$94k Week For Chasin Tres Cans & Joy Wargo at Breeders Challenge Finale

By Tanya Randall

Chasin Tres Cans, trained and ridden by Joy Wargo for small animal veterinarian Sarah Pauels, collected $94,145 at the sixth annual Breeders Challenge Finale, held September 7-12 in Fort Worth, Texas. The 4-year-old gelding won the $400,000 Futurity & High Stakes Challenge and was reserve champion in the $250,000 Open and named Breeders Challenge Horse of the Year.

It was the biggest win of her career for the trainer from Collinsville, Texas.

"I think this is probably the greatest horse I've ever swung a leg over," said Wargo of Chase. "He fits me well. You can trust he's going to go in and do his job. He's a phenomenal athlete. He's set a lot of firsts for me. Obviously, the biggest checks I've ever won at one time. I've won more on him than I've ever won on a futurity horse in a year. He's dang sure going to be a bookmark in life as far as changing things for me."

Chase and Wargo made three passes through the cloverleaf pattern in John Justin Arena and left with two firsts and a second. Their first run was in the Open 4D, and they clocked a 15.538 to win second behind Dusky Lynn Hall and Tornado Lane for $14,000. They had their first semifinal run to the Futurity the next morning and clocked the fastest qualifying time of 15.441.

"He was great in the Open," said Wargo. "I had a really nice run. The next day, we came back and won the first (semifinal) round of

THE RUNDOWN w/Joy Wargo

Chasin Tres Cans ("Chase") 2022 Bay Gelding, 15.3-16 h., 1,250 lbs.

BIT: Schoenberg weighted rebar O-ring; School with a Schoenberg long shank Casey with a square bar lifesaver mouth

SADDLE: Martin BTR with a new custom breast collar and headstall from Hooligan Designs

SADDLE PAD: Schneider Performance Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Legacy on all four

SHOEING: Rims all the way. Shod by Trent Wargo.

FEED: Heritage Professional

HAY: Alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: EquiBoss Chelator Mineral, NutraBac pH

ALTERNATIVE TREATMENTS: Bodywork by Dale Snyder and Mark Stewart at home, laser therapy

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "He gets rode five to six days a week. I don't work him a bunch unless we're getting ready to go somewhere. Right before Breeders Challenge, I think I worked him two or three days before we left, usually twice through the pattern. I lope him once and lope a couple of circles around each barrel and then lope back straight through and be done. There doesn't seem to be much tuning on him at all."

the Futurity. He clocked a little bit better. I felt like he had pretty much the same run. I got a little too close to the third and wiggled it, but he clocked great. I was able to scratch the second (semifinal) round and give him a day of rest.

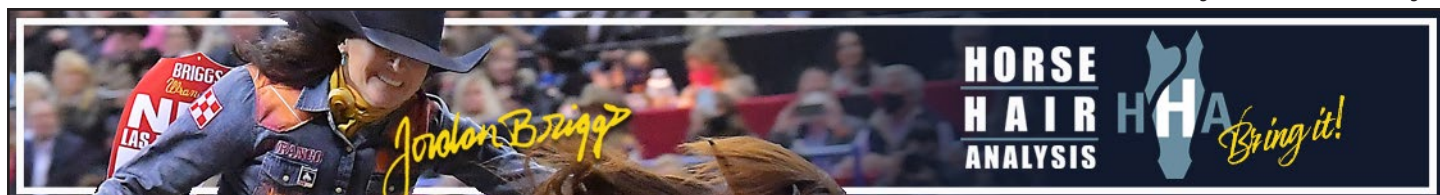

"Honestly, I've never run that horse three days in a week and dang sure not four in a row, which was my concern. I was worried about having to run four days in a row, so we were lucky and got to sit him out Friday and give him a day off."

Wargo went into the Finals hoping to make the same run as his first two.

"There was no reason to override that horse because obviously what we'd been doing all week was working," she said. "About the time I cinched up, Trent (her husband and farrier) walked up to me and said, 'I don't want no doubt in your mind. You're riding the best horse here. I guess that's the attitude I went in with. There's a handful of (futurity) horses that are dangerously talented, but I need to have that mindset going into that pen that if you beat me, you earned it because I was going to make you work for it.'" The pair couldn't have been more consistent in the Finals, turning in a victorious 15.440.

"I couldn't have asked him to be more consistent," Wargo said. "He was dead on. I felt like he maybe could have been a tick better, but I was worried about the third. I kind of stood him up a little bit longer and then he stepped out a little bit leaving it. But I don't feel like that horse loses forward motion, so you can make little mistakes and still be OK on him.”

