All Hail Hillman and Morning Traffic at Pendleton

By Hope Sickler

Stevi Hillman may be the winningest cowgirl of the month of September. She has proceeded to win one rodeo after another and she didn't let the "Green mile" at the Pendleton Round-Up slow her down! Hillman left the Round-Up as the 2016 Barrel Racing Champion which she won aboard 5-year-old Morning Traffic. Hillman's aggregate time on two of 59.36 let her sweep the rest of the competition and walk away with more than just a bottle of Pendleton.

Morning Traffic aka "Martini" is by the immortal Frenchmans Guy and out of Evening Traffic by Dash Thru Traffic. Cody and Michelle Darling own the very talented mare and sent her to Hillman when the mare was 3-years-old to train and eventually futurity.

"Earlier this year, Michelle was gracious enough to allow me to bring "Martini" out on the road with me to help out my other main horse, Cuatro Fame," said Hillman.

"Martini" has stepped up to be another #1 on my team! She is very full of herself and the road has not worn her out one bit. She absolutely loves the rodeos and I have been very blessed to have had the opportunity to train and run such a nice horse. She is very special to me."

This trip was Hillman's first time to Pendleton and if you would have asked her beforehand if she thought she would win the infamous rodeo her first year competing there and aboard a 5-year-old her answer may have surprised you.

"I was scared to death and sick to my stomach! Once you get out there and start watching them run, it looks fun but you are so nervous about it at the same time. Running a 5-year-old, I definitely didn't know what to expect. I knew that "Martini" was very capable of doing well but never in my mind would I have thought I'd win Pendleton my first time there and on a green horse. It was an incredible experience that I will never forget, that is for sure!"

In the first round, Hillman and the blazing fast palomino mare posted a blistering time of 29.64 to win the first round. Last year's champion Kimmie Wall ended up a close second with a run of 29.77-seconds.

Going into the short round, Hillman was looking forward to making another run on the very fast track.

"I was actually super excited to get another run there until the rain. I was still very excited and grateful for the opportunity but it was extremely nerve-racking because of the wet turf. I had to focus on knowing that my horse stands up and to just go make our same run. She trusted me and I trusted her. I think that makes all the difference in a run like that," Hillman noted.

Hillman came very close to running the same time she did in the first round, posting a time of 29.72-seconds in the short round, behind Pamela Capper who ran a 29.69 and won the short round.

"It was a huge rush and such an incredible experience. They gave so many cool prizes, I don't even know where to begin. I got a

Elite Rodeo Athletes Make Changes to Deliver Exceptional Rodeo Product

In an effort to continue to deliver the best rodeo product in the world to its fans, Elite Rodeo Athletes (ERA), announces changes to its 2016 tour.

These changes were made with the help of well-known western industry pioneer and veteran, Randy Bernard, who is now serving as the group's ERA consultant. Bernard, who has been a friend of ERA since its inception said, "I am for anything that is for the betterment of rodeo. I believe it is the one sport that still hasn't seen its full potential and the ERA has the right idea of showcasing the best talent in the sport. We have decided to enact a few changes that will help us reach our goals and deliver a better product to our fans."

The 2016 ERA World Championships will be held at the American Airlines Center in Dallas as planned, but there will now be three performances on November 11, 12 and 13 only. "We have adjusted our Championship to make it more fan friendly, and also to allow us to do something exciting that fans have been asking for," said ERA Athlete Bobby Mote. ERA has slated to make a more detailed announcement next week on RFD-TV.

Fans who have already purchased tickets to the Wednesday, November 9 and Thursday, November 10 performances, whether individually, or in a set, will be contacted and issued a refund automatically. All ticketing fees (except UPS and retail pickup fees) will be refunded. If you purchased tickets at a retail location, please return the tickets to the same location. Ticket holders with questions can call Ticketmaster directly at 800-653-8000. The November 11-13 performances are not affected. ERA ticket holders that have been inconvenienced by this change will receive exclusive opportunities during the finals as a thank you for their support.

More details about the Championship will be released in the coming weeks. To purchase tickets, book hotel rooms and learn more about Dallas, fans can go to ticketmaster.com or visit ERARodeo.com.

No changes have been made to the ERA Qualifying Series in Mesquite. The finals will take place October 1-2 at the legendary Mesquite Championship Arena. The top two athletes in each event will progress to the American Airlines Center to compete against ERA tour athletes in the 2016 ERA World Championship.

