Mission Possible for Andrea Busby & Jets Top Gun at Governor's Cup, NFR Bound

By Tanya Randall

No matter how many stories have been written or interviews that have been told, no one knew exactly what it took for Andrea Busby to be able to give her heartfelt victory interview after winning the Governor's Cup and punching her ticket to her third straight National Finals Rodeo, but her husband Jeff Busby did.

"My prayers are different now," Jeff said. "I've survived cancer twice. I survived watching my wife get kicked in the head at Woodward (after a fall in 2023). I really didn't know if I was ever going to be okay with her running barrels again after seeing her seize up in the arena at Woodward.

"My prayers are always that she and all the other barrel racers are safe and that she can just do her best and let God's will be done. People are going to say, 'Oh, you're wanting her to go to the NFR...' Honestly, no. It cuts into my bird hunting season at least five weeks!

"I've said this for months. I'm fine with whatever God's will is. It'll be a blessing if we get to go, but if we're just in the Top 30 and get into the winter rodeos, that's fine too."

When he watched her interview from outside the gate, emotions hit him just as hard as they did Andrea.

He knew the passion, energy and effort it took for Andrea to have the opportunity with her beloved horse Jets Top Gun ("Benny"), who recovered from a nearly career-ending sesamoid injury.

"She put almost two years into getting that horse sound," Jeff said. "All the emotion, physical and mental energy, and the thought process and analyzing and grieving over whether he was going to come back and then riding him to stretch out the scar tissue—It was literally almost 600 days for that horse between competitive runs."

He also knew how hard she had to work to climb back into NFR contention after starting the summer with just $8,116.30 won.

"That emotion was multifaceted," he said. "Most people don't dream about going to the NFR when you have to start June 1 with $8,000."

Andrea went into the pivotal rodeo, held September 25-27 in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, sitting No. 19 in the World Standings with $94,693 with a $22,000 gap to overcome. Even with the $166,667 purse at the Governor's Cup, Andrea hedged her bets by entering the two California rodeos — Poway and San Bernardino — that she flew to while competing at Sioux Falls.

"I guess I play better offense than defense," said Andrea, a former D1 college athlete. "I really wasn't too worried about it. Honestly, I was just having fun."

Andrea sent her first homebred rodeo winner Blazing With My Dude ("Tito") to California, while Benny stayed in Sioux Falls. Friday morning she flew to compete in Poway, where she finished fifth, earning $1,062.

Friday night in Sioux Falls, however, didn't go as planned. Running first out, she and Benny were fast enough to win the round with a 14 flat but caught the first barrel leaving it.

"Jeff stopped me before we went in there and said, 'Do not pull up. I don't care what happens. Do not pull up,'" Andrea noted. "I think the angle in there is just really hard. It's a really square arena and I honestly never did really nail my first barrel. We just kept making it work. But I caught it leaving it, and I was on my way out the round fell apart. That's when I was like, 'So, you're telling me there's a chance.'

With it still possible for her to advance to the semifinals in Sioux Falls as one of the top eight in the average, Andrea flew out to San Bernardino the next morning to run Tito. She and Tito ended up earning $4,177 for second, sandwiched between two other Busby-breds—Lindsey Muggli won the rodeo on In The Nick A Time, by Blazin Jetolena, and Kathy Petska finished third on Dineromademe-famous, a PC Frenchmans Hayday gelding the couple raised.

"Tito threw down a run," Andrea said. "I saw Joe and Jenna Beaver and Joe said, 'Go get this done. Give me something to talk about.'"

With a straight flip on the draw, Andrea was bottom of the ground for her second run. With Randy Spragins and Ricky Hibbler doing the ground she had little concern about her draw. Her biggest concern was staying clean to be the fastest on two with a hit barrel to make the semifinals.

"We were just solid," she said of her run with Benny. "I did go work him. He's so literal when you work him, you have to be careful what you show him, because that's exactly what he's going to do when you go run. I made him give me just a little bit more room. He did just that and got us to the (Semifinals)."

