Nellie Miller & Rafter W Minnie Reba Earn NFR Berth With $17,901 Tour Finale Championship

By Tanya Randall

Home sweet home.

After a grueling three months on the road and an NFR berth hanging in the balance, there's no better place to finish a season than in your own backyard. For 2017 WPRA World Champion Nellie Miller of Cottonwood, California, her last chance to make it to the world championship of rodeo in Las Vegas was through her own backyard, at one of her favorite rodeo in Salinas, California.

Miller and her homebred superstar Rafter W Minnie Reba ("Sister") cashed in at the $62,500-added ProRodeo Tour Finale in Salinas, earning $17,901 to move from 16th in the WPRA World Standings to 8th for her fifth NFR qualification.

"The minute they announced that the Tour Finale was going to be in Salinas, I knew I had to be there," said Miller, who has two elementary school-aged daughters with husband James. "We started the year with that in mind. I got a slow start to the year so I kind of suspected that I would need that toward the end of the year, and it worked out exactly like that."

The Finale was open to the Top 24 contestants in the ProRodeo Tour Standings who had competed at 35 of the designated rodeos held throughout the year.

For Miller, qualifying for the Finale meant a few more rodeos than her usual yearly schedule. She entered 45 rodeos during the year and 37 were designated Tour rodeos. The only rodeos she attended that weren't typically on her yearly schedule were August Kansas Rodeos like Dodge City.

"Other than that, I pretty much go to all of them anyway," she said. "That was a good run. I usually head home that week and hit a few on my way back on my normal route."

Unfortunately, only 20 barrel racers made at least 35 Tour Rodeos to be eligible for the Finale and only 18 of the 20 entered. Although the Semifinal and Finals paid the same, as a consequence of having less contestants, the two long rounds and aggregate paid less for the barrel racers than other events with a full 24.

The Top 15 prior to the Tour Finale who qualified and entered were Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, Ivy Saebens, Cheyenne Wimberley and Stephanie Fryar. Bubble chasers that were in the mix at Salinas along with Miller were Jimmie Smith and Katie Pascoe, who were 17th and 19th, respectively in the World Standings.

Those inside the bubble left to make the most of the remaining rodeos, like Stephenville, Amarillo and New Braunfels, Texas, Omaha, Nebraska, Mona, Utah, and San Bernardino, California, were Wenda Johnson, Molly Otto and Lisa Lockhart.

After the first performance on Thursday night, Miller and Sister were sitting third and after the second set finished up the round Friday night had finished fourth, earning enough to move past Fryar into 15th. When the two won the second round and finished second in the two-run aggregate, Miller had effectively secured her NFR qualification.

"I always think it helps when you have experience in an arena, and I've run there a lot," said Miller. "I'm really comfortable with the setup. I knew she would do well if I just rode her the way I needed to. She held up her end of the bargain for sure."

Miller and 13-year-old Sister (KS Cash N Fame x Espuela Roan x Blue Light Ike) were third in the semifinals before squeaking past Cheyenne Wimberley and VQ Sucker Punch by 3/100ths to take

"It was a really good barrel race, exciting!" said Miller. "It worked out great!"

Miller praised her roan partner for the effort.

"She always seems to step up her game on her second run in those shootout deals. I had a lot of confidence in her. We're so comfortable together. She's a relief to have underneath you. You never have to worry about her. She's pretty special that way."

It was a great way to finish what started off as a slow season.

"I went to some this winter," Miller said. "I didn't win a dime until the end of April, so I got a late go at things. I took off to Reno and left for the summer after that and hit it pretty hard."

After being gone for three months, Miller plans on giving Sister a little time off before getting her ready for the NFR. In the meanwhile, she'll run Rebas Cash ("Cowboy"), Sister's 10-year-old full brother.

"I'll probably run Cowboy a bunch this fall and try to get him going," she said. "He didn't get to run much this summer. She pretty much pulled most of the weight there. He got a few experiences, but not a lot. He placed at Lawton and at Stonyford this spring. He made some good runs at some of the others I ran him at. He was just out of it a couple of times. He's still green, but he's coming along."

Meet The Top 15

Technically, the 2021 Rodeo Season doesn't end until September 30, but with just three rodeos left – two $900-added runs in Cumberland, Maine, on September 29 and 30 and Fort Worth's $500-added on September 30 – there isn't enough money to be won to move someone from within Top 15 WPRA World Standings as of September 27.

