Anita Ellis & RV Two Dash Ta Vegas Strike Again at Glen Wood Memorial Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Anita Ellis couldn't sleep. Her mind was spinning nonstop, trying to figure out what to do. Her first futurity horse—the first horse she'd trained; the first horse she'd ridden since lifechanging back surgery—had ducked the first barrel in his time-only run. With negative thoughts swirling in her mind, she finally decided the only thing she could do was ask him to run faster, run harder—go as hard as she could to every barrel.

That was nine months, two championships and nearly $150,000 ago.

Ellis and RV Two Dash Ta Vegas topped the $40,000-added Glen Wood Memorial Futurity, held August 28-30 in Salina, Utah, for $13,546 in total earnings.

"I love that horse!" exclaimed the Blackfoot, Idaho, barrel racer. "It's pretty incredible! I was not expecting him to be this way. He's taken a lot of work."

After having a good second day at the Southwest Desert Classic, held the weekend prior in Salina, Ellis was looking forward to the Glen Wood. They had tipped the second barrel in the first go of that futurity but won the second round with a time that would have won the American Qualifier earlier in the day.

"I was trying to stay so focused with him," she said. "Any move I make or when I cue him he turns. It doesn't matter how fast he's running. I have to remind myself of that on the whole way to the first barrel every time."

After an awesome first barrel, the second almost got her in the first round.

"I was kicking him to the second barrel and he started turning a little bit early," she explained. "I touched it with my leg. I didn't even think about it; I just reached out and put a whole punch of pressure on it so I could stop it. I basically came out of my saddle a little bit, but my horse kept running. I even dropped my reins!"

The theatrics on their first round winning 15.225 even caught her mother, Vauna Walker, by surprise.

"My mom screamed when she watched the video even though she knew the outcome!" laughed Ellis. Even though Ellis was more relaxed for her second run, Ax was not.

"Luckily, Randy (her stepdad) was there to help me," she said. "He helped me walk him up. My mom was able to walk with me in the alley on her horse too."

They had a solid run of 15.396 for third in the round.

"He bogged down a little at the third barrel, but that was it," she said. "He gave me plenty of space at the second barrel that day, so I was pretty happy with him."

Ellis, who has four children—three teenagers and a 4-year-old with her husband Brandon—took a nearly 20 year hiatus from horses due to a back injury from a car accident. After surgery repaired her back, her mother picked out a colt that she thought would be a good first horse for her to train for futurities. Walker figured the French Streaktovegas gelding out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Two Dash Ta Fame that she rode for her mother-in-law Ruby Walker, would be the perfect horse.

"She said, 'I thought I was giving you the calm ones!'" laughed Ellis of how Ax was more animated than anticipated. "I sent him to a trainer for 60 days. When we went to pick him up, she asked Brandon (Labbee) if he would ride him for us. She was pretty nervous when she saw how quick his movements were. He's super quick and athletic."

Ellis had her hands full training Ax but has learned to appreciate his athleticism and manage his quirks.

"He does some naughty things every now and then," she admitted. "I feel like he's going to grow out of that. In the warmup pen I have to be very careful about who I'm riding with and riding around. If there's someone loping toward me, he gets very nervous and spin or jump sideways. I try to find a quiet place to keep him calm which can be difficult when there's so many people there, but he's been super fun."

Given all that she's accomplished with Ax, she doesn't plan on selling him, even though she has more futurity horses in the works. "He's the first horse I've gotten on since my back surgery," she said. "He's been tough to figure out at times but he's so special to me that I want to hold on to him. I don't see myself selling him at this point."

Her new goal is to qualify for RFD-TV's The American. She entered the Qualifier in Ardmore, Oklahoma, at the month's end.

"There's so many things available now that weren't there before," she said. "My mom has always had amazing horses but she always has a bunch for next year. She trains and she sells them. I'm in a different situation right now. I have a couple of horses that are 3, but I don't have as much on my plate as she does. So, I'm going to keep running him."