Andrea knew that Benny, who is Blazin Jetolena's richest offspring with $1.157 million won, would get faster the more he got comfortable with Sioux Falls. In the Semifinals, they had the fastest time of the top four to advance to the Finals.

"He kinds of gets on a train track," she said. "He's so strong. He's actually harder to ride inside than he is outside. Outside you have a little bit more time to catch up to him. I told Jeff I always feel like I'm fighting for my life out there, trying to keep up with him. He's just so strong in the turn.

"I lifted my leg over (the second) barrel in the eight man round, and I never could get back to two handed going to the third. I was like, 'Oh well, he knows where it's at.' I was yelling and kicking for all I was worth. Then he just got better from there."

In the Finals, they got the $34,000 victory, more than enough to secure their spot at the NFR, with a 14.02.

"I didn't know what had happened," she said. "It got so loud. I'm looking around to see what I clocked and they're like, 'Get off. We need you.' It became obvious that I won it, but I had no idea what I had ran."

Andrea, who is unofficially No. 14 in the World Standings with $133,911, said the key to managing the magnitude of the bubble run was not letting the moment become bigger than it actually was. "With Benny, I'm just so happy to have any chance to get on him," she said. "He's given me more than I could ever asked for, so I don't have expectations of him. And, like I said, I guess I'm a better offensive player than defensive player, because I was having fun chasing. I had everything to gain and nothing to lose."

Although her rodeo count is high, the wear on her horses is low. Their health was something Andrea prioritized after coming out of the previous two NFR qualifications with worn out horses.

"I do feel like I ended the year with better horses," she said. "Everybody is in pretty good shape. We took a different route and had great help. Jeff and I were very blessed to have unbelievable people around us, from those staying at the ranch and keeping the wheels turning there, to the girls that went on the road with us. Jeff and I made a conscious decision to split those horses up, so they weren't in the trailer so much and they weren't getting all the runs. It took me a while to get rolling with them again because it calls on you a little more as a jockey.

"I'm very lucky to have great horses under me and a supportive husband and all the people who help us throughout the year. It takes a huge team effort and I'm very grateful."

Ceri Ward Sets The Gold Standard With Flinging Goodbye & Slick Swingin Gypsy, Wins $98,660

By Tanya Randall

Ceri Ward's aged event team dominated The Gold Standard, held September 24-27 at the 377 Arena in Stephenville, Texas. The trainer from Ardmore, Oklahoma, pocketed an astounding $98,660 with five horses and won both the $40,000-added 4M Equine Futurity and $5,000-added Succeed Derby by incredible margins.

"It was just incredible," said Ward. "I would have told you what happened was impossible and then it happened."

Although her horses were eligible for the Gold Rush in Rapid City, South Dakota, Ward opted to make the two-and-a-half hour drive south to run on the WPRA Standard Pattern to prepare for the Pink Buckle the first week of October.

"I was super sad to miss the Gold Rush, but I knew The Gold Standard paid really well last year," said Ward. "It was on a standard, and I feel like my horses have gone to a lot of small arenas. I was glad to get on (a standard pattern) before we go next week. While I do feel like I was missing out a little bit, it turned out to be the right decision for us."

Ward wanted to thank Blake Myers and Bizzy Bee Productions for hosting the race.

"It's the best non-incentive race that I've been to in a long time," she said. "It was awesome!"

Her biggest winner was multiple futurity champion Flinging Goodbyes ("Piper"), a 5-year-old daughter of The Goodbye Lane, out of 2011 National Finals Rodeo mount Blue Moon Fling, by A Streak Of Fling. The homebred for Shawn and Rickki Moyer added $30,156 to her $362,831 lifetime QData earnings after dominating the 4M Equine Futurity, winning both rounds en route to the championship.

Ward said that Piper felt like she was "flying" both days, clocking 16.935 and 16.957 on the WPRA Standard Pattern each day to win the Futurity by .425 in the aggregate.

