Pendleton Pick-Me-Up for Kimmie Wall

By Hope Sickler

Roosevelt, Utah barrel racer Kimmie Wall just experienced a victory of a lifetime that she will cherish forever when she was crowned the 2015 champion barrel racer at the legendary Pendleton (Ore.) Round-Up.

Wall and her homegrown and trained 7-year-old mare TKW Bullys Famous Fox also known as "Foxy" outran the elite competition on the green mile this year with a total time on two of 57.33-seconds.

TKW Bullys Famous Fox is by Bully Bullion and out of Gateway Ta Fame by Dash Ta Fame. Gateway Ta Fame is a mare that the Wall's leased from a good friend. The owner of the mare asked if Wall's husband, Travis, could break a colt for him and Travis said he would if they could get a colt out of the mare. In turn, that is how they ended up with the gritty, big-hearted mare.

"She is such a special mare to our family. She has opened a lot of doors for us and we just feel so privileged to have her and get to experience this dream with her. She is all business and loves nothing more than to run barrels. She is not a 'in your pocket' type of horse but instead she has her own personal space and you have your own. She is a total diva. There really is no other way to put it," laughed Wall.

Last season was a learning and seasoning year for the year mare in which she excelled and won a lot for Wall and helped her into the winter rodeos last winter.

"This past season has been a rollercoaster. We started out at the winter rodeos and didn't have much luck and then went to the RAM Finals where she bruised her foot so I had to borrow a horse for the second round. After that, we came back home and regrouped and then headed out to California. That is where it really kicked off for us. She loves California. The fourth-of-July run didn't go quite as good as we had hoped and then we fell down in Nampa. I made the decision to turn out of Salinas and took her home to rest. After that we hit our circuit rodeos and things started coming around for us again. Since then we have been in the Northwest and have been collecting a few checks here and there until Pendleton."

Wall made the finals last year at the Pendleton Round-Up and that in itself was such a blessing and opportunity for her and Foxy. "Making the finals last year was amazing so to have won it this year was just absolutely unreal. I cannot even begin to explain how grateful and blessed that I am. This year just totally blew me away." Wall knew coming into Pendleton this year that her little saucy mare seemed to really enjoy the green mile and after some time on the "field" before slack, she was anxious to see what Foxy was going to get done.

"I got her in there before slack and she knew exactly what she was doing. She tried to take off and I knew then that this could either be really good or really bad. I used the same strategy that I used last year and went up the dirt. Our first run felt a little wild and it felt like we were going very fast around every barrel. When they said my time I was shocked and I was filled with pure excitement," Wall said.

After she posted the time of 28.59 and was winning the barrels after slack, Wall had a decision to make. She was entered in Abilene and Albuquerque and had to make the decision to head south or stick it out in Oregon in case her time held in there. She made the decision to stay and she is glad she did.

"Our time ended up holding and we won the first round. I was ecstatic and so happy. Going into the short round, I used the same strategy and kept my mind quiet and let Foxy do her job and she did. Our first barrel was better in that run and then we got rolling pretty fast to the second that I don't think we could slow down to make a very tight turn. We had a bobble on the second barrel but still kept going. She never weakened and I believe that that is such a deciding factor at that rodeo because the second you weaken, is the second you lose. It is literally a horse race until the end."

Wall stopped the clock with a 28.74 which was second in the

PRCA Passes New By-Laws

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association Board of Directors met September 22 and passed two bylaws effective October 1, 2015 and for the 2016 rodeo season. These new bylaws serve to promote the continued quality and popularity of PRCA-sanctioned events.

"This Board is very cohesive and, at the end of the day when we look at the membership-the rodeo committees, contestants, stock contractors and contract personnel-we decided to put in place a couple of items that will better serve the quality and popularity of our sport," said PRCA Board Chairman Keith Martin.

