as he gets more confident. He's a neat horse."

Dollar, who is by leading barrel horse sire A Streak Of Fling, is out of Diaz's two-time NFR qualifier Dasher Dude ("Rootie"), by Texas High Dasher. Diaz had originally consigned Dollar to the 2019 Copper Spring Ranch Sale as a 2-year-old. Her husband Isaac had put 10 rides on the colt before he went to Rodney Yost for finishing and sale prep. When Dollar went for a couple thousand short of their reserve, Diaz had the colt gelded and after two more weeks with Yost, he came home and her husband started roping on him.

"At the end of his 3-year-old year, I started him on the barrels," said Diaz, who splits her time between her place Desdemona, Texas, and her family's in North Dakota. "I will say he wasn't one of the easier ones that I've had. He's very playful and into stuff. He sees everything. He's a very business-minded horse if you give him a job. I don't do many drills on him. He likes you to show him the right way once and then be done."

Diaz was also training Dollar's half-brother at the same time, A Blazin Dude ("Raisin"), a stallion by Blazin Jetolena. While Raisin was ready to go at 4, Dollar was not. With a second child on the way, she decided to hold both to run as 5-year-olds. However, she still wasn't certain about Dollar.

"He was doing really good and coming on but when I started trying to take him places, he fell apart on me," she admitted. "I honestly didn't know if he was going to make it. This went on for a couple of months. All I did was walk and trot the pattern, kind of dumbed it down for him. I took him exactly where he needed to be and left him alone."

By mid-spring this year, Dollar found his confidence, winning local jackpots. While she'd been entering Raisin at the Futurities, Dollar was still a game-time decision. The April Ruby Buckle was a gut-check event.

"I had started taking them both to some jackpots before the Ruby and (Dollar) was winning," Diaz explained. "I started kicking myself because I only had one entered in the Ruby."

They double the entry fees when you enter late. Before I left, Isaac said, "If you're going to do this, you can't think about how much money you have invested, you just have to think about doing your best." When I got up there, I almost didn't enter him because of the entry fee. We were the very last one to run of 316 and he won second! I finally realized I really have something underneath me. He started to feel like Rootie. He was starting to get really gritty. He's just been incredible since he came on."

Compared to other futurity horses, Dollar hasn't been entered as much, but still had nearly $24,000 won before the Fizz Bomb. Diaz also said she tipped a few barrels as she navigated the process of switching from trainer mode to jockey of the finished horse Dollar was becoming.

In Gillette, Diaz and Dollar were fifth in the first go and third in the second go en route to the average win.

"My second go at Fizz Bomb, when I'm turning to go, he started longeing, like wanting to go, I felt like I was on Rootie again," said Diaz, who also sells health insurance and manages wholesale ac-

"When they called out the time, it was a little bit like déjà vu. I feel like I have a horse that I can go rodeo on again. I've had nice outside horses, but they weren't mine. My other horses were nice, but they might have lacked a little bit of speed. Now, I have these two colts out of Rootie, and they're mine, and they're the caliber that I feel like she was."

She said she feels a lot of Rootie in her babies.

“There are things about them that are so much like her,” she said. “I always told Isaac that I’d give anything to run her again. I haven’t rode her since 2017. Each one of these colts have little things that are so much like her. There are things that make me feel like I’m on her again.”

Dollar also has one of her idiosyncrasies.

“Rootie used to bite her bottom lip when she was nervous,” Diaz said. “I’d just stand there and scratch her belly until she calmed down. This weekend, I was putting Dollar’s splint boots on him and I looked up and Dollar is looking down at me doing the same thing Rootie used to do. Those little things keep coming out.”

Diaz said there was a little bit of pressure to do well with Rootie’s babies, especially after watching Sue Smith have success with

Blazin With My Dude (“Tito”), who recently carried her owner and breeder Andrea Busby to this year’s Cheyenne Frontier Days title. “It was exciting watching them win, but I was hoping mine would be nice too,” she said. “It seems like it took forever!”

Diaz’s dad had purchased Rootie as a yearling for $800. The mare later carried Diaz to two NFRs—2011 and 2014—and a Badlands Circuit Championship. The 22-year-old mare was even at Fizz Bomb too, awaiting her ride back to Texas after spending the summer in North Dakota because she doesn’t like the summer heat.

“I was in tears when the curtain finally fell and Dollar had won the Fizz Bomb,” she said. “It’s a little bit surreal. She’s created everything I have. My husband, my kids, my place—everything I have is because of Rootie. I’m forever indebted to her.”

Shawn Varpness & Packin Ta Fly Bye Ya Nab $25,250 Blue Collar Breeders Championship at Fizz Bomb

By Tanya Randall

Shawn Varpness guided Packin Ta Fly Bye Ya (“Lulu”), Michael (“Mikko”) and Julie Erkamaa’s homebred, to nearly $50,000 in earnings at the Fizz Bomb Classic, held September 7-11 at the Cam-Plex in Gillette, Wyoming.