"She's always gone fast but she felt like she was going a little extra fast to first, but when I took her to it, she was spot on both days," Ward said. "She just went to all the right places. She's a story-book. She does the same thing every time and she's so dependable."

Piper, who won the inaugural Barrel Futurities of America's Freshman Slot Race last November and the Better Barrel Races World Finals Futurity this spring, joined Ward's barn as a 2-year-old. The petite mare was ready to roll as a 3-year-old but was held another year due to her size. She is currently the richest futurity horse of the 2026 season.

"She gives me a ton of confidence," Ward said of Piper. "If you're not quite in the right spot, she just lets me handle her and get through it. She can still clock doing that, which not very many horses can do."

In addition to the Futurity, which paid $16,932, Piper was third in the Sweepstakes ($2,750), placed twice in the High Stakes ($4,739) and collected $5,735 in the Open and its sidepots.

Ward got the futurity reserve championship with HP Epic Fame ("June"), owned by Katherine Bullis. The 5-year-old daughter of Epic Leader, out of Charlie Cole and Jason Martin's proven performing Dash Ta Fame mare, Chrome Plated Fame ($284,446 QData), was started by Brandon and Emily Cullins for her then owner Margo Crowther, who won the Kinder Cup Futurity on the mare in February.

"Katherine bought her a couple of months ago and asked me if I had room to take another one," Ward said. "I really didn't want to ride something that somebody else had trained but didn't know what horse it was. When she told me, I was like, 'For sure, I'll try that one!'"

June added $18,649 to her lifetime earnings of $72,947 (QData). Reserve in the Futurity paid $14,215 of that total. She placed twice in the High Stakes ($1,966) and earned $2,468 in the Open and its sidepots.

"That mare is an awesome horse," said Ward. "I'm just getting to enjoy her."

In the Derby, Ward's own Slick Swingin Gypsy ("Tatum") put nearly 3/10ths on the field to take the championship, worth $6,589. He also won the League of Legends ($4,050), the Sweepstakes ($5,500) and High Stakes ($4,212) plus $4,954 in the Open.

"He's just so strong and aggressive," said Ward, who along with her husband Raegan, bought the gelding as a yearling from Pete Oen. They later won the 2023 Royal Crown and South Valley Equine Open futurities in Buckeye, Arizona. "I love that horse. He's done so much for me. He was just awesome there."

"I love the standard (pattern). It's comfortable to me and I think it's comfortable for him too. I'm excited to go to Pink Buckle with its standard pattern."

While Tatum's total haul of $25,305 bumps his earnings to $288,050 and puts his dam Hip Swingin Gypsy, by Firewateron-therocks, past the $1 million mark in progeny earnings.

Ward got the reserve title in the Derby with Jess Genesis One ("Barbie"), owned by Jason and Leslie Willis. The 5-year-old daughter of Tres Seis, out of Little Eye Opener, by Mr Eye Opener, collected $18,782 to add to her lifetime QData earnings of $151,272.

Reserve in the Derby paid $5,205. Barbie was also second in the Second in the Sweepstakes ($4,125), High Stakes ($3,159) and League of Legends ($2,403). She won $3,890 in the Opens.

"That mare has been great for me," said Ward, who won the Royal Crown and Open derbies on Barbie this spring in Oklahoma City. "She's so fast and tries so hard. She's been super fun."

Ward's 2025 Pink Buckle Futurity Champion Gamblingslick ("Simone") finished third in the Derby earning $4,203. The 5-year-old daughter of Slick By Design, out of the Dash Ta Fame mare, HMB Soon ToBe Famous, now a producer of $1.1 million in progeny earnings, also picked up $1,538 in the Open. Her total event earnings of $5,741 bumped her past the $400,000 mark on her career.