Planning for the 2017 ERA Tour is under way. Bernard says that one change fans will notice is that some ERA athletes will relinquish their stock in the ERA so that they can compete anywhere they want. "It is ERA's first priority to take care of its cowboys, sponsors and fans. We want the best rodeo athletes to showcase their talent everywhere. When there is an ERA event we want fans to know that the best in the world are guaranteed to be at each performance. Whether the athletes own stock or not, it does not change their commitment to the ERA," said Bernard.

ERA plans on releasing the 2017 tour schedule later this year. For more information about ERA, visit ERARodeo.com.

AHC, BCHA and Wilderness Society all significantly involved in creation of Trail Bill

The House Committee on Agriculture has unanimously approved the National Forest Service Trail Stewardship Act of 2015 (H.R.845). The bill, introduced by Congresswomen Cynthia Lummis (R-WY) and Tim Walz (D-MN), would direct the Forest Service to take several actions to help address the current trail maintenance backlog that is adversely impacting all trail users on many National Forests, including equestrians.

"The recreational horse industry contributes $32 billion a year to the economy and supports nearly 435,000 jobs nationwide," said American Horse Council President Julie Broadway. "The industry is dependent on access to public lands and well maintained trails and the current Forest Service trail maintenance backlog is a serious threat to equestrians and all recreational users' ability to enjoy our Nation Forests. The AHC, Backcountry Horsemen of America, and the Wilderness Society and many other recreational groups have all been working together to advance this bill."

"Trails keep our public lands accessible for all Americans and fuel a powerful outdoor economy. They are simply too important to lose. This bill will keep more trails open, and that's a good thing for anyone who uses or cares about our public lands" said Paul Spittler, Director of Wilderness Policy at The Wilderness Society.

"The condition of trails on our National Forests has reached crisis level," said Donald Saner, chairman of the Back Country Horsemen of America. "Public access on many forest trails is either blocked by miles of downed timber or made unsafe from a lack of upkeep. The bill before Congress represents a low-cost solution to encourage more volunteers and partners to help shoulder this burden. At a time of shrinking federal budgets, why would Congress not act to pass this important bill?"

A June 2013, study by the Government Accountability Office (GAO) found that the Forest Service has deferred trail maintenance needs that exceed half-billion dollars, and only one-quarter of the agency's 158,000 miles of trails meets agency standards for maintenance. This maintenance backlog is causing access and safety issues for equestrians and all trail users on national forests.

The National Forest Service Trail Stewardship Act would direct the Forest Service to develop a strategy to more effectively utilize volunteers and partners to assist in maintaining national forest trails. It will also provide outfitters and guides the ability to perform trail maintenance activities in lieu of permit fees. Additionally, the bill would address a liability issue that has discouraged some national forests from utilizing volunteers and partner organizations to help perform trail maintenance and would direct the Forest Service to identify and prioritize specific areas with the greatest need for trail maintenance in the national forest system.

The AHC encourages all equestrians and trail users to contact their Senators and Representatives and urge them to pass the National Forest Service Trail Stewardship Act before Congress adjourns for the year.

beautiful trophy saddle, leather halter, buckle, necklace, large Pendleton Whiskey bottle, leather jacket, American Hat, Justin Boots, Pendleton Blanket, Yeti Cooler and so much more!"

Hillman commented that her favorite thing about the rodeo was that it was so different and "cowboy".

"The huge pattern is also a big reason why I love that rodeo so much. You get to feel your horses gears when you are running to the barrels. It is most definitely my favorite rodeo! I am very thankful that the committee and all involved in the event are so nice and accommodating!"

With her big win at Pendleton, earning close to $12,000, Hillman shot herself up to 6th in the WPRA World Standings with $100,980.74.

As we enter into the last full week of rodeos for the 2016 season, we take a look at the current standings. The top 10 are secure, while 11th-14th are within a $4,000 margin and 15th is holding strong with $74,648.11 won, less than $3,000 out of the 14th position.

However, Taylor Jacob, who is sitting in the 16th position is going to be knocking on the 15th position's (Amber Leigh Moore) door until the last second ticks on the clock for the month of September. Jacob is $1,904.58 behind Moore and is hot on her heels. With only 12 rodeos left in the season including good size rodeos such as Amarillo, Texas and Kansas City, Missouri, just to name a few, it will a battle for that 15th position until the very end! Stay tuned!

Crumrine & MCM Imasharpguy Top American Qualifier at Buckeye Blast

By Tanya Randall

All-time leading futurity rider Troy Crumrine qualified for his third straight RFD-TV The American Semifinals Rodeo with a win at the Buckeye Blast Qualifier in Lewisburg, Ohio.

The qualification to the American Semifinals in Fort Worth, Texas, gives Crumrine a scheduling conflict with the LG Pro Classic in Kinder, La., which is the same weekend. The LG Pro Classic has announced that they will do everything possible to work with contestants competing in both historic events.

