Family tradition—Jackie Ganter & Recent Release capture ANHA Shootout

By Tanya Randall

Jackie Ganter and her mother Angela may well be the only mother-daughter duo to own Steve Fiebig Memorial Fast Time Buckles from the ANHA Shootout.

In 2007, Angela guided VF A Sporty Design, now owned by the Chouest family of Cut Off, La., to a spectacular 16.783 to win the 2D Shootout. This year at the 24th Annual ANHA Shootout, held Aug. 30-Sept. 2 in the Extraco Show Pavilion in Waco, Jackie guided Recent Release, owned by Kristi Schiller, to a deliriously fast 16.670, an ANHA record on a certified WPRA Standard Pattern, to win the 1D Shootout and $2,457.

"I win third everywhere," laughed Jackie, who hails from Abilene, Texas. "Finally, I win first. It would always seem that I'd win a round or do really well in the rounds then come back in the finals and make a really great run, but I still end up third!"

At the Shootout, Jackie qualified all five of her horses back in the 1D Shootout, running a couple of them back-to-back. She qualified R and her new mount Blazin Baby J for the Shootout in the first round.

"My first run he was toward the bottom of the drag," she said, recalling her first run on R, a 15-year-old gelding by Light On Cash out of Parr Pas, by Citation Bars. "He ran in and took a pretty good stumble at the first and went almost all the way to the wall. He was really running. He was flying. He smoked the second and third." They posted a 17.053 to finish third in round, and Ganter noted, "I knew he could do a least a little bit better because I knew the stumble had cost us, but I didn't know how much. I knew he could run at least a .9 or an .8."

She chose to rest R for the Shootout, turning out of the second round.

"He just came back from an injury that Kristi spent a lot of time and money fixing," said Ganter, who is sponsored by Schiller Ranch, K9s4COPs, RES Sport Boots, MVP Exceed 6-Way, Double J Saddlery and Dr. Randy Lewis of Key City Veterinary Clinic in Abilene. "After he stumbled in the first round, he was totally fine after it, but I didn't want to put him in the situation to maybe stumble again. So, he just rested the second day. I just walked him some out in the back."

Her superstar in the first round turned out to be her new horse, Blazin Baby J, a 4-year-old Dash Ta Fame, her mother just purchased that week. It was her first run on the gelding and they ended up second with a 17.046.

"I got to trot him through the barrels a couple of times at the house," she said, "but that's all I could do because our ground is so bad. I was very surprised at our first round time. Callie told me he's not your typical 4-year-old. You can send him and trust him. When I was in the alley before my first run, my mom told me, 'It doesn't matter what you run. I don't care if you lope the pattern and run an 18. Just have a good run on him.' I get in the alley and he's super calm, which is really weird because he's a Dash Ta Fame with Beduino on the bottom. We go around all three barrels and I was like, 'Oh, that wasn't bad.' He's really big and has a huge stride. I didn't realize how big his stride was. I didn't think it was a bad run but I didn't think it would be fast at all. It was really shocking. His speed is extremely deceiving."

Ganter chose to rest Baby J the second round as well due to his age.

In the second round, she placed with Bobbie Gene and Cartels Fame—both had hit barrels in the first round—and Guys French Jet.

Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale by Larry Larson

August 23, 2013, Spearfish, SD-- Myers Training Stable - Leading Breeders In The Performance Horse Industry. The home of Leading Barrel Horse Sire Frenchmans Guy, Hot Colours si 102, World Speed AA, A Smooth Guy and Cowboys Cartel si 93 once again topped the charts with their semi-annual Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale. Held east of Spearfish, South Dakota at the Seven Down Arenas, the sale featured 62 head of not only their own ranch-raised prospects but also a select offering from guest consignors.

Guys Best Bet, consigned by Bill & Deb Myers and sired by their senior sire Frenchmans Guy, drew considerable interest prior to the sale and during the preview. Leaving the ring after active bidding on a final bid of $56,000 from Harry LaToush from Kansas, the 2011 sorrel mare is out of Addicted To Cash, a proven producing full sister to Leading Sire Dash For Perks and she has produced race winners of $96,000. Also foaled in 2011 was Guys Sangria, a sorrel mare again sired by Frenchmans Guy and out of the AAA and AAA Stakes Producer Hot Brandi N Wine – an earner of $14,576 on the track. Guys Sangria is a full sister to the Myers Futurity Champion Guys Champagne Girl, an Arena Record Setter and Pro Rodeo Money Earner. Topping the bidding action at $35,000 was Copper Spring Ranch from Bozeman, Montana.