"She's had six months off, and Breeders Challenge (two weeks prior) was her first two runs back," noted Ward, who purchased the mare as a riding 2-year-old at the Pink Buckle Sale. "I thought she worked really good since she hasn't been going as much. Hopefully, she's got her air back and is ready for Pink Buckle."

Hanssen Wins Gold Rush Futurity, $45K at First-ever Main Event

By Julie Mankin

It was a super-busy weekend for Hallie Hanssen.

Not only was she helping produce the inaugural Main Event on Sept. 24-25 of the brand-new Gold Rush Incentive she co-founded with her husband Lee, plus Cally Kindred and Maegan McPherson of THM Productions, but she also ran five horses in the Futurity and nearly swept it on Keith Nellesen's 5-year-old JS Night Moves ("George").

The Gold Rush's Main Event – a 2D Futurity presented by Platinum Trailers and a 3D Maturity – had $265,000 total money added and was held in conjunction with the annual Today's Horse West Fest in Rapid City, S.D.

JS Night Moves is a black gelding out of Judging Julie (by Judge Cash out of a MurrTheBlurr daughter) and is the first colt by Winners Version that Hanssen has pointed at the barrels.

"I've always been interested in Winners Version," said Hanssen. "We bred Tres Movidas to him and have two 2-year-olds now. I'd ridden a lot of colts with Holland Ease on the bottom side of Frenchmans Guy, and gotten along with them really well. George has been a good first one to try!"

Hanssen and George placed second in the first round with a 15.053 for $7,032 (including $1,407 to HighPoint Performance Horses as the slot owner and $5,626 to Nellesen/Hanssen). But then they came back with a smoking 14.9 to win the second round by almost three-tenths over Molly Otto's Movin On Bye, earning another $9,101.

"He had a good run in the first round, even surprising me by sticking a leg and turning first so well," said Hanssen. "In the second round, I would say he's never turned a better first barrel with me. That's actually the best run I've made on him. It was just really smooth."

Winning the average paid another $12,135 to bring their Futurity paychecks to $28,268 total. It helped that the ground got a make-over in the James Kjerstad Event Center.

"We formed a grounds committee this last year and worked really hard to get the ground better in that arena," said Hanssen.

Hanssen and George also won the High Stakes Sidepot for $3,913, the SlotHolder Only Sidepot for $4,725, first and second in the All Runs Count sidepot for $2,160, plus $5,965 in both Open races to earn a total of $45,031 in Rapid City.

"I think he's starting to like me a little bit, maybe," said Hanssen. George was already a winner. Payton Johnson won the Royal Crown Futurity on him in Buckeye, Arizona, in February, after which Nellesen bought him and turned him over to Hanssen. She earned $90,000 on him while placing second at the Royal Crown Futurity at the same venue in Rapid City, and won the Cornhusker Futurity on him three weeks ago.

He was a stakes-winning racehorse with some $35,000 in earnings before hitting the cloverleaf. Now, George's earnings in 2026 alone rank near the top of all barrel horses this year, somewhere around $230,000, Hanssen said.

"It took me a little bit to get with him," said Hanssen. "I'd make one good run and then he'd get to motoring too fast to first or something. It was probably June before I started figuring him out a bit more."

For a racehorse, George is super broke, she said. Hanssen did adjust his approach to the first barrel, she said, basically slowing him down to clock faster.

"He's easy to warm up and great at the trailer," she said. "He's cranky enough to not really like you petting him or brushing him. But he's just so fun to ride. He doesn't ride like a racehorse – he's super quiet. I could take him back there and he'd stand forever and not get wound up at all."

The field was stacked in the Gold Rush's first-ever Futurity, and is expected to grow in 2027. Here's how the Incentive works: it was formed as a "northern alliance" with five $25,000-added Open sidepots this season. Next year, the crew at Gold Rush is adding three more sidepots, so there will be eight total plus the Main Event held again with West Fest.