Hailey Kinsel, a Cotulla, Texas, native now residing in Stephenville, made the most of the big money opportunities on her unicorn DM Sissy Hayday. They will be headed to their fifth straight NFR to defend their three consecutive WPRA World Championships as the No. 1 team in the world.

Jordon Briggs, a Colorado native now residing in Tolar, Texas, returns to the NFR after a 12-year hiatus. The daughter of four-time WPRA World Champion Kristie Peterson is one of the industry's leading futurity horse trainers. As she did in 2009, Briggs is riding her home-trained talent Famous Lil Jet. Shelley Morgan, Eustace, Texas, is making her third, and second consecutive, trip to the NFR. Morgan stayed near the top of the world standings all season long thanks to her protégé HR Fames Kiss And Tell.

Dona Kay Rule, an all around hand from Minco, Oklahoma, qualified for her third straight NFR aboard High Valor. Although she was turned out of the 2020 NFR due to a positive COVID test, Rule came back with a vengeance, never wavering from the near top of 2021 standings.

Jessica Routier, the super mom of five from Buffalo, South Dakota, navigated youth and high school rodeos to qualify for her fourth straight NFR. Gary Westergren's homebred Fiery Miss West carried her to every penny.

Cheyenne Wimberley, now a five-time qualifier from Stephenville, Texas, earned her way to Las Vegas aboard a trio of talented Dash Ta Fames. She got her biggest move from 13th to 6th in the last weekend of season, after riding Robin Weavers VQ Sucker Punch to a reserve championship at the Pro Rodeo Tour Finale in Salinas, California.

qualified for her first NFR. She rode her family-raised and trained gelding Frenchman Fire Fly all season long.

Nellie Miller, the 2017 WPRA World Champion from Cottonwood, California, pushed her way into the WPRA Top 15 on the last weekend of the season with a $17,901 Pro Rodeo Tour Finale Championship. This will be Miller's fifth NFR, having qualified from 2017 to 2019 on her home raised and trained Rafter W Minnie Reba and in 2010 on the mare's half-brother Rebas Smokey Joe.

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, the two-time World Champion from Lampasas, Texas, qualified for her 15th NFR (2003, 2005-2013, 2017-2021). The champion horse trainer and horse breeder raised both her main qualifier Babe On The Chase and her blooming backup, Rock On Guys, a 4-year-old futurity colt.

Emily Miller-Beisel, a dental hygienist from Weatherford, Oklahoma, is headed to her third straight NFR. Beisel rode several talented horses in her qualification effort with the lion's share of the earnings coming from Namgis D 33 and Biddin On Fame. Stevi Hillman, a Colorado native now residing in Weatherford, Texas, qualified for her sixth straight NFR. Although he's had help each year, the great horse Cuatro Fame has qualified Hillman for all six. This year's helper was the 5-year-old, 2020 futurity standout Famous Lemon Drop, owned by Dunn Ranch.

Ivy Saebens, a Colorado transplant who now calls Nowata, Oklahoma, home, was back aboard the great mare KN Fabs Gift Of Fame, owned by Kenny Nichols and Dale Barron, for her fifth NFR qualification. Saebens, the 2019 WPRA Reserve World Champion and NFR Champion, missed the finals in 2020 after nearly losing the great mare to an erroneous veterinary procedure.

Wenda Johnson, a nurse practitioner from Pawhuska, Oklahoma, qualified for her second straight NFR. Johnson, the mother of two, went to the fewest rodeos of any barrel racer. She won the bulk of her earnings on MacGyver Moonflash, while the 5-year-old futurity colt Steal Money also contributed. Both are owned by Tres Mesa Horses.

Champion Barrel Racer from Oelrichs, South Dakota, earned her 15 straight NFR qualification. After a slow start to 2021, a late season push starting with Rosas Cantina CC's performance at Cheyenne, Wyoming, through the Northwest, highlighted by a strong performance at the Pendleton Roundup on Prime Diamond, gave the two-time NFR Champion enough money to hold off the challengers competing in the Pro Tour Finale in Salinas.

Molly Otto, a talented trainer from Grand Forks, North Dakota, qualified for her first NFR aboard two horses she trained that are owned by her client Katie Lindahl. The bulk of Otto's earnings came aboard the 5-year-old, 2020 futurity standout Teasin Dat Guy.