High selling two-year-old stallion was Guys Fame, a palomino stallion sired by Frenchmans Guy and out of Disarray si 89, a daughter of Dash Ta Fame si 113. The Frenchmans Guy/Dash Ta Fame cross has proven to be stellar. Guys Fame is a full brother to the Myers 2009 High Seller Guys Famous Girl, a two-time slot race champion, multiple futurity finalist in 2011 and the Nation's #1 Money Earning Barrel Horse of the Year – All Ages-All Divisions with earnings of $125,000+. He drew a final bid of $32,500 from Ed Pfaff, a buyer from Wisconsin.

This Guyz A Leader, a 2011 palomino gelding brought a bid of $26,000 from Scott Gray from Canada. By Frenchmans Guy, he is out of Bugs Special Leader si 94, a Stakes Placed Winner on the track. One of the high sellers at the 2013 Sale was a weanling filly - Flits French Blondie. Out of an own daughter of Fire Water Flit and sired by Frenchmans Guy, the well-balanced palomino filly was consigned by Linda Rittberger and attracted a bid of $33,000 from Ron Young from South Dakota. The result of a donated fee and embryo, 100% of the proceeds will be donated to the Lone Tree Bible Ranch in Wyoming.

High Selling yearling stallion was Dot Com Guy, a 2012 sorrel stallion also sired by Frenchmans Guy and out of Speed Dot Com, a AAA runner sired by Sixarun si 106. Having the final bid of $21,000 was Sitnal Livestock, Travis and Amy Lantis from Spearfish, South Dakota. He came from the breeding program of long time consignors Lance Anderson & Max Robinson from Utah. French Bouquet, a 2012 gray mare sired by Frenchmans Guy and out of Rimes Bouquet si 101, was the high selling yearling mare and was consigned by DelRae Driggers, Berino, New Mexico. She left the ring at $24,000 from Mike Hays from Louisiana.

Handsome Jack Flash Streaks for Win in All American Futurity

Handsome Jack Flash, trained by Juan Gonzalez and ridden by Jaime Leos, broke sharply and dueled all the way for a :21.166 victory, by a neck, in the $2.6 million G1 All American Quarter Horse Futurity on Labor Day, September 2, at Ruidoso Downs.

"It was my first All American ride and I was nervous before the race," said Leos. "My main concern was getting away well. Once we got to the lead, he just kept giving me all he had."

Reagal Eagle, trained by Eduardo Gonzalez, winning trainer Juan's brother, was runnerup by a nose over Wagon Tales in the 440-yard dash, the richest race for two-year-olds of any breed in North America. Previously undefeated Especially Tres, the post time favorite and winner of her trial by 3 1/2 lengths, yielded for fourth by a neck.

Handsome Jack Flash earned $1.3 million for the win, his fourth in five starts, and now has a career total of $1,482,271. A gelded son of First Moonflash, out of a Mr Jess Perry daughter, he is owned by his breeder, Debra Laney, in partnership with Norma and Brenda Alvarez.

This is the second All American Futurity win for Gonzalez, 48, who has conditioned earners of $12.4 million, including 2003 All American Futurity winner By By JJ, and also saddled this year's sixth-place finisher You N How Many More.

Feature Hero takes $2.8 million All American Derby

Feature Hero, a 24-1 longshot, claimed the richest win in Quarter Horse history on Sunday, September 1, in the $2.8 million G1 All American Derby. Wicked Courage, the 6-5 favorite and winner of both the Ruidoso Derby and the Rainbow Derby, finished seventh.

The win was the first for Feature Hero, trained by Eddie Willis and ridden by Jimmy Dean Brooks, since he took the Remington Park Oklahoma-bred Derby this past April. The gelded son of Valiant Hero is owned by Gary and Micah McKinney's Reliance Ranch. The McKinneys founded Racing Free, a new program that rewards owners of racehorses who win races and are drug free, a national effort to promote drug-free racing.