Ellis has two possible futurity horses for next year. She has a 3-year-old Frenchmans Fabulous, Dash Ta Fame gelding that she purchased from her grandmother Ruby Walker. He's entered in the BFA Juvenile. She also recently purchased a 3-year-old filly by The Goodbye Lane that's a little behind but is coming along quickly. "I'm having a great time," she said. "I feel so thankful that I'm doing this right now. It's the best time of my life! It's awesome!"

Tiany Schuster & Show Mance Shine at Tremonton, Utah's Golden Spike Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Tiany Schuster and Show Mance have been on a hot streak. They picked up $4,501 last weekend after winning the $7,000-added Golden Spike Rodeo in Tremonton, Utah, and taking fourth at the $5,300-added Range Days Rodeo in Rapid City, South Dakota.

"Those were the only two I went to; it was a slow week," chuckled Schuster.

She joked the word to describe her recent rodeo run is tootle. Rather than making hectic mad dash over a hectic summer run, the COVID-influenced schedule has allowed her to "tootle" between rodeos. She was able to relax a few days in Rapid before making her run and then had an extra day in Tremonton before her run.

"I got to watch the Friday night perf and thought I had a lot of work cut out for me," she said. Sue Smith and Dashes Centerfold had held the lead with a 17.12 since slack on Tuesday afternoon. Schuster and Show Mance clocked the only sub-17 of the rodeo, a 16.99, in the Saturday night performance to take the win.

"Show Mance just likes the Wilderness Circuit," said Schuster, who commended the committees on their ground and set-ups. "They have in-and-out alleys, the best ground—I don't know if the weather or the dirt or what...but they know how to work it. Those guys need a big pat on the back!"

The 2017 National Finals Rodeo qualifier based out of Krum, Texas, and her 10-year-old gelding have picked up nearly $19,000 through the month of August to move to No. 9 in the WPRA World Standings with $46,144.

Schuster credits her friend Kelly Tovar for getting her back on the road after a quiet July. Tovar told her Show Mance needed a steady diet of runs instead the copious amounts of treats and the infrequent runs he was getting.

Since heading out at the end of July, Schuster and Show Mance placed no worse than third at six rodeos. They broke an arena record to take second at Lawton, Oklahoma, tied for second at North Platte, Nebraska, took second at Burley, Idaho, and placed third at both Baker and Miles City, Montana. They picked up little checks at Carson, Iowa, and Kalispell, Montana.

A win at Jerome, Idaho, also highlighted their month. Their victorious sub-17 run in Jerome was first in at least 20 years, at least by the rodeo president's recollection.

"Everything really came full circle for Show Mance and me in Jerome," said Schuster. In 2017 after

BIT: Travis Grimsley Special

HEADGEAR: Head-setter tiedown

SADDLE: Brazilian

SADDLE PAD: Professional's Choice

LEG GEAR: Polo wraps on all four

SHOEING: SureGrips on front, Victory Elite hind wedges on rear

FEED: Purina Race Ready GT (purple bag)

HAY: Alfalfa hay from Dave Erickson of Crow Mountain Farms

SUPPLEMENTS: Red Cell & Lixotinic; all the apples he can eat.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: "Sometimes I think less is more."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: Not much at all. "When you run five days a week... not much training going on," she says, adding Show Mance's conditioning on the road involves getting lots of sleep in extra shavings and eating as many apples as she can buy."

her epic win at the Calgary Stampede and record-setting lead in the World Standings, Show Mance colicked in Jerome and had to be rushed to Idaho Equine in Nampa for surgery. Although the gelding came back in time for the NFR, he wasn't the dominate horse that he was prior to surgery—until now.

"I'm telling you my secret is apples," she laughed. "He gets two in the morning and two in the evenings. Some days he gets a lot more in between. After Tremonton, I ran out of apples. Everything is closed on Sunday, so I had to drive 25 miles to find a store that was open so I could buy him some apples!"

She added she doesn't allow him to be too picky because at the rate he goes through apples, he's getting whatever variety is on sale!

Schuster has the $8,000-added Filer, Idaho, on Thursday, the $5,000-added Evanston, Wyoming, on Saturday, the $3,000-added in Dillion, Montana, on Sunday, and the $2,900-added in Blackfoot, Idaho, next Monday before pointing her rig toward Texas. She'll return north for the Gold Buckle Beer ProRodeo Tour Finale in Rapid City at the end of September.

