Cutting it close—Four ladies race for NFR berths

By Tanya Randall

Everyone's eyes are on the last three spots in the WPRA's Top 15 World Standings—except for those that are hoping to own one of those positions.

"I don't look," said Trula Churchill, the 2011 Canadian Champion who currently holds down 15th with $65,565. "It doesn't do me any good to look. I can only control myself, so whatever those other girls are doing is out of my control. All I can do is go take care of my own business."

Neither is Kim Schultz, who has narrowly missed out on the NFR the past two years.

"I did the past two years and it nearly made me crazy," said Schultz, who is sitting 17th with $60,357. "I'm not going to look. I'm not even going to keep track. I'm not going to put that kind of pressure on myself this year."

Currently Shada Brazile, who started the season out with a bang winning San Antonio, sits 13th with $67,513. Former NFR qualifier and Collegiate Champion Syndi Blanchard, a veteran of seasons-end scrabbles, is 14th with $66,215.

A battle with sore horses sent 16th-ranked Brenda Mays, the defending National Finals Rodeo Champion, home early with $60,878, leaving 17th-ranked Schultz as the closest threat to the aforementioned trio.

With just one weekend of rodeos left, all four ladies have similar travel plans. Everyone starts at 4 p.m. Wednesday slack at the $5,000-added American Royal in Kansas City, including the Top 12 who will be competing at the Justin Boots Championship in nearby Omaha.

From there, they can travel West for four rodeos—the $1,000-added Kern County Fair Rodeo in Bakersfield, Calif., the $4,000-added Sheriff's Rodeo in San Bernardino, Calif., $3,500-added rodeo in Poway, Calif., and the $1,500-added 29th Annual Andy Devine Days Rodeo in Kingman, Ariz.

Or, they have a newer option—head south to Texas, thanks to the huge increase in added money at Stephenville, Texas' Cowboy Capital Rodeo, which jumped to $5,000 in added. The $1,500-added Comal County Fair and Rodeo in New Braunfels, Texas, is a toss-up; it can be good or it can rain like it has in years past and be a nasty, worthless mess. The $2,500-added MoBetta Stampede in Apache, Okla., is also an option.

While the Texas-Oklahoma run may have less added money than the California-Arizona run, the question is will the huge number of potential entries residing in Texas and Oklahoma make up the difference.

Churchill said her travel plans for this week are "crazy at best" since she's going to try to do both.

"I'm made some arrangements to borrow horses this year, so I'm going to try that route," said Churchill, who has had her husband Linn in the truck with her helping her drive in her quest for her second NFR berth. "My horses (her main mount A Streak Of Rita "Worm") are going to California and I'm borrowing horses in Texas. I've got a couple to choose from so I'll just go from there. I've never done a lot of borrowing and riding other people's horses, and I had some offers this year so I'm going to try it. You hate to come so far in a year and then drop the ball right at the end."

Regardless of what happens, Churchill will still finish this season and begin 2014's in California, which she's designated as her circuit even though she resides in Valentine, Neb.

"There are a couple of rodeos out there," she explained. "So, I'll stay out there go to those and then go to my circuit finals and probably the Cow Palace before I go home.

"No rest for the wicked."

Brazile, Decatur, Texas, is playing it by ear. She's going to Kansas City, but will decide from there if she goes south or west.

"I just set up where I have Plan A and Plan B. I'll either go from (Kansas City) to Apache, Stephenville and New Braunfels, or go from Kansas City to the California Rodeos. I haven't made that decision yet. I have a day to get to Bakersfield if I need to, so I really won't decide until after Kansas City," she laughed.

Dial It Fast has been her main mount for the season, though she has a younger horse No Pressure On Me ("Rooster") to serve as backup.

"I'll take Dial It to Kissimmee (to the Champion's Challenge) and after that he's getting turned out for a couple of weeks," said Brazile, who has been breathing easier since her great finish at Pendleton earlier this month, but she still isn't going to relax until the final

Bar Nothin Barrel Bash & Jud Little Ranch Sale

The 11th Annual Bar Nothin Barrel Bash at Hardy Murphy Coliseum in Ardmore, Oklahoma is coming up this weekend. This year's event will be held September 25-29 and will have an amazing $60,000 in added money.