Instead of the Incentive just being a roster of stallions with progeny eligible for the money, the Gold Rush sells slots to anyone – a breeder, farm or individual – who will receive 20 percent of the payouts. The slot owner's entire program is eligible for nomination, including offspring of stallions it owns, plus any horse it owns or bred.

If you own a slot as an individual, you can nominate any horse you own. For instance, Lisa Lockhart Performance Horses is a slot owner for that reason. If you don't own a slot, you can still nominate your horse if it was sired by a slot holder's stallion.

"A lot of the popular stallions are in the Incentive," said Hanssen. "We sold 75 farm slots. For instance, that way HighPoint can make sure all the stallions they own are on the list. Anything they have bred or own themselves."

Once all 75 slots are sold, the only way to get one is if an owner sells it to someone. Also, in the Gold Rush, you don't have to nominate your horse until it's 2 years old, after which the price goes up as it gets older. Right now, the introductory rate to nominate your horse is $250, and after Oct. 15 it will go up for horses older than 2 or 3.

"We've been trying to get the word out," said Hanssen. "If you entered this year with a derby-age horse, it's eligible for life. But if your horse is older, there's just an increased buy-in. You can nominate your 16-year-old horse and run it in the Maturity."

Beisel's Dashing Olie Gets First Big Win of 2026 at the Inaugural Gold Rush Maturity

By Julie Mankin

Emily Beisel had no idea that her 8-year-old gelding Dashing Olie was eligible to enter the Gold Rush Maturity on Sept. 24-25 until Lee Hanssen told her. She squeezed the event into her late-season rodeo schedule – and the two runs Beisel made on the big palomino were enough for “Olie” to get his first outright win of the entire year.

“What’s funny is that a week before this, Olie had earned $203,967 in 2026 according to QData – the seventh-most of any barrel horse,” Beisel said. “That’s really cool, because I’ve only run him at five good races and 15 rodeos. But he had not actually won a rodeo or a race all year. Olie has been the bridesmaid a lot. But second pays really good, and he’s so consistent. He kept showing up. Finally, it was his turn to get a win.”

Dashing Olie is by The Red Dasher (Dash Ta Fame out of a daughter of Fiesta In The Sky) and out of Fire Water Flame by Fire Water Flit out of My Easter Flame.

It was no easy win, considering Carlee Otero’s NFR go-round-winning mare AM Regina George and arena-record-setting mare Cathys Kandy (“Twix”) were both in the mix. Beisel won the first round with a 15.0 for $6,320, and followed it up the next day with a 15.2 for sixth. She squeezed out the average title by one-tenth over Otero and “Regina” for $17,045 in Maturity money.

One would think Beisel being headed to her eighth straight NFR with $214,122 earned on six different horses would render her unhesitant anywhere. Especially considering she wasn’t raised by horse people, but then made it to the NHSFR from Kansas in all five timed events. Still, she’s not an OG at derbies.

“It’s scary to venture out of your comfort zone,” said Beisel. “I know the rodeos. I don’t know the futurities and derbies. The entry fees seem like a lot, which is a hard pill to swallow when you’re a rodeo bum, so it took me a second.”

But including the $2,295 Beisel earned in Rapid City from her Open carryover and her check for $2,035 in the High Stakes Sidepot, she scraped $21,375 out on Olie. So, she’s glad she skipped a few rodeos on him to take him to Incentive events in his final year of eligibility. Beisel first dabbled in derbies a few years ago because her half-brothers by Bucks Hancock Dude – Pipewrench and Chongo – are Pink- and Ruby-Buckle eligible.

“I found the ground is super even, the payouts are great, and I know exactly when I’m going to run,” she said. “It was very enticing to explore that more. We watch Kassie [Mowry] and Brittany [Pozzi Tonozzi] do it and it’s like, okay, maybe there’s a reason these girls are skipping some circuit rodeos for these. So, I decided to focus more on it.”