"Three years ago, with the help of our corporate partners, rodeo committees and contestants, the PRCA implemented the Wrangler Champions Challenge, which is televised by the CBS Sports Network to showcase our top competitors and animal athletes. Additionally, with the new 10-year agreements in Las Vegas and Osceola County (Fla.), there is an unprecedented amount of new dollars available to our members," PRCA Commissioner Karl Stressman stated. "What the Board did today is look at our history and what has made the PRCA the most successful and popular professional rodeo-sanctioning body in the world. Accordingly, we have taken steps to ensure that future generations of fans and members will continue to enjoy the highest quality rodeo events for years to come."

I. Competing Rodeo Events Bylaws B15.1.1.1-2

B15.1.1.1: Definition of Competing Rodeo Events.

Competing Rodeo Events are events not sanctioned by the PRCA in which contestants compete in two or more of the following events: bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, tie-down roping, steer wrestling, and team roping.

B15.1.1.2: Rodeo Committees.

In light of the PRCA's long-standing and ongoing efforts to create popular and successful PRCA-sanctioned professional rodeo competitions and promote rodeo sports in general, including but not limited to creating the National Finals Rodeo event and qualifying points system, soliciting corporate sponsors and television contracts, establishing rodeo rules and regulations, and developing youth and new contestant growth programs-and in order to protect the quality of all PRCA-sanctioned events-any rodeo committee and/or contracting party involved in producing a PRCA-sanctioned event agrees not to schedule, produce, promote or participate in a Competing Rodeo Event seventy-two hours before, during or seventy-two hours after a PRCA-sanctioned event. The PRCA shall have the right to approve specific events that are in conflict with this Bylaw should the PRCA deem any such event to be in the interest of its members and the promotion of professional rodeo sports in general.

II. Conflicting Rodeo Association Interests Bylaws B.1.2.1.1-2

B1.2.1.1: Definition of Conflicting Rodeo Association.

Conflicting Rodeo Associations are companies, partnerships, associations or other entities whose direct or indirect purpose is to produce, promote, and/or sanction professional rodeo contests in which contestants compete in two or more of the following events: bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, tie-down roping, steer wrestling, and team roping.

B1.2.1.2: Prohibition on Conflicting Rodeo Association Interests.

In order to ensure that PRCA members-whose popularity and success are the result of participation in PRCA-sanctioned rodeos and related PRCA promotional efforts and activities (and the associated costly investments the PRCA has made in promoting PRCA events and rodeo sports in general)-are not pursuing interests in Conflicting Rodeo Associations while receiving the benefits of PRCA membership and are putting forth their best efforts on behalf of the PRCA, any person applying for PRCA membership who is an officer, board member, employee or has an ownership or financial interest of any form in a Conflicting Rodeo Association shall not be issued a membership, permit or renewal of membership with the PRCA. --Courtesy of www.prorodeo.com with "Champion Barrel Racer" engraved, binoculars, and so much more. The money that this rodeo brings to our sport at the end of the year is priceless. It is a make-it or break-it for us at this time and gives us another chance at this point in the season. It is certainly a win of a lifetime and something that I will cherish forever," said Wall.

short round behind Pamela Capper's 28.43.

In addition to winning the very coveted barrel racing championship, Foxy also won Pendleton Horse of the Year and won a beautiful, tooled bronc halter.

"The rodeo itself is so much fun and so laid back. The committee treats the contestants like royalty and they try so hard for the barrel racers. The prizes I won were absolutely amazing. I won a bag full of prizes including a customized vest, buckle, coat, jewelry, spurs, a big bottle of Pendleton Whiskey

Wall left Pendleton and drove home and was able to spend one night with her family before heading out to Amarillo. She competes in Amarillo Wednesday morning in the slack and then will head to Stephenville, Omaha for the Justin Boots Playoffs and Kansas City. "I am just taking it one run at a time and I am not doing anything different then what I did before Pendleton. Whatever happens, happens and I am just grateful to be out here and giving a go at it. I will continue to hope for the best."

At press time Wall is sitting 20th in the WPRO World Standings with $51,764 won with only a week left in the 2015 season.

