Sharin Hall & Bulleva Win $115,000 in the Diamond Jubilee Slot Race at Diamonds & Dirt

By Tanya Randall

You can't deny Sharin Hall $100,000 twice in the same month. After running for $100,000 and possible share of $1 million at the World's Richest One-Day Rodeo—RFD-TV's The American, the veteran trainer from Madill, Okla., would not be denied a second time as she guided the 4-year-old mare Bulleva to a $115,000 victory in the $315,000 Diamond Jubilee Slot Race at the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic.

"I don't know if its years of experience or what," she chuckled, "but I really just focused on what I needed to do. My main focus was to just ride her correct and get her up in the hole, and just be smooth and clean. I didn't allow the surroundings to affect me, and it worked. It's a mental game. It really is. Your subconscious will take over on your physical, and that's what I relied on."

Hall's partner on the horse, Brad Oesch, a Houston lawyer, was on hand to see his "first horse" win the richest slot race ever held, thanks to the expansion to 70 entries from 50. The two met at the most unlikely of places—a convention for skin care products that Hall sells.

"I met Brad in October at a Nerium convention in Long Beach, Calif.," she said. "He's was intrigued by what I did and was interested in partnering on a horse. I said, 'well, let's partner on a 3-year-old,' and I found Bulleva."

The two purchased Bulleva from Becky and Charles Temkovits and their daughter Carrie Thompson, who trained the mare, after the BFA Juvenile Futurity. Hall was instantly drawn to the daughter of Bully Bullion—one of Hall's favorite lines, "I love them. I'm just partial to them. They fit me. I tolerate them," she noted. The late Bully Bullion only has only two crops that haven't yet reached futurity age, so Hall's eager to get her hands on one when she can.

Bulleva is out of the proven barrel horse producer One Hot Lane, by Lanes Leinster. Bred by fellow barrel racer Tiany Shuster, Bulleva is a half-sister to barrel racing money earners Whateva, by Dash Ta Fame, and Foreva, by Reds Western Native.

"For me to find her and for Carrie to sell her to me, I just feel so blessed," said Hall. "She's happy that I'm doing good on her."

Hall made her first futurity runs on Bulleva in Arizona.

"She really didn't know how to run. Arizona was probably the hardest place to get with one, but she really did advance and get faster every weekend. I hit a couple of barrels, but I think we got everything figured out. She's a good fit," she said.

Hall said she's been pleasantly surprised with Bulleva's speed.

"She's only 14.3," said Hall, "but she's long strided...and gritty and stands right up on top of the ground."

From Arizona, they went on to place at the LG Pro Classic Slot Race, the Young Guns Futurity at the Patriot and Lucky Dog Futurity, the weekend before Diamonds & Dirt.

"She's been doing really good," said Hall, who will next run Bulleva at the Jackson Hall Memorial, a futurity she produces in honor of her father. "She's won about $126,000 to date (prior to her third-place finish in the Schiller Ranch Futurity, worth another $13,608)." All totaled, Bulleva won $128,608 at Diamonds & Dirt.

The duo clocked the fastest time of any futurity horse at the Diamonds & Dirt, a 15.806 to win the slot race. Futurity Champion's Ashley Schafer and KR Last Fling got dibs on the famed Fast-Time Rolex for their 15.809 in the first go of the Futurity.

For Hall, the past few weeks between the American and Diamonds & Dirt have been somewhat surreal, but she sees her recent success as proof of positive thinking.

"I've had a rough year and half," she admitted. "I really feel like

Rodeo Austin Introduces Ride For the Brand Cowboy Tournament

Rodeo Austin is excited to unveil a new ProRodeo format at the 2015 Fair and Rodeo. Contestants will compete in the form of a tournament bracket, called Ride for the Brand Cowboy Tournament™ and $500,000 in prize money.

The Qualifying Rounds will take place March 14-23, 2015 and will spotlight 8 contestants each night in the bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, team roping, steer wrestling, barrel racing and bull riding events. World Records Set at Houston Livestock Show

It was another record-setting year at the Junior Market Lamb and Goat Auction, March 14, as buyers supported the future of Texas.

“Education is the product we are selling,” Lamb & Goat Auction Committee Chairman Matt Fuqua said.

The Grand Champion Junior Market Lamb was purchased for a world record $260,000 by the Hildebrand family, in honor of Jimmy Hildebrand. Third generation Lamb & Goat Auction Committee member, Brittany Hildebrand, said it was a big day for her family. “We are honored to help Kolton with his future and we wish him the best,” she said.

The Grand Champion Junior Market Lamb was exhibited by Kolton Neuse, 15, of New Braunfels, Texas. Kolton has been showing at the Houston Livestock Show™ for the past eight years and said he is grateful for all of his experiences along the way.

Buyer turned committee member Archie Thompson and his wife Pam were part of the group that purchased the Reserve Grand Champion Junior Market Lamb for another world record of $145,000. For the past 20 years, Thompson has attended the Lamb and Goat Auction and said he looks forward to returning next year.

“Over the past two decades I’ve seen a lot of great kids come across the stage,” Thompson said.