The win in the futurity paid $72,860 between the Finals and Semifinal. Of the $94,145 he won at the Finale, $32,358 goes to Tres Seis and $12,536 goes to Triple U Quarter Horses, who bred the horse and nominated him to the program. Chase’s career earnings are now $240,261.

Chasin entered Wargo’s barn as a 2-year-old stallion. She was initially reluctant to take on a colt but thought she should at least try due to his impeccable bloodlines. He is by 13.1 million dollar sire Tres Seis and out of champion performer VF Chasin Cans ($136,179 QData), a full sister to 2023 Breeders Challenge Finale Futurity Champion TNR WannaSeeMyCanCan ($561,225 QData), by Eddie Stinson. Both mares are out of the Ivory James mare Chase This Ivory, a producer of nearly $1 million in the barrel pen.

The stallion hit his stride in June, sweeping both futurities at the Colorado Classic and doubling his lifetime earnings. However, Wargo knew the colt could be even better, more consistent, if he were gelded.

“It wasn’t like he wasn’t performing, but I think he’s a way better horse for it,” said Wargo. “Before (when he was still a stallion), he pulled on me 50 percent of the time. He wasn’t bad. He wasn’t ill behaved. But I do believe 100 percent that gelding him made him more consistent. He locks on better. Before I knew I could place on him, but everything had to go right to win. I know every time I run him down the alley now, I have the opportunity to win.”

Unfortunately, Chase clipped himself and injured a suspensory ligament during turnout time shortly after he was gelded in early July, which caused him to miss the Royal Crown Race in Rapid City,

South Dakota. Wargo was worried that Chase was done for the rest of the year.

“By the time we were supposed to leave for Royal Crown, he was moving sound on it,” Wargo explained. “Don (Lee, DVM) looked at him and still didn’t like how the ultrasound looked, so we left him at home. The goal was to bring him back for the Ruby Buckle in Perry.”

At the Ruby Buckle East in Perry, George, Chase and Wargo were reserve champions of the Futurity and finished third in the Open 1D average.

Following his Breeders Challenge Finale Championship, Chase will take a little break before finishing his futurity year with the Pink Buckle, BFA World Championships and OKC Futurity. Wargo will likely derby him next year.

“He’s been great when he’s a few weeks off between runs, so we’re going to do that,” she said. “I do believe I’ll get to derby Chase. We’ll probably throw in some American qualifiers somewhere along the way. The end goal for him is for the owner to ride him later on, so I imagine we’ll probably go to a few amateur rodeos and see how he handles that just to start prepping him for her later on.”

The most fun thing about Chase, said Wargo, is her confidence in him. It’s something she hasn’t really felt since her first great horse Smokin Koa Lena.

“Smoke was the last horse I had where I had the kind of confidence that every time I ran I knew my horse would do his job and you had to outrun me,” she said. “Chase is going to be fun for the rest of the year.”

Montgomery & Tres The Fire Win Breeders Challenge Derby, $56K

By Julie Mankin

Molli Montgomery of Purdon, Texas, clinched the win at the Breeders Challenge Derby in Fort Worth, Texas, on Sept. 8-13, aboard Lisa Wells' 6-year-old mare Tres The Fire ("Honey"). They earned $56,191, which includes the same runs placing in the High Stakes Challenge.

"She just kept getting faster and faster," said Montgomery. "She'd be amazing to take to the NFR, because she doesn't get hot. I do have somebody help me to the gate just because she gets so intense. When she took off down that alley, I could hear those feet hitting the ground and she was flying."

But in the first round, the gate man opened the left-hand alley gate for Montgomery when he thought she was running to the right on Honey – a mare that's actually a lefty. That made them a little tight into the first barrel, which they drug down. But they came back with a 15.591 to place fourth in the second round. In the Derby Finals, their 15.511 won the round, earning them a total of $44,000 including $13,200 for the owners of Tres Seis.

Honey, a stunning palomino mare, is by Tres Seis and out of Wells' mare Firewater Fueled, by Fire Water Flit out of a granddaughter of Go Man Go.

"It just meant a lot to be able to do that for Lisa," said Montgomery. "She and her dad also owned Honey's mama. Tiany Schuster ran a horse out of her at the NFR, so she's been a good producer. They kind of kept Honey as a replacement mare, and Lisa's dad died not long ago, so Honey means a lot to her."