BS Born Ta Cash & Dacota Monk Sweep Ardmore & Blue Collar Breeders Futurities For $75,271

By Tanya Randall

BS Born Ta Cash (“Sulley”) added two more championships to her Cornhusker Open & Breeders Futurity titles with a sweep of the $20,000-added Ardmore Barrel Futurity, held September 24-27 in Oklahoma, and the $150,000-minimum guaranteed Blue Collar Breeders Incentive Futurity Sidepot.

Trained and ridden by Dacota Monk, Sulley won $8,937 in the Ardmore Futurity, $49,400 in the Blue Collar Futurity Sidepot with $15,000 going to her breeder Kris Suard. Open carryover earnings pushed her total to an incredible $75,271.

“It’s kind of shocking,” said the Emory, Texas, based trainer. “I’m not shocked that she did it, but it’s just so rewarding. A lot of hard work went with it. It’s been a long process. It’s just crazy that it’s happening and keeps happening.”

After years of toiling, Monk got his breakthrough futurity horse in 2020 with multiple champion Famous Lemon Drop, who helped Stevi Hillman qualify for this year’s National Finals Rodeo. Now with Sulley’s success, Monk is extremely grateful that he’s had two standouts back-to-back.

“I don’t know if it makes it more special because it’s a different horse,” he said. “The first horse was so special and everyone knows what a freak she was. To have another one try as hard for you is just crazy.”

In Ardmore, Monk had originally planned on running Sulley in Friday’s open because the mare typically gets faster with more runs, but he felt she’s matured past that point.

“I used to try to run her the day before the futurity just to get another run in on her because she used to need that, but I feel like she’s past that,” he said.

By SPRINGER

In fact, it wasn't until her exhibition in Ardmore that the mare saw her first set of barrels since running at the Fizz Bomb Futurity two weeks earlier.

"I wanted to lope her through to see if she felt fresh and confident," he said. "She felt really good and responsive. I was fretting how she was going to work up there, but after exhibitions she put a lot of faith back in me."

Running on the bottom of the ground in the first round, Monk and Sulley were fifth in an incredibly tight first round with a 14.776.

"I knew I had to go for it and point her to her right spots," he said. "She hit each spot pretty much perfect the first round. I thought we went by the first a little, but we didn't go by as much as I thought. The third, she was super honest with me. I asked her for a little bit of room coming into it. My goal on her this weekend was to ride her correct and be clean. We did that. She felt really strong and fast the first round."

In the second round, they had top of the ground, but a clean run got priority over speed.

"I wasn't going for a round win," he said. "I was so going for the average. When you look at those Blue Collar checks, the average pays really good! I might have played it a little safe and we clocked a lot slower...well compared to the first day."

They finished fifth again with a 14.890.

"I held her off," he explained. "If I don't let her get as close to the barrels she's not as snappy and crazy turning. It's almost like she thinks I'm tuning on her. She was a little bit more loose in the turns for her. The first barrel was a little scary. I knew I needed to lift my leg because she nailed it a little bit harder. Thank God I lifted my leg! Sometimes I'll just sit there and watch my leg hit the barrel and it makes me so mad! I was super proud of her for listening to me and letting me place her in the spots I was placing her."

Monk spent the rest of the second round trying not to pay attention to what was happening in the arena.

"I didn't know what I had to run to be sitting good," he said, "but when I saw my time I thought, 'Well, that will be good for something.' Then he announced (that they were winning it) and I thought, 'I'm going to puke!' I'll usually watch because I love watching the other horses run, but I took her to the trailer, washed her and spa-ed her. I gave her water. Cleaned stalls. I was just burning time."

His wife Paula kept him in the loop.

"Of course, Paula, my wife was watching it live, but I told her to get away from me!" he laughed. "I didn't want to know! She told me the only horse that could beat me was the second to last horse to run! I told her, 'I don't want to know. Just leave me alone!' All I heard was Paula scream was 'Yes!' to know we had won."

The 5-year-old mare, by Born Ta Be Famous, is owned in partnership by Louie and Niki Saggione of LS Performance Horses and Monk. She is out of the Judge Cash mare also named Sulley.

Monk wanted to thank the event producers and Blue Collar Breeders as well as his family, co-owners and sponsors.