In fact, Beisel won’t even start preparing Olie for the flags and wagons at their upcoming NFR until he makes his runs next week at the Pink Buckle in Guthrie. And despite being curious how the yellow gelding would have handled the Governor’s Cup last weekend in Sioux Falls, S.D., Beisel decided to save him for The Gold Rush. There in Rapid City, however, she couldn’t decide whether or not to use the exhibitions Molly Otto had given her.

“I didn’t know if I wanted to get him in the pen or not,” Beisel admitted. “Sometimes when you run horses somewhere new, they haven’t learned what to look for in the arena, whereas when you let them see things, they find boogeymen. It’s been an interesting journey figuring out what works for him.”

Ultimately, Beisel decided she needed to show him the arena in Rapid City, because she knows that, in Las Vegas, she’ll want to get him in that arena to work on timing.

“I didn’t get to go to many small coliseums this year on Olie,” explained Beisel, who will take Olie, Chewy [Teasin Dat Guy] and Liza [Ivory On Fire] to Las Vegas. “I know I will break all his fans’ hearts if I don’t take Chongo this year. But he’s 16. He loves sleeping in his own bed and running on great, groomed ground. And he doesn’t owe me anything.”

In the end, Beisel chose Chewy for Sioux Falls – and won the reserve championship to add $29,133 to the $21,375 she'd already made in Rapid City on Olie. But the biggest chunk of Beisel's $50,508 on the long weekend was $26,000 for Sunday's run at the sudden-death tournament-style Governor's Cup.

"I've made a mistake at Sioux Falls in the past," said Beisel. "It's really important to make sure you make that semifinals. Of course, everyone wants to win the rounds because they pay $12,000. But the big money is Sunday. A lot of girls were catching barrels that first night. Luckily, I was in the second drag and I said, 'Okay Emily, engage your brain – it might be wise to ride a little defensive and make sure you don't take chances that aren't necessary.' So, I tried to ride smart and focus on the end goal – to have my best run be my last."

And Chewy indeed saved her best for last. In fact, of Beisel's multiple horses, it's tough for her to tell you exactly how much Olie contributed this year to send her to the NFR. But that's only because she just wrapped her season.

"I'm not going to lie, I just got done yesterday and haven't sat down to do the math, but I can break it down soon," said Beisel. "I'm a numbers gal and I love to look and see who contributed to what and where and when and why."

Olie, 8, is part of her string that includes the two teenage campaigners Chongo and Pipwrench, as well as Liza and Chewy, both 10 years old, and Vanilla Gorilla ("Trigger"), the 9-year-old she raised.

"Olie had a good year," said Beisel. "I try to keep my runs split pretty evenly among all of my six horses. The least number of rodeos for each was six and the most was probably 15 or maybe 18. That's the blessing – I'm able to help prolong these horses' careers because none of them has to go to 60 rodeos."

Beisel bought Olie in March 2025 from her friend Shelby Ridling, who also trained and sold Liza to Beisel. While both are out of Fire Water Flit-bred mares, they're very different. Liza has a stiffer style and her spots are much different, considering she's much tinier than the 16-hand, nearly-1,400-pound Olie.

"He's very honest but kind of a clumsy-footed, weird-moving horse," Beisel said. "You wouldn't look at him and think he's going to be a fast barrel horse. Shelby was so patient with him. He used to spook at barrels all the time. She couldn't hardly work him at home; he was so scared to death of barrels. He has a unique personality that makes him special, and she always believed in him and kept trying to figure out a way to work the pattern."

Beisel said she just "piddled" with Olie that first summer, though he placed fourth at his first pro rodeo in Red Lodge, Mont. She chose to season him at slacks, being careful not to push him too hard or too quickly and overwhelm him. For instance, when she hit a barrel in her first run at Dodge City last year on Chewy, she ran Olie in slack for Round Two and clocked the fast-time of the rodeo with a 16.8 on the big standard set.