The event will feature a 4 separate AQHA Co-Approved Open 4Ds; a $25,000 added Futurity with an additional $5,000 added Amateur Sidepot; and the Jud Little Ranch Barrel Racing & Timed Event Sale.

The Sale will be held Saturday, September 28, 2013 at the Jud Little Ranch in Springer, OK. The Sale Demonstrations will start at 3pm, followed by introductions at 5:45 pm and the first horse will sell at 6:00 pm. The sale will feature 74 Jud Little Ranch horses with some of the top performance bloodlines in the country. In fact, the offspring of 6 NFR horses are being offered for sale. For the first time a Sale App can be downloaded at the Apple App Store and used on your smartphone or tablet in lieu of a sale catalog. There is also a 2013 Sale Catalog Mobile Website Available and a link to the Sale Horse Videos available under the Horse Sale page at the Decade's Leading Breeder and Owner's website; www.judlittleranch.com. The sale horse videos can also be found on YouTube, just go to www.youtube.com and search for Jud Little Ranch. There will be a printable catalog version available at the website as well but no print catalogs available at the sale so make sure to download the catalog via the website or the Apple App Store before the sale.

This year the Friday and Sunday Open 4Ds will be limited to 600 entries. The Sunday Open 4D also features an additional $10,000 in Future Fortunes Bonus Money. This year credit card entries are allowed with a convenience fee.

The Tri K Barrel Race will be taking the entries and the races can be entered online at www.fastenter.com. The AQHA entries must be pre-entered. The prizes will include saddles, Cunningham Buckles and more.

The entire 2013 Bar Nothin Barrel Bash will be available for Live viewing at www.visworks.com at $8.95 for the whole weekend. Recorded OnDemand access also comes with the purchase of the webcast. The 4D Jackpot starts Wednesday at 4:30 pm Central Time.

For more information on the 11th Annual Bar Nothin Barrel Bash events go to www.judlittleranch.com, scroll over to the News & Events tab and look for Barrel Bash.

D.R. Horton Classic Creeping Up By Hope Sickler, courtesy of Carol Crowder

If you are not planning on attending the D.R. Horton Classic in Loveland, Colorado on September 27-29th you are definitely missing out on one of the biggest barrel racing events to ever hit Colorado!

For three action packed days, Mile Hi Barrel Horse will hosting an event that will mark history as one of the greatest barrel racing events ever. In addition to the excitement and adrenaline that the D.R. Horton Classic brings every year, this year Mile Hi Barrel Horse and Better Barrel Racers are hosting the first qualifying event for the new richest, one-day rodeo, The American.

The qualifying event will showcase the most talented barrel racers in the industry, all vying for the chance to run at one of the most prestigious rodeos to ever be held.

The first qualifying event will be held in conjunction with the D.R. Horton Classic and will be a sidepot each barrel racer, men and women, can pay into. Contestants must run in a Saturday class to carry time into The American qualification sidepot. BBR Membership is required for all members wanting to enter the sidepot. Entry fees for The American qualification sidepot is $500 per horse (You are allowed to run at most 2 horses). The event will start at 9 am on Saturday the 28th of September!

With all the buzz about this huge event, Carol Crowder and Mile Hi Barrel Horse wanted to take a moment to remember the people and animals who are losing everything due to the devastating floods in northern Colorado. In hopes to help with some of the cost, Mile Hi will be accepting donations to be forwarded to the flood victims.

You're not going to want to miss this event of a lifetime! Be sure to swing by The Ranch in Loveland to take in some of this high-powered, mind-blowing barrel racing action!

Frenchmans Jester Passes

The barrel racing industry lost one of its shining stars this morning (September 24, 2013) when former NFR barrel horse, Frenchmans Jester, was peacefully laid to rest. The shapely chestnut gelding started out his life on April 19, 2002. The Frenchmans Guy colt out of Easy Approach by April Approach was bred in Riverton, WY by David W. & Mitzi Hill.

He eventually ended up in the hands of Chuck & Kristie Peterson who turned over the reins to their daughter Jordon (Peterson) Briggs.

Briggs and "Jester" were a dynamite team from the start, wrapping up their futurity season by setting an arena record of 15.17 in Oklahoma City, OK while winning the BFA Futurity in 2006. The duo then went on to qualify to the NFR in 2009 where they won Round 6 and ended the year #6 in the World with earnings of $126,051.