The Reserve Grand Champion Junior Market Lamb buyers included Skip Avara, Mary and Ken Hucherson, Melton Electric, and the Thompsons.

Sierra Martin, 18, of Mason, Texas, exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion Junior Market Lamb. Sierra said that while showing livestock is rewarding, what she enjoys most is making memories with her family at livestock shows.

The Grand Champion Junior Market Goat was purchased for a world record of $170,000 by Timothy Bedore; Michelle Iverson Jeffery of Putteman Scharck and Associates; KCEF Foundation; Pamela Logsdon, CPA; and Alan and Mary Lee Stigall.

“We do this for the state of Texas to have our youth carry on what we are doing,” Alan Stigall said. “Work hard, find your dream and go get it.”

The Grand Champion Junior Market Goat was exhibited by Heather Shaw, 16, of Mason, Texas. Heather, a junior, hopes to attend Texas Tech University and study agricultural communications. The Reserve Grand Champion Junior Market Goat was purchased for $140,000, another world record, by Mimi and Tom Dompier, Anne and Chris Richardson, Pam and Jerrol Springer, and Jennifer and Joe Van Matre.

“This is all for education and we have a great sense of hope for our future in these kids and their work ethic,” Pam Springer said. “They need to keep doing what they’re doing. We’re proud of them and admire them because it’s hard work.”

The Reserve Grand Champion Junior Market Goat exhibitor, Cole Matkin, 17, of Boerne, Texas, knows hard work. He named his goat 110, representing the percentage of work he should put into his show project.

Ashley Schafer Dominates Diamonds & Dirt Futurity with 2 Special Mares

By Tanya Randall

Ashley Schafer cleaned house at the 4th Annual Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic taking the top two spots in the $80,000-added Futurity. Schafer, who was featured as an up-and-coming trainer to watch in the 2014 Diamonds & Dirt Magazine, won the Futurity with Joe and Carla Spitz's KR Last Fling ("Laramie") and placed second on Vanilas Sudden Fame ("Reese"), owned by Butch and Stephanie Webb of Webb Ranch, LLC.

"These mares are outstanding athletes," said Schafer, who lives in Yoder, Wyo., with her horse trainer husband Seth. "They're really fast and really quick footed. My job wasn't to make them great—they already were great. My job was to not mess them up."

Making the feat even more astounding was that each 5-year-old mare was technically packing double, as Schafer is four months pregnant.

"The announcer made sure to let everyone know," laughed Schafer, who is due August 19. Her fellow trainers joked that her pregnancy hormones gave her superpowers, but none are willing to see if it would work for them too.

Schafer's great weekend started out by placing both mares in the $315,000 Diamond Jubilee Slot Race. Reese was the reserve champion, earning $50,000, while Laramie placed 11th for $7,500.

"These two mares are so easy to be confident on," she said "You don't have to do a lot. They are so easy. They always want to go work. I never felt like I needed to TRY to win; I just needed to sit there and let them do their jobs and the rest would take care of itself.

"Both of them are super turny, but are free-runners. The roan on her and let her run. It doesn't get as wild and she clocks better.

"The palomino mare (Reese), she's so extremely turn-y that if I ask her for a lot of run she gets ratey-er and gets a little front-endy. If I get up over her and try to drive her it makes her more droppy. If I can ride her hindquarters and drive her from behind instead of trying to get in front of her, she seems to run more out from under you than get behind you. I've just found with her if I can just ride her square and ride her hindquarters, she just seems to run freer and work her turns better."

After their money-winning runs on Wednesday, both mares came back to win the top two spots in the first round of the Futurity. Laramie topped the go, with Reese right on her heels.

Schafer chose to scratch from the second round on Friday to save her horses for Saturday night's finals.

"I didn't think they needed it," she said. "Four runs in a row in that heavier ground is a lot. Had I needed to—if their times had been a little slower—I would have but they ran great so I decided to rest them."

Although temperatures were mild, the humidity left several horses feeling a little sluggish. Laramie was no exception, so the rest plus some fluids helped her regain her winning form.

"In the slot race, she had a little bobble going to the second," said Schafer. "She kind of looked up and had a little colt-y deal. She wasn't feeling overly well that day and I had the vet run some fluids on her, she felt a lot better and looked a lot fuller the next day. She felt like she was really hunting her turns and wanting to work. She was a little grittier and it paid off for us."

"In the finals, she went in there to work, but she was running a little harder, so we did have a little bobble at the second. She stepped off of it, but we never lost our momentum. We had good forward motion. She's fast enough that as a long as you keep good forward momentum and her head in the right direction it doesn't really cost us much. Her time was pretty much the same even though she took a little extra step. She felt really good. I was really proud of her."

The Futurity Championship was worth $39,617, bumping the mare's total event earnings to $47,117.

Bred by Kami Krebs, Gordon, Neb., Laramie is by leading barrel horse sire A Streak Of Fling out of the Shawne Bug daughter Sancee Bug. The Spitz purchased the mare as a yearling at the 2011 Fulton Performance Horse & Prospect Sale for $9,000.