Briggs and Lutjen On Top at 1st Parker Wood

By Hope Sickler

Glen Wood and Ross Parker will always be remembered as two very influential men in the world of horses and the sports of barrel racing and horse racing. The first annual Parker Wood Memorial Barrel Futurity concluded last weekend in Heber City, Utah and the industry's top trainers and jockeys were all there to celebrate the lives of two very important and loved men who will never be forgotten.

The event was highlighted in most trainer and jockey's calendar as a must-attend futurity, derby and open jackpot. Several added perks made this futurity one of the largest futurities of the year, such as a very generous stallion incentive, a futurity slot race and over $100,000 in cash and prizes!

Briggs Diligence Pays Off

Texan trainer and one of the best in the industry, Jordon Briggs, took home the futurity championship aboard her 5-year-old A Smooth Guy gelding Ima Friendly Guy. The talented gelding has been a work in progress but Briggs knew the talent that he possessed, so this win was very sweet to Briggs and her husband, Justin.

"We got "Friendly" as a 2-year-old from Bill and Deb Myers. He had about 90-days on him and Justin finished him out. My original plan was to run him as a 4-year-old but he kept going through these very weird growth spurts. He was pretty uncoordinated and gangly looking for a while and right before the Juvenile is when it got to be something that we felt like needed to be addressed, so we made the decision to turn him out pasture and save him as 5-year-old futurity horse," Briggs explained.

The lanky gelding by A Smooth Guy and out of Dash of Hot Colours by Dashing Val blossomed in that year off and even learned a new trick of trade at the other end of the arena.

"Justin started heading on him which has been a huge factor in getting him more coordinated and confident in his barrel runs. The heading has taught him how to stiffen up and drag a hind leg. He doesn't see the barrels often at all, maybe once a week."

The duo placed in the first futurity that Briggs entered him, last fall at the BFA in Oklahoma City. They placed in the first round, in the average and also got second in the Future Fortunes Slot Race. However since, then Briggs explained that he is a hit or miss kind of guy.

"Last spring when he would make a good run he would always seem to be just one out of placing. Then I took him to two jackpots this summer and he outran Frenchmans Future. I then decided that I needed to late enter these fall futurities on him since I was already going with her (Frenchmans Future). Since then I have won a check on him at every futurity so far this fall," said Briggs.

Briggs and "Friendly" put together two incredible runs at the Parker Wood Barrel Futurity for a total time of 32.655.

"When I run "Friendly"... I have to be careful not to ride him to win the deal but just ride him calm and cool. I reminded myself to do that for our first run in the futurity and he worked outstanding. The ground was a little deeper and it held him in his turns. All of Briggs rounded the cloverleaf pattern in 16.227-seconds which was good enough for second place behind Nicole Laurence's blazing time of 16.168 aboard her Dash Ta Fame stallion.

For her second run, Briggs just wanted a clean and smooth run. "I had to sit back and stay relaxed and let him do his job. I let him get by the third barrel some just to be careful. He is so fast and long strided that I knew I could make it up on the stretch home," noted Briggs.

With a time of 16.428, Briggs took third in the second round and sealed the futurity championship aboard the gelding she never gave up on.

"I am so tickled with him and I am so grateful that we gave him the chance to mature and grow up. This event was absolutely amazing and I will absolutely be coming back. The committee was first class, the ground stayed very consistent. I was very impressed with the event as a whole and the prizes were phenomenal. The absolute coolest part of winning this futurity was picking a stallion breeding fee that 10 stallion breeders donated for the futurity. The top 10 in the 1D futurity average were able to pick a stallion and I chose Dash Ta Fame for winning it on Ima Friendly Guy and then I chose The Goodbye Lane for winning 4th in the average on Frenchmans Future."

Briggs is headed home for a few days before heading to the Jud Little Futurity and will wrap the year up with the WPRF Finals, JB Quarter Horses Futurity and the BFA.

Lutjen Slot Race Champion

Kelsey Lutjen and TS Hayday Returns took home the slot race win at the first annual Parker Wood Memorial Barrel Futurity and can add another championship to the pretty yellow mares resume!