Eddie Willis and Jimmy Dean Brooks also remained hot in Monday's $85,000 All American Juvenile, when One Valiant Hero, by Valiant Hero out of a Mr Jess Perry daughter, raced to a 1 3/4-length win. One Valiant Hero is owned by Valeriano Racing Stables. --Courtesy of www.SallyHarrison.com

That meant Ganter had to run five horses in a draw of 30. Luckily, she had a pit crew in the warm-up area and the producers graciously gave her the time she needed between runs to ready her horses.

Early on it looked as if nothing would go Ganter's way in the Shootout. Two of her horses had stumbled and one had hit a barrel. "I was like 'Wow, I can't catch a break,'" she said, noting she didn't have time to be in a bad mood because everything was happening so quickly. "My first horse (Guys French Jet) he stumbled and hit the second barrel to run a 16.8. Bobbie Gene stepped on himself at the first barrel and I just thought he tripped so I kept going. At the third, he stepped on that shoe again, because he'd already twisted it, and jerked it off. He went really far down. He didn't lay all the way out, but it was bad enough that I just pulled him up. The shoe was like totally twisted in half. My Cartel horse hit a barrel."

Jackie Jatzlau and her mother told her to forget about those runs and concentrate on her remaining two horses.

"Bobbie Gene and Cartel were back-to-back and then I had a drag," she recalled. "Raylene Cox had warmed up R. I loped a couple of circles on him, but he gets really hyper in the back so I had to get off of him and just walk him. We walked over and I got on him. I was first on the drag, I was so hot. They let me take a minute and I got a drink of water. I asked Mom, 'He's already stumbled in the first round and I've had two stumble already, is he going to be okay?' She was like 'Don't worry about them. They were toward the bottom of the drag and he's first on the drag. Don't worry about it. Just send him.'"

Fortunately, R didn't let her worry about it long as he launched himself into the arena.

"We just make the corner (of the alleyway) and I sent him as hard as he can run," she said. "We get a stride or two out of the first barrel—I was still kind of nervous about him slipping—so I sit down and say whoa. As soon as I did, he just sits down and buries up. I was like 'he's going to hit.' I was doing everything I could to keep him from hitting it because I had asked him to turn way too soon. He didn't even try to hit. He just buried up and drove around it. My leg was dragging against the barrel the whole way around it. I was like 'Oh no, just get away from it.' When he left the barrel, everyone went crazy. I was like 'Oh, we're around it.' I knew all I had to do was make sure he finished his second and third. That's his only fault. Sometimes he'll step off his second and third. Both of them were just flawless. He was running so unbelievably hard. I picked up my over-and-under running home and just dropped it. I thought there's not even a point. I had no idea that it was going to be that fast. I was so excited I almost fell off!"

Ganter didn't have long to let it sink in as she still had her futurity colt left run.

"He had a great run," she said. "He got a little bit lost. I think by my fifth horse in three drags, I was getting a little tired. I was a little hot and probably didn't ride to the best of my abilities. I probably helped him a little more than I should have, but he still made a great run. He ran a 17.1. That was only my second run on him."

Her winning run with R lowered the previous ANHA record that was held by Casi Conrad and Corona Dude Dancer, who bested Angela and Sporty's record with a 16.688 in 2011.

Ironically, it was Laticia Duke, who trained Corona Dude Dancer that had an indirect influence in lowering the time, by helping pair Ganter and R.

Having lived in the Abilene, Texas, area, Duke knew the Ganters well and had watched Jackie grow up. When Bobbie Gene, a 5-year-old Dash 'n' Fame that the Ganters had purchased from the Schillers came up sore earlier this summer, it made sense to offer R as a replacement since no one at the ranch was riding him.

"I don't run open horses," said Duke. "I had only ridden him when I first went to work for the Schillers when none of my colts were ready. Kristi's back has been bothering her and Sinclair is too young. Jackie's just been doing really well with him. We're really proud of her."

Schiller was equally impressed with Ganter and noted what a role model she's become for her daughter and others.