In recent years, Frenchmans Jester moved on to carry rising star, Jackie Ganter, to numerous victories while riding for her Mom, Angela Ganter. In fact, Frenchmans Jester carried Ganter to the TX High School Finals Rodeo Championship in 2012 along with many other wins at Youth and Open events throughout Texas and Oklahoma. A winner at every level, that helped start two barrel racing careers, Frenchmans Jester will be missed by everyone who got to see him run.

The Barrel Racing Report would like to extend our condolences to the Ganter and Briggs/Peterson families on their loss of Frenchmans Jester.

standings are posted. "I've asked a lot of him this last month and he's very deserving of a break. He's done very well and I'm very proud of him. I'll run Rooster at the All American Finals and some of the Texas fall fair rodeos to get him some more experience."

Brazile said she's really looking forward to seeing her house, which she's only visited three times since last June. She'll also start homeschooling her oldest child, Treston, in October.

Blanchard, who is no stranger to last minute qualification heroics, has the most hectic of travel plans to ensure her position in the standings.

"I'll go to Kansas City and then I go to New Braunfels and Stephenville and I'll fly out that night for Bakersfield, San Bernardino, Poway and Kingman. Then it's over," said Blanchard, Albuquerque, N.M.

Blanchard has Christine Laughlin's horse Johnny Raider, whom she picked up a check on at Pasadena, Texas, this past week, to run at Kansas City and the Texas rodeos while her main stick NF French Tigger ("Clancy") will go to California.

"I have my plans and my horses where they need to be and I've known what the plan has been for a couple of weeks now," she said. "I guess what I've learned from being on the bubble in years past is to have a backup plan to the backup plan. Johnny is the backup to the backup plan."

Schultz, on the other hand, has nothing to lose and everything to gain. From Kansas City, she'll head to California.

"We'll drive to California, and I'm up in Poway for Friday morning slack, San Bernardino Friday night, Bakersfield Saturday night and Kingman on Sunday," said the Larkspur, Colo., cowgirl. "I didn't think I could get those Texas rodeos in. I probably should have tried to get Stephenville in but I just didn't see how I could do it. There's time when I think enough is enough. I've just got to try to do well at the ones I go to and make them count."

As of right now, Schultz plans on running French Dream at Kansas City. She had originally thought of sending him home afterwards but she'll probably take him to California with her.

"I had originally planned on running Speedy (Vegaspeed) at Albuquerque and Amarillo and he's not really finishing his second and third. So, I decided I'd take them both to California and I'm not really sure who I'll be running. Nothing can be simple or easy. I've still got a shot, but I'm going to have to be pretty spectacular wherever I go."

One of the hardest things this time of year is wanting your friends to do well and wanting to do well yourself with so much on the line.

"All of us girls, from 11th on down are pretty good friends," said Schultz. "We all want each other to do well, but we also want to do well ourselves. Whatever happens, happens. No matter what, I'll have no regrets."

Sweet Fame for Flannery at Roper Rally

By Julie Mankin

Dominating the fall futurities on three different horses is so difficult that, in a good 15 years of trying, Samantha Flannery has never had it happen. But she can't say that anymore.

The ranch wife and mother of two boys from Mission, S.D., has been on a streak of late, and continued it by placing first and third for $6,136 at the Roper Rally Futurity Sept. 19-22 in Belle Fourche, S.D.

The long-time trainer didn't run 5-year-old CM Dynamite Shake, on whom she earned more than $18,000 this season, because he recently sold to a Texas buyer. By a Doc O'Dynamite stallion whose dam is a three-quarter sister to Frenchman's Guy, CM Dynamite Shake goes back to Special Effort and Tonto Bars Hank on the bottom.

But the sale hasn't kept Flannery out of the winner's circle on two other special mares. At Belle Fourche on 4-year-old UX Sweet Vanilla Fame (owned by Marlin and Jinx Maude), she won the average on two runs by less than a hundredth of a second over Hallie Hanssen and Lady La French to earn $3,122. And on Streakin Perks Fool (owned by Grant and Jolene Koneckne) she wrapped up third for another $3,014.