"Joe has a really good eye for a horse. He knows how to pick them," said Schafer, who previously rode the stallion Freckles Ta Fame and Guys Girl Power for the Spitz family.

Laramie was started under saddle by Josh Barrett of Sugar City, Colo., and went to Schafer late in her third year.

"I put 90 days on her in fall when she was a 3-year-old, and then I sent her home for the winter. As soon as I got home from Diamonds & Dirt last year I got her back," Schafer explained.

Next up for Laramie are the spring run of futurities in the Northwest. Afterwards, she'll go home to Lamar, Colo., and have embryos flushed and have a rest until Schafer's ready to ride again.

Embryo transfer also allowed Reese to compete in the Futurity against her full-sister Famous French Flair. Both are by all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of SX Frenchmans Vanila, by Frenchmans Guy. They are full sisters to National Finals Rodeo qualifier Dash Ta Vanila.

"She's bred to be great," she Schafer. "She's an exceptional horse and she had a really great start."

Reese was broke to ride by Curt LaDuke of Gillette, Wyo., and was started on the barrels by Jackie Witcher. Schafer got her late last spring.

"All I've had to work on is keeping her front end picked up and keeping her hind-end driving up under her. She really wants to stick a hind leg and come around—I really like that style—but to keep her from getting too cheat-y with it, I work on keeping her really squared up."

"She's been doing good all year. She's placed almost everywhere she's been. She's always worked good, but this week she really started firing. I look for more great things from her.”

As a trainer, Schafer is just coming into her own. The former roper got her barrel racing education assisting Jolene Montgomery while at the Jud Little Ranch. After leaving Ardmore, Okla., Schafer continued to develop her own style—one that many appreciated watching at Diamonds & Dirt.

Schafer is quick to point out that exceptional horsepower had a lot to do with ease with which she rode.

“Both of those mares, I don’t have to do much with my outside rein, but I do have to ride them really square,” she explained. “I look at spot and ride to that spot square. My husband always says I don’t know how your horses rate because you’re always sitting down. I’m driving them from a seated position, but when I want them to rate I tilt my pelvis and bump my rein a little bit. It’s how I ride them from the very beginning when I start them at walk and trot. I make it a pretty specific move and they can feel that.”

A lot of her success also has to do with figuring out how to train like she rides.

“I don’t think there is a right or wrong,” she said. “I do think you have to train them like you’re going to ride them. I used to try to train one way and then ride another, and it didn’t work out too well. I finally figured out how I ride and learned to train them like that. I think we try to learn from so many different people—and I think you can learn a lot—but I still think the biggest thing is figuring out how you ride and figuring out how to train them to do that.”

JILL LANE BARREL HORSES WILL TAKE YOU TO THE PAY WINDOW

JL Roc A Bull (JL Sirocco × Lil Bits Of Bullion) Big, strong colt with good feet and bone. Well bred with Dash Ta Fame on the top and Bully Bullion on the bottom. Currently VGBRA and 5 State eligible. He is two this year, has a lot of go, but he sure travels nicely. He naturally wants to tuck his head and is very smooth and soft. He's for sale.

JL Goliath (Red × Nicks Nikita) From the last foal crop by Red. He is out of an own daughter of Dr Nick Bar and a full brother to JL The Red Monster who sold at the 2014 OKC BFA sale. Paid in full to FF, PESI and VGBRA and 5 State eligible. He is two this year. He's for sale.

JL Goodnight (Firewater On The Rocks × CS Dee Light) By the popular FWOTR out of a full sister to CS Flashlight. This pretty, gray filly is so mature physically for a two year old. She travels very nicely and just melts in her stops. Crosses over really nice. WPRA PESI enrolled. She is two this year.

Headin' For Home

Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“A merry heart does good, like medicine...” Proverbs 17:22
The following story might not make your heart merry but it definitely is amusing and thought provoking. It was printed in the Western Ag Reporter.

“A farmer died leaving his 17 horses to his three sons to be divided with the eldest getting one-half, the middle son getting one-third; and the youngest getting one-ninth. Since it is impossible to divide 17 by 2 or 17 by 3 or 17 by 9 without a remainder, the three sons began to fight. The decided to bring in a farmer friend to help settle the issue fairly.

The friend studied the will and then brought over one of his own horses to increase the total to 18 horses. Then he divided the horses according to the father's wishes. He gave the eldest son 9 horses because that is one half of 18. He gave the middle son 6 horses because that is one-third of 18. The youngest son got 2 horses which was one-ninth of the horses.

Add up the boys horses; 9, 6, and 2 and you get a total of 17 horses which is the number that the father had. But, that left one extra horse so the friend took his own horse back to his place. Problem solved!”

The moral of the story is that you must believe there is an answer to any problem you might have even if you don't like the answer. If you pray about the problem and ask God for His wisdom in helping you find a solution, then you will be surprised how God can work it out.

James 1:5 tells us if we need wisdom to ask God and He will give it to us. Read it for yourself. God is always good and faithful to act if we call on Him!!