Crumrine, Waynesfield, Ohio, was aboard the talented 4-year-old gelding MCM Imasharpguy ("Sharpie"), owned and bred by Matt and Bendi Dunn of Bismarck, Mo.

Sharpie is the first offspring out of the Dunns' great Marthas Six Moons mare Mulberry Canyon Moon that the couple have kept.

The gelding started his barrel racing career with Jolene Montgomery and won the Greg Olson Memorial Futurity with her in the saddle.

"She trained him and ran in the Juvenile and the slot race and all the way up through Diamonds & Dirt," said Bendi Dunn. "She'd been struggling, hitting barrels, and we all discussed it. She said, 'I know he's going to be nice, but I can't get along with him so let's try something else.' Troy rides for us, too, so we tried it and it's all worked out."

With Crumrine in the saddle, Sharpie picked up $3,158 for winning the Qualifier and the Open 1D with a carryover. They'd picked up $3,663 the weekend before winning the Indiana Barrel Futurity.

Crumrine and the Dunns are both currently headed to Oklahoma for the weekend.

"We're going out to the Heritage Place this weekend for the yearling sale and Troy is heading out for the Ardmore Futurity, so we're going to try to drive down that way to play with our horses this weekend," said Dunn.

Her husband Matt is big into the race horses, and while the couple typically have different bloodlines between their barrel and race horses, they do have a Mulberry baby in race training—MCM Ima Hoss, her yearling son of Tres Seis.

"We've had him out there two or three weeks now," said Dunn. "We're going to try to run him on the track, just lightly. We're going to go slow and try not to do anything that might hurt him. If we don't think it will work, we won't. This sucker looks like a racehorse, so we're going to try."

The couple also has several other Mulberry offspring that will either end up in the hands of Montgomery or Crumrine.

As for Crumrine, he's expressed interest in running the 13-year-old super mare again.

"Troy's been dying," laughed Dunn. "He said, 'You know it would really be cool if we had Sharpie at The American and his momma, right?' That would kind of be the dream situation."

When asked if Crumrine might get his wish granted, Dunn replied, "Never say never."

Victory for LaDuke & Henrys Easy French at Roper Rally

By Hope Sickler

Ginger Edwards-LaDuke piloted her 5-year-old gelding Henrys Easy French "Henry" to the futurity win at the Roper Rally held at Gollither Arena in Belle Fourche, South Dakota.

Henrys Easy French is owned by Will and Ginger LaDuke and is by Frenchmans Easy Doc and out of Magic Pep San by Woodys Magic.

The dynamic duo won the average against a tough group of horses with a total time on two of 28.411-seconds.

"He is the first horse that Will and I raised together so he is extra special. He is like my 3rd kid," laughed LaDuke.

"He and I have had a special connection from day 1. We do more ranch work on him than anything and I think that can be the best thing for these performance horses."

When LaDuke first laid eyes on "Henry's" sire Frenchmans Easy Doc several years ago when Rodney Grote was running him, she knew that she was going to need to get herself a foal by him.

"I loved Frenchmans Easy Doc from the start. He is such a well-minded sire and when he was still running barrels, he would get done and you could literally turn around and throw a roping saddle on him. He was so diversified and I knew that I wanted a colt with a mind like that."

Although "Henry" wasn't started on the barrels until late last fall, LaDuke had a feeling that he could be something special from the get-go.

"I really had no plans of entering the futurities on him until we late entered the Dash and Dance and ended up placing in both

Before the Roper Rally, LaDuke's husband Will reminded her that she needs to ride the big sorrel gelding like a rodeo horse instead of a colt. It obviously paid off!

"He told me to stop trying so hard and just ride him like a rodeo horse. He obviously knows what he is talking about! I did just that and "Henry" worked great all weekend and on Sunday ran the fastest time of the entire event. I was extremely pleased!"

LaDuke wanted to make sure and thank Jerry, Sue and Zeann Gollifer for a great production in addition to her mother Eva Edwards for being a great coach and support system.

Mission Accomplished for BCK Makin You Famous & Kallie Wonnacott at Parker-Wood Memorial

By Tanya Randall

Kallie Wonnacott left the arena in tears. The unexplainable had happened. Wildest dreams were met. Fantasy became reality.

Wonnacott and her family-raised gelding BCK Makin You Famous threw down on some of the toughest futurity horses in the country and came out on top, winning the Parker-Wood Memorial Slot Futurity for $18,750.