"Paula was saying on the way home, 'I keep feeling like I'm going to wake up and we're going to be getting ready for the second round of the futurity, like it was all a dream,'" Monk said.

Even splitting the money with the co-owners, Sulley is helping the Monks get the home they wanted on their place.

"It's a little bit life-changing," he said. "It's a good amount to help us finish what we were getting started."

Kristi Youngblood & Whateva Rocks You Top Open 1D Average at West Coast Barrel Racing Finals

By Tanya Randall

Kristi Youngblood and her 7-year-old buckskin mare Whateva Rocks You pocketed $9,171 at the $349,080 West Coast Barrel Racing Association Finals, held September 23-26 at the International AgriCenter in Tulare, California.

BRR: You had an amazing weekend, winning the Average after placing second in the first round, winning the second round and placing sixth in the final round. Can you walk us through your three runs?

Youngblood: Round 1, I rode her like I always ride her. She was really fresh. She had two weeks off coming into Finals.

Round 2, I was feeling a little pressure. I know with every in the same pen I have to be a little more aggressive. She is so broke and in tune to me she does what I tell her, so I can make a mistake. I really wanted to make the Final go. I gave it all I had and told myself, 'In it to win it!' And lo and behold, we won the round!

Round 3, I just told myself go have fun! No matter what happens we have already won with all the support from my friends and family and to be riding an amazing horse that tries and gives her heart and soul. Go have fun and let it all hang out!! That's what we did. Three awesome runs – and consistent. I cried. I'm so proud of her such a big heart and trust me so much. She loves her horse cookies and she earned a whole bag! LOL!

BRR: You've been winning at rodeos and barrel races on Whateva Rocks You. Tell us about some of her bigger wins and what her lifetime earnings are after this?

Youngblood: This is her first rodeo season. She has done very well. I was worried at first about how she would handle rodeo perfs but found out that she thrives on the loud crowds and energy. We have placed at many circuit rodeos and won Oakdale rodeo. We are in the top 12 in our circuit and looks like we will make the (Circuit) Finals. We also qualified again for the American Semifinals. Lifetime earnings: $35-$45,000

BRR: What qualities make her such a special horse?

Youngblood: She is strong, confident. She tries so hard every run we make. She is a total sweetheart, in your pocket and loves attention.

BRR: What is special about the barrel races in California?

Youngblood: Great weather, great ground, good people and great added money.

BRR: What are your plans for yourself and Whateva Rocks You moving forward?

Youngblood: I would like to go to more rodeos next year. I have futurity horses too, so I need to balance it all out, but she will tell me how far she wants to go in this barrel racing world. If we keep doing well, I would like to shoot for making the American finals and making a run at the NFR. It's all up to her, and if she needs a break then that's what she will get. I want her to keep loving her job and keep it fun for her.

BRR: What are three non-horse related things you must have when you head to a barrel race or rodeo?

Youngblood: 1) Got to have my makeup on!! Martha Josey always said when you look good, you feel good!! 2) Family support – taking care of things at home when I travel. 3) my wiener dogs – Frank, Oscar, Remi – they go to all the events with me.

Teton Ridge Acquires “The American”

Teton Ridge, an emerging brand dedicated to promoting and preserving America's iconic western culture and cowboy-inspired sporting events, announced today that it has acquired The American, with the promise of elevating the rodeo event to the greatest experience in western sports.

Teton Ridge founder, and visionary business leader, Thomas Tull, described the acquisition as the latest in a series of strategically planned moves to help elevate America's iconic western sports and the nation's western culture to a greater level of prominence around the world.

“The American is a beloved event in the world of rodeo, a true showcase for our nation's most treasured way of life and the sports that grew out of western culture,” said Tull. “No matter who you are, no matter where you grew up, at one time or another virtually every little boy or girl has aspired to be a cowboy or a cowgirl and that still holds true today. We want all those kids to dream of winning a gold buckle or a saddle, or a giant check on the dirt at The American and give everyone the opportunity to compete on a world stage for their chance to win big.”

The American represents the richest single-day event in all of western sports. Over the course of qualifier events across the country, competitors will be vying for what could be the biggest single-day paycheck of their careers. A true open competition in format, the iconic event brings together top professional rodeo athletes and honest, hardworking cowboys and cowgirls in a winner-take-all showdown, meant to crown the finest talent the world has to offer.