"I won the first fall futurity, but then it's been all second and third and fourth," Flannery said of her season. "I haven't gotten any limelight that way, but it all pays the same and I'm pretty satisfied with the route I'm going."

The Roper Rally winner, a double-bred Frenchman's Guy buckskin, is called "Vanna" because she's been a diva since Day One, Flannery said. A granddaughter of the great futurity mare SX Frenchman's Vanilla through Danny Ray's stallion Born Ta Be Famous, Vanna is out of Frenchman's Princess.

"According to people who were around the first Vanilla back in the day, this mare's mannerisms and the way she runs and her ability to win are just about the same," Flannery said. "We were planning on holding her until she was 5, but she came on real quick because it's so natural for her. Her footwork around a barrel is amazing. She can do things I didn't really know horses could do."

Vanna didn't even run until February, and wasn't entered in Fort Smith. But this fall she's been heating up, placing second at the Cornhusker Futurity and coming back third in the Fizz Bomb's short round, where a barrel went down.

"She's earned close to $15,000," Flannery said. "She hasn't been quite as consistent as the other two — maybe because she's going so ungodly fast that she loses me. But I think it's just that she's younger and a little more immature. We're getting more consistent every weekend."

Flannery's other ace in the hole is a small sorrel 5-year-old daughter of A Streak Of Fling out of the Dash For Perks daughter Pollyanna Perks. "Tiny" was raised in Valentine, Neb., near where Flannery lives with her husband, Scott, and was trained by Flannery after being purchased by the Konechnes.

"There haven't been a handful of places where this mare hasn't won a check," said Flannery, who figures Tiny has earned more than $25,000 this fall. "I didn't start running her until April and she immediately won a saddle. She's incredibly gritty and has a huge heart. She's the type of horse you win on."

And winning an average title this fall has been no easy feat. Hundredths and even thousandths of seconds are all that's been separating the top horses.

"I won a round with a .2 on one horse, and my .3 on the other horse didn't place," said Flannery. "That tells you how tight it is. Not only that, but it's just tougher than ever. Last year at Broken Bow I was second with two 15.6-second times. This year, I was second with a 15.3 and a 15.4."

Even the relatively small Roper Rally in Belle Fourche drew the likes of Jill Moody, Lisa Lockhart, Jackie Jatzlau, Nikki Steffes and more. Tough or no, Flannery loves the fall futurities because her home in Mission isn't more than six hours from any of them.

"To have three horses tied to my trailer and know that at any given point one of them could win the round has just been an amazing feeling," Flannery said. "It's given me a great amount of confidence, but mostly I just feel blessed because I know these types of horses don't just show up."

Flannery's huge success this season has spurred lots of calls from potential new clients, but the jury's still out on whether she wants to build a bigger business.

"This year's been pretty amazing and I don't want it to end, so I'm not even thinking about next year," she cracked. "It's been a little overwhelming. But it's a good overwhelming. It's a good problem to have."

Flannery trains on the ranch with no assistance, and she rather likes it that way (although she does have "a lifesaver" who meets her at various futurities to help).

The other big winner at the Roper Rally, produced annually by Zeann Gollieher, was Sherri Cass of Pierre, S.D. Aboard 8-year-old Streakin Eye Paint, she edged Lisa Lockhart and Chisum to win the RodeoRigs slot race and $1,695. Her roan mare is by A Streak Of Fling out of a daughter of Mr. Eye Opener named Miss Eye Paint, who also goes back to Mito Paint and Pacific Bailey.

Barrel Racer Takes on Mustang Million

By Josey Butler

Every now and then a person needs to step outside the box and challenge themselves. I have been long overdue for that challenge and this year presented itself with the time and opportunity to join my husband Rance Butler in the Mustang Million Challenge. For those who aren't familiar you have 120 days to gentle and train a BLM mustang before competing on it, its like getting an un halter broke 3 yr old in August and trying to have it ready for the Super Stakes. Rance has fared pretty well in the past at these events and I have always thought about doing it too. This years adoption was held during the BBR Finals so while I was in OKC competing, Rance went searching for our dance partners in Ft Worth. I wanted a big athletic one, hard to find in a mustang but he found her, sent me pictures, and home she came. That big head and disdainful look I received when I first peered into her stall had me wondering if there was either an Andalusian stud or someone's Dash Ta Fame got loose in Black Rock Range NM. The former proving most plausible since that range has a large amount of Spanish influence. She's a very rangy 15.2 and growing and her head is one of those that is what you would politically correctly call... distinguished.