"I just always loved his style and I kept telling Shelby, 'He's going to make a rodeo horse,'" said Beisel. "When I knew she'd been pricing him to some people, I asked if she'd consider selling him to me, and she was excited about it. We just have the best relationship, and it's been really fun to showcase her training."

Barrel Racing Industry Alliance Releases 2027 Graded Barrel Race List

The 2027 list continues BRIA's mission to provide a consistent measure of competition and recognize events that represent the highest levels of barrel racing. The Barrel Racing Industry Alliance has released the 2027 list of graded barrel races, recognizing events across the industry based on the strength of their payouts, participation and competition.

BRIA's grading system is an important benchmark for evaluating performance in barrel racing. Modeled after the graded-stakes system long used in horse racing, it provides the industry a consistent way to distinguish the level of competition behind a horse's accomplishments.

How Races are Graded:

Qualifying barrel races are evaluated using total entry numbers, payouts and the quality of competition, with grades reflecting the strength of each event:

- Grade 1 (BG1): The sport's premier events, featuring the strongest combination of payouts and competition.
- Grade 2 and Grade 3 (BG2, BG3): Highly competitive races that meet established standards for participation, payouts and quality of competition.
- Restricted Grades ("RBG1," "RBG2," "RBG3"): Graded races with specific eligibility requirements, such as pedigree, state-bred status, sale participation or other criteria. Rodeos are also included within the grading system, with grades based on payout and quality of competition. This allows premier rodeos to receive the same recognition as top barrel races, even when entry structures differ.

Putting Performance in Context

Grading adds context to a win or placing by showing the caliber of the competition in an event.

That distinction carries through pedigrees, sale catalogs and performance records. Horses that perform at graded events can earn black-type status more quickly, giving breeders and buyers a way to identify proven performance at a higher level of competition.

For breeders, that provides another measure for evaluating bloodlines and breeding decisions. For buyers, it makes performance credentials easier to understand at a glance, and for owners, trainers and stallion managers, graded accomplishments provide added context when marketing horses and their offspring.

Connected to QData

Graded designations are fully integrated into AQHA's QData database and the services that database feeds ensuring that wins, finalist placings and black-type status appear on:

- QData Online Reports
- QData Catalog Builder pages
- QStallions.com reports and pages
- Sale catalogs and pedigree summaries

2026 National Finals Rodeo Adjusts Payoff

Nightly go-round payoff increases to award Top 8 finishers, up from Top 6, while the average payoff remains consistent

The National Finals Rodeo Committee announced today that the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Tractor Supply Company will compensate the Top 8 finishers in each go-round, up from the Top 6 finishers that had received payoffs in the past. The contestants that qualify for the NFR will experience these new payoffs when the event kicks off on Thursday, Dec. 3 and runs through Saturday, Dec. 12 at the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas.

The total prize money for the 2026 NFR is set at $14,270,736. This total consists of the $1.2 million guaranteed prize money for the NFR qualifiers and the competition prize money total of $13,070,736.

"The NFR will pay a record $14,270,736 to contestants this year and now, at the contestants urging, the rounds and average will pay out eight places," PRCA CEO Tom Glaue said. "This will only increase the excitement at PRORODEO's marquee event as contestants chase coveted gold buckles."

Under the new payment structure, the payoff for each go-round will be:

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

For more exercise, besides riding horses, Mike has taken up bicycle riding. And he is dragging me along with him. Groan. He rides his bike an average of 20 miles a day. I ride 6. But I think it's good that he takes me with him.

He wears a helmet. I don't. He wears bike shorts. I will not. He never yells at cars when they almost run you over. I do!

Today this idiot/nice person almost hit us when we were crossing the highway! And we had the walk sign! It was very close! If I hadn't yelled at him, he would have creamed us! That person wasn't looking.

So. Let's talk about looking. Are you looking? Looking for what you may ask? Jesus' return of course!

What does the Word say about that? Hebrews 9:28 tells us that "unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time." Let's cultivate a habit of keeping a watchful eye out for Jesus' return. We don't want to miss it!