She wanted to thank Safe Grip, Professional's Choice and Dave Erickson of Crown Mountain Farms for their support. On

Professional Rodeo Cowboys to compete in front of Yellowstone cast

The cast of the hit TV show Yellowstone, which airs on Paramount Network, will get an up-close look at some of the best Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) bareback riders at the Yellowstone Riggan Rally, Sept. 7.

This $30,000, one-day event will pit the top 24 bareback riders in the PRCA | RAM World Standings in a long-go and short-go format in front of the Yellowstone cast on Labor Day, giving competitors the chance to compete in Darby, Mont., where some of the show is filmed.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," PRCA CEO George Taylor said. "These cowboys get to perform for the cast and crew of one of TV's most popular shows, while in turn having a chance to make significant strides in qualifying for the Wrangler NFR."

The cast, which has been put in a bubble of sorts during shooting for the fourth season, will see PRCA bareback riders who've competed in past National Finals Rodeos and some who are headed to this year's Wrangler NFR.

With only three weeks remaining in the regular season following the Yellowstone Riggan Rally, the event will prove a great opportunity for bareback riders trying to make this year's Finals.

"This is such a cool deal for everyone involved," said 2002 PRCA Steer Wrestling World Champion Sid Steiner, who is helping put on the Rally. "I'm excited to be a part of it and really honored to have had the chance to help put this together."

The Yellowstone Riggan Rally will premier on RFD-TV and The Cowboy Channel, Sept. 13 at 1 p.m. (ET). It will also stream on the PRCA on Cowboy Channel Plus App at the same time. It will re-air on The Cowboy Channel and RFD-TV at 7 p.m. that night, and on The Cowboy Channel, Sept. 14 at 8 p.m.

According to Deadline.com, the Season 3 premiere of Yellowstone across four networks drew 6.6 million total viewers earlier this summer, making it the most-watched cable premiere of 2020.

Purchase a Seat at the Greeley Stampede

With COVID-19 restrictions on outdoor events, the Island Grove arena in Greeley, Colo., will look a little emptier during the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Sept. 10-13.

Instead of leaving the seats vacant, the Greeley Stampede is selling those seats as a fundraiser.

"We are always looking for fun ways to give back to the community," said Justin Watada, Greeley Stampede General Manager. "Selling the seats will not only help make the arena look fuller, it gives us an opportunity to give back."

When you purchase an empty seat, the Greeley Stampede will create a cutout to fill the seat that will remain for all five performances of the rodeo series which will be televised on the Cowboy Channel and the PRCA on Cowboy Channel Plus app. Each cutout will be custom made with the purchaser's provided photo.

"You can submit a photo of yourself, a loved one, your favorite barista, whatever you want really, as long as you own the rights to the photo," Watada said.

The cutouts will be placed around the bucking chutes, one of the most visible locations in the arena. A portion of each seat cutout sold, $100 per location, will benefit the Friends of Island Grove and the purchaser's choice of participating nonprofit organizations.

To purchase a seat cutout and support community organizations, visit greeleystampede.org/p/fundraiser. The deadline to purchase a seat cutout is Sept. 2. Complete the form and submit a photo by that date. There are limitations on the type of photos that can be submitted, so check out the information section on the site before purchasing.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We must be brave, noble, helpful, honest and truly admirable. If we look, act, talk, and smell like everyone else, we will get the same result they are getting. I pick God's way. I pick winning! I believe you do, too!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.

Looks pretty rotten out there doesn't it? And if we aren't wise, we will fall into the same patterns of unbelief, frustration and fear. BUT! Did you know that God has the answer? Lol!

Of course! Acts 27:25. Paul is a prisoner on a ship. A great storm arises. Are we in a great storm? Yep. Paul hears from God and says, "Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me." Please read the whole account of the storm, the wreck and the end result.

I believe that what God wanted me to encourage you with this week is this. Storms come. Sometimes we go through, over, or around them. But we get to the other side. How we act in the storm can determine our outcome.

WE INVITE YOU TO JOIN OUR FACEBOOK LIVE STREAMED BIBLE STUDY!