My over grown ballerina proved quickly to be both difficult and easy at the same time. Easy, to say she never did anything mean. She never once kicked, bit, bucked, or ran off with me. Difficult in the fact that she was virtually unreadable. She would go through the motions of everything you asked her to do with a blank look on her face like one of those stud horses you see that everyone thinks is so kind but eventually snaps and takes someone's arm off. This part scared me more than if she had been a combative bronc because it was so hard to tell how far to push her. For the first month the theme song from Jaws played in my head every time I went in that round pen. Long about the end of that month we found out we are embarking on another adventure. Our daughter is due in January. Everyone automatically assumed I would hand Rance the reins and sit down and start eating ding dongs. Obviously I am not a sit down kinda girl and Hostess was still out of business at that time. Rance and I discussed it together and decided he would do the hard work aka the first few rides and if she proved gentle enough I would continue. A week later I was sitting her amazing trot around the round pen laughing with joy.

Over the months this strange looking mare bloomed and turned into probably one of the nicest most willing horses I have ever ridden but still she had her guard up. I am not all into treats and natural horsemanship but I have had only 2 horses that didn't at least appear to like me in training and truth be told I didn't like them either so they probably knew it. I sent her videos to a friend of mine who deals with Spanish influence horses and she pointed out that there is a reason you seldom see these types of horses in the colt starting demo's. It takes longer than 15 min to earn their trust and they really do think they're better than you. There was 2 weeks in there where morning sickness had me on the couch feeling sorry for myself and Rance rode her. I began to notice anytime I went outside she would stop what she was doing and stare me down. This is the first time since I first laid eyes on her she acknowledged my existence. After I started riding her again we never looked back. She has proved to be the smartest most willing animal I have ever trained. She's probably more broke than anything I have ever started and does all of it happily. How I taught her to do the Spanish Walk is beyond me but she does it and loves every step she takes.

At the actual event we ended up 29th out of 191 just 10 few pts out of the finals. A spook at the ground in horsemanship probably cost us those 10 points but what can you do when they decide they don't like the smell of a big old steaming pile of poo? The reining satisfied my need for speed, they asked for a run in. A trainer out back jokingly said send her in there like you're at the BFA. In we went and I was proud to finish in the top 20 in the reining out of 169 actual runs with people like Pete Kyle, Craig Johnson, and Jordan Donnelly. Not bad for a barrel racer as a couple people put it. Not good enough I thought at the time but in the back of my mind I accomplished more goals than I ever dreamed with this mare fighting 6 month pregnant hormones and a constantly kicking baby during the trail class. I hope and pray my coming 3 yr olds that I will start training after our baby girl is born have this much try and heart. If anyone is ever looking for a challenge that goes beyond anything you've ever thought possible I highly recommend trying this event just once and if you don't have time just attending will amaze you.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

It's fun to win and we're so pleased with our horse when he makes a perfect run. We know that all those hours of training, studying and practicing have paid off.

Determination and desire are important to have if you're going to train a winning horse. Likewise, determination and desire are needed in our own lives if we're going to make use of the peace, joy and power that's available to us. We should be determined to live the abundant life that Jesus promised we could have. We should desire a close relationship with our Creator who has promised to provide for us and to protect us if we only ask Him to and then believe that He will.

We also need knowledge to understand how to walk in the blessings of God. The book of Psalms prays to the Lord, "teach me knowledge and good judgement." If you don't already have a Bible, get one and read it beginning with the New Testament. This is our covenant (binding agreement) with God. That is, you're a child of God and inherit all those promises if you've accepted Jesus as your Lord and Savior and turned your life over to Him.

You can have victories in your life if you get in a close walk with God. Talk to Him. That's all prayer is. Tell Him your concerns and ask for His leading. In the Bible, He tells us we can do all things through Christ who strengthens us. Claim that promise and believe for it.

You might have made a bad start and even messed up some of the turns in life but it's never too late to start over with God. He'll forgive you and help you turn your life into a good "run."