Varpness and Lulu picked up their biggest check, $25,250, for winning the Blue Collar Breeders Incentive. Of that total, $6,500 went to Tom and Barb Westover, owner of Lulu’s sire French Streakin Jess.

The 4-year-old roan mare is out of Julie Erkamaa’s rodeo mare Packin Ta Fame, a daughter of the immortal Dash Ta Fame out of the multiple futurity winning Packin Sixes mare Packin Sassy.

“From what I remember of her mother, she liked to keep her head low and really turn, and what I remember about her dad, he really liked to turn too,” said Varpness. “It was a really good cross.”

She’s been in Varpness’ Winona, Minnesota, barn since the fall of her second year.

“It was hard to get a lot of movement out of her at first,” he admitted. “She was one of those mares that wanted to walk, trot and lope but not much more than that. She was kind of lazy. As soon as we had a couple of months on her, she switched. After that, she took to everything really easy. She was super, very ratey kind of mare. It made her easy to take the barrels. As soon as I shifted my weight, she had a reaction to it. It was really nice.”

Lulu has been “right there” at several futurities this year but has had a little barrel trouble along the way. It was a fallen barrel at the Packin Ta Fly Bye Ya (“Lulu”) 15.1 h., 1,150 lbs.

BIT: Ed Wright lifter with a smooth mouthpiece with a dog bone, loose curb

SADDLE: Tami Semas

SADDLE PAD: CSI

LEG GEAR: Professional’s Choice

SHOEING: Rims on front and back

FEED: ReNew Gold & alfalfa pellets

HAY: Alfalfa, grass mix fed in a Hay Chix hay net to minimize waste and slow down consumption

SUPPLEMENTS: MVP Exceed 6-Way, Gastro-Plex

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Track wraps when hauling, nebulizer before runs, Oxy-Pulmin

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: I don’t work the barrels on her at all during the week. I will do cone work if there’s something I think she needs to work on. Now it’s mostly long trotting, riding out in the woods, just putting miles on her to keep her in shape. I’ve laid off the barrel and cone work. She’s one of those mares that’s pretty setty and turny so I try to keep her away from it a little bit.

SPONSORS: Arena Trailer Sales, Hay Chix, B Tuff/Cowgirl Tuff

THANKS: My wife has been great. She holds everything together. Lee and Hallie Hanssen have been great support this year. Julie and Mikko—they’ve been great owners, for sure. They are totally into it. I’ve never seen a couple that were so excited. It was super exciting.

Cornhusker Futurity the week before that haunted Varpness a little in the first go of the Fizz Bomb.

“I made sure she had a good first and good second. I was heading to third and I over-thought it a little bit and ended up pushing her by so she didn’t do what she did at Cornhusker. I pushed her up into it a little too far,” he explained. They ran 15.446, which placed 15th in the round of the Futurity and fourth in the Blue Collar sidepot.

“My second run on Saturday, Julie and Mikko said, ‘You know what Shawn, you’ve done great, just go for it. Just make your run.’ I went in there with the mindset of having nothing to lose. All these great trainers are here. She’s a good enough mare to be there. I know she’s going to go in there and do her job, and she did. I just let her do her job and didn’t overthink it.”

They turned in the fastest time of the entire Fizz Bomb, a 14.935, to win the round and ultimately place third in the Fizz Bomb Futurity for another $7,617.

“The neat thing is everyone knows how tough it is and so many were there to say congratulations or give a high five,” Varpness said. A lineman by profession, Varpness only takes in three outside horses a month for training in addition to those that he and his wife Casey have.

“I’m hoping in the next couple of years that I can do full time training,” he said.

The couple also produce seven or eight events a year, through their S/C Productions, including the MN Futurity.

Next up for Varpness and Lulu is the Breeders Challenge Finale. They qualified for the event through the Fizz Bomb.

“I think all these incentive races are fantastic for the industry,” he the stallion owners and sponsors. I would have never thought you'd see this kind of payouts at barrel races. It's really neat to see it all come together like it has."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Mike and I both came from a family of believers. Mike's family believed in heaven and all the blessings that were theirs with Jesus. My family believed in heaven, too. They knew about Jesus, were sure they wouldn't get to heaven, so they rejoiced that they'd be in hell partying with their friends. Mike's family knew how to use the name of Jesus, and did so, to be a blessing. My family loved to use the name of Jesus, too. To curse. Somehow, using His name gave more weight to whoever they were mad at and hoped He'd send THEM to hell! I think it was something like 'misery loves company'!

As I wrote down the last few sentences, I was struck with how sad, ignorant and pitiful my family was. BUT GOD! Someone was praying for me. (I'll thank them whenever I find out who.). I met Mike, received Jesus as my savior, and in turn, prayed for my family.

Over the years, all of my family have received Jesus as Lord. I am so thankful that I will see them all again in heaven. There will be NO party in hell.

Luke 13:27-28 briefly describes hell. You don't want to be there. You don't want your family or friends to go there. And they don't have to. Pray for them. Talk to them. Love on them. The party is in heaven! Romans 10:8-13.

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