The American now boasts an unmatched total purse of more than $3 million, which includes a $100,000 check for the individual winners of each discipline and a $2 million bonus pot that includes a carry-over bonus of more than $1 million from the 2021 event that was not won. Each qualifier that makes it to the 2022 finals will be eligible for their disciplines $100,000 prize money and will also have their shot at the bonus millions.

Teton Ridge is proud to announce that for the first time in the event's history, women's breakaway ropers will also be eligible for the $2 million added bonus.

The American's weekend at AT&T Stadium will usher in a new era in rodeo, with innovative staging designed to flow consecutively from discipline to discipline with no downtime in between. Beyond the weekend's non-stop rodeo action, fans will be treated to live music, entertainment, and more, from some of the biggest names on the stage and screen.

“This transition is very exciting,” said Patrick Gottsch, founder and CEO of RFD-TV. “When we created The American our goal was to bring western sports to an elevated platform. The commitment that Thomas and his team at Teton Ridge have to broadening the reach of America's classic western sports is going to take this event to new levels and bring new audiences to what is already a dedicated and passionate fan base.”

The American will be held on Sunday, March 6 at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas. Ticketing information and on-sale date for The American and all additional fan events will be announced in October 2021.

Contract personnel named for NFR, NFSR

The contract personnel for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo and the National Finals Steer Roping were announced Wednesday by the PRCA.

For the eighth time in nine years, two of the announcers for the Wrangler NFR remain the same. Randy Corley and Wayne Brooks will be on the microphone for the 10 nights in Las Vegas Dec. 2-11. They will be joined by announcer Roger Mooney.

Corley, who was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2017, will be making his 20th NFR appearance, while it will be the 10th of Brooks' career. Mooney will be making his third appearance at the NFR and second in a row.

Livestock superintendent John Barnes makes his 15th consecutive Wrangler NFR appearance. The chute bosses are Tony Amaral (timed events) and Tom Neuens (roughstock).

Sunni Deb Backstrom, who was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 2021, is the NFR secretary, marking the 16th year in a row she has been selected. Jennie Murray is the assistant secretary.

Teton Ridge Gifts $50K to Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund

The Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund, a charity of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, has been gifted $50,000 from the Teton Ridge Foundation, the philanthropic wing of the newly created western brand, Teton Ridge. Visionary entrepreneur, Thomas Tull formed Teton Ridge to preserve the traditions and values of America's iconic western culture and heritage by investing in western performance sports, athletes, events, branding and land conservation. The Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund was established by the Justin Boot Company, the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and the Women's Professional Rodeo Association in 1989 to provide financial assistance to athletes injured through their participation in professional rodeo activities. The donation from the Teton Ridge Foundation will assist the organization in relieving injured riders of financial stress from living expenses, physical therapy and more. “With no guaranteed salaries or injured reserve provisions in the sport of rodeo, professional athletes often feel financial hardship when they sustain serious, sidelining injuries,” said Tom Glause, Interim CEO and COO of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. “Teton Ridge Foundation's contribution will help us continue to be a hand up for rodeo athletes and their families.” To date, more than $9 million has been awarded through the JCCF to more than 1,200 injured rodeo athletes and their families.

Nothing so conclusively proves a man's ability to lead others as what he does from day to day to lead himself.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Like everyone else, some days I am grumpy. It's those days that I have to watch what comes out of my mouth. Before I asked Jesus to be my Lord, cussing was my second language. I'm embarrassed to look back at those times.

The Bible tells us in Ephesians 5:4 to not let filthiness, foolish talking or coarse jesting come out of our mouths, but rather, giving of thanks. And if we are around others (most of us are), just because we can say it, doesn't mean anyone wants to hear it.

Now, I wasn't raised anywhere near a church. My parents had a bar and grill and I was very familiar with drunken actions and talk.....at home. So, it doesn't shock or horrify me when I hear bad language.

We had a young man come to do some work at our house recently. I have never heard him say "darn" at his place of business, but when he got to my house, he couldn't form a sentence without the f word. I didn't correct him. He doesn't know any better. I know better now because of what the Word has taught me.

So, if I started cussing up a storm, I would be wrong. How about you? Friends, let's be a Godly example in front of others. It's a breath of fresh air to them.