"He took me on a ride I'll never forget," said a tearful Wonnacott. "I looked at the clock and I wasn't even down the alleyway before I started bawling.

"In that slot, if you look down the list, we were the nobodies, we were the underdogs that nobody knew. We didn't have the money to enter the slot race, but we just had a feeling we should do it." The family banded together with her parents, Brent and Connie, each chipping in $500 to come up with the $1,500 entry fee.

"To win that kind of money is just huge for my family," she said. We're horse poor and just love the sport. We love raising them and I love training them. I've watched all the people around here and tried to pick up as much as I can. It was amazing to compete against some of the top futurity trainers like Ashley, Kassie, Jolene and all of them. I was definitely amongst several of my idols. It's just cool."

Wonnacott and Lambo—short for Lamborghini—got off to an inauspicious start, placing 37th in the first go of the futurity with a 16.902. Eventually futurity champions Chris Martin and Jason Gunter's Frenchmans Perks topped the round with a 16.248.

"Heber is only 45 minutes from my house, so we've ran there a bunch," said the Bluff Dale, Utah, barrel racer. "The first go, we drew No. 15. I knew that the ground typically gets a little faster as it goes on. We were longer than I would have liked to have been on the first go. I told my mom, we have to win the whole thing tomorrow to have a chance to win the average. Our whole reason for going was to have a chance to win the breeding to Dash Ta Fame, for obvious reasons.

"I thought after the first go, maybe it just isn't meant to be. Maybe this just isn't the pen for him. I knew at some point he would come around and make that money back for us. I had hoped that he would place, maybe, and help us get our fees back."

Lambo wasn't helping her confidence either.

"He's really tricky on the first barrel," said the 27-year-old, who makes her living working in customer service for 1-800-Contacts.

"Sometimes he gets really strong and almost pulls off and heads back toward the timing line. It's not too bad, but it's enough to cost you. He got strong on me the first day and I actually had to two-hand him to get him around the first barrel. I slow worked that night in the outdoor pen and I even slow worked him before my run. He was just dragging on the bit. I was like 'I don't even know what's going to happen.'"

Yet, when it came time to make his run, Lambo did everything right. "After he worked that first barrel like I know he can, it was game on," Wonnacott said. "After that it's like you're on a seasoned rodeo horse. He just wraps the other two. After the first, I thought, 'Okay, this could be it.'"

Their 16.070 won the Slot—which was determined by the fastest of the two go-round runs—and the second go, which bumped them to fifth in the average for total futurity earnings of $7,405. Coupled with their slot check, $2,2249 for carrying over to win the Open 1D and $946 earned as the breeders and owners of Lambo in the Stallion Incentive, Wonnacott pocketed $29,350. They also received a breeding to The Goodbye Lane as part of the prize package.

Although the Wonnacott family is very into the horses now, it wasn't always the case. Brent got his start in horses by helping an uncle with Thoroughbred racehorses. Connie grew up on a ranch, but never had a horse of her own until she married.

"When they got married, they decided to have horses," Wonnacott explained. "My dad ran Thoroughbred racehorses and my mom read every book that was written and every video that was ever made about barrel racing and just taught herself. She started training horses and handing them down to me."

On the first horses that Wonnacott had success on was the Dash Ta Fame mare Ta Kid Irish, affectionately known as Lexus. Her mother had choice between a horse or a car, so she ended up with a horse she named after the car she had wanted.

"She's the one got the ball rolling for us," said Wonnacott. Lexus was out of a double-bred Easy Jet mare, Byou Easy. When they lost Lexus, they bought more horse related to her, specially carrying the blood of Byou Easy. Lambo, too, carries the lineage.

"We bred and raised him out of a mare that's really special to us," said Wonnacott of the Dash Ta Fame gelding. "She was from the same mare line as the first Dash Ta Fame. They all go back to an Easy Jet mare named Byou Easy. So we had several horses from that line, mostly mares. My dad was getting ready to retire, so it was like our last hurrah on spending money on something that we couldn't afford. We were going to breed to Dash Ta Fame and he asked me which one of them I wanted to breed. I picked (Makin It Byou) because she was so sweet and I didn't have her ready for the futurities. There was no reason not to let her have a baby?"

Lambo's dam Makin It Byou is by the First Down Dash son Maknmoves and out of Byou Lane, a Lanes Leinster daughter of Byou Easy.

The family had considered keeping Lambo a stallion, but he proved to be a little too much trouble. Luckily, the Wonnacott's banked quite a bit of frozen semen before they gelding him.

Wonnacott wanted to give Kiley Shepherd, the man who broke Lambo, special credit for the victory.