Honey actually fractured her hock last year and was out for eight months. Montgomery only started running her again three months ago – but she's come back with a vengeance. Not only that, they got an embryo out of her by JL Dash 'Ta Heaven, after her palomino baby by The Goodbye Lane died, sadly.

Honey's flashy color and long foretop make her a fan favorite. Montgomery said that every time she posts a video of a run on Honey, Well's inbox fills up with offers to buy the mare.

"Everybody says my signature is how hard I can send a horse to first and how hard they turn the first barrel," Montgomery said. "It's my favorite barrel by far. Most people hate the first, but I love the first barrel."

It's the left-hand barrel for Honey. When Montgomery starts training any horse, she turns each barrel the same direction (not in typical order), and goes each way for a while before she decides which direction feels more natural to the horse.

Wells sent Honey to her late in the mare's 2-year-old year. And it didn't take long. Honey was running so tough at 5 that she placed second in a big Open race her very first competitive run. However, Montgomery said she figures she hit about $150,000 worth of barrels on Honey at futurities.

"Lisa has been an unbelievable owner," said Montgomery. "She always had faith in us. There was a time when I told her to send the mare to somebody else, because I wasn't getting clean runs. But she never lost faith in me – just told me to keep going. That means a lot to trainers. Because nobody wants to win more than we do, I promise, for ourselves and the horses."

In Fort Worth, Montgomery also raked in $24,531 in the Futurity, including a fifth-place finish aboard Hinton Performance Horses' 4-year-old Heavens Gone Wild. Her runs on the week paid a total of $80,722. Montgomery said she'll be buying hay and diesel with her cut of the earnings.

And next year, she's excited about a great herd of horses that she also owns, including a few more by Tres Seis.

BIT: L&W short-shanked Kathy James chain with cord curb (my unicorn bridle)

SADDLE: Shiloh Contender

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: 5 Star

SHOEING: Rims all the way around

FEED: Big V Feeds' 12-8 pellet

HAY: alfalfa and coastal

SUPPLEMENTS: I feel like ulcer meds were suppressing her appetite, so now I just use a little Sucralfate, plus OE's FlaxProbiotic and Big V's Vitapep

ALTERNATIVE TREATMENTS: good shoeing and good vet work

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: Once a horse gets older, people think long-trotting them next to an ATV is enough. But that's how horses get hurt. I still ride four to five days a week and lope through barrels soft and collected; I'm super big on keeping one broke.

SPONSORS: 5 Star Equine Products, David Miller, Miller Hay Sales, Shiloh Saddlery, Boca Brand, Equilume, Big V Feeds, OE Nutraceuticals, Don Lee DVM, Josh Harvey DVM, Cliff Honnas DVM, J&C Bits, L&W Bits, Equi-Source, Genesis Neck and Back, Steel Oil Field Services, Steel Fitness Gym

THANKS: I said some pretty big prayers beforehand, that it would mean a lot to me and Lisa if He could let Honey shine. So I give Him all the glory.

Carlee Otero & Team Take World No. 1 With $16,633 Puyallup Rodeo Win

By Tanya Randall

Five-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier and 2012 WPRA Reserve World Champion Carlee Otero wants a gold buckle. She put a pin in that statement with a $16,633 victory in the Wild Card Round of the Cinch Playoffs at the Puyallup Rodeo, held September 10-13 at the Washington State Fair.

The Perrin, Texas, barrel racer used AM Regina George and Blingolena ("Sly") to claim the title and regain the No. 1 spot in the WPRA World Standings with $202,389. She's unofficially ahead of Hayle Gibson-Stillwell by $13,584 and has her sixth NFR qualification well in hand heading into the last two weeks of the season.

To compete in the Wild Card Round of the Cinch Playoffs, barrel racers had to be in the top 23 in the Playoff Tour points or win the NFR Open. Otero had the qualification well in hand as the Playoff Tour standings leader.

The 24 contestants were split into two brackets with the four fastest on two runs advancing to a semifinal round. The top four from the semifinal made a fourth run for the title and also earned automatic advancement into the Cinch Playoffs Championship at the Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on the last weekend of the season.

With ground guru Randy Spraggins in charge of the footing, Otero opted to run Sly, the Busby Quarter Horse-bred, Blazin Jetolena, Dash Ta Fame gelding she purchased as a 5-year-old.

"The last time I ran Sly there was a couple of years ago," Otero said. "He just didn't show very well there, and I was like, 'You know what? Randy's here. He's doing the ground. I'm just going to give him a shot and see what happens.'"

Otero and Bling had a great first run, turning in a 13.92 for second. They had a miscue at the first barrel on their second run and had a disappointing 14.30 but held on for third in the aggregate to advance to the semifinals out of their set.