"The event was great and we had a great time. They worked so hard to put it on and I am forever grateful to all the hard work. I cannot wait to go back! I won $22,000 on her (TS Hayday Returns) and a breeding to PYC Paint Your Wagon which was beyond amazing. It was very unique and such a tough futurity, I am so glad to have been a part of it," Lutjen said.

Lutjen won the slot race with a 16.222 aboard the 14.1 hand mare.

"She is absolutely amazing and I feel so privileged to be able to be her jockey. She is owned by Tom and Vickie Stockton from Kiowa, Colorado and they are phenomenal owners. We will give her a break until the WPRF Finals and then we will hit the JB Quarter Horses Futurity and finish the year up at BFA in the derby."

Woods Sets Arena Record at Memorable Race

Terri Wood Gates made a run she will never forget when she set the new arena record at the Parker Wood Memorial Barrel Futurity in open. The event was in honor of her father, Glen Wood.

"The event was so amazing and my family was so honored that the Jarvis family included my father's name in the event title. It is very special to us and it is something that my dad would've loved. He loved barrel racing and always enjoyed watching a fast and smooth barrel run," explained Gates.

Gates time of 16.061 shattered the past arena record and what made it even more special was she was riding her mother's horse, Carley Cue.

"Carley Cue is a mare that my parents raised and my mom used to run. She retired from running barrels 2-years ago and gave me the opportunity to ride her mare this year which in itself has been such an honor, and to then break the arena record on her at an event that was honoring my father, was unbelievably amazing. It is truly something that I cannot even put into words."

Hildebrandt and Wantastrekerrebate Cash In

BRR: Tell us a little about your horse and her history.

Hildebrandt: Rebate was raised by Jerry and Sandy Harms who go to Arizona in the winter and they asked if I would ride her. She was slower to develop, so it was kind of a group effort. I have to thank Bo Brown for assisting me with her along the way and helping me turn the corner with her. I didn't enter her in very many futurities because she was behind but thought I would enter her in some of the closer ones and the breeders (futures).

BRR: Could you walk us through your 2 runs?

Hildebrandt: For the runs at the Roper (Rally Futurity), I was having some issues with first barrel so I decided to let her coast to first and when I got around it, I could kind of hustle her from there and that pretty much sums up both runs. When she is smooth she clocks!

BRR: Could you share a little about your training & riding style?

Hildebrandt: I would have to say I treat every horse as an individual. Some see the pattern a lot, others not so much. In Rebate's case, we spent a lot of time working on the pattern. I do different drills and try to get them around poles, just to give them something else to do. I consider my riding style as pretty quiet and I try to be soft. They get to long trot and lope thru the hills to keep them legged up.

Hildebrandt: I would like to thank the Gollihers for their hospitality. I have been going to their futurities forever and no matter what, it's like you are their very own family. Whatever you need they will go above and beyond to accommodate you and they are just super people.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

In every event, as in life, there are just some things that we should do. For instance, keep your eye on the ball... follow through...keep your head down in your swing...and, the one that most of us know if we barrel race is...don't look at the barrel, look where you are going.

What happens if we look at the barrel? Generally we go right to that spot. And that's not where we want to be. We want to go forward and AROUND, not over.

Well Jesus gives us life instruction in the Bible that is so like that. Don't focus or look at our problems, focus on Him. If we are constantly looking at what is off, we will keep going there in our heads. But if we look at Him, the answer, we will move toward that. I don't know about you, but I want the answer when I have questions. Barrel racers want to know why their horses aren't going to those spots, running up the wall, or fading out of a turn, etc. Someone else watching can probably tell us. Well Jesus is on the inside of us and He KNOWS what we need to do.

Phil: 4:6 in the Amplified Bible says "Do not fret or have any anxiety about anything, but in every circumstance and in everything, by prayer (definite requests), with thanksgiving, continue to make your wants known to God." And verses 7 & 8 continue to tell us that we will have peace if we do these things.

I Peter 5:7 tells us to "cast our care on Him, for He cares for you."

God's great love for you and I brings peace and gives answers. It's what we are all looking for!