"She's darn near perfect," said Schiller. "My daughter Sinclair spent two weeks with her this summer and she saw how much work she puts into those horses. Sinclair went from finding a D in the alphabet to running in the 1D this weekend. After hanging out with Jackie, all she's wanted to do is learn how to run barrels. The kid lives with Latricia Duke--all she had to do was walk to the barn, but seeing how much work another kid put into it made her want to do it. Give me 10,000 Jackie Ganters over a Miley Cyrus any day." Surprisingly, Ganter didn't start running barrels until she was 12. Prior to that, she rode English, showing dressage, jumping and eventing.

"I had won every show with the pony I had, but she got hurt," explained Jackie, who is junior honors student at Wiley High School. "We started looking for another eventing horse. We tried probably 15 different horses. One day we were coming home and I told my mom 'I'm probably never going to find another horse as good as Dixie, am I?' She said, 'No probably not. We're going to do the best we can, but it's hard to top that.' I said, 'If I can't be as good as I was with her, I want to do something else.' She asked me what I wanted to do and I said 'I want to do what you do.' She said, 'You trot. That's probably not going to work.' I told her that I really wanted to try. She said that's fine, but you're going to have to run, not just trot."

At her first barrel race, Ganter scorched the 15-second pattern in 30 seconds, barely getting out of a trot. Her mother encouraged her to go faster. The next day she was in the low 20s.

"My mom was like, 'That's better. You're improving, but here's the deal, I won the barrel race with a 15,'" she laughed. "I came in the next day with a stingy bat and just went for it. I ran an 18. I asked my mom, 'How much faster could my horse go?' She said, 'Not much. He's maxed out at that.' I was like, 'Ok, let's get a faster one because I'm ready.' I've just gradually stepped up. Now all my horses run right together."

Ganter's ultimate goal is to win the WPRA's Rookie-of-the-Year. She'll turn 17 this October, so she has a little more than a year to season her herd.

"This summer I seasoned Cartel some," she explained. "He'd already ran at a couple of pro rodeos when we bought him. I ran him at some open rodeos this summer. R and Jester are well experienced to the rodeo road. Jet has been on it some. We're just trying to season the young horses a little bit and hopefully go for Rookie when I turn 18. That's why I have so many horses. My mom doesn't want any one of them to run every single day and run their legs into the ground. That's what happens to so many of these nice horses. When you only have one, it just gets run over and over."

Ganter obviously has a gift for riding so many horses well. "I don't know why, but really I don't have a problem with it," she said. "When I get on a horse I just know who I'm on and I don't even think about it. I love to ride that many horses. They're all so different. It's a lot of fun to get on each different one and do different things and experience different styles."

Melby & Dash Ta Diamonds keep NFR hopes Alive

By Tanya Randall

Past Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier and former International Pro Rodeo Association World Champion Jane Melby isn't going to give up her second qualification to the big dance in Las Vegas without a fight. With her National Western Champion First Down Perk out with an injury since Colorado Springs in early July and her backup horse RC Brooks A Streakin recovering from a sliced stifle after a fallen barrel rolled up underneath him, Melby's been forced to jump rides to maintain her position in the WPRA's Top 15.

Riding Aimee Kay's Dash Ta Diamonds, Melby picked up some much needed cash by practically sweeping the $21,500-added Ellensburg Rodeo, held August 31-September 2 in Washington. The victory was worth $6,880.

"I've had him three weeks," Melby explained. "I got to run him the first week and then he got an abscess, so I had to sit out the second week. Ellensburg was the next one back."

Melby, a Minnesota native who now hails from Burneyville, Okla., used her unplanned week off wisely, praying for the abscess to break and enjoying the hospitality of Ellensburg.

"We had nowhere else to go, but to Ellensburg," she said, laughing it was a great place to be stuck for a week. "We stayed at a boarding stable in the past and we went back to that stable because we knew it would be nice for that horse. I told my husband we needed to go to church on Sunday because we had nothing else to do, and we'd been praying for that abscess to break. We found a cowboy church and when we got there Coy Huffman was the minister, so that was neat."

To prepare for the rodeo without riding Dash Ta Diamonds, she worked on visualizing her runs while working her young horse at the Ellensburg Rodeo Arena during the week.