"My second run, my reins slipped through my hand at the first barrel," Otero explained. "It had just started misting and sprinkling. My hands were cold and slick. I just didn't prepare myself well. If we had been in a bigger pen, I probably could have recovered better, but it all worked out."

The rain continued overnight leaving the arena a muddy mess for the semifinals and finals. Thankfully, Spraggins was up to the task.

"The ground there, I feel like it can always use water," said Otero. For instance, Ivy Saebens won the rodeo in standing water once with KN Fabs Gift Of Fame. "Some of the other Washington ground, I feel like you can get too much. There it's just sandy enough that it doesn't affect it too much as long as it's sealed, like Randy did, where it's not just boggy deep. He did a good job sealing it."

"Randy told me he stayed up all night long. He brought in a roller so he could roll the ground. Then he stayed up while all of us were resting to sweep water off that arena. That man is dedicated."

"I think they need to give a big shout for having Randy there this year. I really think he improved the ground from the first go to even in the rain. I think that he was very instrumental and useful for them. Even the calf ropers were super pleased with how the ground was in the rain."

With Sly having a surgically repaired knee, Otero opted to run Regina in the semifinals due to the mud. The 8-year-old Domann-bred A Smooth Guy, Man In The Money mare that Otero purchased in June 2025 had made one good mud run this summer, winning her performance at the Days of '47 in Salt Lake City to make the gold medal round at the rodeo.

Otero and Regina turned in the second fastest time in the semifinal in spite of their wobbly line between the first and second barrel.

"All those cowboys were up there on the bucking chute," Otero said. "I saw her ears go up, watching them when I left the first. She gets watchy like that, believe it or not. She's a little ADD. She'll see something and forget what she's doing. I just had to not panic and get her back over where I needed her because there's not a lot of space there."

The top four in the semifinals had their second run just 45 minutes later. After rinsing off the mud it was time to put boots back on and make their last run.

Otero and Regina took the title with the only sub 14-second run of the finals, a 13.85, worth $13,900.

With Sioux Falls made, Otero just has two rodeos left: the ND Roughrider Cup in Mandan, North Dakota, where she's out on Friday night, and the Governor's Cup. She'll also duck off to the Gold Rush event in Rapid City, South Dakota, to run Cathys Kandy (Twix), who is eligible for the incentive through her sire The Kandyman.

"I'm turning out of everything else," she said.

Otero said her summer turned out better than she expected.

"I feel like it's turning out better than I had ever dreamt it would," she said. "It's also come with some ups and downs like it always does. I've had some really great wins, but I've gone through some little spurts (of bad luck).

"Regina got really sore in her back and come to find out she had a follicle that wouldn't release and it had hemorrhaged. I couldn't figure out why she wasn't wanting to work and not turning the first barrel. She didn't even want a saddle on her back. As soon as she went to bite me when we just put a saddle pad on her back, I was like, 'OK, I'm not running her.' We struggled with that, so she didn't get to make quite as many runs. I feel like she's just now feeling like herself again. She's fresh and ready to roll."

Twix also won her share this summer.

"Twix did fantastic," Otero said. "She always does. I feel like I don't run her near enough and give her the opportunity she deserves."

Otero said she thought coming out with three horses would be easy, having experienced the summer run with all of them before, but it wasn't.

"I think it's a little bit more challenging because you start questioning and second-guessing your choices," she said. "I thought I had a game plan at the beginning of the year, and I had my arenas picked out (for each horse). That lasted about a week. It turned into, when we got there whichever horse looked like they're ready to roll, excited and not tired."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Did you see me this week? I don't think I saw you either. Well, maybe. IF you were at Church at the Barn, or Home Depot, or riding my horses, or lunch with my friends. Were you even in Wyoming? Gillette? Gees, wonder what the chances are that we will ever meet?

Though I can't give you scripture on this, I bet we will know each other in heaven. Jesus is our common denominator! Our ministry friend from Australia was here this week and he ministered at The Barn. So, I'm stealing this from him.

Eph. 4:11-13. In part it says that our gifts equip us for the work of the ministry. That means that if you aren't there, and someone needs Jesus, I could be there. Or Paul or Judy or Phil or Sally. Tim said, "There is a whole world of hurting people out there that are looking for an equipped YOU!"

Yes, YOU! Sharing Jesus with those we work with, go to school with, meet in the grocery store or a million other places, is one of the most vital things we can do! It's our job. Let's do it well!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