"I think Kiley put an incredible handle on him that give us the tools to be successful. I appreciate my vet and shoer as well," she said.

She also wanted to thank the Jarvis family for producing the event.

"The Jarvises are a great family and they did a great job on that race," she said. "Glen Wood and Ross Parker, who it's in honor of, I was lucky enough to get to grow up around them and their families. They're amazing people."

Two in a Row for Chris Martin & Jason Gunter's Frenchmans Perks with Parker Wood Memorial Win

By Tanya Randall

Frenchmans Perks ("Jet") added yet another championship title to his already impressive resume. The 4-year-old gelding won the $45,000-added Parker-Wood Memorial Futurity in Heber City, Utah, for owner Jason Gunter with Chris Martin in the saddle.

"It was a really great trip," said Martin, who is in the process of relocating to a new facility in the Collinsville, Whitesboro, Texas, area. They won the futurity for $14,554 and placed second in the slot race for $9,375 for total earnings of $23,929.

Earnings for the Frenchmans Guy gelding, out of John and Paula Hall's Perks Alive daughter Our Blue Velvet, are now near $150,000.

Martin was initially concerned when Jet picked up a cough after coming from extremely hot and humid Texas to the much drier and cooler air in Utah.

"I got up there and he was coughing because it was so dry and I was a little panicked about that," Martin said. "I started using the Equi-Resp 10 minutes every two hours and it cleared his cough up really good, and he felt great."

Martin and Jet topped the first go with a 16.248 to win the round and take an early lead in the slot race, the victor of which was determined by the best of the two go round runs.

"I was last on the ground the first round and usually his second run he gets stronger, but since I started turning him loose and letting him do more on his own since he's gotten seasoned, his first run seems to be where's he's firing. His second run he gets a little more "work-y" and I have to ride him a little bit harder."

Jet stayed consistent on the clock with a 16.257 to win the average by 4/10ths.

"After he won the first round, I figured I just needed to be clean," he said. "I could still figure somewhere in the average as long as I didn't hit a barrel. About half-way to the first barrel I realized he was locked on it and I went back to kicking him. He got by it a stride, but he still got to the backside so fast, it really didn't cost us anything. He just stayed really solid for me the whole weekend."

Next up for the CM Barrel Horse Team is the Ardmore Futurity (formerly known as Jud Little's Bar Nothin Barrel Bash) and its RFD-TV's The American qualifier.

Martin said it will be a little test because he will make three runs with two on the same day, something he'd rather not do. Luckily, it's a feat the duo has accomplished before, putting together three runs, with two runs in one day, when they won the 5-States Breeders Futurity.

Even having traveled to Utah and back before heading to Ardmore, Jet is likely to be fresh as Martin does little but keep him exercised.

"He didn't even see a barrel between the 5-States and Parker-Wood," said Martin. "I didn't even sit on his back until I got to the futurity. We just kept him exercised. My whole deal is, once they are there (at Jet's level) . . . they don't need to be drilled. They just need to be kept sound."

"We do a lot of different things to keep him sound and happy. If that means getting up at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning to check on them, hose legs or laser them, or whatever, that's what we do. They're athletes and need to be treated as such."

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I was blessed this last weekend to take my grandchildren to their soccer games....I don't have a clue about soccer....does anyone???? The first game was Cylee's and she's 5. I watched the coach high five them for every little effort. His words were encouraging and happy, no matter WHAT happened out there on the field (or DIDN'T happen)! The next game was Darcy's. She's 8. Totally different story. The coach was SCREAMING and hollering the whole time. "GET IN THERE! WHAT ARE YOU THINKING?! KICK the ball, don't TOUCH the ball!"

If you've been reading these articles for any length of time, you will have noticed that God speaks to me in the most unusual times. I wasn't in prayer sitting there on the grass watching little kids. I was watching....and God spoke to me.

The coach is Jesus. When we first come to Him, we are babes in everything. Even when we make mistakes, He is constantly encouraging us and telling us how good we are doing. As we grow up in the Lord, there is an expectation that we are going to learn from Him and practice doing the right thing....but out there on the field (or in church), that's not always how it goes. Some of God's kids are blissfully unaware that they are even IN the game. Our friends, work and play are more important than hearing and obeying Him.

Or, some of us jump right in and try to do the WHOLE job, not even letting God tell us the best way to go about winning in life. And then, there are those who absolutely do NOT want to play! Even God can't get them in the game!

It would be so much easier for us in this life if we listened to our coach, played our position and worked well with others....

And by the way. I also got a revelation of how boys will be boys. I never saw one little girl run off the field and spit. But every little boy did.....on the grass.....where I plopped myself....