"We would go over to the arena and I would ride a young horse I had and meditate on the pattern," she said. "It's a super nice arena, but your barrels are in the middle of nowhere, so you need to peg 'em. That whole week we were in Ellensburg we kept taking the young horse over to the arena and riding her. Even though I didn't get to ride this horse, I had a feel of the pen and I think that was an advantage for myself."

The Tuesday before slack on Thursday, Dash Ta Diamond's abscess broke at the coronary band.

"It was a blessing," said Melby, who described her runs at Ellensburg as "awesome." She smoked the field in first go with a blistering 17.12 and then came back to win the second with a 17.25.

"I had never run a 17.1 on a standard pattern before even with Beauty (her NFR mount RC Back In Black)," said Melby, who is sponsored by Cowgirl Tuff, Logan Coach Trailers, Cinch Chix, Bluebonnet Feeds, Healthy Coat, Iconoclast, and Formula 707. "He just aced that first barrel. Wicked fast was how it felt. Even though he turned it fast I was ahead of him to go to the next one, whereas a lot of times when you have a wicked fast turn you get left behind. I was just in sync with him.

"The second go, I'm not really sure how my time was slower because I actually felt like we had a faster first barrel."

Although she had a 3/10ths lead in the average going into the Finals, Melby was hoping for a good draw on the ground. A lot was riding on this final run.

"I'm pretty good at drawing," she laughed. "We get there and look at the draw, and I'm thinking, 'Aw, they must have gone slowest to fastest.' The secretary was like, 'No, Jane. This is the draw. You drew last.'"

Melby clocked a 17.46 in the Finals to wrap-up her victory. She praised the Ellensburg Rodeo Committee for their hospitality and for hand-raking after each barrel racer.

"I probably rode a more on the safe side rather than come with my hammer cocked," she said. "I knew I had a little bit of an edge. Even though I don't really know that horse, I knew if I was going to hit one it would probably be the first barrel."

Melby had just six runs on Dash Ta Diamonds prior to Ellensburg. The 7-year-old gelding was already a pro rodeo money earner under Kay's saddle. Trained by Kelly Bowser, Swanton, Ohio, Dash Ta Diamonds was a leading futurity horse as a 4-year-old with multiple wins under his belt. The gelding is by the all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of the Strawfly Special mare, The Millennium Star, who is out of three-time racing champion Denim N Diamonds, by Timeto Thinkrich.

"I have to thank Aimee Kay," said Melby. "I also have to thank the Good Lord, my sponsors and fans."

Melby also wants to give special thanks to her "wonderful" husband Ryan for driving and her children Colton and Cayla as well as Mike Berends for taking care of everything at the ranch while she's on the road.

Next up for Melby is Lewiston, Idaho, slack on Tuesday. Afterwards, she flies to Fort Madison where she'll jump ride another horse (undetermined at this time) before returning to the Northwest for Spokane and the Justin Boots Playoffs in Puyallup. Pendleton will be her last Northwest rodeo before heading south for the remaining rodeos in the 2013 season.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

You have faith in your horse when you enter an arena and run the barrel pattern at a high speed when the ground is in unfavorable conditions.

You'll drive down a crowded highway faster than you should with oncoming traffic hurdling toward you and passing within inches of you. You trust the radio and TV is reporting the news accurately.

You even trust the weatherman who is wrong as often as he is right!

You trust the food is safe you order in restaurants and you trust the doctors and the medicine they prescribe. If you're one of these kind of people, you have a lot of company because millions of people find it easier to trust things of the world and what they can see rather than trust Almighty God and the awesome promises He gave us in the Bible. The Bible is His written Word to us and God cannot lie.

Jesus instructed us to love God and to love our neighbor as ourselves. If we're not doing that, then we don't qualify for all the blessings and benefits He has for us. Prosperity and success are there for those who trust God and have faith in His Word. Proverbs

3:5 and 6 tells us not to trust our own judgments but rather to trust God and He will direct us in all our ways.

God sent His Son Jesus to make things right for you. He paid your ticket so you can get into the abundant high life and have peace, joy and security while on earth and have a glorious eternal life ever after.

So trust in the One who created all things. Give your life to Jesus and read the New Testament to learn more about Him. Talk to Him every day. He's the best friend you'll ever have and He's there for you 24/7.
